

86 Candidates Run For Council Spots

By GRETCHEN POLLARD
Toreador Staff Writer

Techsans will go to the polls Wednesday to elect student council representatives for the 1962-63 school year.

A total of 86 candidates are vying for the 32 positions open. Council representation is based on the number of students in each school.

Ballot boxes will be located in Tech Union, Ad, C&O, Home Economics, Agriculture and East Engineering Bldgs. Ballot boxes will be placed in the Architecture Bldg. until noon and the Plant Science Bldg. until 3 p.m.

Only the poll in the Tech Union will be open during the noon hour. ID cards are required in order to vote.

Dick Perkins has entered the race for representative from the School of Engineering and Ginger Butler from School of Arts and Sciences. They were defeated for executive positions in the recent election and according to the Election Committee decision, they were able to file for representative positions.

Jeff Morrow, School of Arts and Sciences, requested withdrawal of his name April 13.

The Council Office reports that for the 13 open positions in the School of Arts and Sciences, 42 students have filed for candidacy.

They are Jane Batson, Jeff Baynham, Barbara Beschler, Peggy Bradley, Beverly Brown, Leo Brown, Ginger Butler, Cecile Camp, Norman Coleman, Carolyn Davis, Ann Dennison, Joe Forsman, Jimmy Foster.

Others are Royal Furgeson, Dannya Gardner, Sydney Gibbs, Carole Gibson, Gay Gillespie, Mary Helen Hatton, Gay Haught, Linda Hill, Robert M. Legg, Mike Ludeman, Lee McElroy, Harriett Maxey.

Also Jan Mayo, Mickey Morse, James Max Moudy, Carolyn Oldham, Leon Oliver, Judy Price, Forrest Reynolds, Judy Richerson, Nubbin Sears, Guy Seibert, Nancy Shoemaker, Barbara Sperberg, Charles Steinmen, Jay Vars, Andy Wilson and Susan Ziegler.

Twelve Techsans have filed for the seven openings in the School of Business Administration.

They are Kay Armstrong, Jeannette Bell, Mable Ann Crosssett, Larry Gibbs, Kent Hance, Martha Jackson, Linda Montgomery, Tommy Morris, Jim Nelson, Ruth Rush, Pris Totten and Vernon Walker.

In the School of Home Economics there are two positions open. The eleven candidates for the positions are Jan Barton, Anne Dale, Carol Dennison, Sandra Edwards, Lynda Emmert, Carol Fursman, Pat Hamilton, Emily Hejlok, Pat O'Neal, Dottie Whigham and Nickie Woelfel.

Vying for the seven openings in the School of Engineering will be 14 candidates. They are Jerry Brock, Ellis G. Campbell, Donald Compton, John Farrell, David Gattis, Jill Lobdill, Kenneth Lokey, Ken Patterson.

Others are Bill Pearce, Dick Perkins, Gary Wight.

Strickland, John Ward, Pam White and David Campaigning for three positions in the School of Agriculture are seven candidates. They are Don Alford, Betsey Anderson, James Cole, Burns Hamilton, Duke Lyons, Don Rucker and M. A. "Bull" Snell.

Tech's Yearbook Honors Goodwin

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, president of Texas Tech, was named "Man of the Year" by the La Ventana at a luncheon Saturday for the Tech Board of Directors and administration.

Johnny Woody, La Ventana co-editor, made the presentation at the luncheon. Marjie Sanders, co-editor, and Joyce Woody, associate editor, also represented the La Ventana at the luncheon.

Dr. Goodwin received his bachelor of arts degree from Howard Payne College, master of arts degree from the University of Texas and doctor of philosophy from Harvard University.

President Goodwin came from the University of Florida to Tech in 1930 as head of the chemistry department. Because of his administrative abilities he was "drafted" from the classroom into Tech's Graduate School deanship in 1938.

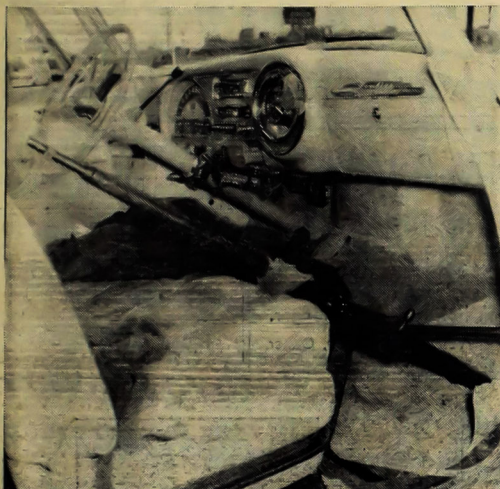

In 1945 he became dean of Arts and Sciences and academic vice president in 1959. In September of that year Dr. Goodwin was appointed acting president. He accepted the presidency in August 1960 and was inaugurated as Tech's seventh president that December.

Woody said in his presentation, "President Goodwin is now guiding our institution through its greatest years."

ROBBERY SUSPECT

Bobby Gindorf is apprehended by Lubbock police in connection with Monday's $10,000 holdup in the Tech Union.

ONE OF THE WEAPONS

which the robbers may have used is shown in the getaway car found by police at Slide Road and Brownfield Highway.

Police Nab Gindorf For Union Robbery

Bobby Gindorf and four other starters on the championship Red Raider basketball team are being held pending bond in connection with Monday's $10,000 robbery of the Tech Union.

Gindorf, junior from Pampa and the bright star for the Raiders next year, was apprehended shortly after noon Monday in the Union when an unnamed witness pointed out Gindorf as the driver of the getaway car to Lubbock police. Gindorf was taken into custody immediately after resisting arrest.

Described as the hottest case to hit Lubbock in years by District Attorney James Vardy, the daring daylight robbery was successfully carried off by five stocking-masked bandits as hundreds of students, faculty members and employees of the school looked on helplessly. The bandits, armed with shotguns and various small arms, struck at 11:20 a.m. Monday morning taking all of the money in two cash registers and the Union safe.

Less than five minutes from the time they entered the building the bandits were gone. The getaway car, described as a tan and white 1954 Pontiac, was decoyed behind a late model black Packard sedan.

Campus police followed the black sedan in hot pursuit from the campus west on 19th, but lost the car at the Levelland and Brownfield Highway. The original getaway car was found at Slide Road and the Brownfield Highway. Hidden in personal belongings were several stockings and two weapons taken as evidence by the police.

Roger Hennig, alias "Snake," Harold Hudgens, Mac Percival and Del Ray Mounts are being held on suspicion. Dwayne Pruitt, attorney for the defense, would not comment at this time.

"Nothing like this has ever happened in the history of Texas Tech and I am gravely concerned about this whole affair," stated Nelson Longley, director of the Tech Union.

(By the way, this incident is simply a preface to the annual pre-Law Club's Mock Trial to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night in the upstairs Ballroom of the Tech Union. No admission will be charged and the student body is invited to see how the case will turn out.)

Deadline Nears

Any women's organization may turn in nominations to Anne Weaver in Weeks Hall for Woman of the Year and Faculty Woman of the Year. The deadline is 5 p.m. Friday.

TECH'S MAN OF THE YEAR

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, accepts his award from Johnny Woody and Marjie Sanders, La Ventana co-editors.

Rodeo Team Nips Sul Ross For Second Straight Victory

The Tech Rodeo Team won the western Region team of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. Sul Ross has won the National championship once this year and has been runner-up twice. Tech has won twice and been runner-up once.

At Canyon, Tech compiled a total of 545 points, compared to 485 for runner-up Sul Ross. Sul Ross and Tech are in close competition for the champion South-

Results of the West Texas State Rodeo follow.

In the first bareback riding event, H. C. Zachry was first and Edd Workman placed second. In the second event, Workman took first. Workman compiled the highest average while Zachry, was fourth. Workman also won the second event of calf roping.

The first event of saddle bronc riding saw Harold Williams place first and Workman second. In the second event Workman copped first and Williams second. Williams' average was second.

In steer wrestling Benton Wardlaw won first in the first event and Zachry placed third in the final average.

Clyde Fort placed first and Workman second in ribbon roping. Fort won third in the average.

Connie Mitchell won third place in the barrel race for the girls' team.

Tech's Edd Workman won the All-Around Championship at Canyon. This is the third such award he has won this spring.

A Phi O Gets Top Award For Outstanding Service

By TOMMY SEAY
Toreador Staff Writer

Beta Sigma chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, plays a leading role in the lives and activities of Texas Tech students.

APO sponsors approximately 20 activities throughout the year plus various odd jobs that are offered to them. They were recently recognized by "Torch and Trefoil," national APO magazine, as the outstanding chapter in the nation because of their work last fall.

"With all sincerity I can that I am delighted for them," M. L. Pennington, vice president and comptroller of the college, said. "They have been of outstanding service in many fields on the campus and their honor is well deserved," he remarked.

"APO has been a tremendous help to us in promoting our activities," Karen Moore, Program Council Chairman of the Union, said. "They have done a fine job by seeing that the little things that need to be done are done. They are truly a service organization," she continued.

Most notable of their annual projects is coordinating the activities of the Homecoming parade and half-time show. This year they paid for and set up the concrete "Double T" in the north end of Jones Stadium. They sponsor the annual "Beauty and Beast" contest and they are co-sponsors of Dad's Day and the annual bicycle race around Memorial Circle.

APO plays a vital part in welcoming visitors to Tech. They greet all visiting athletics teams and distribute information about Tech to out of town visitors during the Interscholastic League contest and the Engineering Show.

They also assist in freshmen orientation, school elections and the selling of parking stickers and student directories.

Off campus APO maintains a Boy Scout troop for the handicapped, coach or YMCA basketball team, and serve barbeque at the annual Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fat stock show. They also assist in setting up booths for the Boy Scout "Scout-A-Rama" and scout circus in the Coliseum.

Lewis N. Jones, dean of men, is the faculty sponsor.

Inspection Team Visits Tech, Rates ROTC Battle Groups

The annual federal inspection of the Army ROTC will be Thursday.

An Army inspection team composed of Col. Thomas R. Davis, chief of Army ROTC, 4th Army, San Antonio; Lt. Col. Homer A. Stuverud, A&M College; and Major James C. Grosser, Ft. Bliss, will make an inspection of the Tech Army ROTC division beginning at 1 p.m.

First the team will inspect the fourth battle group. This will be followed by a parade and a review. At 4 p.m. the team will inspect the first, second and third battle group. A retreat review will follow this inspection.

Each Army ROTC cadet will be inspected and rated. A report on the performance of the division will be made after individual inspection.

Ratings of satisfactory or unsatisfactory will be given in accordance to supply, instruction, administration and group performance.

The inspection team will arrive in Lubbock Wednesday and leave Friday. Thursday morning Col. Da-

Honorary Chooses Chapter's 'First'

Pam White, Richardson Junior, has been selected for membership in Alpha Pi Mu, industrial engineering honorary. She is the only woman in this chapter of the national fraternity, and there has only been one other in its history.

Miss White's campus activities are many. She is president of the Little Sisters of Minerva, a Tech majorette, an Air Force Sweetheart, member of the Tech Concert Band and member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority. She was also chosen as Junior Favorite.

After graduation Miss White plans to go to Europe to work.

Girl Prefers Apes

LONDON (AP) — A willowy blonde with more time for monkeys than men told Monday how she spent 15 months in the jungle to study the habits of apes.

Cambridge graduate Jane Morris Goodall, 27, said she let her hair grow to her waist so that her animal friends would accept her.

Alone and unarmed, Jane—without a Tarzan—logged more than 1,000 hours of chimp-watching in Tanganyika's Gombe River game reserve.

"I like apes—in some respects I like them better than men," Jane confessed.

Cast Begins Play Rehearsal

The cast of "The Intruder" began rehearsals last week under direction of Rick Malone, senior speech major.

Malone, who is directing this speech department play as his senior project, commented that "The Intruder" is concerned with death and its effects on the characters of the play.

"Maurice Maeterlinck wrote this unusual play with the idea that his characters acted as puppets while fate pulled the strings," Malone said.

Selected as members of the cast were Ken Hobbs, grandfather; David Lindeman, father; Hank Haymes, uncle; Juanice Newbill, Cay Ramsour and Mary Jo Fish, three sisters; and Jane Spencer, servant and sister of mercy.

"The Intruder" will be presented May 31 in Speech Auditorium.

Defense Department Releases 20,000 Navy, Air Force Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy and Air Force announced Monday that nearly 20,000 officers and men whose service was extended during the Berlin crisis will be released from active duty before July 1.

The order covers about 12,300 airmen and 700 Air Force and Air Reserve officers as well as 5,500 enlisted men and about 1,400 officers of the Navy and the Naval Reserve.

"Provided there is no significant change in the world situation, release of all involuntary extendees will be completed by June 30," the Defense Department said.

Senators Introduce Price-Curbing Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation designed to curb general price increases was introduced in the Senate Monday as Democratic leaders pressed ahead with mopping-up operations after their battle with Big Steel.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois spoke out against the "punitive spirit" which he said President Kennedy displayed in crushing out a price-rise movement started last week by U. S. Steel Corp. and other producers.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader of the Senate, called for the appointment of a presidential commission to make a study of all phases of the steel industry.

Three bills inspired by the dramatic three-day struggle between the Kennedy administration and Big Steel were introduced by Sen. Albert D. Gore, D-Tenn.

They would:

1. Give the president power to halt any general price increase in steel or other basic commodities for an 80-day study period.
2. Set up a national consumers advisory board to examine and report on the facts in proposed price increases.
3. Make it easier for the government to use the antimonopoly laws to break up big business concentrations.

No specific company or industry was named in Gore's third bill. But Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said last week that one of the questions being studied by the Justice Department was whether one company, namely U.S. Steel, so dominates the industry that it controls prices and should be broken up.

Summer Weather Comes To Texas

All Texas had mild weather Monday.

El Paso, indeed, was hot. The mercury there rose to 88 by noon and to a high of 93 for the day.

Presidio had a high of 101 degrees for the second straight day. Other highs in the 90's were Wink 95, Lubbock 91 and Amarillo and Childress each 90.

The coolest readings were in Southwest Texas where Galveston had a high of 67, Houston 69 and Beaumont 70. Readings elsewhere were in the 70's and 80's.

Rummel Excommunicates Louisiana Segregationists

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The Roman Catholic archbishop of New Orleans excommunicated three segregation leaders Monday, invoking a rare spiritual penalty.

The order from Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel expelled Louisiana political leader Leander H. Perez Sr.; Jackson G. Ricau, a former real estate dealer; and Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr.

Perez was district attorney of Plaquemines and St. Bernard parishes, which adjoins New Orleans, for 20 years and has been the strongest voice for segregation in Louisiana.

Ricau is now executive secretary of the Citizens Council of South Louisiana.

Mrs. Gaillot, 41, mother of two children in Catholic schools, heads a small segregation group known as "Save Our Nation, Inc."

The fiery Perez termed the action purported excommunications and said they are simply a move to frighten or terrorize the parents of parochial school children, which will not work.

At a midafternoon news conference, Perez said the excommunication order "in no way affects my relations to my church."

He said he could not challenge the archbishop's right to excommunicate persons, "but I'm damn sure he doesn't have the right because I oppose Communist-inspired integration."

He said he would do "everything possible to rectify this irreligious, inhuman order simply calculated to frighten other people into immorality."

Perez said he would attend Mass next Sunday "as usual."

The excommunication order said, the three had shown "flagrant disregard of his fatherly counsel" contained in personal letters to them March 31 from the archbishop.

Mrs. Gaillot acknowledged the letter and asked for an audience with the 85-year-old Catholic prelate.

Ricau answered the archbishop's letter with a public letter of his own and contended the archbishop exceeded his authority by threatening excommunication to desegregate parochial schools next fall.

Perez claims he never received a letter from the archbishop.

Ike Looks At GOP

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the Republican Party should roam the field before choosing its 1964 candidate for president.

Eisenhower suggested in the Saturday Evening Post that the choice possibly could be somebody who has not yet achieved national stature.

"Maybe our candidate should be someone already well-known—maybe not," he wrote. "We should let our minds roam the field."

"We have many able young men in Congress, a number of personable and competent Republican governors.

"There are men in private life—in business, education and the professions—who should not be counted out. We cannot overlook the possibility that one of these men may emerge and become a person of national stature during the next two years."

Eisenhower suggested that in choosing candidates and leaders the party should place less emphasis on seniority and more in able and relatively young prospects.

NIRA Rodeo Begins At Coliseum Thursday

A parade down Broadway at 4 p.m. Thursday will begin activities of the largest indoor NIRA Rodeo in the nation. The parade will be led by Connie Mitchell, Rodeo Queen, and the Red Raider, followed by sheriffs' posses from the surrounding areas.

Performances of the annual Tech Rodeo are scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday nights in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Stock contractor for the Rodeo is Walter Alsaugh, Alamosa, Colorado—owner of nine head of bucking stock that appeared in the National Finals Rodeo in Dallas this year.

The two rodeo judges are Jim Brock and Dave Hopper. Brock, who is originally from Dimmitt, rides bareback, saddle bronc, bulls and wrestles steers. He has been riding since graduation from high school in 1953 and holds the world record for the most money won on a single bareback horse.

Hopper is a resident of Hereford. He graduated from Tech in 1955 and did graduate work in 1957. He was a member of the 1955 NIRA Finals championship teams. Hopper, who rides horses and bulls bare back, was NIRA champion in 1957.

The special scoreboard to be used for the Tech Rodeo was in use this year at the National Finals Rodeo. Announcer for the rodeo will be Charles Townsends, a graduate teaching student at Tech. Music will be furnished by Kappa Kappa Psi, Tech band fraternity.

"We've been working hard to make this year's show the best one yet, and we expect it to be just that!" Cratus Douthitt, rodeo chairman, said.

A special NIRA Rodeo Office has been opened in Room 204 of Tech Union. The office may be reached by calling campus extension 293.

IE's Capture Top Honors For 4th Year

Industrial Engineering captured top honors for exhibits with 3,563 points at the Engineering Show for the fourth consecutive year. Civil Engineering and Agriculture Engineering Depts. were runners up with 3,425 and 3,326 points respectively.

The first three place winners will be awarded plaques.

Judges for the event were Peggy Maloy, Charlie Aycock, Mr. A.C. Bowden and Mr. Arnold Macker.

Army and ROTC units on the Tech campus were given special recognition. The ROTC groups were responsible for getting out a large crowd to see their various scientific exhibits ranging from missiles to artillery.

Magazine Contains Mrs. Boze's Work

An article by Mrs. Nancy S. Boze, Tech English instructor, has been published in The Bulletin, an international publication by Delta Kappa Gamma Society, honorary organization for women educators.

Entitled "Handcuffed . . . By An Academic Handicap," the article deals with problems English instructors are confronted with when entering college and university students have not had proper training for the logical thinking and writing required in higher education. It appears in the 1962 spring edition of the publication.

Jack Sharp Speaks To Young GOP's

Jack Sharp, secretary of Lubbock Central Labor Council, will speak to the Young Republican Club on "The Objective of the Labor Union" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Tech Union's Workroom.

Purpose of the union movement will be discussed by Sharp, a member of the electrical union. A discussion open for audience participation on specific points—including the Right-to-Work Law and the Landrum-Griffin Act—will follow his talk.

The meeting is scheduled as an educational program and is open to the public. Nominations and election of next year's Young Republican officers will follow the program.

A GOP information booth will be set up in the Union from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday. Persons interested in the Young GOP Club can get information about the organization at the booth. Club members must be between the ages of 18 and 36.

Information about the May 5 Republican Primary and campaign material will be available at the booth.

Daniels Warns Students About Illegal Parking

"Every year about this time students become careless with their parking in areas near the new men's dormitories and around the Men's Gym, especially during intramural baseball games. I want to warn the student body that something must be done to correct this hazardous situation before campus police begin to tow away cars and issue city traffic tickets," states Bill Daniels, Traffic-Security chief.

"We are at the point where something must be done to remedy this problem," continued Chief Daniels.

Adequate space has been provided for students to park near the Men's Gym, according to Daniels. Not only is the Coliseum parking lot available, but also Jones Stadium parking area. Students have been parking on the grass and blocking streets, loading zones and service drives in the baseball intramural area.

"Another place where students are taking advantage of the parking places permitted is in front of West Hall," explained Daniels.

Students have been given permission to park in front of West for 15 minutes in order to pick up dates. Cars, however, are remaining there from one hour to all day. Campus police will now be watching this area closely, Daniels warned, and will issue city tickets on cars remaining there for more than 15 minutes.

"I simply want to ask students to become aware of this problem and realize its full extent," continued Chief Daniels. "When Wells Hall had a fire recently the fire trucks were unable to enter the parking lot area because of parked cars blocking the entrance."

Shisler Names Union Leaders

Tech Union's committee chairman for 1962-63 were announced Monday by Jack Shisler, Union president.

The committee chairman will work with the Program Council to plan and execute next year's activities.

Chairmen are Sue Gerrard, Special Events; Jari Kendall, Dance; Rozanne Cannon, Ideas and Issues; Nell Anne Walter, Hospitality; Norman Coleman, Games and Tournaments; Barbara Sue Owen, Entertainment; John Moeser, International Interest; Pat England, Decorations; and Ginn Ridge, Art and Design.

The nine committees of Tech Union are responsible for carrying out their respective functions in bringing various activities to the campus.

Special Events Committee brings renowned persons and groups to the campus and presents movies weekly in the Union. Next year the committee is presenting the famed pianists, Ferrante and Teicher.

The Dance Committee expands and executes all dances at the Union. Next year the committee hopes to initiate several dinner dance combinations.

Outstanding speakers of important and varied interests are brought to the campus by the Ideas and Issues Committee. Next year William Shirer, author of "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," will come to Tech, sponsored by this committee.

The Hospitality Committee sponsors style shows and receptions for visiting celebrities and students.

Plans for campus and inter-collegiate tournaments in bowling, bridge, chess, billiards and hearts are being made by the Games and Tournaments Committee.

The International Interest Committee provides lectures by international speakers and conducts foreign students receptions.

Decorations for dances and various special programs sponsored by the Union are provided for by the Decorations Committee.

The Entertainment Committee sponsors record listening libraries, jam sessions, talent shows and Frantic Fun-Fare at the Union.

The Art and Design Committee is responsible for decorating the Union Bldg. during holidays and special occasions. They also obtain and promote exhibits and art and photography contests.

DG's Schedule Pinafore Party

Lubbock Attorney Speaks To Catena At Luncheon

The Town Girls Club (Catena) will hold its regular luncheon meeting in the Rec Hall at noon Wednesday. Kennett Hobbs, Lubbock attorney practicing with Roy Bass, will speak on his personal feelings about the meaning of Easter.

Hobbs graduated from Tech in 1952 and attended the SMU Law

School, where he obtained his law degree. While at Tech, he was a cheerleader and member of Saddle Tramps. Hobbs was the key-note speaker at the recent BSO Retreat. There will be a picture of the club taken at this meeting.

All members who wish to make reservations for the luncheon must contact Jane Baggett at SW 9-1788 by 8 p.m. Tuesday.

IS QUEEN ELIZABETH WORTH HER KEEP?

The Queen costs British taxpayers more than $1,000,000 a year. A few critics gripe. Yet most of her subjects are happy to foot the bill. In this week's Post, an English writer tells why the British dote on the royal family. How the throne nearly tottered 8 years ago. And why the public did not want Princess Margaret's husband raised to the peerage.

many a knight
was spent in rusty
armor

In days of yore, men feared not only their mortal enemies, but the elements too. It was the medieval armorer's task to protect his chief against foemen, but weather-protection was a more difficult matter. Thus many a knight was spent in rusty armor.

Engineers and scientists at Ford Motor Company, engaged in both pure and applied research, are coping even today with the problem of body protection (car bodies, that is). Through greater understanding of the chemistry of surfaces, they have developed new paint primers and undercoatings, new rustproofing methods, and special sealers that guard entire car bodies against nature's corrosive forces—all of which add armor-like protection to Ford-built cars.

From other scientific inquiries will undoubtedly come new materials with protective properties vastly superior to those of today. This is another example of Ford's leadership through scientific research and engineering.

Banquet Honors Journalists, Other Publications Workers

Journalists and other students making contributions to Tech's student publications during the past school year were recognized at the annual Publications Awards Banquet at the Chicken Shack Saturday.

Ralph Carpenter, Toreador editor, and Johnny Woody, co-editor of La Ventana, served as masters of ceremonies.

Bob Taylor received the award for the most outstanding male graduate in journalism. Taylor also received the W. E. Garets award for recognition of achievement and service to the Tech chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, "professional journalistic society for men."

Receiving the editor's award for the most assistance given him during the past year was John Petty, Toreador news editor.

In presenting the award, Carpenter said, "I present this award to John Petty for his time, energy, advice and open criticism of the editor—always in the best interest of the Toreador."

Bronson Havard was selected most outstanding Toreador staff member of the year. He was cited for his exceptional service and uniring efforts to report major news accurately and objectively.

Five Toreador staff members were awarded for their accomplished service this year. They were Connie Clearman, Havard, Nancy Miller, Gretchen Pollard and Jim Richardson.

Greg Spickard was given the La

Ventana award for "most outstanding staff member of the year."

Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, gave awards for the best stories appearing in the Toreador this year. Award for the best news story went to Travis Peterson for his story on religions of the Far East and Dr. Sockman, 1962 Willson lecturer at Tech. Best feature story went to Patsy Rohrdanz for her article on Medicare.

Leo Waltz was recognized for his picture story on Dean Killion, and most outstanding editorial of the year award went to Bob Taylor.

Gifts of appreciation from graduating seniors in journalism were given to W. E. Garets, department head; Ralph Sellmeyer, assistant professor; and Mrs. Louise C. Allen, associate professor.

Forum Features Talk on Genesis

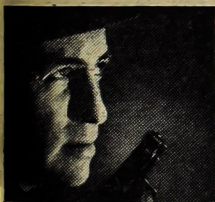

Mrs. Bryan Edwards will be the guest speaker on the book of Genesis at the Ideas and Issues Forum at 7 p.m. Thursday in Tech Union, Rm. 206.

"Genesis, the first of the library of books in the Bible, gives the key to human history," Mrs. Edwards said.

In her talk Mrs. Edwards will go back 5723 years on the Jewish calendar to the time of Adam and Eve. She will discuss facts including marriage customs, laws of that time and the early start of government aid. She will also review the life of a family through 23 generations.

Mrs. Edwards will receive her masters in sociology from Tech in August. She did undergraduate work at the University of Texas and Iowa State and graduated from Tech.

In 1951 she was the recipient of the Lubbock Woman of the Year Award. Mrs. Edwards was named Church Woman of the Year for 1957-58.

Raiders Finish Sixth

Texas Tech finished sixth in an eight-team field in El Paso Saturday as Arizona powered to a smashing victory in the annual Texas Western Relays.

The Wildcats had 87 points to far outdistance its nearest rival, the host Texas Western Miners, which had 32. McMurry was in close third with 30.

The Red Raiders from Tech entered only five events—the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, the 880-yard relay, the mile relay and the sprint medley relay. Tech looked best in the hurdles race where Bob Swafford and Ronnie Biffle finished 1-2, with a winning time of 14.4.

Franklin Wood was third in the century, and Wood, Norman Donelson, Walter Cunningham and Biffle came in second in the half mile relay.

One mile and sprint medley relays failed to place.

One of four new marks in the meet came in the 880-yard relay, where Tech pushed McMurry to a record 1:25.4 time, beating the old standard of 1:25.7 set a year ago.

New Mexico State broke one record with a 3:24.7 clocking in the sprint medley, besting the old mark by almost five seconds. The other two marks fell to Arizona in the discus and 440-yard relay, with records of 173.7 and 40.9.

Bucs Edge Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Roberto Clemente's three-run homer and the tight relief pitching of lefty Diomedes Olivo, 42-year-old rookie, grooved the unbeaten Pittsburg Pirates to a 6-5 victory over the winless Chicago Cubs Monday.

The Bucs stretched their winning streak to five games and left the Cubs with six defeats, five of them to left-handed hurlers.

SCARLET Scatterings...

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Toreador Sports Editor

There's a big possibility that the Toreador will be a daily publication. It's been recommended.

Now we don't know just how the rest of the staff feels about this change, but to the sports department this will be the best thing that's happened since bread with no holes.

The way things break, it seems that by the time the Toreador gets a story, every student on campus has already read it twice in the downtown daily and once in their hometown weekly. It's after times like these that we believe we're 100 per cent a try-weakly paper.

But then, of course, it's probably purely coincidental that of the seven basketball pre-enrollment letters of intent signed by Tech basketball coaches, six were released for publication on days the Toreador didn't come out.

The seventh was announced Monday night a week ago, and we could have used the story in Tuesday's paper—if we had known about it, that is. Seems like the downtown paper got a long distance call from the coach to tell them about it.

We don't think we're grippers by nature, because there have been similar incidents in the past that we've overlooked. We would like an even break so we could try to give everybody all the latest news from the athletic side. A daily next year will solve much of our problem—we hope.

Shifting to the subject of basketball, the future is not so dim for Texas Tech. A lot of people have decided that Red Raiders basketball has "just about had it" since four of last season's starting five are leaving via graduation.

From our angle, it appears that Texas Tech could finish considerably higher than the sixth or seventh place they're being relegated to next year. You can't just shrug off the fact that four such standouts as Harold Hudgen, Del Ray Mounts, Roger Henni and Mac Percival won't be back next year, but then again you have to look at the material that's moving up to take their place.

It'll be a young group, with Bobby Gindorf the only senior with experience. Sid Wall got a lot of duty last year as a sophomore and should be one of the Red Raiders' best boys next fall. To Wall and Gindorf you can add the two top members of last year's Picador squad, Harold Denney and Glen Hallum, and the line-up looks more impressive.

Bill Murren, an all-American junior college cager from Decatur Baptist College, signed with Tech last week and he'll be ready for action this year, as will Tom Patten. Patty, a scholastic loss last year, will have to sit out the first four conference games before he's eligible.

The really bright thing about all this, however, is that of the above-named boys only Gindorf will be lost to the 1963-64 season. Available for action that year will be the six high school "blue chippers" signed by Tech in the last two and a half weeks. Four of the six are all staters.

Excluding Murren, the cagers so far signed by Tech are the following:

DUB MALAISE, a 5-11, 160-lb. guard from Odessa who was a unanimous choice for the Texas AAAAA all-state team. He scored 1,864 points in his three-year career, including 850 points this year to lead the entire state. He has a 25.8 point scoring average and broke every 2-AAAA scoring mark. He'll play for the north in this year's Texas all-star game in Lubbock.

BOB MEASELS, a 6-2, 175-lb. Seminole star who failed to make the all-state team but made a district two years. He scored at 20 point per game mean and was rated one of the top dribblers and drivers in his district. The Indians were district co-champion his junior and senior years and he made the all-regional tournament team both years. Measels will also appear with the north team in the all-star game.

WALTER REUTHER, a 6-6, 190-lb. center for Arlington Heights who broke every scoring record in Fort Worth the past season. Scoring at a 23.0 point average. The Texas Tech's golf team takes on Southern Methodist today in Dallas in the first of a two-day stand in that area.

Tech Golfers Contest SMU

Wednesday the Red Raiders will move to Fort Worth where they will contest Texas Christian University in another Southwest Conference match.

The Texas Tech team presently has 4-8 mark after two encounters with Texas and Baylor. Red Raider linksmen in the past three years have finished first, third and second, but the 1962 edition does not sport a single letterman from last year's squad. Chris Blocker, the 1961 SWC Individual Champion, is among the five lettermen lost.

Texas Tech's foursome against Southern Methodist will be chosen from a pair of sophomores, Houstie Brewer of Andrews and Bruce Doble of Worcester, Mass.; a pair of juniors, Jim Davidson of San Angelo and Richard Jennings of Terrell; and a senior, captain Mack Tubb of Levelland.

First conference action in Lubbock for the Tech squad comes Monday when the Red Raiders entertain Arkansas here.

Fox, Thompson Keep Perfect Record Intact

By CHARLIE WALKER
Toreador Sports Writer

The Texas Tech Picadors increased their winning streak to seven straight games Monday with 2-0 and 9-2 victories over Amarillo Junior College at Lubbock's Mackenzie Park.

Righthanders Joe Fox and Travis Thompson both went the distance in their respective games, Fox pitching a shutout and Thompson giving up two unearned runs.

left-hander made all-district and all-state.

RUSS WILKINSON, a 6-4, 160 lb. forward for Lubbock Monterey, who led the Plainsmen to the state tournament. The only unanimous selection to the 3-AAAA all-district team, Wilkinson was a second team all-state choice and was picked for the all-tourney team at the state championship tournament. He scored 537 points in 35 games for a 15.4 point average and was called "one of the best defensive players ever to play in the league." He is a third player who will be on the north squad in the all-star game.

JAMES ADAMS, a 6-8, 215 lb. center for Midland who scored 20.1 points per game for the Bulldogs and averaged 16 rebounds a game. Top scorer for his team and 2-AAAA, he played only one year one of the leading scorers in with Midland. He transferred there from Wink, where he led that team to the state championships his sophomore year.

DAVE OLSEN, a 6-5, 190 lb. New Mexico cager from Las Cruces. For the last two years Olsen has been a unanimous selection for the all-state team in New Mexico. He averaged more than 20 points and 16 rebounds per game and hit better than 50 per cent from the field. He will play this year in the New Mexico Coaching School all-star game.
