Frosh Vie Sunday For Yell Positions

More than 70 freshmen will vie Sunday for six freshman cheerleader positions.

ALL CANDIDATES should meet Friday at 5 p.m. in Ad. 260, stated Carol Wheeler, special projects committee chairman.

At this meeting candidates will be arranged in groups of four for try-outs Sunday, continued Miss Wheeler.

Cheerleading try-outs and elections are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday in the Rec Hall.

THREE BOYS and three girls will be elected to lead yells at freshman football and basketball games.

Twenty-one boys and 49 girls are cheerleader candidates. This is the largest group to run for these positions in Tech's history.

Student Beaten In Robbery

A 19-year-old Texas Tech freshman was beaten and approximately $90 was stolen from the service station where he was working Wednesday night, according to Lubbock police.

THE STUDENT, Thomas Burt Vanderslice Jr., an engineering major, who resides at 2415 Auburn—162, was working at the Olenbusch Service Station, 2408 Ave. H, when the robbery occurred.

According to police reports, Vanderslice said that he was standing in the station office when the man entered with his hand covering his face. The man, carrying a small automatic, told Vanderslice to turn around and get into the tool room.

AS VANDERSLICE turned, the assailant hit him over the head, leaving a two-inch gash. Vanderslice was not knocked out, but stunned. He didn't remember the robber leaving by car.

Vanderslice, who is married, was taken to West Texas Hospital and released after receiving first aid treatment.

'Depth Perception' Today's Topic

Willson Talks End

Dr. K. Morgan Edwards concludes the thirteenth annual Willson Lectures at 10 a.m. today in the Tech Union Ballroom with a talk on "Breadth Expression."

A person must seek God with his feelings as well as his mind," Dr. Edwards said Wednesday while speaking on "Depth Perception."

ONLY WHEN emotion is added to rationality does a human move toward constructive living. Edwards told more than 200 persons gathered Wednesday morning in the Union for the third lecture.

The result can be seen in sophisticated, decent, Godless people who have been exposed rationally, perhaps, to religious truths, but still say they can see God on a golf course or in nature as well as they can in church, he explained.

THEY LACK a person-to-person relationship with God that comes through an emotional desire to know Him and serve Him, Dr. Edwards adds.

The annual series of religious lectures is sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada.

Wednesday Rally Ups Tech's Spirit

"We're all one team working together," Donnell Echols, Texas Tech student body president, said at the pep rally Wednesday night in Tech Union.

Speaking to an overflow crowd, Echols added, "We're behind the Raiders — win, lose or draw—against the Tulane Green Wave."

He pointed out that the recent poor showings of the Raiders was due to a rugged schedule and untimely injuries.

"We defeated A&M in a thriller, downed West Texas and almost beat Texas — who defeated nationally ranked Oklahoma the next week — before the rugged schedule and injuries began to tell," Echols asserted.

Continuing, he said that the Raiders were ready to get back in winning ways, and that Friday night, "Techsans will be ringing the victory bells loud and clear."

In summing up the football players' feelings, captain Jerry Bell said, "Following the open date, the Raiders are ready for this game. I believe the Big Red will cover the little green."

Bell pointed out that the Raiders were in reasonable physical shape.

Pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha, social sorority, presented a skit based on a halloween theme. The Tech band furnished music during the rally.

Echols Names Chief Justice

Joe Ben Hudgens has been appointed Texas Tech Supreme Court chief justice, announces Donnell Echols, Student Council president. Hudgens is a pre-law major from Pecos.

ASSISTING HIM as judges are Gerald Meyers, Arts and Sciences; Norman Dryer, Business Administration; Neal Pipkin, Engineering; Betty Smith, Home Economics; and Jerry Kotara, Agriculture.

The Supreme Court advises the Council concerning constitutionality of proposed legislation prior to its passage, considers violations of and fixes penalties for violations of election laws, and conducts court procedure for the Pre-Law Club's mock trial.

Appointees were chosen upon recommendation of Council president and J. William Davis, government department head.

PARADE SPOTS 'HAND PICKED' TUESDAY AT 5

There will be a meeting for representatives of all organizations wishing to enter a float in the homecoming parade Tuesday at 5 p.m. in the Rec. Hall.

Representatives will draw for float positions in the parade, according to Pete Baker, assistant homecoming chairman.

BOO! — A Tech "witch," Johnnie Wade, warms up for halloween night. Miss Wade, a sophomore from McCamey, isn't as ugly as this picture indicates. She placed third in the recent Miss West Texas beauty pageant.

Nine Students Will Attend Mortar Board Convention

Nine Texas Tech students will attend the regional convention of Mortar Board, honorary organization for senior women, Friday and Saturday at the University of New Mexico.

Members going to the Albuquerque meeting are Peggy Miller, Janet Vines, Libby Balzer, Karin Smith, Sandra Dudley, Hazel Casey, Karen Noteware and Carol Cummings.

MISS JACQUELINE Sterner, assistant dean of women at Tech, is regional director and will speak on national organization at the conference Saturday morning.

OTHER SCHOOLS represented will be Southern Methodist University, University of Texas, University of Oklahoma, University of Tulsa and University of New Mexico.

Bits From Birdie Merium Jackson

My feathered friend is finding life difficult these days. It seems that the ghosts, goblins and witches are giving him trouble. For instance Birdie was flying blithely into the Tech Union recently and ran head-on into Hazel and her broom at the entrance. He had scarcely revived from that when he noticed a very boney gentleman hanging from the ceiling. All in all, he tells me that the Union is already prepared for Halloween, and that these frightening decorations are setting the stage for a "spooky" dance Friday night at the Rec Hall and two horror movies in the Ballroom.

It seems that the "spooks" will roam this weekend. Halloween will be the theme of parties at Horn and Drane tonight and the Christian Student Center will "host the ghosts" tomorrow night.

THE BAPTIST Student Union plans to give 'em a scare in a real haunted house Friday night. A hayride is also planned for 6:30 tomorrow evening.

New initiates of Delta Tau Delta will be honored tomorrow at a Halloween dance. The Delt lodge will be decorated for the occasion and refreshments will be served.

Birdie caught some Sigma Kappa's hard at work recently. He said that they were taking advantage of the cool weather and had big plans for an "autumn" dance and listening party Saturday night.

THIS SAME group, it seems, honored its new initiates and pledged at a dinner meeting last night. Recently initiated were Jane Adamson, Lubbock; Ola Sue Johnson, Perryton; Beverly Kimbrough, Houston; Carolyn Maniha, Houston; Rose McGuire, Lubbock; Nancy Sue Sanders, San Marino, California and Joyce Tallman, Fort Worth.

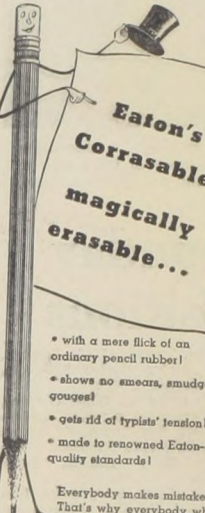

Delta Gamma also boasts some new initiates. Recently initiated DG's are Ann Armstrong, and Judy Blank from Lubbock as well as Terry Melton and Marty Smith of Dallas.

The Zetas are turning back the clock to the days of the Charleston, I hear. "The Flapper Frounce" will be held in the Tech Union Ballroom from 9 to 12 Saturday night. It will be an oper dance with costumes taken from the days "mother was a girl." Kingsman Combo will provide the music.

BIRDIE GOT a shock recently. He was flying through the laundry room of one of the girls' dorms, when he spied some masculine garments in the wash. Upon investigation, it was learned that a Tech coed had gotten married "on the sly" and was just doing a few of "hubby's" things. The couple is living happily in town now.

The bird's eye will be on the A Chi Os and the Delt's Sunday at a mixer in the Delt lodge.

New Parking Lots Are Now Ready

A LONG STRIDE forward was made recently in the Tech parking situation, with the opening of a new lot west of the Journalism Building for off-campus students.

The lot, which can be reached through the new "Engineers Lane" from Sixth street, will add 414 parking spaces to the Tech parking area.

The new lot is strategically placed, especially for students with classes in the nearby Library, Science, Chemistry, Journalism, Petroleum Engineering and Electrical Engineering buildings.

A word of warning should be given, though. Tech Security Patrol will be cracking down more strenuously on parking regulation violators now that more adequate parking space is being provided.

Another word of warning: this lot is not for dorm residents. Parking lots are provided at each of the dorms for these students.

The parking picture isn't as rosy as it seems, however, with the destruction of the lot back of the Journalism Building planned for the near future. This will be necessary because of the construction of a new ultra-modern class building.

But, considering everything, the parking situation is in relatively good shape. And if the Tech personnel involved keep up the good work, it promises to improve.

Techsans Talk Back

FEMALE VIEW

Dear Rock Head,

We have just read your article "The Spastic" in the Oct. 25 edition of the TOREADOR, and we feel that we, as "creatures called Tech girls," should have our say.

You are right in saying the blame must rest on Tech boys themselves. The freshman girl makes an effort to be friends with the horde of upperclassmen who decorate the lobbies of the freshman dorms, but she soon finds that these are not exactly the type of boys she cares to date. (The fact is that a wrestling match in a secluded spot in Mackenzie Park is not her idea of fun.) This probably accounts for the so-called "sophomore slump."

We were amused by your statement in which you referred to the girls at Tech as "mooses." If you look around, we believe you may see that the feeling is mutual. By this, we do not mean that our standards require a boy to look like Rock Hudson, but we do like a boy who has a good personality, is neat, is mannerly, and thoughtful.

You say that you like a girl who is a girl, and not an idol. Well, we like a boy who is a gentleman, not an animal. We feel that, surely, out of the approximately 7,000 male students enrolled at Tech, there are some of the thoughtful, well-mannered type of boys a girl likes to date. Why don't you prove it?

We feel that you were unfair in your criticism of Tech girls. You probably judged all the girls by a few, just as many of the girls judge the Tech boys by the "lobby gang" and others like them.

In closing, we would like to make a suggestion. If you are so unhappy here at Tech, why don't you go back to the college you previously attended, where the boy-girl ratio was almost reversed to that of Tech. We think that is just the place for boys like you. Meanwhile, we'll try to get along here at Tech without you.

P.M. GIRLS???

Editor,

Girls???, is that what we have on the campus? I certainly had not thought of it in that manner. I thought we had a creature that was unique compared to the campus societies in the other schools of the nation.

This creature is one that wants males to wait on them hand and foot. Males are supposed to run to her beck-and-call. She sits herself on a high pedestal and looks down at you with an attitude of "My armpits don't smell because I am a Tech girl."

When you ask her for a date and if she accepts, she accepts in such a way as to imply that the male is lucky to get the date. This is the typical story of the creatures that are known as girls on the Tech campus.

But to the Tech males I must say that it is no fault of the girls on this campus that they act this way. It is your fault. You are the ones that ask them for dates ten days to three weeks ahead of time.

Everytime that these creatures have the slightest wish or desire for something, you run and fall all over yourselves to do it for the females. With the way that you treat these girls it is no small wonder how many of them keep from getting this attitude.

Potentially, we have some very nice females on this campus. But as long as the Tech males treat them the way they do, they will remain the same.

Words, Words

Propaganda — most everyone knows what it means, so the time won't be wasted to define it. However, what many do not realize is that there can be both good and bad propaganda.

It is interesting to see this thing at work, especially by means of some news media. Have you noticed the "Hate Red China" propaganda campaign that has been going on lately?

One can't tell whether this propaganda is actually good or bad. It is probably good that we take heed of Red China, but if, in the process, we forget Russia, it will be bad. In "we" is meant the common citizen, not the military.

Another subject that has been propagandized to death is that of integration. Actually, there are only two sides to that question, first, that the people who have religious, idealistic or moralistic concepts, and stick with them, have to go along with integration.

Secondly, there are those who consider the whites have a definite advantage between the groups and want to keep it, so they strive to defeat integration, without considering such views as mentioned above.

The North appears to be the first type and the South the second type. The North doesn't fear control by the Negro, the South does, and this is why the two stand as they do now.

How the whole thing will turn out, no one knows for sure. But there is one thing for certain, there will be much more propaganda about it.

I for one almost fell into the ways of the Tech males, then saw it was foolishness on my part. The creatures on this campus are no different from the rest of the females of the nation, except that you have made them feel that they are different. You have already treated them as something special for too long a period.

To the creatures of the campus, I will have to give you credit for your action. You have exploited your advantage to the utmost. But many of you leave this world of the campus you will find that you are no different from the rest of the females of the nation.

The world that you will enter is harsh and cruel. You will no longer be on the pedestal that you are sitting on now. So, creatures, catch your husband while it is easy, for maybe in future years you may have to face competition that treats males as males and not as stepping stones.

One complaint that seems to be common among the males of Tech is the inconsistency of girls keeping dates, whether it is having dates broken or being stood up. I will admit there are some valid excuses, but more often than not they are flimsy, with the creature wanting to go with a different person.

Why can't you creatures be frank for the first time in your college career and tell the person that you do not want to go out with him. This might hurt his feelings, but at least it will be better than lying to him, and making things worse later on.

The males find out when a girl pulls a stunt like this (after all, they are not quite as dumb as they act), and they realize how low a girl is that does it.

Again the blame is on you, the Tech males. You allow them to Keeping up with the rest of Tech, the La Ventana beauty contest has gone "big time."

Tech has a habit of doing things in the best way possible, and what better way is there to pick beauties than in a contest modeled after the Miss America Pageant?

STUDENTS, by viewing the contest, will be able to form an opinion of their own as to who the top beauties are.

Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity sponsoring the contest will supply the top ten beauties with an expense-paid trip to a winter resort.

THE CONTEST promises to be entertaining, with music by a well-known combo and talent acts being planned, as well as all that goes with it.

Dec. 6 has been tentatively set as the date for the contest, and a $1 entrance fee for beauties and admission fees are being charged to defray expenses. Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1 for others.

SPEAKING of beauty, it seems that Tech coeds are up in arms against the male student population. The male students are up in arms too, and the outcome could be exciting.

Perpetrator of this latest revival of the age-old battle of the sexes is brother "spastic." In a recent column, he defined the "Tech girl" in rather displeasing terms — displeasing to the "Tech girl" anyway.

COEDS LEAPED quickly to the defense of the "Tech girl," and male students leaped just as quickly to the defense of the "spastic."

Despite the outcome, it's almost certain nothing permanent will be decided, and the "battle of the sexes" will move into another phase.

THE RAIDER football team has a chance this weekend to return to the winning ways. Let's everyone give them all our support.

'Hall of Earth and Man' Begins in Campus Museum

Sunday marks the opening of three new exhibits in the West Texas Museum on the Tech Campus.

"The Hall of Earth and Man," which will be a permanent addition to the museum, shows the development of the earth since the beginning of time.

THE EXHIBIT emphasizes the Llano Estacado region or the plains area of eastern New Mexico and the Panhandle area of West Texas.

There are 33 showcases in all. The majority of these are devoted to the progress of life on the earth. The exhibits carry life up to the period when the first white man came to the North American Continent in the 16th century.

ANOTHER EXHIBIT, which has been established permanently for some time, continues on after the "Hall of Earth and Man" leaves off. It is "Life on the South Plains."

The members of the West Texas Museum Association will have a preview of the exhibit tonight at their annual dinner meeting.

DR. HENRY BROWN, director of the Detroit Historical Museum, will be the speaker. His speech will concern what a museum means to your community.

The dinner will be a buffet affair. It will begin at 7 p.m.

Another feature of the "Hall of Earth and Man" is a mural painted on three walls by the sculpturer, Paul Wright of New Mexico. It is entitled "Progression of Life."

THE MURAL begins with the first type of life on earth such as seaweeds, sponges and other life that is known to have existed in the ancient seas. The story of the mural continues until the time man was beginning the agricultural age.

The research was directed by W. C. Holden, director of the museum, and contributions came from scientists all over the United States.

THE PROJECT took about four years to complete.

Tech Law Majors Are Among Best

An SMU law professor told Tech pre-law students Tuesday that Tech graduates are among the best students at Southern Methodist University's law school.

"The pre-legal education students receive at Tech is about the best in Texas." "Students from Tech and Rice Institute do about the best," Prof. Charles W. Webster said.

THE LAW professor, who is also pre-law advisor for SMU, outlined SMU law school requirements and showed a film taken at SMU's Southwest Legal Center.

Webster told the students: "The aim of the law courses is to get students to think as lawyers — to be able to isolate the problem of a client so he may go to law books and find the answer."

The law professor advises young men and women interested in law to major in economics, government, philosophy or history to give themselves the best pre-legal education.

"The pre-legal education students receive at Tech is about the best in Texas."

"Students from Tech and Rice Institute do about the best," Prof. Charles W. Webster said.

He recommended senior pre-law students take the law school aptitude test as soon as possible. The test is offered at Tech in April and August.

The SMU law school accepts not more than 120 first-year students each September. The school requires three academic years with the student taking a normal load of 15 hours each semester.

Lombardo Group Plans Tuesday Night Concert

Guy Lombardo will bring "the sweetest music this side of heaven" to Lubbock 8 p.m. Tuesday when he performs in the Municipal Auditorium.

TICKETS FOR reserved seats are priced at $3.50, $2.50 and $2.00. Student general admission tickets sell for $1.00. They may be purchased at the Junior Chamber of Commerce located in the Lubbock National Bank Building, or ordered by mail from the same place.

Lombardo will come to Lubbock from the Coconut Grove of the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel, bringing with him many famed performers.

THE ROYAL Canadians, Kenny Gardner, Bill Flanagan, Cliff Gross, the Lombardo Trio, Phil Maracuin and the Lombardo Twin Pianos will be among the featured attractions.

Lombardo, who is a famed sportsman, restaurant owner, producer and official World Series bandleader for the New York Yankees, is one of the few Americans to achieve such an important place in the hearts of American music lovers.

Deferment Tests Scheduled in April

There will be no Selective Service Qualification Tests for deferring male students from the draft this year. Next tests will be given in April, 1959.

This test allows students to receive draft deferments and continue with their studies.

English Profs Give Lectures

Two Texas Tech English instructors talked on topics ranging from European trips to freshman English courses in speeches Monday and Saturday.

"A 1958 European Camping Trip," was the theme of Dr. Camp's speech, given in the Lubbock Public Library Auditorium.

Dr. Truman Camp, professor and English department head, spoke Monday night to a gathering of the Friends of the Lubbock Public Library.

ON SATURDAY, Dr. Alan Strout addressed an English conference sponsored by District IV of the Texas State Teachers' Assn. at Plainview.

"I am, myself, equally interested in showing them (the students) the glory of the past, the problems of the present and the hope for the future. I am equally interested in broadening them and making them realize that English — and life in general can be fun," Strout concluded.

Careers Conference Picks Top Speakers

Four speakers of sixteen have been announced for the annual Careers Conference Nov. 5-7 sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity.

They are Frank P. McGowan, executive director of the Southwest Edition of the Wall Street Journal; R. J. Bromell, vice president in charge of drilling for Kendavis Industries in Fort Worth.

DUDLEY REPP, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal job opportunities promotion; and Frank Junell, vice president in charge of public relations of Citizens National Bank.

The purpose of the Careers Conference is to acquaint business students with jobs and duties in professional fields.

MEGOWAN RECENTLY moved to Dallas from New York. He was graduated from Columbia University, specializing in advertising and journalism.

In 1937, McGowan joined the legal department of the Wall Street Journal. He soon became the New England representative, and then worked his way to assistant to the publisher.

AT PRESENT he is a member of the board of directors of the National Better Business Bureau. He is also past president of the Dallas Advertising League.

R. J. Bromell is a petroleum engineering graduate of the University of Oklahoma. After working as a production engineer for Phillips Petroleum Co., he was employed by Great Western Drilling Co. as a drilling engineer in Lubbock.

Bromell was promoted to chief drilling engineer and assistant to the president. He has been elected vice president of the parent company, Kendavis Industries, Inc.

Hope, Troupe Appear Here

"The Bob Hope Show" will be in Lubbock Friday, November 21 at the Municipal Coliseum following the homecoming rally.

Show time is 8:30 p.m.

Ticket sales are moving exceptionally well. Regular $4.00 seats are reserved for Tech Students at a price of $2.00. Purchase may be made in the Auditorium Lobby from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

BOB HOPE is internationally known as singer, dancer, and comedian. He has appeared around the globe on movie appearances and troop shows.

Do It Yourself Christmas Cards?

Many Techsians will make and print their own cards this year in connection with a silk screening class offered by the South Plains Art Guild.

THE COURSE of six classes will be taught by Mrs. Meda Johnson who will explain design and techniques of silk screening.

Classes will be in the West Texas Museum on Tech campus. Nov. 5 through Dec. 10.

Freshman Row Vie For Cage

Freshman basketball prospects, Tex 21 in number, moved into their third week of practice this week. The squad, according to freshman coach Gene Gibson, is the smallest group that he has coached since taking over the freshman team at Tech. Tallest prospect is 6'8" Bill Spitzer of Lubbock. Six of the other lads measure only 5'10".

COACH GIBSON stated that top prospects for the team are Elmer Lee Henning, Vance Moxam, Mac Perival, and Billy Wilbanks. He also added that Spirit, Jerry Cowan, Dwayne Key, Del Ray Mounts have showed up well in practice.

First game on schedule for the fish is a meeting with the West

RALPH'S RAMBLINGS

by Ralph W. Carpenter

The Raiders meet Tulane Friday night in what promises to be a rough affair. The Raiders have changed their lineup and hope to get more power out of the moves.

Tulane, who upset Navy two weeks ago, fell to Kansas last week. Both teams have had a bad year but I think the Raiders can come out on top in this affair.

Texas Tech's Picadors meet the West Texas State freshman team here Saturday in a game for the benefit of the National Football Hall of Fame.

★—RWC—★

With the Rice Owls setting the pace in the SWC so far the conference is running true to form. It's unpredictable. But here goes anyhow—

SMU over TEXAS — The Mustangs are still my pick to take SWC title.

TCU over BAYLOR — Here's one that could explode into an upset for the Bears.

A&M over ARKANSAS — The Hogs just don't have it.

TECH over Tulane — The Raiders win number 3.

Frosh Face Calves

Most of last year's stars from Mullins of Snyder, tackle Richard Stafford of Matador, tackle Don Wakup of Quannah, end Bill Black of Muleshoe, end Archie English of Seminole, end Freddie Thompson of Morton and end Robert Sanders of Muleshoe.

WEST TEXAS State's Calves boast a similar lineup of Lock-ney's Dickie Barton, Lane Crank and Jerry Williams, Clarendon's Jerry Behrens, Canyon's Richard Burgess and Dory Funk, Amarillo's Jerry Cannon, Matador's Garland Cartwright, Dayton Graham and Franklin Thrasher, Phillip's Johnny Crook, Slaton's Doug Corhanst of Lockney, guard Jack Dokken of Wilson, tackle Larry

by ROLAND LINDSEY Raiders will be looking for their Texas Tech's re-shuffled Red third victory of the season Friday night when they take on the surprising Green Wave of Tulane.

RICHIE PETITBON
Tulane Quarterback

TECH WILL be using a starting line-up with two men at new positions, these being Gerald Seemann at right guard and Bob Witucki at left end. Seemann was formerly an end and Witucki a fullback.

The Tulane squad is expected to use the same starters which only two weeks ago upset sixth ranked Navy by a score of 14-6. Leader in this upheaval was quarterback Richie Petitbon, a 200 pound junior.

PETITBON ALSO leads the passing attack of the aerial minded Greenies. In the season opener against Florida, the Green Wave completed 20 passes of 41 attempts. Through five games, the Tulane team had gathered in 560 yards via the air route.

To thwart the threatened passing attack, Tech will field a team which according to Coach DeWitt Weaver is in the best physical shape since the Texas game.

WEAVER ALSO added that the position changes of Witucki and Seemann had strengthened the team as a whole. Jerry Don Stockton, who Seemann replaces at guard, missed a lot of action because of a shoulder injury in the earlier games.

Record wise, Tech will hold a slight edge over the Green Wave.

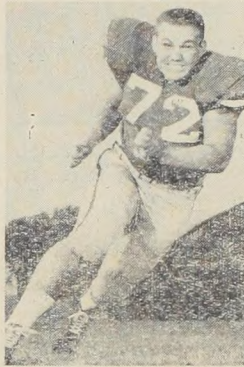

The Red Raiders have managed victories over Texas A&M and West Texas State, while Tulane's only win came at the expense of Navy. The two teams will be meeting for the first time tomorrow night in New Orleans.
