Faculty Members Get Turkey Dinner

The annual faculty dinner of the year was given Friday evening at the college cafeteria when members were served a turkey dinner. Elaborate decorations were used to convert the room into a very attractive scene and colors of red and yellow were predominant in the use of flowers, candles, fruits, and pumpkins.

Miss Marie Delaney worked out the decorative scheme, and small tables decorated with candles were used for serving the one hundred and twenty who were present.

New Garage Being Erected On Campus

The department of dairy products and manufacturers is completing a new garage and warehouse this week.

Frosh Girls Have 'Puff-Pant Prom'

The fashionable fallacy that it is impossible for girls to enjoy themselves without the company of the opposite sex was successfully exploded last Wednesday night when the freshman council entertained freshmen women with a "Puff-Pant-Prom" in the gymnasium.

Two Students Turn Comedian

Two Tech students, Alvin Allison and Robert Taylor, seem to have gone from bad to worse. The students, better known as Bob and Al, have perfected a number of comic acts which they are presenting in several of the theatres of the South Plains.

New Publication To Appear Soon

A new publication of the college, an alumnae magazine, will make its appearance on the campus sometime during the early part of December, according to plans of the officials of Tech Alumnae association.

Due to the fact that only two classes have passed out of the college halls in Tech history, the alumnae publication has been delayed.

The present plan is to publish it quarterly during the first year and after then, should the number of graduates warrant it, the magazine will be changed to a monthly publication.

The magazine is to contain general news about the graduates of the school. C. W. Radtke, member of the class of '27 and telephone editor of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, is to be editor of the magazine in its first year.

Engagement Of Two Former Students Is Announced

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Maurine Beard, former Tech student, was made at a party last Friday afternoon. Misses Flora Sims and Glen Stanton were hostesses at the home of the former, 902 Avenue Q. Miss Beard is to marry Lyman O. Ashby, of McLean, who is a last year graduate of Tech.

The bride-elect was presented with a number of gifts for the kitchen, a program was enjoyed, and several games were played. The afternoon, Miss Maurine Mullican sang, "Cause I'm in Love" and "Sweet Mystery of Life" accompanied by Miss Oldwell Mullican. Misses Kate Pressley and Margaret Turner played several piano selections.

Two Students Turn Comedian

Two Tech students, Alvin Allison and Robert Taylor, seem to have gone from bad to worse. The students, better known as Bob and Al, have perfected a number of comic acts which they are presenting in several of the theatres of the South Plains.

The afternoon concert was given before an audience composed largely of students of Tech and the public schools of Lubbock, and consisted, excepting for encores, of the following numbers: Sousa's "A Study in Rhythms," a cornet solo.

"Soldier's Dream," by Mr. Tong; Sousa's "The King's Court," the band; a soprano solo, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," Miss Marjorie Moody; Wagner's selections "Prelude and Love's Death," from "Tristan and Isolde," by the band; favorite numbers from the operas of Victor Herbert; marches, "Parade of the Gendarmes," Lake, and "Minnesota," by Sousa; a xylophone solo, Grossman's "Ghost of the Warrior," by Mr. Goulden; and Ponchelli's "Dance of the Hour."

The evening concert was well attended and applauded from time to time as the band played its favorite numbers of the audience.

The program consisted of a peroration "Militaire Francaise," from St. Saen's "The Algerienne," a cornet solo "Tower of Jewels," written and played by Mr. Tong; Sousa's suite, "Tales of a Traveler;" a solo, written by Sousa, band.

Matadors Outplay Simmons Crew Before Big Crowd Of The Season But Lose By Big Score Of 19-0

Texas Tech lost a hard fought game Saturday afternoon at University Stadium on the local gridiron. Cheered on by the largest crowd of the season, the Matadors outplayed the Cowboys in practically every department of the game only to lose, 19-0. Again it was the passing game that lost the contest.

Mr. Sousa, "Love's Radiant Hour," by Miss Moody; a symphonic poem "Death and Transfiguration," from Strauss; Mr. Sousa's arrangement of Nichol's "Among My Souvenirs," a flute sextette, Tschakowsky's "Dance of the Mirlitons;" Sousa's famous march, written for this tour, "The Golden Jubilee;" a xylophone solo "Mignon," by Mr. Goulden; and the finale, Sousa's rollicking "Balance All and Swing Partners." As encores, Sousa made the public request that Mr. Sousa write for Texas Tech a march to be entitled "The Texas Tech March," with the suggestion that the Spanish march be incorporated, especially "The Toreador Song."

Mr. Sousa's reply to the request was appropriate. "It would be a tenth later," he said, "who would refuse such a request," and promised that the "Texas Tech March" would be written at his first opportunity. He praised the Tech band highly.

Tech band makes good showing. The Tech band, playing under the direction of the most famous band master in the world, outplayed even themselves, according to Mr. Chas. A. City of the Avalanche-Journal, and made an excellent showing.

Culver Hill, sophomore baritone player of the Tech band, was significantly honored by Mr. Sousa. Hill's playing was complimented by Mr. Sousa, and Hill was invited to an interview with him, itself a rare occurrence, according to members of the Sousa band.

GEORGE T. MORROW

Mr. George T. Morrow, pioneer Lubbock citizen who died Tuesday, November 13, became the first public benefactor of Tech when he left the college $20,000 to establish a student loan fund.

In recognition of Mr. Morrow's deed we dedicate this issue of The Toreador to him.

May the Morrow Student Loan Fund always help students with noble ideals; students who will perpetuate the advancement of others, as Mr. Morrow has done.

SHUT HIM UP

While most students of Tech are striving to build a college attitude which is of the best, there are some who are making the road rough for them. Just the other day one student made a football game less enjoyable to his fellows who surrounded him on the bleachers by yelling: "Kill them—We don't want to FIGHT them. We want to KILL them."

A friend who was standing by this particular student told him to shut up. It did little good, however. Throughout the game he yelled, "Kill 'em."

Certainly there is no objection on the part of any student to an expression of enthusiasm. Such a spirit is to be commended. The student body as a whole are doing some fine yelling.

But this taunting student was noticed to be among the missing several times when the group was following a systematic course of yelling together. We wonder if he shouldn't have yelled with the group. To say the least, he should not have taunted our opponents. No one thinks he meant what he said. But the attitude which he was giving of our sportsmanship was not a wholesome one.

The student body as a whole, which is trying to do the best for Tech, should SHUT HIM UP.

The Toreador recognizes the constructive work being done by the Texas Tech Chamber of Commerce. The Toreador commends the band for the type of music which was played Saturday.

The Toreador thanks the Artists Course committee for bringing such good programs to Tech.

MORE EVIDENCE

The Matadors played a wonderful game. No one can object to the type of game which was played Saturday. The score is not as important as some other things. Some of these things we mention:

(These are some expressions which we picked up at the game).

Coach Freeland: "Boys this is a time I'm proud of you, even though you did lose."

Captain Walker: "Yes, we've got a fair club."

Several students in the bleachers: (near the end of the game) "Stay back there! Wait'll this game is over!"

This is more evidence that Tech is developing a spirit which is priceless.

We wish it was so we could thank personally everyone who contributes to this development.

Tech: we mean it, and we're not over sentimental, you are worth it all.

CAUTION IN WRITING

A few students submit articles to The Toreador for the Student Opinion column which manifests clearly that they desire to "air" a personal grudge against some faculty member or against some student. These articles show clearly that the writer has spent very little time in the composition of the article; that the writer was not acquainted with the facts of both sides of the case about which he was writing.

The Toreador invites ANY student to contribute articles to the paper. But it is definitely understood that these articles must be CONSTRUCTIVE. A poor news article may get by sometimes. But an article which attempts to present an opinion should be well written. The writer should present sound argument. He must be FAIR. He must not deal in personalities. If he is writing about something which is closely related to the work of some particular individual he should treat the subject from the standpoint of policy and not from the standpoint of GRUDGE. If it so happens that the policy is the result of a decision of one individual he does not have to refrain from constructive criticism. He can merely refrain from mentioning the name of that individual. Caution should be exercised, however, in the phraseology of such an article.

ESSAY ON MODIFICATION

There's different kinds of modification. For instance, there is modification of the liquor laws. Ah, excuse Henry, he meant that there was an attempt to modify the laws. The laws have no modifier at the present time unless it is the bootlegger who modifies them by breaking them.

Another kind of modification is found in the grammars. Perhaps this variety gives man more trouble than most of the other modifications combined. A kid studies grammar in the grades. He studies grammar in the high schools. He takes (Notice takes) grammar in college. And, all the time this grammar gives him trouble in modification. He runs across (stumbles over) noun modifiers and adverbial modifiers to reach the end of the book to take an exam which modifies his idea of himself. In a case like this there is one individual who is seldom modified. The So he continues throughout life; modifying his ways to meet the approval of his best girl; modifying his lastness to make a living; modifying his ignorance to meet an intelligence level.

There's something about the name "duck dinner" which appeals to us. Of course, we don't care so much for the "duck." But the "dinner" is fine and the "duck" adds a kind of sportsmanship savor to the "dinner" part of the thing.

College people make a composite buying group. All are of the age to spend money. (According to reports from homes oftentimes some of them spend it entirely too freely.) Nevertheless, the fact remains that they SPEND it.

Why should they purchase their necessities and their luxuries (such as lipstick and mustache dye) from any business firm which does not support college enterprises? It seems that there is no reason to the contrary when we take into consideration the fact that there are business firms of all types advertising with us. Besides, a product must be worth something to stand the test of advertising. Advertising will not make a good product. Neither will a product come into popular use unless the world knows about it. One of the chief mediums through which the public discovers standards is through the medium of advertising. If a manufactured product is a good one and if this good product is advertised well, the manufacturer and the distributor will profit.

Twelve o'clock is a late hour to study but it is an early hour to end a date. The boy who leaves at twelve is sometimes a flat tire. The girl who runs a date off at twelve is sometimes considered old-maidish.

It's just a difference in things, you know, that makes the difference.

Loading has its advantages and its disadvantages. Which outweighs the other is the tither. Bombastic orators from the efficiency headquarters declare that a loafer is the pest of the college. Perhaps he is.

What would we do without him, though? We'd walk down the corridors and speak to each other. If the conversation went beyond that it would center around academic subjects.

To some that would be dry conversation indeed.

Such a student would leave no time for making dates and planning socials (such as mixers, dances, and car rides). And, how could such institutions exist without planning. Why, a house, to be a good house, must be planned in advance. So a social to be a good social must be planned in advance. In fact, 'tis said by some that half the fun is in the planning.

Then, you know, colleges are becoming more democratic. Our form of government having proved popular, the form (democracy) is being extended to education. So the elders provide us with educational facilities. They provide us with special educational facilities.

Just because most college subjects are too deep for most of us

That music of Sousa's was inspiring. These band men were masters. In all our wanderings over the universe (which covers all of Lubbock county), we have never heard the equal of that band. Have you? These Tech band boys who played under the great master, Sousa, must have been "up in the air" for quite a while. Can't exactly blame them, though. They did fine.

It is amazing the amount of work a group of people working together, are able to turn out in comparison to the work of the same number of people working separately.

There are some men in authority who are afraid to detail work to other people. They seem to fear that a particular task is not well done unless they do it with their own hands. Such individuals are not the type who make leaders, though. The man who leads; the man who is able to get the group to work together toward the goal; the man who is able to get this unusual amount of work out of a group, is the man who places confidence in other men. He does not think that a task has to be done by himself to be well done.

Getting Our Names In The Paper

It is reported that Mr. Allen passed his wife on the street the other day, tipped his hat, and spent the rest of the afternoon wondering where he had seen that face before.

The sessions in the Y. W. room might be quite enlightening to the entire student body. You can get the low-down on everybody coming and going—especially going. Loyce Logan often leads the sessions, and the way she can spit Bohemian out at you makes you want to tell her, "The same to you with tassels on it."

Have you seen the attic in the new science building under construction? Lieut. Killin declared it would make a "most excellent shooting gallery." And he discovered even the bull's eye.

Clarence Whiteside feels quite set up after being Hoover in the political campaign conducted by the Debate club, and demanded congratulations when Hoover was elected.

Mr. Ford says he never has got that raise he was planning to get when Dr. Horn found out he was getting his freshman history students to read the Bible. He decided the fish aren't cooperating with him.

The Megaphone

Well, folks, we are about to begin to commence to come to the end of things—as far as football is concerned. One more big tussle and the Bullfighters can hang up their scarlet shawls and their swords, and leave the old arena in silence for twelve more months.

Far be it from us to intimate that just because our last game is with Canyon, that we consider the season practically over. We do not. Not a single person on the campus has such an opinion. In fact the prevalent atmosphere around the campus at this time is quite to the contrary. The sting of last year's defeat has by no means abated, and this time we intend to avenge that defeat in a manner such that Canyon will never forget. This will be the last Thanksgiving encounter between the Buffs and the Matadors, so if we are going to make Canyon remember it we will have to do a good job. Our opinion is that the task will be firmly and neatly executed.

It is hoped that the student body will avail themselves of the exceedingly low rate, and ride the special train. The more we take on the special, the more spirit we are going to have at Canyon. A special seems to furnish a much needed something that works wonders in a student body on a football trip. The fare is only $2.85, and there is no reason at all why any student who can afford to make the game, cannot afford to ride the special. We should be able to load as many as 500 on that train Thanksgiving morning. Many people of Lubbock going on the special, and if the student body will come through as it should, we ought to have more than 500 on the train. All you fellows sink away $2.85 in the old sock and be on that train when she leaves Thanksgiving morning.

There is much talk, and rightly so, of the announced price of tickets to the game. Rumor on the cammerriment. Chester is the little brother of Truett who is now district and county clerk down south of here. Truett was a fine fellow. Chester gives the same impression. He gives another idea of himself though. A smile crosses one's countenance when he meets Chester. He throws his arm around one (provided of course that the one is a member of the masculine gender) and starts a very intimate conversation nearly every time he meets you. You gotta answer that smile with a smile, it seems.

Genevieve Meredith, the pleasant girl from Amarillo, is reported to be disappointed if she can't excel in everything she attempts. No use of that Genevieve, college isn't such a serious place. Professors and upperclassmen forget their studies each fall when the crop of new freshmen enter college. They go courting.

pus has it that seats are going to sell at $3.75. This price will certainly not include students. Some tickets have been sold in Canyon and Amarillo at this price, we understand, but it is our opinion that students will be admitted at the usual price, whatever that is.

Had the honor of helping with the barbecuing last Friday night. Was also lucky enough to get on the first shift—7 p. m. until 2 a. m. Didn't mind it a bit though, because it is such activities as this that the Chamber of Commerce is undertaking, that is going to place Tech where she belongs in the opinion of surrounding high schools.

THE FRESHMAN

He's more to be pitied than censured.
He's more to be helped than despised,
For he's only a Freshman who has ventured
On life's stormy path ill-advised.
Don't scorn him with words false and bitter
Don't laugh at his shame and downfall,
For he's only a Freshman who has ventured
On life's stormy path, after all.

Fish Outclassed By Mexico Cadets

The Freshmen stepped out of their class when they took on the N. M. M. I. cadets last Saturday and were trimmed 25-0. A young gent by the name of Foley was the man who made all of the touchdowns, all the field goals, and all of the points after touchdown for the cadets. Reports from Roswell indicate that the Fish had the fight and spirit but were outweighed and green from inexperience.

The Freshmen although making 5 first downs were unable to hold the heavier charges of the military lads. The cadets gained their yardage through all kinds of plays but were forced to uncover all they had to down the Tech representatives. It was a better and closer game than the score indicates. Hill, Smith, Swift and Sides started for Tech, while the Cadet heroes were Foley, McComis, Hill and Lambeth.

Lineup and Summary

Cadets	Position	Freshmen
Hill	L E	Strickle
Edley (C)	L T	Sides
Andrews	L G	Nixon
Williams	C	Swift
Kattache	R G	Hutchinson
Lambeth	R T	Simmons
Graham	R E	Edmonds
Foley, M.	Q	Buckler
Foley, A.	L H	Hill
McComis	R H	Crites
Nall	F	Smith

Summary: First downs, Cadets ten, Tech five; Passes completed, Cadets four, Tech four; passes incomplete, Cadets three, Tech four; punts, Cadets nine for thirty-eight average, Tech seven for thirty-three average. Ground from rushing, Cadets one ninety seven, Tech one thirteen. Touchdowns, Foley (2), Hill, Field Goal, Foley, Points after touchdowns, Foley (2).

Athletic Items

The wily Bridges is still up to his tricks. He always does the unexpected. Fans at the game Saturday saw several of his clever stunts exhibited. One of them was at the first of the game. When Hodges kicked off to open the game, the Matadors came down under the punt. The receiver promptly punted back over the heads of the fast charging Ma-go back for the ball. All of which was valuable for Simmons. This is not a maneuver that belongs exclusively to Bridges but it only proves that Bridges is and has his men to watch and take advantage of every break. If there is no break, make one.

Bridges also had his backfield organized in a very definite way. Houghton and Clark did practically all of the ball carrying from the line of scrimmage. Sanders did all of the kicking and also went down to receive passes. Sims threw all of the passes that were completed. Kuhn called signals only. The only time he stepped out of this role was to kick a goal from placement, when the last touchdown was made. The substitutes who replaced these men later in the game also did one thing and one thing only. Bridges must believe in the old adage, "Learn to do one thing only but learn to do it well."

When the first half was over, the Matadors had made 8 first downs. The Cowboys had made none. When the game was over the Cowboys had made 4 first downs and the Matadors also had equalled this achievement. It is hard to lose a game when you see your team excel in all departments of the game and yet lose by so heavy a score.

The Matadors marched the entire length of the field at the opening of the third quarter. Receiving the ball on his own 10 yard line Woolridge returned the ball 39 yards to his own 49 yard line. From this point the four W's, Waller, Woolridge, and the two Walkers carried the ball to the three inch line. If the Matadors had made this touchdown, it is very probable that they would have won the game. Simmons at that time had but three points. And, added to this, the Cowhands had not made a single first down. After losing this chance it was enough to take the heart out of anyone. But the Bull Fighters kept on and Simmons was unable to score any more till the final stanza. The game was lost but the most skeptical are now convinced that the FIGHT is still in the system of the Matadors. And fight makes stars out of otherwise poor players. The law of averages will not permit the Matadors to lose many games with the spirit and fight they showed last Saturday.

Ahlfen Christian moved a step closer to the T. I. A. A. championship when they came from behind and passed to victory over the Canyon Buffs. It was the same in the Matador game. It was the passing of Keyes to Cheeves. Canyon deserves a lot of credit. It will be remembered that earlier in the season the Teachers could not even score. Now they have won 2 games, and scored in three. Everlasting fight and persistence was the cause of this.

Two records were broken at South Bend, Ind., Saturday. One was of 23 years standing and the other was of all time standing. In the first place Carnegie Tech and Notre Dame played before the largest crowd ever together in the Notre Dame stadium, 30,000. In the second place Notre Dame was beaten on her own field for the first time in 23 years. Carnegie Tech crushed Notre Dame 27-7. Incidentally, the Roanoke men are having the worst season they have experienced in several years.

A rather queer situation exists in the Class B district to the Southwest of Lubbock. Big Springs, Snyder, and Sweetwater are out of the race because of playing ineligible men. Roscoe, which has not won a "meat game, is leading the district. Roscoe is in the lead only because the other schools have lost more games than it has.

Last week in the write-up of the Fish-Simmons reserve game it was stated that Gene Alford scored the first point for Tech. The editor wishes to correct this statement. It was Alford that scored the first zuma, which Tech won 30-0. But the first point scored for Tech was made when Elson Archibald sent a drop kick sailing over the bar in the Austin College game. The athletic editor regrets that this mistake was made and takes this means to correct it. The honor of being the man to score the first point for a new college is something to be proud of and to remember with pleasure after school days are over. Aside from holding this honor the Toreador wishes that Archie may score many more points for Tech in the Canyon game.

Leadership in the Southwestern Conference changed hands Saturday, when Texas beat T. C. U. and when Baylor had to go and beat S. M. U. Texas now has only one defeat to mar its record. The Mustangs have one conference defeat and a tie game, which counts one half game won and one half lost.

While it is quite early to discuss the Canyon game it will be well to remember that one more game and

Brilliant Students Extend Studies To Field Of Historical Research

A few issues ago an enlightening study of the contributions of freshmen to political science was published. It appears that both freshmen and upperclassmen are extending their studies in the field of historical research. Important revelations heretofore unknown to historians are calculated to further complicate the answer to the question "how we got this way."

Australia Given as Cradle of Civilization

In answer to the question, "upon what continent did civilization first appear?" one freshman uproots the tree of knowledge by calmly announcing that Australia was the cradle of civilization. Another suggests that perhaps the Nile river was the aforesaid continent.

It is well known that Abraham was a truly great man, but one eager student after knowledge would include among his exploits the fact

Public Speaking Department Plans Play Tournament With Scholarship For The Best Actor Of The College

A one-act farce, "The Rehearsal," was presented Tuesday evening by the Sock and Buskin club. The play was directed by De Ann Simmons. It was a rehearsal scene of an Irish tragedy by a dramatic club. "Knives from Syria," by Lynn Riggs, will be presented before the club on December 4th. The scene of this play is in Claremore, Oklahoma, and presents the old parent-daughter conflict in a striking manner.

On December 15th the club will present to the student body, a Christmas tableau, "Dust of the Road."

"His Inheritance" was given November 6th by Ruth Elston, Virgil Johnson, Earl Sparks, and Fred Rollins. J. W. Hill and Anna Jo Pendleton worked out the special lighting effects required for this play.

The regular schedule for the Sock and Buskin club meetings is the first and third Tuesdays of each month and a play is given by members of the club at each meeting. Every member has been urged to be present at every meeting promptly at 7:30 p. m. to get admittance before the doors of the dramatic room are locked.

A one-act play tournament is planned to be held in May under the auspices of the public speaking department. A fifty dollar scholarship will probably be given to the best individual actor. This contest is to be open only to students of the college.

Jack Durham certainly played a good game Saturday. Someone said, "If it hadn't been for Jack the Cowboys would have made a lot more yardage than they did. If Corley had been here he would have said that Jack was filling the center position in good style."

mind is dimmed by comparison with that of the upperclassmen. In two sophomore classes in American history only two individuals succeeded in naming the thirteen original colonies. Perhaps it would have been fairer to ask how many colonies there were in the above mentioned thirteen original. It was not enough for Ohio and Kentucky to be included in the list but Texas and New Mexico are assigned a place in the historic thirteen. The history of the Lone Star State is deeply enriched by some freshman's sincere suggestion that Alexander the Great owed his success to the presence and assistance of a number of West Texas cowboys. A sophomore girl is equally as willing to help the poet turn time backward. When asked to tell about the founding of the Swedish colony, Christiania, she leaped from Medieval history over the Medieval centuries and landed far back in ancient times to picture the founding of Christianity. Another victory for concentration. Students of religious beliefs will be interested to learn that "the Egyptians were pagans and had no gods."

"Singing Fighter"

LOS ANGELES—Al Jolson is thinking that maybe he'll hire himself a manager and go after that vacant heavyweight throne. As he tells it, he didn't like the language of a fellow at hotel dance and told him so. The fellow made a pass at Al and Al banged him in the eye. Al's bride was present. Eventually three men put the fellow out. Al rates the fellow as the equal of Tunney or Firpo.

27 yard line. Houghton makes 1 yard off right end. Sanders punts 50 yards to Waller who is downed in his tracks on his own 19 yard line. Levi Walker hits center for 1 yard. He tries right tackle for 2 more. Percy Walker punts 30 yards to Simmons. It is returned to the Tech 41 yard line. Houghton makes a yard through right tackle. Clark hits center for 3 more. Ox Reed gets Clark before he can gain. Ox is figuring in every play. Sanders punts out of bounds on the Tech 26 yard line. Percy Walker slips off right end for 5 yards. It is Tech's ball on her 39 yard line. Hodges hits the line for 3 yards. A Tech pass is intercepted by a Simmons player, who fumbles as he is tackled. A mad scramble ensues but Simmons recovers on the Matador 33 yard line. Houghton hits right tackle for 1 yard. This seems to be his particular play. Waller breaks up a Simmons pass that seems ticked for a sure touchdown. It was a wonderful and beautiful piece of work. Percy and Hodges breaks up another one. Sanders punts over the goal line.

It is Tech's ball on the 20 yard line. Percy Walker punts 48 yards out of bounds on the Simmons 32 yard line. Houghton tries right tackle again. And again he makes the usual yard. Sanders punts 48 yards to the Matador 20 yard line. Waller returns the punt 17 yards to his own 47 yard line. Percy Walker fumbles and the ball is recovered by Simmons on the Tech 19 yard line. Percy Walker breaks up Sanders' pass. Clark hits the center of the line for 5 yards. It is on Tech's 16 yard line. Sanders kicks a field goal.

Simmons kicks off to Vinzant, who returns the ball to the Simmons 48 yard line. Simmons only made 8 yards on this play. Percy Walker slips through left tackle for 4 yards. He tries left end but fails to gain. Hodges hits left guard for 6 yards for the first down of the game. But he hurt his knee and was forced out of the game. Woodridge plows the line for 3 yards to the 35 yard line. Levi Walker adds 2 yards around left end. Woodridge plows the line for 4 yards and fails to make it a first down by about a foot. Percy fails to gain. The ball goes over to Simmons on their own 28 yard line. The Cowboy punts the football 52 yards to Waller, who is tackled on his 19 yard line. Percy Walker hits center for 6 yards. Houghton backs center for 6 yards. Clark hits the same place for 3 more. Houghton falls to gain. It is fourth down and 1 to go. Sanders punts out of bounds on the Tech 3 yard line. Percy ran off tackle for 3 yards. He more on the next play placing the ball on the 12 yard line. Levi tried his hand and was rewarded with 6 yards. Score: Simmons 3; Tech 0.

Second Quarter The Matadors are showing the best fight of the season. They hear the impact of their bodies against the big Cowboy line. They are getting results too. Woodridge plows the line for 4 yards. On a bad passback from center Percy was delved and lost 3 yards. Percy punts to the Cowboy 34 yard line. The Cowhands punt back 46 yards. Waller fumbles and Simmons recovers on the Tech 41 yard line. Clark made 1 yard at the line. He hit center for 4 more. He made 1 over right tackle but Simmons was penalized 5 yards for offside to Tech's 42 yard line. Sanders punts over the goal line.

It is Tech's ball on her 20 yard line. Waller makes 2 yards brushing the right tackle. Woodridge fails to gain. Simmons is penalized 5 yards for offside and the ball is placed on the 27 yard line. Waller makes 1 yard off right end. Woodridge makes it a first down by gaining 2 yards. Waller falls to gain in an off tackle play. This time he circles right end for 7 yards. It is third down and 3 to go on Tech's 38 yard line. Percy Walker makes 2 of them. Woodridge hits the line for the coveted yard and subsequent first down. Waller twists through left tackle for 3 yards. He is playing a fine game. Three Cowboys got through to touch Waller for no gain when the Tech forward wall falls to hold. It was an elusive exhibition of fast foot work on Waller's part to get back to the line of scrimmage. Simmons was penalized 5 yards for offside on the play. It is Tech's ball on her own 49 yard line. Percy made 2 yards and first down. Woodridge plows the line for 1 yard. Simmons is penalized 15 yards for communicating. It is Tech's ball on the Cowboy 32 yard line. Levi Walker lost a yard, when the interference balls up his path. Percy makes a yard, when his interference fails to function. Percy passes to Woodridge for a distance of 6 yards. At this point Tech attempts a field goal but the pass from center goes wild out of reach of Walker. De Witt makes a hurried recovery and attempts to pass. No one is open and he returns the ball to the Ranchers 30 yard line. The ball goes over to Simmons.

Houghton falls to gain, on the left side of the line. Big Sid Knowles was in the way. Sanders punts 25 yards to the Tech 45 yard line. A pass Percy Walker to Marr is incomplete. It missed Marr's hands by a matter of inches. Marr had a clear field ahead of him. Another pass Percy to Hempel also went the incomplete route. The ball rests on the Tech 40 yard line. Percy Walker punts 50 yards to the Cowboys. It was a kick that was hardly 8 feet high. But it traveled on a direct line parallel with the gridiron. It was returned to the Cowboy 24 yard line. Houghton went over tackle for 2 yards. Tech is penalized for being offside. Clark twists around through right tackle for 2 yards. He hits left tackle for the same amount. Houghton falls to gain. The ball is on the 33 yard line. Houghton gets rough and Sanders is penalized 15 yards. The ball goes back to Tech's 46 yard line.

Fourth Quarter Sims passed 26 yards to Moore, who stepped 4 yards more for a touchdown. Sanders failed to kick goal. Percy Walker receives the ball on his own 3 yard line and returns it 21 yards to his 24 yard line. Alexander gets a yard through the line to place the ball on the Tech 25 yard line. Percy Walker pushed his way 3 yards to his 28 yard line. He was downed on the Simmons 32 yard line. Brittan tried left tackle but found the going too hard. Sellers pushed 48 yards to Waller, who is busted on his own 29 yard line. Marr loses a yard on a long end run. Alexander bucks the line for a yard. Percy Walker punts 20 yards to Brittan who is tackled in his tracks on the 50 yard line. Clark brushed left tackle for 12 yards and a first down. Bridges sent in Hyde for Brittan and he looked dangerous for a while. He first bled through center for 4 yards, and on the next play went around end for 10 more after a bad getaway. The ball is now on Tech's 26 yard line. Clark plows the line for 5 yards. Hyde put it on the 20 yard line after a long end run. Westerfield stopped Sanders. He kicks a field goal. Woodridge receives the kick-off on his own 10 yard line and returned it 22 yards. Smythe fails to gain on a long end run. He tries left tackle for the same result. Archibald at the line for 1 yard. Brothers punts 15 yards. A pass by Hyde fails to materialize. A pass Sims to Sanders is completed after a 12 yard heave. It is Simmons ball on Tech's 17 yard line. Clark goes through the line for 2 yards. Sims passes 10 yards to Sanders, who slips the second across the goal for the other two touchdowns of the quarter. Sanders kicks goal. Sanders kicks off to Archibald, who receives the ball behind his own goal line. He returns it to his own 17 yard line. Smythe went to the 24 yard line, in a pretty run. Lassiter fumbles and Barber recovers on the 17 yard line. Sellers gets 2 at center. Durham intercepted a pass and returned to his own 48 yard line. Smythe fails to complete a pass to Lassiter. Lassiter loses 4 yards on a long end run to the right. Smythe fumbles and Ribble recovers on the Tech 48 yard line, but it was ruled that Simmons was offside. Smythe passed to Lassiter for 8 yards. Tech failed to make it a first down. The ball goes over. It is Simmons ball on her own 45 yard line. Sellers got away to the 49 yard line, after a 4 yard run. Hyde made a yard at left tackle placing the ball on the 50 yard line. Sellers punts 16 yards to the Tech 34 yard line. Tech was offside so the 10 yard pass, Smythe to Lockhart, was called back. Another pass is incomplete. It is third down and 15 to go. Hyde intercepts a Tech pass, on Tech's 37 yard line as the gun ends the game. Score: Simmons 19; Tech 0.

Miss Johnnie McCreary, head of the foods department and of the practice house of the school of home economics, has gone to her home in Dallas on account of ill health. She is to go to Baltimore for a major operation. According to Miss Weeks, dean of the school of home economics, who has received a letter from her, Miss McCreary expects to return to Tech for the spring term.

Chicago is planning a subway. Business men have grown tired of wearing steel helmets riding the street cars to and from work.

All Our Customers

Can't Be Wrong

Almost 100 per cent of our credit customers have voiced their approval of our new Cash policy. They KNOW they are buying more for their money under this new plan than they did when they said "Charge it, please."

You get the advantage of this change too, and when you compare our values and prices with those of other stores, you too, will see the great savings that can be made.

"Spend your money here and it will last longer."
