

Crop Judging Team Wins High Honors

Places First Third Straight Year; Permanent Trophy Possession Won

By ALTON SLAGLE
Toreador Staff Writer

Tech's crop judging team has brought back to the campus, for the third consecutive year, the top trophy in international crops judging competition.

Arriving in Lubbock by train at noon yesterday were team members Richard Motl, of Anton; Edmund Schlabs, Friona; Billy Smith, Snyder; Dibrell Stowell, Pampa; and Coach Cecil Ayers, associate Professor of agronomy.

Since leaving Tech two weeks ago, the team has competed in the National Collegiate Grain Judging contest at Kansas, City, Mo., and at the International Crops Judging contest held in Chicago, walking off with first prize and a number of individual prizes at each meet.

Permanent Possession

At Kansas City on Nov. 23, the team received an engraved loving cup, to be a permanent trophy, for their performance in the contest sponsored by the Kansas City Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Eleven colleges and universities competed in the event. In addition to the loving cup, the Tech team was awarded plaques for first place in each of the three phases of the contest.

Top individual honors at the Kansas City meet went to Stowell, who received a gold medal during the awarding of prizes. The 21-year-old agronomy major scored a total of 1,780 points out of a possible 1,800. Schlabs, who was awarded second place, scored 1,758 points, and Motl took fifth spot with 1,722.

Team score for Tech at the Kansas City contest was 5,261.4 points out of a possible 5,400. This was the fourth win for Tech at this annual event. Second and third places went to Oklahoma A&M and the University of Nebraska respectively.

Gets Silver Bowl

Climaxing the competition at the international meet was the awarding of a silver bowl to the Tech team for their third consecutive first place win. The bowl, which does not become a permanent trophy until a school has three times won the distinction of having the best crop judges in international competition, will now occupy a permanent place in Tech's agriculture department trophy case.

The victorious team also brought back two first place plaques, and one second place trophy for individual phases of the contest.

The Chicago contest was sponsored by the International Livestock Exposition, the Chicago Board of Trade, and the American Seed Trade Association, and was held in conjunction with the Livestock Exposition.

Tech scored a total of 5,184 out of a possible 5,400 points.

Stowell Tops

Stowell took top honors in two phases of individual competition at Chicago, with a score of 1,747 out of 1,800 points in the entire contest, and 576 of a possible 600 points in commercial grading.

Tech was present at other events at the Livestock Exposition. The local chapter of Block and Bridle, a national organization for animal husbandry majors, ranked first in activities and second in annual reports among some 21 major institutions sponsoring Block and Bridle programs. A 1954 graduate of Tech, Dale Hoover, of Perryton, placed fourth in Merit Trophy competition for individual honors.

Mowery Present

Professor Ray C. Mowery of the animal husbandry faculty and current president of the national Block and Bridle organization was in Chicago for the judging.

The livestock judging team closed out its 1954 session with an eighth place win at the Exposition. Frank Newsom, Alpine senior, was individual high man for Tech, placing second in cattle judging.

The team is coached by Stanley Anderson, associate professor of animal husbandry. Team members are Newsom; J. D. Jones, Jayton; Joe Ash, Bronte; Ralph Willingham, Rotan; Jerry Vines, Brownwood; and Joe LeGendre, Shreveport, La.

La Ventana Minus 39 Club Pages

Thirty-nine campus organizations have not made reservations for club pages in the 1955 La Ventana, according to Earl Dietering, business manager. Dec. 15 is the absolute deadline for money, membership and pledge roster, list of officers and sponsors and a statement of the club purpose. Since the original deadline was Nov. 15, the new deadline will be strictly observed by La Ventana staff, with no reservation accepted after Dec. 15.

Groups Listed

Organizations who have not reserved pages are: Alpha Chi, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Alpha Psi Mu, Alpha Psi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega, American Institute of Physics, Applied Arts Workshop, Army Signal Association.

Baptist Student Union, Canterbury Club, Delta, Sigma Rho, Disciples Student Fellowship, Dolphin Fraternity, Double "T" Association, Drane Hall Association, Engineering Society, Future Farmers of America, Horn Hall Association, Infantry Club, International Relations Club, Kappa Phi Kappa.

Pi Upsilon Omicron, Pi Omega Pi, Pi Sigma Alpha, Sam Houston Rifles, Sigma Nu, Sneed Hall, Society of American Military Engineers, Society of Technologists, Sociology Club, Sock and Buskin, Speech Pathology, Tau Beta Pi, Texas Tech Biology Club, Texas Tech Forensics Union, Texas Tech Rifle Club, Texas Tech Signal Club, Town Girls and West Hall Association.

Director Is Sought For Varsity Show

Bayard Foster, Mertzon senior, is the first person to apply for the post of director for the 1954-55 Tech Varsity Show, announces Roy Smith, chairman for this year's show.

Applications should be made by letter, says Smith. Previous experience should be listed. Applications for other positions on the staff will be called for later.

Scripts now under consideration are three musical comedies: "Best Foot Forward," "Good News" and "Girl Crazy." The show will be presented March 28, 29 and 30 at the High School Auditorium.

Directorship applications should be sent to Roy Smith, Box 299, Gordon Hall.

A beauty expert will select Tech's eight most beautiful girls from photographs of the 20 finalists selected Sunday. All 20 beauties will be pictured in La Ventana.

First Fine Arts Festival Will Feature Music, Drama, Dance, Poetry, Exhibits

Tech's first Fine Arts Festival will be held Dec. 9-13, featuring music, drama, dance, poetry and exhibits.

Serving as hosts for the five-day festival, which is scheduled to become an annual affair, will be the departments of music, applied arts, speech, physical education and architecture and allied arts; and the Artists Course Committee.

To highlight the first day's events, Robert Goldsand, pianist, will perform for the Tech Artists Course series at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, in Lubbock High School Auditorium.

At 9 a.m. Friday, Dec. 10, a Tech-Lubbock Public Schools band clinic begins, preceding a production of "Words, Music and Dance" in the Recital Hall of the Music Building at 8 p.m. This performance consists of a modern dance group under direction of Miss Dorothy Hoyle, assistant professor of physical education; choral readers directed by Dr. Cecilia Thompson, assistant professor of speech; Tech Choir, directed by Dr. Gene Hemmle, head professor of music; and the Tech Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Paul Ellsworth, music instructor.

The band clinic continues Saturday, Dec. 11, followed by a film, "Carnival in Flanders," in the Museum auditorium at 1:30 p.m. In the Museum at 3 p.m., "Object-Image - Paintings - Sculpture - Poetry" will feature selections by Mrs. Ruth Wilson, English instructor, and Richard Tracy, instructor in architecture and allied

Regional Conference of College Unions Set To Get Underway Here Tomorrow

The Student Union will be host tomorrow and Saturday to the annual Region 9 conference of the National Association of College Unions.

Workshop sessions will make up the business end of the conference, and a banquet and dance will provide guests with entertainment. The workshop sessions are designed to give the student delegates a better insight on union programming activities and to give staff members a chance to examine problems of union administration and organization, according to Gwen Williams, conference chairman.

Joe Remaklus, a student from Oklahoma University, will serve as chairman of the conference steering committee. Hillier Freeland, director of Oklahoma University's student union, will be chairman of the executive committee.

Officers of the conference will be: Gwen Williams, general chairman; Mary Alice Braselton, secretary; and Ann Lee Turner, treasurer.

Tech students assisting Miss Williams in conference arrangements are: Sylvia Dietering, reservations; Joan Roberts, registration; LaDon Sheats, hospitality; Jerry House, food arrangements; and Ken Johnson, entertainment.

ists selected Sunday. All 20 beauties will be pictured in La Ventana.

The schools attending the conference and the number of delegates from each are: Texas University, 15; East Texas State Teachers College, 4; University of Houston, 3; Oklahoma A&M, 9; Grambling College, 3; Sam Houston State Teachers College, 5; Trinity University, 2; Texas A&I, 5; University of Oklahoma, 8; Texas A&M, 9; and the University of Arkansas, 6.

Election Is Today For BA Vacancy

A business administration representative vacancy in the student council gave rise to the special election being held today from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Administration Building lobby.

Joanne Holmes, Lubbock sophomore; George Morgan, Plainview junior; and Jack Pruitt, Odessa junior, are in the race for the vacated position left by Jack Gibson earlier this semester.

The results will be posted on the student council office door as soon as the ballots are counted announced Gwen Williams, elections committee chairman.

If necessary, a runoff will be held next Thursday.

Petroleum Expert To Speak Tonight

Michel T. Halbouty, consulting geologist and petroleum engineer from Houston, will give a formal talk tonight on the "Structure of Salt Domes." The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Rm. 101 of the Chemistry Building, and is open to the public.

According to the Oil and Gas Journal, Halbouty is "recognized in the oil industry as one of the most outstanding geologists and petroleum engineers in the nation, and is considered an outstanding authority on the geological and engineering problems of the Gulf Coast of Texas and Louisiana, and is rated as one of the top experts on the geology of Gulf Coast salt domes. He is also active as an oil operator and producer—producing and operating in many oil and gas fields."

Halbouty is a former vice-president and general manager for Glenn H. McCarthy Interests. Since his release from active duty with the Army in 1945 he has discovered or been responsible for new production in 19 oil fields and presently owns interests or operates producing wells in 23 other fields.

In addition to being co-author of "Spindletop," the story of the fabulous spindletop oil field, Halbouty has written over 40 technical articles for publication.

Darrell Dean Smith Designated Winner In Agricultural Contest

A design for an experimental theater on the South Plains won first prize for Darrell Dean Smith in an architectural contest.

The Ft. Worth architectural senior has been awarded $150 by contest sponsor, Texas Concrete Masonry Block Association.

'Most Handsome Man' Will Be Named Saturday Night In Club Scarlet Ballot

Tech's "Most Handsome Man" will be selected from seven finalists Saturday night at Club Scarlet, a mock night club presented annually by Theta Sigma Phi, professional and honorary organization for women in journalism.

Candidates, and the clubs sponsoring them for top position are: Albert Troost, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Lynn Elliott, Kappa Alpha Theta; Don Dilley, Kappa Sigma; Paul Stuart, Book Reviewers; Walter Bryan, Double T Association; Jack Earl, Pi Beta Phi; and Robert Allen Wheeler, Sigma Kappa.

They were selected by the Association of Women Students Council from a field of 13, submitted by campus organizations. The other six candidates: Dick Spencer, Gordon Hall, alternate; Bowden Cook, Phi Delta Theta, alternate; Gayle Erickson, Seaboard and Blade; Dan Y. Davis, Tech Veterans; Glenn Raifer, Delta Sigma Pi, and Melvin Deardorff, Mu Phi Epsilon.

The most Handsome Man will be selected by secret ballot by those attending Club Scarlet. Skits will be presented by campus organizations for a floor show beginning at 8 p.m.

"Mind Shrink" is the title of the skit to be presented by Zeta Tau Alpha pledge class. Participants are Jomilee Lomax, Linda Rogers, Joe Love Stogner, Glenda Moses, Patsy Harris, Sandra Hitch, Carolyn Sanders, Glenda Keyton, Gail Biggers, Carolyn Pryor, Marilyn Sutton and Sharon Seeliger.

Delta Delta Delta pledge class will present "Dancing Thru The Years." Pledges are Shirlee King, Grace Vick, Nancy Sheppard, Susy Allen, Jody May, Carolyn Dixon, and Sue Hendrick.

Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority, will sponsor the Melody Belles Trio composed of Ann Hogg, Margaret Ann Ammer and Margaret Schindler.

"Candyland" will be presented by Pi Beta Phi pledge class.

Kappa Alpha Theta pledges will give several short talent acts which will be musical and humorous.

Kappa Sigma pledge class will present a skit. The title is to be announced later.

Classes Nominate Favorites Dec. 16

Class meetings and a schoolwide election will be this year's method of selecting class favorites.

Nominations for favorites in each class will be made in class meetings, Dec. 16, and final selection will be made in a schoolwide election on Jan. 11, according to Gwen Williams, chairman of the elections committee.

Mr. and Miss Texas Tech will also be chosen in the all-school election. Nominations for Mr. and Miss Texas Tech must be made by petition. A total of 310 signatures are necessary for each candidate.

Miss Williams announces that petitions may be picked up now in the Student Council office.

Queen Candidate Picked for Meet

Charlene Williamson, sophomore arts and sciences student from Fort Worth, was selected Monday night by the Student Council to be Tech's candidate for queen of the Kentucky All-American City Basketball Tournament.

The queen of the tournament will be judged through pictures of the candidates sent in by the schools participating in the tournament. The girl selected will travel to Owensboro, Ky., to reign over the tournament and its activities. Tech's basketball squad is one of the teams entered.

Miss Williamson was chosen by the Student Council from a field of five candidates submitted by the Double T Association. Others nominated were: Glenda Moses, Donell Phillips, Ruth Ann Cummings, and Jeanne Cannon.

Wrapping Demonstration Set in Union Tuesday Night

That it does not require yards of expensive satin ribbon and fancy metallic paper to make attractive and colorful Christmas packages will be demonstrated by students and faculty of the applied arts department at the Union at 7 p.m. Tuesday. Students and faculty are invited to attend the exhibition and are encouraged to bring gifts to wrap under the supervision of the experts. Newspapers left-overs from last year, or other old materials may be used to produce eye-catching Christmas wrappings.

Dr. Gillis Publishes Volume of Poetry

"Angles of the Wind," a book of lyrics and ballads by Dr. Everett A. Gillis, associate professor of English, has been published by Kaleidograph Press of Dallas.

Among the 50 poems in the book are several prize-winners. Previous books by Dr. Gillis are "Hello the House," "Who Can Retreat?" and "Sunrise in Texas."

Tech Gets Chapter Of Sigma Pi Sigma

Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics honorary society, will install its 87th chapter here Dec. 13.

The Tech chapter will be the second in Texas. The other is at Texas University.

The local chapter has organized and has elected Joseph H. Robinson, graduate student in physics, as president-elect. Other officers of the local chapter include Richard W. Roddy, senior physics major, vice president; Thomas W. Summers, assistant professor of mathematics, secretary; and B. H. Hale, Senior physics major, treasurer. Dr. David J. Besdin, assistant professor of physics, is advisor.

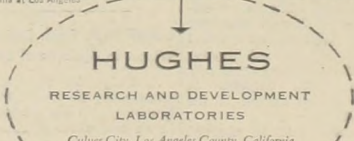

There are 14 charter members of the local chapter. Three of these, Dr. William Merrymon, Dr. Joseph H. Rush, and Dr. John C. Resler, are already members of Sigma Pi Sigma.

The executive secretary of Sigma Pi Sigma, Dr. Marsh W. White, will head the installing team scheduled to come here for the ceremony. He is a member of the physics faculty of Pennsylvania State College.

Block and Bridle Plan 49'er Party

A country fair atmosphere will prevail at the traditional Little International and 49'er party to be held by Block and Bridle Dec. 11, said Ralph Willingham, club reporter.

Little International, a show open to any ag student, is designed to teach showmanship and create friendly rivalry among participants. Entrants will be judged on their ability to fit and show various college animals. Another event of the show is a greased pig race.

The annual 49'er dance, open to the student body, will conclude the day's activities. Tickets will be on sale at the door of the Rec Hall for $1.

Block and Bridle is the animal husbandry department club.

WINSTON

FINER FILTER!
FINER FLAVOR!
KING-SIZE, TOO!

Winston tastes good—like a cigarette should!

Winston brings flavor back to filter smoking—full, rich, tobacco flavor! No wonder college smokers are flocking to Winston—on campuses across the country! Along with real flavor—the kind you've been missing in filter smokes—Winston brings you a finer filter. This exclusive Winston filter is unique, different, truly superior! It works so effectively, yet doesn't "thin" the taste or flatten the flavor. Winstons are king-size, too, for extra filtering action—and easy-drawing for extra good taste. Try a pack of Winstons!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
This is a letter to the student body of Texas Tech.

It has come to the attention of this senior that something has, or is happening to this school which I would not have happened to any school. The spirit of the school, that thing which makes this more than just an institution of learning, is either dead or dying rapidly.

To illustrate my point, I want to call attention to the fact that at the pep rally preceding the Houston game, only 50 people or less showed up. The band, freshman football squad, and visitors from Houston made up the other persons at the gym. Out of an enrollment of more than 6,000 students, 3/4 of whom live on or near the campus, only 50 students were present. Why? Didn't the student body know of the weekly pep rally? Is the team so bad that they warrant no support?

In the four years that I have gone to Tech, I have never felt that the students didn't care whether they had a team or not, even when the team lost seven games in a row.

I play football and I realize that I might feel differently about the team than the average student, but that group of boys are the foremost representatives of this campus. They, more than any

AN EDITORIAL

A Date Well Set

Steps have been taken to correct the situation of Homecoming vs. mid-semester grades, referred to in an editorial in the Nov. 19 edition of The Toreador.

Homecoming Day for next year has been set on Nov. 5, the end of the eighth week of school. Prior to this week a bulletin from the President's Office will be sent to faculty members reminding them that it is Homecoming Week and suggesting the advisability of not giving exams during Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the week. Grades will not be due until the end of the ninth week, Nov. 12, thus allowing two weeks in which exams may be given.

The Homecoming date is set each year by the Executive Committee of the Ex-Students Association and is approved by the college president. This year, to avoid possible overlooking of the scheduled mid-semester exams, the date has been set in the fall instead of the spring when such activities may be easily passed over in an attempt to schedule Homecoming on the date of a major game.

The Administration has proved that it values the welfare of Techsians as well as ex-Techsians in the cooperative spirit that has been shown.—Claudia Martin

Next performance of the orchestra will be Dec. 6 and 7 at the High School Auditorium. Keith

Library Access Still Undetermined

The vote taken by a Student Council committee last week to determine whether the student body desires access to the Library on Sunday afternoons got only light response. There were approximately 197 votes cast in favor of it.

Final decision on this matter will rest with the Library officials after they have met with the Student Council this week.

McCarty and Paul Ellsworth, instructors in music, will be featured, as will Gary Garner, Amarillo senior.

DECEMBER AND MAY: ACT II

Synopsis of Act I: A middle-aged English Professor named Phipps has fallen desperately in love with a rosy-kneed coed named McFetridge. Phipps doesn't know how to go about courting Miss McFetridge, for, after all, he is a professor in the autumn of his life, and she is a coed with rosy knees. Professor Twonkey, who shares an office with Phipps, proposes the following plan: Phipps will ask Miss McFetridge to come to his office for a conference late in the afternoon. He will be urbane and charming and make frightfully witty remarks about English lit, and Miss McFetridge will laugh and laugh. After an hour of this high-type hilarity, Phipps will look at his watch, exclaim at the lateness of the hour, and insist on driving Miss McFetridge home. On the way home, he will pass a theatre that shows French movies. They'll see the movie, then have an exquisite French dinner, and Miss McFetridge will be so enchanted that she cannot but yield to his suit.

So at the beginning of Act II, we find Phipps in his office awaiting the arrival of the poor young innocent. His hair is brushed; his nails are clean; he has new leather patches on his elbows. There is a knock on the door. He opens it and admits a gorgeous creature with blue eyes and pink kneecaps.

PHIPPS: Ah, Miss McFetridge. Come in, my dear. Won't you sit down? Cigarette?

MISS MCF: Ooh, Philip Morris! I think they're marvy, don't you?

PHIPPS: I do indeed.

MISS MCF: Hey, prof, would you mind opening a fresh pack?

PHIPPS: But I just opened this one a little while ago. It's perfectly fresh.

MISS MCF: I know, prof, but I like to hear the snap when the pack opens.

PHIPPS: Very well, my dear.
(He opens a fresh snap-open pack of Philip Morris. Miss McFetridge claps her hands delightedly when she hears the snap.)

MISS MCF: Hey, that fractures me! Man, I flip when I hear that crazy snap! Do another one.

PHIPPS: All right.
(He snaps open another pack of Philip Morris.)

MISS MCF: (Ecstatically) Isn't that the living, breathing end? Do two at once.

PHIPPS: Well, if you insist . . .
(He does two at once.)

MISS MCF: More! More!

PHIPPS: I'm afraid that's all I have.

MISS MCF: Oh . . . Well, what's up, prof? What did you want to see me about?

PHIPPS: Oh, nothing in particular. Just wanted to have a little chat, find out how you're enjoying the Shakespeare lectures.

MISS MCF: I don't know, prof. By me Shakespeare is strictly a square.

PHIPPS: Indeed? Well, I must say I find your attitude refreshing. One is so inclined toward slavish admiration when it comes to the Bard. People forget that in many quarters Shakespeare is regarded quite critically. Take, for example, the opinion of Shaw.

MISS MCF: Artie?

PHIPPS: George Bernard. . . You know, of course, his famous words.

MISS MCF: I sure don't, dad.

PHIPPS: Shaw said he would like to dig up Shakespeare and throw stones at him.

MISS MCF: Did he dig him?

PHIPPS: No, I don't believe so.

MISS MCF: I don't dig him either.

PHIPPS: (Looking at watch) Good heavens, I had no idea it was so late. Come, my dear, I'll drive you home.

MISS MCF: No, thanks. I always walk home. It's good for the circulation in your legs. I got the best circulation in my legs of the whole sophomore class. Ever notice how rosy my knees are?

PHIPPS: As a matter of fact, yes . . . Look, you sure you don't want a ride home? There's an excellent French movie on the way.

MISS MCF: Not me, dad. I hate French pictures. The sub-titles always disappear before I can read 'em. But if you want to go to the movies, there's a new Tony Curtis picture downtown—a real gut-buster. Tony plays this beggar, see, but he's really a prince only he doesn't know it on account of his sneaky uncle who switched babies when Tony got born. Then Tony finds this magic lamp, see, and he gets into the palace where he meets this crazy girl, only she's engaged to the fake prince, but then they have this mad sword fight, and Tony licks about a million guys, and then he finds out he's the prince and it's real crazy. Wanna go? I've only seen it three or four times.

PHIPPS: As a matter of fact, I just remembered a previous engagement. Sorry.

MISS MCF: That's all right. Thanks for the Philip Morris. 'Bye.
(Exit Miss McFetridge. For a moment Phipps sits in stunned silence, mopping his brow. Then a smile appears on his face. He is a happy man again—out of love. Contentedly he lights up a Philip Morris.)

Engineer Grants Now Total Twelve

Scholarships in engineering reached 12 this week after presentation of the D. D. Harrington Freshman Engineering Grants.

Winners of the $500 Harrington awards for this year, as announced by Dr. D. E. Holcomb, dean of engineering, are: Eldon D. McGuire, Plainview, mechanical engineering major; Gerald P. Alldredge, Dimmitt, electrical engineering major; and Marvin B. Smith, Memphis, petroleum engineering major.

Annual recipients of these awards are chosen by the Tech scholarship committee on the basis of scholastic records and personal character.

Chorale Opens Artists Course Series To Near Capacity Audience Nov. 19

The Robert Shaw Chorale, first in this year's Artists Course series, played to a near-capacity audience Nov. 19 in Lubbock High School Auditorium.

The first half of the program featured religious works of De Victoria, Mozart and Bach. After the intermission came selections from Schubert, Avshalomoff and Strauss.

Shaw ended the regular program with selections from Strauss' lyrical, "Die Fledermaus."

To the approval of the audience, seven encores were given. The final encore introduced Ira Schantz, former Tech faculty member, in "There's Nothing Like A Dame."

Other encore numbers were: "Listen To The Mocking Bird," "Dry Bones," "Sit Down Servant," "Oh Susannah," "Oh Dear, What Can The Matter Be" and "Little Bird."

Journalism Day Is Huge Success

Tech's annual Journalism Day, Nov. 20, was attended by 167 students from 27 high schools covering an area from Miami, Tex., to Fort Stockton.

Staff members of The Toreador and La Ventana, and members of the Press Club and Theta Sigma Phi, professional and honorary organization for women in journalism, were present to tell visitors of their activities.

Visiting students and faculty sponsors attended clinics on phases of journalism work. A panel presented vocational opportunities. Its members were Dr. W. E. Hall, head professor of journalism; Dub Rogers, manager of KDUB-TV and Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Twenty-two individual awards were made in newspaper writing contests and seven high school newspapers received awards for excellence.

Since the annual Journalism Day this year attracted an overflow attendance, tentative plans for next year's event include a wider area and a more extensive program, according to Dodd Vernon, assistant professor of journalism and program chairman.

Tech Prof Heads Language Group

Dr. John C. Dowling, head of foreign languages, has been elected president of the Texas Foreign Language Association for the coming year. The group is an affiliate of the Texas State Teachers Association which recently held its annual meeting in Fort Worth.

Dr. Dowling announced that his group, at request of the Modern Languages Association of America, during the year would select three outstanding foreign language teachers in Texas public schools for recognition by the national organization.

Dr. T. Earle Hamilton, assistant professor of foreign languages, was re-elected editor of the Texas Foreign Language Association Bulletin, which is published semi-annually.

Miss Mitchell Set For Maid Finals

Virginia Mitchell, winner of the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest, Nov. 22, will spend the Christmas holidays preparing for her trip to the National finals in Memphis next month.

Miss Mitchell, Tech business education major from Fort Worth, will fly to Memphis on an expense paid trip. Full length photographs have already been sent to the National contest.

Miss Talkington, owner of Margaret's dress shop, is helping her choose an all-cotton wardrobe to be worn at Memphis. This was one of the prizes won by Miss Mitchell.

She is also scheduled to speak at Lions Club meetings over the area in support of the Maid of Cotton contest.

The 1955 South Plains Maid of Cotton is 5 feet 2, with brown hair and brown eyes. Past honors include her selection as an ROTC sweetheart.

Runner-ups for the Plains contest were Tech students Jerry Anglin of Plainview and Barbara Cowherd of Dallas.

Fellowships Open To Students, Staff

Seniors, graduate students and faculty may apply for 700 graduate and 130 post-doctoral fellowships available for advanced scientific study.

The fellowships, ranging from $1,400 to $3,400 per year, are awarded annually by the National Science Foundation to U.S. citizens for advanced study and training in the national and applied sciences.

They are given in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, and engineering sciences including anthropology, psychology, geography and certain other fields.

Winners will be announced March 15, for the 1955-56 academic year. Selection of fellows will be made by a panel of scientists chosen by the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences and the National Science Foundation.

Further information may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, NW, Washington 25, D.C.

COLLEGE SMOKERS PREFER Luckies—and by a wide margin—according to the largest and latest coast-to-coast college survey. Once again, the No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better. They taste better because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. The pleasure you'll get from Luckies' better taste is vividly depicted in the Droodle above, titled: Modern artist enjoying Lucky while glancing in mirror. See the ecstatic smile? Raider Cage Team Opens Season With 81-68 Win

Texas Tech's basketball squad swept over Eastern New Mexico University in dazzling form at the Tech gym last night to take their season opener 81-68.

The Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico gave the Raiders a scare in the first few minutes of play when they took a 12-2 lead, but Gene Carpenter's field goal at 4:20, set the Techsans rolling.

Behind the shooting of DuWayne Blackshear, Jim Whatley, and Jim Reed, the Raiders were tied with the Greyhounds at 6:30 of the first period. The lead changed hands nine times in the next 4 minutes, but at 11:55, Carpenter tipped in a field goal that set the Raiders on their way.

Soon after the half, the Greyhounds pulled within four points of the Techsans, but that was as near as they could get. Carl Ince took the spotlight and sparked the fired-up Techsian engers with a brilliant show of ball handling and control. From then on, the Raiders slipped from the hands of the Greyhounds and pulled away.

A former Tech freshman, Dyane Durham of Spur, was the big-gun in the Greyhound attack, sinking 24 points to take top scoring honors for the night. Roy Franse, another Greyhound, ranked second in scoring with 20.

Carl Ince tossed in 18 points to lead the winners, with four other Tech cagers scoring in the double figures.

Tech will meet Abilene Christian College in Lubbock Saturday night for their second battle of the season.

In doubles, Kent and Gowan, won Campbell and Herring, 6-3, 7-5. Clark and Spiers, Tech finished the perfect afternoon by beating Caddell and Kniffin, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Red Raiders Conclude Football Season By Trouncing Hardin-Simmons, 61-19

Texas Tech's Red Raiders have wrapped and stored away their football machine for another year. The Raiders finished their 1954 season with a 61-19 victory over Hardin-Simmons to hold a 7-2-1 seasonal record, and the Border Conference Championship.

The Techsians plowed the Cowboys under with 534 yards on the ground, and another 83 via the airways to amass 617 yards of total offense. The Cowboys started the scoring after only 61 seconds had elapsed. Charles Massagee, freshman halfback, took Ken Ford's pass and ran 80-yards to score.

Four minutes later Jojo Bryan opened the scoring for the Raiders by punching over from the 10 to climax a march that covered 45 yards in 10 plays.

With four minutes remaining in the first period, M. C. Northam banged over from the 1-yard stripe to put the Techsians out in front 14-7. Beginning with the second period the Raiders virtually swamped the Cowboys with an almost constant stream of touchdowns. Ronnie Herr and Jerry Johnson scored the third and fourth Raider tallies, climaxing drives of 39 and 69 yards.

While holding the Raiders to only one touchdown in the period, Roddy Williams and Massagee scored for the Cowboys to climax drives of 80 and 28 yards.

At the beginning of the fourth period the score stood at 35-19, however Ronnie Herr, Jack Kirkpatrick, Don Waygood and Bryan each scored one touchdown to make the final score 61-19.

Tech Fails To Get Gator Bowl Bid

Texas Tech will not be a Bowl contender this year. Gambling on a bid to the Gator Bowl, the Raiders lost, and were omitted from the Sun Bowl classic at the same time.

It was announced Tuesday that Baylor will meet Auburn in the Gator Bowl. According to the Lubbock Morning Avalanche, Auburn refused to play Tech, which defeated them 35-13 in the Gator Bowl last year.

The Sun Bowl committee selected Texas Western and Florida State as opponents for their game. The committee, wanting a quick decision, was told by Coach Weaver that Tech would gamble on the Gator Bowl bid.

Intramurals List Basketball Slate

Tech's intramural basketball program will get underway next week, according to George Philbrick, intramural sports director.

The program has been divided into three leagues; independent, fraternity, and dormitory.

The independent league has the most entries with 21 teams competing for the league championship. Those entered in this league are: Krew, Rangers, Chowhounds, Mangy Critters, Rodeo Association, Side Hill Cougars, Tech Vets, Klu Klux Klan, Hoods, Wesley Wildcats, Splats, Nameless Wonders, Dairy Industry, Under Fed Five, BSU Bums, Hawks, Sac Rats, Newman Club, Globe Walkers, Linksters, and Golden Hornets.

Eight teams are entered in the Fraternity League: Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Delta Theta, Kappa Sigma, Kemas, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Pi Kappa Psi.

Pi Kappa Alpha, winner of the Fraternity League, will play Sneed Hall, Dormitory League champion, for the all-college intramural football championship Friday.

PIKA defeated the Chowhounds, winners of the Independent League, 2-0 Tuesday, to win a berth in the finals. Sneed entered the finals by drawing a bye.

PIKA gained their decisive two points when Jimmy Baggett fumbled the ball in the end zone on the second play of the game.

Sylvia Dietering Competes In College Board Contest

As the Nov. 30 deadline arrived, Sylvia Dietering was the only Texas Tech co-ed to enter the Mademoiselle College Board contest this year. Entrants were to write 1500-word critiques of Mademoiselle magazine.

Pat Harkleroad, who entered the contest last year, was accepted for membership on this year's board. Board members compete for the positions of guest editor, which only 20 attain. Guest editors receive paying summer jobs on the magazine. All college women undergraduates under 26 were eligible for the contest.

Picador Cagers Take First Game

Tech's Picadors, freshman cage team, set an example for the Red Raiders to follow yesterday afternoon in beating Wayland College's freshmen 78-52 in their season opener. Their next game will be against the Abilene Christian College freshmen Saturday afternoon in Lubbock. Game time is 4 p.m.

The Tech freshmen stacked up an early lead and never lost control of it. Leading 27-20, at halftime, the Pics increased their lead to 41-29 in the second half, and then turned on the steam in the last 10 minutes of the game to rout the Wayland visitors 78-52.

Royce Elam led Tech's scoring with a brilliant 22 point scoring spree, while Bobby Wilson tossed in 18. Logan Cummings 14 and Tom Reales 10.

Don Fagan topped the scoring column for the Wayland fish with 12 points.

POEMS ACCEPTED

Poems written by two Techsians have been chosen for inclusion in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry, according to the National Poetry Association. Don Fortenberry, Adrian senior, was honored for his poem "Farewell." David Clark, Toreador editor, wrote "Roger Quincy" which was chosen for publication.

23 Ag Students Get Scholarships

More than $7,000 in scholarships has been awarded to 23 agriculture students.

Among the scholarships was a new one known as the "Chain Award in Horticulture," presented to Kenneth Johnson, senior horticulture major from Cleburne by Bill Crenshaw representing the Tech Foundation. The award was sponsored by four anonymous donors.

Richard Ridgway of Brownfield was recipient of the first plaque to be awarded by Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity, to the past year's outstanding freshman agriculture student. Dr. W. H. Cloninger, sponsor of the fraternity, made the presentation.

Tim Mason, Abilene, received the William L. Ellwood fellowship of $750 from Frank Chappell, Jr., grandson of Ellwood, a pioneer South Plains ranchman.

Sears Roebuck and Company Research Foundation scholarships of $150 each were presented to Charles Ritchey, Colorado City; Bobby Harris, Ralls; Roy Field, Lubbock; Carley Barker, Jr., Moshem; Seth Moore, Jr., Hamilton; Sidney Joe Long, Goldthwaite; Delbert Hess, Lubbock; Bob Baxter, Shamrock; Bobby Wilson, Lubbock; William D. Staggs, O'Donnell; Don H. Bell, Amarillo; and Ridgway.

Two scholarships of $1,200 each were presented. They were the Gifford-Hill Western, Inc. Graduate Fellowship presented by Dr. A. W. Young, department head of agronomy, to Charles Wendit of Petersburg, and the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Graduate Fellowship, presented by Wilmer Smith, president of the Plains Co-Op Oil Mill, to William J. Standlee of Lubbock.

Other awards included a $600 Sears scholarship to Robert Hutchins of Coahoma; the Borden Company Foundation scholarship in agriculture, a $300 award, to Cunningham; and three $100 Robert B. Price scholarships to Don Brothers of Paducah, Dwayne West of Keller, and Charles Browning of Burleson.

The awards were made at the 27th annual Aggie Club pig roast.
