Maeker Is Elected TWVA Head

Arnold Maeker, senior engineering student from Lubbock, was elected commander of the Tech War Veterans Association Tuesday night. He succeeds Burton Crossen, Towardor business manager, who presided.

Other officers named include: George Acton, senior Engineering student, Wichita Falls, vice commander; John Wright, senior Commerce student, re-elected secretary; Dick Copeland, sophomore Arts and Science student, chaplain; Carl Minor, senior Commerce student, finance officer; and Joe Meador, sophomore Arts and Science student, master-at-arms.

The executive committee includes: Floyd Read, junior Arts and Science; Bedford Raley, senior Arts and Science; Jim Humphreys, senior Agriculture; and Frank Neal, senior Engineering student.

Maeker said a faculty sponsor will be chosen at the next meeting.

Mills Announces Artist Course

R. A. Mills, professor of English and head of the Tech Artist Course Committee, has announced the series of attractions offered to students for this school year. The concert artists, Whitmore and Lowe, dual pianists, will appear November 4. Frances Yeend, lyric soprano, and Walter Cassel, Metropolitan Opera baritone, will appear in a joint recital, December 9.

Zino Francescatti, violinist, will play February fifth, Jussi Bjorling, Swedish tenor, is booked for March twelfth.

The Artists Course is offered to students each semester for $1.80, which includes two attractions. The towns people and faculty may buy single tickets for $1.50 or season tickets with reserved seats for six dollars.

Mr. Mills reports that all seats are sold, but if any should be available, students may purchase single admissions for $1.50.

Kittley Is Manager Of Tech Press

Wayne Kittley, Tech Journalism graduate of 1946 and editor of the 1945-46 Toreador, is serving as superintendent of Tech Press. While enrolled, he was publicity manager of TWVA and a member of Press club.

During the fall semester of 1945, he was superintendent of the Press as well as editor. Resigning in January, he was succeeded by Bob Smith of South Dakota, who is now employed in Carlsbad, N. M.

It Was Tough Job Enrolling In Tech For Native Swiss

"Everyone is included here, they all are so-o-o undistinguished," Ralph Wild said in his Swiss accent.

After wading through one year of red tape, securing his American visa, ship and railroad reservations, Ralph Wild, son of Curt E. Wild of St. Gallen, Switzerland, has come to America and is a student of Texas Tech College, majoring in Textile Engineering.

He plans to complete two semesters here, studying in his field. After this time, he will tour American textile mills, and then return to his home in Switzerland, where he will assist his father and later succeed him as the operator of the family mill. This mill consists of fancy twisting of irons to prepare them for weaving. It has been an industry handed down in his family for five generations.

Buster Melton was elected president of West Hall, Jim Hutchins, vice-president; Finley Hamman, secretary; and Don Sloan, Treasurer.

SWISS RALPH WILD

Saturday was that it was fascinating, but not at all like the football games in his native land. What is principally called football in Switzerland, is known as soccer in America. He states that the college life in his country is also conducted differently from our colleges and there are no dormitories; all the students live somewhere off the college grounds. He says that there are no clubs conducted in the colleges. The democracy which prevails in our colleges and universities all over the country is not to be seen in Switzerland.

By JOHN ANDERSON

The almost total loss of vision by Randolph Green of 1708 Ninth street has not discouraged the freshman poultry husbandry major from looking into the future. The 23-year-old Army veteran plans to gain a degree in agriculture partly because of, mostly in spite of, the handicap put on him when a land mine exploded in his face during the Morrota campaign in 1944.

Randolph was a carpenter before he went in to the Army. When he was confronted with learning a new occupation, he chose poultry husbandry because it offers a substantial living, is out of town, and "there's no one to tell you to start work at eight and stay till five," he said laughing.

Green's vision is 20-400 which he explained means that he can see at 20 feet what a person with normal sight can see at 400 feet. His color perception is still good, although the colors blur unless the light is shining directly on the object. He has little trouble in getting around the campus or in rooms with normal light as he can detect objects though he can't distinguish them.

In going about the busier sections of Lubbock and the campus, Randolph observes the flow of traffic and pedestrians to cross streets safely. "You can hear pretty well, if you just notice," he said, in telling how he detects the presence of cars in lightly traveled sections of town, where he listens for the approach of automobiles before stepping from the curb.

Mrs. Green, the former Viola Burton of Floyd, reads her husband's lessons to him, but he prepares his out-of-class work on a typewriter and takes notes in long-hand in his classes. Rarely do the written lines run together and he is careful to write large enough so his wife can read them easily.

The American Institute for the Blind has furnished Randolph with a phonograph on which he plays "talking books" sent him on request. He also has ordered a typewriter which has extra large letters and he believes he will then be able to read the themes and other prepared assignments he will work in in the five years of college before him.

Seed Testing Lab To Close Oct. 1

The seed testing laboratory of Tech is temporarily closing because Miss Barbara Bedford, analyst, has resigned effective Oct. 1.

All seed growers and dealers in the Plains country area have been requested by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, to send all seed samples to the seed Laboratory Division of the State Department of Agriculture, Austin Texas.

"We have no one at this time who has sufficient experience in the Lubbock section to replace Miss Bedford, and the laboratory is badly in need of new equipment. We are, therefore, compelled to close the laboratory at Lubbock until we can get a new and experienced analyst and new equipment," the commissioner stated.

Naval Aviators NOTICE

Word has been received from N. A. S., Dallas, that transportation will now be furnished all Naval Aviators interested in retaining their flying status in the Organized (Active) Reserve. Check immediately with Joe S. Horne, 101 Press Building, for information.

Special Will Leave For Dallas October 4

Official recommendation was made Wednesday by President W. M. Whyburn to the Council of Deans permitting excused absences for Tech students. The special train is being sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Matadors To Lead Fans In Parade, Rally Broadcast

Charles "Pete" Wiley, new 42nd major, has been drilling the Tech band vigorously this week in preparation for a colorful parade in downtown Dallas, October 5.

The Matador band, consisting of 109 pieces, will leave Lubbock Friday, October 5, at 8:30 p. m. by pullman for Dallas.

The parade will begin immediately after the band's arrival at the Union Station. The band will lead a parade of Tech students, townspeople, and Dallas ex-students down Commerce Street to the intersection at the Baker and Adolphus Hotels. Traffic will be halted for 15 minutes, and a Texas Tech pep rally will be broadcast over KRLL.

Wet Or Dry?

By JOE MEADOR
We ain't fer it and we ain't agin' it, but thought you might like to know.

Lubbock is holding its periodical Beer Election Oct. 5. The county commissioner's court has ordered this voting having received a petition signed by 1,160 qualified voters, and excess of over 100 as required by statute.

Now comes the touchy question—Most loyal Techsians, including the voting age groups, will be leaving for the Tech-SMU game on that very day. Veterans may vote absentee. So if you feel it to be pro or con to your happiness in Lubbock, vote before you go to the game.

Qualifications for voting are as follows: The voter must be 21 years old, have lived in Lubbock six months or longer, and claim Lubbock as his home.

If any veteran resided here in 1941 or after and went to service and came back here, he can still call Lubbock his home. If he registered in Tech, and called Lubbock home, and took out the summer session as vacation, he can, by re-entering Tech, claim Lubbock as his home.

It is easy to vote an absentee ballot, for all one has to do is stop at the local courthouse, go to the county clerk's office, and show his discharge. Veterans are especially asked to vote, for the city of Lubbock welcomes their participation in civic affairs of the community.

FFA Meeting Called

Tech collegiate chapter of FFA will meet Monday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the Agriculture building 318. The chapter will appoint committees to set up plans for the coming year. All men are eligible to be members who qualify to teach vocational agriculture.

20 Council Members Will Be Elected

Train To Dallas

Going to Dallas Friday? Here's the info for making arrangements. Students with activity tickets must present them at the Athletic office, in the gymnasium before 12 o'clock noon, Friday, Oct. 4. Student price: $1.30.

Students without activity tickets will pay the regular price, $2.60, but may obtain seats in the Lubbock section at the game.

Train reservations may be made Thursday, Oct. 3, at the booth in the first floor of the Administration building from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. They may also be purchased at the P.X. located in downtown Lubbock until 4 p. m. daily and at the Passenger office of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad until time for train departure Friday, 8:30 p. m.

Pullman reservations for the round trip are: upper, $26.00; lower berth, $23.72. Round trip rates for chair car are $16.72. Students making the trip will be required to present absence cards to their academic dean's office Monday, Oct. 7.

Elections of 20 additional Student Council members to represent the Tech divisions will be held Oct. 1 and 2. Troy Davidson, president of the Student body, has announced. Six members of the council have already been named.

Under council rules each division is entitled to one representative, plus an additional person for each 350 students enrolled in the division. Thus, engineering is entitled to six councilmen, arts and science five, commerce four, agriculture three and home economics two.

Petitions of candidates which must be signed by a minimum of 100 students from any division may be filed and J201 until 5:00 p. m. Sept. 28. Forms for the petitions may be picked up in the same office.

"Candidates, please get your petitions in by Friday afternoon if at all possible," Davidson requested. "The ballots must be printed Monday, therefore eligibility must be checked Saturday to determine whose name will go on the ballots. I would also like to remind candidates to read eligibility requirements posted in the council office."

All Tech students are entitled to vote in the election which will be held from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 Tuesday and Wednesday. Ballots may be cast in the building in which the student's dean's office is located. Davidson, Jim Humphreys, Fanze Butler, and Bill Noyette, student body officers; Elmer Hargrove, Athletic council representative, and Eugenia Hopper, AWS representative, have been selected to serve on the Student Council.

"Regrettable Incident" Suspends Two Students

The following statement is issued by President William M. Whyburn: "Upon recommendation of the discipline committee for men, the two students who participated in the very regrettable incident Saturday night, in connection with Athletic Director Morley Jennings, have been suspended from college.

"Texas Technological College is in full sympathy with all efforts to control lawlessness at athletic contests," Dr. Whyburn said.

Pre-Law Pledges To Be Initiated

Pre-Law club will hold initiation for its prospective members at its next regular meeting October 7, at 7:30 p. m. in room 302 of the Administration building.

Those seeking membership are: Joe Meador, Carl Sims, Farrell Hogg, Bill Stevens, Jerry Wilson, Jack Sloan, Bill Bounds, N. L. Cress, Max Osborn, Charles Jones, Gene Conley, David M. Johnson, Marvin Brakebill, Dean I. Dawley, Arnold R. Richards, Glenn Phillips, Bryan Lovelace, Johnny Gibson, and Joe Gipson.

Before initiation, every prospective member will wear the traditional striped coats class for a full day, says Arno Howard, pres.

Mack Kennedy addressed the club at its bi-monthly meeting Monday night in a review of the past eight years of the Pre-Law-IRC club. Kennedy received his master's degree from Tech in August, 1946, and is now teaching in the government department.

Annual Pre-Law functions include an all-college trial each semester, a Christmas party, and a formal spring banquet.

At regular meetings, the first and third Mondays of each month, mock trials are held for members only and different speakers address the club.

Officers of the club, who were elected last spring, are: Howard; Bea Green, secretary-treasurer; Darrel Carpenter, chief justice; Robert Pardue, sheriff; Robert Cole, prosecuting attorney; and John Culver, defense attorney.

Ex-Pilot Riordan Is Tech Professor

Lt. Col. Robert P. Riordan, veteran pilot with the Eighth Air Force over Europe, is professor of Air Science and Tactics at Tech this semester. During his thirty months of combat he was cited several times and received the following decorations: Silver Star, in a raid over Bernburg, Germany; a Distinguished Flying Cross with a cluster, the Air Medal with seven clusters, and the Purple Heart. The French Government awarded their Croix de Guerre to him.

He was a member of the 306 Bomb Group, 369th Bomb Squadron; he served as squadron commander for 15 months, and deputy group commander for seven months; leaving England with five battle stars.

Houston is home for the Colonel. He finished high school and college at Rice Institute, in Houston. After two and a half years with Equitable Life Assurance of N. Y. he joined the army.

Lienhard To Visit Textile Department

G. O. Lienhard, president of the Chicopee Manufacturing Corporation cotton fiber and spinning retile cotton fiber and spinning research at Tech, will arrive on the campus next Wednesday, Oct. 2, to visit the Chicopee laboratory and discuss plans for the present season.

He plans to be in Lubbock three days and will tour this section of the state to see cotton production methods. During his trip Mr. Lienhard will be conducted by George W. Pfeifferberger, director of cotton research for the company.

The Chicopee company operates cotton mills in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New Jersey, South Carolina and Georgia.

TECH-SAND

Already we are in the second week of school and as yet are not experiencing any Sand Storms... however, from the way things looked at the last all-college dance, Tech-Sand might turn into a whirlwind any Friday... plug... if we had the asbestos paper.

Those beaming couples at the game Sat. were ex-rushes and their dates.

Quite impressed with the ending of rush week was IRIS PARKER's blind date as well as MARY ALICE CHRISTIAN'S date, MILTON BUTLER.

Say, girls, this Swiss student (see story) is 100 per cent good-looking. He says he finds the girls here—as there—basically the same.

Going steady are FRANK KERR and GLADYS JANE BROOKS, both formerly of Lubbock high school. Say, aren't there any other boys or girls that you two would even look at?

Why did T. MOFFIT think it necessary to carry his suit case to the game? Expecting a quick trip out of town afterwards?

Say, guess who is on the Lubbock Dry Canteen? ROBERT "BUNNY-BOY" PARDUE.

We just can't wait to find out if FANZE BUTLER and PEANUT ROBINSON are serious or just friends. Won't someone write in us?

And then we have those who did not have blind dates, but who were evidently impressed enough to be the last (?) minute comers in the dorm. Such is the case of JO WINDERS and "SLEEPY HARLEM". No one was glad to be alive Monday morning besides JIMMY COCHRAN and BUD JACKSON. They were being very glad over in the bookstore.

Greetings came this week to TROY DAVIDSON, who will go to El Paso Oct. 1. Meanwhile, the student body will hold its breath. The less said about the football game again the better, but BARBARA JACKSON, was seen there with BILL CARNES.

Witty, Schmidt Get Scholarships

Kathryne Witty of Hamilton and Carl Schmidt of Mexico City have been awarded scholarships in textile engineering at Texas Technological College, according to L. E. Parsons, head.

Miss Witty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brant Witty, received a $200 scholarship from Monnie's department store, Fort Worth, for outstanding high school work. Schmidt son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Schmidt received the $200 Elsie M. Adams Memorial scholarship in textile engineering for having attained the highest scholastic standing of any freshman in that department last year.

Library Plans $50,000 Stacks

Beginning of construction toward installation of the proposed $50,000 library stacks at Texas Technological College was seen this week when final measurements were taken preparatory to making steel work for the stacks. It is hoped that actual installation of the steel framework can be started within the next three or four months, according to a representative of the contractor.

The stacks will provide room for some 200,000 volumes and for about 20 study cubicles, thus greatly increasing the college's research and graduate study facilities, library officials pointed out.

A new card catalog system has been put into effect this semester in the library, under the direction of Miss Lulu Stein, assistant librarian.

The card catalog is now in two separate divisions. The first of these is indexed according to authors, titles, and editors, and the second is classified according to subject headings. Formerly both divisions were combined.

These files are located on the main floor of the library building, with each division marked for the convenience of the students.

40 Night Classes Held At Tech

More than 40 night classes have been scheduled this fall at Texas Technological College in an effort to meet the highest enrollment in the school's history. Pres. W. M. Whyburn announced this week.

Although extension courses have been offered on the campus at night, scheduling of regular classes in the evening is unprecedented here, he said, explaining that these sections are being filled with the overflow from the same courses scheduled in the day.

The classes are being taught by the regular staff members insofar as they are available, who will receive additional pay from the veteran's administration reimbursement funds. Approximately 30 persons are teaching night sections.

Night classes are being offered in a wide variety of subjects, including English, mathematics, history, government, economics, engineering drawing, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, architecture, physics, accounting, general business, agronomy, chemistry laboratories and applied arts.

Womens Recreational Assn. To Honor Frosh and Transfer

The Womens Recreational Association will honor freshmen and transfer students at their annual Cabaret party October 10 from 7 to 8:15.

The women's intra-mural sports program will be announced at that time, Miss Mary Peacock, faculty sponsor, said. All women students are invited.

Nominate Tech's Beauties

La Ventana is holding its beauty nominations Tuesday and Wednesday along with Student Council election of representatives. Anyone can be elected, so they say.

Well, that brings up the old story of people who for no reason go to the La Ventana boxes and practice hand-writing by placing the names of every girl they've heard of on a slip of paper.

Sure, who you think is pretty may look like just what she isn't to someone else... that's your privilege. But this old business of wholesale complimenting every girl on the campus, is rather moronic.

Then on the other hand, what can La Ventana do about those really cute girls who are nominated but fail to go to the beauty judging because of modesty or a Sunday afternoon date? They want everyone who is nominated to show up before the student judges. Dress to look your best. Don't feel that these boys will or won't pick you because of your Social Club or because of your lack of a Social Club.

If you feel insignificant because you are a Fish, look at the past La Ventanas and how many top ranking Beauties were fish. The top four beauties last year were an upperclasswoman, three fish girls, one of whom was an independent.

History doesn't have to repeat itself, but we hope to pick the really beautiful girls for our annual this year—it takes everyone's cooperation.

Soaring or Sinking School Spirit?

What has happened to the school spirit? It seems to us that the Freshmen have not entered into the spirit of Tech as far as old traditions are concerned, and that the upperclassmen have forgotten the "howdy" spirit.

The Fish have quit wearing their caps! Freshmen are supposed to wear them on the campus—and that means to classes, on the avenue and informal affairs. The caps are to be worn until the Homecoming game, which is scheduled Oct. 19. If we win over Baylor, the caps will then be history; but if Baylor wins the game, the caps are to be worn until Thanksgiving.

It is customary for Freshmen to stand up during the entire football game. Remember that during the Homecoming game, because that's when you Fish should be behind the team 100% strong, as that game decides whether you take off your cap or not.

The good old "Howdy" spirit needs to be revived. Whether you are a 50-year-old married veteran or a 16-year-old high school graduate, it's customary to say "Howdy" when you meet fellow students. Say it as though you really mean it and to everyone. Tech is known as a friendly campus so let's keep it that way and enter into the school spirit.—B.B.

Raiders Ready For Aggies At San Antonio Saturday

By SAM MALONE
Toreador Sports Writer

With the season's opener past, the Texas Tech Red Raiders take to the road Friday in the first of a three-game series away from home grounds.

They meet the Southwestern Conference favorites Texas A&M Aggies Saturday night at Alamo Stadium, San Antonio.

Rated by most sports fans as first of the top three teams in the Southwest conference this season along with the Texas Longhorns and Rice Owls, the Aggies bulldozed over the North Texas Eagles last Saturday 47-0.

Aggie Coach Homer Norton used 60 men in the all-out assault against the Raiders last week and game reports indicate that the College Station aggregation start their touchdown jaunts from taking the ball via the punt-return route. Three of Saturday's tallies were made on returned punts. Coach Norton's Aggies are well-schooled in the planned play striking play dirt from 55, 60 and 90 yards on punt returns. Their ten returns averaged 40 yards in each of ten attempts.

The Three-team squad of Red Raiders will leave Lubbock Friday morning at 7:30 with lunch scheduled at San Angelo and a practice session in San Antonio that evening. They will stay in the Gunter hotel in the Army town.

Coach Del Morgan stated Wednesday that his starting lineup was still flexible as the Raiders have another scrimmage session Thursday.

This week the Raiders were sent through their paces against a team using Aggie plays on both offense and defense.

Tech has dropped the five previous games played to the College Station eleven. Last season the Aggies topped the Raiders by a score of 16 to 6.

The current annual series began in 1942. Past scores are:

1927	6	47
1932	0	7
1942	0	19
1943	0	13
1944	14	27

Track Candidates Meeting Will Be In Gym Friday at 4

All men interested in track are urged to attend a meeting being held by John Case, assistant track coach Friday afternoon, Sept. 27 at 4 p. m. in the gymnasium.

Purpose of the meeting is to organize a cross-country track team for Texas Tech this fall, according to Coach Walker Nichols of the Tech Athletic Department.

Present plans call for about eight weeks of cross-country conditioning this fall. This extra work is needed to get the team in shape for competition in the spring. Weather conditions are not suitable for adequate conditioning during the short time allotted in the spring.

Tentative plans are under way to arrange several meets with other schools this fall. The University of New Mexico and A. C. C. already have been contacted regarding the plan but as yet no word has been received from either school.

John Case, veteran track coach who recently joined the expanding Tech Athletic Staff, will be in charge of the fall workouts.

Equipment will be issued at the Friday meeting.

21,000 Ags Serve

Texas A. & M. had in excess of 21,000 of its sons in the armed services in World War II, and according to General of the Armies Dwight Eisenhower, over 14,000 of them were commissioned officers. A total of 29 attained general officer rank.

With but four exceptions, every Texas Aggie who won a sports letter at Texas A & M under Coach Homer Norton from 1934, when he came to A & M, to the end of the war in 1945, served in the armed forces of the nation. Those four exceptions all were rejected several times when they volunteered.

Texas Tech To Enter Tennis Team In Border Conference

Texas Tech's expanding sports program got another shot in the arm this week when Morley Jennings, Tech Athletic director announced plans to have a tennis team represent Tech next spring in Border conference competition.

Dean James G. Allen, tennis coach for 22 years, has relinquished his position due to increased duties. No one has, as yet, been named to take his place, according to Mr. Jennings.

Prospects for a strong team are exceedingly bright. Glenn Ivey, smooth stroking 1946 Lubbock city champion; Carl Schmidt, Mexico City stylist and Wayne Roby, both semi-finalists in the recent city tournament; Harry Spuehler, Joe Terrell, Ben Cowling and several other prospective stars are on the campus. In formation has been received on prospects for the women's division.

At present only three courts are available for use by college students. However, three more courts are under construction west of the gymnasium and will be ready to use in two or three weeks.

The Physical Education department plans to give some attention to individual instruction in classes to be organized soon.

Cecil Norris Back In Raider Camp

Cecil Norris, two-year letterman for the Crimson Raiders, reported back into Del Morgan's fold Tuesday. He left the Raider squad over a week ago to report for induction into the service, but has been indefinitely deferred.

According to pre-season reports the halfback will see plenty of action this season.

Tech was one of two Border Conference schools to continue football during World War II, fielding such teams as could be gathered together and meeting strong opponents, regardless of outcome. Officials feel this policy met approval of fans, Tech contributed to the war effort, and war seasons were more than worthwhile, even though losses outnumbered victories.

Fans Reserving Grid Ducats

Pre-season ticket sales indicate a sellout for all Red Raider home games, according to the latest information from Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director.

Box seats and reserve seats between the fifteen yard lines have been sold to season ticket holders in addition to about seven hundred general admission tickets. The only remaining seats are about twenty-five hundred bleacher seats located at the corners and scattered throughout the stands.

The large student body this year has made it necessary to set aside for student use an extra section of stands running diagonally across the north-east corner of the grandstand in addition to the east stands.

During the summer, the east stands were repaired and a new concrete dressing room was constructed under the west stands.

Former Grid Star Plays in Benefit Game in New York

In the New York Herald Tribune "all-star fresh air fund" football game between the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants on Sept. 20, Walter Schlinkman, 1945 star fullback at Texas Tech, gained 18 yards in three tries and caught a 12 yard pas as he played halfback for Green Bay.

This benefit game is played annually and provides thousands of New York's tenement children with a few weeks of health-building vacation in the country.

The game was played before a crowd of 48,017 fans.

FLORENCE DRANE HALL

Women's dormitory No. 2 at Texas Tech has been named Florence Drane Hall by action of the board of directors, honoring the former board member from Corsicana. The three-story building, housing 320 students, was erected in 1941. Mrs. Drane was appointed by Governor Neff to the first board of directors in 1923 for a six-year term. She was reappointed in 1929 and served until 1932.

1400 Teachers Placed By Tech Bureau

Approximately 1400 teachers have found positions through the Teacher Placement Bureau at Texas Technological College in the 10 years since the bureau's organization.

The bureau has placed teachers all over Texas and in half of the other 48 states. About 90 percent of the teachers who find work through that office are Tech graduates.

The greatest number of points in a season for Tech was rolled up in 1932 when 332 were recorded. Tech's greatest losses, from the point angle, include Baylor's 34-0 win in 1929 and her 1931 win of 32-0, and the Oklahoma A&M 46-6 triumph of 1945.

W. W. Brown Joins Raider Coaching Staff This Week

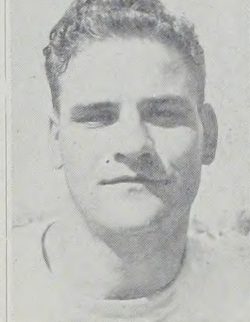

The Red Raiders coaching staff rounded out this week with the addition of William W. (Billy) Brown who will assist with coaching chores act as trainer, and take some classes under the GI Bill of Rights.

Billy handled the quarterback assignment for Alabama in that school's 24-0 win over Washington State in the 1931 Rose Bowl.

He was trainer of the successful Keesler Field athletic teams of 1943-1944 and of the Fort Worth Skymasters in 1946.

Prior to filling the quarterback slot for Alabama in 1929, 1930 and 1931 he was tutored as a freshman by his elder brother, Johnny Mack Brown, an Alabama All-American and later motion picture star.

She was only the tailor's daughter, but she pressed well.

Bufs Bow To Raiders 26-14 In Opening Power Blast

By BILL SAYERS
Toreador Sports Writer

Morgans Raiders ushered in the 1946 football season by drubbing the Buffaloes of West Texas State 26 to 14 before a capacity crowd of near 10,000 fans, here Saturday night.

In a game that had some very ragged spots as well as some brilliant football the Raiders showed plenty of offensive punch as well as an impregnable wall of the defensive side of the ledger. More than fifty men saw action, a number as large as most entire squads have been the past few years, giving Coach Morgan a little better idea of who will carry the bigger part of the load in the tough schedule ahead of them.

The Red Raiders had the situation entirely in hand through out the greater part of the game with only weak spots showing up on pass defense. Except early in the fourth period when they pushed across two touchdowns in ten plays the Buffaloes did not threaten and compiled a minus fourteen yards rushing as compared with 157 yards by the Raiders. Tech registered six first downs to the invaders three and their punt average of 42.5 yards was well above the W. T. average of 29.5 yards. Gaining only 25 yards on pass completions the Raiders were far outshining by the Bufs total of 113 yards from nine completions out of nineteen tries.

Showing complete impartiality in the scoring department, a different man carried the mail for each Tech play. The first touchdown was set up by recovery of a Buff fumble on the W. T. S. 28 yard line by Floyd Lawhorn. From there a succession of drives by Roger Smith, Dwight Hoskins, Ed Robnett and Glenn Lewis put the ball in pay dirt. Smith knifing through for the score. Robnett failed to convert.

Another recovered fumble on the Buf's five yard stripe by guard J. D. Milner started the Raiders on their way to a second score late in the second quarter. Three line smashes took the ball within inches of the end zone, then Robnett powered over. Winkler kicked the extra point.

A forty yard march produced the

4 Hand Ball Courts Nearly Completed

Four handball courts will be completed in a week or 10 days according to Mr. William Morley Jennings, head of the men's Physical Education department. Tennis, basketball and volleyball courts are being constructed also. These courts are all out of doors and have a concrete surface.

Third tally midway in the third period after Hawkins had returned a punt to the W. T. 40 yard line. Hoskins and Smith gained 13 yards in three tries then Smith aided by a block by Glenn Lewis skirted right and to the Bufs 10 where he was forced out of bounds. Hoskins and Lewis bucked over to score. Roger Smith's place kick went wide to the right.

Two passes from Willoughby to Williams netted the first 6 points for W. T. S. T. C. early in the fourth period and ten plays later Johnson faded to throw a pass, saw an opening and went over standing up for the second touchdown by the Buffaloes. Melton made both place kicks good to make the score 14 to 19.

Five plays later Charley Reynolds sewed up the ball game for the Red Raiders with a 35-yard run which was the high point of the evening in their running attack. Cutting sharply over tackle Reynolds headed for the west side lines, reversed his field and sped over in the clear. Smith's extra point try was good this time.

Sixteen years of competitive football experience will guide the field play for Texas Tech's Red Raiders this fall with the election of Roger Smith and James Reed as co-captains for the 1946-season.

Smith, Rising Star back, who has two varsity letters at Tech and was All-Service selection in four years of Army football is the elder player on the Raider squad at 26. In 1942 and 1943 he played with Lubbock Army Air field and in 1944 he was with the Randolph Field Ramblers. Last fall he played with the Air Transport Command at Nashville, Tenn. He is married and has a small daughter.

Reed, 23, is a graduate of Crosbyton high school, where he won two football letters. After three years of Raider football he played at North Texas Agricultural College as a Marine Corps assignee.
