DUE BY DECEMBER

The Assistant Registrar announced today that mid-semester reports should be ready by December if not sooner. It will probably take until then because the cards of 8,000 students must be processed and each student has at least five cards, he said.

Tech Invades Tulsa For Tilt

Club Scarlet Climaxes Contest

Flickering candlelight, flashing feet and the low throb of jukebox music will lend an air of "le cafe Parisienne" to Club Scarlet tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Rec. Hall.

The Club, which is Theta Sigma Phi's annual satire on night life, will highlight the selection of Tech's Most Handsome Man and several skits presented by campus organizations, with dancing between "acts."

Tickets for the affair may be purchased at the ticket booth in the Union as at the Rec Hall any time Saturday afternoon. Admission is $1 per person.

The seven finalists for the Most Handsome title, chosen by the AWS council, from the 22 candidates submitted, will be presented about 10 p.m. and balloting by Club Scarlet attendants will decide the victor. Master of ceremonies will be Chuck Strehli.

Entrants for the title and their club sponsors are: Doane Miller, submitted by Phi Mu Alpha Sigma; Jim Blackwood, Sneed Hall Dorm Assn.; Keith Warren Cecil, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Eddie Henson, West Hall Assn.; Robert John Dinjar, Delta Delta Delta; Jimmy Snell, Tau Beta Sigma; Lynn Elliott, Drane Hall; Don Pendleton, Doak Hall; Bob Phillips, Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Bill Holman, Sigma Chi and Alpha Phi; Larry Byrd, Horn Hall Assn.; Jack Henry, Kappa Kappa; Wick Alexander, Double-T Assn.; Bill A. Leonard, Alpha Tau Omega; Fred West, Phi Delta Theta; Bill Dean, Press Club; Jess McIlvain, Sigma Kappa; Larry E. Glasgow, Infantry Club; Jim Copeland, Zeta Tau Alpha; and David Steinman, Pi Beta Phi.

Clubs submitting entries for skits and musical numbers include: Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Major-Minor Club Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Pi Phi, Sigma Kappa and Zeta Tau Alpha.

The clubs chosen to present their skits will receive $5 cash prize but participants will not be admitted free as in past years, announces Barbara Pearce, Theta Sigma Phi president.

Maid of Cotton Contest Nears End

The South Plains Maid of Cotton contest will come to a climax Monday, when judging of the entrants begins at 10 a.m.

Contestants will be honored at a brunch in the Lubbock Club at the Caprock Hotel Monday and judging will continue from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. The Maid of Cotton Ball will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Matador Ballroom of the Caprock.

Final judging will take place at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium with the music of Buddy Morrow. A reception for contestants and parents is scheduled after the finals.

Winner of the contest will receive a $1,000 wardrobe and will have an all-expense paid trip to Memphis, Tenn. for the National finals of the Maid of Cotton contest Dec. 27-28.

Entries were reduced to 35 Wednesday when five Tech coeds withdrew because of failure to meet the 5 ft. 5 in. height requirement.

Contestants were instructed Wednesday on poise and walking by Eugene Bandzevicius of Pratt-Brandzevicius School of Dance Arts. Mrs. Betty Rhea Moxley, who will instruct the girls on the application of makeup, also talked to the group.

Bandsmen To Try Luck At Football

Upperclassmen and "fish" of the Tech Band will be "out for blood" Sunday afternoon at 2 when they challenge each other to the annual band football game, according to band members.

The contest will be on the practice field in front of the Music Building. Approximately 20 boys are on the upperclassmen team and 35 on the "fish" team. Cheerleaders for upperclassmen are Phyllis Stroud and Judy Milburn. Those for the freshman are Mary Lynn Turbeville and Jill Jost.

Upperclassmen have won for the past two years.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders will be seeking their third win of the season tomorrow when they clash with the Golden Hurricane in Tulsa. Game time is 1:30 p.m. The Raiders are expecting to meet a young hustling team in the Tulsa eleven, described by Tech coaches as probably the team with the greatest spirit of any on this year's schedule.

The Raiders will be fighting against one of football's worst enemies — the letdown — in tomorrow's game, after last week's stunning upset of Texas Christian. Tulsa will be laying for Tech in the same manner that the Big Red were for TCU last week. Tech beat Tulsa last year 34-7.

Tech Comes Through

Coach DeWitt Weaver's charges have finally come into their own, after a discouraging beginning which saw the Raiders go until their fifth game without a win. Since then however, the tide has turned.

After spoiling Arizona's homecoming with their first win, Tech had to come from behind to tie the stubborn Oklahoma Aggies, 13-13, and reached their peak last Saturday by spilling Swink & Co., 12-7. Last week's win, a great team effort, made the season tabulation stand at two wins, four losses and a tie.

Tulsa's Record Impressive

Tulsa, on the other hand, has a 5-2-1 record, their tie being with self-same Oklahoma A&M, just two weeks before the Aggies and Tech fought it out to a draw. Tulsa's score with A&M was 14-14.

Tulsa holds victories over New Mexico A&M, Marquette, Detroit, Hardin-Simmons, and previously unbeaten College of the Pacific. The two losses have been to Cincinnati 7-6 and Houston last week, 14-0. The Golden Hurricane has a fine defensive record as opponents have averaged slightly less than seven points per game.

Tulsa's starting center is an area lad. He's Max Black of Brownfield. Last year Black turned in yeoman service, playing 550 minutes out of a possible 600.

Injuries Plague Raiders

The Raiders, as usual, will be hampered by casualties. Three-year letterman Ray Howard, starter at right guard in last week's game, suffered a sprained ankle and as a result will not make the (See TECH TESTS Page 3)

Frosh To Elect Six Cheerleaders

Six freshmen cheerleaders will be elected from 37 nominees at a freshman class meeting Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Union Ballroom.

Class president Bill Dean urged all freshmen to attend, and specified that they must have ID cards in order to vote.

Three boys and three girls will be chosen, and will select from among themselves a head cheerleader. Those running are: Jean Schepers, Bette Davidson, Mary McDuffie, Gayla Cauthen, Jon Temple, Larry Todd, Mary Lou Patterson, Patti Stephenson, Roland Myers, Gail Petersen, Kay Liner, Ann Fish, Sandra Hendrix, Bob Kinney, Don Broyles, Patsy Pearce, Mary Ann Lindley, Roland Pike, Jan Ferris, Bill Donnell.

Mantovani Plays 'New Music' Fri.

Montovani, famed British orchestra leader, will conduct his 45 member orchestra in a concert tonight at 8 in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

Montovani will present to the Lubbock audience his "New Music," which has a heavy emphasis on strings. This is Montovani's first national tour. Included in his concert will be numbers that are popular the world over such as "Greensleeves," "Song From Moulin Rouge," "Donkey Serenade," and "Tales From the Vienna Woods."

Montovani, who was born in Vienna, began studying music in his early youth. His father, who was also an orchestra leader, did not want his son to be a musician, but an engineer.

Students Organize Pre-Law Society

Persons interested in a Pre-Law Club at Tech are invited to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Ad. 321. Plans for final organization have been made and a program committee has been assigned to secure programs of interest for future meetings.

Carol Cobb, Lubbock attorney, spoke to the group Nov. 8 concerning the qualities of a good lawyer.

Journalism, Speech Depts. Host High School Students

Saturday close to 200 high school delegates will converge on the Tech campus for sessions of Speech and Journalism Day.

Students from the South Plains-Panhandle area and a number from eastern New Mexico and southwestern Oklahoma are expected for the all-day meetings.

Speech Activities

Included in the Speech activities will be demonstrations in debate, declamation, poetry, reading and extemporaneous speaking. A discussion period will follow and questions from the floor will be answered. Principal speaker, Bruce Roach, director of speech activities for the Interscholastic League, will answer questions concerning the League's contest in the area.

In the afternoon demonstrations on creative dramatics and play rehearsal will be featured.

Journalism Sessions

Possibilities of forming a West Texas High School Press Assn. will be discussed and the Tech Journalism department will present its annual awards in high school newspaper contests.

Principal speakers in the morning will be Charles A. Guy, Lubbock Avalanche Journal editor, and Tech Dean of Student Life, James G. Allen. High school visitors will be honored at a noon luncheon.

The afternoon session will include photography, mimeographing, and television demonstrations and roundtable discussions of newspaper and yearbook techniques.

Preceding the special luncheon for delegates, the Student Life Department will lead a discussion of questions concerning college.

Professor Attends Education Meeting

Dr. Per G. Stensland, head of adult education, is attending the annual conference of the Adult Education Association of the United States at Atlantic City through today.

SOME CAN SAY NO

You can't say no to Uncle Sam, so the Louisiana State University's military department was rather nonplussed when a prospective freshman turned down its offer of compulsory military training. The department sent an information form, explaining that two years of basic military training are required at LSU of all physically-fit male students up to the age of 23. In reply, the prospective freshman wrote: "Thank you for your generous offer to let me join the ROTC at LSU. I assure you that I would deem it the greatest honor ever to come to me. After giving the matter deep consideration, I have decided it would be better if I declined your offer."

The freshman refused the offer "because of the advantage it would give me over the girls on campus."

The red-faced military department plans no action in the case because HE turned out to be a SHE.

"HOUND DOGS?"

The Daily Kansan reports that Bill Haley and his comets brought about an amusing sidelight on the now famous "Hound Dog." The occasion was the showing of a Rock'n'Roll movie at an English theatre. The British "Bobbies" became so moved with the soothing quality of the melodies that they began tearing up the seats and dancing in the aisles. The British Police gave the "Bobbies" their hound dogs in the form of two ferocious police dogs which began patrolling the soon empty aisles.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"A CHIMNEY SWEEP MY EVE!—THERE HASN'T BEEN A FIRE ON THIS FLOOR FOR TWENTY YEARS."

ANOTHER BROKEN RECORD...

In speaking of broken records and swelled enrollments at Tech, last week's accomplishment of the 1956-57 sophomore class should not be overlooked.

Yellow posters placed over the campus proclaimed a meeting of the sophs—an announcement which brought out a grand total of five persons, including the officers.

"Cool move, fellow classmates," is a fitting tribute to the largest class of sophomores ever to walk the halls of Tech. Maybe the victory bells should have been rung—and a perpetual monument erected to capture this momentous occasion.

Tech's frosh will have a chance to top this outstanding show of school spirit Sunday as they gather to select class cheerleaders. The freshmen have been showing up well in campus activities thus far in the year, however, and considerable organization would be necessary to keep all but five of them from attending.

Sneed Turkey Run Slated Tomorrow

The fifth annual Sneed Hall Turkey Run will get underway tomorrow at 1 p.m. in front of Sneed Hall.

Some twenty runners have signed up to run the race which is slated to start and Sneed, wind around the campus, and finish at the starting position.

This year's queen, Sharla Pepper of Lubbock, will be officially crowned as queen and will receive a bouquet of flowers from the host, Sneed Hall.

The winner will receive a live turkey plus a kiss from Queen Sharla; the second place contestant will win a live duck, and the third place winner will receive an egg.

Anyone wishing to participate may enter as late as noon Saturday by calling PO 5-9338.

Sigma Kappas Get Awards At Dinner

Awards for the best pledge for October and the member with highest scholarship for 1955-56 will be presented at a Sigma Kappa alumnae dinner at 7 tonight in the Lubbock Women's Club.

The girl chosen as best pledge will be awarded a traveling bracelet with a gold medallion with a replica of the sorority pledge pin on one side, and the words "best pledge" engraved on the other. The scholarship award is a sterling silver bracelet presented each year by the alumnae.

Recent activities of the sorority include a party for residents of Garrett's Convalescent Home Wednesday night and the annual Founders Day banquet.

The party at the Convalescent Home was given in observation of Sigma Kappa National Philanthropy Week.

Founders Day banquet was held at the Chicken Shack last Friday night. After dinner, Mary Alice Jones, chapter president, gave a talk on the history and significance of the sorority, and Sue Dickson led the group in songs.

LITTLE STORIES WITH BIG MORALS

First Little Story

Once upon a time when the inventors of the airplane were very small boys, the roof on their house developed a terrible leak. A repairman was called to fix it. He set his ladder against the side of the house, but it was a very tall house and his ladder was not quite long enough to reach the roof.

"Sir, we have an idea," said the boys who even at that tender age were resourceful little chaps. "We will get up on top of the ladder and boost you up on the roof."

So the boys climbed to the top of the ladder, and the repairman came after them, and they tried to boost him up on the roof. But, alas, the plan did not work and they all came tumbling down in a heap.

MORAL: Two Wrights don't make a rung.

Second Little Story

Once upon a time a German exchange student came from Old Heidelberg to an American university. One night there was a bull session going on in the room next to his. "Ach, excuse me," he said timidly to the group of young men assembled there, "aber what is that heavenly smell I smell?"

"Why, that is the fragrant aroma of our Philip Morris cigarettes," said one of the men.

"Himmel, such natural tobacco goodness!"

"It comes in regular size in the handy Snap-Open pack, or in long size in the new crushproof box... Won't you try one?"

"Dankeschön," said the German exchange student happily, and from that night forward, whenever the men lit up Philip Morris Cigarettes, he never failed to be present.

MORAL: Where there's smoke, there's Meyer.

Third Little Story

Once upon a time Penelope, the wife of Ulysses, had herself a mess of trouble in Ithaca. With her husband away at the Trojan War, all the local blades were wooing Penelope like crazy. She staled them by saying she wouldn't make her choice until she finished weaving a rug. Each night when her suitors had gone home, Penelope, that sly minx, would unravel all the weaving she had done during the day.

"Why don't you hide in this urn?"

Well sir, one night she left her rug lying outside. It rained buckets, and the rug got all matted and shrunken, and Penelope couldn't unwind it. When the suitors came back in the morning, the poor frantic woman started running all over the house looking for a place to hide.

Well sir, it happened that Sappho, the poetess, had come over the night before to write an ode about Penelope's Grecian urn. So she said, "Hey, Penelope, why don't you hide in this urn? I think it's big enough if you'll kind of squinch down."

So Penelope hopped in the urn, and it concealed her perfectly except for her hair-do which was worn upswept in the Greek manner.

Well sir, with the suitors pounding on the door, Sappho had to move fast. She whipped out a razor and cut off Penelope's hair. The suitors looked high and low but they couldn't find Penelope.

MORAL: A Penny shaved is a Penny urned.

VERSATILE RAIDER—Doug Campbell has alternated between tackle and guard this season with greatest efficiency. He'll be back at the right guard post when the Raiders meet Tulsa tomorrow afternoon.

Campbell Has Been Tech's 'Handy Man'

Doug Campbell has been the type of handy-man his coaches have badly need this season. With the numerous injuries suffered by the team this year, shifts have been the daily rule, and Campbell has often figured prominently. When Tech lost its co-captain, Bob Kileullen, Campbell was moved to right tackle, where he started last week against TCU. Guard Ray Howard was injured Saturday, so back to the guard position went Campbell, but chances are it won't be permanent.

Picadors Flatten

Reese AFB Five

Texas Tech's freshman basketballers romped over a Reese Air Force Base quintet Tuesday night, sinking the Airmen 110-62. The Picadors were magnificent in their first scrimmage played as a regular game, forging to a 63-32 half-time lead.

Gene Arrington led the Tech attack, scoring 31 points—28 in the torrid first half—mostly from 'way out. Robert Echols, teammate with Arrington at Amarillo Palo Duro last year, pumped in 24 points and 6-10 Pat Noakes rung up 21.

The Air Force team, which kept the game close for the first few minutes of play, was led by Bernie Janicki's 20 points. James Wiley of Lubbock, a Picador starter, received a sprained ankle early in the second half, and probably will be out of action for a short period of time.

FROSH RUN AWAY
Other Picadors to see action were: Dale McKeehan, Jerry Selfridge, Bruce Boyd and Preston Davis. So potent was the Tech Fisherman that they led after five minutes of the second half 75-42 and the end of 10 minutes 88-51, and with five minutes left had reached the century mark, leading 100-59.

trip this week. Also left behind is right end Dan Law, who has been seeing considerable action of late.

Fullback Position Close

A three-way scrap is being waged for the starting fullback post. The three are Doug Duncan, Gene Bently, and Charlie Dixon. The trio are running 1-2-3, in the order named, as the leading ground-gainers for Tech. Duncan is expected to get the starting nod.

Others making the trip to Tulsa are: Gerald Seeman, Jimmy Clark, Bobby Young and Bobby Stafford; tackle Jim Henderson, and Billy Woodin; guards Tim Stone, Arthur Bybee, Jim Collins and John (Brick) Johnson; centers Don Barber and Lynn Elliott, quarterbacks John Riddle and Buddy Hill, halves Milton Vaughn, Floyd Cole, M. C. Northam, Jimmy Knox and Bobby Kyzar; and fullback Bobby McCune.

Tech Trails Series

Tech will be trying for its seventh win in the Tulsa series, which stands 6-8. Tulsa won the first five contests before the Raiders were able to annex to win over the Hurricanes.

Two Tech coaches will be in familiar surroundings tomorrow. Head Coach Weaver came to Tech in 1951 from a position at Tulsa, and assistant Tom Hamm played for the Golden Hurricane during 1950-52, making All-Missouri Valley Conference his senior year.

Twirlers Practice 10 Hours Weekly

By CAROLYN MIMMS
Toreador Staff Writer
An hour's practice for every minute of performance is standard procedure for the Red Raider majorettes dotting the football field at halftime shows. The eight coeds average ten hours a week of hard practice for the fancy-stepping routines they do with the band.

They are Lucinda Birtciel, Sandy Casstevens, La Blanche Davis, Arleen Durkee, Betty Alice Lovelace, Sylvia McAden, Janet Wright and Sue Young. Feature twirler is Benni Dunn.

Routines are worked out jointly, and are coordinated with formations of the marching band.

Although spectators shiver in the stands at cold autumn games, the girls claim that the chilly temperatures do not usually bother them, at least while they are marching. However, their batons become cold and are sometimes hard to twirl.

Benni Dunn, feature twirler and Majorette All-American of 1956, has twirled 16 years. She has won over a sundred medals and trophies, but is no longer in competitive twirling. Now considered a professional twirler, she spends five hours a day practicing during football season. She was Tech's head majorette last year.

Lucinda Birtciel, and Sandy Casstevens have both twirled for Tech for the last three years. Lucinda twirled seven years with the Levelland High School Band, and has won eight first-division medals from Inter-scholastic League Competition. She also won first at San Antonio's Battle of Flowers.

La Blanche Davis, sophomore from Bernet, has twirled for Tech two years. In the Inter-scholastic League Competition, she won four first-place medals. Also, she placed third in the Junior Division at The University of Texas Band Day.

Arlene Durkee, junior from Abilene has taught twirling at the McMurry Twirling School, and has five Inter-scholastic League awards. She is twirling for her third year at Tech. Janet Wright, sophomore from El Paso, has studied under the National Baton Twirling counselor at Alabama State, Janet Smith. She twirled three years in high school, and is twirling her second year at Tech. She judges twirling for contests in El Paso.

Sylvia McAden, sophomore from Plainview, was majorette two years in high school, drum majorette in high school, and has twirled two years for Tech. She has 11 first-place Inter-scholastic League honors and a first-place medal from Tri-state in Enid, Okla. She twirled at North Texas State College last year.

Sylvia McAden, sophomore from Midland, was majorette one year in high school, and this is her first year as a Tech Majorette. She has won several first places in district twirling contests.

Rodeo, Mae West Movies Interested Techsans In '34

By KATHERINE LACEWELL
Toreador Staff Writer

Tech, dating 1934, the sprawling campus didn't look quite the same then. Toreadors of that year told of Tech students returning from summer vacations 22 years ago and exclaiming over two new structures on the "prairie built" campus.

For the first time in Tech's ten-year life, students had dormitories to live in — Drane and Doak as they are now known.

Primary school activities for the 2,684 students focused on the annual rodeo and selection of a queen in a campus-wide election. A grand total of seven dances were forecast for the year on the calendar of events.

In the field of sports, Tech was a prominent contender. Rivalry was known with such teams as Texas, Baylor, North Dakota, and Los Angeles. The Tech band made a trip to Los Angeles and the Lubbock citizens furnished the money and transportation and the cheerleaders.

"Singing the Blues" might not have been the song you would have heard coming from the show-ers. Instead "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane," "Wagon Wheels," "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" and "Love in Bloom" were the tunes that co-eds whistled.

Fashions centered on stove pipe hats, fitted skirts with a kick pleat and an large bows under the chin. Advertisements in the paper proclaimed 49c hose sales. Men wore their hair plastered straight back while women leaned toward the style of their hair slicked down on the sides with waves and curls.

Permanents cost $1.95 and ranged to $7.50 in price for the "exclusive groomed look," and dangling beads and furs were an asset to every college girl's wardrobe.

The Marilyn Monroe of the time was none other than Mae West, who was always featured at the most prominent theatre in Lubbock. Other movie favorites of Mae's day and time were Buffalo Bill Jr., Robert Montgomery, Maureen Sullivan, Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Jimmy Durant.

Toreador stories of the era mention girls complaining about the size of the campus. They envisioned corns and blistered heels as they gazed from Drane Hall toward the distant gymnasium. One Cisco girl remedied the problem by having her parents send her red bicycle.

Twenty-two years hasn't changed the hiking-across-campus problem. Maybe the bicycle idea should be used today!

Union To Present Night Club Nov. 20

Candlelight atmosphere, a dance band and a variety of entertainment will bring the Union ballroom to life Tuesday, for "Moonlight Manor Night Club," from 7 to 9 p.m.

Refreshments will be served by costumed waitresses, and the program will feature a floor show by Tech students. Kay Atkins, a sophomore music major from El Paso and Ann Humphries, a sophomore from Lubbock will sing. Miss Humphries has appeared previously with the Kingsmen Combo.

Al Malacca and his trio will entertain with progressive jazz. Johnny Gilbert, a sophomore music major from Amarillo and composer will play his own piano compositions.

Thomas Holeman will present a monologue. Music will be provided by "The Hepeats" and no admission will be charged.

Religious Groups Plan Activities

Student religious groups at Tech have slated a variety of worship and recreational activities for the coming week.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION: W. L. "Wimpy" Smith will be the main speaker of the Foreign Mission Emphasis Week at the Baptist Student Center Nov. 19-23. Special programs have been planned for the week at Morning Watch and Vespers at 7:28-7:48 a.m., and 6:30-6:40 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The mission emphasis week will be climaxed with the launching of the Lottie Moon Christmas offering for Foreign Missions on Friday night. Last year Tech students gave more than $2,100 to the mission offering.

CHURCH OF CHRIST BIBLE CHAIR: A free meal will be served for Church of Christ members on the Tech campus Sunday. Devotional services will be held at 5:45 p.m., and Bible class at 9:30.

CHRISTIAN STUDENT CENTER: Dedication service will be held in connection with the First Christian Church Sunday morning. Following at 6 p.m., the National president of the Disciples Student Fellowship, Bill Barr of Oklahoma A&M, will speak.

During the week the usual evening vespers will be from 5:10 to 5:30 Friday night the first Christian students will join the Presbyterian students in a square dance at the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

PRESBYTERIAN STUDENT CENTER: There will be a work party at 2 p.m. Saturday. Dr. Joe Dennis will speak on the topic, "Science or Religion — Faith or Fact," at 6 p.m. Sunday. This is part of the Freshman program. Supper will also be served at this time.

At 7 p.m., a special team of pre-ministerial students from Austin Seminary, Austin, will give a program.

THE NEWMAN CLUB: Sunday night at 7:30 the Newman Club will hold its annual Thanksgiving Dance in the Saint Elizabeth Parish Hall. The 35c ticket, which may be purchased from any Newman Club member, also entitles the buyer to a chance on a turkey to be given away at the dance.
