Purple Belts

After eight months of hard work Kelly and Steve Malaer of Santa Anna received their Purple Belts from Jerry Spearman, instructor for the Kempo Karate class in Coleman.

Kempo is Japanese style Karate as opposed to Tikkondo which is Korean style. Mr. Spearman stated that the average person would not note a difference but that the experienced belt could tell by the stances and approaches.

The 10th-7th levels are White Tip, Yellow, Orange and Purple Belts, respectively. Each of these belts takes approximately a month to achieve, sometimes longer depending on the person, but rarely, if ever, less.

The series that Kelly and Steve will be working on next are the 6th-3rd or Green, Green Tip, Blue and Brown Belts, respectively. Each of these belts takes at least two months to achieve.

The 2nd and 1st or Brown II and Brown III take approximately six months to achieve.

After 1st level or Brown III is achieved work begins on the lowest level Black Belt or 'Shodan'. Several degrees of Black Belts follow.

New students enrolled in the class are Corey Brown and Lee Bertoni, both of Santa Anna.

Classes are on Wednesday night with children (age 9 and up) beginning at 5:30 p.m. followed by the adult class.

Mr. Spearman, who achieved his Black Belt at 16 and has been teaching ever since, advises that if you take a class of any kind make sure that the instructor is certified.

Failure is final only after a man finally stops trying.

HEARING

Brownwood Hearing Aid of Brownwood will have their service center at the High Rise in Santa Anna on July 12, from 10-12 a.m.

Hearing tests will be given and all hearing aids will be serviced.

From the Department of Health and Human Services we are told it is easy to take good hearing for granted, but in the world of the hearing impaired, words in a conversation may be misunderstood, musical notes might be missed, and a ringing doorbell may go unanswered. Hearing impairment ranges from difficulty understanding words or hearing certain sounds, to total deafness.

Because of fear, misinformation, or vanity, some people will not admit to themselves or anyone else that they have a hearing problem. It has been estimated, however, that approximately 30 percent of adults age 65 through 74 and about 50 percent of those age 75 through 79 suffer some degree of hearing loss. In the United States alone, more than 10 million older people are hearing impaired.

If ignored and untreated, hearing problems can grow worse, hindering communication with others, limiting social activities, and reducing constructive use of leisure time. People with hearing impairments often withdraw socially to avoid the frustration and embarrassment of not being able to understand what is being said. In addition, hearing-impaired people may become suspicious of relatives and friends who 'mumble' or 'don't speak up'.

Hearing loss may cause an older hearing-impaired person to be wrongly labeled as 'confused', 'unresponsive', or 'uncooperative'. At times, the feelings of powerlessness and frustration experienced by elderly individuals trying to communicate with others result in depression and withdrawal.

While older people today are, in general, demanding greater satisfaction from life, those with hearing impairments often find the quality of their lives diminished. Fortunately, help is available, in the form of surgery, treatment with medicines, special training, a hearing aid, or an alternate listening device.

Some of the common signs of hearing impairment include: words are difficult to understand; such sounds as the dripping of a faucet or the high notes of a violin cannot be heard; a hissing or ringing background noise is heard continually; another person's speech sounds slurred or mumbled; and, television programs, concerts, and social gatherings are less enjoyable because so much goes unheard.

TWIRLERS

Laurie Powers and Lee Ann Musick, twirlers for the Jr. High Pep

Squad, and Jodi Watson, alternate, recently attended the Hardin Simmons Twirling, Flag and Rifle opened, not paved, but passable.

A water bill discussion led to a comment that if your water line breaks don't let air run through your meter as it will run up your meter very quickly. The water department suggests that you read your meter when water ceases and again when it returns.

A council member suggested that previous month payout be reviewed vs. current month payout so that the council could approve a total payout vs. an incomplete payout.

Council stated that we should hear about the block grant around the first of August.

Council Met

The Santa Anna City Council met on Thursday, July 5, for their regular monthly session.

An announcement was made that as of August 1, 1984, the Santa Anna Police Department would replace Ray Owen, the night watchman, and Mike Bowers, of the Sheriff's Department, who were both part-time, with a second full-time officer. This was decided in a special session after a lengthy discussion with Russ Ellis regarding an incident where Mr. Ellis was injured while investigating a family disturbance.

Mr. Ellis stated that he had one applicant to date. He further stated that he foresaw no problems with our current jailing procedure in Coleman County but that details were still being checked into by our County Attorney.

West Texas Utilities requested a 12.4 percent increase which the council denied.

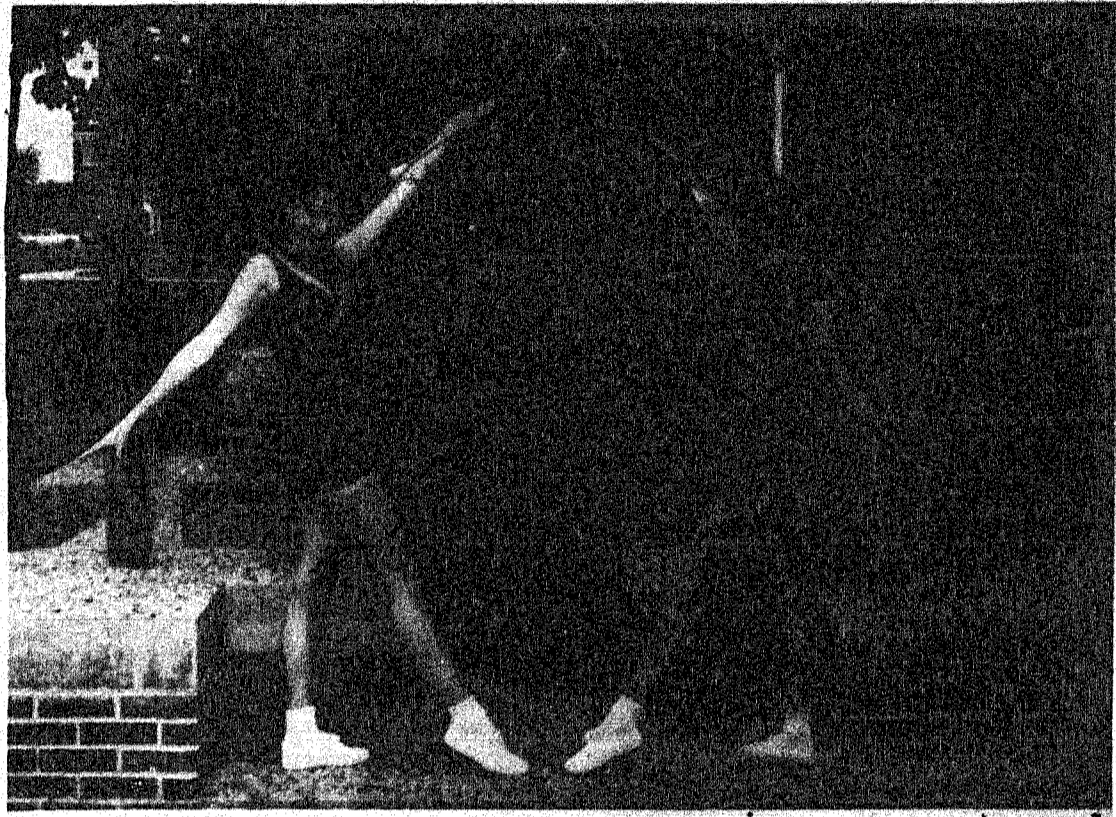

A new city employee hospitalization program was presented. The program would be $7.83 per month or $97.00 per year, per employee less than the present plan. Benefits would remain the same with an additional prescription plan whereby prescriptions could be obtained for $2. The council decided to have an insurance company representative present this before deciding.

Street repair was another lengthy topic of discussion at the meeting. It was noted that if streets or alleys are designated on the map they must be

PENSIONERS MAY OWE TAXES, INTERNAL REVENUE CAUTIONS

Pension income may be either fully or partially taxable, IRS says; and federal income taxes may be withheld from pension payments. Many retirees may find the withholding a convenience that can spare them penalties when they file their federal income tax returns. Withholding is not compulsory, and any person can apply to their payor for exemption. However, without tax withholding, a retiree who owed $400 or more for 1984 may be liable for an estimated tax penalty.

A retiree who chooses not to have tax withheld from pension payments may pay quarterly estimated payments to avoid the penalty. Additional information can be found in Publication 505, 'Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax,' which is available free from the Internal Revenue Service.

Camp. There they were taught twirling basics and several new routines.

RABIES CONFIRMED

A case of confirmed rabies was diagnosed by the State Department of Health in Austin on a skunk killed a week ago Saturday in the 1600 block of Vincent in Brownwood.

Dr. Doyle Cooper sent the head off at the request of the Brownwood Police Department and he was notified Tuesday that the skunk was rabid.

Veterinarians remind all pet owners it is imperative that all domestic animals be vaccinated against the disease.

If there is a doubt as to whether an animal has a current vaccination, veterinarian records can verify when or if the animal has been vaccinated.

He said a citizen reported the fire to him at about midnight, July 4th and that the Santa Anna Fire Department quickly extinguished it, limiting damage to several destroyed fence posts. Ellis reported two roman candles were found at the scene.

LINDA'S LINES... ...LOWER LEFT

Last week was a busy one. Never having edited a newspaper before I was learning and as if that weren't enough it was a holiday week so the paper had to be printed a day early. With no regrets, I have made it to my second week.

I would like to take a minute to apologize to those who were involved in any errors I made. I would at the same time like to thank those of you who encouraged and complimented me.

I have made many adjustments since moving to a small town and probably have a few more to make. But, I must say this is a nice place to do it. I love the mountain and the serenity of it. With that I will close with an article I found the other day entitled 'Everywhere, USA'.

You know you're in a small town when-

You don't use your turn signal because everyone knows where you are going.

You dial a wrong number and talk for 15 minutes anyway.

You call every dog on the street by name and he wags his tail at you.

You get married and the local newspaper devotes a quarter page to the story.

You write a check on the wrong bank and they cover for you.

You miss a Sunday at church and get six get-well cards.

The day of your father's funeral the neighbors bring in enough food to feed an army.

You hear about your daughter-in-law's pregnancy before she does. (The girl who did the lab work is your next-door neighbor.)

The day your kitchen caught fire you received 22 invitations to supper.

You drive into a ditch five miles out in the country and words gets back to your family before you do.

Thank the good Lord for small towns and the people in them. They are the last bastion of human concern and caring.

MOVING AND PAINTING

Our family is in the process of moving to a house in Ft. Worth. I had not realized just how much junk we had collected over the years.

I have gained an appreciation for two occupations: Painters and Movers.

We agreed to paint the inside of the house we have been living in for the elderly owners. I did not realize how much space there was to paint!

As I painted a closet, I thought of the closets in people's lives. In living, the things that are kept in secret are often the things that hold us back from joyful living. Those past mistakes keep us in an emotional prison without bars.

Closets are really small spaces. When we have actions or thoughts that we have kept in secret, the space in which we live becomes small. Often, the air becomes stale and dusty.

Closets sometimes resemble traps. Circumstances and people often make demands we are not able to meet by ourselves. Frustration and despair often accompany the traps in our lives.

The best answer to the individual with traps is found in the Serenity Prayer: 'God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and the wisdom to know the difference'.

Then, the closets of life don't seem so powerful.

The walls in the house were easy to paint. It was easy to see our progress and appreciate the improvement. One of the nice things you can do in life is to express your appreciation to the people around you who are 'painting the walls'. They need your kind words.

Perhaps they just walked out of a closet of guilt, despair and/or frustration!

In moving, we used a little machine called a 'dolly'. We have some heavy furniture. It would be silly to move heavy furniture without the help of a dolly! Sometimes in life, people try to carry heavy burdens alone.

Jesus Christ said to cast your burdens on Him. Prayer is the dolly people can use to help them carry heavy burdens.

As we moved our belongings 15 miles, I thought about Jan Naron Henderson and her move to another city. Best wishes and God bless you in your new job and new house!

KNOX-SCOTT

The engagement and approaching marriage of Martha Lea Knox and William Edward (Billy) Scott, both of Wichita Falls, is announced by the future bride's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Knox of the Central High community, west or Marlow.

JONES-CLIFTON

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Earlene Scott, Santa Anna, Texas, and the late Tom Scott.

The couple has selected Saturday, August 11, as the date for their wedding. Vows will be exchanged at 2 p.m. in the Central Baptist Church, with friends invited to attend.

Juliann Jones and Jimmie Don Clifton were married on June 29, 1984, at 7:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Coleman, Texas. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Earl Jones of Rt. 1, Gouldbusk, and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Clifton of Santa Anna. Rev. Jack Skelton, pastor of the Leaday Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Prior to the ceremony, vocal selections were given by Jeanene Jones, sister of the bride, and Steven Jewell. Jeanene played the piano accompaniment as the two sang 'The Rose' and 'The Wedding Song.' Flora Dee Daughtery was organist for the service. As the couple lit the unity candle, Joan Hammonds sang

'One Hand, One Heart.' 'The Lord's Prayer' was also sung by Mrs. Hammonds.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents, and was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a formal gown of white Nottingham lace. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline that extended to be worn off the shoulder. The full ballgown sleeve was enhanced with a deep ruffle of Nottingham lace and white taffeta. The bouffant taffeta skirt fell softly into a cathedral train that was designed with a deep ruffled flounce of matching lace. To complete her bridal ensemble, Juliann chose a pearlized Juliet headpiece of Nottingham lace attached to a two tier fingertip veil trimmed in matching lace.

Jeanene Jones served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of powder blue moire taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a double ruffle worn off the shoulder enhanced with taffeta rosebuds of royal blue. The fitted skirt was completed by a royal blue sash at the waistline tied in a party bow. She wore a blue satin neck ribbon with a small cluster of silk rosebuds in shades of blue. Other bridesmaids' dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor. Lori Smith, Karen Smith, Lisa Rolfe and Robin Hartman served as bridal attendants.

For 'something old' Juliann carried a lace handkerchief made by her great-grandmother, Lena Jones.

Mrs. Jones carried it in her own wedding 76 years ago. 'Something new' was a diamond and opal pendant given to Juliann by her parents.

Her 'something borrowed' was her mother's Bible.

The Bible served as the base of her bridal bouquet, and was carried by the bride's mother in her own wedding. Her 'something blue' was her lace garter.

The bestman for the ceremony was Ted Wristen. Groomsmen included Dick Smith, Jerry Don Culpepper, Bobby Morgan and Randy Scarborough.

Danny and Donny Allen, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters. James Allen, also a cousin of the bride, served as an usher, and was assisted by Joe Bass. Vickie Jewell registered wedding guests.

Immediately following the service, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

DYER-TALLEY

The engagement and approaching marriage of Christie Denese Dyer and Tim Nolan Talley is announced by the future bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Thomason.

The future bride is the granddaughter of Lotta Farris and the Late Rufus Farris.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan A. Talley, Jr.

September 8, 1984, is the date set for the wedding. Vows will be exchanged at the Massie Club House at 2:00 p.m.

Christie graduated from Lake View High School in 1978 and is employed at the Central National Bank.

Tim graduated from Llano High school in 1981 and is employed at Lone Star Gas Company.

HERE COME THE BRIDES

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's brides (or their parents) will spend an estimated $17.5 billion this year on formal weddings, for everything from flowerpots to furniture to photography, according to a recent study of consumer attitudes.

The figure is nearly 15 percent more than was spent in 1980, according to the survey conducted by the Whirlpool Corp.

And next to friends and relatives, the study concluded, most Americans think of the Yellow Pages as their single most important source of where-to-find-it information, with their thousand-plus listings of goods and services related to weddings.

The bride's colors of powder blue and royal blue were used in all the decorations. The bride's table was covered in a powder blue cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was a white cake trimmed with roses in shades of royal and light blue. Nuts and blue and white chocolate mints were served in crystal bowls. The bridal bouquet served as centerpiece for the table. Cathy Higgins served the wedding cake, and Karyn Stephenson served punch. Both young women are cousins of the bride.

Robbin Clifton, sister of the groom, served the groom's cake. The three-layered chocolate cake was iced in dark and light chocolate and covered with slivered almonds. It was decorated with a large cluster of chocolate grapes made of malt balls. The groom's cousin, Tracy Monych, served coffee from a silver coffee service.

Ladies helping the bride and her mother with the reception were Ruth Dodson, Pat Smith, Sharon Greenlee, Sharon Cheaney, Diane Wetzel, Judy Hartman and Betty Rolfe. Guests of honor at the reception were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clay, and the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones.

After a wedding trip to Austin, the couple will live at 506 Mountain Street, Santa Anna. The bride will be continuing her studies at Angelo State University in the fall. The groom, a graduate of TSTI in Waco, is currently employed by Bandera Oil Company.

ESTES-BEAMAN

Taresa Rae Estes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Estes of Odessa, became the bride of Frank Lanier Beaman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beaman, Sr. of Anniston, Alabama, on Saturday, June 9, 1984.

The bride was given by her father Mr. Ray Estes at the ceremony held at the Asbury Methodist Church in Odessa, with the Rev. Robert Whitis officiating.

The bride wore a gown of imported white silk, overlaid with organza. The bodice was imported lace with a scoop neckline which formed an organza collar at the back of the neck. Lace adorned the bottom of the gown which had a long train. The long veil was accented with tiny pearls in a scattered pattern and was held by a white floral comb.

The bride's bouquet was made up of orchid and purple gladiolas, purple and white stephenotis, and a cascade of english ivy trailed to ankle length. White gardenias formed the going away corsage.

The maid of honor was Taresa Rice. Bridesmaids were Rhonda White, Anne McKeown, and Diane Moss. The attendants dresses were floor length orchid taffeta, off the shoulder, ruffle around the neckline, full skirt and orchid sashes.

The flower girl was Taffi Walker and the candlelighter was Tiffani Walker, both cousins of the bride. They wore floor length gowns of purple satin with orchid sashes and full skirts.

The groom wore a white tux with a grey ascot.

The bestman was Michael Beaman. Groomsman were Jeff Estes, Billy Berry, and Chip Gutshall. The candlelighter was Ashton Harris. The ringbearer, Joel Walker, carried a satin pillow with both rings.

The male attendants all wore grey tuxedos vested with striped ascots.

Registry attendant was Cindy Fitch of Amarillo.

The pianist, Mace Williamson of Pecos, sang 'The Love She Found in Me' while the 14 candleabras were lit and the mothers were seated. During the ceremony Mary Daniels and Lanny Ballard sang 'With You I'm Born Again', 'You and I', and 'The Wedding Song'.

Special guests that attended included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Estes of Rockwood, Mrs. Alice Petty of Sweetwater, and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Glindell Petty of Sand Springs, Oklahoma. The groom's special guests were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barry of Mineral Wells, and Major and Mrs. Lynn Sanders of El Paso.

The bride's parents hosted the reception at their home in Odessa.

The bride's table was decorated with white linen overlaid with white lace. The 3-tier cake was decorated with orchid gladiolas that formed a staircase around the cake, culminating with a bouquet of gladiolas and stephenotis on the top layer. Punch and buttermints were served.

The groom's table was covered with an orchid linen and overlaid with beige lace. His cake was german chocolate. Sandwiches, cheese ball, shrimp, relish tray, deviled eggs and coffee were also served.

A champagne table was set up on the patio with a white linen cloth. The fountain was surrounded by a slab of cheese, ham and chicken rolls.

The house was decorated with floral arrangements and orchid bells.

Entertainment was provided by Mace Williams, who played the piano as Rex and Tiffani Walker sang, 'Love and Marriage'.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore the wedding dress that her mother wore 27 years ago. The white satin dress, overlaid with lace, was fashioned with long tapered lace sleeves and a stand-up collar. The long skirt, with lace ruffles down the center, extended into a long train.
