

State Capital NEWS

Austin, Tex. — With the filing deadline (Feb. 1) drawing near, the political ring is filling with hats — most of them familiar to Texas voters.

Since there's to be no wholesale re-shuffling among top state offices, liveliest interest is focused on legislative campaigns.

Texas Legislative Service's compilation of legislative races indicates about six of the senators running for re-election have opposition, or prospects of opposition. Usually the opponents include a representative from the senator's district.

New faces have entered the races in more than 50 of the House districts. In 19 of these the present representative is not a candidate for re-election.

Besides the usual preponderance of lawyers, there are a number of school teachers and former school teachers among the newcomers.

Campaign platforms rest mainly on these issues:

- (1) Betterment of schools and improvement of teachers' salaries.
- (2) Revamping or doing away with the new merit auto insurance rates.
- (3) Providing medical payments for persons on the welfare rolls and raising old age pensions.

(4) Enacting stiffer highway safety laws.

(5) Developing a comprehensive statewide water program.

(6) Solving the state's fiscal problems. This is generally covered in some broad fairly vague statement, such as "modernizing the state tax system," "eliminating unnecessary expenditures" or "finding an equitable method of taxation."

ENOUGH'S ENOUGH. Presidents of Texas' tax-supported colleges and universities have come out against adding any more schools to the state's higher education system.

Their reasons: (1) we've got enough already and (2) there isn't enough state money to go around.

University of Houston is seeking admission. Its case will be heard by the Commission on Higher Education in April. Commission will report to the Legislature, which makes the final decision, in 1961.

Del Mar College of Corpus Christi, a municipally-supported junior college, would like to follow the course of Arlington College and become a state-supported four-year college.

Council of State College Presidents joined unanimously in a statement that to add more schools to the state system now or in the near future would be "a grave mistake."

Texas, said the Council, supports more colleges and universities, and contributes to the support of more junior colleges (32) than any state except California.

Ninety-five percent of our people live within 100 miles of a state college now, the Council advises.

CHILDREN'S AID REFORM URGED

Texas' aid to dependent children program seems to be creating more of the same social ills it was supposed to alleviate.

This is the verdict of the Texas Research League after a two-year study made at the request of the State Welfare Department.

It seems that these abandoned children — those whom the parents refuse to support, or can't often grow up to have children they too won't or can't support.

Welfare workers are seeing more and more second and third generation cases, said the League.

League recommends re-shaping the whole program to put the emphasis on rehabilitation. At present, says the League, the program does little or nothing to help families help themselves or to get at the problems that caused them to be in need in the first place.

ADC payments go to about 105,000 persons in Texas — 80,000 children and 25,000 parents. Cost: $21,000,000 a year, of which 80 percent is federal money.

LEGISLATIVE EXPENSE RULING

Legislators who carry out between-sessions committee assignments are entitled to $8 a day and 8 cents a mile for travel, according to an attorney general's ruling.

A special law covers the expenses of members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Budget Board. They may be reimbursed for the actual cost of meals, rooms and other expenses incidental to this work.

Regular pay for state employees traveling on state business is $9 per day and 8 cents a mile.

BIG BUSINESS

Texas General Land Office, sometimes described as "the biggest real estate agency in Texas," did a land office business during 1959.

Land Office, which is the management and collection agency for the state's public lands, took in $60,83,603 in the past year. This came from oil and gas royalties, bonuses, grazing rentals, etc.

Main beneficiaries were the public school permanent fund and the University permanent fund. In addition, 18 other funds received deposits.

Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn said 384 veterans paid off their land loans, bringing in $2,352,767 that can be used for more veterans' loans.

SEGREGATION SUIT SIDESTEPED

Dallas is in a bind between a federal court order to desegregate its schools and a state law prohibiting desegregation without a local option election.

State Supreme Court has refused to overturn a lower court ruling that Dallas was not entitled to a court order freeing it from the effects of the state's anti-integration law. A law passed in 1957 says that a school district that integrates without a local option election shall lose its state aid. For Dallas this would be some $2,600,000 a year.

A federal court ordered Dallas schools in 1955 to integrate "with all deliberate speed."

Specially Adapted Housing Available to Handicapped Vets

A grant of money from the Veterans Administration to aid in acquiring specially adapted housing is now available to certain blinded veterans as well as eligible veterans who have lost the use of both legs, the VA said.

A new law extends this benefit to veterans who, because of permanent and total service-connected disability, have lost or lost the use of both legs, or who are blind in both eyes and have lost the use of one leg, and who cannot get about without the aid of braces, crutches, cane or wheelchair. The former requirement that loss or loss of use of legs must be due to certain specific cause has been eliminated.

The VA's contribution, which may not be more than 50 percent of the cost of the home nor in excess of $10,000, is a grant and need not be repaid by the veteran. The money may be used to pay part of the cost of building a new house, buying an existing house, or remodeling a home already owned by the veteran.

The house must contain certain desired features made necessary because of the veteran's physical condition. Items required include ramps, wide doors, larger bathroom, and lowered switches. The grant is provided to enable the veteran to have a home specially adapted to the circumstances of wheelchair living.

Veterans interested in applying for this benefit should call or write the nearest VA office for complete information.

Ft. Worth Prepares For Annual Fat Stock Show

Fort Worth is "Going West" for the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show January 29 through February 7. To publicize the Stock Show, citizens of Fort Worth are donning western wear, including bow ties with Fort Worth Stock Show printed on them. Hasty vests as of old ten-gallon hats and polished boots.

Local merchants are encouraging their employees to join the fun and wear western clothes. Poster trip personnel from Fort Worth Civic clubs are being presented the bow ties. Even downtown bank personnel are going western.

The Stock Show will open on January 29 with a mammoth western parade through downtown Fort Worth starting at 2:00 p. m. The parade will include hundreds of riders, numerous bands and horse drawn vehicles. The first trail ride for the Fort Worth Show will start in Teague on January 23 and arrive in Fort Worth in time to participate in the opening parade.

Rex Allen, "Mister Cowboy" of radio, TV, movies and recordings, will arrive in Fort Worth on January 27 and will be star of the show. Rex will have his beautiful horse KOKO and his musical group "The Men of the West" with him for an act especially designed for the Fort Worth Rodeo.

Harry Knight of Fowler's Colorado will again produce the Fort Worth Show. He has produced the show three times previously as well as many other major shows. He'll have stock as costly as today's cars and as mean as horns to give the cowboys a spill and spectators a thrill. Verne Elliott will be here to assist Knight.

You'll enjoy the exciting Barrel Race put on by 36 Ranch Girls, especially invited to ride because of their abilities. They are sponsored by a ranch or their local city and will be a sight to see wearing their colorful western apparel and riding the famous Clover Leaf pattern in each rodeo performance.

Whether you are a new or old-time rodeo fan, you'll be pleased to know that the daring trick riding events, formerly a part of the Fort Worth Rodeo, are back again. Naomi (Sparky) Dent, Rex Rossi, Wanda Cusin, Virginia Hadley and J. W. Stoker will be performing daring feats on swiftly moving horses. They'll be doing Around the Horn Vaults, Reverse Cruppers, Double Vaults, Somersault Drags, Cartwheels and Somersaults.

Tickets are still available to all rodeo performances. You may obtain them by writing to the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P. O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas.

Ticket prices remain the same this year as last with Monday through Thursday afternoons and Saturday morning, January 30, 10:00 a. m. $2 and $2.50. All nights and Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons are $2.50 and $3. All prices include admission to the Stock Show

Economist Discusses 1960 Turkey Situation

College Station — Turkey production in 1960 may be up to the 1959 record and very likely could exceed it. Producers' intentions indicate a 22 percent increase over last year in the number of heavy breeder hens, to be on hand January 1, 1960, a 9 percent decrease in Bronze hens, and a 16 percent decrease in Beltsville. This means an overall decrease of 4 percent.

Although producers intend to keep fewer breeder hens for the 1960 crop, the possible cut in breeders could be offset by fuller utilization of hatching eggs. According to John McHaney, extension economist, the strengthening of prices paid to producers for turkeys during December 1959 may very well cause turkey producers to increase their intended production.

The use of risk sharing plans in turkey production also helps to explain why 1960 output is likely to continue large, McHaney explained. By and large, the financial backers of turkey producers in 1959 found that their extensions of credit were fully covered by proceeds from the venture. This should make them interested in repeating since the venture is a means towards assuring continued sales of feed, poultry and supplies in 1960. Generally, returns to producers have evidently been large enough to more than cover costs of production.

Game Magazine Has Article On Black Drum

Austin — The drum is a valuable commercial fish, it is very tasty, and is considered by many to be a fine game fish, according to Ernest G. Simmons in his very interesting article "Drumming Along," in the January issue of Texas Game and Fish.

Simmons, a marine biologist for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, points out that the drum's position as an edible food is indicated by the fact that they comprise a major portion of commercial food fish sold in South Texas. Some opinions of persons who know the fish, writes Simmons, indicate that the fish is of little value. Nevertheless, "Many a fisherman has enjoyed battling a drum, especially while he thought he had a redfish on the hook."

The magazine's January issue cover carries a lifelike painting of the drum by San Antonio artist, Clay McGaughy.

Other articles of interest in the magazine include one on Texas bison, "Vanquished Lord" by Bob Slaughter; one on the Big Hill Bayou Management Area, called "Modernizing the Marsh" by Ed Holder; an interesting piece on fossil oysters entitled "Nephume's Memento" by Sandra Pounis; one on Lake J. B. Thomas, by Tommy Hart; and a picture round up of the public deer hunts held in Texas this year.

New Pension Law And It's Effects On Vets, Dependents

PART III

How will it affect me? Many thousands of veterans and their dependents are asking this about the new pension law recently enacted by Congress. The Santa Anna News asked the Veterans Administration for answers to basic questions about this complex legislation. Here are the answers in the third of five installments.

Q. In order to compare the new pension system with the present one, what is the amount of pension a single veteran may receive now?

A. At present any World War I, II or Korean conflict veteran if he is single and drawing a pension receives $66.15 a month unless he is 65 years of age or older, or has been on the pension rolls 10 years, in which event he draws $78.75. Those who become blind or so helpless as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person, receive $135.45 per month.

Q. Now what will single veterans receive under the new system after July 1, 1960?

A. The new system is planned to relate the amount of pension paid to the need of the pensioner. Thus a veteran without dependents may receive a pension of $83 a month if his annual income is not more than $600; $70 a month if his income is above $600 but not more than $1,200; and $40 a month if his income is more than $1,200 but not more than $1,800. If his annual income is more than $1,800 he receives nothing.

Q. What pension does a veteran with dependents receive at present?

A. He receives the same amount of pension as the single veteran receives. His only advantage is that he may continue to draw the pension if he has an annual income as high as $2,700, whereas the single veteran cannot draw a pension if his annual income exceeds $1,400.

Q. How will the veteran with dependents fare under the new system?

A. A veteran with one dependent may receive $90 a month if his annual income is not more than $1,000; $75 a month if his annual income is more than $1,000 but not more than $2,000; and $45 a month if his annual income is more than $2,000 but not more than $3,000. If his annual income is more than $3,000 he receives nothing.

Q. What about the veteran with more than one dependent?

A. A veteran with two dependents may receive monthly pension payments of $95, $75 and $45 in the same three income ranges noted above. A veteran with three or more dependents may receive monthly payments of $100, $75 and $45 in those income ranges.

Q. What will the new system do for veterans who require regular aid and attendance?

A. Under the new law all pensions will be increased $70 a month for veterans who require regular aid and attendance.

VA Budget Request Reflects Balance

The Veterans Administration budget request for Fiscal Year 1961 reflects a relative balance between expanding and declining veterans benefit programs.

This was reported today by Summer G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, in response to inquiries resulting from the presentation of the President's annual budget message to Congress.

The total VA budget request for the fiscal year is $5,463,845,000. This request, presented for consideration by Congress and its House and Senate Appropriation Committees represents an increase of slightly less than six percent over the $5,156,721,000 appropriated a year ago.

After reaching a peak of $9,352,909,655 in Fiscal Year 1947, sums appropriated for veterans' benefits and services declined gradually to a point during the last five years when appropriations ranged between $4.8-billion and $5.3-billion.

The largest single item in the new budget request, $3,840,000,000 is for compensation and pension payments to veterans and dependents, an increase of $435-million over the Fiscal Year 1960 figure. All of this increase is attributable to the addition of veterans and dependents to the pension rolls, including some 277,000 veterans, widows and children expected to become eligible under provisions of the new pension bill enacted into law last August.

On the other hand, Whittier said, the estimated total requirements in the field or readjustment benefits, GI loans, GI training, etc., will be $175-million dollars less than the current year because of a declining workload forecast which current trends indicate to be realistic. Chief among these is an estimated decrease of about 100,000 in the number of Korean Conflict veterans in Vocational Rehabilitation and Education programs. The readjustment benefit requests in the new budget is $410-million, compared with $385-million a year ago.

General operating expenses have been reduced more than 12-million dollars as a result of reduced workloads, and management economy, including the application of automatic data processing equipment in VA's GI insurance program, Mr. Whittier said. Another ADP Center has been established in Chicago to centralize the 4,600,000 monthly benefit payments to veterans and their dependents. The budget request for general operating expenses is $154,054,000; in Fiscal 1960, it was $166,190,000. The amount requested for general operating expenses is a little less than three percent of the total VA budget.

The recommended appropriation of $903,502,000 for inpatient and outpatient care reflects about a 2 percent increase in these categories. This will make possible some increase in the average daily patient hospitalization load. However, a significant feature of the requested medical funds pertains to improved staffing ratios in Veterans Administration hospitals which will directly relate to an

Banded Tetras Proves Good Bass Minnow

Austin — Experiments by biologists of the Game and Fish Commission have established that the Mexican banded tetras is a top fishing minnow, in areas where the water temperature does not drop below 55F degrees.

Tests were made in a number of small lakes and ponds in south Texas, which indicate that the tetras will reproduce in those areas. However, it also was determined that the tetras is susceptible to cold water.

According to a report made by Alvin Flury, project leader, the increase in white and black bass population in Falcon Lake near Zapata has brought about an apparent scarcity of the tetras in that lake. In 1956, the prevailing price on tetras in Zapata went from $2 to $4 per gallon. By 1959 the price had climbed from $10 to $12 per gallon. Because of the high predation on the part of both black bass and white bass, the supply of the minnow became so low that a number of the minnow fishermen were compelled to stop operation.

Experimental stocking of this new minnow was attempted on 16 farm ponds in the south Texas area. These experiments included lakes that had contained black bass and other types of fish. It was shown in some of these experiments that the tetras can spawn and raise young in small ponds in the presence of young bass and even smaller numbers of adult bass. On one pond that had been stocked with 400 tetras from Falcon Reservoir in February, 1958, the owner trapped 32 gallons of the minnow by May of 1959.

"It is obvious from this pond that the tetras are able to live and reproduce successfully in ponds in this region, if they are not subject to predation by larger fish," Flury said.

improvement of the high standards of Veterans Administration medical care. Mr. Whittier said. Last year the proposed requirements were $682,371,000.

Another program expected to show a decline involves veteran's insurance and indemnities. This program is expected to reflect a reduction of $4.2-million compared with last year. Present request is $48,800,000, while a year ago, it was $53-million dollars.

The Veterans Administration budget foresees the need for funds amounting to $75-million dollars for the planned and orderly modernization and replacement of some existing obsolete VA hospitals. This proposed figure, reflecting $43-million dollars more than construction funds a year ago, is part of a long range $900-million dollar plan to be spread over twelve consecutive years at the rate of $75-million dollars a year. This years request would initiate this program, Mr. Whittier said.

He said that maintenance, repair and construction improvement in VA's network of hospitals and office installations is a never ending proposition, and plays a vital part in the entire structure of veterans' benefits and services.
