Mountain Echoes

By Barbara Kingsbery

On display at Phillips Drug Store last week was a small statue of a retired gin operator. It seems the mounted cowboy is for Pierre Rowe, given by his daughter-in-law. Sorry we didn't know Pierre was a guitar player, or that he plans to retire!

We have long known that what you hear in a small town can be believed less than half the time, and now we know for sure that you can believe just half of what you read! Stories in the NEWS and the Brown County Gazette recently told of the SA-Bangs girls "B" team basketball game. The NEWS stated that Santa Anna won the game. The Gazette reported that the Bangs girls won, also by a 40-39 score! We continue to believe the NEWS version which came directly from coach Zelma Strickland.

Former NEWS editor Albert Cooper visited briefly in the office Monday afternoon. He was editor here in 1964, and presently lives in Lampasas. Mr. Cooper has been in the newspaper business in many towns throughout the state.

Most local people were distressed at the Colt victory over the Dallas Cowboys last Sunday. One avid sports fan said he was going to start watching the soap operas and quit football. After the next Sunday afternoon game, that is!

A recent visitor to the State Capitol in Austin noted that parking places are scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth, mainly around the capitol area. In the capitol press room a sign is posted with an adaptation of the Governor's traffic safety slogan. The sign begs, "Please Park Friendly."

The Coleman County 4-H and FFA livestock show ended with the auction sale last week, and was a very successful event. The sales totaled $25,667 for the 217 animals sold.

Tabulations show that 28 steers sold for a total of $9,600.21. This is an average price of $345. A total of 103 hogs were sold for $8,501.75—an average price of $82.54. In the lamb sale, 86 were sold for $7,505.79, an average of $87.28 per head.

Many local and area merchants and individuals helped with the purchase of the livestock. A list of buyers from Santa Anna and the surrounding community will be given elsewhere in the NEWS.

The 1971 sale was under the record $28,212 receipts last year, but well over the $18,282 mark from two years ago.

Mr. L. G. Mathews Severely Burned, Still Critical

Gid Mathews of Coleman, a former Trickham resident, is still in critical condition in the Scott and White Hospital in Temple where he is being treated for burns. Mr. Mathews was burned on his legs and body at his home in Coleman on December 28, and has been in the Temple hospital since that time.

A sister, Mrs. Will Haynes, was in Temple twice last week to visit with Mr. Mathews.

EARL HARDYS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy of Post, former residents of Santa Anna, were in town Monday visiting friends.

SAHS TEAMS TO PLAY MOZELLE IN BASKETBALL GAMES FRIDAY

Santa Anna High School girls basketball team is leading the district with a perfect 7-0 record for the season. The SAHS boys have a 3-4 record for the season.

At the local gymnasium last Tuesday night the girls defeated the Talpa-Centennial girls 35-32 under the scoring of Sherri McIver with 15 points and Patti Perkins with 14. Linda Dean led the rebounding with 10.

The Mounties lost to Tal-Cen 41-27. Ricky Beal scored 16 points and Tony Beal topped the rebounding with 10.

In Friday night games, the Santa Anna fens defeated the Rochelle girls by an easy 42-29. Gay Rutherford scored 17 points, Sherri McIver and Patti Perkins 10 and 9 respectively. Linda Dean rebounded for 10.

Playing without three of the Mountie starters, the local boys lost to the Hornets 65-38. David Horner scored 16 for high point honors for SAHS. Rocky Dean led the rebounding.

The SAHS teams had an open date Tuesday night and will continue district competition Friday night at the local gym. They will host the Mozelle teams beginning at 7:00 p. m. The Mozelle boys are leading the district standing and the Mozelle girls are in third place behind Talpa-Centennial.

Gail Robinett Correspondent For Magazine

Gail Robinett, 17, 204 South 7th Street, Santa Anna has been named Co-ed correspondent for the 1970-71 school year, according to an announcement by Miss Margaret Hauser, editor of the Co-ED magazine. CO-ED, published nationally by Scholastic Magazines, Inc., for home economics students, contains articles on fashion, food, beauty, home furnishings, and fiction.

Miss Robinett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Robinett, is a senior at Santa Anna High School. She was appointed correspondent by Mrs. Winnie McQueen, home economics teacher.

Selected for qualities of leadership and enthusiasm for home economics, Miss Robinett will serve as junior adviser to CO-ED editors. Like the other Co-ed correspondents throughout the United States and Canada, she will keep the editors informed of activities at her school.

RITA RENDON GETS LVN CAP

Miss Rita Rendon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rendon, was one of the nine students who received their licensed vocational nursing caps in a ceremony January 8 in Coleman. Miss Rendon was a member of the class at the Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital.

The candlelight ceremony was held at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church and those on the program were Lora Williams and Fay Jones, instructors, Robert Jameson, hospital administrator, and Paul Hubbard, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

Father Leo Dierling of the Sacred Heart Church was the guest speaker, and special music was presented by the Concho trio.

Miss Rendon, a 1967 graduate of Santa Anna High School, also attended Angelo State University.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregg spent Wednesday through Saturday at Farmers Brank with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pirrello, Kevin and Shawn.

MEMBERSHIP MEETING FRIDAY FOR S-ANNA CEMETERY ASSN.

The annual membership meeting of the Santa Anna Cemetery Association will be held Friday night, January 22, at the downtown community center. The meeting is to begin at 7:30 p. m., and everyone interested in the local cemetery is urged to be present. Directors will be elected and reports from officers given.

Brotherhood Day Special Service At FBC Sunday

The First Baptist Church will have a special Brotherhood Day observance Sunday January 24, at the 11:00 o'clock morning worship service. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Cameron Byler of Irving, director of the Texas Royal Ambassador organization.

Men of the church will be in charge of the service and there will be a men's choir.

Following the service there will be a fellowship dinner at the annex with the men of the church to furnish meat and beans and ladies attending to take salad and desert.

Everyone in the community is invited to attend the special Men's Brotherhood service and remain for the noon meal.

Santa Anna VFD Has Four Calls On Past Week

The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department answered four calls last week. Two were grass fire along the railroad right-of-way, and extinguished without major damage.

The third fire was a vacant house south of the football field, which completely burned. Firemen reported that the house was being used for storage of hay, and burned very quickly. Firemen controlled the blaze and kept it from spreading to neighboring buildings.

Local firemen were on hand Monday and Tuesday at the Santa Anna Co-op Gin where the hulls and waste at the gin were on fire. The fire was accidentally started and endangered the gin building. Several firemen stayed throughout the day and night, and county equipment and employees aided in moving some of the hulls from near the building.

Directors whose terms expire this year are Pierre Rowe, Glen Copeland and Luther McCreary. Holdover directors are Mrs. O. M. Moseley, Mrs. Ed Jones, Arlie Welch, and W. B. Griffin. Mr. Griffin is currently serving as president of the association. Cemetery officials urge everyone in the community to attend the annual meeting on Friday night.

Second Semester For SA Students

Santa Anna school students began the second semester of school this week after completing their first semester examinations last week.

Faculty members had a work day Friday, and on Monday attended the in-service training workshop at Robert Lee. Sponsored by the Texas Small School Association in this area, the workshop was the third of five planned for the year.

McCain Grandson Fatally Burned, Buried at Whon

Buck McCain Mooney, 20, of Midland died about 3:30 a. m. Friday, Jan. 15, in a Midland hospital from burns suffered over 95 per cent of his body about 10:00 p. m. Thursday. Funeral services were held in Midland with burial in the Whon cemetery Saturday afternoon.

The young man, a student at Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos, was the son of the former Montie McCain and a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCain, donors of the Whon cemetery property.

According to Midland police the boy apparently doused himself with kerosene and ignited his clothing. Mooney's father told police that he and his wife had gone to bed and thought their son had, too. Mooney told police he was awakened by screams and ran to the garage where he found his son leaning against a wall engulfed in flames. Police said the boy was also standing on an exposed electrical wire.

The young man was taken by ambulance to a hospital where he died about five hours later.

Mooney was born June 18, 1950, in Japan where his father was stationed with the Air Force. They moved to Midland in 1953. He was a 1968 graduate of Midland Lee High School.

Survivors are the parents; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mooney; one brother, John H. of Corpus Christi; two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Killebrew of Dothan, Ala. and Mrs. Lenora Kelley of Columbus, Ga.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Local college students have returned to school after a long winter vacation.

Those returning to Tarleton State College are Dale Herring, Jerry Horner, Vicki Jo Neff, Pascal and Patrick Hosch, and Don Fitzpatrick.

At Texas Tech for the spring semester are Jimmy Eubank, Nolan Perry, Ann Martin, Sue Kingsbery, Corky Wise, and Eugene Davenport. A transfer student at Tech is Miss Cathy Newman of Denver, Colo., granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman. Cathy attended the University of Colorado last fall.

At Cisco Junior College is Tommy Niell. Returning to Ranger Junior College Sunday was Willie Lee Terrell.

Boots Walker, Eddie Paul Voss and Joe Rutherford are back at Angelo State University for the spring semester.

Several students will be back at Howard Payne College from our community. Dickie Horner, a junior, will attend HPC this semester after attending Texas Tech. Others returning to class there are Mrs. Dwight Hudson, Mrs. Gayla Hornell and Laura Jean Beckwith.

Local Merchants and Individuals Are County Livestock Sale Buyers

Merchants and individuals from throughout Coleman County purchased livestock at the recent FFA and 4-H livestock show auction aiding the young exhibitors with their projects. Those who bought an animal belonging to a Santa Anna exhibitor are the following:

Santa Anna National Bank
Santa Anna Tile Company

MARK WISE TRIPLE WINNER AT ABILENE FAT STOCK SHOW

Mark Wise, veteran FFA showman, won two of the four champion fat lamb awards Monday at the Abilene Fat Stock Show. Mark's entries received the top place in the finewool and South-down divisions. Mark also won the Judges Trophy for the best sheep exhibit, given by Rodger Howell of Kingfisher, Okla. The sheep exhibit was won by Mark's brother, Korky Wise, in 1966.

Cemetery Assn. Gifts Listed

Several out of town people have made donations to the Santa Anna Cemetery Association for the improvement fund to construct restrooms at the cemetery. Recent donors have been the following:

Mrs. E. M. Tisdale, Brady Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Baker, Breckenridge
Mrs. Gertrude Mobley, Santa Cruz, Calif.
E. M. Rainey, Evansville, Wis.

The only memorial donation received the past week included a gift from Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Moseley in memory of the late Arthur Talley. All undesignated donations and memorial gifts will be used for special project at the local cemetery.

Townhall Meeting Held In Coleman To Aid Industry

Several local residents were on hand last Thursday night for a Coleman-Coleman County town hall meeting held in Coleman. Mayor Robert Markland, former Santa Anna resident, announced a plan for the City of Coleman to aid in industrial expansion for Coleman.

A percentage of revenue from the city owned electricity plant will be given the Industrial Foundation to help induce industry to locate in Coleman.

Markland's announcement came at the conclusion of the meeting which was held at the County courtroom before a capacity crowd.

Those attending the meeting also wrote suggestions for Coleman Chamber of Commerce projects for 1971.

Crossbred Steers Top County Show

The Coleman County livestock show ended last Tuesday with the steer judging and auction sale. The only Santa Anna steer exhibitor, David Horner, showed the third place heavyweight Hereford; eighth place medium weight Hereford; and fourth place lightweight Hereford. Grand champion steer of the show was a heavyweight crossbred steer, showed by Kit Horne of Coleman. The steer was bred by Charlie Avants of Gouldbusk. Randy Burdick of Coleman had the reserve champion steer, also a crossbred.

It was the first time in the history of the county show that a crossbred steer took top honors. Many local exhibitors are in Abilene this week for the stock show.

A junior at SAHS, Mark started the year's show circuit at Dallas, where he had champion finewool lamb, at the State Fair, then showed the champion Hampshire lamb at the Heart of Texas Fair at Waco.

At the Santa Anna chapter show he had the champion and reserve champion finewool lambs and champion medium wool entry. At Odessa Mark had the reserve champion finewool lamb.

Other local winners in the Abilene show included Hank Wise, Susan and Elaine Newman.

Bruce Cammack Funeral Held Last Tuesday

Funeral services were held at the Stevens Chapel in Coleman Tuesday morning for Bruce Cammack, 43, who died Sunday morning, Jan. 17, in the Brownwood Community Hospital of an apparent heart attack. Burial was in the Santa Anna cemetery.

Born March 27, 1927, in Coleman County, he married the former Sandra James on August 7, 1954, in Brownwood. He was a lifetime resident of Coleman County, a veteran of World War II, and a truck driver.

Survivors include his wife; one daughter, Kelly, of the home; his mother, Mrs. Lela Cammack of Kerrville; three brothers, Virgil and Dewey Cammack, Leavenworth, Kan. and Alvin Cammack of Brownwood.

JHS Basketball Next Play Feb. 1

The Santa Anna Junior High School basketball teams will have their next games on Monday night, Feb. 1, when they go to Blanket for games beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Results from the last week's Blanket tournament included two losses for the girls and boys teams and elimination from the tournament.

In the Thursday round of play the Santa Anna teams were both defeated by the Comanche teams. The score of the girls game was 15-49, and the local junior boys lost 51-20. In the second games in the consolation bracket, the girls were defeated by the Talpa-Centennial girls and the boys lost to May.

At Bangs Monday night, the JHS girls won 15-14 over the Bangs girls but the boys lost to Bangs 46-9.

MRS. STOCKARD'S GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Morris McFadden, Lynn, Marlinda, and Mark and two friends, Steve Terry and Cindy McIntire, all of San Angelo, and Leroy Stockard of Abilene, visited Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Roy Stockard.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE has its work cut out for it as it convened Tuesday for the 62nd session.

Not the least of its problems is where to get additional tax money for the next biennium. Governor Preston Smith is scheduled to offer some solution to the problem in his speech to the joint houses but whether the members go along with him is something else.

Another problem which the session will face is what to do about the Constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pass enabling laws for liquor by the drink. They are also required to establish regulations, and predictions are that such legislation will be difficult.

If the enabling legislation allows for local option elections, then any precinct can vote in liquor by-the-drink and all surrounding precincts will have the problem with none of the say.

Local option for liquor is the most unfair type of legislation that can be devised. Instead of allowing the majority of the people in a county vote, a small segment can get together and vote liquor, but the whole area has the problem of regulation and law enforcement.

There are also instances where commissioners have changed precinct boundaries where the precinct can become wet by eliminating a segment which would vote against it. There is a day of reckoning, however, when election time comes again.

Texas voted for liquor by the drink by a very small majority, only 63,999 votes out of nearly two million votes cast. Out of 244 counties in the state, 260 voted against, but because the population centers voted for it, the measure carried.

We give credit to the balogna method for getting it passed. Propaganda swayed many people to vote for it, which has been the case since 1930 when the cry was for "non-intoxicating" 3.2 beer.

That was fed the people until in 1930 they passed the act, on a local option basis, but the balogna began again and in 1935 the ban on liquor was lifted. At that time the liquor industry insisted that they were against the "open saloon" but they knew that the people would not fall for too much at one time. They had to wait a long time to get that through.

But for the last 20 years some members of the Texas Legislature have been trying to get the saloon act passed. They finally made it in the last Legislature, and it passed with the small majority in the general election.

The raising of tax money was one of the arguments of the proponents of liquor by the drink. We suggest that the Legislature raise what they need this session that way. Let's see if they can.

Instead the enforcement of the laws governing it will take all the tax money it raises and then some. In the long run, taxes on liquor will not pay the cost of administrating the act.

But people still continues to swallow the "baloney" that the propagandists put out.

One of their arguments was "they are going to get it anyway, so we might as well legalize it." They will continue to murder, and take dope and break the laws in many way, too, so let's legalize those acts also. It makes as much sense.

They also said it would take the drunken driver off the road — we predict that the day will come when they have to eat those words.

But they have done it — we will have to make the best of their stupidity.

Murderous Holidays

There is a rumor that Congress will soon be asked to outlaw three day holidays.

Probably not too much credence should be placed in this rumor but it makes as much sense, if not more than the hysteria raised over gun control.

After all, any national three day holiday usually results in the grisly toll of somewhere around 600 people killed, with no particular count made of the number who are maimed.

Now a nut is a nut whether he has his hand on a gun, on the steering wheel around a butcher knife, or if he stands up in a canoe.

Of course, a lot of business would be eliminated if the use of firearms and other weapons were stopped, but so the Congress has not been able to cope with this situation.

In fact, it has appropriated funds to buy weapons, have announced they are going to see if "grass" is really helpful.

There has been a great deal of nonsense indulged in equating guns and political assassinations. Assassinations have no place in the American scheme. They are deplorable.

They were deplorable in the closing era of Rome, too. But it is significant that it was not until Roman political leadership became decadent that the rank of political assassinations became the vogue. Is it possible?

Last Tuesday afternoon 10 ladies quilted at the community center and three others came by later and visited with us. Two quilts were put in, one each for Lou Vaughn and Sug Stearns. It was a cold evening but we did not get too cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Henderson spent the weekend at Sherman with their son and wife, the Donnie Hendersons. Also their daughter, Naomi and baby, came from Irving and visited them while there.

We were sorry to hear on Sunday that Mamie Lancaster's brother, Clyde King of Weatherford, died Thursday and was buried at Weatherford Saturday. He had been in bad health for some time. His three sisters attended his funeral. This is their last brother. Our sympathy is with the family.

Visitors with the O. J. Martins Saturday and Sunday were Carrie McClatchy and Mamie Stephens and grandbaby, and Ora Stacy and Letha Martin and Oma Lee Dockery. Mrs. Martin may be going to Temple in a few days for treatment.

Gayla Hornell took her grandmother, Keetie Haynes, to see her brother, Gid Matthews, at Temple last Wednesday. They found him about the same, just holding his own. But Sunday night his wife called Keetie that he was worse.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Boenicke visited the Oscar Boenickes Wednesday night. Sunday dinner guests with us were Melvin Platt and his girl friend, Mary Strittmatter of Fort Worth. Melvin preached at First Christian Church at Santa Anna Sunday morning.

Sunday afternoon visitors with us were Ima Boenicke and Nannie Brinson of Bangs, also Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bell of Fisk. They wanted to see Oscar's bottle collection.

Edna Laughlin and son, Billy Roy and Mildred Laughlin and Lee of Brownwood visited Minnie Wilson and Gray Laughlin Sunday evening.

SALT SCOOP

by Rosanna

Although summer usually is nice, winter is something else again. If you're up North, any way.

Winter in the "snow belt" means cold, windy, snowy weather—and icy roads. And it means one of the best friends we have around. Salt. Highway rock salt, to keep pavements bare and safe.

Before automobiles were improved, salt on streets was looked upon as a necessary evil. But now that we no longer blame it for causing our cars to rust, salt is being recognized as the lifesaver it has been all along.

The National Safety Council says that the only safe pavement is a bare pavement. Rock salt has a unique combination of valuable characteristics. Chemical efficiency. Economy. And speed of application.

Did you know that at 25° F. salt will melt about 15 times its weight in ice? And, at 30°, 45 times? Highway officials now try to put salt down before the snow and ice arrive, which makes plowing more effective, too.

All but two or three of the snow belt states have mileage death rates below the national average. Hard to believe, but true. And the national rate has declined in each of the past four years.

If you would like to know more about this cold weather friend, just clip this article and the name of your newspaper and send them to me marked "Story of Highway Salt." I will send you an illustrated 20-page booklet about the value of highway salt.

In Our Opinion

By W. T. HAYS

THE TEXAS LEGISLATURE has its work cut out for it as it convened Tuesday for the 62nd session.

Not the least of its problems is where to get additional tax money for the next biennium. Governor Preston Smith is scheduled to offer some solution, to the problem in his speech to the joint houses but whether the members go along with him is something else.

Another problem which the session will face is what to do about the Constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pass enabling laws for liquor by the drink. They are also required to establish regulations, and predictions are that such legislation will be difficult.

If the enabling legislation allows for local option elections, then any precinct can vote in liquor by-the-drink and all surrounding precincts will have the problem with none of the say.

Local option for liquor is the most unfair type of legislation that can be devised. Instead of allowing the majority of the people in a county vote, a small segment can get together and vote liquor, but the whole area has the problem of regulation and law enforcement.

There are also instances where commissioners have changed precinct boundaries where the precinct can become wet by eliminating a segment which would vote against it. There is a day of reckoning, however, when election time comes again.

Texas voted for liquor by the drink by a very small majority, only 65,000 votes out of nearly two million votes cast. Out of 244 counties in the state, 200 voted against, but because the population centers voted for it, the measure carried.

We give credit to the balogna method for getting it passed. Propaganda swayed many people to vote for it, which has been the case since 1930 when the cry was for "non-intoxicating" 3.2 beer.

That was fed the people until in 1930 they passed the act, on a local option basis, but the balogna began again and in 1935 the ban on liquor was lifted. At that time the liquor industry insisted that they were against the "open saloon" but they knew that the people would not fall for too much at one time. They had to wait a long time to get that through.

But for the last 20 years some members of the Texas Legislature have been trying to get the saloon act passed. They finally made it in the last Legislature, and it passed with the small majority in the general election.

The raising of tax money was one of the arguments of the proponents of liquor by the drink. We suggest that the Legislature raise what they need this session that way. Let's see if they can.

Instead the enforcement of the laws governing it will take all the tax money it raises and then some. In the long run, taxes on liquor will not pay the cost of administrating the act.

But people still continues to swallow the "baloney" that the propagandists put out.

One of their arguments was "they are going to get it anyway, so we might as well legalize it." They will continue to murder, and take dope and break the laws in many way, too, so let's legalize those acts also. It makes as much sense.

They also said it would take the drunken driver off the road — we predict that the day will come when they have to eat those words.

But they have done it — we will have to make the best of their stupidity.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS AS HEARD BY HEARD

Murderous Holidays

There is a rumor that Congress will soon be asked to outlaw three day holidays.

Probably not too much credence should be placed in this rumor but it makes as much sense, if not more, than the hysteria raised over gun control.

After all, any national three day holiday usually results in the grisly toll of somewhere around 600 people killed, with no particular count made of the number who are maimed.

Now a nut is a nut, whether he has his hand on a gun, on the steering wheel, around a butcher knife, or if he stands up in a canoe.

Of course, a lot of nuttiness would be eliminated if the use of marijuana and other narcotics were stopped, but so far the Congress has not been able to cope with this situation. In fact, it has appropriated funds to bureaus which have announced they are seeking to see if "grass" is really harmful.

There has been a great deal of nonsense indulged in equating guns and political assassinations. Assassinations have no place in the American scheme. They are deplorable.

They were deplorable in the closing era of Rome, too. But it is significant that it was not until Roman political leadership became decadent that the rash of political assassinations became the vogue. Is it possible

So, why not do away with three day holidays. A nut at the wheel is deadly. Perhaps the solution is to remove nuts from the American society.

If this were possible, it would be a great boon to the taxpayers as such action would surely thin the ranks of Washington bureaucracy.

Trickham News Notes

By Mrs. Oscar Boenicke

Last Tuesday afternoon 10 ladies quilted at the community center and three others came by later and visited with us. Two quilts were put in, one each for Lou Vaughn and Sug Stearns. It was a cold evening but we did not get too cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Henderson spent the weekend at Sherman with their son and wife, the Donnie Hendersons. Also their daughter, Naomi and baby, came from Irving and visited them while there.

We were sorry to hear on Sunday that Mamie Lancaster's brother, Clyde King of Weatherford, died Thursday and was buried at Weatherford Saturday. He had been in bad health for some time. His three sisters attended his funeral. This is their last brother. Our sympathy is with the family.

Visitors with the O. J. Martins Saturday and Sunday were Carrie McClatchy and Mamie Stephens and grandbaby, and Ora Stacy and Letha Martin and Oma Lee Dockery. Mrs. Martin may be going to Temple in a few days for treatment.

Gayla Hornell took her grandmother, Keetie Haynes, to see her brother, Gid Matthews, at Temple last Wednesday. They found him about the same, just holding his own. But Sunday night his wife called Keetie that he was worse.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Boenicke visited the Oscar Boenicke Wednesday night. Sunday dinner guests with us were Melvin Platt and his girl friend, Mary Strittmatter of Fort Worth. Melvin preached at First Christian Church at Santa Anna Sunday morning.

SALT SCOOP

by Rosanne

Although summer usually is nice, winter is something else again. If you're up North, anyway.

Winter in the "snow belt" means cold, windy, snowy weather—and icy roads. And it means one of the best friends we have around. Salt. Highway rock salt, to keep pavements bare and safe.

Before automobiles were improved, salt on streets was looked upon as a necessary evil. But now that we no longer blame it for causing our cars to rust, salt is being recognized as the lifesaver it has been all along.

The National Safety Council says that the only safe pavement is a bare pavement. Rock salt has a unique combination of valuable characteristics: Chemical efficiency. Economy. A wide field of application.

Did you know that at 25°F. salt will melt about 15 times its weight in ice? And, at 30°, 45 times? Highway officials now try to put salt down before the snow and ice arrive, which makes plowing more effective, too.

All but two or three of the snow belt states have mileage death rates below the national average. Hard to believe, but true. And the national rate has declined in each of the past four years.

If you would like to know more about this cold weather friend, just clip this article and the name of your newspaper and send them to me marked "Story of Highway Salt." I will send you an illustrated 20-page booklet about the value of highway salt.

Four From Club At Inauguration Square Dance

The Mountaineer Squares square dance club was represented at the big Inauguration Square Dance Ball in Austin this week. Those from the local group attending were Charlotte and Jay Lynn Moseley, Gale and Sammy Allen.

The big square dance ball was held at Gregory Gymnasium on the Texas University campus. Square dance callers were Marshall Flippo and Gary Shoemaker. Round dance leaders were John and Wanda Winters.

Square dancers from over the state were invited to the square dance ball, the first to be held during a Governor's inaugural festival.

The Santa Anna people went to Austin Tuesday afternoon and returned home after the ball.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED HERE WITH GIFT TEA

Mrs. Randall Jameson, the former Karen Mills, was honored with a bridal tea Saturday afternoon, Jan. 16, in the home of Mrs. W. F. Cawyer, at 507 Avenue A.

In the receiving line to greet guests were Mrs. Cawyer, Mrs. Jameson, and Mrs. Woodrow Jameson, mother of the groom. Mrs. Buck Mills, mother of the bride, was unable to attend due to illness. Miss Suzan Mills, niece of the bride, registered guests.

The bride's colors, pink and red, were carried out in the table appointments. The tea table was laid with an Irish linen outwork cloth centered with a floral arrangement of pink carnations and tall pink tapers flanked by the silver service and china.

Cake squares decorated with tiny pink carnations were served with coffee. Mrs. Tom Stewardson served cake and Mrs. Earl McQueen poured coffee.

Mrs. Cecil Stovall, Mrs. W. L. Campbell, and Miss Effie Copeland displayed the gifts. Other hostesses were Mmes. Ozro Eubank, Doug Moore, and Max Eubank.

The couple were married in the Mills home on December 5, and are making their home in Waco.

How to avoid unnecessary service bills---and beat inflation!

It's easy to avoid unnecessary appliance service calls.

How? Just be sure something's wrong with the appliance before you call a service technician.

Proof lies in the fact that appliance service companies report on automatic washers alone, about 40 per cent of first-year service calls could be avoided.

Service calls on most appliances could be avoided by following these two simple rules.

First, learn all you can about your appliance.

Second, check a few simple items before you call a technician. Not only is it embarrassing to have a service technician tell you the machine isn't plugged in or that a fuse is blown... it can be expensive, too.

How do you learn about your appliances?

When you purchase an appliance, ask the salesman for the owner's manual and installation guide before the unit is delivered. Then sit down with a cup of coffee and read both manuals thoroughly.

The owner's manual is your textbook and the salesman and service technician are your teachers. But it is your responsibility to use them. Ask questions. Don't be satisfied with the answers until you understand your appliance completely. And keep instruction books nearby for quick reference.

If you have lost your owner's manual, write the manufacturer. His address and model number (be sure to give the model number) will be stamped or printed on the appliance.

With proper use and care, you can expect years of trouble-free operation from your appliance. However, as any other machine, appliances may need occasional adjustment.

But, before calling the service technician check these items. They are the most common sources of unnecessary service calls:

1. Electric cord. Is it plugged in? This does happen.
2. Pilot light. Is it lit? Check your owner's manual before trying to light it.
3. Power source. Has a fuse blown or a circuit breaker moved to the off position?
4. Controls. Are they set correctly? Be positive by checking your owner's manual. Give pushbuttons an extra firm push and turn dials in the proper direction.
5. Lights. If not on, check the power source. If the bulb's burned out, your owner's manual will tell you type of bulb needed for replacement.
6. Dust, lint and dirt build-up. This reduces efficiency. Washer filters (if not self-

- Dust and dirt can block your air conditioner filter. Check your owner's manual for instructions in changing or cleaning the filter.
- Dust and dirt will also build up on the coils, back and beneath refrigerators and freezers. They should be cleaned periodically with a brush or vacuum cleaner attachment.
- Water supply. Is water flowing into the appliance? Be sure faucets are turned on and hoses not kinked.
- Doors and latches. Are they properly closed? Most appliances will not operate correctly unless doors and latches are closed tightly.

That's how to avoid the most common unnecessary appliance service calls. However, specific appliances have operating parts that may pose questions in your mind. These will be answered in future articles.

If you've made the basic checks and read your owner's manual and the appliance still doesn't operate correctly... it's time to call for help.

But don't call any fix-it man down the street. Get the job done right. Call your dealer and ask him to recommend a manufacturer's authorized service technician... or contact the manufacturer directly.

Your university extension center, utility home economist or county agent can be an additional source of information. Or, you may write me, Leslie Paige, Whirlpool Corporation, Benton Harbor, Michigan 49022.

By avoiding unnecessary service calls, you'll save money. That's one way to beat inflation.

'71 Hiway Maps The Best Ever

How do you make something even good better? In the case of the new 1971 Official State Highway Highway Map released by the Texas Highway Department it was easy.

This year's map includes the addition of three lakes, the designation of six new comfort stations on non-interstate routes, a new U. S. highway number designation from near Moore all the way to Mexico, and a new cover featuring a picture of the wonders of Padre Island National Seashore.

The map is a perennial favorite of Texas motorists. Over 1.2 million maps were distributed last year and projections for 1971 call for distribution as high as 1.4 million.

Added to the new official State Highway Map are Lake Franklin County; Lake Weatherford in Parker County and Lake E. V. Spence in Coke County.

Six safety rest areas on non-interstate routes now include comfort stations.

The '71 map will show a new U. S. Highway 57 designation from Interstate Highway 35 near Moore westward to Eagle Pass. This highway joins Mexican Federal Highway 57 at Eagle Pass and continues on to Mexico City. This is the first major international route under a single numeral designation in both countries, a distance of 930 miles.

The map shows some 2,320 miles of Interstate Highways open to traffic in Texas. When the national Interstate system is complete, Texas will have 3,176 miles of IH routes.

The map also reflects the realignment and improvement of many sections of other types of highway facilities in the state-maintained system.

Visitors will find expert assistance in planning travels in Texas at 11 tourist information bureaus operated by the Highway Department, including the Roy Bean Visitor Center and Cactus Garden at Langtry and in the Capitol Building in Austin.

Tourist information bureaus also are located at key highway gateways at Anthony, Laredo, Orange, Waskom, Texarkana, Denison, Gainesville, Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

Trained travel counselors in these bureaus and information centers assist more than one million tourists annually.

Safety rest areas are designated on the map with a small green square, roadside parks with the familiar green dot symbol.

Altogether, the Texas highway Department has provided approximately 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic viewpoints for the safety and convenience of highway users in Texas.

Other features of the map include listings of Highway Department district offices, Department of Public Safety Offices and State parks. A handy conversion table turns kilometers to miles and liters to gallons.

The Official State Highway Map is one of the most popular of more than 7.3 million pieces of travel-oriented literature distributed each year by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the map are available at Highway Department Tourist Bureaus and at Department district offices.

The map also may be ordered directly by sending your name, address and Zip code to Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P. O. Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78703.

Diamonds of industrial quality were discovered recently near Jerseyville, in Illinois.

Square Dance Saturday Night At C-C Center

Accent On Health

The most common communicable infection is the common cold, but ranking not far behind it in frequency is a group of infectious diseases which may come as a surprise to most persons—venereal disease.

Measles, rubella and chicken pox are diseases which are mentioned often, says the Texas State Department of Health, but VD is surging across the nation.

The United States Public

Health Service estimates that there were more than 1.5 million cases of gonorrhea and about 70,000 cases of syphilis in this country last year. But despite the widespread incidence of the disease it is considered a "silent epidemic" because few people outside the public health field seem to want to talk about, let alone admit the problem exists in such vast proportions.

One form of VD, gonorrhea, is so widespread in this country that public health officials say flatly that it is an epidemic. Only twice before has VD been considered of epidemic proportions in the United States. That was at the close of both world wars. The Public Health Service lists gonorrhea as the top problem among reportable communicable diseases in this country.

Texas has its share of venereal infections. The State Health Department communicable disease authorities can only guess at the actual case total, because not all cases come to official attention. Nearly 55,000 cases were officially reported last year. That's more than 150 cases each day, or more than one case every ten minutes.

In Texas more than 50 per cent of the venereal disease reported to the State Health Department is in young people 15 through 24 years of age. Texas is now reporting 10 per cent of all the venereally infected young adults in the nation.

The public still seem to lack an awareness and concern over Texas' VD problem, but the health department has sounded a call to action on the parts of private physicians and public health officials.

You as an individual can help! Both syphilis and gonorrhea can be cured. But it is important to go to a doctor or health clinic immediately if VD is suspected. The earlier treatment is begun, the easier the diseases are to cure.

Parents can learn the facts about syphilis and gonorrhea and see that their youngsters learn them, too, either at home or at school. Teachers are urged to tackle these diseases in their proper context in the school curriculum by at least the eighth grade. If you are a member of an organization, devote a meeting to finding out more about the VD problem and its solution. Excellent speakers and motion pictures are available on request from the health department. Single copies of educational leaflets written in easy to understand language are available free of charge from the State Health Department or your local health department. As a responsible citizen, you can urge others to actively support eradication of VD in Texas as a serious health problem.

INCOME INCREASE PROGRAM SET FOR STATE AGRICULTURE

A program to increase Texas agricultural income by more than a billion dollars by 1976 was announced by Dr. John E. Huthison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Services, in January of 1970.

This goal calls for $3.76 billion in total cash receipts by the end of the 1976 crop year, not including government payments; and was determined from projections by Extension specialists and individuals in the agricultural industry. A committee of agricultural economists with the extension service studied past production records and made projections for 1976 based on current trends and expected improvements in sure of the program's success. Texas presently accounts

Worm Program '70 Record Best

The Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program reported the lowest number of cases in its history for 1970. Program officials credit the successful year to "Getting sterile flies to target areas faster as cases were confirmed; careful analysis of the screwworm spread and planning of sterile fly drops; co-operation of livestock owners in reporting cases and a generally bad year for many species of flies. But no let up on the part of stockmen in submitting samples of worms taken from animal wounds is advised by program officials."

How to build a family nest egg with U.S. Savings Bonds.

It takes money to feed a family.
It takes money to clothe a family.
It takes money to house a family.
It takes money to send the kids to school, buy a car, give birthday presents, make insurance payments and pay the doctor.

With all the dues it takes just to make it from one day to the next, how's a man going to find a buck to tuck away? How's he going to sock away enough to make tomorrow a better day? How's a man going to build a family nest egg?

It might be easier than you think. All you have to do is sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. That way you can have a small amount taken from your paycheck, before you receive it, and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. Your nest egg grows automatically each and every payday.

And now, U.S. Savings Bonds pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year; 5.20% thereafter to maturity). That's the highest rate ever.

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Before you know it, those small deductions and the new interest rate will have grown into a comfortable kitty, a respectable family nest egg, a better tomorrow.

Take stock in America.
With higher paying U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Lost at the Laundry
Katherine went to neighborhood laundry to pick up her week's wash. But the proprietor greeted her with bad news.

"We had a burglary last night," he said, "and your bundles were stolen. I'm afraid you are just out of luck."

But Katherine decided that he, not she, ought to bear the loss. Filing suit for damages, she pointed out that the back door of the laundry had only the flimsiest kind of a lock, even though the building had been burglarized before. The court found the proprietor guilty of negligence, and ordered him to pay Katherine's claim.

When you leave clothing at either a laundry or a dry cleaner, you are creating what the law calls a "bailment." The company, as the bailee, must take reasonable care of your belongings. Although not to blame for an unavoidable loss, it is liable for a loss it could fairly have prevented.

Suppose the company tries to protect itself by a notice saying it is not responsible for losses of any kind. Does that make a difference?

Most courts will recognize some limitation, but not a total denial, of the company's liability. Furthermore, a notice has no legal effect unless it is properly brought to public attention.

In one case a laundry inserted into each finished bundle a small printed notice, placing a dollar limit on its liability for losses. But when a customer demanded payment for some missing items, the company was held liable in full. The judge said the dollar limit could not be part of the bailment contract, because it was not even mentioned when the clothing was first brought in.

On the other hand, the company too is entitled to "notice" of what it is accepting responsibility for. In another case, a man negligently left a ring in the pocket of a suit he sent to the cleaner. The ring vanished, and he put in a claim against the company for compensation.

But after a court hearing, his claim was turned down. The court said he could not blame the company for losing what it did not even know it had.

THE BUZZARD . . .

Nature's Garbage Disposal

Austin — Despite a multitude of traits which man might find loathsome in the turkey vulture, biologists tell us this scavenger earns, if not our respect, at least our tolerance.

As unappealing as the vulture may seem, he is preferable from a health point of view to the mess on which he feeds.

The ecosystem, it seems, is blind to what we might consider the vulture's faults. Whatever works is fine, and the vulture performs his function of cleaning up nature's leavings with both efficiency and gusto.

His digestive system is geared to destroy, and therefore keep from spreading, bacteria which would make other creatures deathly ill, and it has been suggested the vulture might have within its digestive system a secret serum that could cure many of the infectious maladies of man.

Turkey vultures are classic examples of natural adaptation. Their naked heads are free of feathers so the purifying rays of the sun can kill bacteria clinging there.

As further protection against infection, the turkey vulture's excrement has an antiseptic quality, and his inability to expel it past his legs aids in killing bacterial he might harbor there.

Being comparatively weak birds whose hooked beaks lack even the strength to tear the flesh from a freshly dead animal, turkey vultures must resort to other means of defense. When frightened away from a carcass, they disgorge the contents of their stomachs to lighten their load so altitude can be gained rapidly.

They also regurgitate food to feed their young, and the young soon pick up this trick to repulse attackers.

During a 45-day nesting period the male turkey vulture sits in attendance with the hatching female.

Two or three blotched eggs laid in a rotten log, a stump or on a dark ledge mark the beginning of yet another generation of scavengers.

ASC NEWS . . .

by Joe K. Taylor

Top farm program officials from Texas will be in Phoenix, Ariz., next week for a first hand briefing on the new Rural Environmental Assistance Program. Officials are Mrs. C. M. Moseley, Clarence A. Danklefs, chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, will head the delegation from Texas that will include State Committee members Charles L. Calhoun, Frank H. Hinkson, John Barry Rudd and Joe M. Villarreal; State ASC Executive Director D. W. McElwraith; and Program Specialists, N. B. McGuire and Harold Baker.

The meeting will be held on January 18 and 19 in Phoenix.

Announcement of the new program, a continuation of the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), was made by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin earlier this month. Secretary Hardin said that REAP will emphasize a broad attack on environmental problems created by the nation's farming operations.

Chairman Danklefs said announcement of the new program will permit resumption of the federal cost-sharing of various beneficial conserva-

Send a letter to North Vietnam.

Right now hundreds of Americans are being held captive in North Vietnam.

A few prisoners have made it back. They talk about bamboo cages. Vicious beatings. Malnutrition. Humiliation.

But the North Vietnamese will tell us nothing. And it's this silence that makes our appeal more urgent.

For the families at home, there is no word on who's alive. Who's dead. Or even who's being held. There is nothing. Except the anguish of not knowing.

Maybe you can change this. By writing to the one man who can change it. The President of North Vietnam.

Ask him to release the names of prisoners, allow them to write to their families, and let the Red Cross inspect the prisons to insure proper medical treatment and living conditions.

Remind him that he is bound by the 1949 Geneva Convention which his country signed. And by the Istanbul resolution.

North Vietnamese leaders do care about American public opinion. And if they think they can gain something by bowing to it, they will.

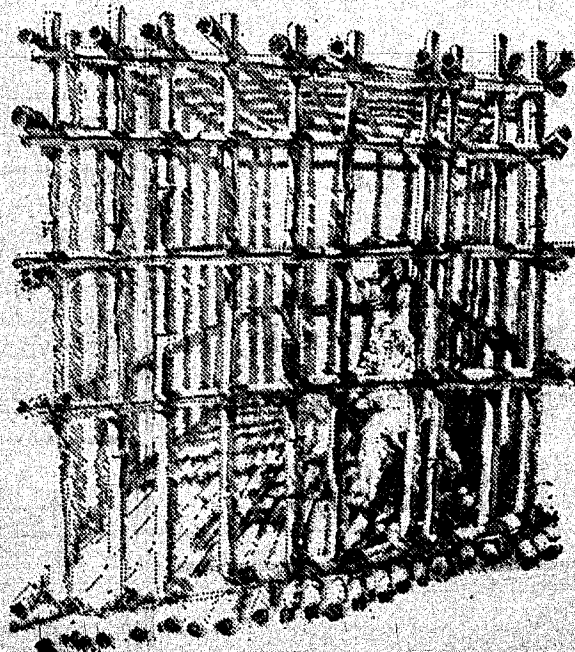

But one letter won't do it. Or a thousand. Maybe it will take millions. So we've got to write now. All of us. And often.

Write a letter tonight. And send it to: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam.

It'll cost you a quarter. But it might save a life.

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Maybe they'll open it.

Estate Planning Seminar Slated At Howard Payne

Brownwood — A seminar in estate planning for women is scheduled for the Howard Payne campus for Feb. 1-2, Dr. Guy D. Newman, HPC president, has announced.

The seminar will be jointly sponsored by the college and the Baptist Foundation of Texas, and is open to all ladies in this section of the state. There is no charge.

"This is strictly an educational seminar, and is designed to offer sound principles and practical instructions to those women interested in preparing themselves to handle their own financial affairs," Dr. Newman said.

The college and the Foundation sponsored a similar seminar in March of 1967. "While the subject matter to be covered is in general the same as our last seminar, there have been some changes in tax laws that make it pertinent to hold another meeting of this kind," Dr. Newman said.

Two Brownwood attorneys, an insurance man and a banker will discuss topics of interest on the program which will run both mornings of the two days.

Henry L. Evans, Jr., will discuss the subject, "What happens to the estate when the owner dies?" J. E. Johnson will talk on "Gift and estate taxes." Both will speak on Monday morning.

President Newman will be the speaker at a luncheon at 12 noon Monday.

Tuesday morning's sessions will feature a talk on "Practical economics of life insurance and social security," by Jack Pike, Jr. Dean Rippe, vice-president of First National Bank will discuss "Investment alternatives and opportunities."

Attend Church Regularly

All sessions will be held in Todd Hall in the basement of Fleming Religion Center.

Reservations are required for the two-morning affair, because of limited seating. Reservations should be made at the HPC Public Relations office, Phone 646-2502, Ext. 237.
