Dallas Chosen For Site Of The Texas Centennial

Defeated Cities Promise to Forget Differences and Unity Efforts

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 9, (AP)—Dallas was selected Sunday as the site for the main celebration of the Texas Centennial in 1936.

Dallas' offer of $7,791,000 in value was adjudged the best of three bids offered, the Centennial Commission announced at the end of four hours' deliberation.

Houston and San Antonio also sought the central unit of the observance.

Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, president of the commission, said Dallas was selected by a unanimous rising vote. He refused to reveal two previous ballots by which San Antonio and Houston were eliminated.

Details of the bids submitted by three cities also were not announced. In gross values, the commission said other bids were: Houston, $6,507,000, and San Antonio, $4,835,000.

Representatives of Houston and San Antonio immediately pledged unqualified support toward making the centennial a success.

Bid Details Revealed

An act of the Texas Legislature, which created the Texas Centennial Commission, directed it to conduct historical celebrations at San Antonio, Houston, Nacogdoches, Huntsville and other like places identified with Texas' early history.

Commissioners have referred to the celebration as a $15,000,000 project, but hopes for a centennial costing from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 were expressed. No definite plan for financing the exposition was announced, however. It was anticipated both the State and Federal Governments would be asked for substantial contributions.

While the commission declined to announce various items constituting the bids, it was learned Dallas offered $3,550,000 in cash and grounds of the State Fair, with properties, aggregating 245 acres, contingent upon the commission's procuring additional funds from other sources.

Lions to San Saba Next Tuesday

Several members of the local Lions Club will attend the quarterly district convention at San Saba next Tuesday. The local club will hold their regular weekly luncheon Wednesday instead of Tuesday next week.

W. DuBols and Emmett Day were initiated into the local club and made full-fledged lions. There are several other good men in Santa Anna who should be members of the Lions Club. Regardless of how you feel toward the Lions Club, the club is always trying to do good for the community, notwithstanding they may make mistakes, being human. However their intentions are good and the members are ever alert for an opportunity to do something elevating and beneficial to the community.

Come out to the mass meeting next Tuesday night and let us reason together on the pending bond election for water works improvement.

Mountaineers Working Hard

The Santa Anna Mountaineers are working hard every day on the practice field in order to get in good condition for the coming schedule which is the hardest that they have tackled in many years. Coaches Binlon, Dean, and Prescott are drilling the boys on fundamentals and before long they will be blocking, tackling, etc. with the best of them.

The team this year will be short on reserve material but the starting lineup will be fair and if the boys can stand a full season without getting hurt their chances in the district will go by the boards.

New men expected out this week are: Leon Morgan, H. B. Dockery, Jack Dillingham, and Roy Williams. They will be a big asset to the team and much is expected of them.

A complete schedule will be carried in this paper next week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Grady of Brownwood spent Wednesday with relatives in Santa Anna.

Mass Meeting Tuesday Night, Sept. 18

The Lions Club voted Tuesday at their regular weekly luncheon, to foster a call for a general mass meeting on the streets of Santa Anna at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night, September 18th, for the purpose of discussing the pending bond election to be held Tuesday, September 25th.

In the opinion of most people we have discussed the proposition with it seems the proper thing to do is to vote for the bonds. In the very language of the call, as is published in this issue of the News, the indebtedness does not inumber any property in the district except the net earnings of the water works system.

This statement, apparently, has been brought into question, but according to the revised printed forms, we are unable to see any question about it. It will not increase the taxes one cent, will not raise the water rent, does not inumber other property, and is what is termed by the Act of Congress, creating the Act and designating its purposes, classified as a Self Liquidating Loan, with approximately 30 per cent of the project donated to communities taking advantage of the plan, in order to improve water works systems and give employment to idle people. Its purpose is, also to give relief to communities where distressed families are on relief.

The editor would suggest that each voter read again the citation being published in the Santa Anna News calling for the Bond Election Tuesday September 25th, and see if you are not convinced that the statements made herein are true and correct.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION SOCIAL

There will be a get together social for all parents and teachers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Edwards Friday evening, September 14, at eight o'clock. Every father and mother is urged to come and get better acquainted with neighbors and teachers.

Mrs. W. H. Thate attended the Methodist Centennial in San Antonio last week.

Huge Cavern Containing Lakes and Mountain Found

Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, Famous Explorer, Says Devil's Sinkhole, Near Rocksprings, Biggest Cave He Has Ever Been In

Rocksprings, Texas, Sept. 1.—This little town, once almost swept off the map by a cyclone today is expecting nature to give it fame and fortune that will vastly outweigh the notoriety and destruction of the tornado.

Dr. Frank E. Nicholson, noted explorer of caverns, says the Devil's Sinkhole, near here, is bigger by far than any other cavern he has ever been in.

Dr. Nicholson and his party, who quietly have been exploring the "Devil's Sinkhole" in recent months, found beautiful formations and numerous lakes and ponds inside the labyrinth beneath the cedar covered hills of Edwards county. Water in the lakes is clear as crystal, many of the ponds are forty feet deep and their bottoms white as snow, Dr. Nicholson said. The water is as cold as that which flows from glaciers.

An entire mountain was found within the cave. Dr. Nicholson's survey shows the mountain, the peak of which is visible from the entrance to the "sinkhole," is 600 feet high and a mile in circumference.

"We haven't even begun to probe the depths of the 'sinkhole,'" Dr. Nicholson said.

Miles of caverns, corridors and underground canyons radiating from the cave entrance and the mountain have been explored by Dr. Nicholson and his party. They report other passages into which they have not ventured.

With visions of a steady stream of tourists coming into Rocksprings in later years and the world talking about the "Devil's Sinkhole," the people of Rocksprings, who are now ready to sell their goat flocks to the federal government's drought relief agents, are excited. It's to them what the discovery of a deep oil pool in its own back yard would be to any city in Texas.

The reason for ignorance of the existence of the cave thru the years is evident when one stands on the rock lip, looks out to the opposite side of the circular opening eighty feet wide, and gazes down. It is a straight drop of 271 feet to the top of the mountain within the cavern.

The "sinkhole" appears to be a vast globe hollowed out of the hills. At the present time, Nicholson's group is hoisting about twenty-five tons of guano out of the cave each day. This is showing a profit, but the main deposits of guano have not been discovered.

Estes-Martin

Miss Mattie Ella Estes of Rockwood and Mr. Walter Martin of Coleman were quietly married in Coleman last Friday and left immediately for Mineral Wells and Ft. Worth, returning to Coleman, where they will make their home, the first of the week.

Mrs. Martin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Estes of Rockwood, and is a graduate of the Rockwood School, the Santa Anna High School and has attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood for two years. She was a member of the Class of 1932 in the local High School. Mr. Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin of Coleman, and is employed in one of the firms in Coleman.

The News joins other friends in wishing for the happy young couple all the happiness life can afford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarborough returned last week from a visit in Corpus Christi. They returned by way of San Antonio and attended the Methodist Centennial there.

Tom Sealy of Austin visited his parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Sealy over the week-end.

Herbert Wall of New York City was a Santa Anna visitor Tuesday.

Brownwood Editor Visits Glass Factory

The following appeared in the "Around the Supper Table" column of the Brownwood Daily Bulletin last Saturday, September 8th.

"A long suppressed desire was gratified yesterday when this investigator journeyed over to Santa Anna and inspected the glass factory which is operated by the Knappe-Coleman Glass Company there. Fortunately, we found the plant in full speed operation, although the time was late afternoon; and the general Mr. Coleman, plant manager, exerted himself to demonstrate the various processes employed in the industry. The factory uses silica sand taken from the east mountain, and converts it into milk bottles. If all the sand in that mountain were manufactured into milk bottles and they were placed end to end, they would reach from here to Armageddon.

"The manufacturing process is not so complicated. That is, it is simple enough for us to understand. First the sand is dumped into a furnace, along with a quantity of another material whose scientific name we do not recall, and when it comes out of the furnace it is milk bottles. One steady look into that furnace, where three or four hundred thousand cubic feet of gas is burned each day, was enough to convince us of the existence of a hereafter for those who do not tread the straight and narrow way. All it needs is a bit of brimstone to make it a perfect abiding place for publicans and sinners."

"The moulding—or blowing, as the case may be—of milk bottles is done automatically by machinery, but men are required to see that the machinery does its work properly, like a wife sees that her husband doesn't weaken under the strain of his burdens. When the bottles come out of the mould they are so hot that it is necessary to place them in a red hot oven so they can cool off. Then all of them that do not get broken, and contain no defects, are packed in boxes and shipped or stored in the warehouse.

"The plant has a capacity of a carload of milk bottles per day, and at present is operating about four days per week. The cows of Texas will have to do their stuff if they expect to keep all those bottles filled. The product is shipped to several states, but most of it goes to Texas dairymen, as is right and proper. There is no reason for Texans buying bottles outside this state. The Santa Anna plant, incidentally, is the only one in Texas which is making milk bottles."

GRAND JURY ACTION WORK-THY OF COMMENDATION

I notice the recent grand jury demanded that the beer parlors be closed in Coleman County, and I take a special delight in commending the grand jury and the enforcement officers for this action. Coleman County is dry territory and every law-abiding citizen should rejoice in this decision and give the Judge, District Attorney and Sheriff's Department, as well as the Grand Jurors, their moral support in such action.

The spirit of lawlessness destroys economic, political, and social well-being. It is the mother of war, for that people which looks lightly upon lawlessness within its borders will soon come to disregard international law and war will be the inevitable result. This being the case, individuals owe it to themselves, their families, their community, and their nation to create within their own hearts a regard for law—all law. When we, as common citizens, come to have a high regard for the laws of the land it will be much easier for the enforcement officers to do their duty.

Fall Gardens Now in Order

COLLEGE STATION: "Sufficient rain has now fallen in many parts of Texas for fall gardens to be planted," says J. F. Rosborough, Extension horticulturist, "and other parts of the State." Seed should not be planted unless the soil is supplied with moisture to a depth of six or eight inches. Seed planted following a light rain will germinate, but if there is not enough moisture to sustain plant life the sprouting plants will die, Mr. Rosborough says.

To prepare the soil, plowing should be shallow, not going deeper than four or five inches. Immediately following the plowing, the soil should be pulverized to prevent clodding.

Rotted stable manure is the best fertilizer, as this material serves to retain the moisture and prevent the ground from crustling in the heat of September and October. If the fertilizer is thoroughly dried out, there will be no burning of the young plants as commonly supposed, Mr. Rosborough says. He adds that three or four wagon loads to a one-half acre garden is none too much. Where possible the seed bed should be allowed to settle for several days after the manure is applied so that the soil will be more compact and germination will be hastened.

In addition to the turnip greens and collards commonly grown in fall gardens, other leafy vegetables recommended are mustard, Los Angeles lettuce, Swiss chard, and the Copenhagen market variety of cabbage. Carrots, beets, radishes and turnips supply a variety of root crops. Pinto beans are the quickest type of bean to make a carp, but they are slightly stringy. The bountiful variety is stringless and one of the earliest maturing kinds.

Dengue Fever Season is Here

Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—This is the season for dengue fever, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Several cases of this disease have been reported to date, and no doubt will continue to increase until the first frost. In the past fifty years Texas has experienced three epidemics of dengue fever. The last occurring in 1922.

Dengue is characterized by sudden onset, headache, and pain in the back and limbs, especially the joints. The fever is of short duration but convalescence is slow. While causing great discomfort the disease is seldom fatal. However, the loss of time involved is a great economic loss. One attack is generally followed by immunity for a few years.

Dengue fever is caused by the bite of the same mosquito that transmits yellow fever. Those that have not studied mosquitoes are unable to distinguish the different species. Even though a mosquito is incapable of causing diseases such as dengue or malaria, they are very much of a nuisance.

To prevent dengue fever and other diseases transmitted by mosquitoes, the places where they propagate should be eliminated. All standing water should be drained or oiled, rain-barrels screened, old cans or anything that will hold water should be destroyed. Houses should be screened with sixteen mesh screen. Community wide mosquito campaigns will greatly aid in reducing this disease and add much to the comfort of the citizens.

W. T. Vinson was carried to the hospital early Wednesday morning suffering with an acute attack of appendicitis. Following an emergency operation his condition is reported satisfactory and he is on the road to recovery.

This has been a very interesting and important week in Santa Anna. The public schools opened here this week with 439 students enrolling the first two days.

There were 230 in the Ward School and 209 in the High School. Beginning with the 6th grade in the High School division, the enrollment is as follows: 6th grade, 46; 7th grade, 44; 8th grade, 45; 9th grade, 49; 10th grade, 47; 11th grade, 64; and four post graduates.

A few changes in the faculty have been made and the school year is starting off very encouragingly. Those of the faculty who taught last year and during the previous years did fine work, and most of them retired or were transferred to other schools upon their own volition. The Board of Education, however, was fortunate in finding others to take their places worthy of their hire.

The success of the school depends upon the faculty, students and patrons as a whole. Anything short of your best is not patriotism in pure American style. To achieve the very best in our school work, each will have to cooperate to the utmost of their ability and all do their part.

Maine Retains New Deal Governor

PORTLAND, Maine Sept. 10. (AP)—Governor Louis J. Brann, Maine's first democratic governor in 16 years, was reelected tonight in the face of republican demands for his defeat as a symbol of Maine's repudiation of the "New Deal."

Brann's victory was conceded by the republican Portland Press Herald.

It was the first time in Maine history that a democratic governor had won a second term. Brann, who went into office in the sensational democratic overturn two years ago, was the fifth member of his party to occupy the executive chair in this state since the Civil war.

With numerous urban precincts, generally democratic strongholds, yet to be reported, Governor Brann had a lead of 1,000 votes over his republican opponent, Alfred K. Ames, wealthy, retired lumberman in returns from close to half the state.

Brann ran far ahead of the rest of his ticket in his surge toward victory.

Another Maine tradition was shattered as the state voted by a 3 to 2 margin to repeal its half-century old constitutional prohibition amendment. Rep. Carroll L. Beedy, republican prophet of the anti-New Deal forces was fighting a losing battle in the first congressional district with Simon M. Hamlin, D. "dirt farmer and former school teacher."

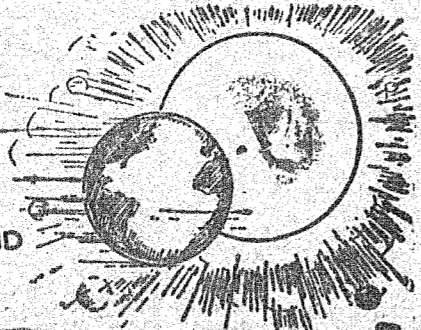

Miss Lillian Bible returned this week from Martindale where she has made her home for the past several months.

Miss Maud McClelland of Waxahachie and her nephew, Phil Bailey of Dallas, spent Friday and Saturday here.

Mrs. R. C. Gay returned home Monday from a visit in Austin.

65 FUTURE FARMERS ENROLL IN VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Sixty-five future farmers enrolled in the vocational agriculture classes at Santa Anna High school this week. This constitutes the largest enrollment in the agriculture department in the history of the school. Many of them are new boys and many old faces but before many days have passed they will be blended into a well organized Future Farmer Chapter that should accomplish much this year.

Boys from every surrounding community are enrolled making it a versatile group. Some of the boys come as far as twenty five miles. They will all be required to take from two to three supervised practice projects at home. These projects will consist of all the major farm enterprises of the community. In caring for the projects the boys will learn many practical lessons that will be of untold value to them in the years to come.

A Financing Plan to Repair and Modernize Your Property

You may apply for credit to make housing improvements, if you can repay in regular installments over a period of from one to three years.

Repairs or alterations often do wonders by adding to the value of your home or other property.

Do you want to know about the plan sponsored by the United States Government and approved financial institutions? Read the following questions and answers.

14 ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT MODERNIZATION CREDITS

- 1. Who may apply? Any property owner, individual, partnership or corporation with a regular income from salary, commissions, business, or other assured source. It is not necessary to be a depositor in the financial institution consulted.
2. To whom do I apply? To any National Bank, State Bank or Trust Company, Savings Bank, Industrial Bank, Building and Loan Association, or Finance Company approved by the Federal Housing Administration; or to a contractor or building supply dealer.
3. How much may I apply for? From $100 to $2,000, depending on your income, for improvements on any one property, and in connection with not more than five properties unless approved by the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C.
4. How long may notes run? For any number of months from one to three years. (Notes extending from 37 months to five years may be submitted to the Federal Housing Administration for special consideration.)
5. What security is required? That you have an adequate regular income and a good credit record in your community.
6. What assurance need I give? (a) That you own the property. (b) That the income of the signers of the note is at least five times the annual payments on the note.

(c) That your mortgage, if any, is in good standing, and that there are no other past due encumbrances or liens against your property.

(d) That you will use the proceeds SOLELY for property improvement.

7. What signatures are required on the note? Signature of the property owner; and (except in special cases) if the owner is an individual and is married, also signature of wife or husband. No other co-signers or endorser are required.

8. What is the cost of this credit? The financial institution may not collect an interest and/or discount and/or fee of any kind, a total charge in excess of an amount equivalent to 5% discount per year per $100 original face amount of note.

9. How do I pay the note? By making regular, equal, monthly payments (seasonal payments for farmers) until the note is paid in full.

10. May the owner of any kind of property apply? Applications will be considered for credit to improve one-family, two-family, or other residences; apartment buildings, stores, office buildings, factories, warehouses, farm buildings.

11. Where do I make payments? The regular installment payments will be made in person at the place of business of the financial institution; or by mail; or as otherwise arranged. NO PAYMENT SHALL BE MADE TO ANY GOVERNMENTAL OFFICE OR ORGANIZATION.

12. May I pay the note in full before maturity date? Yes, at any time. A reasonable rebate will be allowed for prepayment, if charges have been collected in advance.

13. May I make more than one payment at a time? Yes, as many as you wish, but such payments should be in exact multiples of the agreed payments—that is if monthly payment is $10, larger payments should total $20, $30, etc.—not, for example, odd sums such as $18 or $25.

14. What if I am late in making my payment? The maker must not permit his payments to fall in arrears. Should a payment be more than 15 days late, the financial institution's expense, caused thereby, should be reimbursed in part at the rate of not more than five cents per dollar for each payment in arrears. Persistent delinquency will make it necessary for the financial institution to take proper steps to effect collection in full.

NOT SO EXPENSIVE TO ATTEND COLLEGE IF BOY IS DETERMINED

Stephenville, Sept. 4.—There are many ways to cut corners, especially the corners of expenses, according to students of John Tarleton Agricultural College, and co-operative batching is one of the means whereby the Tarleton students have trimmed their expenses to fit a very round, almost zero-like budget.

Several schemes of light house keeping and co-operative batching have been worked out by the students of the college. Some boys, for example, bring their cows to school with them. After payment of initial fees these boys have but little fear of the "big bad wolf," for what boy could starve with plenty of Jersey milk ready to hand? Excess milk they sell to defray other incidental expenses.

One group of boys took care of their landlady's cow in return for half the milk. Sometimes the batching students raise a garden to help supply their table. Most of the time, however, they bring fresh food and canned goods from home, thus keeping their grocery bills at practically nothing. Landladies estimate that the greatest food outlay is for milk.

Expenses for each of a group of boys at one house were estimated at $10 per month or less, including $3 room rent and between 50 cents and $1 per month for utilities. Expenditures for another group averaged probably not more than $10 or $12 a month, according to their landlady. One boy whose name was consistently on the honor roll kept his semester's expenses at $85, and a girl got through the year with an expenditure of $150, her monthly allowance being $10.

"We have had good boys," one landlady said. "They don't tear up and ruin the house. And yet they have lots of fun. One boy stayed with us four years, some have stayed three, and many have stayed two, or as long as they were in school here. One time one boy drank the cream off the others' milk, and they made him leave."

"I believe they get down to work better than some other boys in boarding houses," another testified of her batching group. "We don't allow wrestling or scuffling in the rooms, but the boys play ball on a nearby vacant lot. They must pay for careless breakage, as for any window panes and furniture; we don't make them pay for broken dishes."

The economy practiced by the students was attested by the statement that "they eat supper before night so they won't use electricity."

Associate Dean G. O. Ferguson, who is in charge of supervision of light housekeeping students, cites a number of houses where several boys batch to cut their expenses, as never having been the source of a serious discipline case. In some houses, he says, such good feeling exists that the boys hand down their places to younger brothers or to new students coming from their home towns.

GOOD HORSE BREEDING INCREASES IN TEXAS

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 11.—Increased interest in Texas as a breeding state is evidenced in the fact that among reservations for stall space for more than 800 race horses for the fall meet at the State Fair of Texas, opening on Saturday, October 6, there are more than one half of this number owned and trained in Texas, according to Julius G. Reeder, general manager of the track for the fall meet.

Among the horses are many that are famous throughout the country such as Croon, Clarify, Miss Corinne, Blen Falt, Boy Valet, Westys Fox, Fabulous, High Bottom, Brown Molasses, and many just as famous.

Stall space is available for only 1,000 horses at the State Fair, and Judge Reeder has said that it is assured now that every available stall will be occupied during the nineteen days of the fall meet at the State Fair of Texas.

The fall meeting will extend one week past the dates of the State Fair, which are Oct. 6 to 21, the race meeting closing the following Saturday on Oct. 27.

More than fifty stock breeders in Texas now have national recognition as owners of first class strings of race horses. These breeders will all be represented in the fall race meeting at the State Fair of Texas.

SEVENTY-ONE TEXAS COUNTIES NOW HAVE BANKHEAD CERTIFICATES

COLLEGE STATION: After a complete check-up the Texas Cotton Allotment Board announces that 71 counties have now received their exemption certificates. Applications totaling 299,972 are in from 185 counties. Only eight of these counties are not complete. It was estimated by R. M. Hubbard, prominent member of the Board from northeast Texas, that by September 20 every county in the State would have completed the job of taking applications. And probably by the end of the month all of the 90 percent block of exemptions would be allotted.

The "bottle neck," as Mr. Hubbard expressed it, preventing more speedy action is the comptometer machine work. In its effort to serve the cotton planters of Texas the Board has rented every available machine, not only in Texas but elsewhere, and employed every available operator, first in Texas and after these proved insufficient some were recruited from California; St. Louis, Mo.; Louisville, Ky.; and Philadelphia, Penn.

"Texas farmers should bear in mind that they will have the chance to express themselves on whether or not they want the Bankhead Act part of the cotton program continued next year in a fair referendum before next cotton season," it is pointed out by Mr. Hubbard.

"The Bankhead Act will be continued in 1935 if two-thirds of those who have the legal and equitable right to produce cotton favor a tax on the ginning of cotton in excess of an allotment made to meet proper market requirements," he says.

"Farmers should study conditions carefully this fall and make up their own minds as to how to vote rather than hastily commit themselves without due consideration."

"All voluntary contract signers are already obligated to the cotton program for the 1935 season," Hubbard points out. "This is reason a-plenty why contract signers should think ahead to what may happen to their cotton prices if restrictions are removed from non-signers."

"Whatever drawbacks are charged against it, the AAA cotton program has brought most of the increase from five-cent cotton to thirteen-cent cotton," Hubbard declares. "The cotton program started business recovery and most persons agree that it has been largely responsible for maintaining it the past year. The enormous surplus is almost down to normal. Before abandoning the South to wild cotton production again, with every farmer cutting every other farmer's throat, farmers and business men should think matters over very carefully. Farmers in the drought territory, and business men too, should ask themselves the question: Where would we be had we not had the AAA cotton program? Everyone should ponder whether it is worth while to give up thirteen-cent cotton to gamble again on big crops and ruinously low prices," Mr. Hubbard concludes.

"A CO-OP MUST BE A BUSINESS ORGANIZATION"

"To be successful, a cooperative must be sound," said the General Manager of the Pacific Egg Producers Cooperative recently. "It must be a business organization, and not simply a debating society. Maybe a cooperative can be organized out of holony and bunk, to make a job for some promoter and manager; but it cannot last long unless it's made of something more substantial and worthwhile."

The history of the cooperative movement in this country is proof of the truth of that. In the past ten years thousands of cooperatives have come into being—and a percentage of those have failed. Their failure cannot be laid to the door of the cooperative principle, it was due, almost without exception, to unsound management or politics which made a big noise for a time but didn't produce results.

The cooperatives which have succeeded, and which have grown stronger and more respected year by year, have been business organizations. They haven't put on a show. They have stuck tenaciously to their purpose. They have kept to the path of sound economics. Their progress has often been slow, and they have been faced by what seemed almost insuperable obstacles—but they have managed to go steadily ahead. And their members and the public at large have reaped the benefit.

Critics of farm cooperation have attempted to cast discredit on the entire movement by pointing to the example of some obscure co-op which failed. That is like saying the automobile is worthless, because a car made at home by someone without knowledge of engineering or mechanics refuses to run.

Of Course You Want Your Boy to Win. If any one told you that you were making it needlessly hard for your boy or your little daughter to get on in school you wouldn't believe it could be true. But are you giving your child, or your children, the good light they need for their home studying? In many of the schools light is still poor, so it is especially important to provide good light where children's home work is done. See that the lamps they use are of sufficient wattage to give plenty of light and that there can be no glare in their eyes, either direct or reflected. Poor light makes concentration difficult, brings on fatigue and drowsiness quickly, is damaging to young eyes, and is often responsible for faulty posture, which is a danger to be guarded against. Let our home lighting consultant tell you how to light your home for your children's benefit and for your own comfort. This is a free service. You have only to write or phone us to obtain it. Take advantage of this service before school begins. It will pay dividends in higher grades. Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a sur-prime's tax rate schedule and adds only a small amount to your total bill? West Texas Utilities Company
