Don't Fall For Phony VFD Telephone Solicitations

- The Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department has received word that someone is making phone calls to area residents telling people the caller is soliciting funds for the group.

You are warned not to fall for this scam. The Fire Dept. does not solicit money by phone. Once a year the Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Dept. does a mail-out encouraging associate memberships with contributions to help cover its expenses. The letter you receive is on Santa Anna Volunteer Fire Department stationary and tells you how your contributions are spent and expectations for the coming year. The associate membership campaign is conducted in the early spring, so wait until you get your official letter from the VFD and make your contribution in the usual manner.

This Is Everitt Of The Santa Anna Heir Force Broadcasting From "The Rock"

There are probably a number of people around Santa Anna who are mighty grateful to the Santa Anna Heir Force. One of the group's projects helped to keep them warm during the bone chilling cold here the past couple of weeks. Not too long before Christmas the young people of the Heir Force conducted a coat and blanket drive. The items collected were then given to those in the community who had need of Craig Campbell, operations manager of Christian radio station K99.3, The Rock, in Brownwood, says The Heir Force is an idea that came to him about three years ago. "Actually", he said, "I can't take any credit for it because God gave me the idea."

The Heir Force is a way of reaching across denominational lines, involving young people in Christian activities, and giving them credit over the air waves through the generosity of the Heir

Force Ground Support which is currently made up of Santa Anna National Bank, Coleman County Telephone Cooperative, Coleman County Broadcasting, WTU, Art Fabrics and Coleman County Oilfield Services and Web Access.

While listening to K99.3 FM you might hear someone say something like, "This is Everitt of the Santa Anna Heir Force, and you're listening to The Rock." Once in a while you might hear a short interview of one of the local young people. Why was Santa Anna chosen as the pilot project for the Heir Force? Because Campbell was looking to create a peer group and he was acquainted with members of the Methodist Church here who were already committed to a youth program with much the same leadership goals. As time goes by and the "kinks" are worked out the local program can be used as a prototype with which to set up other Heir Force groups in other towns in K99's broadcast range.

The coat and blanket drive conducted in December is only one of the community projects the group is taking part in. Of late they have put up mail boxes for folks living in town who because of special needs must have their mail delivered. The group will not accept payment for this service. Their reward is the joy of helping others. As Campbell asked, "When is the last time you watched Dan Rather or some other national newsman and got inspired enough to say to yourself....lets go do some good somewhere. The news always seems to be bad. Now there is a youth group in Santa Anna spreading good and good news."

He adds, "When you come out of a video game, you've enjoyed it but nothing has been accomplished. By getting involved with the Heir Force you can feel good about accomplishing something worthwhile in helping others".

The Heir Force creed is as follows: When we see someone in need,

we help them; When we see someone hungry,

we feed them: When we see someone cold, we clothe them:

When we see someone prosperous, we give thanks to God, knowing through Him all good things come;

We are heirs to the kingdom,

Dear Editor

Shop at home....Support home town business....l am referring specifically to the recent closing of the Thrift Mart Grocery Store. Obviously, not enough residents shop at home. Other business can close for the same reason. Use your imagination-how would you be affected if the Drug Store, Hardware Store or Bank closed???

On Christmas Day I was called at home by a worried mother whose daughter was up all night with an earache. Since she was an established patient. I was able to treat her over the phone. She was also an established customer at Phillips Drug so I phoned the pharmacist at home and she came in an filled the prescription. Could she have gotten the same service elsewhere??? Not likely with the same convenience.

Santa Anna cannot prosper and grow without healthy businesses. What is the alternative?? What can you do to keep your town alive and thriving?? I will welcome your comments. Margaret Hensley Family Nurse Practitioner (owner of your hometown clinic-we are supported only by your patronage--we receive no government

'People Who Care"

Since 1934, Wichita Falls PCA has been a lasting part of your community. In the early days, PCA financed cattle, wheat and dairy loans here. Today, you can still turn to your local PCA for agricultural financing on livestock, crops, agribusiness needs and more.

As a member of your community, PCA takes pride in participating each year in many ag-related events within our 21 county territory. From the county livestock shows to the Farm and Ranch Ag Expo, and many other local events, we've supported the things that are important to you, our members and friends.

Last year was an excellent year, and we would like to thank you as we head together into 1997. Because of your continued support, in the last several years we have returned more than $2.4 million in patronage refunds to our customers. Patronage refunds are just one of the benefits of cooperative membership, and our way of saying thank you for your continued support. This past year, the PCA loaned more than $120 million to agricultural producers like you and your friends.

With the beginning of the new year, please look to us for all your production agriculture needs. As the region's largest provider of agricultural funds and related financial services, we have the experience and ag expertise to help you take your business to the next step.

Sincerely,

Board of Directors — Wichita Falls PCA.

Yesterday, today and tomorrow – our door is open for you. Wichita Falls Production Credit Association
