"He Profits Most Who Serves Best"

Popular Rockwood Man Is Accidently Killed By Own Gun

T. R. Kennedy, For Twenty-nine Years a Resident of This Section, Loses Life While Crawling Through Fence

All this section was saddened on last Tuesday afternoon when the news reached Santa Anna of the accidental death of T. R. Kennedy on his ranch twenty miles southwest of here, and two miles from Gouldbush.

The accident happened between 11 and 12 o'clock Tuesday morning while Mr. Kennedy was hunting rabbits in a pasture on one of his ranches. He was returning to his car and while climbing through a fence the gun was accidentally discharged, the load of shot striking him in the heart, causing instant death. Mr. Kennedy's son, Leman, and a hired hand, who were plowing nearby, rushed to the scene, but he was dead when they arrived.

Mr. Kennedy and family moved to Brownwood last September to take advantage of the schools of that city. Prior to that time he had lived in the Rockwood community for twenty-nine years. During that time he was in the general mercantile, and banking business, a farm and ranch owner, and prominent in both business and social activities. He was well known and loved all over this section.

Mr. Kennedy was born in Philadelphia, Miss., November 18, 1850. He moved to Coleman county in 1901 from Ellis county. He was married to Miss Celia Lawrence of the Trickham community, January, 1911. The wife and four children survive, two sons, Leman and T. R. Jr., and two daughters, Charlie Earl and Edna Gene, also his father, one brother and two sisters.

The funeral services were held Wednesday at the Baptist church at Trickham and interment in the cemetery there where members of Mrs. Kennedy's family are buried. The Rev. Hal C. Wingo, pastor of the Santa Anna Baptist church, and T. M. Carney, minister of the Brownwood Church of Christ, conducted the service. The order of Knights Templar, of which Mr. Kennedy was a member, had charge of rites at the graveside. He was a member of the Santa Anna Baptist church.

Fallbearers for the funeral were W. L. Stafford, Glenn Gill and Ted Featherstone of Rockwood, and F. C. Woodward, W. F. Barnes and P. P. Bond of Santa Anna.

BRADY TO CELEBRATE WITH 3 BIG DAYS, NEXT WEEK

Brady is planning a 3-days celebration for July 3, 4 and 5. Horse racing, rodeo, calf roping, music and various other features of amusement and entertainment.

This is Brady's fifth year to celebrate with a Fourth of July Jubilee, and greater preparations are being made this year than ever before. The jubilee will be held in Richard's Park.

J. B. Starkey, Oldest Bangs Citizen, Died Tuesday Morning

Confederate Veteran and One of Brown County's Early Pioneers Was Stricken With Paralysis Two Weeks Ago

Thomas B. Starkey, 88, a Confederate Veteran and one of Brown county's earliest pioneer settlers, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning at his home three miles south of Bangs, death following an illness of about two weeks duration. Thos. B. Starkey was born March 8, 1842, in Alabama and came to Texas when a small boy with his widowed mother who settled at Jacksonville. Mr. Starkey came to Brown county in the late sixties or early seventies. He settled near Bangs in 1875 and for 55 years he remained on the same place, rearing a large family and otherwise contributing to his community.

Mr. Starkey enlisted with the Confederate army early in the Civil War and for three years bore arms for his beloved Southland. A bad gun shot wound in the arm forced him from actual battle late in the war and before he was again able to take up arms, the war ended. He was under General Sterling Price and most of his fighting was in Arkansas.

Mr. Starkey was a member of the Church of Christ and the Stonewall Jackson Camp of Confederate Veterans. Despite his advanced age he was active until two weeks ago when stricken with paralysis, his unusual strength being attributed to the hardy life of a pioneer in the days when Indians still roamed the prairies of West Texas.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the home and burial made in the Clear Fork cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Matthews, of Brownwood, spent Sunday afternoon in the Joe Matthews home.

THE NEW FOURTH

Year by year the old-fashioned Fourth of July with spitting cannon and sizzling rocket against a blue-black sky is becoming more and more of a memory.

The Fourth of July which small boys and girls awaited as eagerly as Christmas itself, a day of toy torpedo, of celluloid-collared orators, and ice cream socials, has been transformed into an Independence Day of quiet and dignity.

"But how can we teach our children what Fourth of July really means?" a mother asked not long ago, adding, "you must meet a child on his own ground—things must be explained to him in terms that he understands."

This mother, who is fortunate enough never to have been forced to the tragic task of binding up mangled little fingers shredded by "innocent fire-crackers," is arguing that a child must be taught the meaning of liberty and freedom and independence by lighting a pin wheel or hurling a torpedo cane upon the pavement.

It is difficult for us who passed childhood in the old-fashioned noisy Fourth of July decade to remember that our Roman candles and "flower pots" meant anything lofty and inspiring to us—anything but a rollicking holiday.

Safe and sane Fourths are pretty well established but the argument that some way should be found to make green the meaning of what those periwigged builders of our nation did back on July 4, 1776, is a worthy one.

The great purpose of a Fourth of July observance is not only to pay respect to the early framers of this government but to measure the patriotism of this with that day, to determine whether this nation has been true to the faith, whether it has kept aloft the torch, whether its willingness to sacrifice for the common good deserves a place with the sacrifices of the fathers of the nation. Such speculation is in order in these times and a quiet, dignified observance will be helpful.

Three Big Days In Stamford For Old Time Cow Punchers

Program To Include Many Entertainments For Those In Attendance. Permanent Organization To Be Perfected

One of the features of the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be staged in Stamford June 26, 27 and 28, will be a roundup and get-together of the pioneer cattlemen of the state.

A permanent organization of the old-timers will be formed to hold annual meetings in Stamford. Only those who saw actual service in the saddle and on the ranges of the region prior to 1895 will be eligible for membership in the organization.

The program of the three day affair will include many entertainment features. On each afternoon a western cowboy rodeo will be staged and an old-fashioned ranch dance will be given each evening.

All early-day citizens of West Texas will be given special invitations to attend the affair and the directors of the offering say that the people of all ages and classes will find a full program of interest and amuse them.

The rodeo will be held in a natural amphitheatre a mile west of the business district of Stamford. Comfortable seats will be provided for several thousand and the arena and stock pens have been arranged so as to allow presentation of the contests and exhibitions in a quick and efficient manner.

Much interest in the contest is being taken by cowboys on their ranches in West Texas and indications are that there will be at least 100 entrants in the event in which attractive cash prizes will be given the winners.

STORES TO CLOSE DOORS ALL DAY ON JULY 4TH

Without circulating a petition all the business houses of Santa Anna, with the exception of drug stores and garages, will close their place of business on Friday, July 4th.

This agreement was reached at the Lions luncheon Tuesday and also agreed to by other civic organizations.

There will be no entertainments here on this date, but Abilene and Brady both offer plenty of amusement to those who wish to drive to one of these towns.

Several from Santa Anna have been attending court in Brownwood this week as character witnesses in the Joe Shield murder trial. The case was perhaps presented to the jury yesterday.

L. R. Buse and family, of Sacramento, California, are visiting in the home of W. H. Buse and other relatives here and in the Bangs community.

BROWNWOOD MAN IS CONVICTED OF STEALING HORSE

Last week in Brownwood a man by the name of Roy Ford was convicted and sentenced to the state penitentiary for horse theft.

Newspaper men realizing the unusual nature of the crime in this day and time, began a search of the records and it was found that the last trial in court there of a man on charges of stealing a horse was held fifteen years ago.

Texas One of Two States Not In On Registration Area

Texas Parents Are Requested To Cooperate With Government In Getting Their State Into Federal Registration Area

The importance of birth and death registration is now universally recognized. Vital records have become indispensable to the adjustment of problems involving heredity, legitimacy, property rights, and identity. In certain of our states and territories, the question of citizenship itself may be determined upon the basis of birth records. Federal registration, however, is accomplished wholly through the cooperation of the state in furnishing transcripts of their records to the Bureau of the Census the Federal Government paying for the transcripts at an established rate.

Texas and South Dakota are the only states not now included in the Federal Registration Area. The Bureau of Census is now making tests to determine whether birth and death registration is sufficiently complete to justify the admission of these states into the Area. Post cards are being mailed from Washington to all postmasters in the state who will see that they are distributed to all the private homes.

It is earnestly requested that each family in which a birth or death has occurred the past year fill out the card and mail it promptly.

These cards should be filled out and mailed even though the parents know the birth or death has already been registered. Let all work to put Texas in the Federal Registration Area.

Miss Stella and Edna McDaniel visited their sister, Mrs. Ed Bartlett recently.

Buster Turner, of Midland, spent Sunday with his parents here.

Senate Passes Bill To Aid Veterans Sixty-six To Six

President Hoover Had Warned Measure Would Increase Taxation; Provides For Compensation To Wives

Ignoring presidential objections, the Senate Monday passed the veterans' relief bill after rejecting amendments designed to reduce the expenditures it would require.

The vote was 66 to 6. President Hoover had warned that if the measure were passed in this form it implied "positive increase of taxation at the next session of Congress."

Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, had offered an amendment which he said would cut the necessary expenditures from $102,000,000 to $35,000,000, but this was beaten without a record vote.

The bill, a modification of the measure passed by the House, liberalizes existing law by providing a presumption of service connection for disabilities acquired prior to Jan. 1, 1930, and adds a long list of new diseases for "classification as of service origin." It also provides a compensation of $8 a month for veterans while receiving hospital treatment for non-service disabilities and $30 a month for their wives and $6 for each child. Its first year's added cost is estimated at $102,000,000.

Only six Republicans voted against the measure which the President condemned so severely. They were Bingham and Walcott of Connecticut, Gillett of Massachusetts, Hastings, Delaware; Reed, Pennsylvania, and Watson, Indiana.

Thirty-three Republicans voted with 32 Democrats and the lone Farmer-Labor Senator Shipstead of Minnesota for the bill.

REPORTS FROM 225 TEXAS COUNTIES SHOW 5,097,457

A Texas population of just less than 6,000,000 was the prospect Saturday when the Associated Press compiled census returns from 225 of the 254 counties.

The 225 counties which had completed their returns showed 5,097,457 residents as against the total for Texas of 4,663,228 in the 1920 census. The ten-year increase of the counties which had reported was slightly more than 25 per cent. If the same percentage of increase is shown by the 29 missing counties, the state's population will be approximately 5,875,000.

A Deserved Development

It is no mere accident that the growth of many Santa Anna and Coleman county commercial, industrial, ranching and farming institutions run parallel to the growth of the State National Bank. There is an essential relation between these varied lines, based on the bank's capacity for rendering financial counsel and guidance and summed up in the word—

"KNOCKING THE GOVERNMENT"

The world is full of people who try to blame their own unsuccess, unhappiness or ineffectiveness upon somebody else. Everybody knows somebody like that. They are the same sort of people who are always "agin the Government." The market price for crops is good or bad because the Government at Washington is Democrat or Republican. Business is slow because the President didn't do this or that. Let a few banks fail and immediately some of the chronic kickers rush to the front with the explanation that the Federal Reserve System is a failure.

Fair criticism of the Government is entirely proper and within the rights of every citizen. The tendency to hold the Government responsible for every thing unpleasant without ever giving it credit when conditions are satisfactory, is however, just another indication of the childish impulse to shift the blame from one's own shoulders to that of somebody else.

The very people who make the fuss about the Government's "failure" when things are not going to please them, would be the first to protest if the Federal Government should undertake to actually run the business of the Nation. The last thing that the vast majority of Americans want is a paternal government. We as a people firmly believe in the dictum, attributed to Thomas Jefferson, that the government is best which governs the least. It is probably true that most of the loose criticisms of the Government is merely a form of "letting off steam." It doesn't hurt the Government any and it relieves the emotional strain of the person doing the criticizing.

This year everybody is going to hear a great deal of criticism and defense of the Government. We are electing all the members of the next Congress, one-third of the Senators, and Governors and other officials of more than half of the States. Candidates and their friends are going to tell us how different things would be if they were in instead of the ones who are in now, or how foolish it would be to put the other fellow in when they have made such good records. All that signifies for the greater part, is the desire of the "Ins" to stay in and the "Outs" to get in.

The only persons who will be fooled are the simple-minded ones who really think that the Government can change economic conditions over night at will. All any government at Washington can do, all it ought to try to do, is to remove any obstacle that exist to the free flow of business and industry, to the right of every American citizen to work out his own individual salvation, economically and otherwise, in his own way, so long as he does not fringe upon the right of any other citizen to do the something. — Gorman Progress.

OUR FAST PACE

Can you imagine by what magic a farmer could go to bed at night and wake up in the morning to find that his fields had been plowed without the aid of either human hand or team?

You probably can't because it is beyond human conception, but B. C. Forbes, widely known economic writer and editor, says that is neither a dream nor a fairy tale.

Electricity, he says, will make this seeming witchery reality, because this is only one aim of a movement now in progress to operation. Mr. Forbes asserts, between electric companies, their inventive geniuses and the farmers will enable the farmer to plow while he sleeps.

Such a development seems far away, but in the light of progress that has been made, it may be closer than anyone imagines.

The law recognizes a man as the head of the family, but frequently the neighbors have a different story to tell.

And then there is the man who is knocked cold while taking a drink to warm up.

THIS AND THAT

Santa Anna streets are full of nails. This probably means many dollars loss each month to automobile owners in punctures and holes put in tires and tubes. If there is some way to get these nails off of our streets it should be done. Especially off of the pavement are they noticeable. Just for a suggestion, wonder if some kind of trade could not be made with the boy scouts.

Four candidates for governor have withdrawn from the race. Lynch Davidson, Gov. Moody, T. N. Mauritz and Pluk L. Parrish, and several more will likely wish they had followed suit after July 26.

M. S. Sellers, editor of the Rising Star Record, was in to see us one day last week. "Dock" and us to smear ink together way back in the pre-Volsled days, when men wore hats and red flannels and women didn't vote.

"The 'Sweet' gone from 'Home, Sweet Home,'" says a Supreme Court Justice. The "Sweet" is still in the home if we would take time to find it.

There is so much difference in the crops in this section today, compared with two weeks ago, you would hardly recognize them as being the same fields. Everything is now pointing to a big harvest.

Mr. Ferguson stated in her speech at Waco last week that "If you want two governors for the price of one, just give me your vote and Jim will get busy." And we thought all the time that "ma" wore the trousers?

We haven't been back in Texas long enough to tell you who to vote for, but we can tell you how, and that is to study and weigh every candidate carefully before you cast your vote. In this day of rotten politics the voter should study the ticket without malice from the smallest to the largest office.

During one of the hottest days last week, when cotton was jumping up about an inch every hour, Brownwood officers were sitting in the shade pulling caps off of 1,500 bottles of home brew and 'er, 'uh, pouring it into the sewer.

PRODUCING CITIZENS

Communities are like people. They have to be treated right before they will in turn give right treatment. Treating a community right is patronizing its institutions. If its institutions are not right it is the business of every citizen in the community to help make them right.

A town is known by its products, whether of chops, manufacturing, professional service, merchandising and service. It is also known by the kind and character of the citizens it produces. In the production of the right kind of citizens, all institutions in the community have their part to play. We cannot leave the building of citizenship alone to the schools, nor alone to the churches, nor alone to the home. There must be in addition a consciousness created and developed that will reflect itself for good and by example and precept in every walk of life.

Before we can produce good citizens we must make of ourselves good citizens. Thorns do not grow on fig trees, and each citizen brings forth fruit after his kind. "To be good on Sunday" is not enough, either for citizenship here or for reward hereafter.

The things that make good citizens cost so little. Fair dealing itself pays big dividends. Truth advances good causes. Honesty serves immeasurably as example, and strengthens character for him who practices it and insures good will from him who is the beneficiary. Selfishness is a boomerang that returns and strikes him who engages in it.

The right kind of cooperation will go a long way towards making health and happiness in the community. The result is prosperity. Every good work has its dollar and cent value.

Friendship is an endless chain that binds people together to their lasting benefit. Men who sing and play together with work together. Men who talk with one another will understand one another.

Clean government always rebounds in good citizenship. Cleanliness in home, street, store and shop is another virtue that is its own reward.

The higher the standard of citizenship in any community the greater are the chances of attracting good people from other localities. No one can expect perfection, but every community can have its ideal.

Go to church Sunday.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON SOLD IN CORPUS CHRISTI

The first bale of 1930 cotton, grown by Felipe Solis on his farm near Rio Grande City in Starr county, was shipped to New Orleans last week, where it was auctioned by the American Cotton Co-Operative association on Monday of this week.

The 445-pound bale, rushed to Corpus Christi by automobile from Rio Grande City, after it was ginned last Friday, was auctioned on the floor of the Corpus Christi cotton exchange Saturday, bringing $1.50 per pound.

Corpus Christi business men contributed a bonus of $445 to Solis.

The bale was ginned two days later than last year's first bale.

Joe Christie Barnes, who is working in Sweetwater, visited with home folks last week-end.

Miss Ernestine Beakley, of Brownwood, spent Monday night with the Misses Wylie.

Joe and Sam Bridges came in Sunday from a few days visit at Bartlett. They report crops good in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Perry and Mrs. J. T. Leech and little daughter, Vernetta, spent last week-end in Fort Worth and Cleburne.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, of Coleman, visited in the R. E. Mobley home Saturday.

Worry is killing more candidates than work if its over whether to run on a wet or dry platform.

When we see the word "Retired" after a fellow's name we often wonder whether it was by choice or request.

DAIRYING

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.
St. Louis, Mo.
Dr. LeGear is a graduate of Ontario Veterinary College, 1892. Thirty-eight years of veterinary work. Eminent authority on diseases and raising of dairy cows and livestock and poultry. Nationally known lecturer, writer and author.

How to Choose A Profitable Dairy Cow

Editor's Note—This is another story in a series of articles on dairying written by the well known national dairy and poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis, Mo. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

Dairying is the largest revenue producing department of the livestock industry of the United States. The products made from milk of our dairy cows, which include butter, cheese, ice cream, condensed milk, powdered milk, etc., amount to more than four billion dollars annually, which is our greatest industry.

There are approximately 22 millions of dairy cows, including heifers two years old or over, on farms in the United States. Of this number, about one-third of these cows are loafers or boarders and are kept on our farms at a loss. About one-third break even, that is, they make no money; and one-third are good profit producers. If only one-third of the cows on our farms are making money to the owners, it is very essential to know how to select a good dairy cow.

"Buy the best and breed them better" is the slogan of a leading Jersey breeder. This slogan in my estimation is the best one that I have ever seen or heard. Those seven words mean more to the upbuilding of our dairy herds than any words that I have ever seen grouped together. Cheap cattle are seldom a bargain. Deep-bodied cows with good type and plenty of capacity are the most profitable to the owners. Cattle of this quality may cost more, but the profits from the sale of milk and surplus stock are much greater. It pays to "buy the best and breed them better."

What is a dairy cow worth? This is a question that I am often asked, and there is but one answer, and that is that she is valuable in proportion to her production in the milk pail. One cow may not be worth her keep and another may be worth $500 or more. There are two ways of deciding a cow's value. One is to buy her and see if she pays her way and interest on the investment, and the other is to see her record as made in a cow-testing association or on official test by the breed association. A cow-testing association record is more likely to be found and may be considered reliable.

The cow is the hardest worked animal on the farm. She must have a strong constitution to produce largely, persistently and profitably. Constitution is indicated by large, open, well-distended nostrils, by well-sprung fore ribs, and deep heart girth, signifying room for large heart and lungs. Also by largeness of windpipe and breadth of chest.

A cow never produces a pound of milk from anything other

Beautiful Billie Sings and Dances

Billie Dove, often called the most beautiful star on the screen today, sings and dances in her latest, First National and Vitaphone picture, "The Painted Angel," which will be at the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Dove has appeared in several dialogue pictures, but this is the first time she has sung and danced since the advent of sound films.

"The Painted Angel" is a story of night clubs and was adapted from Fannie Hurst's short story, "Give This Little Girl a Hand." Miss Dove plays a night club hostess and leads her "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" girls through a number of very fascinating dance ensembles.

"The Painted Angel" has a number of song hits, some of which are sung by Peter Higgins, the famous vaudeville tenor.

Miss Marguerite Blackwell of Valera visited with Miss Nettie Newman last Saturday. Miss Blackwell was a pupil in Miss Newman's school this past term.

County Judge C. L. South was over from Coleman Saturday shaking hands with his many friends in Santa Anna. Judge South is in the race for district attorney this year.

than feed and water. Other things being equal, the more feed a cow eats, the greater will be her production of milk. Therefore, it is essential that a cow have capacity, which is indicated by a large mouth, strong jaws, and a large abdomen, "denoting a good feeder." She must have a body that is deep and long, with well-sprung ribs far apart, and a wedge-shaped conformation.

A good dairy cow must have what is known as "dairy temperament," which determines whether she is a worker or a loafer. This is indicated by a broad, well-dished face and a large, bright, prominent, staring eye. A dairy cow should not put on too much fat along her back, and she must have wide, prominent hips. She must have good blood circulation for carrying food nutrients from the digestive system to the udder, where these nutrients are converted into milk and butterfat. A good circulation is indicated by prominent veins on the udder and large, crooked and elastic milk veins.

A good dairy cow must have ability, which gives her the power of manufacturing milk and butterfat efficiently. This is indicated by an udder of good quality texture that is long and broad, between thin, well-arched thighs. The udder also should hang high behind, and should be carried well forward. I recommend bull circles or bull associations as the cheapest way and a good way to build up the quality of dairy cows in any community. The very best bulls available should be used for breeding.

I most heartily endorse the work of cow-testing associations for in these cow-testing associations complete records of the milk produced and feed consumed are kept, thus enabling the farmer to market his unprofitable cows at the end of the cow-testing association year.

The Gentle Art of Nursing

The address below was delivered by the Honorable Pinkney Woodruff, of Brownwood, to the graduates of the school of Nursing, of the Sealy Hospital, which was held in the Santa Anna High school auditorium Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. Woodruff, who is now an able attorney of Brownwood, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Woodruff of our city, and has many friends here who are proud of his success in the professional and business world.

The address follows:

Nurses are something which is liable to happen in the best regulated families, not to mention the others, and among the many and curious accidents of life their visitations are as likely as any to find man defenseless and unprepared. Not until he has survived several of them does he realize how fearfully and wonderfully they are made, and even then there is little that he can do about it. In tribute to their varied charm and indispensable ministrations, and as a word of warning to those who have yet to live and bear with them, we present the products of prolonged personal observation, in a spirit scientific and in no sense critical. We approach the subject, indeed, with respect and appreciation. This also is the only correct way to approach a nurse if you value your health, and if you don't—well, if you don't, what business have you with a nurse anyway?

In general a nurse may be defined as a critically unstable compound of science and nature, and put together with tape and safety pins and cemented everywhere with starch. She is trained like a doctor, registered like a racehorse or Holstein cow, clean and crisp as a full dress shirt, and salaried like a bank president. So if you can't be healthy, for goodness sake be careful.

A nurse comes into the household in a variety of guises. She may be the handmaid of proud motherhood or a ministering angel in the shadow of calamity. She may be a pinch hitter for the presiding genius of the home or an efficiency expert to restore its scattered peace and poise. She represents authority in emergency and first aid in all doubt and distress. She is the doctor's silent shadow in his presence and his substitute in his absence. Wherever she is, the domestic universe begins to revolve around her as soon as she takes off her hat.

Husbands shrink and shrivel to nothing in her presence and wives obey her whims and wishes who have never known obedience before. The gas stove does her homage and the furnace roars louder at her will. The family diet follows her least desire and friends and neighbors come and go at her bidding. The wash swells importantly at her presence and the cat learns to run more quickly and in new directions. The odor of antiseptics follows her around and every germ takes cover at her coming and thinks of its sins.

All this is in part the custom of civilized behavior in the presence of the mystery of healing, and in part the consequence of the extraordinary procedure whereby a nurse is manufactured. This also we have analyzed, presenting herewith our observations on the proper way to become a nurse, supposing that you think of nothing better to do.

Presuming that you are of the right gender and denominator and have the requisite taste for lozine and operations, you may become a nurse with only trifling expense and exertion. First you should acquire a fair average education, together with blond hair and a good natural color. No one is quite sure, of course, what an average education looks like, but it includes reading, writing, and the ability to count up to forty-two dollars a week. Add to this a little literature and history, which should be well shaken before taken; also algebra, amateur theatricals, aesthetics, hysterics, plain and fancy weight lifting, and light housekeeping and cooking. You may now apply for admission to a school of nurses, presenting evidence of birth, age and fighting weight, a recommendation from your minister or Congressman, and signed certificate of vaccination in all rural or urban. If the school happens to be short of hired help, you are almost sure to be enrolled.

Your first year in nursing school will be devoted principally to scrubbing hospital floors and newly-arrived accident cases. You will also learn the rudiments of physiology—which can be very rude and rudimentary on occasion—and how to make a five-foot sheet cover a six-foot bed. As collateral studies you will learn how to identify bichloride of mercury and other "materia medica," and how to fry a strictly fresh egg.

In your second year you will learn how to fry two eggs, whether fresh or not. From scrubbing floors you will be promoted to scrubbing the woodwork, and will be allowed to hand sponges and minor surgical impedimenta to the doctors, who will treat you—at least during business hours—with all the courtesy and personal consideration due to the rest of the hospital furniture. By observation and experience you will gradually acquire a great deal of inside information about the human race, which will leave you just as sweet and unspooled as ever. In fact, if you spoil at all easily you had better give up nursing before you go in to it at all.

In the third year you will be taught how to shake down a clinical thermometer, without dislocating your wrist or putting your patient's eye out. Further you will discover how to shake down a pillow and mattress without losing your patient or your temper. Lastly you will learn how to shake down the patient or his surviving relatives, and your preliminary education will be practically complete.

If you have been industrious and ambitious your future is now assured, barring accidents from overdoses, mixed labels, or matrimony. Your principal function from now on and forever will be to keep charts, night and day, winter and summer, weekday and Sunday, alive or dead, the patient's chart must go on. A nurse is known by the chart she keeps, and unless the doctor has a chart to pucker his brows upon and make clucking noises about, he is sunk without trace and drags all his nurses down to ruin with him. Remember also the sacred privileges of your chosen profession. Yours are the first aid and the last rites. Your tender womanly hands bring cool comfort, warm sympathy and hot chicken broth to your patient. And remember also and at all times the inscrutable dignity of your profession, so that to your patient at least you always appear as a compendium of antiseptic authority bound in fresh starch. Treat him kindly, but keep your distance. Though how you are

BROWNWOOD JERSEY COW WINS HONORS AS MILKER

Producing nearly twice as much butter fat as required for admission to the honor roll, Jolly's Eminent Marie, No. 624-531, 6-year-old Jersey owned by the Shelton Brothers of near Brownwood, produced 90.54 lbs. of butter fat for the month of June in a recent test made by O. P. Griffin, county agent.

The one day test gave 67.3 lbs. of milk, testing 4.38 per cent, which gives for the month the 90.54 pounds of fat. A mature cow to be on the honor roll must produce 50 pounds of butter fat, and this cow is said by Griffin to have made the highest record ever in that county.

Four other cows from the Shelton herd made the honor roll this month, and Griffin expects a number from other herds to reach that goal as soon as tests can be given.

BYRD WAS WELCOMED HOME AMID TUMULT

"Dick" Byrd returned to old Virginia Saturday to receive the welcome of a conquering hero and a native son.

Thousands of Virginians, their pulses quickened with the peculiar pride of fellow citizens, cheered and shouted themselves hoarse as the man who conquered the icy coldness of polar skies, stepped on the soil of his native state at Richmond. Through solid walls of eager friends and citizens, Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd rode in triumph and acknowledged the tumultuous greeting with salutes and modest bows. Guns of the Richmond Howitzers boomed an admiral's salute.

HOT WEATHER AND LONG DAYS ARE NOW WITH US

The longest days of the year are now with us. Last Saturday was 14 hours and 14 minutes from sun to sun, and daylight to daylight was perhaps 16 hours.

Monday was the longest day in the year, when the sun was with us 14 hours and 16 minutes. The days have been shortened one minute since that time.

The sun was its greatest distance north of the equator on last Monday.

Humanity isn't much of a virtue if you cultivate it because you are afraid to fight.

LIONS CLUB CHANGE THEIR MEETING HOUR

During the routine of business at the Lions Club Tuesday, it was decided to change the time of meeting from 12:15 to 12:03 p. m., Tuesday of each week.

The club went on record favoring the County Commission, the City Commission and the State Highway Commission cooperating, and in some way, closing the gap leading off the main highway in the west part of town, down to the Rockwood road, about four or five blocks between the two highways has recently been graveled and it is very bad traveling immediately following a rain. Necessary steps should be taken to close the gap at once.

Several visitors were present at the luncheon and most all the members were also present.

The man with money to burn has a hot time.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON L

(By REV. P. H. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Member of Faculty, Moody Bible
Institute of Chicago,
637 15th, Western Boulevard, Union.)

Lesson for June 29

REVIEW: THE GOSPEL OF THE KINGDOM CONTINUED

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou art the Father, the Son of the Living God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Making Jesus Known.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Believing in Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR
TOPIC—What Shall I do with Jesus?
YOUTH (LEAFLETS) AND ADULT
TOPIC—The Meaning of Christian Discipleship.

The plan of review must always be determined by the teacher in the light of the grade of the school and the aptitudes of the pupils.
For senior and adult classes the best method will be to recall that all the lessons of the quarter are from the book of Matthew, which has as its theme Jesus Christ, the Messianic King, and His Kingdom, and to present each lesson in its relation to this central purpose.
The lessons have a threefold unity, namely, one book, one theme, one person.

Lesson for April 6. To prepare the disciples for the dark hour of the cross, Jesus sought to lead them to a clear apprehension of His purpose and mission. After Peter's confession of Him as the Messiah, Jesus allowed to the disciples that He must come into His place of triumph through the tragedy of the cross.

Lesson for April 13. The greatest in the kingdom are those who possess childlike humility. The condition of entrance into the kingdom is true conversion, or birth from above.

Lesson for April 20. In this lesson we have divine instruction as to behavior in case of ill-treatment.
Those who are Christlike shall suffer persecution. Those who have entered the kingdom by birth from above—those who have received forgiveness from God—will forgive their fellows.

Lesson for April 27. Riches are deceitful. Possessors thereof are prone to put their trust in them.
It is most difficult for those who are rich to give place to spiritual things.

Lesson for May 4. Those who would be greatest in the kingdom should, like Christ the King, take the place of self-abasement. In love, Christ gave Himself for others. He substituted "the greatness of love for the love of greatness."

Lesson for May 11. For the nation which rejected Jesus as King and was endeavoring to kill Him, at the appointed time, in the councils of God, He officially presented Himself as King, in fulfillment of prophecy.

Lesson for May 18. Under the
forth the privileges and benefits of the kingdom. He used marriage, the highest ideal of love and friendship known to man, to show the benefits of the kingdom.

Lesson for May 25. In the Olivet discourse Jesus outlined the events in the world to take place in the interval between His crucifixion and His second coming. The parable of the ten virgins shows the right behavior of believers in this present age in view of the coming of the Lord.

Lesson for June 1. By talents is meant whatever faculties and powers one possesses as God's gifts, such as physical strength, reason, knowledge, speech, song, or money. All these should be employed so as to honor God who gave them. A reckoning time is coming when account shall be rendered for their use. This will be at Christ's second coming.

Lesson for June 8. Mary of Bethany, because of her keen apprehension, saw that the Lord's body would be broken and that His precious life would go out at a time when no one could lovingly intercede for Him. She therefore anoint-ed Him as against that dread day.
When the disciples criticized her act, she was defended by Jesus.

Lesson for June 15. Jesus did not die as a martyr or as an example, but to make an atonement for man's sin. The supreme value of the lessons for the quarter centers in the cross. Teachers, it is not a matter of getting your children to learn the lessons of a great teacher, but to induce them to have faith in Christ's sacrificial death.

Lesson for June 22. The resurrection of Jesus demonstrated His Messiahship and deity. The command of Jesus to preach the gospel in all the world is backed by His resurrection power.

SIX VERY OLD BIBLES
PURCHASED BY T. C. U.

Six old Bibles, one of which was printed in 1491, the year before Columbus discovered America, have recently been purchased by the Texas Christian University library, at Fort Worth, from a German book dealer.

Four of the Bibles are written in Latin, while the other two are in English. One of the English books was printed in 1613, two years after the King James'
Bible was translated. The oldest Bible, in Latin, is the oldest book in the T. C. U. library.

The bill for the six Bibles came to 417 German marks, about $100.

Grading School For Turkey Raisers To Be Held In San A.

School To Offer Instructions To Dealers and Farmers; Especially Farmers Are Urged To Attend This School.

The first turkey grading school in the Southwest and the second in the United States will be held at San Angelo during the week beginning October 20 under the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Extension Service of the A. & M. College of Texas. Director O. B. Martin of the Extension Service has announced. The school will offer instruction to dealers, farmers and representatives of cooperatives in how to classify turkeys in standard United States grades and how to dress and pack properly for market. Federal and State certificates will be issued following examinations at the end of the course, to those found competent to hold license as turkey graders.

Commenting on the date fixed for the school, which many regard as late, Commissioner of Agriculture George B. Terrell has pointed out that the Thanksgiving market is too early for Texas turkeys to make the No. 1 grade but that the Christmas market is usually more profitable for Texas producers. While the general price level is lower at the late date, the improved grade of Texas turkeys at the later season makes the net price to producers higher at Christmas, it was added. In consequence, the date fixed for the school is believed to be timed just right to help the producer the most.

Consumers have shown a decided preference for "Government, graded" turkeys, surveys made in the East show, and a U. S. No. 1 tag on a turkey has become such a mark of quality in many centers that it carries with it a decided price premium, according to Roy C. Potts, of the division of dairy and poultry production, Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. The first poultry grading school was held a year ago at Salt Lake city and met with much success. Mr. Potts has pointed out. The San Angelo school is to be for the benefit of the entire Southwest, with special invitation to New Mexico and Oklahoma producers and dealers to attend.

Location for the school was selected in a producing section, close to farmers, at the suggestion of Director Martin of the Extension Service, in keeping with the belief that "grading that benefits only consumers and dealers is half a failure."

"Farmers are urged to attend the school," Mr. Martin said. "In order to know how to tell when a turkey is ready for market and how to sort flocks properly into the various grade pools. In this manner the grower can get the premium paid by the consumer for the best turkeys."

Under the supervision of a number of West Texas county agents, turkey demonstrators are now feeding and caring for flocks in the most approved manner in order that an ample supply of first class turkeys for use in the school may be available. Mr. Martin has announced.

A SLUMBER PARTY

On Thursday evening of last week the beautiful home of Miss Bessie Evans was a gathering place for a number of her friends, to be entertained with a slumber party.

A dinner was served at 8:00 o'clock consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, cake and ice tea. After dinner the parents of the hostess chaperoned the girls out to the June tenth celebration. After returning the girls played games and were entertained with music. After a very late hour they went to bed, but there were too many ghosts for sleep. Several interesting stories were told by Rebecca Turner.

About 4:00 o'clock the next morning the girls hiked up on the mountain and cooked their breakfast. Later on in the morning all the girls returned to their homes, after reporting a very enjoyable time to their hostess and mother.

Those attending were as follows: Misses Mary Alice Mitchell, Eris Gregg, Kathryn Rose Pinn, Annie Wilson, La Verne Smith of Rising Star, Rebecca Turner, Mildred Bordman, Irene McCreary, Maurine Kirkpatrick and Bessie Evans.

A new California law forbids waitresses to carry trays with loads of more than ten pounds up and down stairs.

Blondes, Brunettes Equal as Dancers
Expert Declares

A "blonde personality" doesn't necessarily make a better dancer than a "brunette personality," in the opinion of Mme. Albertina Rasch, ballerina and acrobatic dancing instructor, who trained the sensational troupe of thirty-as-the-dancers in Marilyn Miller's First National starring vehicle, "Sally," at the Queen Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Mme. Rasch says that for her approximately 400 students, 200 are brunettes, while there is a possibility that some of the blondes really were brunettes once.

"What is a blonde personality?" the dancer was asked.

Her answer was that blondes are generally considered "colder" than brunettes but that too, she declared, is a subject for argument.

"Take Marilyn Miller, herself. Her personality is anything but cold and she is one of the supreme blonde beauties of all times."

Albertina Rasch dances three hours daily and are in great demand at the various studios where movie musical comedies are being filmed.

SON WAS BORN TO MRS.
LINGBERGH LAST SUNDAY

A son was born Sunday to America's hero of the air and the intrepid helpmate who had assisted him in blazing new pathways through uncharted skies.

From the home of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Englewood, N. J., came the news that has been awaited with much interest—that an heir had arrived to complete the happiness of Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh and the former Anne Morrow.

The infant, whose birth aroused as much interest as that of many a royal child, was born on Mrs. Lindbergh's twenty-fourth birthday.

Beyond the fact that the child was a boy and that he was born at the Morrow home, no information was forthcoming there.

From other sources, however, it was learned that the baby was born at 3:15 p. m. The happy parents were completely sheltered in the house of Mrs. Lindbergh's father. All details were withheld, just as details of the Lone Eagle's courtship and marriage were guarded.

E. F. Harrell, who became warden of the Texas penitentiary two years ago, has resigned to permit the selection of a man with greater "business ability". Lee Simmons, general manager of the prison system, announced last week.

The fellow who said that the poor we have with us always, is not exactly true today. They have automobiles, and get out of town occasionally.

"MY HUSBAND DOESN'T COMPLAIN NOW"

"His Improvement Is Remarkable Since Taking Argotane," Says Ranger Housewife.

Argotane has done my husband more good in just a few days than all the other medicine he has taken in eight years put together. This is what Mrs. A. J. Owen, of 400 Strawn Road, Ranger, Texas, had to say a few days ago. Mr. Owen has been employed by the Chestnut & Smith Corporation for the past six years and is well known.

"For nearly eight years," continued Mrs. Owen, "my husband suffered terribly from indigestion and his stomach was in such a bad condition that he could hardly eat enough to keep his strength. Soon after eating his food would sour and ferment into gas and beat him up and keep him in a dreadful distress for several hours. What he ate seemed to do him harm instead of good and hurt him so bad at times he was actually afraid to eat on account of the suffering he had to endure. He had smothering spells and sick dizzy headaches, and was badly run-down and was so nervous he couldn't get a good night's sleep. He was weak and tired all the time and he would often get so dizzy he would reel when he tried to work and would have to sit down or catch hold of something to keep from falling.

"He has taken only one bottle of Argotane so far and the improvement he has made is surprising. I can already see a big difference in his looks and he has gained strength and don't complain of being tired like he did. His appetite is good now, and he can eat without suffering in the least afterward. His food don't sour and ferment and cause gas and bloating like it did. He's not afraid to eat now, and is picking up in strength right along. His nervousness is entirely gone and he gets plenty of refreshing sleep every night. Argotane has certainly been of great benefit to my husband and it's a pleasure for me to recommend such a medicine. I have told a number of my friends about it and several of them are now taking it on my recommendation."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Santa Anna at Phillips Drug Store.

KNOW TEXAS

Texas leads the United States in the number and value of "teacherages" maintained for the use of public school instructors. It has 1,330 such homes valued at $1,784,007. Thirty-seven of them are for colored teachers.

Texas shipped 7,811 carloads of cabbage and 5,559 carloads of spinach during 1929. Zavalla county led in cabbage shipments and Hidalgo in spinach with 3,412 and 4,017 carloads respectively.

The wide variety of Texas climatic conditions is indicated by a range in 1929 of 127 degrees. Sixteen degrees below in Hartley county and 111 above in Clay county were the minimum and maximum recorded by the Weather Bureau.

With total wealth of $10,898,000,000, Texas ranks eleventh among the States. Among Southern and Southwestern States it ranks first.

TEXAS DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

On March 2, 1836, ninety-four years ago, a band of gallant men—"The Men Who Made Texas Free"—gathered at Washington-on-the-Brazos, near Brenham, Texas, to frame a Declaration of Independence for the people of Texas, then a part of the Mexican Confederacy.

Since that day many honors have been conferred upon these men, whose names have been revered by Texans and by all lovers of freedom, and before many months have passed the bodies of each of them will be interred in the State cemetery at Austin.

The above story of the fifty-eight signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence will appear in the Magazine section of the Santa Anna News on July 4th.

Newspapers told recently of a man who dropped dead from laughing at a joke. Fortunately the papers did not publish the joke.

Another cure for marital unhappiness would be to swallow the scraps.

Presbyterian Revival Is Still In Progress

The revival at the Cumberland Presbyterian church has been very interesting and helpful. The singer, Lowell West, is an excellent singer. He sings with tenderness and understanding. Come and hear him. This is a treat for our town. Your presence will help and encourage him and you will want to hear him again and again.

Brother West is an earnest Gospel preacher and preaches with power. He is brave and sincere. All of Santa Anna ought to hear his messages. Here is a chance for the people of Santa Anna to show their interest in the welfare of souls.

Just a few more days until the services will close, so let us go and join in with this noble effort these good people are making for the good of our city.

Presbyterian Church

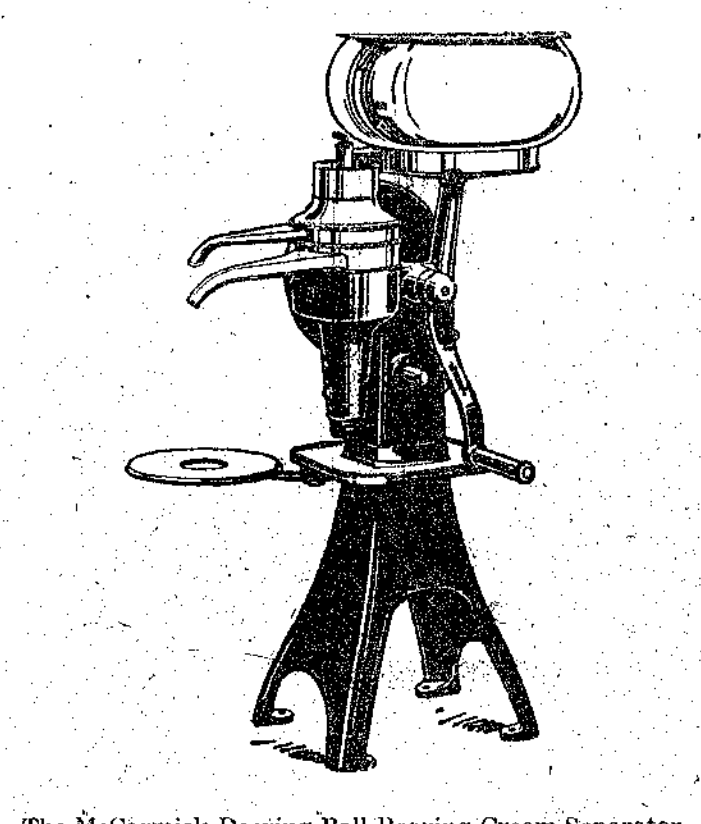

We are looking for you next Sunday morning. You will be warm if you remain at home. If you leave home and take a long drive it will be hot and tiresome, and you will come home worn out, so, suppose you come to church. It will not take you long, and you will get help and will help others. Try it. The service will not be long, and there will be some song which you can help sing. The sermon may help you.

Texas and Texans

By WILL H. MATS

Knowing is Believing

The person who doesn't believe in Texas and have faith in its future just doesn't know the State—that is all. Those who travel around a bit in the State find that the half has never been told, and can't be told, about its undeveloped resources, and one need not go very far from home to make this discovery. There are opportunities right at every one's door that have not been seen.

Texas editors who attended the Corpus Christi meeting had heard much of the great development around that remarkable city and what it is doing in the way of port development, agricultural production, industrial growth and civic improvement, but they could hardly visualize what they had heard. The grasp of the mind has limitations. The editors have gone back to their homes and most of them are trying to let their readers know what they saw.

The visit of a large number to the Lower Rio Grande Valley afforded more revelations to those who went there. They had heard of almost miraculous winter vegetable and citrus production and the vast acreage of staple farm crops, but were hardly prepared for things that may be classed as magical.

Most of the editors will profit by this visit and it will rebound to the advantage of their home communities. They will be inspired with the enthusiasm and unlimited energy of the sections visited, and returning home will be better able to point out to their own localities the things they can do to make their communities better and to show them how to go about it. Travel is one of the greatest educators and one's first travels should be with a view to knowing as thoroughly as possible his own State. Texas is so big and has such unbounded possibilities that by the time a Texan has gotten fairly well over the State it becomes necessary to travel it again to keep up with its progress.

Looking to the Centennial Governor Moody has suggested that Texas build a great centennial highway to be dedicated in 1936, the centennial of the independence and founding of Texas, and this causes a writer in the San Antonio Express to say that the King's Highway, Camino Real, or Old San Antonio Trail is the logical route to perpetuate Texas independence because that road "was the vanguard, the gateway, the propaganda, the political highway of four nations." This leads to the remark that whatever Texas does toward a centennial celebration should have a two fold purpose: to commemorate the great Texas struggle and growth of the preceding century and to promote the progress of succeeding centuries. We need to combine in sensible proportions patriotic pride with economic advancement.

Texas Great Wool Crop
Representatives of the National Wool Marketing Corporation state that between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 has been advanced on the Texas wool crop; that approximately 90,000,000 pounds of wool has been acquired by dealers, and that between 120,000,000 and 130,000,000 pounds remains to be bought of which Texas has about 7,000,000 pounds of 12 months and 6,000,000 pounds of 8 months clip. None of the mohair accumulated by the association has been marketed, it is said, but it is all being held for the better price that is expected with the settlement of the tariff rates.

Caddo Lake Park
The object of the recent motorcade to Caddo Lake was to investigate the advisability of and project a plan for making Caddo Lake a national or major State park. Caddo lake winds between two ranges of low hills, comprises some 57 square miles and is located about half in Texas and half in Louisiana. The hills are covered with native pine trees, while numerous varieties of cypress are found all through the body of water. It is called a "veritable sportsman's paradise," because it is especially productive of fish and game. If dedicated to the public use it would become a great resort not only for Texas and Louisiana, but for recreating sportsmen of the entire country.

Heart of Texas Cavern
The wonderful cavern near Richland Springs has been formally opened and is said to be all in beauty and magnitude its promoters have claimed for it. It has been called "Gibbons Cavern," in honor of the ranchman under whose land it was discovered. Its extent is yet unknown, though some 50 separate rooms have been explored. Instead of being called "Gibbons Cavern," which has too much of a commercial ring, it should be named the "Heart of Texas Cavern," to assist in perpetuating the great scenic resources of that section. By all means, "Heart of Texas Cavern," if you please.

Moving Watermelons
The Texas watermelon crop is on the move. The Bee-Heyague at Beeville has printed 200,000 "Texas Sweetheart" watermelon labels for the Southwest Texas

Watermelon Growers' Association, to be placed on melons grown over a wide area from Alice and Falfurrias to Eagle Lake. The value of the labels will depend altogether on whether the growers see that the melons come up to expectations created by the name. Side tracks at many stations in Texas are crowded with cars for moving the crop and the shipping places in some sections are busy these days. Texas is getting a reputation for its melon crop as enviable as that Georgia has been holding.

Gas For State Use
The Board of Regents of the State University have started something new—getting the people to use gas from University owned lands and especially for state institutions to do so. It is 300 miles from Austin to the Big Lake field in Reagan county. The proposal is to secure the building of a pipe line from the gas wells to Austin. It is said the 90,000,000 cubic feet of gas is daily being produced by University wells and is going to waste while State institutions at Austin are spending $100,000 a year for gas, the University alone spending $20,000. It is estimated that the line would cost about $10,000 a mile. The question is "would it pay?" Doubtless the lessees of the University oil lands will study the proposal with much interest.

Increase in Summer Schools
The increased attendance at practically all the summer schools of Texas is something to evoke thought. It seems that Texas has nearly reached the point where its schools should be open all the year. It is wasteful to have buildings and teachers idle a great part of the year, and while it should not be advisable to require students of scholastic age to attend school all the year, they should have some option in attending at such times as may be most convenient for them, and all the year if they wish. It is as harmful to be idle several months in the summer as for the same period of time in the winter. Long vacations from school, from work, or from duties of any kind are not productive of good.

Hurrah For Fort Worth
Fort Worth has set an example, small it is true, but still an example, for other cities and towns. That city has spent $110,557 less than its budget appropriation. Now let the State Government in every department and every city and town in the State see if it is not possible to outdo Fort Worth in reducing budgeted expenses. The people everywhere are simply howling about expenses of government. They are losing confidence in all promises made by candidates and in most office holders, denouncing government for at least winking at graft.

Talking About Texas
presents a summary from the report of survey made by an Eastern company as to conditions in Texas, part which reads: "Hardly a section in the entire history of the world has witnessed an expansion as rapidly and far reaching as that of Texas within the recent decade." There is much more along the same line, indicating that the world is beginning to realize something of the great resources of Texas.

SLUMBER PARTY

Miss Hettie Faye Todd entertained a number of her friends with a slumber party Friday night, June 20. After driving around for sometime the girls went to the June 'teenth celebration. From there they went to the former Todd home and ate ice cream and cake and enjoyed music and dancing. At a late hour the girls went to bed, but not to sleep. About 7 o'clock the next morning the girls had breakfast and returned to their homes, each reporting a jolly good time.

Those present were Misses Hettie Faye Todd, Bessie Evans, Kathryn Rose Pinny, Kathryn Rollins, Helen Turner, Mary Harriette Simpson, June Bond, Rebecca Turner, Mary Alice Mitchell, Lena Bob Pillow and Ona Mac Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Crews Hardy chaperoned the girls.

FORTY-TWO PARTY

On Tuesday, June 17, Miss Rebecca Turner and Miss Helen Turner entertained with a party at the home of Miss Rebecca Turner, in honor of Miss Mary Alice Mitchell, who is moving to Coleman.

Forty-two and other games were played until a late hour, when refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following: Misses Katherine Creamer, Mildred Boardman, Hettie Fay Todd, Kathryn Rose Pinny, Aline Harper, Katherine Rollins, Mary Alice Mitchell, Irene McCreary, Viola Williams, Maurice Kirkpatrick, Helen Turner, Rebecca Turner and Messrs. Wilburn DuBois, A. G. Weaver, John Franklin Turner, Edwin Rollins, Leon Ward, Clifford Wheeler, Scott Wallace, Truitt Wener, Woodrow Nellie, Seth Ford and perhaps others.

Santa Anna Golf Players Lose One Then Beat One

Rising Star Beat Local Team Here Last Week; Winters Loses Game. To Play Coleman During First of July

Thirteen proved unlucky for Santa Anna golf players on Thursday of last week, when this number from the Phil-Pe-Co country club, of Rising Star, beat the local players on the Hill Crest links, located four miles south of town. The final score showed Rising Star 8 to Santa Anna's 5.

On Wednesday of this week local players beat the Winters country club team 9 to 7, in their regular Coleman-Runnels golf association match, on our local grounds.

This is the first game Winters has lost in the association and they left Santa Anna following the game, a very blue bunch.

Santa Anna plays at Coleman on some date to be named during the first part of July.

The two games played are given below:

JURY READY IN SHIELD TRIAL AT BROWNWOOD

The jury to try Joe Shield for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Opal Shield, was completed shortly after noon Tuesday and the taking of testimony started in the district court at Brownwood.

The jurors are J. P. Guest, G. W. Gleaton, P. J. Bush, A. O. Angel, C. E. Weathersby, Jim McCurdy, R. J. Locke and J. L. Hughes, all farmers; Wilson Giddings, grocer; A. M. Cornelius, barber; R. P. Blair, athletic coach, and C. A. Hayes, railroad man.

Shield is charged also with the murder of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shields, the three having been shot to death at Brooksmith, May 16.

The jury was completed after 128 votemen had been used.

Questioning of prospective jurors indicated the State would try to send Shield to the electric chair, while the defense would be temporary insanity.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields were shot to death as they came from their store across the street from their daughter's home after they heard the shots that took the life of Shield's former wife.

Congoleum Rugs for less. Mickie Hdwe. Co.

Mrs. Sherman Gehrett, Misses Elsie Lee and Ruth Harper left the first of the week for several days visit in Denver, Colorado.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Tuesday, June 24th, the children, grandchildren and one great grandchild of Mrs. S. E. Stacy met at her home in Bangs to celebrate her seventy-fifth birthday with a sumptuous dinner.

She received a number of nice presents and greatly enjoyed the day.

Those present were: Mrs. F. P. Hampton, Mrs. Burton Hampton, Mrs. Chester Fisher, and Mrs. Leonard Polk and baby of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stacy and children of Santa Anna, Mrs. Joe Mitchell and baby of Grosvenor, Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stacy and family, J. H. Stacy and daughter, Jessie Faye, Mrs. S. E. Stacy, Mrs. Julia Bailey.

A picture was made of the four generations representing Mrs. S. E. Stacy, Mrs. F. P. Hampton, Mrs. L. L. Polk and Leona Grace Polk. A group picture was also made.

BIG LAND DEAL MADE AT COLEMAN LAST WEEK

Chestnut & Gillen, Coleman real estate dealers, last week announced a $47,000 land deal, one of the largest that has been reported in this county for more than a year. By terms of the deal W. C. Gillen, Coleman citizen, becomes owner of the Dennis Waters ranch in Burnett and Travis counties, and Mr. Waters becomes owner of six houses and lots that belonged to Mr. Gillen in Coleman on West Second Street. By the deal Mr. Gillen also gets 500 head of sheep and 700 head of fine Angora goats.

J. W. SHEPPERD MARRIED OKLAHOMA GIRL MONDAY

Mr. J. W. Shepperd and Miss Marie Henderson were married at the First Methodist church parsonage in McAlester, Oklahoma, on Monday, June 16th.

Mr. Shepperd, who has charge of the repair department of Mrs. Corner Blue's jewelry shop, came to Santa Anna about eight weeks ago from Colorado, Texas.

Mrs. Shepperd, who lived with her grandmother in McAlester, formerly lived in Colorado, and both were popular young people of that city.

Following their wedding Mr. and Mrs. Shepperd visited in Fort Worth, Dallas and Abilene before returning to Santa Anna on last Friday.

Go to Church Sunday.
