LEGAL NOTICES

City Ordinance No. 181
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SANTA ANNA,

That on this, the 6th day of March, 1953 at a meeting of said City Council, the Mayor and a quorum of the members of the City Council being present, that there be and is hereby granted to the Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., the right and privilege to use such public streets and alleys of the City of Santa Anna as are necessary for the purpose of erecting and maintaining therein and thereon, such light poles, wires and other equipment necessary for the said Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., to make neutral lead of transmission line connection with substation of the West Texas Utilities Company. This neutral line connection is necessary in conjunction with the purchase of power from the West Texas Utilities Company's system for the distributing facilities of said Coleman County Electric Cooperative, Inc., to its various customers, all beyond the limits of the said City of Santa Anna.

This right and privilege is upon the further condition that said grantee will not locate said poles, wires or any other equipment of any kind in such a way as to interfere with the use of said streets or alleys or public grounds for the purpose for which same is held by the City of Santa Anna, and when notified or requested by said City or its City Council, it will relocate any of such equipment in such manner as may be requested or in such manner as may be necessary for the use of said streets or alleys or public grounds, or for the purpose of changing, widening, or narrowing or any other change whatsoever in respect to said streets, alleys and public grounds.

The rights granted by this ordinance are for a period of twenty five (25) years unless terminated at an earlier date through the discontinuance of electrical power to be purchased, sold, or delivered from the power facilities of the said West Texas Utilities Company, thereby eliminating any use or necessity for such right-of-way

Regularly passed and adopted at a meeting of the City Council of the City of Santa Anna, the Mayor and a quorum of the members being present and voting in favor of the same.

Remember when we used to get a premium with everything we bought — and another when we paid the bill? Nowadays the only premiums we hear about are the insurance kind.

Shape of Hybrid Corn Does Not Effect Yield

That many Texas farmers could profitably take another look at their hybrid seed corn buying habits, is the opinion of Lee C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He says the demand for the "large flat" kernels of hybrid seed corn could and probably will result in a shortage of this type of seed for late planters. He points out that research and field planting trials show no special advantage for these seed over the other shapes and sizes of quality planting seed. It is a fact, he says, that under equal conditions, the plants, stands and the yield and quality of hybrid corn produced from large round or medium sized flat or round seed is just as good as from the large flat planting seed. And he adds, the larger seed cost more money.

The lower cost results from a simple fact. There are just more rows of corn. A bushel of uniformly graded medium flat grain Texas hybrid seed corn will average planting about 40 percent more land than will a bushel of large flat grains.

Changing from one size and shape of seed to another does bring on a problem, points out Coffey. A different planter plate must be used to get the desired stand. Farmers who plant large or medium hybrid corn seed — whether round or flat — may find it necessary to order plates to fit the size and shape of the seed or redrill or plug the present plates before planting time rolls around. Coffey suggests that purchases of planting seed be made as soon as possible and that the tag on the sack be studied so plates can be made ready for the planting job in accordance with the seed size and shape. And finally he says, don't plant an unadapted hybrid just because the large flat grain seed of the desired hybrid is not available.

We don't have to show the wife who's master in our house. She knows!

She said that if he was her husband she'd give him poison; and he said that if she was his wife he'd take it.

There would be a whole lot more divorces if husbands had a trade-in value like today's cars.

Rockwood MYF Has Regular Meeting

There was a round table discussion Wednesday night at the Rockwood M. Y. F. meeting. The subject was the organization of our Methodist Churches. Mrs. Leon McMillan was in charge of the program but several of the youths had parts and all entered into the discussion. We sang "I Will Sing the Wonderful Story," "Bringing In the Sheaves" and "Love Lifted Me" to begin our evening study.

Immediately following our interesting lesson, we were reminded of the invitation to the Santa Anna M. Y. F. Hobo Party the following Thursday night. We didn't have a business meeting because there was not enough time. Next week we will start our plans for the party.

There were fourteen members present and two adults, Mrs. Leon McMillan and Mrs. Bill Rehm.

Why Did Jesus Die?

Lesson for March 29, 1953

AS Good Friday approaches we are all made aware—whether we belong to a church or not, whether we are "orthodox" or not—that this Friday commemorates the death of Jesus more than 19 centuries ago. It is a fact that no other death in the world's history has been so vividly remembered. Few biographies in the world's libraries give as large a part of their space to the death of their heroes as the Gospels do to the death of Christ. It is plain that the church sees in the death of Christ something quite different from the simple statement that has to go into every man's record: "He died."

It is something much more than an item in the vital statistics of the old Roman Empire. The deeper significance of the Cross comes out when we ask the simple question: Why did Jesus die?

We Were There

"Were you there when they crucified my Lord?" asks the well-known song. The answer is yes, always yes. It is said that when the barbarian fighter Clovis first heard the story of the crucifixion, he rose in anger: "If I and my men had been there, Jesus would not have been killed."

Dr. Foreman

But Clovis was mistaken. Soldiers were there, not barbarians either; well-disciplined troops, trained to uphold law and order. And the soldiers killed Jesus. Not a sword was raised for him. There were doubtless hoodlums there, they swarm to such scenes; but the hoodlums did not kill Jesus. He was killed by order of a high court. The leaders of society, of business, of politics, joined in branding him to death. The soldiers were carrying out the orders which were given because "everybody" (so Governor Flete thought) demanded it. The respectable people who read this newspaper had their "opposite numbers" at Calvary.

Jesus died because human beings are the way they are. Jesus died because sinners are uneasy, even angry, in the presence of the good. Jesus died because the world being the kind of world it is, it was bound to crucify the Son of God. Jesus died because of sin, and we must not make the mistake of thinking it would have been different if we had been there.

For Our Sins

Jesus died for our sins, Paul writes to the Corinthians when he is putting the Gospel in a nutshell (1 Cor. 15:3). Partly that means because of our sins, as has just been said. But the word Paul uses (in the Greek in which he always wrote) has the startling meaning of "on behalf of, for the benefit of."

It is true, the sin of man brought Jesus to the cross. But Jesus' death was not a matter of being beaten by sin. The Christian church has always looked on the cross as a sign of triumph, not defeat. Not our triumph, but God's triumph. Call it a paradox, if you like, but God turned apparent defeat into victory.

Good Friday

Why is it that the Christian church calls it "Good" Friday and not "Bad" Friday? It is because the Christian church has experienced something strange: that men and women who have come close to the Cross and understood it in its deeper meaning, men and women who discovered in it the measure of God's love for us, have had their lives transformed. Other religions tell of gods who do not care much what men do. Other religions tell of gods who condemn sin and curse sinners. But only the religion of the New Testament tells about the true and only God, the God whose love is shown in sacrifice.

It is a sad mistake to think that what happened at the Cross was that Jesus mercifully stepped between us and an angry God. That is not the New Testament picture. What happened there was that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." And what that showed, Paul writes (Romans 5:8) is not first of all the merciful heart of Jesus but the loving heart of God. For the heart of Jesus was the heart of God.

All members of the State Bar of Texas are required by Rules voluntarily adopted by them and ordered into effect by the state Supreme Court to observe 43 separate and distinct canons of professional ethics. In addition, there are Canons of Judicial Ethics governing the conduct of all our district and appellate judges.

It is rare that one finds a lawyer who willingly and knowingly departs from the ideals of the code. It is more strict than the law itself, and many acts which are lawful are frowned upon by the code as improper conduct for attorneys. A lawyer may find himself criticized severely by his fellow lawyers and the courts, or even called upon before one of the Texas Bar's 21 grievance committees, because he had done something which, though lawful, is contrary to the Canons.

Here are a few of the principles which lawyers have pledged themselves to follow: A lawyer may not represent clients with conflicting interests except with the client's consent after they have full knowledge of the situation. He is bound to give a frank opinion on the merits and likely results of a lawsuit, and should advise his clients to make a fair settlement if he can avoid or end a lawsuit.

He should not overrule or undervalue his services. Ability to pay is no justification for an excessive lawyer's fee, although lack of finances on the part of the client may require a reduced fee or none at all. And he must never regard his profession as a money-getting trade but always remember that it is a branch of the administration of justice.

The same code requires that he be fair to other lawyers and that he be frank, cooperative and respectful to the courts. He is responsible for decisions regarding the best procedure to follow in a trial. He must do his best to prevent his client from acting improperly toward the court or jury, or in his duties as a citizen. These and many other restrictions are voluntarily accepted by the lawyer because the acts forbidden are felt to be unworthy of the high standards of the profession.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Charles Ing and Rita Jane visited over the week end with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Wallace and other members of the family. The Ing family is moving back to Brownwood from N. Dakota, where Mr. Ing has been employed.

NEW HERBICIDE LAW PROPOSALS

Any Texas farmer who has felt the heartbreak of crops ruined or heavily damaged by accidental dosages of weed killing chemicals will be interested in a piece of legislation now under consideration in Austin. It concerns a revised law dealing with hormone-type herbicides.

Hormone herbicides are invaluable in the control of weeds and eliminating mesquite. The most widely known chemical of this type is 2,4-D, closely followed by 2,4-5-T. Both react against broadleaf plants, energizing the plant mechanisms and causing them to literally "grow themselves to death".

But all too frequently, when these chemicals are sprayed in an area to combat weeds or mesquite, the vapor drifts to adjacent fields where susceptible crops are growing. The result is twisted and mutilated field crops which either die or suffer a considerable drop in yielding qualities.

The Texas Department of Agriculture administers a law which seeks to protect farmers from such damage. Unfortunately, the current controls are not as practical as they should be, considering the ever-growing demand for use of these chemicals. Another law, now being studied by the Legislature, is aimed at correcting these difficulties.

Briefly, the law would expand the scope of present regulated areas to include more counties where susceptible crops are grown. It is designed to regulate the sale, use and transportation of the chemicals and provide for inspections and better licenses provisions.

This new law is not, by any means, meant to hamstring so large and important an operation as the control of undesirable plants. But it does afford more protection to farmers from damages by careless or accidental mis-use of the herbicides.

Like a swinging door, the protection works both ways, however. The commercial sellers, handlers and applicators are provided assurances against unfair mistaken claims of chemical damage during their operations.

No part of the law gives the Department of Agriculture or the Commissioner undue or excessively restrictive powers. Much of the working policies of the law are left in the hands of the persons affected through local court action. The department is merely attempting to serve as a more alert watchdog for the interests of Texas farmers and ranchers.

LAWYERS' CODE PROTECTS INTEREST OF PUBLIC

Few people know that lawyers have a code of ethics more strict than the law itself. It is called the Canons of Professional Ethics and has been in effect in the United States since 1908.

"In America, where the stability of the courts, and all departments of government, rests upon the approval of the people, it is peculiarly essential that the system for establishing and dispensing justice be developed to a high point of efficiency and so maintained that the public shall have absolute confidence in the integrity and impartiality of its administration," reads the preamble of the Canons. Woman's Council Has Unusual Meeting

The Woman's Council of the First Christian Church, had an interesting meeting on Wednesday, March 19th, with Mrs. Preston Bailey. The meeting opened with the group singing, "Nearer My God to Thee", followed by the Lord's Prayer. The importance of growth in grace and several added interesting facts of church growth and Christian development.

For several months we have been studying about Africa with Mrs. Bailey teaching the lessons, which have been very interesting.

At this meeting in her home, she showed quite a collection of interesting articles Mr. Bailey brought home from Africa after World War II. Many of these were in the form of animals, hand carved with elephants predominating.

One especially interesting little elephant was of hand carved ebony, with real ivory tusks. Others, and a giraffe and other animals, were carved of wood. There were hand made statues of heathen Gods, with gold trimmings. The collection, also included coins, an elaborately braided cap and other items and also quite a number of newspapers of Africa, printed in English.

We were delighted to have two of our shut-in members with us, Mrs. Alice Daniel, who had not met with any church group in several years, and Mrs. W. A. Featherston, who had not met with us in 6 months or more.

The hostess served refreshment plates of Easter candy bunnies with white cake squares and coffee. Others attending the meeting besides those mentioned were Mrs. E. H. Wylie, Mrs. Norval Wylie, Mrs. J. R. Gipson, Mrs. L. O. Garrett, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. Bill Pritchard, Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mrs. A. E. Campbell, Mrs. A. L. Oder and Mrs. Oscar Boenicke. Mrs. Beula Kingston of Trickham was a welcome visitor. After the meeting a large donation of eggs and cookies were packed in the church annex to be sent to the Juliette Fowler Home. Some not attending the meeting sent donations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGahey, Jr., returned to their home in Augusta, Georgia, last week, after a weeks visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McGahey. Other members of the family who visited with them during that time were: Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Green and Terry of Waco and Mr. and Mrs. B. T. McGahey and Patricia of Sweetwater.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook!"

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just resist being such "know it alls," our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would deny me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

Highlights and Sidelights State CAPITOL

Austin — Let's talk about money — about spending a hundred and sixty odd million dollars of your money.

That's what the Legislature is doing. But even considering the size of that amount, the economy forces seem to be in control. The proposed spending budget for the next two years is within tax revenue that the state can expect to receive. That means, if appropriations bills as they now stand are finally passed, no new taxes will be needed.

More liberal-minded legislators have advocated a number of new expenditures. In the House last week, for example, representatives said "no" to a proposal that would have given $2,800,000 more to the University of Texas at Austin.

Lawmakers eyed keenly a reduction in the oil production allowable, ruled by the Railroad Commission.

Comptroller R. S. Calvert had expected the cut and figured it into his estimate of state income for the next two years. But if there should be further drops in oil production, state tax revenue would fall below present anticipations.

The biggest part of the state's revenue is from tax of about 11 cents per barrel on oil.

Calvert has been told by experts, however, that the demand for Texas oil may increase next summer. Allowables are fixed on the basis of demand and other factors.

Right now, imports of foreign oil are cutting into the demand for Texas crude.

With the conservatives scoring victories in both House and Senate, the future looked doubtful for increasing pay of teachers and state employees and for improving the state's highways.

Representative Charles Murphy of Houston advocates a constitutional amendment that would devote all future increases in the gasoline tax to roads.

That would not give any more money to schools.

Governor Allan Shivers voiced his disapproval of any new state taxes except a 1c increase in the gasoline tax, to pay for more roads. The Governor also said he hoped for court approval of the present natural gas tax which would bring in forty to forty-five million dollars. He added that if the gas tax is found constitutional he may call a special session to appropriate the money for state improvements and services.

One proposed solution to the highway problem is to authorize construction of toll roads. But there is difference of opinion in both House and Senate as to how the toll road authority should be set up.

The first bill to be introduced was one that would permit the installation of a Dallas-Port Worth toll road. Later there were other bills in both House and Senate, these making the toll road authority statewide.

The House bill, for example, provides that the three highway commissioners would head the state toll road agency.

Sponsors of this bill say it would make possible the construction of needed roads immediately; that the roads would be built by private industry; and that they would save tax money.

Supporters of this measure also argue that a central state agency would be preferable to a number of local, un-coordinated toll road authorities.

The Highway Department, meanwhile, was about a million dollars better off than it expected to be.

The department let contracts for improvements on 446 miles of state roads. The total bids amounted to about nine and a half million dollars.

The department had figured that the cost would be more like ten and a half million.

Senators gave their support to Pioneer Airlines in that carrier's controversy with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The board had denied Pioneer larger mail subsidies, claimed to be necessary after putting larger aircraft into operation at the board's suggestion.

By a resolution passed unanimously, the Senate called the CAB's action ill-considered, capricious, and arbitrary.

By all tests so far, the Legislature has approved giving the right of jury service to women.

A resolution calling for the necessary constitutional amendment passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 124 to 16. A Senate committee also put its OK on women jury service.

If the resolution is finally passed, the voters will have their chance to approve or disapprove the proposition at the general election in November next year.

Forty-two states now permit women to serve on juries.

The Senate passed, 26 to 2, and sent to the House a bill providing that persons convicted of drunken driving would automatically go to jail for three days and pay a $50 fine.

Senator Carlos Ashley, author of the bill, said it would aid law enforcement and traffic safety if people who drive while drunk know they will have to spend some time in jail.

The bill would not change the maximum penalties of two years in jail and $500 fine.

Radio and television stations do not want to be sued for any libelous statements made by persons who buy time on the stations.

In the House is a bill by Representative J. R. Paxton of Elkhart that would give the desired protection requested by the Texas Association of Broadcasters.

Witnesses told the judiciary committee, which voted the bill out, that stations actually have no control over what a political candidate says in a broadcast or telecast, though he may be asked for an advance script.

Senate committee approval was given to a bill by Senator Searcy Bracewell of Houston that would provide a special deer hunting season for those who employ the bow and arrow.

The season would be set by the State Game and Fish Commission ten days before the regular season.

Hunters who use the bow and arrow are true sportsmen, says Howard Dodgen, commission secretary. Howard Basch, president of the Texas Bow Hunters Association, told the committee: "We prefer to do it the hard way."

Short Snorts: The Supreme Court will hear arguments next month on the validity of the drivers responsibility law. The San Antonio Court of Civil Appeals had ruled in favor of the Texas Department of Public Safety in upholding the act. — A Senate Committee voted to prohibit further expansion of Texas junior colleges, but Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo gave notice that he would bring the proposition out on a minority report. — The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports that Texas now produces more gas, consumes more within its own borders, exports more to other states, and has more underground than any other state.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Powell and Marilyn of Kerrville, were week end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stockard.

Mrs. Roy Stockard and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson were Abilene visitors Tuesday. Mrs. Stockard was with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Morris McFadden and Mrs. Stephenson visited in the Willis Richardson home. Their only son, Darrel, arrived home recently from Luzon, where he had been stationed for two years. He had been in the service 28 months, and hadn't seen his parents in that time. Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson also visited the Willis Richardsons Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson and Rilda spent Thursday of last week in San Angelo. He was doing some work at the O. T. Stacy home there.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Riggs returned to their home at Fort Stockton Monday, after a several days visit with their daughter, Mrs. Milton House and family. The Riggs are planning to become citizens of Santa Anna before long.

Miss Margaret McCaughan was home for the week end, from Trinity University, San Antonio, visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McCaughan.

Mrs. Billy Joe Robinett has heard from her husband, that he has landed in Korea after a stay of several weeks in Japan. He is stationed somewhere near Seoul.

So the People May Know

Cities and counties are required to advertise for bids before making any contract calling for expenditure of more than $2000. Texas publication laws state:

"Art. 2368a. Commissioners Court — advertising for bids on contracts requiring expenditure in excess of $2,000.00.

"Sec. 2. No county, acting through its Commissioners Court, and no city in this state shall hereafter make any contract calling for or requiring the expenditure or payment of Two Thousand ($2,000.00) Dollars or more out of any fund or funds of any city or county or any subdivision of any county creating or imposing an obligation or liability of any nature or character upon such county or any subdivision of such county, or upon such city, without first submitting such proposed contract to competitive bids. Notice of the time and place when and where such contracts shall be let shall be published in such county (if concerning a county contract or contracts for such subdivision of such county) and in such city (if concerning a city contract) once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks prior to the time set for letting such contract, the date of the first publication to be at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date set for letting said contract; and said contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder . . .

"Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to counties having a population of more than three hundred fifty thousand (350,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census".

Given by Price Daniel in his book "Texas Publication Laws", are a number of opinions by the attorney general, to the effect that contracts have been invalidated by failure of county and city officials to publish notice that contracts were to be let.

America's New Railroad

What's this surveyor doing? He's sighting on tomorrow... clipping off an old curve... clipping off the past...

It goes on day after day on the Santa Fe. Building new.

Till there's nothing left that's old today of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe but the country and the song and the pride of its people!

IN THE PAST 5 YEARS... Whole fleets of streamlined trains replaced with finer streamlined trains... Enough new track laid to more than reach from Chicago to Los Angeles... Great new "hump" yards built to speed switching... New roadbed, new rail and new ballast methods—for smoother, safer rides for goods and people.

IN THE PAST YEAR... New freight stations, with new towveyors, at Chicago and San Francisco... Great new construction started to raise Santa Fe rails in Kansas and Missouri above the highest flood stage of recorded history.

IN THIS YEAR... New micro-wave communication system put in service between Galveston and Beaumont, Texas... New freight classification yard will be opened at Belen, New Mexico.

AND IN THE NEXT YEAR... More curves will be clipped, more grades reduced... 119 new diesel units will go to work... New modern diesel shops will be completed... 3600 new freight cars will be placed in service... New electronic communication and control equipment will be installed... and El Capitan will be re-equipped with all new chair cars!

AND IN THE NEXT 5 YEARS... New cars and whole new trains will be rolling on an ever newer, greater Santa Fe.

It costs Santa Fe millions (not one penny from the taxes you pay) to keep America's New Railroad growing newer every day.

Frills And Follies Of The Junior Class

BY PATSY REHM, REPORTER

I have kinda neglected my news in the paper for sometime now. Since we are nearing the close of school, there is quite a bit of gossip or news I should let you in on.

Probably you've seen, or at least heard about the Junior-Senior Banquet that is going to be held in our new grade school cafeteria April 17th. That is really the big event this year for the Junior class, but we are also looking forward to selecting our new class rings in the near future. We have gotten our plans for the banquet well underway, so far we have the invitations, place cards, and our little booklets in. Last week several of the Junior girls started making our little nut cups, after we get that completed we will have one of the big jobs done.

The menu has already been discussed and decided on, so that is another relief! We have already selected our waitresses to serve at the banquet. They are: Dixie James, Faye Marburger, Coralyn Foster, Patsy Bryan, Bobbie Rehm, Clara Jean Stewardson, Shirley Simmons, Jennie V. Calloway. Incidentally, they are all sophomores. Just from this little bit of talk you can plainly see where and what the junior class is doing with their spare time. Believe me that's the main subject with us now and it will be until April 17th! If you have not heard about it, you will before it is all over. At least I imagine you will.

We elected our class favorites just recently at school, and they are Joan McClellan and Donald Trull. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper McClellan of Santa Anna. Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Trull of Shield. They are both loyal workers in our school as well as the junior class. We are all proud that they are our favorites, because we all think they both deserve it. Both of them are truthfully the favorites of everyone in our class and high school in general. We are really proud of them! Congratulations Joan and Donald.

I've gotten all the junior news about rounded up for now so, it's so long until next issue.

Social Security Man In Coleman Tuesday

Mr. Ralph T. Fisher will be at the Department of Public Welfare Office in Coleman, Texas, at 1:00 p. m. on Tuesday, March 24. Persons wishing advice or assistance in connection with their social security accounts are invited to call at that time.

There are many self-employed persons between the ages of 65 and 75 whose low net earnings may make them eligible for monthly insurance payments, even though they are still working, according to Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office.

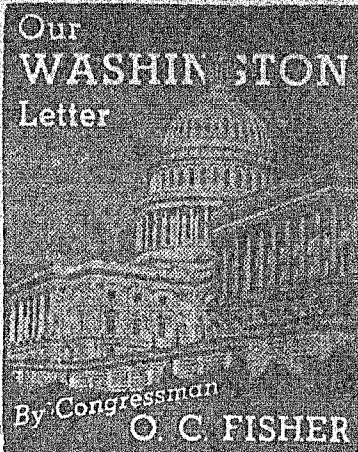

Mr. Fisher said that the recent changes in the law make it possible for a self-employed person between these ages to net up to $900 annually and still be entitled to their monthly social security checks. These people should file their claims immediately in order to prevent loss of benefits, the manager stated. Persons age 75 and older can draw their monthly benefits regardless of the amount of their business profit.

Mr. Fisher pointed out that in the cases of those clearing over $900, but not more than $1725 annually, there is still a possibility of one or more monthly payments for the year. He urged that persons in this group contact the social security office to discuss their individual cases.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris and their grandsons, Topher and Charles Medlin visited over the week end with his mother in Gainesville. She is 92 years old and very seriously ill from a stroke suffered several months ago.

Mrs. R. F. Watson returned to her home in Irving Sunday, after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vanderford, and other relatives, the past week. Wayne and Carmetta Watson, came for their mother at the week end.

Remember when you could doll up for a dollar down?

Expanded local airline service by Pioneer and Trans-Texas was urged when the Civil Aeronautics Board recently heard oral arguments in behalf of some 30 towns located in Texas and New Mexico. It was an omnibus hearing, involving Texas and New Mexico. Ironically, the day the hearings were concluded, CAB - in another case - clipped the expansion wings of Pioneer pertaining to rates, which may result in reduced rather than expanded service.

Paul T. Schupp of Kerrville and Halbert Woodward of Coleman presented very strong arguments for their respective communities. I appeared with them in behalf of Coleman and Kerrville, and also argued the case for Brownwood and Brady, which had requested new or additional service, pointing to the population increase, the industrial development and the pressing need for air service in those localities. It will probably be about two months before CAB renders a decision.

The Department of Agriculture is now preparing a new, revised bulletin on Angora Goats. At the suggestion of Joe Brown Ross of Sonora, I requested the Secretary of Agriculture to revise the old publication on the subject.

Imports of Mohair during 1952 to this country totalled nine and one half million pounds, clean basis. Domestic production of mohair last year was about 12.3 million pounds - 5% under 1951.

The average American civilian consumed 33.8 pounds of cotton, wool and man-made fibers last year, the lowest since 1949 and well below the postwar average of 36.2 pounds. The 1952 civilian per capita consumption was composed of 22.1 pounds of cotton, 8.5 pounds of man-made fibers, and 3.2 pounds of wool - the latter clean basis.

The lonely grasshopper and the scourge of drought account for the fact that President Eisenhower was born in Texas. When I attended a luncheon at the White House the other day (one of a series the President is giving for Congressmen and Senators) I asked him to repeat how it happened that his father was living south of the Red River when Ike was born. "Grasshoppers and the drought ruined my father's crop on the farm in Kansas," he recalled, "and he had to make a living for a big family. So he got a job at Denison and while he was working there I was born."

Rev. M. L. Womack and T. J. McCaughan attended a meeting of the Brownwood Presbytery, held in Winters on Thursday of last week. Mrs. McCaughan went with them and took her two little granddaughters, who were met by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Henderson and little brother from Sweetwater. Mrs. McCaughan returned home and the men came after the meeting with Dr. Ben H. Moore, of May, their pastor.

Mrs. Jack Payne has been visiting in Clifton, Texas, this week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Richards. Mrs. Payne and daughter, Dana Frances, expect to return Saturday.

Mrs. Roger Hunter of Austin, and her sister, Mrs. Myrtle Moore of Dallas, visited awhile Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hunter. They were enroute to Lorenza to visit their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Pearson. Mr. Pearson is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Yarborough of Goldthwaite were here visiting Sunday with their cousins, the Ben Yarborough's, and attended our school opening.

Uncle Sam changed the watch on the Rhine to American movements.

Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Jennings, well known here, who have been living in Coleman, where he has been the Nazarene pastor, have moved to Mason, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Nazarene Church there.

Mrs. Ford Barnes, Mrs. Ross Kelley, Mrs. Rex Golston, Mrs. D. R. Hill, Mrs. F. C. Woodward and Mrs. L. E. Abernathy left Wednesday to take in the famous Dogwood Trails. Their destination was Palestine, from which place, they were to go on the various trails.

Curtis Collins is just now able to run his car and get about some, after breaking his leg in February. The injury, just above the ankle, is still in a cast. The accident happened while he was trying to hitch a roped cow to a post.

Mrs. Oran Henderson and Ora Beth of Snyder, Texas, came for the week end and visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Blue. John Hardy was also home from the U. of T. in Austin. They were here to make Hardy's birthday a happy one. Mary Mills of Seminole came with Mrs. Henderson and Ora Beth and visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Mills.

The man who succeeds may take his hat off to the past, but he takes his coat off to the future.
