PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY

Gorman Schools Open for Full Term. Vacation time is over and the kiddies in a wild scramble came to their work on Monday morning. Superintendent Nunnally and his force were on hand to receive them and put them to their tasks. A lot of questions answered, books issued and pupils assigned and then the Gorman schools were off for a big year's work.

The enrollment was heavy for the first day and will likely grow as the week progresses to a total of 500. The school building has been placed in excellent repair and the equipment is right up to now. Sanitary toilets and drinking fountains have been installed and all the plumbing is now in. The playground has been put in a little better shape and a lot of concrete walk put around the building.

All in all the school is in the best condition that it has been in since before the rush started the oil territory and everything points to a successful school year. Professor Nunnally and his corps of high school teachers are working to get more units of affiliation and have ordered the necessary laboratory equipment to really do the work. A course in Spanish is being offered this year and other new courses are being planned. The work is all well planned and the high school ought to come through with full credit at the close of this session.

MUSICAL SHOW

A musical Extravaganza with a cast of 50 home talent, all in gorgeous costumes, will be staged at a local theatre Thursday evening, September 23, under auspices of the American Legion and under the direction of Miss Uesta Dodge Hartzell, of New York City, a professional of wide experience, whose work has carried her from coast to coast.

Recently she played San Angelo for the American Legion. Central Texas towns where she has staged her show may be mentioned: San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Wichita Falls, Weatherford, and Mineral Wells. Madam Hartzell carries a thousand dollars worth of costumes, which adds so much to an entertainment of this nature. 50 of the beautiful girls and young matrons of Gorman will take part in the reverie.

The friends of Mrs. B. M. Collie will be glad to know that she is recovering from an operation performed last week.

Mrs. Herman Oldham and little daughter, Frances Louise, are visiting relatives in the city.

John, Tom and Otis Neill and Clyde King have returned from a coyote hunt on the plains. They report a most enjoyable time.

Miss Edna Eppler is visiting her sister Mrs. Philip Gates of Mineola, Texas.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL CLOSED

The revival meeting held at the Christian Church closed last Sunday evening on account of a previous outbreak of work that Bro. Sewell had to attend to. He is president of the Abilene Christian College and had to be here this week for the opening of the school term next week. He is expecting a great school this year and all the buildings are being improved and put in condition for a very large attendance. The meeting was entirely too short but the church gladly let Bro. Sewell have this time off for the great work he is doing at the school. He is a strong preacher and one that the mere announcement that he will preach in Gorman again will bring a great audience to hear him.

Next Sunday there will be the regular services with Bro. Carpenter filling his regular appointment.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday, Sept. 19.
Sunday School 9:45 a. m.
Morning Service 11: a. m.
Night Service 8: p. m.

Every one cordially invited to come out and worship with us. We are now using our new building and have room for all. If you do not attend elsewhere we invite you to come and be with us.

The Pastor will be here only two more Sundays. On the 27th he leaves to attend school in Louisville, Ky. Be sure and come out and hear him before he leaves.

On Friday evening, the Sunday school will have a party at the church. All Sunday school pupils are urged to be present. If you are not in Sunday school you should be. Come out Friday night and enjoy yourself.

IF WE GREW ON

A man's beard will grow one quarter of an inch in a week. At this rate his beard would be one inch long in a month, twelve inches in a year, or forty feet long in forty years. His finger nails and toe nails grow about one-half an inch in sixteen weeks; at this rate a man's finger nails and toe nails would grow about one and a quarter inches in a year, and in forty years the nails would be about twelve feet long.

A man's body is renewed in about every seven years, therefore a man 63 years old has been changed completely nine different times. His heart wears itself out in about seventy days. Then a man forty years old has had 2,085 hearts to his credit.

The human skin renews itself in about sixty days, and at this rate a man 40 years old has had 244 new skins. The human teeth continue to grow, and if we did not use our teeth and keep them ground down they would eventually become so long that we could not close the mouth, nor make the lips hide the teeth.

It is the wear of the men that saves him from hideousness. It is estimated that a man weighing 150 pounds, if his additions had been accumulative, with in a life of 70 years he would weigh several tons, and his hair, nails and skin would be a museum of vermin, and all his appearance deny that he was the climax of all nature, and the image of the most high Thought embodied.

Once upon a time there was a sport writer who didn't name the umpire when the home team was beaten. But you know how the story starts.

BASEBALL CLOSES

On Tuesday of this week the West Texas League was formally closed with the final game between Ranger and Abilene. Abilene won the play off with Ranger and is now the league pennant holders. They won four out of the seven games and showed in the way they took the series that they could have as easily won the second half as they did the first. They had by all odds the best team in the league it being well balanced. The Ranger Nitros made a game fight and all Gorman was pulling for them, but they failed to have the pitchers requisite to put them in the running. The league has had a hectic career, only one town in the league not having had to call upon the citizens for additional support. All of them are really too small for the class of ball played and there is no doubt but that the league will discover this before another season closes.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The topic for next Sunday evening, September 19th, at 7 p. m., is: "What Our Country Needs Most and Why?"

Leader, Mrs. W. L. Holmesley.
Song.
Prayer.
Scripture Reading, the Leader.
Ideas on the Subject—Mrs. Thos. Haley, Mrs. C. N. Click, Miss Emma Collic and Rev. R. B. Hooper.
Discussion on each of these ideas by every member present.
Song.
League Benediction.
Let every member be present on time and ready to do their part. Also bring someone. Let's have a glorious meeting for the young people.

Talk about tough luck. How would you like to be a small boy with a spanking coming to you and have for your father a man who plays the bass drum?

American Legion

The Alvin Mauney Post 15, Dept. of Texas, American Legion held its regular meeting last Wednesday night, and enjoyed one of the pleasantest evenings of its existence. A large attendance was on hand and enthusiasm was the ruling spirit of the entire evening.

After a short session of routine business, the principle business of the evening was taken up, that of the organizing of the Womans Auxillary of the American Legion to be attached to the Alvin Mauney Post No. 15.

The ladies after signing the application for a permanent charter went into executive session, and with Miss Eppie Jean Grove as temporary chairman, elected their permanent officers as follows—Mrs. Guy Wursching, Pres. Miss Ida Chaney, Vice Pres., Miss Eppie Jean Grove, Secretary, Mrs. R. Stout, Treasurer.

The members of Alvin Mauney Post then approved the formation of the Auxillary and voted the chapter formed.

Motion for adjournment was then in order and all adjourned to the wonderful cakes the ladies baked for the occasion, and the liquid refreshments which were on hand, and in plenty. Not only did each one get served once but the boys and girls alike, in true army style, fell in line for "seconds," Guy Wursching being on "K. J." All voted the refreshments tip-top, and when they were told one of the cakes was an angel food cake, everybody wondered what sort of cherubic names the others had, for they were truly divine.

Everybody then plunged into the fun of the evening, music on piano, singing and games. Soon three tables of Forty-two were hard at it, and so deeply interested that the hours flew.

The Alvin Mauney Post decided to have its next big dance on or about October 5th. Good music is to be secured, and a good time is anticipated. Play is the main spring of life, from the cradle to the grave, and we hope to be able to play with such success, as to make us strong for the earnest things of life.

The Alvin Mauney Post, American Legion, has a victory medal which was addressed to William M. Jones, Gorman, Texas. So far they have not been able to locate Mr. Jones. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be greatly appreciated, as the Post is very anxious to deliver this medal to him.

H. B. Martin, Commander.

NEILL-MEHAFHEY

A wedding of interest to the people of Gorman was that of Miss Sarah Essie Neill and Mr. Z. O. Mehaffey. They were quietly married Saturday evening in the presence of a few relatives, at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. J. E. Hooper officiating. The happy couple left immediately for Waco, returning in a few days to Gorman where they will make their home Mr. Mehaffey being employed at the Dodge Service Station. They have a host of friends who wish for them an abundance of happiness and prosperity.

Attention Ladies

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept.—Aid in the fight against the high cost of living is being offered to the women of the state by the department of Home Economics of the University of Texas. The work is under the direction of Miss Edythe Hershey, specialist and lecturer of the Home Economics Extension.

According to the schedule planned by Miss Hershey, a series of six discussions is given to any club or group of women in the state which can guarantee a registration of fifty for the course. This requirement is made because of the shortage of the workers. The series of discussion includes a survey of the factors influencing the cost of living and the relation of an organized plan of saving and spending, with an explanation of the use and value of the budget and instruction as to practical methods of keeping household accounts. Time is devoted also to the food needs of a family and how to buy, care for, and utilize food to the best advantage. Clothing budgets are discussed, as well as the educational and recreational needs of the family. The lecturer remains for two weeks in a community, thus affording every woman registered for the course opportunity for personal conference on individual problems.

It is announced by Miss Hershey also that in case the group wishes a permanent organization effected this can be done, and work will be directed by the University after the lecturer leaves. All local expenses of the lecturer, as well as costs of the hall, etc., must be paid by the community; the registration fee of one dollar required of each woman enrolled is used for this purpose. The University pays for the services of the lecturer and for travelling expenses.

The Home Economics Department offers for distribution a bulletin "Putting the Home on a Business Basis," prepared by Miss Hershey. It will supply, also, a Family Financial Book, compiled by the department, and furnish advice and supervision in regard to the keeping of such a record.

Miss Hershey states that applications for the course offered will be considered in the order of their receipt, although an attempt will be made to fill all requests. All communications in regard to this work should be addressed to the Home Economics Extension, University of Texas.

There has been an acute shortage of clothes about September Morn this year. Perhaps the paragraphs realize that September Morn had on too much clothing to be in with the girl of this present period.

EASTLAND COUNTY GRAND JURY HANDS

DOWN 39 BILLS

A total of thirty-nine indictments have been returned by the Eastland county grand jury now in session. The grand jury adjourned until Monday morning, when other matters will be taken up. Of the thirty nine indictments returned, thirty four are felonies and five misdemeanors, three of which are for carrying firearms. None of the alleged hold up men were among those indicated so far, or if so their names were withheld by the prosecuting attorney, as the grand jury will look further into this case when they reconvene Monday morning. In giving out the names of those indicated, several were withheld because service had not yet been had.

Those indicated and under arrest or out on bond are as follows:

Lawrence Adams, bootlegging; Lawrence Adams, assault to murder; Lawrence Adams, carrying pistol; D. M. French, theft of diamond ring; Buck Parrish, carrying pistol; Paul Varner, theft of auto; Homer Strosner, forgery; George Stone, robbery; Joe Jackson, theft of over $50; L. L. Shale, burglary; W. G. Kelly, forgery; John Scott, operating still; Clarence White, burglary and theft of over $50; Ben Geiger, burglary and theft of over $50; Frank Wentworth, burglary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CENSUS FOR GORMAN

Next Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, about fifty workers from the different Sunday Schools in Gorman will take a complete religious census of Gorman and the immediate surrounding territory. The workers are urged to meet at the Baptist church promptly at 1:30 to get their final instructions and assignment of territory. If any church or Sunday School has failed to appoint workers and you are a member of that church or Sunday School, you are requested to be present to aid in taking this census. These workers will go in twos and gather the information as called for below. This information will be given to the church or Sunday School indicated or preferred on the card. Every home or boarding house is asked to have at home from 2 to 5 o'clock, or until seen by some worker, someone who can give information to following questions:

Name Sex
Address Phone No.
Route or section of town
Business address
Phone No. Age Birthday
Married If not married, parent's name

THE COTTAGE OF DREAMS

In my little brown house called the Cottage of Dreams.

On the farthest edge of Today, I gossip with Yesterday over the fence

Or smile at Tomorrow at play. My dwelling is only an humble abode

(Their mansions are spacious and tall)

And yet I don't care to own Yesterday's house,

No envy To-morrow at all.

For daily the sun sends me showers of gold

And nightly the moon silver beams—

I count the great wealth, and besides these to spend

I've always a handful of dreams.

DR. GEO. W. TRUETT'S GREAT RECORD

The Dallas News has the following to say about Dr. Geo. W. Truett who will begin a meeting here in Gorman the 24th of this month. Dr. Truett is recognized as the greatest preacher in the south and is in reality one of the institutions of the City of Dallas. He has been highly successful in his work as a pastor and an evangelist and is a wonderful speaker. The local Baptist Church is very fortunate in securing his services and Gorman has an opportunity that is worthy of taking full advantage of. The Progress urges all its readers to hear Dr. Truett upon every possible occasion.

An unusual and more than capacity crowd is expected to hear Dr. Geo. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church, preach his anniversary sermon this morning at the church. Dr. Truett has just returned from a mission meeting in Europe and from two meetings among the cowboys at Fort Davis, Texas, and Silver City New Mexico, which he holds annually.

Besides being one of the most noted pastors of the Baptist denomination, he is one of the best known ministers throughout the world. The successful leadership of many great enterprises, the marrying of many couples, to have officiated at as many funerals and the possessor of a large number of confidences than any other minister in the South are accredited to Dr. Truett. He is constantly being called upon to serve for other people and his time is rarely his own. Many churches have sought the leadership of Dr. Truett, but he has expressed his desire to remain in Dallas to continue the work he has started there. Several years ago the church of which John D. Rockefeller is a member called Dr. Truett to the pastorate there, but he, as usual, refused to leave his congregation here. All persons receive the answer, "If you will move Dallas to your city I will go. Otherwise I must stay here."

Credit for Present Church. All credit for the organization of the First Baptist Church as it now stands goes to Dr. Truett. The church now has a membership of nearly 3,000 and the Sunday school a membership of more than 2,000, with an average attendance of nearly 1,500. Few services pass that there are not any conversions or baptisms.

As in the case of many other great men, Dr. Truett's career had a quiet and calm beginning from a farmhouse in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina. He is the son of C. L. and Mary Truett. In his boyhood he had a meager and limited education, but so great was his thirst for knowledge he avidly read what books he could obtain and at 18 he was a teacher of a backwoods school. A year later he founded the Hiwassee (Ga.) High School, and during his incumbency as principal visited the Georgia Baptist convention and there received his inspiration to become a minister. Later his father moved to Whitewright, Grayson County, Texas, and there George entered the Grayson College. He was later made financial secretary of Baylor University, and while in that did an unheard-of thing, which marked his beginning as a noted man. He raised $92,000, then an enormous sum, and freed Baylor from debt. He then entered school there and was graduated in 1897 with high honors.

He began his first pastorate then in the East Waco Church and later married Miss Josephine Jenkins of Waco, daughter of Judge and Mrs. W. H. Jenkins. In the same year he came to Dallas as Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Sunday's Dallas News has the following to say about the anniversary sermon:

"The Second Chance in Life" was the topic of Dr. Geo. W. Truett's anniversary sermon yesterday morning before an audience numbering more than 3,000. Many persons were turned away from the doors before the services had started. This is one of the largest congregations ever gathered in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, it is declared. At the Sunday School services an attendance of 2,229 was announced, almost doubling the attendance of the previous Sunday and a larger number than has ever been at the Sunday School services this early in the fall. Dr. Truett has completed his twenty-third year as pastor of the First Baptist Church and to him is given the credit for having brought the membership to its present standing, giving the church the largest membership in the South.

"During the services a large number of people were converted and an unusual large number joined the church by letter and by baptism."

Toting Fair

The man who doesn't tote fair with his fellow man is just simply not toting fair with himself.

He doesn't get as much out of life as he should get.

He is dealing to himself from the bottom of the deck and picking out treys and deuces.

This is just a roundabout way of reiterating that honesty is the best policy.

A man can carry the light end of the load one or two times and get by with it. But the fellow who is carrying the heavy end isn't a simpleton and he soon will realize what he is doing. Then the shirker doesn't even get in on the load. He has to carry a whole load by himself.

There are, of course, when a man can't carry the big end of the load. In fact, there are times when he can't carry even the little end. But if he has been the right kind of a man in times past, he won't have to. There'll always be somebody around who has enough appreciation for a regular fellow to give him a lift.

But you won't see very many persons exerting themselves to give a lift to the fellow who won't tote fair.

Take it in business, in social life, in politics, in sport or wherever you will, and you'll find this little dissertation on the gospel of toting fair or the square deal will stand up.

Why, it even applies to religion. When somebody urges you to tote fair with your fellowman, that is just another way of giving you the advice handed down centuries ago by Jesus when he said: "Do unto others as ye would that others do unto you."

You want the other fellow to do the fair thing by you. Then do the fair thing by him. That's the one sure way of getting him to do it. Nearly everybody else is on that level. If you want to share the friendship and fellowship of the majority be on the level yourself.

"White collar men" say a dispatch from Winnipeg, are going in the farms Why not in Texas.

Any man who is dissatisfied with the pay he can earn, can still find land for sale at moderate prices, if he can't pay cash he can borrow the money. Low priced land may not be in good condition, but it will be a much easier job than when the pioneers set out to farm it.

It is often said that the indoor worker would not be able to perform the heavy tasks of farm work. If so, the indoor work has not been good for him. He would better get out and renew his physical ability by contact with the soil and God's pure air.

Man was built with a physical outfit capable of hard muscular labor. If he can't perform that labor, it is likely to be his own fault. The lighter indoor tasks should be left to older men or those who have some physical defect. A strong, able bodied man want to do something more vigorous than add up figures or handle ladies' dress goods.

Twenty-story Churches

Chicago announces that it will shortly have a 20-story church, or, rather, a church in a 20-story building, the most of which will be rented for the purpose of producing income to be used in religious work. A similar building is in course of construction in New York at a cost of several millions of dollars.

This plan would appear to be something new in the world, through endowed churches are common enough, and some old church organizations own real estate of immense wealth. Here and there, indeed, there are old churches which are partly rented and partly used for worship, but these are products of church decay rather than of church building.

These new churches in New York and Chicago will begin their careers as churches in commercial buildings. Doubtless conservatives will shake their heads, say that such things are worldly and that a church building should be a thing apart kept up by willing sacrifices among the faithful and preserved from the taint of commercialism.

However the builders will reply that the money charges will not be in the temple but on the next floor above and they must insist that if the churches had invested some of their funds instead of spending all they might long ago have been independent of interchurch world movements and the danger that such movements would come to grief.

The Unpleasant Day

The first to many people is the most unpleasant day of the month, as bills come to the office and the home, reminders of debts contracted which must be paid.

The first has no terrors for regular PIGGLY WIGGLY customers, so far as grocery bills are concerned, because they have saved, by buying from PIGGLY WIGGLY, enough to pay the water and light bills. They have the added satisfaction of knowing that they have secured for the money spent for their table needs the highest quality at the lowest margin of profit from a CLEAN STORE.

Easy lies the head that does not worry about an unpaid grocery bill.

HOUSE ANTS

There are a number of species of ants which infest our homes but the chief offender is the small red ant which passes its entire existence in houses. The larvae and pupae (commonly called "eggs") are minute white oval objects which are produced in enormous numbers by the solitary mother. They are deposited in the walls or under the flooring only during the late spring and the summer months.

The ant is not inimical to health nor is there evidence at present that it acts as a host to transmit the cause of disease. Its chief claim for consideration and destruction is its mere presence in articles of food, particularly sugar, preserves, and other sweets. When one ant has discovered such foods, the news is quickly spread and soon the supply is covered or filled with an entire colony.

In order to get rid of such invaders it is of first importance to keep food products in tight receptacles and to remove sugar and sweetmeats scattered by children. Several methods to destroy them have been suggested, and as temporary measures, when the nest cannot be located, the following may suffice:

Moisten a sponge with sweetened water; when filled with ants, drop into boiling water.

An ingenious method has been described as follows: A groove large enough for the passage of a single ant is made in an ordinary cork. The bottle is partly filled with sweetened water and a thread moistened with the preparation passes from the floor to the passage through the cork. When the ant within the cork is once gorged with food he cannot get out. Thousands may be trapped in this way. Several of the traps may be prepared and enough time allowed to elapse for the ants to swarm into the openings.

However, the only thorough extermination is the destruction of their nests and the colony at the same time. There is no means of locating the latter, except by following the ants back to their point of disappearance. Bisulphid of Carbon is then poured into the region of their nests. This substance is so penetrating that its work is thorough if the nest is properly located.

CAUTION: The fumes of bisulphid of carbon are explosive in the presence of any open fire or flame. Care should be taken that none are present where the chemical is used.

STURDILY built—designed for power and dependability, possessing grace and beauty in every line—the new Buick Nineteen Twenty One series signally upholds the traditions that have made the name Buick a notable word in the automotive industry.

Two decades have more than justified the unwavering fidelity to the accepted engineering ideals to which Buick stands committed. The same rugged Valve-in-Head motor refined is a distinguishing feature of every model.

In appearance, the Buick Nineteen Twenty One series is notable for the harmonious blending of low, graceful body lines; in appointments, for those added refinements that so materially increase the pleasure and comfort of motoring.

In addition to the general features of the new models the Buick Five-Passenger Touring Car (Twenty One Forty Five) possesses a roominess of tonneau and new arrangement of seating that afford occupants the utmost in riding comfort. For the business man or his family; for the needs of city driving or country driving, this model excels because of its capacity for varied service.

Says The Fort Worth Record

Sunday was the second anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, when an American army commanded by Americans, fought for the first time on European soil and, by clearing the Germans from the famous salient, won a glorious victory. The rainbow division which included many Texans, and the 90th Division, composed of the Texas and Oklahoma national army troops, took part in the battle.

The commanding generals of the eight combat divisions of the A. E. F. which participated in the battle, sent messages of greeting through the American Legion to the men who fought under their command. Brigadier General Douglass MacArthur, in command, sent the following message:

"The most vivid recollection that we of the Rainbow Division have on St. Mihiel day is of those who went two years ago to their last charge. We cannot forget. Blue lipped, smudged with sludge, chilled by the wind and rain of the foxhole, forming grimly and without emotion in the mud which the ground was throwing up, as heavy as that which the skies were letting down, they drove through to their objective, and to the judgement seat of God. We will not say that they have died. They have but passed beyond the mists that blind us here—and come to the end of the rainbow."

The esteemed Hico News-Review gets at 'em in this style: Suppose every business man in town took as much interest in the upbuilding of a city as the newspaper man? He works for railroads, manufacturers, better roads, churches, good streets and a hundred and one other things for the general good; he urges, pleads, badgers, and cavorts around generally until he gets what he sets out for. Imagine his feelings, then, when some lame, strang-halted kind of a fellow reproaches him because he does not boom things enough and nine times out of ten that same fellow has never paid one cent toward supporting the paper, and the paper he reads with marked regularity is either borrowed from his neighbor or picked up from the counter in the store at which he trades.

The government informs us that the liquor consumption of this country last year was nine gallons per capita. Who the heck got our nine gallons?

"Wiggle and Wabble"

The republican campaign slogan, it is reported, is to be "Let's be done with wiggle and wabble." This looks like a very radical measure. It is difficult to see how it can be adopted without repudiating the Chicago platform and Candidate Harding. Those front porch speeches are as full of wiggle and wabble as a nut is of meat.

On the Other Foot

The Helena Independent has a long editorial, full of Montana savor, about a "splendid young American" who has been making speeches in the northwest.

It appears that "he packs a most bewildering punch in either hand." He "inserts barbs and arrows and dirks" under the skin of his political opponents. Withal, he does this "so engagingly and good naturedly that the recipients writhe and snort in fury," and this remarkable performer is accompanied by newspaper men who agree that he is "one of the finest chaps personally they ever met." He is "frank and open and sincere, and likes people just as they like him." A "bully fellow" is the unanimous verdict.

Yet all that is said of a democrat, and of a Roosevelt whose first name is Franklin or "Frank," as they call him out in Montana. It is all very sad for republicans, and seems to them highly undignified. But they used to grin and chuckle when such a winning of the west was undertaken by the right Roosevelt, belonging to the right party.

Giving Workers a Rest

Vacation, sleeps best ally in knitting "up the ravel'd sleeve of care," has generally been an expensive luxury.

To those who have had to take it without pay it has sometimes been an impossibility. Chief among these have been factory employes and other manual workers. Exertion of body has not been regarded as requiring any respite on, if it did, the owner of the body has been expected to take his own expense.

This has meant that many men with large families and moderate wages have not been eager for vacations; cessation from work has meant for them no delightful jaunts into the country, no pleasant visits with relatives, and none of those fishing excursions that establish reputations for imaginative fiction telling.

Moreover, employes have failed to see any advantages to themselves in periodical rests by their manual workers. The human body has been looked upon as a machine; only the mind needed recreation by an assured, recompensed rest.

All this is changing. J. D. Hackett, writing in The Survey, says that vacations with pay for factory workers are becoming an established practice. The custom is by no means universal even yet, only 18 per cent of 624 plants studied having adopted it. But "this could hardly have been said even a year or two ago." Eighty-five per cent of these same establishments gave vacations with pay to their office force.

There is need for improvement in all things, but the biggest improvement needed in Gorman is to fix some drains down the streets.

Optimists and Pessimists

In this old world of ours, of course All sorts of folks we meet; And some use tact, and some use force Some scold, and then some entreat, Some shed a sympathetic tear, While others rudely knock: The great majority, 'f fear, Just knock, And knock, And knock. But there are some who realize That will can master fate, That truth is bound to conquer lies, And love to conquer hate; They know the ancient adage well, That chicks come home to roost, And so on pleasure thoughts they dwell.

PARENTS

That son or daughter what about their future success?

Their abilities to think, to do, to act according to the laws of a well trained mind will measure their success.

How to give them the most of this important training in the shortest time and at the least cost, is the question that a catalogue from America's largest business training school will answer. Whenever a group of parents get together, whether it be at home, picnic, or church, and the question of the kind of an education to give a boy or girl comes up, some well informed parent and a patron of the Tyler Commercial College, Tyler Texas, will tell of the advantages of this famous institution and what wonderful results it accomplished for his son or daughter in a remarkable short period of time, and at small expense. Write for a catalogue of the Tyler Commercial College today. Read the endorsements from parents who have patronized this institution, and note what they say as to the thoroughness of our training, and as to the normal surroundings of the student while in school. Read the many endorsements from our former students showing their success. Read the endorsements of business men who employ our graduates. Read the description of our extensive practical courses of study, and you will see that the Tyler Commercial College ranks among the foremost educational institutions of the country. When your son or daughter has graduated from this institution they will hold a diploma that represents efficiency, and will not only be a passport into the best salaried positions, but will be unquestionable evidence that they have achieved a great accomplishment. They will not have to go back home and wait for something to turn up, they can go into the business world and turn something up. Fill in and mail for our free catalogue.

BIGGER PREMIUMS OFFERED FARMERS BY COTTON PALACE

Blooded Stock From Big Texas Ranches Will Be Sent To Waco

A bigger show for farmers and a bigger and better entertainment for the farmer and his family is primarily the program of the Texas Cotton Palace this year.

As well as the premium list being considerably increased, the amusement end of the 1920 Cotton Palace has also been arranged with the farmer in view.

Agricultural exhibits from east, west and south Texas will form a part of the mammoth display that will be arranged in the spacious buildings shortly before the show opens on October 30 and which will be a drawing attraction throughout the sixteen-day period that the Texas Cotton Palace is maintained.

Competitive Exhibits

According to present arrangements a triangular competitive contest between east, west and south Texas for prize exhibits will add interest to these agricultural displays. The different district chambers of commerce and agricultural bureaus of chambers in the various townships are interesting farmers in their especial territory in this progressive step.

The extension department of the A. & M. College, which has supervision over 150 county demonstration activities in the state, has agreed to supervise a representative Texas Cotton Palace agricultural production. The extension department's showing has always drawn considerable attention at Waco and it is expected that it will win more favor this year, as increased effort is being put into the gathering of this great collection to put into Texas' farm show-window, the Cotton Palace.

Bigger Livestock Show

This year's Texas Cotton Palace livestock show will also be bigger than ever before.

The barns at the edge of the track which have been maintained for years to stable race horses brought to the Palace are being converted into sheds to shelter the swine and cows and mules that will contest for honors this year.

Carefully raised prize-winning Jerseys, Herefords and other blooded cattle will be brought to the Cotton Palace from all parts of the state. And owners of famous stock farms in Iowa, Illinois, Oklahoma and other states will also enter their favorite cattle at the Texas show.

The King and Taft ranches probably will send large exhibits of blooded stock to the Cotton Palace this year.

Premium Price Increased

Approximately $15,000 will be expended for prizes. This amount has been increased by nearly $5,000 in comparison to that offered in previous years.

This year's Texas Cotton Palace offers honors for poultry, rabbits and other small animals, as it has in the past.

ALL RAILROADS GRANT EXCURSION RATES TO TEXAS COTTON PALACE

Recognizant of the importance of the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, Oct. 30 to Nov. 14, as an instructive agricultural as well as entertaining social gathering place for thousands of Texans, all railroads have agreed to offer reduced rates as an incentive to prospective Texas Cotton Palace visitors.

A fare and a third for round-trip tickets will be offered. These tickets will be good for stop-overs during the entire sixteen days the exposition will be in operation.

Vets of the Khaki

Texas' former soldiers will find the Texas Cotton Palace, Waco, Oct. 30 to Nov. 14 an appropriate place to meet their former comrades and spend a few days with them enjoying the festivities and talking over the days of darker times.

PLAGUE PREVENTATIVE

The presence of garbage where rats can get at it is a nuisance.

Garbage in any sort of kitchen refuse or anything that rats can eat.

Garbage must be kept in metal cans with tight lids and the lids must be kept on.

Garbage must not be thrown into the street, into cellars, upon vacant lots, or left where rats can get at it.

Watch the scavengers. Garbage cans must be emptied directly into scavenger wagons, not into sacks and then taken to the wagons.

Workmen on buildings must not throw scraps about where rats can get at them. Builders must provide metal cans for scraps.

Back porches, porch hoppers, etc., must be inspected and all "Nuisances" reported at once.

Inspect most carefully all markets, butcher shops, bakeries and restaurants; all food and scraps must be kept away from rats; warn violators and report them at once.

All articles on fruit and candy stands must be screened from rats and flies.

Stables must be examined carefully. They should have metal lined feed bins and rat-proof manure bins and must be connected with the sewer, or they are "Nuisances." Wherever noted, warn the stable man and report.

All markets must have screen doors and they must be kept shut.

Chicken yards must be kept clean at all times, free from rats and all must be done in rat-proof yards.

Frequent inspection of all boarding and lodging houses must be made.

There Are Things Which Money Cannot Purchase.

Man Who Made That Assertion Proved His Case, Though Many Have Long Held a Contrary Opinion, Says an Exchange.

A group of men were discussing, over the luncheon table, the purchasing power of money. One of them, especially, waxed eloquent upon the subject. "There is nothing money will not buy," he said positively. One man took exception to this statement.

"Money will not buy health," he asserted.

"Wrong!" said the first. "There is many a poor man or woman who, if they had money to pay for proper treatment, would quickly regain their health. In many instances, money will buy health."

"Happiness, then—"

"Wrong again. In rare instances money will not buy happiness, but in the majority of cases, yes. The possession of money means time for rest, recreation, study, travel—many things, all of which give happiness. I'll tell you," leaning across the table earnestly, "write down, if you can find them, four things that money will not really buy, and for each one I will give you a thousand dollars."

The next day, at luncheon, the one who was challenged handed the other a slip of paper. After reading it, the man without a quibble handed his friend four $1000 bills. This is what was written on the paper:

1. A Baby's Smile—A baby's smile can never be purchased by offering it money. To the soul that has so lately come from the place of the unborn, the means of exchange of this world offers no appeal. A mother's kiss, a father's caress, a flower, a bright-colored toy, may win a baby's smile, but you cannot bargain for that smile with gold.

2. Youth: When It Has Gone—"The mill will never grind with the water that has passed." The luster of the eyes of a boy in his teens, the carefree happiness of the maiden, when the years have brought maturity, can never come again. Ponce de Leon in his quest for the spring of eternal youth realized that fact. He knew that youth, once gone, could never be bought again. Money will not purchase its return, even if heaped in piles of millions, and the spring for which the knight so diligently searched to insure against the ravages of time was never discovered.

3. The Love of a Good Woman—Love, like a baby's smile, cannot be bought with gold. Many a woman has simulated love for a dowry with a husband thrown in, and practiced the deception successfully for years, but true love, of the kind which lasts eternally, cannot be purchased. The love of a pure woman is held by her as the most sacred gift which she can bestow. It is not to be bought with gold, or silver, or precious stones. It is given freely to the man she loves.

4. Entrance Into Heaven—There is an old saying that "shrouds have no pockets." Money, which will purchase nearly everything in this world, cannot be taken to the next and used as a means of entrance into heaven. The keeper of the portals of the heavenly city is not susceptible to a bribe. There, at least, money has no value.—Frank Dorrance Hopley in Dearborn Independent.

Breaking It Gently.

A fondness for backing an occasional winner was one of Bill's weaknesses; that his selection didn't always come home first couldn't be blamed on him.

After a certain race, he got home rather later than usual, to be met at the door by his wife, her face distorted with rage. He knew the signs, and sank into a chair, content to wait till the clouds had rolled by. When at last she had to pause for want of breath, he remarked casually:

"I say, Nell, ye likes to 'ear 'o people winnin' lots 'o money, don't yer?"

Visions of new hats and even a dress floated before her dazzled eyes, so the woman forced a smile to her lips and replied:

"That I do. Tell me all abart it."

"Well," he said, as she nestled close to him, "a bookmaker's been an' gorn an' won all me wages this week."—Answers, London.

Movies Everywhere Triumphant.

Mexico, we read in current dispatches, has decided to lift the heavy censorship from the movies and to foster the enterprise in every way. There seems to be no stopping the triumphant march of the movie stars, says the Philadelphia Record. Not long ago we read that Devonshire house, the famous rendezvous of the whigs in London, had fallen before the cinema. The Alhambra and the Empire, famous music halls, are to go, too. England and the continent appear to be as wild for the screen as we are here. All doors are opening to it. Not long ago the conservative Vatican sanctioned the picturing of an important religious function. Great are the movies!

Collie's Heart Touched.

A collie dog, four years old, owned by Omar Cunningham of Farmington, Mo., is a most inveterate foe of woodchucks, furious in the work of digging and annihilating, but she came home the other day carefully carrying in her mouth a baby woodchuck, which she has since cared for as tenderly as if it were one of her own puppies.

WHAT TO DO WITH LEFTOVERS.

The leftover problem is one which needs daily solving and constant care in most households, to see that nothing is wasted. Remnants of fish as of meat should be carefully screened and never placed in contact with butter or milk in the ice chest. Fish should be served within 24 hours after the first cooking as it spoils very quickly.

When buying meat remember the leftover which may follow and may need a sauce. Have all bones that are removed from roasts and other cuts of meat sent home to go into the soup-stock kettle. Ask for the marrow bone with soup and stewing meat, as marrow is excellent for shortening. With French chops and crown of lamb enough trimmings are thrown away to make a most savory dish. Remember when ordering meat that an allowance of suet should go with the meat. Try out the suet and mix with equal parts of lard and you have a shortening which will take the place of butter.

Beef Croquettes Made From Soup Meat.—Chop the meat very fine. Season highly with salt, pepper and celery salt. Add a little grated nutmeg if liked or a little onion juice. To two cupsfuls of meat add one-half cupful of rolled oats and enough thick tomato sauce to shape into croquettes. Roll in egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve with the remainder of the tomato sauce reheated and thinned.

Savory Tomato Sauce.—Take three large tomatoes or two cupfuls of canned tomato, add water, a tablespoonful or two and stew until soft. Add one-half teaspoonful of salt, two sprigs of parsley, one slice of onion, a bit of bay leaf, six peppercorns, six cloves and two tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter cooked together. Cook all together fifteen minutes, strain, boil up one minute and serve. The tomato and seasonings may be cooked, then strained and the flour and butter added, if more convenient.

Sausage and Rice Cakes.—To one cupful of cooked rice add one unbeaten egg and two tablespoonfuls of cold fried sausage. If the mixture seems very soft add more rice. Brown lightly in butter. This makes six medium-sized cakes.

"REASONS WHY" LIFE INSURANCE IS NEEDED

- First Reason—Old age.
Fact No. 1.—Eighty-seven per cent of those who have money today will lose it by the time they reach age 65.
 - Fact No. 2.—Take 100 average healthy men, starting at age 25, and on reaching age 65 thirty will be dead, one rich, four wealthy, five obliged to work for a living, fifty-four "down and out," dependent on private or public charity.
 - Fact No. 3.—In the last thirty-five years life insurance has actually decreased pauperism in the United States by 33 1-3 per cent.
 - Second Reason—Helplessness through accident or disease. Permanent disability.
Fact No. 4.—The accident companies report that about 2,000,000 persons are killed or injured every year in the United States.
 - Third Reason:
Fact No. 5.—Probate court records all over the United States show that of all estates probated 85 per cent leave nothing, 11 per cent small amounts, $300 to $10,000, and only 4 per cent leave $10,000 or more.
 - Fact No. 6.—Great wealth is no guaranty of security, for Cyrus Field, the great builder and financier—to name only one of many—although worth $20,000,000, left at death nothing except his life insurance, which, fortunately, was $250,000.
 - Fact No. 7.—Eight million women in the United States must work to live.
 - Fact No. 8.—Of 3,000,000 widows in the United States over age 65, 90 per cent are without the common comforts of life.
- These are facts.
They are derived from very authentic sources, the United States Government Census, Probate Courts, The American Bankers' Association, the Carnegie Institute, etc.
Your business solicited for all kinds of Insurance and given personal attention.

MODERN HURRY AND SCURRY

Menace in the Nerve-Racking Haste Which Characterizes Present Generation Seen by Writer.

Where is the old leisure, the old jortrot, the ancient habit of go as you please? asks the Outlook. The hurry and scurry that have become, unhappily, so much a part of our national consciousness, particularly in large cities, are likely to wreck our nerves if we are not on our guard.

A friend of ours recently decided that what he needed more than anything else, after his buffetings with the perilous waves of Manhattan, was the tonic of a roadside walk. People jeered at him—yes, positively jeered—when he made the suggestion; and in his pitiful search for companionship he could find no one who was willing to wander forth with him at a slow pace. "I will take you in my car," said one potential companion. "But I do not wish to ride," answered our friend; "I want to stretch my legs and feed and invite my soul in the way that men were intended to do since the beginning of time." "You will be run over," cautioned many. And, true enough—that proved to be his imminent danger when he set forth—alone.

Speed has become the national disease. There is nothing pleasanter than motoring under the right conditions; but seldom can one find a chauffeur who will glide through the green country at the proper gait. Always he must overtake the car just ahead of him—and there is always a car just ahead of him. Sudden turns in the road bring into immediate view other automobiles rushing ahead like mad; and it gets to be a game to catch up with them, blow one's horn and whiz past, as if something were to be gained by the trick.

What does it all mean? Is it possible that our nerves are forever on edge and that we have to hurry in order not to break down? The clamor of the country on a week-end is hideous, and we think the silent hills must smile as they watch us pitiful humans rushing through the valleys, this way and that, mad to beat some one else to a goal that means nothing when we arrive there.

A return to that large leisure and ease which our forefathers knew would be a salutary thing for America. We are altogether too keen about getting nowhere in particular, and then equally keen to get away again instantly.

Japanese Adapt Ideas.

You notice that the Japanese have mastered practically every idea of American and European business methods. They did not secure this information by sending a few salesmen to these countries to offer a few scattered lines of merchandise for the approval of the western world, writes a correspondent of the Washington Post. They sent picked men to this country and to Europe. These men studied conditions and reported back, to instruct others in the knowledge they had gained. Germany pursued much the same methods, and until Kaiser Bill went crazy on the question of world domination and involved the whole civilized world in the holocaust of war the trademark "made in Germany" was familiar in every land.

The United States could well take these countries as an example in this one particular, and, in my opinion, the government is the proper organization to back a school for teaching our young men who wish positions abroad all possible facts regarding the people, habits and customs of the particular land in which they propose to help in making "made in America" the most familiar trademark in the world.

Canadian Wheat Wizard.

Sager Wheeler, "wheat wizard," whose improvements on growing methods have made millions of dollars for Canadian farmers, has had conferred upon him the degree of doctor of laws by Queen's university, Kingston, Ont. To wheat Wheeler, his friends say, is what Luther Burbank is to flowers. Thousands visit his Saskatchewan farm yearly to study his growing methods. Although others have profited, he, it is said, has remained a comparatively poor man.

"You have added enormously to the wealth of Canada and every settler is a gainer by your researches," R. Bruce Taylor, president of Queen's university, said in conferring the degree. "What you have done can never be undone."

Coins Handled Automatically.

A tremendous amount of labor is saved daily at the offices of the Detroit street railways by automatic coin-handling machines. A bank of machines handles an average of 200,000 coins each day. The machines are operated by one-third horsepower motors. The coins are placed in hoppers at the top, in all denominations, just as they come from the fare boxes on the cars. Without further attention, battered and badly worn pieces are thrown out and the remaining coins are sorted into their respective denominations. These are accurately counted and properly wrapped in rolls of any desired amounts.

Leprosy Ravages Colombia.

The interchurch survey reports that Colombia has no adequate working class because of the ravages of poverty and leprosy among its people. Colombia is rich in platinum, gold, silver, coffee, copper and other mineral and vegetable resources.

Cure for "Noises in the Ear."

A French physician has discovered a way to cure pulse beat sounds in the ears, which are due to defective blood circulation, with alternating electric currents.

No More Road Shows

Gorman probably won't have any road shows this fall.

The theatrical companies have announced that the advance in railroad rates will make it impossible for the shows to leave the big cities. The "one night stands" are to be left flat on their backs for amusement.

That doesn't speak well for theatrical profession. The advance in rates has hit every other line of business just about as hard as it has hit the theatrical business, but the other lines of white flags.

One good result in the passing of the road show, however, will be a great revival in stock companies. Almost every town of any size will now have a stock company showing, with a change of program every week or even oftener. And there are some mighty fine stock companies in the United States and they contain some versatile artists.

The road shows have stars and others who can act but one part and they learn to do this one part by doing it and nothing else, day in and day out, but the actor or actress who holds down a job in a stock company has to learn at least one new part each week.

The stock companies may not have the greatest artists in the profession in them but they at least deserve more credit than has been given them, and it is possible now that they are coming into their own.
