W. M. NORTHCUTT

Last Monday the citizens of Gorman were called to the funeral services of W. M. Northcutt, better known as "Uncle Billie." He had passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Scott, at Peoria, Texas, on Saturday, Oct. 16th.
Uncle Billie was 74 years of age at the time of his death and had been, up until a few months before his decease, a very active man.
For twelve years he had lived in Gorman, having moved here from Dublin. His life was an open book and by his good works, he was known everywhere. For years he had been a member of the Baptist church and had served his Master as deacon in that church he loved so well.
He is survived by six children, George of Texerkana, Charles of Dallas, Winston of Cement, Okla., Mrs. LeSieur of Gorman, Mrs. Fannie Scott of Peoria, and Mrs. Eva McCarty, as well as a host of other relatives and friends that are numbered only by his acquaintance.
Born in 1846, he was of the right age to serve in the civil war, and for two years he wore the gray, serving his state and fighting for her cause. His death removes another of the rapidly thinning ranks of that great host.
The family have the sympathy of a host of friends in their hour of bereavement who point them to his life of faith and service as a sacred memory that can ever be their pride.

CARD OF THANKS

To those who so kindly assisted us in the sad hour of the burial of our father and loved one, W. M. Northcutt, we take this method of extending our thanks and appreciation. May the richest blessings of the Father of all be yours in life.

Geo. Northcutt,
Chas. Northcutt,
Winston Northcutt,
Mrs. Fannie Scott,
Mrs. Ellen LeSieur,
Mrs. Eva McCarty.

Q. Who was Gamaliel?
A. A Pharisee.
Q. What is a Pharisee?
A. The ancestor of the Reactionary.
Q. What kind of a looking man is Senator Harding?
A. Looking backward.
Q. Which do I consider the best speech delivered from the front porch?
A. Lillian Russell's.
Q. Who is the best of the Republican spellbinders?
A. The best ones are dead—Baron Munchausen and Ananias.
Q. What did I think of Chas. E. Hughes' speech against the League of Nations?
A. I couldn't tell from it whether he had forgotten he was ever on the Supreme Court bench or was hoping to get back.
Q. Why does Taft support the League of Nations and support Harding who is against it?
A. Taft's support of Harding is like the case of the woman who marries a man to reform him.
Q. What do I think of Senator Harding's statement that "we (the Senate) voted an expression of sympathy (for Ireland)?"
A. The Senate passed it, and Senator Harding, not voting, passed it up.
Q. Did he ever vote on a resolution of Irish sympathy?
A. Yes; he voted "no."
Q. Do I think he is for or against the green?
A. The Senator is more or less green—on all questions.
Q. Why does he object to adding the American flag to the others that will fly over the League of Nations building?
A. He needs it for campaign purposes.
Q. Who first suggested the League of Nations?
A. Noah, but the other fellows wouldn't go into it.
Q. What is the real hitch over the League of Nations?
A. Henry Crabit Lodge.
Q. Do I think Harding will get West?
A. Yes; Nov. 2.

"Culbertson Will Begin Campaign at Weatherford," shouts a headline in the Dallas News. Helsbels! Hasn't that bird started his campaign yet? And does he really expect to be elected governor of Texas?
How about that poll tax receipt, girls? You can own one now as cheap as you can later in the season. And you know it isn't that way with a hat.

REDUCING

PAT NEFF JUBILEE BANQUET

Last Thursday the editor and F. W. Townsend were in Waco attending the banquet given by the Waco Lions Club and Advertising League in honor of Hon. Pat M. Neff, the Democratic standard bearer in the governor's race. The affair was quite elaborate and a host of visitors were there from all over the state. It was primarily a Jubilee and not a starting of a boom for any one else for any office. Men were there from all sections of the state, and were all of one mind, and that was that Pat was going to make a great governor. There were over three hundred at the banquet. Many of the speeches were great ones and were of the character that made every one think. Cullen F. Thomas presided as toastmaster and Miss Kate Friend as toastmistress. The evening was one long to be remembered by all present.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

The Senior class of Gorman High School met Friday night, October 15, with Miss Flossie Sims. Everyone was present except those who were planning to attend the Fair.
A very pleasant evening was spent playing 42, and numerous other games.
At the close of the evening a delicious course was served to all present. The evening was made more pleasant by the presence of Misses Love and Chaney.
Our next meeting will be held with Miss Connie Parker, Friday, October 22nd.
Jessie Wright, Reporter.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Sunday, October 24.
Let every member bring someone with them Sunday and be on time at 6:15.
The League is growing in interest and everyone enjoys it and is willing to help. Let's make the League in Gorman a success.
Subject: Lessons from recent events—Leader, Mrs. Haley.
Scripture reading—Luke 13:1-5; Proverbs, 25:25.
Was the World War arbitrary judgement of God upon sinful humanity?—Clyde Nichols.
What effect had the war upon Christianity?—C. N. Click.
How should the church take advantage of present conditions?—Mrs. R. B. Hooper.
Solo—Miss Emma Collie.
Is the League of Nations a step toward Christianity?—William T. Lynn.
In what condition is the world today, as a result of the war?—B. M. Collie.
Open discussion.
Song—"The Whole Wide World for Jesus."
The League will give a box supper Friday night, Oct. 23, on the church lawn. Ladies will please bring the boxes and the men their spare change.

DE LEON'S FALL FAIR

Friday and Saturday of this week the DeLeon Chamber of Commerce is staging a fall fair that is to be a real credit to that town. They are stressing the products of DeLeon and are offering some excellent awards to the winners in the various exhibits. Nothing can show up the resources of a community as well as such a fair, and the citizens of that town are to be congratulated on their enterprise in that direction.
This is something that Gorman ought to do also. Work ought to start at once on arrangements of a fair for next fall and the list of premiums ought to be very liberal in its make up. There is no doubt but that a very successful affair can be made of such an event and we feel that we can put one over here. H. L. Capers of Bass Lake in a conversation with the Progress editor made an offer of his park for the purpose and is ready to begin the preparation of the ground at once. He will build all the necessary pens and exhibit halls if the citizens of Gorman will make up the premiums and put the roads in shape. What about it folks? Will we take his proposition?

POWER PLANT TO OPEN SOON

The large power plant being built by the Oil Cities Electric Co., on the Leon River near Eastland, will soon be ready for opening and Mr. J. E. Lewis, the president of that concern, has sent Mayor Davis and the citizens of Gorman an invitation to be present. We feel that Gorman ought to have a real representation at that meeting and see just what our facilities are in the electrical line.
Anyone who is interested is requested to phone the Progress editor or Mr. Davis and signify their intention of joining the party, and as soon as possible, you will be notified when the affair comes off. There is no doubt but that there will be big representative bodies there from all the towns served by the company and Gorman must have as good as any other. Lunch will be served on the ground and a good time is assured to all.

Hon. John G. Culbertson, the Republican nominee for governor, is responsible for the following: "I am a Texan and I love Texas and intend to remain here. I am not seeking a political career and have never been a candidate for office. I am taking this time now in the effort to build up a strong, clean white man's party in Texas. Texas needs two strong parties and Pennsylvania is an example of the good that two strong parties can bring." Pennsylvania is the home of Boss Penrose. Boss Penrose engineered the nomination of Senator Warren G. Harding. Pennsylvania Republicans rolled up a majority of 350,000 and they roll that majority up for the most powerful boss that America has ever known. There are no political bosses in Texas.

BIG DEMOCRATIC

RALLY AT CISCO

On Monday evening of this week the citizens of Cisco were the hosts of a large gathering of Eastland county folks for a big Democratic rally. The occasion was marred somewhat by a torrential rain which began falling about six o'clock and continued for a time after the meeting was to begin. The affair was in the nature of a banquet and general meeting. Guests were there from all important centers of the county, and a number of real inspiring addresses were made. The principal features that were stressed were loyalty to the standard bearers chosen in the last primary, the necessity of everyone voting on the school amendment and the desperate need of the National committee for funds. Dr. Sandefer of Simmons College made the principal address in calling for the loyalty of Texas Democrats to their state leaders—and the necessity for all to be faithful to their pledge. Miss Hallie James of the State Department of Education spoke upon the vital necessity of everyone supporting the school amendment. She told us that Texas was first in size, first in agriculture and stock raising, fifth in population and thirtieth in Education. The full responsibility of the fate of the school rests upon the people ratifying the amendment this coming election. Then every community can have the kind of schools they desire and can stay as they are or can improve as the need arises.

Eastland county's quota for the National campaign is one thousand dollars. Each precinct has been apportioned a certain amount and the chairman of that precinct is to collect the same. Contributions are to be from one dollar up. Any Texas Democrat can give a dollar. It is up to Eastland county to get their part and do it in a hurry.
The meeting was a success in spite of the rain.

Dallas, Oct. 18.—"In some way—not by letter, wire air or speech—the public mind appears to have become impressed with the idea that the Democratic candidate for the Presidency within the last two weeks has been rapidly growing in strength," according to Col. William Greene Sterrett in the Dallas News. Col. Sterrett has made a tour through several sections of the country studying the political situation, and is now writing from St. Louis.

"Three weeks ago when he began his western tour from Texas to Maine the opinion prevailed that at last 'Jimmie,' as everyone is beginning to call him, had secured something in the shape of the Democratic Presidential Nomination far too heavy for his feeble strength, and that his return would be something in the nature of a funeral procession with himself as the corpse.

"He did not come out as a corpse. He came rather as a man who had won his fight. The 'hunch' had preceded him and it made everybody want to see him whose individuality had really taken him on the most unpromising fatiguing campaign into what was considered as enemy's country to him, and in single handed combat had been most successful in his venture—He possesses that undefinable thing called 'magnetism'—You can hardly restrain yourself from calling Cox 'Jimmie' when talking to him. The strength of him is the way he explains the issues and tells how he stands on them. He indulges in no stories—There is no circumlocution about him. He is direct. He uses no big words. His sentences are short. In utterance he might be said to be crisp but his voice is soft—And when he is done even a child of ten years will understand what he has said.

"He is a campaigner superb. He is the best I have seen or heard. He feels that he is carrying the day. He believes it and will continue to feel it to the last minute."

It is for the purpose of removing from his shoulders the worry of the financing of his campaign that the Texas Branch of the Democratic National Committee is urging loyal Democrats to contribute to the campaign fund and send in their contributions at once to Royall R. Watkins, Secretary-Treasurer, 327 Western Indemnity Bldg., Dallas, Texas.

Judge S. W. Bishop was up from Waco the first of the week.

Several members of congress are kicking because rent is so high in Washington. But, offhand, we can't think of any member of congress who would be confronted with an injunction suit if he should decide to chuck his present job.

REPORT OF COM-

MISSIONERS' MEETING

The Eastland County Commissioners' Court in session this past week transacted some very important business among which was the fixing of the route that the Eastland-Breckenridge road will take out of Eastland. The order was passed by the court provides that the road shall go out on North Seaman street, then north to the intersection with the pleasant Grove road out of Ranger and thence in a northwesterly direction to the county line.

There have been two proposed routes for this road out of Eastland. One of the routes was to cross the Texas & Pacific railroad where the present Breckenridge road crosses it, near the Gulf Production Company's yard. The route as finally decided upon crosses the railroad at the present crossing at the depot and leads north by the Baumgartner tract to the Pleasant Grove road.

It is the opinion of those who have been heard to comment upon the route that the course chosen by the commissioners is the more practical one and will give Eastland a better advantage into important trade territory. The road out of Ranger into the Pleasant Grove territory has been considered by some an advantage to Ranger, especially if the northwesterly route out of Eastland had been chosen; but with the Eastland-Breckenridge road leading so near the Pleasant Grove territory, as the order of the court fixing the route prescribes, it is thought that Eastland will share equally with Ranger the benefits that might come from this important oil field.

County-City Hospital

The court passed an order to establish a hospital at Ranger, the cost of which will be borne equally by the county and City of Ranger. The hospital will cost $60,000. Half of the $60,000 to be carried by the county will be paid in cash and the remaining $15,000 will be paid in warrants due in March, 1922. It is understood that the physicians and other citizens of Ranger have agreed to cash the warrants to provide money for the completion of the hospital.

The law provides that when a county has a city of 10,000 or more population, the county is bound to establish a hospital in the city or to maintain a ward in a hospital in the city. The fact that Ranger is the only town in the county that has 10,000 people according to the late census gave that city first opportunity in securing the county hospital.

To Dip Cattle

The court ordered that the three cattle inspectors of the county shall purchase three dipping vats and other things necessary for the dipping of cattle, that these vats shall belong to the county and shall be used by the public. It is required of the county auditor shall provide for the dipping of cattle as often as necessary.

The court also made a contract with the parties to repair, re-paper and re-paint the county's houses on the county farm. Commissioner E. H. Webb of this precinct was authorized to build a fire escape on the east side of the court house as is required by law.

After transacting other business the court adjourned to meet again October 25.—Eastland Chronicle.

RED CROSS NEWS

Thirty thousand persons in 164 communities, victims of 73 disasters in the United States during the year ending June 30 last, were aided by the American Red Cross, according to figures which have reached Southwestern Division Headquarters, St. Louis, and which were made public today.

The figures are compiled for the forthcoming annual report of the organization and show that virtually every phase of Red Cross service, including first aid, nursing, health service, home service, Junior Red Cross and Military and civilian relief was brought into play. The totals are exclusive of those of the recent New York explosion when more than 30 persons were killed and when public officials of New York hailed the Red Cross as one of the greatest aids in restoring things to a normal status and helping the injured.

In the accomplishment of the relief work told of in the report 140 Red Cross chapters were called upon to assist, the sum of $900,000 in cash and supplies were expended. Thirty temporary hospitals were called into existence, twenty odd motor corps were organized, seven special relief trains were sent out and 100 special representatives and nurses were furnished in addition to the aid given by the local Red Cross workers in the community visited by disaster.

In these 73 disasters, including 19 tornadoes and cyclones, 2 hurricanes, 2 cloud bursts, 1 hail-storm, 2 earthquakes, 1 landslide, 16 fires, 1 explosion, 9 floods, 10 shipwrecks, 1 train wreck, 4 riots, 1 motor accident and 2 droughts, 850 persons were killed, 1,500 were injured, 18,000 (approx-mately) were rendered homeless while property valued at $85,000,000 was destroyed.

The largest and most destructive disaster of the year was at Corpus Christi, Texas, in September, 1919. Approximately 400 were killed and 4,000 made homeless. The Red Cross Division director with a staff of 35 assistants administered a fund of $400,000, giving aid to 3,600 families and four towns and rural districts and sufficient supplies to each family to enable to stand on its feet.

Because of tornadoes, the Gulf and Lake Divisions were called upon to send emergency relief with trained workers into nearly 80 communities.

The record of last year emphasizes the need of abundant preparedness along the line of disaster relief and has resulted in the organization of Disaster Preparedness Committees by about 400 chapters and the setting aside of special emergency fund by the National organization of $5,000,000 in addition to the regular annual appropriation for this purpose made in its budget.

Another feature of Red Cross work which has been greatly extended the past year is the Home Service in the families of civilians, patterned after the Home Service which rendered assistance to the 800,000 families of soldiers and sailors during the war.

This service, which was inaugurated late last year, was extended to 600 families during the year covered by the annual report. It is furnished only where there is no other established agency for performing this special class of public service, and is confined to chapters of the Red Cross which comply with certain restrictions intended to maintain standards and perpetuate the work. Approximately 1,000 chapters have made application for such authority and 573 have been given the desired permission. This plan of extension contemplates not only the conduct of general family welfare work, but the seeking out and developing of demands for other forms of community service and securing the cooperation of specialized organizations to fill these needs.

MEXICO COPIES BANK SYSTEM FROM U. S.

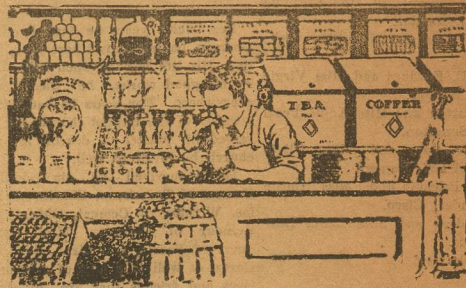

San Antonio, Oct. 10.—Mexico is modeling its banking system after the Federal Reserve System of the United States, according to reports here.

A banking bill has been prepared and is expected to come up before Congress for discussion soon, it is said.

Supporters are endeavoring to expedite passage of the bill, hoping it will assist in floating a foreign loan.

PRICE OF BREAD REDUCED

NOTICE

To Liberty Bond Holders

The Government is asking that you send in all Liberty Bonds now held by you on which the interest is due and where all the interest coupons have been detached that you may secure the new permanent coupons bonds in exchange for these bonds.

If you have not made arrangements to look after your bonds that are now past due, kindly bring in your old bonds and let us be of service in making the exchange for these new bonds.

We are members of the federal reserve system and have the facilities for looking after these matters that will assure you the most prompt, capable and efficient service possible.

Feel free to call upon us for any information concerning your everyday business matters.

What about that field of yours? Has the rain washed all the food content out of the soil, or have you prepared for an equitable distribution of the rainfall over the field by proper terracing so as to prevent erosion? Did you ever stop and think what started so many gullies in Texas? Has it ever entered your mind to inquire why there are so many old fields that are worthless in crop production? The fall and winter is a good time to attend to that terracing. Talk to your county agent about the matter.

Do you believe in fall plowing? Actions speak louder than words. If you do not believe in it now you may be converted by finding out what proper fall plowing has done for others.

How about proper housing for the chickens, hog, cows, etc., for the winter months? It is a splendid idea to take care of the livestock if you expect them to take care of you.

AND NOW THEY'LL LIVE HAPPY EVER AFTER, STORY-LIKE

Henryetta, Okla., Oct. 10.—Now that the courts have recommended that Jackson Barnett, multimillionaire Creek Indian and ward of the Government, and his white wife of elopement fame, be allowed to live together as man and wife in fact, this richest of all Indians and his family are to be featured on the movie screen in a romantic photo drama with a Henryetta setting.

Of course farm implements do not cost anything at the present prices and you are perfectly satisfied to have them remain in the weather all winter exposed to the rain and cold. It will be so nice when you need them to have to hunt all over the farm and discover that they are rusty and unfit for use. The hardware man will be glad to sell you new ones next spring provided you have the money to pay for them. We know you are so busy mourning over the low prices of farm products and cursing the profiteers that you have at got time to properly house your farm implements and of course the merchant needs the profit on new implements next year.

Doubtless the old woman in this story from the London Post will now be able to enlighten her husband on a troublesome subject.

"Doctor," she inquired of a country physician, "can you tell me how it is that some folks be born dumb?"

"Why—hem!—why, certainly, ma'am," replied the doctor. "It is because they come into the world without the power of speech."

"Dear me," remarked the woman, "just see what it is to have a physical education! I'm right glad I axed you. I've axed my old man a hundred times that there same question, and all he would ever say was, 'Cause they be!'"

Chili, made by the famous Chile King of Fort Worth, now being served at Jack's place.

Dallas, Oct. 11.—The first of the certificates issued by Democratic National Committee to those who contribute to the Democratic Campaign Fund have been received at the state headquarters. These certificates will be forwarded from National headquarters to all persons making contributions as soon as possible to list the names and prepare them.

The certificates bear the likeness of both Cox and Roosevelt in opposite corners and are signed by Wilbur W. Marsh, Treasurer; W. D. Jameson, Director of Finance; and countersigned by E. M. Parks, Cashier. They bear the wording "Received of . . . the sum of . . . in contribution to the fund to pay the necessary expenses of the campaign in behalf of the election of James M. Cox as President of the United States, the purpose of the Managers being to finance the campaign by popular subscriptions."

A number of additional members to the Cox-Roosevelt-Wilson Club have been received from those who have matched the contribution of President Wilson to the National fund. Senator Morris Sheppard has forwarded $500 to the fund as has S. B. Perkins of Dallas. Others who have contributed a like amount or larger are J. A. Kemp of Wichita Falls, $1,000; Lynch Davidson, Lieutenant-Gov.-Elect, $1,000; H. A. Wroe of Austin, $1,000; Geo. W. Littlefield of Austin, $1,000; J. T. Pemberton of Fort Worth, $500; City of Marlin, $500. Several others have signified their intentions of making contributions.

The campaign in Texas is progressing and the state headquarters are receiving reports favorable to the cause from many sections where it had been originally reported that Democrats had bolted the party.

Are you running a boarding house on your farm? If so, do you collect the board? There are different kinds of boarders. The chickens, cows, hogs, sheep, etc., are consuming food which has a value and should prove profitable transformers of this food in to marketable products. Some are more profitable transformers than others. Some chickens lay more eggs than others, some hogs, sheep, beef cattle, etc., store more food where it produces the most valuable products, while others are a losing proposition. Talk to your county agent about your boarders and see if you can not find out a way to determine the profitable from the unprofitable boarders.

TIBETAN DEAD NOT BURIED

After Slicing Away the Flesh the Bones Are Pulverized and Then Fed to the Vultures.

To bury bodies in the earth is to contaminate them, is the Tibetan view, according to Rev. D. F. McGillicuddy, pastor of St. Stephen's church, of Worcester, Mass., who penetrated this forbidden country in 1906.

Instead of burying their dead they slice the flesh from all bodies and feed it to the birds. After skillfully cutting away the flesh they pulverize the bones and feed them to the vultures.

The temples used by these people for centuries are still standing. In front of many of them are stumps of trees covered with butter, in which devotees stick their offerings of coins.

Tibet is peopled by a branch of the Mongolian race. The 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 population are a mixture of Chinese and Tibetans, as the races intermarried. They believe in both polyandry and polygamy.

It is the most extensive elevated country in the world, containing 750,000 square miles, with an elevation varying from 8,000 to 14,000 feet. Its climate is principally bleak and cold, although the summers in the southern part are mild and pleasant.

The first white man to enter Lhasa, the capital, was Sir Francis Younghusband, who fought his way there in 1904.

Dalai Lama, religious head of the Buddhist faith, which is the national religion, was so overcome by the fact that infidels had trodden the streets of the forbidden city, that he fled the country, and was for many years a wanderer in northern China.

BOOK MANY CENTURIES OLD

New Testament in Manuscript, Meticulously Preserved, Was Brought to New York From Armenia.

One of the oldest New Testament manuscripts in the world, and the oldest, so far as is known, in the United States, was brought from Europe by John Hahn, a Hungarian. A dozen or more full-page colored illustrations of incidents in the life of Jesus begin the volume. These are followed by two pages of historical data and several more comprising a calendar.

Little is known of the history of this ancient Testament. A brief account of its later adventures is given in the center of the book, written in modern Armenian by Jezekiel Arshagun, who, in 1895, wrote what he knew of its story. During the reign of Abdul Hamid, when the Turks were persecuting the Armenian people, pillaging homes, demolishing chapels and carrying away all the books, this volume was saved because it was hidden in water, doubtless in a well, until the danger had passed. The book was equal to the test. The ink stayed fast and the parchment firm. Only the red leather cover was loosened from the canvas back, showing its wooden foundation and a scrap of silk lining.

Employed Two Parachutes.

Though the design and operation of parachutes have been the subject of practical experiments since the eighteenth century, the American air service is the first, it is believed, to test the action and interaction of parachutes used in pairs, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. In experiments performed at Mitchell field, Long Island, N. Y., a sergeant strapped one parachute on his back, as usual, and a second on his chest. Thus encumbered, he was carried, in a two-seater plane, to a height of approximately one mile. Here he walked out on a wing, pulled the release of the rearward chute, and stepped into space. The white bag opened nicely, and he drifted down to within less than 1,000 feet. Here he pulled the second release, and the second parachute opened above him without entangling or interfering with the first.

Grouchiness Destroys Friendship.

Nobody, of course, expects a man to be eternally radiant with cheerfulness and wreathed in smiles. But people will not tolerate urbanity one day and grouchiness the next in perpetual alternation. People will not tolerate it because they do not have to. Pleasant friends who are more reliable in their manner are not difficult to find. There is no need of putting up with a "grouch."

Consequently the moody, instead of blaming others for their unpopularity extraordinary, would far better reproach themselves. They are the ones with whom the fault lies, and until they overcome their moodiness they may rest assured that solitude and unhappiness will be their portion. — H. Addington Bruce in Chicago Daily News.

Parrot a Brainy Bird.

We may question the veracity of some of the parrot stories that are told by admiring owners, but we cannot doubt that the parrot is endowed with remarkable brain power. A good bird will interpret the moods of those about it in a most uncanny way. A parrot known to the writer somehow seems to know instantly when his mistress is amused, and will join in the laughter after a dinner-table joke with such spontaneity that any stranger might credit him with an accurate appreciation of the humor of the moment.

The Main Question.

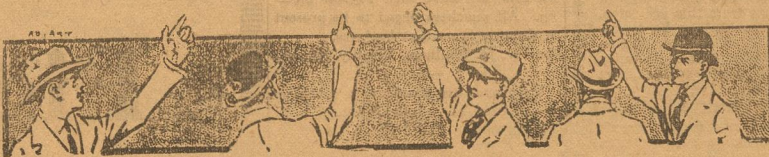

"Sir, I came to ask you for your daughter's hand."
 "Well, young man, how much are you prepared to put into it each month if I give it to you?"

THE BANK WILL LOAN YOU MONEY

If you are improving your place and trying to care for your crops. Now is the time to put your barn and hay sheds in shape for the care of your crop. What is the use of growing crops unless they are cared for. No sensible man will make a useful article and then throw it away. Then why let your crop waste by exposure to the weather. Get some lumber and put it under cover. We have all you need.

THE GORMAN PROGRESS

Devoted to the Interest of Gorman and Gorman Territory

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

J. W. COCKRILL - - - - - EDITOR

Entered at the Postoffice at Gorman, Texas, as second-class mail matter under the act of Congress of March 3rd, 1879. Advertising rates on application.

The Chamber of Commerce meets tonight, Friday of this week.

It has an object in view and everyone must be there.

The object is the fixing of the road to the Puett Well.

No one can afford to stay away.

A lot of men are offering to go out and work on the road for nothing. Some other work will have to be hired.

Our County Commissioner is offering to do his part and furnish lumber and other material.

It is up to us. Not just one, but everyone.

So be at that meeting this evening at the Gorman Hotel.

The Bolshevik military genius appears to be in a run-down condition, but it is fully equal to their diplomatic strategy.

Furthermore, we did not come out of a world war psychology to get worked up over a world series.

"Madam," said the conductor politely to the lady; "you must remove that suitcase from the aisle." "Fo' de Lawd's sake, conductah, dat ain't no suitcase. Dat's mah foot."—Ithaca (N. Y.) Journal.

The Chinese peanut oil which is said to have demoralized the cotton seed market in this country probably is being shipped to California ports, and it is the Californians who want foreign lemons kept out. If we are going to bar lemons, why not bar grease?

COMMON SENSE!

DR. J. KAHN, OPTOMETRIST
I am going to talk eyes and preach eyes, until all needing my services respond.
Take care of your eyes. If you have headaches or are nervous or seem to be in a constant strain determines the cause at once.
I, Dr. J. Kahn, eyesight specialist, visit Gorman at Corner Drug Store every Wednesday for the purpose of examining the eyes and the fitting of glasses. I will not prescribe glasses if they are not needed. Don't put it off; small eye troubles grow. Children's eyes should be carefully looked after every year. Inquire as to my ability in my chosen profession and myself as a gentleman. Wednesday is Eye Day at Corner Drug Store.

For Sale or Trade—4-room house bath, light and gas, two full lots about five blocks from postoffice. Will sell on terms or trade for anything of value, prefer Auto, Liberty Bonds or diamonds. Will give some on a bargain. Phone 205 or call at Wells-Peugh Co. office. 37-1tp

Whitley's 5 and 10c Store has a full line of toys for the children. Bring them in to see them. They are all new and as nice as you will find anywhere.

Hallowe'en is coming next week. Whitley has the right decorations for our party on the night the witches walk. Whitley's 5 and 10c Store.

NOTICE TO TAX PAYERS
I have been employed by the school board to collect the school taxes for the Gorman Independent School District and anyone that has not paid their tax for the past year or this year is requested to see me at the Continental State Bank. The school is badly in need of money to pay their expenses, and your immediate payment will be appreciated.
H. L. Capers, Collector.

Lost—A purse containing $13.00. Belongs to a person who needs the money very much. Please return to Progress Office and receive reward.

Dr. Kahn's Dallas Office is 1410 Main St., in the heart of Dallas.

Have plenty of Peanut Bags for sale.—F. S. Perry. 37-1f.

Box Supper at the Methodist church on Friday evening. The Epworth League invites you to come and bring a full box.

To my friends and patrons—I take pleasure to announce that I have associated with me as partner, Dr. M. Stubblefield, whom I recommend as being highly qualified in the practice of medicine, better enabling me to take care of my friends and all their persons who might desire our services.—Dr. R. H. Rush.

EASTERN STAR MEETING
On next Monday evening the Eastern Star will have their regular meeting. All members urged to be present as there is important business.
Mrs. W. H. Mullings, Worthy Matron.

Your eyes are precious; a graduate optometrist of ability. Dr. Kahn, Optometrist.

"Can your little baby brother talk yet?" a kindly neighbor inquired of a small lad.
"No, he can't talk, and there ain't no reason why he should talk," was the disgusted reply. "What does he want to talk for when all he has got to do is to yell a while to get everything in the house that's worth having?"

OUR RANK IN EDUCATION.
The Russel Sage Foundation in its recent investigation of all the states of the Union ranks Texas as thirty-ninth in education. Shall a state that is first in size, first in agricultural products, third in production of oil, and seventh in wealth be satisfied to remain thirty-ninth in education?

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY.
Texas is about ten per cent illiterate. Twenty-five per cent of our children do not advance beyond the fourth grade. The average is the sixth grade. That means that, in future, we shall have a sixth-grade citizenship. The only safeguard of the democratic institutions founded by our forefathers, the best protection against bolshevism, the wisest economy for the state, is education. Give the country boy and girl a fair chance! Work and vote for the Better Schools Amendment on November 2nd.
A reputation is no mushroom; it can't grow overnight. Dr. Kahn, Optometrist.

The Piggly Wiggly Way

Direct from the producer and manufacturer to the consumer, to him and to her who eats the PIGGLY WIGGLY way, the way that puts dollars and cents into the pockets of the Grocery-buying public.

To bring the producer to the consumer, the miller, the canner, the packer and the farmer to the housewife, puts actual money in her pocket.

To do this is to put the PIGGLY WIGGLY theory into action.

To be the FIRST to reduce the price of sugar was a demonstration of our sincerity of purpose and an actual evidence of our ability and determination to give the retail buying public the best values for the least money.

Coffee prices are following in the wake of sugar prices, PIGGLY WIGGLY for the past week has been selling the best coffees at a reduction of about 5c per pound.

PIGGLY WIGGLY does not depend on any wholesalers, but when the market conditions justify it, we immediately give the public the advantage of lower prices.

The PIGGLY WIGGLY way saves money for the consumer.

Uncle Abe Clawhammer on the Educational Amendment

"Well nut," said Uncle Abe Clawhammer of Pignut Gulley, "since some of you fellers are worrying about some king restricting the liberties of the natives of Arkcky, I would like to know what you fellers are going to do about the liberties of people three fitches over the corporate limits of some mossback city? When did you get the idea in your head that some feller cleaning out a livery stable was entitled to better educational advantages than the lad who breathes free air of the rural district? When did you get the idea in your head that some bootlegger was safer to make the rate of taxation than the feller what raised the corn?"

"Now if I understand the proposition correctly, the country people merely want a constitution without class distinction, a constitution that will give them all the advantages they would have if they had a mayor, a flock of policemen and hoodlum wagon. Because they can behave themselves without having a cop tell them where to head in every minute, is no reason they haven't got sense enough to give their children a decent education, especially when they are going to pay the freight themselves.

"Some of you smart alecs write columns and columns about back to the farm when about all you do after you got there would be to gather aigs. You fix everything and do everything possible to make the farmer live in town, and then cuss him fer doing it. Since coming to think about it, I believe the best thing that could happen to the United States would be to make the country schools so good that all the city people would send their children to the country. I have heard of boys being sent from the country to town to school and come back about as bad a misfit as you are.

"Then there are the girls. The way you have it fixed at the present time, if a girl living in the country wants better than a common school education, often too bloomin' common, she has to hike it to some town. If there is anything more deplorable than taking a young girl away from her mother and home influence and stick her off in some boarding house just because the state constitution would not let her dad pay enough taxes to build a school, I don't know what it is.

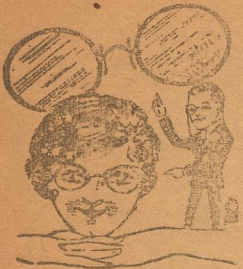

"Texas was shown by the last census to be the greatest agricultural state in the union, that is a greater per cent of the people lived in the country than in any other state. This being the case, Texas has more interest in seeing that the country districts have the proper educational advantages. No one would think of having a constitution which would give the city people the right to have self-starters while the country people must confine themselves to a back-firing rattletrap what has to be cranked up. That, however, is the way you have your school matters."—Beaumont Enterprise.

JUST WORK AND WAIT

There is no market for cotton now. The buyers are not in the market. The spinners are not in the market. BUT THERE WILL BE A MARKET FOR COTTON. THE MILLS WILL COME IN AND SO WILL THE BUYERS. Do not get stampeded. The thing to do now, then, is to pick the crop and when the demand does come, don't dump it all on the market at once. Hold the cotton, not for a big price when the demand does come, but try to be in shape so you can be able to secure for it something like its value as measured by cost of production. Take your eyes off the future and spot board for a few days. We are not attempting to say what the market will be, but certainly this is time neither to offer or to sell. The cotton mills are out of the market. Wait until they come in.—From Memphis Commercial Appeal.

PRIDE

PRIDE is a great thing. It is a lot more than we often realize.

Contented Eyes

We are asking all the pride possible to make our store one in which there is not, nor can not, be any doubt as to QUALITY, GRADE and PURITY.

We have added a full line of drugs, chemicals and pharmaceuticals to our line of Jewelry and Optical goods. We have bought each one NEW, and when you get them here, there is no question as to their age and quality. There is no old shelf worn stuff here. We have everything in our store NEW and UP-TO-DATE. We are selling at a "Live-and-Live" price. We would like to have the world given to us, but we have not the gall to ask you to put a fence a fence around it after giving it to us.

We have a full line of EASTMEAN KODAKS, Films, Albums, etc. Our prices are right on these. We rent them as well as sel them. We are just two doors east of Continental Bank.

We have been here a long time, and we have gone into this business to stay a much longer time, and to do this we propose to make our store one that we can point to with pride, as it is just prices and fair dealings we propose to build on and we know this to be a lasting foundation. Give us a trial and we will prove more than we have time and space to mention here.

COTTON PALACE HAS BIGGEST PROGRAM IN TEN-YEAR HISTORY

Opening Oct. 30, Closing Nov. 14, Grand Opera, Football, Fireworks Display, Feature Attractions.

REDUCED RATES ON ROADS

Greatest Agricultural and Livestock Exhibits in State Will Be Found At Waco.

Waco, Texas.—What is described by President W. V. Crawford to be the "greatest program in the ten-year history of the Texas Cotton Palace" was announced here today.

Grand Opera will be presented by an organization of 100 artists five days following the opening of the 16 day exposition Oct. 30; the queen's ball will be a national affair with the presence of 20 or 30 "princesses" or debutantes from as many states in the union; the most daring automobile racers on the track today will compete for big purses; some of the biggest colleges in the state will send their football eleven to Waco to meet conference teams on the fair's gridiron; a magnificent fireworks display at a cost of $1,000 a night will be staged during the second week in front of the huge grandstand; special days are set aside for women, for children and the livestock exhibits and agricultural displays are expected by officials to be greater and more interesting than ever before this year. Special low rates have been granted on all roads to Texas Cotton Palace visitors.

The complete program, just announced, follows:

Saturday, October 30th. Opening Day—Southwestern University Day, All Texas Day.

Morning, 10:30. Cotton Parade on down-town streets.

Afternoon, 2:30. Football game between Baylor University and Southwestern University.

Night, 8:30. Formal opening Parade on the down-town streets.

8:30. Opening Ceremonies in Coliseum. Invocation by Rev. J. J. Grier.

Welcome—On behalf of the Texas Cotton Palace, President W. V. Crawford; City of Waco, Mayor Ben C. Richards; State of Texas, Governor W. P. Hobby, formally opening the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition of 1920. Address by Congressman Tom Connally. Awarding of Cotton Premiums, to be followed by informal dancing. No extra charge on opening night for Coliseum.

Sunday, October 31st. Afternoon—2:00. Auto races, world-famed drivers in high-powered cars, racing for the largest premiums in the history of the Cotton Palace.

Night, 8:30. Eldora Stanford Concert, F. Arthur Johnson, accompanist.

Monday, November 1st, Y. M. B. L. Day, Press Day. Newspaper men and their families from all parts of the state to be special guests of the Texas Cotton Palace on this day.

Tuesday, November 2nd. (Opening night of Grand Opera). Waco Day, Union Labor Day. Waco business houses close at 1 p. m.

Morning, 9:30. Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.

Afternoon, 2:00. Auto races, world-famed dirt track auto drivers in high-powered racing cars, competing for the largest purses in the history of the Exposition.

Night, 8:00. Opening Grand Opera, "Carmen", in the Coliseum. The San Carlo Grand Opera Company with one hundred celebrated artists direct from a six-weeks' engagement in New York City.

Wednesday, November 3rd, Bohemian Day. Morning, 9:30. Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.

Buy a season ticket for $4.00—16 days and nights—every day and every night big features and any of them worth the price of an entire season ticket.

Afternoon, 2:30. Bohemian entertainment in Coliseum and address by a noted speaker.

Don't fail to visit the War Path

the first week, and remember all shows on the War Path will entirely new and different the second week.

Night, 8:00. Second night Grand Opera, presenting "Lucia di Lammermoor." Bear in mind that the world-famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company, with its one hundred world-famed celebrities, will present a different opera each night up to and including Saturday night, and two matinees this week.

Thursday, November 4th, morning, 9:30. Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum. Live stock will be judged on this day. See the large exhibits of live stock from all parts of the country—the Poultry Show, Rabbit Show, etc. Government Agricultural Exhibits, County Exhibits, West Texas Exhibits, East Texas Exhibits, North Texas Exhibits, South Texas Exhibits, etc.

Afternoon, 2:30. World-famous San Carlo Opera Company presents the opera "Faust."

Night, 8:00. Third night of Grand Opera, presenting "Aida." The Texas Cotton Palace Coliseum seats 10,000 people and people from all parts of the state have already signified their intention of bringing their families to witness various operas as scheduled on this program by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company of New York. Reserve your seats now.

Friday, November 5th, morning, 9:30. Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum. Live stock will be judged on this day. Don't fail to see the Live Stock, Agricultural Exhibits, Poultry Show, etc. See the big Farm Machinery Exhibits and the many Mercantile Exhibits in the Main Building. See the exhibit of Overall Manufacturing from start to finish. Visit the Women's Departments. Every feature new and different—a complete change and an educational feature that eclipses anything of the character ever presented in Texas.

Night, 8:00. Presentation of Grand Opera, "Madam Butterfly." Every presentation is different; the operas were selected by the votes of people from all parts of Texas, voting for seven operas from a selection of twenty.

Saturday, November 6th, Traveling Men's Day, Girls' Canning Club Day, Deaf Mutes' Day, West Texas Chamber of Commerce Day, A. & M. Day, football game.

Morning, 9:30. Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.

10:30. Traveling Men's parade on down-town streets.

11:00. A. & M. Cadet Corps parade on down-town streets. Live stock will be judged on this day. See the Automobile Exhibits—one entire building devoted to the Auto and Truck show.

Afternoon, 2:30. Football game between A. & M. College and Baylor University. The greatest game scheduled in the Southwest this year.

2:30. Grand Opera Matinee presenting "Tales of Hoffmann." Every school child in Texas should have the opportunity of witnessing Grand Opera, and the Texas Cotton Palace management have arranged this Saturday Matinee of the famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company for this purpose. Go and take the children.

Night, 8:00. Grand Opera, the farewell presentation, "Il Trovatore." The Texas Cotton Palace Exposition is the first in America to stage Grand Opera, bringing the world-famed San Carlo Grand Opera Company with its one hundred world-famed artists direct from New York City to Waco for the purpose of this presentation. Grand Opera is educational, entertaining and highly attractive. Thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of the finest and most costly scenery has been transported to Waco for this brilliant presentation, and the immense stage in the great Coliseum makes possible a presentation of Grand Opera that is not eclipsed even in the world-famous Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Sunday, November 7th, afternoon, 2:00. Auto races, world-famed speed demons in high-powered racing cars competing for the largest money purses in the history of the Exposition.

Night, 8:30. Band concert in the Coliseum—McDaniel and Harris Band.

All Coliseum attractions during the second week are free.

Monday, November 8th, Rotary Club Day. Featuring Special Children's Entertainment and at night the pageant "The Glowing Cross."

Morning, Visit the Women's Department of the Texas Cotton Palace. Rich and rare exhibits that will interest everyone. Every feature from beginning to end is entirely different from that of the Women's Department of former years—many educational features that will delight every member of the family. The Women's Department represents the work of months on the part of the Women's Committee, and not a detail has been overlooked that could be added to make this the greatest achievement in the history of this department of the Exposition.

All War Path shows are new for this second week.

Afternoon, 2:30. Grand Baby Show in Coliseum and Mother Goose's Court Reception—the delight of the little folks.

Band Concert—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00. Fireworks, "Hawaiian Nights," and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

8:00. A feature night Coliseum attraction, an entertainment on a most elaborate scale, presenting a pageant called "The Glowing Cross." No extra charge for this Coliseum feature. Informal dancing.

Tuesday, November 9th. Queen Day and Night—The formal presentation of the King and Queen of 1920 Texas Cotton Palace.

Who will be the Queen? No one will know until her presentation at the coronation ceremonies on this night. The Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies this year are to be the most gorgeous of any event ever held anywhere. At the request and invitation of Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas, the various Governors of the different states of the Union have designated young ladies from their respective states as Princesses to the Queen of the Texas Cotton Palace, and these Princesses are to be present in person with their maids. This is a great compliment paid to the State of Texas by the other states, and especially a compliment to the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, for it makes the Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies an event of nation-wide importance. In addition to the Princesses from the visiting states, there will be a Princess from the District of Columbia and a Princess from Texas and Duchesses from throughout the State of Texas. No extra charge will be made for this great Coliseum attraction.

Afternoon, 2:30. Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00. "Hawaiian Nights," Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of Grand Stand.

8:00. Coronation Ceremonies, presentation of the Court of the Texas Cotton Palace, visiting Princesses, Duchesses and Court features, followed by the brilliant ball in honor of the Queen and participated in by people from all parts of the United States. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Wednesday, November 10th, afternoon, 2:30. Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

See the War Path shows.

Night, 8:00. Fireworks and Ballet Dancing before the Grand Stand.

8:00. Shriners' Night. Special features by Karen Shrine, followed by Shrine Ball. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Thursday, November 11th, Society Ball Day, Armistice Day, American Legion Day.

Don't fail to inspect the Automobile Exhibits—Pleasure Cars and Trucks. One entire building devoted to Auto Display. See the Farm Machinery Exhibits, visit the War Path and see the new shows. Visit the United States Agricultural Exhibit; see the State of Texas Agricultural Exhibit by A. & M. College. Visit the Women's Departments, see the many mercantile exhibits. The Texas Cotton Palace is one of the greatest educational events in the South, and with the educational features are combined high-class amusements and entertainment features that make it the most unique exposition in this country.

Afternoon, 2:30. Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band. See the Textile Exhibits—Cotton converted from the raw product into the finished fabric—Hides converted into shoes, etc.

Night, 8:00. Society Ball, the great social event of Texas, and this year many of the Princesses and Duchesses to the Queen's Ball will remain for this great society event. The committee in charge have planned for many entertaining features and a brilliant event that will rival any society feature and decorative effect ever presented in the great Loma Star State. No extra charge to witness this Coliseum feature.

8:00. Fireworks before the Grand Stand. Special Armistice Day Fireworks Display. "Hawaiian Nights" and Ballet Dancing.

Friday, November 12th, Women's Day, All McLeannan County Day.

This is set aside as Women's Day. You'll find the many exhibits in the Women's Departments, especially worthy of your inspection. Never have the exhibits in this department equaled the displays of 1920. They show clearly the immense amount of work and the painstaking effort that has been put forth by the Women's Committees of the Texas Cotton Palace to achieve this remarkable success.

Afternoon, 2:30. Special Coliseum program, participated in by communities from all parts of the county followed by concert by McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00. The Women's Day program will close with one of the most entertaining features of the entire Exposition, a presentation entitled "The Crop." No extra charge for this Coliseum attraction.

Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

Informal dancing in Coliseum.

Saturday, November 13th, Confederate Veterans' Day, G. A. R. Day, Farmers' Day, Old Settlers' Day, Football Game, T. C. U. Day.

See the Poultry Exhibits, Rabbit Show, Live Stock, Farm Machinery and the Automobile and Truck Exhibits.

Afternoon, 2:30. Football game, T. C. U. and Baylor University in one of the biggest gridiron battles of the season.

2:30. Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

8:00. Fireworks and Ballet Dances before the Grand Stand.

Informal dancing in Coliseum.

All Exhibit Buildings are open at night as well as during the day.

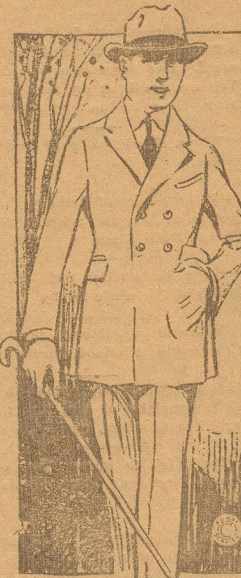

Sunday, November 14th, Afternoon, 2:30. Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Special attractions on the War Path. Special music in the Exhibit Buildings.

Night, 8:30. Band Concert, Grand Finale, McDaniel & Harris Band.

LIFE INSURANCE =an OBLIGATION

The accumulation of money is not the first and sole object for any normal man's life work; the pride and satisfaction at having accomplished something worth while for his fellow-man is worth far more than the dollars accumulated in a lifetime.

However, a man cannot devote his best energies to any work when he is constantly harassed by the thought that his family must depend upon his daily earnings for sustenance, and that should the Grim Reaper reach down and sever his connection with this world his family would be in actual want. Such thoughts do not develop steady nerves and sound judgment.

And yet, with all these facts so well known and recognized by our American people, so few of us are really making adequate provision for our loved ones when our earning power has vanished.

"If a man does not provide for his children," says President Wilson, "if he does not provide for those dependent upon him, and if he has not that vision of conditions to come and that care for the days that have not yet dawned, which we sum up in the whole idea of thrift and saving, then he has not opened his eyes to any adequate conception of human life. We are in this world to provide, not for ourselves, but for others, and that is the basis of economy."

At what sum do you value your life?

The policy you now carry probably does not equal one year's income—how long could your family exist on it?

Answer these questions for yourself—then consult The Franklin Life Agent.

Americans who contribute to the Red Cross would feel amply repaid for their generosity if they could see what it means to hundreds of thousands of war weary sufferers in the Balkans. Here is a widowed Roumanian mother with her five children just after a visit to a Red Cross relief station. All are barefoot and the boy at the left is wearing clothes made of scraps from the battlefields. They have just received winter clothing, food and condensed milk for the baby. Similar work is being done for Russian refugees driven from home.

THE DOLPHINS

By CLARA C. HOLMES.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Oh, Mr. Campbell, see!" exclaimed Janet Ashmont, rising in her seat in the motorboat.

"Those monsters are called 'black-fish,'" he replied. "There is a big school and some of them are 10 feet long. I'm going ashore."

"Please, don't go—the fishermen aren't minding," remonstrated the fearless young woman.

"But the creatures are chasing us, Janet. See, one just leaped right out of the water! Suppose one jumps at us!"

Campbell put on speed and soon reached the boat moorings, some distance from the rock-bound shore.

Janet sat silent; she was disappointed, for she had been enjoying her boat ride.

Frank stopped and gazed up and around the sky. A black cloudbank hovered on the eastern horizon. Frank knotted the ropes securely and then adjusted a canvas covering. He was very methodical.

"My boat is dancing where I tied her myself before I was ill; I haven't a cover, either," ejaculated Janet, spitefully.

"That is only a matter of judgment," Frank responded, assisting the girl into his rowboat. He was gentle, but not loverlike; but she was cross with him.

On the shore, delaying to push off his dory, Atwell Reynolds awaited them.

"Engine trouble, Campbell," he asked. "No, black fish," frankly admitted Frank.

"Oh, ho!" scoffed Atwell. "Dolphins avoid motorboats."

"They are strange creatures to me, so I took no chances," retorted Frank. "Miss Ashmont," smiled the suave Reynolds, "may I ask you to accompany me? The dolphins are sportful, and like to race at a safe distance."

"I'll go with you; the water is rough."

Frank sauntered toward an old fisherman repairing traps. He began to chat, but he was jealously watching the couple rowing away.

Since she had met Reynolds, three weeks before at this Cape Cod resort, Miss Ashmont had encouraged the new friend's advances, and had seemed annoyed because Frank was so unyielding.

"So you're afraid of black fish?" asked the old lobsterman, quizzically.

"I did not want to chance the lady's safety," explained Frank.

"You're safe in a motorboat; then fish ain't got no use for propellers." The old man was a true weather prophet. Suddenly the wind turned northeast and rain fell. Frank hurried out and refastened Janet's motorboat. Atwell landed his passenger; but she was frightened and drenched.

All day the storm raged, and all night. Several in-bound boats came ashore. Atwell's launch was dashed to pieces upon the rocks. Mud-black waves rolled in, and, curling, spent their fury in a seething, angry foam.

Among the on-lookers upon the bank Janet stood worrying about her boat.

At length, when the wind abated, two hardy fishermen launched a rowboat.

"The fishermen will look after their property, and wisely leave us to do likewise," sagely suggested Frank Campbell. "Come, Reynolds," he continued deliberately, "you are the best boatman and swimmer here; it is up to you to assist me in saving our friends sinking boats."

"All the boats in this bay aren't worth two human lives," refused Reynolds.

Then a U. S. marine volunteered to accompany Frank.

With hearts beating anxiously, the people gathering saw the young men battling with the breakers. They watched them struggle from craft to craft and hail each one light. They cheered when the brave boatmen, drenched and chilled, reached the shore.

The next day Frank Campbell made a business trip to town. He was so deeply engrossed in business affairs for a week, indeed, that Janet hesitated to approach him. At last she met him alone in a grove path. His manner was formal, but she slipped her arm into his.

"I told father about the dolphins," she ventured, "and he admires your discretion. I got a scolding for going out with Mr. Reynolds."

"I'm sorry, Janet, you were scolded; I dare say I bored you enough with my logic."

"Your logic!" she repeated. "Yes; in this I am a disciple of Colton: 'Deliberate with caution but act with decision.'"

After a pause she resumed, sweetly: "The girl you choose for your wife will be honored."

For the moment he lost his head; his arm tightened around her as he asked tensely:

"Do you sincerely think so, Janet?"

"Yes."

To her surprise he smiled and changed the subject.

She was constant afterward. Several times she tried to infatuate him again, but he was adamant until near the close of his vacation; then he declared his intention to secure a license and wished her to marry him the very next week. In her surprise she said nothing.

Later, when she conferred with her mother, she advised:

"It's no use trying to change his dear, stubborn head."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 24

WHAT THE KING REQUIRES.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 6:1-48.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.—Matt. 5:48.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Lev. 19:18; Deut. 34:5; Luke 6:20-38.

PRIMARY TOPIC—What the Heavenly Father Wants Us to Be.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What Jesus Wishes His Followers to Be.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Measuring Up to Christ's Standard.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Character Which Jesus Requires.

The so-called "Sermon on the Mount" is the king's proclamation of the laws which obtain in his kingdom. These laws do not set forth terms of salvation to sinners, but the principles of life which shall obtain when Christ reigns on earth.

I. The Characteristics of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 1-12).

These characteristics are set forth in the nine Beatitudes.

1. The consciousness of utter spiritual poverty (v. 3). "Poor in spirit" does not mean to be without money (Isa. 66:2), but to come to the end of self in a state of absolute spiritual beggary, having no power to alter one's condition or to make one's self better.

2. A profound grief because of spiritual insolvency (v. 4).

3. A humble submission to God's will (v. 5). The outgrowth of mourning over spiritual insolvency is meekness.

4. An intense longing to conform to the laws of the kingdom (v. 6).

5. Merciful (v. 7). The subjects of the kingdom now take on the character of the king.

6. Purity of heart (v. 8). Since the king is pre-eminently pure, the subjects who enjoy fellowship with him must have heart purity.

7. Peacemakers (v. 9). The one who has received the peace of God through Jesus Christ will diffuse peace to others.

8. Suffering for Christ's sake (v. 10). The world hated Christ, the king, therefore those who reflect his spirit in their lives shall suffer persecution (II Tim. 3:12).

9. Suffer reproach (v. 11). This means suffering falsely. In such case we should glory in it, for it brings great reward in heaven.

II. The Responsibilities of the Subjects of the Kingdom (vv. 13-16).

Man is corrupt, and the world is in utter darkness. The disciples of Christ are to live such lives as to purify and enlighten. Their responsibilities are set forth under the figures of salt and light.

1. Salt of the earth (v. 13). The properties of salt are (1) penetrating; (2) purifying; (3) preserving. Since salt only preserves and purifies in the measure that it penetrates, so Christians only as they enter into the life of the world can preserve it from decay.

2. The light of the world (v. 14). Light illuminates and warms. This world is cold and dark. The devil has set many pitfalls and snares. As sons of the light we should live so as to prevent the unwary from stumbling and falling.

III. The Laws of the Kingdom (vv. 20-48).

1. As to deeds of righteousness. They must exceed that of the scribes and Pharisees.

2. As to sanctity of life (vv. 21-26). "Thou shalt do no murder," means more than simply to refrain from the taking of life. Rash anger is heart murder (v. 22).

3. As to organized life (vv. 27-32). The family is the unit of society. There is no sin that so rots society as that against the relation of the sexes. The two awful sins against the family are (a) adultery (vv. 27-30), (there is heart adultery as well as heart murder); (b) divorce (vv. 31, 32). Moses, for the hardness of the hearts of the people, permitted a man in case of adultery to put away his wife and give her a bill of divorcement.

4. As to oaths (vv. 33-37). Speech is the absolute test of character. Whatever is more than the simple form of affirmation or denial comes of the Devil.

5. As to behavior toward those who do not recognize the laws of the kingdom (vv. 38-48). (1) Not revengeful (vv. 39, 40); (2) willing to do more than is required (v. 41); (3) charitable (v. 42)—even the borrower should not be turned away; (4) love toward enemies (vv. 45-48). Love to enemies consists (a) in blessing them that curse us; (b) in doing good to them that hate us; (c) in praying for those who spitefully use us.

God Is Everywhere.

Let us remember that God is at the seashore and in the mountains just as much as he is in our home town and in our home church. We need to resist the devil of license which is always whispering his evil insinuations into the ears of people away from home. We need religion just as much in summer as we do in winter, perhaps more. So when we are away from home let us not neglect our Bible, and our daily prayer, and attendance upon the house of worship whenever possible.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 20.—A unique plan for earning money with which to pay his expenses through the University of Texas was adopted by W. S. Gatewood of Canyon when he entered that institution in the fall of 1919. For a small sum he purchased a War Savings Bank which was used down town during the war, had it moved to a location directly opposite the campus of the University and opened a second hand book store. During the present school year Mr. Gatewood has sold more than $8,800 worth of books, which represents a saving to the students of $1,250, according to his statement. He has on hand $2,000 worth of books which he expects to dispose of later in the year. In addition to his book business, Mr. Gatewood dispenses hamburgers, soda water, candy and fruit. He says that he has made more money with this small business in the year he has owned it than he made in four years of teaching school, and at the same time has been able to attend the University. He employs several part-time student assistants, and thus has time for his University work.

CAUGHT AT THE POSTOFFICE

The Chronicle man went up to the postoffice the other day to buy a sickle's worth of stamps.

He could not get to the stamp window because others were there being waited on, so he backed off to a nearby desk and began listening to the conversations going on around there.

A man rushed up to the window and says, "g'ime some stamps!" The clerk responds, "how many sir?" He hesitates a moment and says, "le'me see, g'ime five 2's and a few 1's: no, wait a minit till I see what change I got. You may g'ime seven 2's and 1; that makes it all right—no. I'll take twelve 2's and a 1. You see I want to unload my little change."

He stood there five minutes by our waterbury trifling away time and keeping others away that were standing there waiting to be waited on when he could have made his purchase in less than half a minute and been gone.

Next in line was a woman. She began saying, "howdy do" to the post clerk. "I s'pose you are the new man here, hot day aint it? How do you think you are going to like Mission?" About that time a little simled headed fellow back of her was in an awful hurry to get his mail and he took the alovers and pawed the floor and cleared his throat. I thought sure he would "say something" but he held his peace. About that time I looked again at the little woman and she was licking some stamps, putting them on her letters but still holding her place at the window and talking as fast as her tongue would act at the clerk on the inside. Finally she finished licking the stamps and had them on the letters. Then she opened her hand satchel and got out her handkerchief and carefully pressed down the stamps on the letters to be sure they were stuck on good. I thought the man behind her would take the jim jams. After awhile she again opened her satchel and got out her pocketbook and after fumbling with a lot of small change finally landed on a dime and handed it through the window and wanted the clerk to give her back two pennies in change, as she said the lid wanted to try the slot machine for a chaw of wax and she wanted to use the other one to see how much she weighed.

After securely fastening her pocketbook and restoring it safely in her hand bag she adjusted her hat and rubbed something over her face and looking around saw the man behind her waiting and with a smile that would charm the hardest heart of man, she bowed and stepped away.

The editor came away, as he could not wait any longer, a much wiser man, and began wondering whether postmasters and postal clerks were really justified in being sour and gruff sometimes.
