

FIRE VICTIMS' LITTLE BODIES TO BE BURIED

Children of Laurence Family Will Be Laid to Rest in Same Grave.

At a double funeral this afternoon at 5 o'clock, Katherine, 1 year, and Everett Laurence, 4 years old, victims of the gas fire on the Caddo road, will be buried in Evergreen cemetery. The Rev. W. H. Johnson will preach the service. The little boy whom everyone thought had a chance to live, died yesterday afternoon. As to the outcome of the mother's and father's fight for life no one can say. They hope that is all they can do. The little boy died because as he lay sleeping in the tent that was burned when the leaking gas became ignited, he inhaled much of the gas. When the father touched the match that caused the tragedy the gas in his body also became ignited, physicians say, and it was this that caused his death and not the exterior burns.

Mother Unconscious.
The mother is unconscious and the father only has rational moments. Not since yesterday morning has Mrs. Laurence been in condition to ask for her babies. She does not know that they are dead. Neither does the father know that they have died. They will not be told until they have recovered sufficiently, if they do, to withstand the shock.

The funeral cortege will leave the Milford undertaking parlors at 5 o'clock. Mr. Laurence, father of the burned man, is here from Gatesville, and the mother and father of Mrs. Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, live here. It was their wish that their grandchildren be buried together. The tragedy happened Wednesday morning when Laurence arose and struck a match in his tent which had become filled with gas from a leak.

PRESIDENT HARDING TO REST JULY 4

SOMERVILLE, N. J., June 24.—President Harding will not speak at any Fourth of July exercises this year, but will pass the holiday quietly at "The Hills," the summer home of Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, between here and Raritan. Following the announcement made from the Frelinghuysen home that the President is coming for rest and recreation he requests that he be allowed to quietly enjoy his visit. He will play golf Saturday and Monday and will attend services at the Third Reformed church at Raritan Sunday morning. No visitors will be permitted to see the President. There will be no speeches on July Fourth and it is requested that all demonstrations be avoided.

MEXICAN REGULARS RUSH TO PUT DOWN THREATENED UPRISING

MEXICO CITY, June 24.—Mexican regular troops were rushed to the states of Vera Cruz and Hidalgo today to put down threatened uprisings. The rich oil lands of southern Mexico were believed manacled by Gen. Castulo Perez, against whom the troops are marching in Vera Cruz. In Hidalgo, the regular forces were ordered to disarm and muster out the state militia, which has failed to co-operate with the regular forces.

Negro Slayers Make Blood Atonement for Death of Sailor Who Defended Flag

WEIRD PLOT!
CHICAGO, Ill., June 24.—A plot to restore life to two executed murderers was frustrated here today. Jailer Lawrence Meisterheim, who discovered the plot, ordered that the bodies of Grover Redding and Oscar McGavick, who were hanged early today, be held in the jail for two hours after execution. The plan, according to the jailer, was to rush the bodies of the murderers to an undertaking room immediately after execution, and apply hot blankets and nelmotors, in an effort to restore life. Meisterheim stated that he had definite information that the rascals were almost cheated last December, when a snark of life was restored to Nick Bianca, who was hanged. Bianca a few seconds later died "a second time," according to the jailer. Meisterheim said it would be possible to restore life in cases where the condemned died of strangulation, if treatment were applied soon enough.

CORA WEEPS!

United Press.
CHICAGO, June 24.—Mrs. Cora Orthwein wept today when she was attacked as the cold blooded murderess of Herbert P. Zeigler. Lloyd Heth, prosecutor, charged that Mrs. Orthwein did not slay the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. executive in self-defense, but that she planned the crime.

CITY DADS IN FAVOR OF LOCAL CONTRACTORS

Quisle and Andrews' Low Bid on Hospital Now Requires Vote of County.

If the county commissioners' court agree with the city commission, Quisle & Andrews of Ranger will build the City-county hospital. The local body yesterday afternoon voted to award the Ranger firm the contract because its bid was the lowest submitted, $50,308 for the building complete with plumbing, heating and wiring. This bid was made after the contractor had cut $1,654 from the original cost through suggestions made at a previous meeting Tuesday. The offer made yesterday by the Walker Construction company of San Antonio was only $14 above that of Quisle & Andrews and the offer of Walsh and Burney was $4,146 in excess of the local men. Before the contract finally passes to Quisle & Andrews it must first be accepted by the commissioners' court at Eastland. It is thought that body will meet Saturday for the purpose of finally passing on the contract.

Only two county commissioners and Mayor John M. Gholson were present at the meeting yesterday. The three made a quorum. H. H. Hodges made the motion that the contract be awarded to the lowest bidder. It was seconded by A. Davenport and passed without argument.

CULBERSON TO SUPPORT BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Senator Charles A. Culberston of Texas, in a letter to Dr. E. L. Young, post adjutant of Otho Morgan Post No. 17, the American Legion, of Greenville, today announced that he intends to support the soldiers' bonus. Senator Culberston said, "I write to acknowledge receipt of your letter regarding the soldier bonus bill, as advocated by the American Legion. I am heartily in favor of this legislation and shall support the bill in the senate."

STORM WARNING!

WASHINGTON, June 24.—An advisory warning of another storm which appeared to be forming in the northwestern part of the Caribbean sea, in the vicinity of Swan island, was issued today by the weather bureau.

GEORGE W. BOWMAN, TEXAS BANKER, IS DEAD

PLANO, Texas, June 24.—George W. Bowman, 71, local banker and director in the Texas Electric company and other corporations, died at his home here today. The funeral will be held Saturday.

FAIL TO DIE GAME.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 24.—Two murderers of a sailor, who was slain in an attempt to prevent an American flag from being burned, were hanged here today. The state avenged the death of Robert Rose, young sailor, when a noose was tied around the necks of Grover Redding and Oscar McGavick, and the trap sprung. Rose was killed in the bloody "Abyssinian" riots here a year ago. Redding and McGavick, both colored, attempted to foment a rebellion among blacks in this country, and lead them back to Abyssinia. An anti-American demonstration was staged, during which American government and institutions were ridiculed. The climax of the demonstration came when Redding and McGavick unfurled an American flag, threw it on the ground, and applied the torch. Rose rushed from the sidewalk, and commanded, "Don't." Several shots were fired; Rose's body fell across the burning flag. Redding and McGavick, who throughout their trial, and in the death chamber, maintained the attitude of "bold, bad men," lost their composure on the way to the gallows. They whimpered and whined at the rope.

HAS ELEVEN FIANCES WAITING FOR HER

Who are the eleven men, New York is asking, whose ardent suits have won Miss Virginia Lee's "Yes" and who expect on her return from abroad to become her husband? Undulant, slender-haired Miss Lee, whom Howard Chandler Christy enthused over as "the ideal Christy girl," has confessed to friends in Paris that she is afraid to return "because I've got eleven fiancés, and they'll all be waiting at the pier." But none of her friends can list the entire eleven. And perhaps their names will remain a mystery until the vessel docks. Miss Lee was born in Mexico City and educated in New Orleans. She is 21 years old.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT CHARGES FOLLOW FIGHT AT DANCE HALL

Two charges of aggravated assault and one for pistol toting were filed yesterday as the result of a fight at a dance hall on the Strawn road Wednesday night. The complaints were signed by R. L. Unger, who had paid a fine at the police station Wednesday night under a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. One charge of assault and that of pistol toting were made against H. G. Johnson. The other assault charge was lodged against R. V. Montgomery, who manages the dance hall. Unger ejected. Unger declared that Montgomery had forcibly ejected him from the building in which the dance was being held, and after getting outside he struck him with a black-jack. In evidence of this he exhibited a "hickey" on the back of his head. He also charged that Johnson, when called by Special Officer John Wallace, to assist in his arrest, struck him over the head with a pistol. At the time of Unger's arrest, Montgomery was not arrested and no complaint had been filed against him. In appearing before Justice of the Peace Fenclaw, Unger stated that either Wallace or Johnson shot at him after he had been handcuffed and then broke loose to run. R. L. Faircloth assisted in the arrest. Didn't Have Guns. Wallace denies that Johnson had a gun or that either he or the other officers struck Unger. The bruises on his face and head were caused by him falling down, Wallace declares. But he admitted shooting twice to stop the fleeing man. He also denied knowing that Unger had been hit by a black-jack. Johnson also denies having a gun or hitting the man.

MILK AND ICE FUND REACHES TOTAL OF $126

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A clew which may reveal the fate of at least one of the twenty "vanished ships" was being followed by government investigators today. A colored postcard, mailed from Paris to the mother of a member of the crew of one of the vessels that disappeared in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras, constitutes the bit of evidence. The mother says that the writing on the postcard is that of her son. Investigators today refused to reveal the name of the man supposed to have sent the postcard, and asked that the name of the vessel be withheld, for the time at least. Officials point out that the postcard may have been mailed by someone other than the missing sailor, and signed with his name. They probably will ask the Paris police to aid in their investigation.

BIG GAS DEAL!

HOUSTON, June 24.—Articles of agreement which constitute the first step toward one of the biggest gas-marketing propositions the country has seen in several years, have been filed in Shreveport by the Union Power company and the Fidelity Trust company of Houston, according to advices received here.

SLAYER OF FATHER AND TWO BROTHERS NOT INSANE; MUST SERVE

FORT WORTH, June 24.—Burt Robinson, who killed his father and two brothers Feb. 21 at Bear Creek, 18 miles southwest of Fort Worth, will serve a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary as a result of the action of the jury this morning in pronouncing sentence following its verdict of guilty returned Sunday afternoon. Efforts to have the man proved insane were set at naught by the jury after a new trial had been asked for on the grounds of insanity.

HARDING AND BANKERS EAT FOR 5 HOURS

Also Discuss Various Angles of Business Situation at White House Repast.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—Measures to lift American business out of its slump were considered by President Harding and twenty-one bankers at a White House dinner which lasted until one a. m. today. The bankers, it was said, will meet with railroad heads shortly in an effort to agree upon a plan to relieve the nation's carriers from bankruptcy. Almost every angle of the business situation was gone over during the five-hour session, which began when the bankers sat down in the great state dining room at eight o'clock last night. The bankers were called upon to speak freely, and many offered suggestions which will be of great help to the government, Secretary Mellon said later. Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, who became director of the budget this week, was among the guests, as was also John T. Scott, president of the First National Bank of Houston, Texas.

50 ELKS WILL BE DRAGGED TO THE SLAUGHTER

In fear and trembling, fifty future Elks will be led to the slaughter at the Elks carnival to be held tonight at Shamrock park. The latter place was chosen because members of the order who are temperamental objected to having the clubhouse covered with "what'll we say—gore?" That will answer as well as anything. The Elks are a tender-hearted bunch. Before starting the festivities of the evening they will feed the candidates as well as all other members of the order who are in attendance, and it is said that it will be real food with bottle beer—almost beer, of course. This is calculated to lull the suspicions of those doomed to furnish amusement for the rest of the gang. They will sink into a sense of security and peace with all mankind. But the awakening will be rough. After that it is said there will be an entertainment. Somebody asked what a you mean, entertainment? but the only answer is "wait and see."

FLYER WILL TRY TO LAND ON PIKE'S PEAK

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 24.—Landing an airplane on Pike's Peak is a hazardous undertaking. But Lieut. R. E. Talmadge, formerly a flyer in the British Royal Flying Corps and now a pilot for the Western Aircraft company, a local passenger concern, will undertake the feat. For his trial Talmadge will use one of the small army scouting planes, and will attempt to land on the auto highway at the summit of the peak. The attempt will be made as an advertising stunt. Never in the history of flying has a landing been made on the summit of a mountain. July 15 is the date set for the attempt and a motor truck will be at the summit of the peak to bring the plane down once the landing is made. Talmadge says he has little fear but that he can make the landing but states it will be impossible to take off from the summit for the flight back.

HEAP MUCH WHEAT!

TOPEKA, Kan., June 24.—Although the June crop report, issued today by the state board of agriculture, lowers the estimate of Kansas wheat yield 2,000,000 bushels below the May report, it increases the yield more than 10,000,000 bushels above the last government reports, and indicates that this state will thresh its fourth largest wheat crop this summer.

GOLD FOR GUNS!

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A total of $414,067,440 is carried in the naval appropriation bill, under the final figures completed today by senate and house conferees. This is an increase of $18,065,000 over the original house appropriation and is almost $80,000,000 less than the senate provided.

'NICKY' SENTENCED!

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Jules (Nicky) Arnstein and four others were sentenced today to two years in the federal penitentiary by Justice Siddons of the District of Columbia supreme court. The five were recently convicted by a jury on the charge of conspiracy to bring stolen securities from New York to the District of Columbia, in October, 1919. Arnstein and one other also were fined $10,000.

FLOODS!
By United Press.
TULSA, Okla., June 24.—Early this morning scores of families living along the Sand Springs interurban railway, between Tulsa and Sand Springs, were flooded out of their homes, situated on low ground adjacent to the Arkansas river. The river is reported to be at flood stage, and rising rapidly.

SINN FEINERS MINE TRAIN; 2 SOLDIERS DIE

BELFAST, June 24.—Two British soldiers were killed near here today, when Sinn Feiners mined a railway and derailed a troop train. First reports, reaching here over crippled wires, placed the death list at 40. It was learned later that the total casualty list was 40, including 38 injured. WIRES ARE CUT. Sinn Feiners cut telegraph wires and isolated the scene of the wreck. The plotters picked a time when thousands of soldiers, drawn here to guard the king and queen during the opening of parliament, were being returned to their camps. The first two trains went through in safety. Apparently the mine exploded after their passage, tearing out sections of the rails. The third train rushed into the opening, and was partly wrecked, many soldiers being killed instantly. Brief dispatches here did not state whether Sinn Feiners remained nearby to fire on their victims.

LEWIS-GOMPERS CONTEST GROWS HOTTER HOURLY

DENVER, June 24.—The contest for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor became so hot today that President Samuel Gompers was forced to warn against electioneering by federation organizers. Gompers stopped the proceedings of the convention when a half dozen campaign conferences were on in various parts of the convention hall, and said: "I am informed that some organizers of the federation are interfering with the election of officers. No organizer has the right to espouse the candidacy of anyone." The convention agreed that the election, which will settle whether Gompers or Lewis shall lead the labor union movement, will be held at 10:30 Saturday. ASK INVESTIGATION. DENVER, June 24.—The convention of the American Federation of Labor today asked President Harding to investigate the strike and riots at the Standard Steel Car company, Hammond, Ind., in 1919, and to fix responsibility for "issuing guns" and the death of four steel car workers. The resolution charged the workers were shot down with riot guns furnished by the United States government.

APPEALS COMMISSION OF TEXAS ENDS TODAY

AUSTIN, June 24.—The terms of the present six members of the commission of appeals expired today, and Governor Neff is to name a new commission before the supreme court convenes in October. It is known that at least two members of the commission will not be reappointed. Under the new law, the commission will continue until the last of June, 1923.

Wherefore, the railroad dump, but no railroad.

A Good Town.

DeLeon itself is a sizeable and substantial town of about 3,000. Looming up as the chief industry is a large peanut factory and there is evidence of oil money in a new city hall and a large hotel, the Travelers, where the party had lunch. Both are substantial buildings and the hotel is well equipped. After lunch, during which there was much pep and merriment, A. E. Hampton, a DeLeon lawyer, made a short address welcoming the visitors and expressing pleasure at their coming. He then introduced Colonel Rufus J. Lackland, who acted as spokesman for the party during the remainder of the trip. Colonel Lackland stressed the entertainment features to be found at Ranger, with particular emphasis on the baseball team and the Elks' carnival, and also included his chicken farm as a valuable entertainment feature and well worthy of visiting (which it is).

Apple Orchards. After the handshakes and a final parade through the business district, the party headed for Gorman, and it was soon apparent that Comanche county had been left behind, for the roads became an unending series of bumps. Nearing Gorman, there are several extensive apple orchards and other evidences that this has long been a prosperous farming community.

Gorman itself is a well built town, with an especially ornate hotel and a complete department store that sold more than a million dollars' worth of goods in 1919. It carries everything from pins to pianos. There also are extensive supply houses which have been established since the Deadwood pool was discovered.

Gorman had had no notice of the boosters' coming, so there was no reception, though Gorman folks assured the visitors there would have been if they had. It surprised them. Colonel Lackland "sold" Ranger to Gorman in the same sprightly manner as he had previously auctioned it off to DeLeon. And the gang went visiting some more; especially at the soda fountains.

"What are you doing here, Bo?" asked a friend of ours who conducts a newspaper thereabouts.

"Kinda advertising our ball team mostly," sez I.

"You gotta Ball Team?"

"You gotta ball team?" he asked in the vernacular. By his tone he intimated that he kept up with the doings of the West Texas league, and he left no doubt as to his meaning.

Whereupon we explained that we had, and why. The explanation and its reception were mutually satisfactory, for we parted after exhibiting reciprocity through the mediumship of cold ones and cigars.

Young Collier, an ex-Gormanite, had to see his ex-geni during the stay and this resulted in much confusion just before leaving town. As it was, the pilot car, which he rode, had to go back after him, thereby causing several others to also turn around and turn right back again. That and Colonel Lackland's flat tire caused quite a wait outside of Carbon. Carbon was the smallest place visited, and only a short stop was made.

"Just Visiting" Eastland.

Eastland was "just visited." We're near neighbors to put anything over on each other, so a parade around the square and a short stop for refreshments at the invitation of Manager Crenshaw of the Chamber of Commerce was the extent of activities.

Olden was circled coming back, but it was too scattered to offer any suitable stopping place. Judging by the layout, its townsmen at one time expected to pass Ranger as a center of population.

The road from Olden to Ranger is not a road. It's a trail through a pasture and must have been discovered accidentally. It runs for a hundred yards or more through the bed of Colony creek, which effectually blocks it after each rain.

It was a somewhat tired and thoroughly dusty but cheerful crowd which disembarked at Ranger after squaring the circle. But all voted it a good trip and are lined up 100 per cent for the next one, on which it is hoped to take a band. The songbirds, including J. B. Owens, Joe Harness and George Murphy, did well and showed better after each practice, but a band is needed to add the proper pep to the program.

Some hundreds of passes to the ball games were left at the various towns. These passes, good for any game during the season, will cost their donors 30 cents each, to pay

Uncle Sam and the visiting team. The baseball club donates its share. Included in the booster party were:

C. M. Smith, W. B. Collier, Jack Armstrong, W. W. Grubbs, A. Davis, Sanford Dean, Frank Brantley, Irving Schwartz, J. E. T. Peters, J. E. Farrow, J. E. Tennant, Ab Pitcock, E. L. Chaney, A. Joseph, V. Wakefield, C. E. Day, M. O. Burt, J. B. Owens, Rufus J. Lackland, T. E. Henshaw, L. T. Summers, W. J. O'Dell, O. R. Brady, J. C. Smith, The Rev. W. H. Johnson, M. Alexander, N. J. Novakovitch, H. E. Bozeman, George Murphy, Joe Harness, E. E. Crawford, L. L. Rector, "Chief" Harris, P. F. Middleton, B. J. Chaney, F. C. Swearingen, W. L. Faubion, Mr. Williams, C. J. EVERY cent you spend over the price of Calumet might as well be thrown away. You don't get a thing for it. You can't get greater leavening strength or greater purity than are offered in Calumet.

It is made in the world's largest, best equipped and most sanitary Baking Powder Factories.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Food Authorities.

No matter what you pay you can't secure as much in sound baking powder quality.

On the other hand—you can buy a cheaper baking powder—a little lower in price than Calumet—and much lower in merit. That's the worst kind of false economy.

Calumet never fails. Every baking is perfectly raised—sweet, even and tasty.

Used by millions of housewives and is the largest selling brand in the world.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Graham Muffin Recipe
 1 cup of white flour,
 1 cup Graham flour,
 1 tablespoon sugar,
 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup of milk, 1 egg well beaten, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Then mix in the regular way.

EVEN SHANGHAI UNDER SPELL OF REFORMERS

By CHARLES EDWARD HOGUE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

SHANGHAI, June 24.—"From here to Shanghai" ran the merry ditty popular in the United States not many years ago, when this Gateway to the Far East was better known as "Paris of the Orient," and when all sorts of naughty things were intimated in connection with the night life here.

"From Shanghai Somewhere Else" is the dirge being groaned today by the promoters of that same notorious "Night Life."

For he it known that the Grooms have at last downed the Joys! The fair Russian maidens who gambled blithely to the tune of their only English accomplishment: "Buy bottle of wine"—at $8 a pint—are sobbing in solitude, their habitat "The Trenches," once ablaze with gleaming lights, presents a sadder and forbidding aspect and "The Wheel," one-time the Orient's Monte Carlo, is surrounded by Chinese soldiers, who look suspiciously upon passersby to ascertain whether they may have been obsessed of the sporting instinct.

General Ho Feng-lin, defense commissioner of this province of Kiangsu, has issued an ultimatum. There shall be no more dance halls nor gambling houses in the Chinese territory of the province. These places had heretofore thriven almost in the heart of the International Settlement from which they are barred, but were because of the peculiarities of the boundary lines, an Chinese soil.

Striking among the results of the governor's ukase is the case of "The Wheel." For many years it had world-wide notoriety as a palatial gambling house. A year ago it was closed and seized by the Chinese authorities, who said it would be converted into a hospital. Then came the announcement that it had been sold to a foreign syndicate which was to remodel it and reopen it as a first-class cabaret. Half a million dollars was spent on the place.

Governor Ho heard rumors that gambling was to be resumed. He took prompt steps. When the reopening date arrived more than 1,000 persons arrived at the remodeled resort. They found a cordon of soldiers drawn up around the place.

JUAREZ, Mexico.—Exportation of grain and seed from Mexico is banned under a decree issued by President Obregon, said a report reaching Juarez. Mexican grain brokers are looking to American markets for the season's supply of grain, according to information received at the American consulate here.

LATEST "COUSIN" TO BE PINCHED SAYS HE'S KIN TO HERB HOOVER

CHICAGO, June 24.—This is open season on cousins. Raymond Lee Hoover, who, according to police, says he is a cousin of Herbert C. Hoover, passed a night here in the same county jail cell that recently harbored "Cousin Everett" Harding.

"Cousin Raymond" is alleged to have acquired three wives in his 33 years without going through the formality of divorce.

Judge S. H. Trude sent him to jail when he was unable to supply $2,000 bond. Charges were filed by Mrs. Pearl Holbert Hoover, said to be his second wife.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover, from Washington, today disclaimed any relationship with Raymond Hoover.

HAWAIIAN SUGAR SHIPMENTS FALL OFF

By Associated Press

HONOLULU, T. H., June 23.—Sugar shipments from Hawaii behind approximately 100,000 tons behind schedule at the end of May, according to the official figures compiled by the Sugar Factors. Up to May 23 there had been a total of 211,925 tons of the 1921 crops sent to the mainland. By the end of April last year there had been 206,036 tons shipped out of the islands. It is estimated that the total crop of the islands this year will be 485,700 tons.

MODEL COAL MINE WILL BE EXHIBITED

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, June 23.—A model coal mine built under the supervision of government experts and illustrating the very latest form of labor saving mining machinery, will be one of the unique features of the National Exposition of Mines and Mining equipment arranged for by the American Mining Congress in connection with its twenty-fourth annual convention to be held in Chicago, Oct. 17-22.

From the cutting machines to the ventilating fans keeping the air fresh and free from gas, every form of modern coal mining machinery will be seen operating under actual working conditions.

The visitor will have an opportunity of seeing a real coal mine and of exploring its recesses. He may come to an open shaft, enter an elevator, and slowly go down seemingly hundreds of feet. At the bottom he may step out into a black tunnel with miners' lamps flickering here and there. Further on he can enter into a mine room to observe the cutting machines at work, watch the loaders pick up the mine coal, place it into dump cars and see an electric locomotive hook up the cars and pull them up to the conveyor which lifts the coal to the mouth of the mine.

According to Secretary John Burns, the American Mining Congress at its exposition with the help of the United States government and through the construction of this model mine, hopes to be able to bring about a better understanding on the part of the public of the various cost factors entering into the production of coal and at the same time to give to the mine operator a chance to study improved methods which will assist him in bringing about a lower price at the mines.

INDIAN, NEGRO POPULATION IN U. S. GROWS

Whites and Blacks in Texas Both Show Increase in Last Decade.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Times Washington Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, June 24.—Descendants of Pocahontas and Powhatan are multiplying in no uncertain numbers, contrary to the opinions of our leading alarmists, who would have the nation believe that the American Indian is rapidly approaching the point of racial extermination. At least, in Texas, the original residents of this country are finding life a pretty good thing after all and in 1920 the Indian population of the Lone Star state was 2,110 as against 702 ten years previous.

This same ratio of increased population holds good for most of the races in Texas. The whites, for instance, were 3,204,848 strong in 1910, while in 1920 there were 3,918,136 white people in the Lone Star state. The negro population also increased. Colored people in 1910 in Texas were 690,000 strong, while in 1920 the negroes had multiplied until there were 741,723 of 'em.

Chinese and Japanese, though in much smaller numbers, showed an increase. The Japs were numbered 449 in 1920 and 340 in 1910. Casual visitors to the state are prone to remark that "there seems to be more than that to me" and the same is true in the case of Chinese. In 1920 there were 776 Chinese in Texas and in 1910 there were 595.

The nation had previously thought that there were only five other races on the map, but the bureau of census officials found 34 persons in Texas in 1920 for whom there was no classification, and in 1910 the census found 8 whom they were unable to classify.

Total Whites.
The total white population of the nation is 94,822,431, the total negro population is 10,463,013. Of the negro population 8,912,259 are in the sixteen southern states of Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, 1,472,163 in the North and 78,591 in the West. The total numerical increase in the negro population during the decade was 635,256. Of this increase, 472,418, or about three-fourths, was reported in the South, despite the fact that about 85 per cent of the total negro population is still found in the South.

Without exception, the northern and western states which border on the South reported great increases in the negro population than the average for the country, and in several of these states the rate of increase was very large—for example, in Illinois, 67.1 per cent; in Ohio, 67.1 per cent; and in Pennsylvania, 46.7 per cent; a larger negro population than either Maryland or Kentucky. The greatest state of growth in negro population reported by any state having more than 100,000 negro inhabitants appears for Michigan, 25.1 per cent; the negro population in this state having increased from 17,115 in 1910 to 60,082 in 1920.

South Carolina and Mississippi were the only states having more negroes than whites. The negro population of the Palmetto state was 864,719; the white population was 818,538. Negroes in Mississippi were 935,184; white, 853,962. The present negro population of other southern states is as follows:
Delaware, 30,335; Maryland, 244,479; Virginia, 690,017; West Virginia, 86,345; North Carolina, 763,407; Georgia, 1,206,365; Florida, 329,487; Kentucky, 235,938; Tennessee, 451,758; Alabama, 900,652; Arkansas, 472,220; Louisiana, 700,257; Oklahoma, 149,407; Texas, 741,723.

"POCKET PONIES" IS LATEST IN GAMBLING

By United Press
PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—If a German immigrant approaches you on the street and asks if you would like to "play the horses" or try roulette don't get the impression that the war or disturbances in his native land have affected his mind. He is perfectly rational and probably just wants to have a little session with the "pocket ponies" and pocket roulette wheel—all combined into one device.

Police here have in their possession a set of "pocket ponies" and the miniature roulette wheel. The gambling device comes in a case slightly larger than a large watch. Police say the instrument was made in Germany. There are six "ponies" on the dial, or where the dial of a watch ought to be, and a tiny red flag where the "stem" is. Each "pony" is numbered. The gambler places his bet on a certain number, a string is pulled and the "horses" are off. When they stop, the one nearest the red flag is the winner.

For roulette there is a circle three-sixteenths of an inch wide on the outer edge of the dial. The gambler bets on his favorite number, the wheel is spun and the number nearest the red flag takes the money.

The whole device is very realistic—but if you get caught with a pocket Havre de Grace or a pocket Monte Carlo in your possession, you will probably take a long vacation.

BELGIAN MINE STRIKERS ACCEPT CUT IN WAGES

BRUSSELS, June 24.—The cotton mill strike ended today when an agreement was reached under which the wages of the operatives will be the same as they were in January, 1920.

The spinners accepted a 13 per cent cut in wages. The weavers took a reduction of between 18 and 20 per cent.

CANOEISTS AND CAMPERS SPEND HAPPY SUMMERS 'MID ANCIENT PLEASURE GROUNDS OF INDIANS

Agnes are the voyager and he missionary penetrated the wilds of Ontario, Kawartha was what it is today, a summer playground. Only the original name remains to remind us that this was the "Bright Waters and Happy Lands" of the Ojibways, the Hurons, the Algonquins and other Indian tribes. Through the maze of water slides their birch bark canoes and on the tree-bordered shores of mainland and islands burned their camp fires.

The paddle still sings its summer song and bright colored canoes slip through the blue waters while camp fires gleam nightly in Kawartha during summer months, but it is an army of pleasure-seeking pale-faces who enjoy this pine-scented lake district today.

Kawartha embraces fourteen beautiful lakes—Scugog, Sturgeon, Cameron, Balsam, Pigeon, Bald, Sand, Buckhorn, Chemung, Deer, Lovesick, Stony, Clear and Katchewanooka. Each has its unique attractions while sandy beaches and excellent fishing are common to all. Accommodations for visitors are abundant and varied. Cottages, isolated and in colonies, and hotels ranging from simple cabin type to large, well-staffed establishments, are strewn about the shores. This is the region of summer homes, here the tired statesman builds himself a lordly retreat on some commanding site; here the busy city mother houses her kiddies in a cozy cottage and turns them loose to play in the woods and water while she enjoys a book and hammock beneath the pines.

But above all, this is the paradise of the canoeist. Paddling and drifting may be lengthened into a month-long delightful outing. A pup tent, blanket, pail, frying pan and a small supply of provisions are sufficient outfit as landings are frequent. It is quite easy to arrange one's schedule so as to sleep and eat at various resorts. Starting from Bobcaygeon on Sturgeon Lake and working toward Peterboro on the Otonabee River will take you via Oak Orchard, a very de luxe resort; Buckhorn where there are two good hotels and fine fishing; Burleigh Falls with its popular Park Hotel and cottages, and dozens of hotels and camps around Stony and Clear Lakes. Should you weary of paddling, there is always the opportunity to transfer yourself and canoe to one of the lake steamers. The fishing, bathing and dancing at the various resorts offer inducement to stop and play.

TOUGH TOWN IS CLEANED UP BY "PETTICOAT GOVERNMENT"

Jackson, Wyo., Was Resort of "Bad Men" and "Two-Gun Men" Before Women Took Control; Re-election Is Their Reward.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 24.—"Petticoat government" has made good in Wyoming. The town of Jackson, which for the last year has been absolutely in the hands of the women of the town, has prospered so greatly that it has re-elected its female city council by a three-to-one vote. The women are going to run the town for another year.

"Petticoat government" was the sneer of the "opposition" during the hot campaign of last year, but it has come to be a name of honor in Western Wyoming. "Petticoat government" now stands for uprightness in city government.

Jackson was the first town in the country to turn over its entire affairs to the women. The turnover came at the end of the hottest political campaign Western Wyoming ever saw. The town was divided. Families were almost broken asunder by the fight.

The men also had a ticket in the field. One of the candidates for councilman on the men's ticket was M. R. Crabtree. One of the candidates on the women's ticket was Mrs. M. R. Crabtree. When the ballots were counted Mrs. Crabtree was found to have very badly defeated her own husband for the office.

In those days Jackson was the real thing in the way of a rough town. It is in the very heart of the sheep country. It is in the center of the Jackson Hole country. Shepherders, with their pockets bulging with their years' wages, who had not been to town for many months, came to Jackson to spend in two or three days their wages of twice as many months. Coal miners came to Jackson as the nearest town. It was a two-gun town. The man who could not shoot with either hand, or with both hands at once, had to lay mighty low when he came to Jackson. That was the kind of a town in which the "petticoat government" was to have its tryout.

One of the first things the women's city council did was to appoint Miss Pearl Williams as marshal. The appointment of a woman marshal was hailed with delight and derision. "A woman marshal for Jackson" for the last rendezvous of the Western "bad men" and two-gun men.

Miss Williams was 21 years old. She has served a year and she is not a candidate for reappointment. Miss Williams, backed up by the other women officeholders, completely tamed Jackson. She had the "bad men" and "two-gun men" eating out of her hand. And she did it with smiles and square treatment, not with automatic pistols. Jackson is so tame today that Miss Williams says there is not sufficient excitement to make the office of marshal worth having.

There were five members, all women, of the city council. They appointed women to all offices. At the recent election two of the councilmen held over and three were up for re-election.

In last year's election the women were elected by a two-to-one vote. In the recent election they won by a three-to-one vote. Many who voted against them in 1920 were for them in 1921.

Four of the councilwomen are married and one is a widow. Mrs. Mary Miller is Mayor. Her husband is a retired stockman. Mrs. Crabtree, who defeated her own husband, runs a hotel, and her husband is a contractor. Mrs. W. C. De Loney's husband is a member of the state legislature. Mrs. Height is a school teacher and a homesteader and Mrs. Van Vleck's husband is a hardware merchant.

Immediately after their election last year the five councilwomen went right after things. Instead of holding a perfunctory meeting once a week, the women met every day until they had things coming their way. Old questions that had been "held over" from term to term were taken up and disposed of. They rounded up and graded all the back streets; they cleaned up the town; they revolutionized things. And the marshal cleaned up the morals of the town while the five councilwomen were cleaning up the place generally.

RANGER HOUSEWIVES REVEL IN ABUNDANCE OF GREEN GARDEN STUFF

For a short space at least the housewife has come into her own. Every morning now many wagons come into the city laden with tomaatoes, green corn, string beans, peaches and other farm products and they can be bought "worth the money," as Bill Hudson, the horse trader says. Roasting ears, still cool with dew, may be purchased for 5 cents an ear. String beans are becoming so common that they are very cheap. Peaches are still new and are commanding a high price. The best quotation this morning is 33 a bushel. Home-grown tomatoes are just beginning to come in and are commanding the same price asked for those shipped from the coast. "Local Flavor." Cantaloupes from home gardens and truck farms are not quite ready yet, but truckers and green-grocers have them on the market at fairly reasonable prices. A little later, however, there should be an excess, grown near Ranger. Watermelons of a "local flavor" should also be on the market shortly. This fruit is shipped from the Rio Grande valley but all a newspaper man may do is gaze upon it from afar. It is priced by the pound only slightly above copper.

CARL EGGE NAMED HEAD AIR MAIL SERVICE

Carl F. Egge, of Minneapolis, who has been appointed general superintendent of the air mail service, with headquarters in the postoffice department at Washington, to succeed Major E. C. Zollic, resigned. He takes office following the first week in the history of the air mail service, in which a 100 per cent efficiency service was rendered by the air planes. During a recent week air mail planes of the department flew 50,000 miles without a forced landing, breaking all past records. The planes covered the New York to San Francisco route and the route between Minneapolis and St. Louis. Mr. Egge has been with the postal service thirty years and has been superintendent of the air mail service in Minneapolis.

WILD HORSES OF PLAINS TO BE WIPED OUT

By Associated Press
 EL PASO, June 24.—That the West is to lose one of the last of its relics of a "wild and woolly past," is the decree of stockmen, officials of the Southern Pacific railroad said. The few remaining herds of wild horses which roam the high places of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Oregon are to be exterminated. Frequent shipments of these animals pass through El Paso.

During the war expert riders hunted down much of the untamed stock fit for use in the army. Now all that remains are "culls"—small scrubby stock classed as undesirable. Their presence on the range is a menace to the domestic stock that is turned out to pasture, the breeders say. The wild horses consume fodder, break down fences, lure valuable animals from ranches and are dangerous to human life.

Stockmen are making every effort to rid the ranges of the pests and in some sections are hiring expert rifle shots to hunt the beasts down. The expense involved in capturing and reducing the horses for the foreign market is not commensurate with the possible profit.

In former years the wild beasts were lassoed at round-up time and shipped by trainloads to St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City and St. Louis, where they sold to small dealers. The pick of the herd often brought $100 each after being domesticated. Cow ponies went to the British army, which found these light, blocky horses well adapted to South African service. Ordinary stock brought $15 to $30, while the culls sold at $2.75 per head and were sent to the slaughter, yielding an average of 60 pounds of good canned horse meat for shipment to the European markets. The hides and hair were saved and the balance used for fertilizer, glue, etc.

GREECE IS SATISFIED WITH KING CONSTANTINE, RETURNED GREEK SAYS

By Associated Press
 EL PASO, Texas, June 24.—The people of Greece are satisfied with King Constantine, according to Lewis Nodas, who has just returned from Greece.

"When Venizelos was in power he had soldiers in the streets and when two men were found talking together they were arrested," Mr. Nodas said. "If they could not tell the same story about the subject of their conversation when questioned separately they were thrown in jail on suspicion that they were plotting against Venizelos." "Greece is pleased with the outcome of the war against the Turks. Because of the war, prices are high in Greece, but money seems to be plentiful."

UNCLE SAM'S LATEST WAR TANK IS A WATER BUG

A new caterpillar tank was successfully tried out at Stockton, Cal., recently by U. S. Army officers. The photograph shows the tractor as it appeared while executing test maneuvers in water at the Holt Testing Grounds. An army officer directs the single mechanic who operates it. The new tractor can go under water and has a periscope, with which the engine breathes. The caterpillar can go thirty miles an hour on land and carries a three-inch gun. The photo shows the tractor in stream, with army officer and mechanic during the government test.

MUCH LUMBER FROM AMERICA PURCHASED BY TAMPICO DISTRICT

By Associated Press
 GALVESTON, June 24.—The Tampico oil district of Mexico is purchasing American lumber at the rate of 10,000,000 feet a month, according to estimates of steamship operators here, who are handling much of the movement. Three shiploads of lumber recently cleared this port for Mexico within a period of seven days.

Unprecedented development being undertaken in the various experimental fields of the Tampico district, these operators point out, has rejuvenated the entire lumber industry of the Southwest. Houses, storage warehouses, hotels and office buildings are among the buildings being erected on the trail of the drilling crews.

Chief building operations are going on in the region separating Tampico from Monterey, while other construction work is taking place at the southernmost tip of the oil range, southward from Tampico.

The shipments through this port consist of both finished and rough lumber. Rail lines entering Mexico at Nuevo Laredo, according to information obtainable here, also are handling considerable Texas and southwestern lumber.

LEADERS BEGIN TO FIX UP PEACE PLAN DIFFERENCES

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Republican senate and house leaders began today an informal attempt to settle differences between the peace resolutions passed by the two houses.

Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, and Knox of Pennsylvania, author of the senate resolution, were said to have held that the house resolution did not protect American property adequately.

Times' Society Editor Penetrates Wilds of Printers' Domain and Makes Discovery of Rare Deadly Insect Known as Type-Lice

The Times' society editor got herself educated yesterday. We'll say she did. That isn't saying she wasn't educated before. Not a bit. But yesterday she specialized, as it was. Sorta took a post-graduate course. Added somewhat, to be specific, to her store of knowledge of the newspaper game.

Gettin' down to the story, the young lady discovered a new bug—type lice. Now this particular brand of bug has been known to printers for years, but society editors like The Times', soft of voice, quick of smile, easy to look at, one of the kind of girls who appear to trip through life breathing a gentle benediction upon all mankind—well, they seldom find their way into the ink-smeared confines of the mechanical department, inhabited by a bunch of just ordinary human beings who don't know how to do anything but work for a living.

So when she braved the terrors of the composing room and all its clattering machines and mysterious "stones" and "forms" and "chases" and busy printers and everything, of course there was a grand rush—no, of course they didn't ALL rush—but one Lothario made a grand rush and said he'd just discovered some type lice and she was just in time to see 'em before they drowned 'em in formaldehyde, and all that sort of stuff.

Well, course the girl was gamer'n and everything, so she plucked her dainty skirts to one side and poked her little nose over the stone and took squintings—

And then the heartless printer shoved the two bunches of type together and he'd already poured about a barrel of water between 'em and—flooy!

Anyway, Miss Editor took it all in good part, and next she took the little fragrant of cobwebby stuff she calls a handkerchief and dashed the water out of her eyes and laughed with the rest.

PHILIPPINES TO LOOK INTO KANSAS LAW ON INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

MANILA, P. I., June 24.—Francisco Varona, harbor commissioner to Hawaii, who is now in Seattle investigating the conditions of Filipino laborers in the northwest, has been ordered by the secretary of commerce to proceed to Kansas and there study its laws on industrial relations. His report on this subject will be submitted to the legislature of the Philippines where a bill on industrial relations was introduced during the last session, but failed of passage.

Mr. Varona in a report to the secretary of commerce, recommends the establishment of a labor agency in Seattle for the protection of the interests of Filipino laborers.

THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD.

Fort Worth folks are selling a pure-bred Jersey cow, given by the people of Odessa, Texas, to boost the milk and ice fund for the undernourished kiddies and their overworked mothers of the Panther city.

To one nurtured through childhood in the lap of luxury, which in this particular case was represented by the fertile acres of a small farm in Kansas, there throbs through this simple story the heights and depths of human emotions. And a tale woven through with the warp and woof of human emotions is the biggest story in the world.

By the same sign it follows that there is nothing finer in this world than the sentiment which prompts acts such as that of those folks of Odessa, whom the Star-Tribune promptly characterizes as the "salt of the earth."

They are even more than that. They are what used to be called in Kansas "folks" without whom this world would be a sorry old world in which to drag out an existence.

For in this "sorry scheme of things" by which we attempt in our pitiful way to fashion our lives nothing is quite so important as the welfare of human beings in their relation one with another. Nothing matters quite so much as that all shall have as much play-time, as much sunshine, as much health-giving exercise, as much wholesome food, as much pain-sweetened pleasure, as much love and as much incentive to strive for better things to come as their desire and capacity may dictate.

One big bruiser may be able to knock the block off of the other block-headed human battering-ram; speed kings of various and diverse kinds may be able to outspeed others of their profession; a Frenchman may have the questionable courage to launch himself into space depended from a string at a greater height than a Britisher; an American adventurer may be first to scale the heaven-piercing peaks of Everest, and the kings of finance in America may out-maneuver the money sharks of all other nations in the mad race for material wealth—but so long as a child is hungry; so long as a God-fearing mother in this great land wants for the comforts of life, all these other things are as chaff on the ocean.

1924 WILL SEE BIGGEST LOSS FROM THE 'T. B.'

AUSTIN, June 24.—The greatest loss to the nation from tuberculosis caused by the war will be felt in 1924, said Dr. F. C. Smith of the United States public health service in an address at the annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis association held recently in New York.

Within the next three years, he said, approximately 50,000 will have received treatment for the disease. Of 133,716 ex-service men who have been sent as patients to the hospitals since the war risk act was passed, 35,150 were tuberculous, Dr. Smith said.

David R. Lyman, M. D., urged that something be done to remove the limitations under which the public health service is struggling at present. He said that it was a habit of the politicians to make political expediency and not national welfare, the basis of appointments to positions of importance.

The greatest hindrance to the successful execution of the plans of the public health service are, first, untrained medical staff; second, an almost total lack of cooperation from the men themselves; third, the failure of the public at large to understand the real nature of the problem.

If I do it will be rite in your eye, sed Nora. Being a heck of an answer to a polite question, and jest then I had a grate idee, thinking, G, Ill tell her somebody wants to tawk to her on the fone and then Ill run up and tawk to her on the up stairs fone and tell her somebody wants to tawk to her around the corner, and then wen she goes erround Ill run down and get a hot cinnamon bun.

And I went out in the hall and took the resever off the hook and yelled, All rite Ill call her, wait a minnit. And I called back, Hay Nora, somebody wants you on the fone.

I didnt heer the fone ring, sed Nora.

Who, wat? Wat the divvils this? sed Nora, and I sed, Hello, this is Mrs. Spooney, dont you remember me?

No I dont, faith, and nobody elts does, wait a minnit, sed Nora. Me thinking, Gosh I wonder if she suspects anything. Wich jest then I herd her coming up the steps heavy trying to come up lite, and I quick hung up the fone and hid in the closet, and Nora opened the closet door showing her suspicious nature and I quick ran out under her arm and down stairs with her after me darning me to stop.

Wich I didnt till I was all the way out in the street.

AMERICAN COTTON OIL COMPANY WANTS TO ENTER TEXAS AGAIN

AUSTIN, June 24.—The American Cotton Oil company is seeking to re-enter Texas to do business and Assistant Attorney General W. P. Dumas leaves soon for New York to take testimony in the home office of the company to ascertain whether the company has abolished the alleged illegal things that caused its ostracism.

The company was ostracised by virtue of the judgment obtained by the state against the National Cotton Oil company, illegal stock ownership having been alleged. Upon a showing in the court that its stock is not held by illegal owners the return of the company will be allowed.

The company is seeking to return to Texas under the Texas statutes of 1919, which allow the return of companies once barred because of judgments of violation of the anti-trust laws.

TINKER BOB STORIES By CARLYSLE H. HOLCOMB.

RED FOX SEES THE CHIEF. When Tinker Bob saw Jack, the Rabbit, pass at top speed he could not imagine for a moment what could be the matter. It isn't likely that Jack ever dreamed that Tinker was so close at hand when he was making his flying trip or he would have stopped. Then Redwing began to scream from the top of the Oak that he saw someone following close on the trail of Jack.

"It's Red Fox," he cried, darting down to where the King was. Suddenly another flash, and sure enough Red Fox darted by. That was a surprise to the King for he left Red Fox tucked in bed with Billy Mink. But he'd gotten out all right for the bandage was still on his nose and so the King knew it was no strange creature. One eye was uncovered so he could see, but how he got on the track of Jack, the Rabbit, was a mystery. He was after him anyway, and the King watched.

Jack led him a merry chase right around in a circle but Red Fox began to gain on him and before Jack realized it he was upon him and it would be necessary to do some fast running—and do it quickly. Willie Chuck's hole was not far away and Jack made for it with all of his might—over the old logs and through the thicket. It was too far for him to consider going to the Brier Patch; if he did Red Fox would overtake him and it would all be over. Willie Chuck lived in a hole beneath a large forest tree, and just as Jack jumped into the hole Red Fox was close enough to pull a few hairs out of his stubby tail.

replied Jack, "so my tail is all right. And you'd better get back to the Palace before the King comes home or he will take the bandage off your nose and let you bleed to death."

"What do you know about my nose? I guess I know when to go home without any advice from you. I want to tell you, Mr. Rabbit, if I ever get you out where you can't find a hole, or a Brier Patch, I'll fix you once for all." Red Fox was so mad that he pawed the earth.

Jack said: "Hee-hee, you will have to catch me out first before you can do all of that."

Suddenly Chief Porky appeared and when Red Fox saw him you should have seen him run, and he never stopped till he was again in the Palace and in the King's bed.

Why Americans Begin to Decline Shortly After Maturity Is Demonstrated by Prof. McCollum in His Experiments on Rats.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Many Americans begin declining mentally as well as physically shortly after maturity. And many who look physically fit early in life are on the decline so far as efficiency is concerned. All of which is due to an unbalanced diet.

If the average American would eat only about half as much meat as he does, consume more greens and drink more milk—about a quart a day—he wouldn't hit the toboggan as early in life and would retain his pep until a ripe old age. His sight would be much better, too.

So asserted Prof. E. N. McCollum of Johns Hopkins yesterday in discussing summer nutrition problems before the representatives of 1,000 New York City agencies, gathered in the board of estimate chamber of the city hall to co-operate in spreading knowledge of food values and their health properties. Prof. McCollum ranks second to no one as an expert in dietetics.

With what he calls his "colony of rats," Prof. McCollum has experimented for fifteen years in food values. He produced pictures of his "family," which has progressed to something like the fiftieth generation, to prove that the rat that isn't properly fed is like the child suffering from malnutrition, while the one receiving the necessary amount of butter fats and other required food allotments is a fine specimen of the rodent family.

Before much attention was given to diet, Prof. McCollum recalled, lions, tigers and all manner of wild beasts in the zoos and circus menageries suffered from rickets and other diseases resulting from improper feeding. The animals died off quickly. Today they are fed scientifically, and although confined to the cages they are as healthy as their progenitors in the jungle were.

Dr. Frank J. Monahan, deputy health commissioner, who with Mrs. Henry Moskowitz directed yesterday's conference for Health Commissioner Copeland, started his listeners by declaring the children of the wealthy suffer more in numerical proportion from malnutrition than do the offspring of the poor. Dr. Monahan, who is Mayor Hylan's physician, explained this is because the rich youngsters feast on sweets and rich foods, while those in the tenements put substantial meals into their tummies.

"Ill health," remarked Dr. Monahan, "is no longer regarded as stylish, even among the very wealthy. In fact, the really bon ton thing now is to be in fine fettle physically."

SOCIETY BEAUTY FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Angier Buchanan Duke, beautiful young society matron, of New York and Philadelphia, has filed suit for divorce against her millionaire husband, asking $100,000 a year alimony. Although the action was not entirely unexpected, society was shocked. The charges made by the young society woman are kept secret. Mr. Duke is the son of Benjamin N. Duke, "American tobacco king." Mrs. Duke is the vivacious daughter of Major Anthony Drexel Biddle, millionaire sportsman and society man. The couple were married in 1915 and have two sons. It is reported that Mr. Duke will not contest the action and will not dispute the young mother's custody of the boys.

EINSTEIN THEORY MUST STAND OR FALL BY TEST SOON TO BE MADE

CHICAGO, June 24.—The Einstein theory of relativity is to be subjected to a new practical test by Prof. Albert A. Michelson of the University of Chicago, whose discoveries led to its formulation. The forthcoming experiment is expected either to lend substantial support to the theory or to disprove it.

Professor Michelson, who is now lecturing at the University of Paris, is expected back about July 1 and the test is planned within the next year. It will be conducted under the auspices of the University of Chicago, either in this city or in some mountainous country.

The experiment has been undertaken at the request of Dr. Ludwick Silberstein of the Eastman Research laboratories at Rochester, N. Y., who has worked out its terms. It is said that Professor Albert Einstein on his recent visit to the United States expressed his belief in the efficacy of the experiment.

Just what it is planned to do to determine whether Einstein's theory holds or not was explained here today by Prof. Robert A. Millikan, colleague of Professor Michelson in the department of physics of the University of Chicago. Divesting the subject of technical details, Professor Millikan said:

An Experiment. "This is, as a matter of fact, an experiment suggested by Professor Michelson 20 years ago as one way of testing whether or not it is possible to detect a motion of the earth with respect to the medium which carries light.

"All efforts thus far made to detect the motion of any material body with respect to the ether have failed. But all preceding attempts have been made with the idea of trying to measure the linear motion through space of a point on the earth with respect to the ether surrounding that point, and the results thus far obtained have been wholly negative.

"In other words the observed effects have been precisely those to be expected if there is no relative motion of the earth with respect to the ether at all. To illustrate, if an observer were himself immersed in a great sphere of rotating water and were to send sound signals simultaneously forward in the direction in which he is moving and also backward, and if these sound signals were reflected by mirrors placed at equal distances ahead and behind him, the echoes would obviously come back at exactly the same instant, provided there were no relative motion between himself and the water. In other words, he could not detect by such an experiment the movement of himself or the water unless he were moving more rapidly or more slowly than the water, in which case he would be able to detect and to measure his relative motion with respect to the water by the difference in the time of return of the echo from the forward mirror and the back mirror.

Ether Moves with Earth. "Now the results of all experiments of this sort up to date in which we have sent light signals forward and back have been to show no difference in the time of return of the light echo to the observer. From this the conclusion has been drawn that the ether, if it exists at all, moves with the earth so as to make it impossible to detect any relative motion.

"The special theory of relativity as generally stated consists in the assertion that it is impossible to detect the motion of any body with respect to the ether. The statement would be more conservative if put in the form that all experiments up to the present have failed to detect such relative motion.

"Now Professor Michelson pointed out some twenty years ago that if the ether is dragged along with the earth at its surface, it would have to be dragged in a different amount near the equator than near the pole, because of the fact that the motion of rotation of the earth is greater at the equator than at the poles. Hence one way of testing whether or not we can detect motion of points on the earth's surface with respect to the ether would be to send a light signal in different directions around the earth's pole and see whether the two signals came back to the starting point at the same instant. If there were any relative motion of the earth with respect to the ether they would not do so. But if the ether in the neighborhood of all portions of the earth had the same motion as the earth just beneath it, then the two signals would come back at exactly the same time, for the experiment would be quite analogous to that of an observer in the big tank of rotating water mentioned above.

Experiment Not Tried. "The experiment was not tried in this form because it was thought that the form that Professor Michelson did employ was practically equivalent to it and showed that the result would have been negative if it had been tried.

"Now Dr. Silberstein has asked Professor Michelson to take up again the projected experiment because he has computed that if the general theory of relativity is correct, there should be a difference in the time of return to the source of signals sent in opposite directions around the pole in the manner indicated.

"A little computation shows that it should be just as satisfactory to a beam around a circuit of known area in the latitude of Chicago as in the latitude of the pole.

"The difference between this experiment and its predecessor lies in the fact that this utilizes the changing speed which the earth's rotation imposes upon points of different distances from the earth's pole, while the former was quite independent of this fact.

Try It Again. "Professor Michelson has therefore agreed, in view of the immense interest which there is now in relativity, to take up again this experiment, which has acquired added interest because of the fact that Dr. Silberstein's analysis of the theory of relativity requires that there be a positive measurable effect when the experiment is performed in this way.

"If the predicted amount of this effect is exactly checked experimentally, Einstein's theory of relativity will receive support. If on the other hand, as in the preceding experiment there should be found to be no observable difference in the time required for light to go in opposite directions around the circuit, or if the observed difference does not check numerically with the computed, then the Einstein theory will have been disproved."

COTTON MEN HOPE TO CUT OUT "POUNDS"

Belief Expressed That Transactions May Be Handled in American Money.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 24.—The hope that cotton interests of the United States will demand the enforcement of American rules as regards world-marketing of the staple is expressed by cotton men here, in commenting upon developments before the world cotton conference at Liverpool. This would mean, they say, that all transactions in American cotton would be expressed in dollars and cents instead of the pound sterling. As the largest cotton grower among the nations, they declare this country has a right to fix its own method of doing business.

The uniform classification, however, is believed to be a long way off. Liverpool as the world's principal purchaser of the staple hardly would allow another country to classify its purchases and American cotton men could not accept Liverpool's grading. Therefore, according to local opinion, the single standard is hardly within the list of probabilities.

Discussing the complaint of European purchasers, brought before the world conference by Italian bankers and spinners, that American interests were inclined to demand too much in the way of security, W. W. Morrison, executive secretary of the Galveston Cotton Exchange, said that the reply of R. S. Hecht, of New Orleans, to this complaint ably expressed the viewpoint of the American banker and exporter. Mr. Hecht told the conference that what worried the American banker was the "political risk," and declared that he required as much protection as he could get against that risk.

"Two risks must be taken," said Mr. Morrison, "in extending credits abroad—the commercial risk and the political risk. The commercial risk is largely personal in character. It can largely be determined by an investigation of the would-be purchaser's conduct of his business, his reputation, etc. But the political risk is beyond the province of private business."

ness to guard against. Hence when America accepts orders in countries where the 'political risk' is a factor—and many European countries can be placed in that category now—collateral of some sort should be deposited to cover the amount of the goods bought.

With cotton at its low ebb, Mr. Morrison declared, the American banker and producer must proceed cautiously in extending credits in world competition.

MENNONITES FIXING TO LOCATE IN MEXICO

EL PASO, June 24.—J. F. Weibe and a party of six Mennonites, accompanied by an expert water topographer, are in Durango, Mexico, preparing the country for the first movement of colonists from Saskatchewan, Canada, to Mexico.

Drilling for a domestic water supply on the colonization lands will be started immediately, according to Mr. Weibe.

The migration is being made because of friction with the provincial Canadian government on matters of education, Mr. Weibe said. Essentials as the sect views them are reading, writing and arithmetic, taught the children until they are 14 years old, after which all education pertains to tilling the soil.

The superintendent of education in New Bedford, Mass., has forbidden the teachers to use cosmetics.

IT WAS WORTH OVER THOUSAND DOLLARS TO HIM

"I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the way I feel since this Tanlac fixed me up," said Phillip S. Clymer, 1715 North Hudson avenue, Oklahoma City, Okla.

"I had almost about as hard a time of it from stomach trouble as any human ever had, and my life for years was just one long misery. Everything I ate soured and bloated me up. My back and side hurt me day and night. The only way I could get any sleep was to prop myself up in bed on pillows, and then I would only doze off, as sound sleep was out of the question. I couldn't take a long breath without a pain striking me, and the least exertion would make me gasp for breath. My nerves gave way, and I lost flesh until I was almost a walking skeleton. My skin was yellow as a pumpkin. I finally had to throw up my job and tried to rest up, but I got no better.

"The fact is I was about ready to cash in when I started on Tanlac. I don't know how it was, but it made a new man of me. I could feel energy and strength coming back with each dose. It gave me a dandy appetite and soon had my stomach in such fine shape nothing I ate disagreed with me. I gained twelve pounds in weight and soon was back at work feeling years younger. My friends are amazed when they see me now and want to know what I did to make me so robust and healthy looking, and I lost no time in telling them about Tanlac. It certainly is a wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Adv.

PRICKLY PEAR CURSE DRAWS SCIENTISTS' FIRE IN AUSTRALIA

By Associated Press
SYDNEY, June 24.—Some very interesting announcements in regard to the organized fight of the scientists against the prickly pear curse of Queensland and Northern New South Wales were made last week by Professor Harvey Johnston, professor of biology and scientific controller attached to the commonwealth prickly pear board. The professor is just back from America, where he was sent to make arrangements in connection with the prickly pear fight.

The professor said that he left one of his assistants in America and he was now collecting material in southern Florida, Texas, Southern California and Central Mexico. He was seeking entomological and botanical specimens which showed a disposition to attack the cactus, and these would be sent to Brisbane and carefully tried out.

Another officer had been left in the Argentine, and he was making investigations among the foothills of the Andes, and he would also visit Uruguay, and Patagonia. Knowledge of the prickly pear was very limited in those countries, but two definite fungoid enemies of the plant, both very destructive, have been found. Associated with these fungoids were certain insects, the operation of which seemed to make the work of the fungi more rapid and effective. Experimental work with these fungoids and insects has already been commenced in Queensland.

The professor said that he had brought also, from England, certain equipment by which it was hoped to carry out a destructive inoculation of the prickly pear plant. He had high hopes of this process, but it was only in its experimental stage as yet.

It is the movement of the air and not any chemical prosperity which enables a wind to impart a tracing effect.
