

THE STATE LINE TRIBUNE

"OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF PARMER COUNTY"

EIGHT PAGES

FIFTY-NINTH YEAR

10 CENTS

Several weeks ago the volume and number indices of the Flag of the Tribune showed that "Ye Old Weekly Weekly" was beginning its 60th year of publication. This observation impressed us and we started to conduct a little research into Tribune history. This is not easy to do as the permanent files of the paper were accidentally destroyed prior to the year 1940.

However, we thought that a 50th or even a 40th year might have been noted by Hop Graham Senior in the past years and that possibly he may have recounted some of the history of which we are not aware. No such luck. Hop seems to have been a newspaperman for the community and not for himself. We do not find any references in his column or editorial pages that indicate anything about the early origins of the paper.

We do find that on Thursday, October 19, 1950, the Tribune began its 40th year with a reproduction on the front page of an award stating that the Tribune had been analyzed and awarded a rating of AA by the Community Research Bureau of New York City. Hop was very temperate in making the public aware of the honor bestowed upon his paper. In fact, he seems to have developed writer's cramp that week as his Hopper column was very short. It was only three paragraphs long and concluded with this tidbit: "The story coming out of a Colorado deer camp about Penny Anderson mistaking a bull elk for a cow and letting him get completely away without getting a shot at him reminds us of the story on Penny."

"Some years ago Penny was a lad of 10 or 12 years, and he and his dad had crawled into their bunk for the night. Cattle were roaming about the camp when one of them lowed. Penny raised up from his bunk, shook his daddy and said, 'Daddy, did you hear that deer moo?'"

Hall's Grocery and Market was advertising Charmin Tissue, four so very soft rolls, for 35¢. And yet today the TV hucksters would have you believe that some fools are sneaking around the local grocery store and covertly squeezing the same stuff. You would think in 20 years the new might have worn off.

We also note that Helton Oil Company was running a nice 27-inch ad in the Tribune. We are pleased and happy to report that the same company is still running a 27-inch ad in the Tribune each week. Karl's Auto Clinic and Watts Machine and Pump Co. were also represented in the paper as they are today. But unfortunately, time and tide have taken their toll of most of the other businesses or their owners.

These excursions into the past are always nostalgic and much more time consuming than we originally plan upon. We invite the public to come in and peruse these old files. We think it might help put today's hectic pace in a little better perspective.

Yule Card Project Deadline Dec. 12

December 12 is the final date for area residents to get their names on the Christmas Card greeting being sponsored by Farwell Elementary School.

Mrs. Ann Norton is chairman of the annual project this year and the house-to-house canvass

Farwell Boosters Pian Event

Members of the Farwell Booster Club are hosting an appreciation get-together and hamburger meal for Farwell football players, their parents, coaches and friends of the athletic department Thursday night, Dec. 3, beginning at 7:30. The activities will be in the vocational agriculture section of the Farwell High School building.

Harvest operations across this section of the county are virtually complete with the exception of the cotton harvest which most ginneries feel is about half finished. Grain sorghum, corn and soybeans have been harvested and are in the elevators, some of which seem to be bulging at the seams. Grain piled beside area elevators attest to the good yields locally, plus the fact that a shortage of railroad cars has hampered shipment of grain away from local points. Prices were holding locally at $2.05 per bushel early this week although the national market was reported weak.

1970 proved to be a good year for most grain sorghum growers of the area with most elevators reporting receiving quite a lot more milo this year than last. Irrigated grain sorghum averages ran around 7500-7700 pounds per acre which was up some from last year's marks.

Damage to the grain sorghum by spider mites was noticeable in many instances and it is felt that this insect damage lowered the average yield across the county. Although it was considered a dry year, irrigated crops turned out well and were not hurt by the lack of natural moisture to any great extent.

Sherley - Anderson Grain Company at Lariat reported that they received more tonnage of milo than last year and that yields in that area ran from 6,000 to 8,000 pounds per acre. This elevator also received a huge supply of soybeans and noted that that crop averaged anywhere from 20-40 bushels in that area.

Bill Thigpen of Worley Mills in Farwell reports that despite the spider mite damage to the grain crop, this elevator took in some 15 per cent more grain this year than last. Average yields to this elevator were in the 7500-pound category, Thigpen says.

Sherley - Anderson - Pitman elevator in Farwell reports that their grain intake was up some 30 per cent over that of last year and attributed the good yield of most of the grain to the fact that no damaging hail was received on crops in the immediate vicinity. This elevator reports that yields from some farmers were up some 1,000 to 1,200 pounds over last year. Fred Chandler of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman says that overall it was a good year for milo growers in this area.

Bill Dollar at State Line Grain Inc., Farwell, says their elevator took in a considerably greater number of pounds of grain this year than last and that in most instances, farmers reported higher yields than those of 1969.

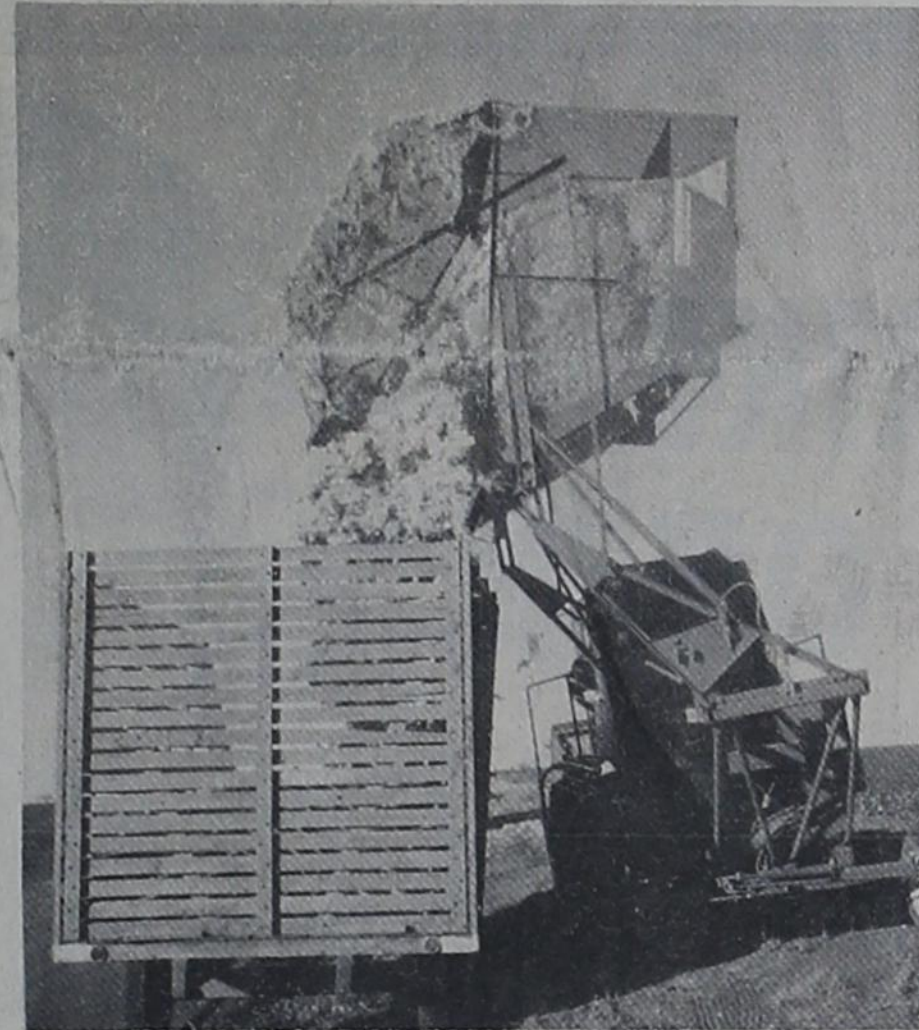

Area gins report that cotton harvest is 50-65 per cent complete with the county expected to gin some 32,000-33,000 bales as compared to approximately 35,000 last year.

Lawrence Cooper of Cooper Gin in Farwell says that his gin

"is just getting started on the harvest" with some 750 bales having been ginned there. Cooper says he is expecting to gin some 1500 bales before the harvest is completed. Cooper says that the early freeze damaged the local crop considerably, cutting some yields as much as 30 per cent. He reports that most of the cotton he is ginning is receiving good grades and that it has extra good "mike" with most of it running in the 20-cent per pound range. Cooper further states that the yields are running all the way from three-quarters of a bale per acre to one and one-half bales per acre, but that the turnout is 'way down from what was expected from the way the crop looked back near September 1.

At Nickels Gin in Farwell, Doris Reeves reports that they have ginned some 1500 bales and that the grades have been only fair. She says she believes harvest is halfway over and that yields have been just about one bale per acre overall. Mrs. Reeves also says that the turnout was not what was expected earlier in the season.

FLUFFY WHITE STUFF -- The bin attached to the cotton stripper holds many pounds of cotton which has been stripped from the stalk and is ready for the haul to a gin where it will be separated from the seeds and made into compact bales. This type stripper and bin makes the pulling of a trailer behind the stripper unnecessary and alleviates much of the chore of the cotton harvesting job. This stripper was busy on the Arlin Hartzog farm last week.

One More Week --

Kittrell's Lead Football Contest

With only one week remaining in the annual Merchants Football Contest, the T. J. Kittrell family of Farwell has made the game a family affair, taking over the overall contest lead as well as having two family members win prize money in the weekly go.

T. J. and son Lynn each have 71 points in the overall contest to hold a tie for first place. Daughter Lisa got into the act this week by outcalling her family and all other contest entrants by picking nine correct games. Lynn placed third in the weekly outing with eight games called right. Second place weekly winner was Charles Dannheim who called eight games right and missed the tie-breaker by 17 points. Young Kittrell missed the tie-breaker by 25 points to be edged by Dannheim.

If Pop Kittrell had listened to the younger generation at his house last week he might have gotten more than the five correct guesses he did and would have been 'way out in front of all other contenders for the prize.

In a tie for second place with 70 points each are Dickie Chandler and Jerry Mathis. Mrs. Chandler picked seven right last week and Mathis called six correctly.

Harold Travis and James Hobbs managed to hold onto their third place standings and were joined there by Eugene Beavers. They each have 69 points on the season.

First place winner will be awarded two tickets to the Cot-

PROUD BOY AND BUCK -- Jeffrey Brown of Texico, 14, proudly displays the six-point buck which he snagged only one hour after the deer season opened last Saturday morning while hunting near Glencoe, N.M. northeast of Ruidoso. Jeffrey was in a hunting party with his father, Dee J. Brown, his grandfather, Dallas Brown, and two brothers, Terry and Dwight, when he made his kill. Jeffrey has killed three bucks during his hunting career and since he was alone at the time of this kill, he managed to successfully field dress the animal unassisted.

Reunion Friday --

Old Time Award Stirs Memories

This Friday, Nov. 27, will see Oklahoma Lane School and Community exes gathering for their second reunion in five years. The meeting will be at the Community Building and will be highlighted with visiting former friends of the area. Ple and coffee will be served by the local women.

Harold Carpenter, who is president of the exes organization, this week dug out an old trophy which will stir up memories for some of the many persons planning to attend the reunion.

The old loving cup, which doesn't seem to be too much worse off for the wear, is engraved, "Parmer County All-Around Championship 1932." The trophy was bought jointly by the five schools in Parmer County at that time to be awarded annually to the school which garnered the most points in the interscholastic events, literary and athletic. A stipulation to the award was that if a school should win the cup three years in a row, it would belong to that school permanently.

Oklahoma Lane School, although it did not field a football team, managed enough points through its other endeavors to latch onto the trophy for three straight years, and thus none of the other county schools ever received the award. For some unknown reason the schools never got around to buying another loving cup and so the award was forgotten.

When the school at Oklahoma Lane consolidated with Farwell in 1948, the late R. S. Tucker, custodian, took all the trophies and the case and zealously guarded the mementoes. When ill health forced his retirement, Mr. Tucker contacted Carpenter who took the prized possessions for safe keeping.

And the old loving cup is sure to cause many "remember when" comments when the exes get together Friday night at the community building.

ALL-AROUND AWARD -- Harold Carpenter of Oklahoma Lane poses with an old loving cup which is one of the oldest awards presented in Parmer County. Inscribed "Parmer County All-Around Championship 1932" the loving cup was presented annually to the county school which garnered the most points in all interscholastic league events. A stipulation was that if a school won the trophy three years in a row, it would permanently belong to that school. Oklahoma Lane School won it for the first three years and consequently it never reached another of the county's five schools.

TOP GUESSER -- Lisa Kittrell, right, was the top guesser in last week's football contest and the only person who managed to call nine games correctly. Mona Hardage of Farwell Fertilizer, one of the contest sponsors, presents the $5 first place check to Lisa. Lisa isn't the only Kittrell to make headlines in the contest this week as younger brother Lynn and father T. J. are tied for first place in the contest and Lynn also won the weekly third place money with eight games called right.

A Thought For Thanksgiving

Before you get caught up in the hustle and bustle of Christmas, please take a few minutes to contemplate the current holiday -- Thanksgiving. I suspect that many of us look forward to Thanksgiving with only the mouthwatering turkey, dressing, and cranberries in mind, forgetting those early principles which started the whole thing.

It may be true that the Pilgrims were not quite the idealistic, sin free people that we like to think as having founded this great nation, but it is true that out of their early struggles and hardship, America grew. That's the important thing to remember. Many of us sometimes wonder what is left to give thanks for. Our cities are in turmoil, American soldiers are dying in a foreign land, the dark cloud of nuclear destruction hangs constantly overhead, and worst of all, the cost of living continues to rise. Why we ask, why should we be thankful for the misery and violence that runs rampant in the country today? I will tell you. Most of the misery and violence in the nation today is the result of the principles that America was founded upon! Before I am tarred and feathered, let me explain.

One of the principles, basis to the conception of a democracy, is that a man is entitled to what he earns and nothing more. For many of us, this is a fair proposition, but there are some who are content to live as parasites, as leeches on the working majority. Most of the violence in the streets can be directly traced to this group. Much of this could be eliminated by adherence to another well-known doctrine, "To each according to his need." Are you willing to trade opportunity for peace in the streets? I'm not. Let us be thankful then for our system of government, realizing that while street violence may be a by-product, opportunity for those who are willing to work is still the chief commodity produced.

Now you may ask, "Why should we be thankful for war?" We should not of course be thankful for war as such, but we should be thankful that the determination to keep America free still exists. War is a symbol of this determination. We could of course end war, by the simple expedient of capitulating to the enemy, but what kind of peace would this be? Are you willing to accept this "peace"? I am thankful that the majority of people in America are not.

What about the nuclear bomb? Should we be thankful that man has at last invented a means of self-extermination? Before you pass judgment on this, consider for a moment an alternative view. The hydrogen bomb is the only thing that stands between us and a mass of would be conquerors many, many times our number. It is our equalizer. Without it, we could not hope to hold off the infinitely large forces of Asia. Let us be thankful that such a powerful means of defense has been placed in our possession.

As for the cost of living, I repeat a current adage -- "The cost of living has not affected its popularity much." Nuff said? All things considered, we are still the most fortunate group of people on earth. For the most part, our stomachs are full, our living facilities are certainly adequate, our closets overflow, and most important, we are free. Let us remember, as we sit down to stuff ourselves this Thanksgiving, that the same cannot be said of much of the world.

Maj. Carpenter Seeks Support For 'The Forgotten Americans'

(Editor's note: The following is taken from The Lamesa Press-Reporter and was written by Publisher Walter Buckel for his column "By Lines.")

By WALTER BUCKEL
 Joe Carpenter is a farm boy from Mason, Ky. He worked on his Dad's tenant farm to earn money to get through High School and the University of Kentucky. In 1955, Joe entered the United States Air Force . . . eventually flew 95 missions over North Vietnam, and on the 96th he was shot down while attacking a truck convoy. It was Feb. 15, 1968.

Maj. Joe Carpenter holder of the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross and scores of Oak Leaf Clusters, and other medals, spent six months in solitary confinement in a Hanoi prisoner of war camp before being released in Sept. 1968. The repatriated POW, now an instructor at Williams Air Force Base, Arizona, was the speaker at the closing session and banquet in El Paso Saturday night at the West Texas Press Association concluded its annual summer meet.

Still the farm boy at heart, Maj. Joe discussed the Vietnam War situation in relation to Prisoners of War (POW) and Americans Missing in Action (MIA). Let me tell you what he wants the world to know as he appealed, with deep humility and sincerity, to owners and publishers of weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in the West Texas Press Ass'n to; tell grass roots America about "The Forgotten Americans."

Recalling personal experiences as a POW, Carpenter emphatically protested the "inhumane" treatment of POW and MIA families here at home by Hanoi's refusal to disclose a full and complete listing of names of American boys and men being held in POW camps. Failure to release the names, so that families may know whether loved ones are alive in the POW camps, is a flagrant violation of the Geneva Convention agreement. The refusal makes it extremely difficult for families with sons and husbands missing in action. . . but perhaps alive in POW camps.

"The people of your community can help, if they will. The people must help us and you in the newspaper business must bring it to their attention immediately," pleaded Carpenter. "Pressure must be brought to bear for a release of names of those being held -- these Americans cannot be forgotten," Carpenter told members of the press that Hanoi can be impressed with a massive grass roots effort through letters and telegrams that POW names be made public. "Keep the issue before the public. . . ask their support, Hanoi will listen -- I'm convinced of that."

Giving hope to the kin of MIA and POW, Carpenter stated; "The POW can survive and can return to America and lead a normal and healthy life." He recounted such details as; POW food -- a bowl of rice and piece of bread at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. -- occasionally a banana. No activities whatever -- complete isolation, something to read once a month. "The POW camps are nothing like WWII or Korea, Nor as depicted on Hogan's Heroes on TV. However, there is no brutality to speak of -- and a prisoner can live, can come home to lead a normal life."

And then the punch line for Joe Carpenter: "We were shown everything 'bad' going on in America -- we were shown nothing good. Films of rioting, protests, campus disorders, demonstrations were shown to us immediately. We were given clippings from newspapers of all the anti-war stuff. If a senator or congressman stood up before the TV camera or radio microphone to protest our involvement in Vietnam -- we saw his picture, heard his remarks within a few days. We saw nothing good or progressive going on -- but they made sure we saw everything that was anti," Carpenter said that Hanoi gets our TV reports, our big daily papers, our radio broadcasts . . . and they know what's going on at all times. "Upon my release, they expressed the hope I would return to America to join the protesters of the war, I assured them I would not," he said.

From what Maj. Joe Carpenter, repatriated POW, says -- Hanoi can be impressed by happenings in the U.S.A. Massive letter writing will have a telling effect on their thinking, Hanoi has already been impressed with the efforts of Dallas millionaire, H. Ross Perot . . . and Carpenter stated; "I wish there were a million like him in America."

 the first and second place winner.

Last year's event ended in a tie between Greg Hargrove and Champ Porter who called 91 games correctly, but Hargrove was awarded first prize on the basis of being 22 points closer on the tie-breaker scores throughout the season than was Porter.

Entrants are 'way behind in their percentage of correct guesses this year, with 71 being the tops whereas at the same time last season, the top entrants had called 85 right.

Picking will be tough this final week with many high school play-off games on the schedule.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. E. E. Hughes of Farwell remains hospitalized in Presbyterian Hospital in Albuquerque, N.M., following surgery last week. She was hospitalized in Clovis several days prior to entering the Albuquerque hospital. Friends report that her condition is satisfactory although she probably will remain in the hospital for a while. For those wishing to send letters or cards, Mrs. Hughes is in Room 351 C.

As a Smith of Lariat hoped to be dismissed from Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview by Thursday of this week, Smith has been receiving medical treatment at the Plainview hospital for several days and his condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Mrs. Wanda Walker of Farwell is confined to her home for rest for the remainder of this week and will return to her doctor for further tests on Friday.

Uranium deposits were discovered in Texas in 1954 by an airplane carrying scintillation equipment.

A CORNUCOPIA, autumn leaves, pumpkins and turkeys decorate the bulletin board in the first grade room of Mrs. Lela Stockton at Texico Elementary School. Pointing out objects of beauty on the Thanksgiving and Harvest Time scene are second graders Cindy Ronquillo, left, and Darla Morris. Thanksgiving decorations abound in the school building to remind students that besides being thankful for many things, they will also be having a holiday from school this Thursday and Friday.

FROM TEXICO TO WASHINGTON -- Richard Hapke, left, former Texico boy, who was state campaign manager for Congressman-Elect from New Mexico's District 2, Harold Runnels, will soon be making a move to Washington, D.C., where he will be associated with Runnels, Hapke, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hapke, still reside in Texico, is a former editor of the State Line Tribune, the Friona Star, the Lovington Daily Leader and New Mexico Farm and Ranch magazine. Hapke got his start in the news field as a printer's devil at the Tribune when Hop Graham Senior was at the helm and Richard was in high school. He later helped work his way through ENMU by holding down a job at the Tribune during the time he was going to college.

Here's a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket joint.

It won't leak

The idea of using a rubber gasket joint in Vanguard PVC plastic pipe was revolutionary. It meant no more bands or solvents. Easier, faster, trouble-free installation. But that was just a beginning. Next we put the pressure on. We hydrostatically tested it. We put it through all sorts of temperature tests. We twisted it and turned it. Then we field tested it. We gave it more punishment than you or those inevitable ground shifts could ever hope to.

Just as we anticipated -- the rubber gasket held. So, whatever your needs for plastic pipe, Vanguard is it. Bend it any way you want. We'll make a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket. It won't leak. Just be reasonable.

Vanguard is available in 1/2 to 15-inch diameters.

The B team lost their game 56-16 with Joyce White making 10 points for Farwell.

MRS. GLENN RAY FANT

Miller, Fant Wed In Saturday Ceremony

In a double-ring ceremony performed at Second Baptist Church in Lubbock on Saturday, Nov. 21, Miss Janice LaVerne Miller of Farwell became the bride of Glenn Ray Fant, also of Farwell.

Rev. Jimmy McGuire led the couple in their vows before an altar decorated with greenery and flanked with candelabra.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller of Weatherford, Tex., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fant of Quanah, Tex.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white Doeskin crepe featuring a high waistline with fitted bodice covered with imported lace. The long skirt was gathered and tucked. The long full sleeves were gathered to wide lace-covered cuffs to which a ruffle was attached. Her veil of tulle was attached to satin petals and fell into a chapel length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and satin streamers.

In carrying out bridal tradition, something old was an English penny, something new was her bridal gown, something borrowed was a pair of earrings and something blue was her garter.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Gene Ward of Abilene. She wore a floor length gown of apricot colored peau fashioned with a high waistline and fitted bodice set off with an inset banding and button trim. The skirt featured tucks and gathers. Her cascade bouquet was of apricot-colored carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Darrell Fant of Huntsville, Tex. Ushers were Ronnie Miller of Weatherford, brother of the bride, and Lyndon Box of Lubbock, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a long-sleeved dress of light pink crepe and had a corsage of white carnations.

Mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of turquoise crepe and also wore a corsage of white carnations.

At a reception in the church parlor following the wedding ceremony, guests were served from a table covered with an off-white linen cloth and centered with a fall arrangement of turquoise and apricot spider mums. Flanking the arrangement were crystal candelabra holding turquoise tapers. Crystal appointments were used.

Mrs. Don Williams of Lubbock and Miss Trudi Miller of Canyon presided at the bride's table. Mrs. Jennie D. Brunson of Littlefield registered guests and other friends of the bride were in the house party.

For a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico the bride wore a suit of brown and off-white with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School and Texas Tech and is presently serving as Parmer County Home Demonstration Agent. The bridegroom was graduated from Quanah High School, attended Texas Tech and the Texas Department of Public Safety Academy and is currently stationed in Parmer County as a Highway Patrolman.

Mr. and Mrs. Fant will make their home in Farwell after November 25.

READY FOR THE FEAST -- Polly Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner, gets ready to supply the main course for Thanksgiving dinner while Berny Mesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mesman, seems unconcerned of the plight of "ol Tom Turkey." The children are students at Craft Kindergarten in Farwell.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

FEAR OF DEATH IS IT NECESSARY?

Most people live in almost constant fear of death. They do not like to think that man's days are as grass and all his glory as the glory of a fading flower (Psa. 103:15,16). They do not wish to face up to the fact that "it is appointed unto men once to die" (Heb. 9:27).

This is natural, for God's Word declares that death is "the wages of sin" (Rom. 6:23) and "after this the judgment" (Heb. 9:27) and the danger of the "second death" (Rev. 20:14). This is why I Cor. 15:56 says that "the sting of death is sin."

Yet the Psalmist David was not afraid of death. He said: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil"—but note the reason: "FOR THOU ART WITH ME" (Psa. 23:4). David had come to know God and had been delivered from the fear of death. But we, today, have an even greater reason to be free from the fear of death, for 1,000 years after David, Saul of Tarsus, the chief of sinners was saved by grace and was sent forth to proclaim the "gospel (good news) of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24). He went forth to tell men how "Christ died for our sins" (I Cor. 15:3) and robbed Satan of all his claims against us. . . .

"That through death He might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil; and deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage" (Heb. 2:14,15). And when the apostle himself neared death, he said: "To die is gain" (Phil. 1:21) and "the time of my departure is at hand; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown. . ." (II Tim. 4:8).

Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. When tillage begins, other arts follow. The farmers, therefore, are the founders of civilization.

--- Daniel Webster

DIGGING BEETS -- A tractor-pulled machine conveys sugar beets from ground to truck to be hauled to the nearest railway point for transportation to the sugar beet processing plant in Hereford. Sugar beet harvest in the area has been in full swing with many loaded railroad cars seen on the sidings every day. Sugar content in the beets has not reached the desired levels yet, but it is some improved over last year's crop.

STRIPPING OPERATIONS were underway in a cotton field on the Arlin Hartzog farm in Oklahoma Lane last week as area cotton farmers near the end of this year's harvest. The modern type strippers make short work of the chore of getting the cotton from stalk to trailer to gin. An early freeze cut cotton yields over most of the county; however, some good grades have been received on cotton already ginned.

Harvest End Nears --

Calvin Meissner of Lariat Gin Co., in Lariat says that harvest in that vicinity is about 70 per cent complete and that as of last Wednesday the gin had tagged some 1460 bales which was about 700 bales ahead of the same time last year. Meissner estimates that the early freeze cut the yield some 25 per cent and that yields are ranging from one bale to one and one-quarter bales per acre. Top yield reported there has been one and one-half bales per acre.

Quality of the cotton ginned at the Lariat facility has been good, says Meissner, with 95 per cent of that graded thus far being in the premium range. Meissner points out that if the weather holds, ginning should be completed at one of the earliest dates on record with it being virtually over by December 1. This is due to the early freeze, he says. The cotton market has been dropping daily with the price at 19 cents to 19 1/4 cents being reported late last week.

Mack Heald, Parmer County Agent reports that sugar beet harvest is about 70 per cent complete and that so far, sugar content in county-grown beets has not risen to the desired point, although it has surpassed the average 11 per cent sugar content of last year. Sugar content has reached from 12 to 14 1/2 per cent and has risen some during the past two weeks; however, it has not reached nearly the 18 per cent which is desirable. Yields have been fairly good, but growers are primarily concerned about what is causing the low sugar content than in yield at that time.

Peanuts, a minor crop in the county, have been harvested and most growers reported good yields. Most of the peanut crop was able to be dug and threshed before cold wet weather set in to hurt the grade of the crop to any great extent.

Some 18,000 acres of corn are grown in the county with most of the acreage contracted to Frito-Lay Co. Corn harvest is complete and yields were reported to be a little better than last year's. Some corn borer damage was noted and caused falling of some of the ear-laden stalks. Stocker cattle are being turned into fields which had heavy falling and are also being used to clean up fields of grain sorghum where charcoal rot caused stalks to fall prior to combining.

All in all, this has been a fairly good crop year for county farmers, with noticeable yield increases being seen in several crops.
