PURELY PERSONAL

The best news in a blue moon to come out of the political scene is the election of our own Bill Clayton to Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. Bill is a levelheaded, down to earth type of guy that won't be stampeded into hasty or ill-advised actions. This augurs well for the State of Texas and for the Panhandle particularly.

However, Bill is going to begin to feel the heat of politics and pressure groups right off the bat. Seems like Texas managed to show up with a surplus bordering on one billion bucks in the till. This is almost political heresy and a state of affairs many of the lobby and pressure groups will be out to change.

One of the early and most vocal money grabbers seems to be the TSTA, the state teaching fraternity. Already we are hearing statements such as "We must preserve the quality of education for our young people." The state association strongly intimates that the way to preserve this "quality" of education is to unrealistically raise the teachers' wages.

Now this seems strange for the Association to hint that if the teachers do not get a hefty raise they may slack off on their teaching efforts. Here all these years we were led to believe that a teacher was some sort of "dedicated" person rather than a common money grubber. It does seem like the teacher unionizers with their extravagant salary demands are bent on destroying this image so fondly nurtured in the breasts of us old timers. Shades of Mattie Coyle, our seventh grade teacher, you wouldn't know the profession today.

A new high in engineering skill and dedication has been reached. It is the ability to pour new highways with built in chuck holes. This nadir of highway construction was recently reached on the stretch of (new?) black top laid between Texico and Clovis. We cannot help but compare the jobs being done on US 60-70-84 with the work on North Prince in Clovis. It boggles the mind if not the public purse.

Now for a joyful note. One of our most enjoyable evenings was spent listening to the Howard Payne University Symphonic Band as they performed at the First Baptist Church in Farwell last Friday evening. How great it is to know that there are clean, wholesome, talented youngsters playing and singing this kind of inspiring music.

The entire membership of the Baptist church is to be congratulated for its part in bringing, feeding and housing these 110 young people. It was a job of great magnitude but one that bore excellent fruit for those who heard the concert. Hopefully our community will be privileged to again host this group for another delightful evening.

It is too bad that with the excellent Farwell High School auditorium the community cannot form some sort of group to bring us an occasional evening of this type of entertainment. It need not look for high priced professional talent but could take advantage of our proximity to three major universities and a host of junior colleges to attract excellent talent.

Most school groups would be glad to come on an expense-paid basis and thereby hold down the cost of the evening. A periodic program of this type offered at a minimum of cost would also be a wonderful side attraction for our projected retirement and nursing home.

We have an industrial development commission - maybe we ought to look into a cultural development commission as a companion project.

Electric Company Sets $345 Million Program

More than $345,000,000 will be invested in new equipment and improvements during the next five years by Southwestern Public Service Company, Roy Tolk, chairman and president of the electric company, recently announced.

The investment for 1975, 62.4-million dollars, will be the largest annual amount ever budgeted for the company, but the record will be short-lived.

The projected investment for 1976 is more than 65-million dollars, more than 76-million dollars in 1977, and in 1979, the company expects to spend more than 77-million dollars for the improvements and equipment necessary to continue providing electric service for this growing area.

Three new generating facilities to be installed during this five-year period will increase the capability of the SPS system by more than 1-million kilowatts, bringing the total capability to approximately 3 1/2-million kilowatts.

Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo, will be the site for the first two additional generating units. The first is now under construction and is scheduled for completion in mid-1976, and completion of the second unit is planned for 1978. These two generators will each have a capability of 350,000 kilowatts and will use coal as their primary fuel.

"Construction of the third generating unit will start during the latter part of the five-year period and will also use a coal fired boiler," Tolk said.

In September of this year, SPS announced its interest in taking a lead role in the construction of the nation's first nuclear power plant using a gas-cooled fast breeder reactor. The company signed a letter of intent with the General Atomic Company of San Diego, Calif., indicating that SPS would contribute $100-million to such a project.

Transmission lines and transmission substations to be built during the five-year program will represent an expenditure of more than $50-million. The lines will be 115,000 and 230,000 volt and will serve the major load areas in Southwestern's system.

Construction will start in the near future on a 115,000 volt transmission line from Cunningham Station, near Hobbs, N.M., to Carlsbad, N.M. This new line will provide additional power for new and existing industrial loads.

"This region can avoid the recession which is gripping much of the nation if the people of the area will continue the planned development program for growth which utilizes all of our assets. Planning is the key word and our area development people are dedicated to helping every community that wants to work at planned progress. Finally, the whole region can count on adequate electric power being one of the assets at work," Tolk concluded.

NEW GENERATING FACILITY - Harrington Station, Southwestern Public Service Company's first coal-fired generating station, northeast of Amarillo, is scheduled for completion in mid-1976. The new 350,000 kilowatt generating facility is a part of the $345-million expansion and improvement program projected for SPS over the next five years. City of Texico is purchasing for a new city park. He stated that the Carver Estate had agreed to sell their two lots for a minimum amount. The City Clerk was authorized to pay S. W. Moore for 14 lots included in the park area.

Fenn stated that the Highway Commission said the City of Texico must draw up an ordinance and submit it for approval by the Highway Commission. Following this, the ordinance must be published prior to passage by the City.

Fenn also reported that work is progressing on the Texico Animal Shelter.

Carl Parks was approved by Trustees as deputy city marshal, replacing Erasmo Rodriguez, who resigned recently.

How do you handle a thirsty crop? The two accepted methods of giving a crop a drink are furrow irrigation and sprinkler irrigation. If under furrow irrigation there are "hot" spots or super saturated spots, irrigation efficiency is low. This means wasted fuel and wasted water.

Ed Corn and Wendol Christian have decided that for at least one of their operations a sprinkler system is the answer to their furrow irrigation problems.

Sprinkler systems apply a prescribed amount of water at a precise rate to the irrigated area. This means money in the bank for more than one reason. Uniform crops can be harvested more efficiently. Sprinkler systems permit a reduced amount of tillage operations. Reduced tillage operations requires less labor, less wear and tear on equipment, and less water.

The most apparent drawback is the initial cost. Most sprinkler owners believe this cost will be repaid within 5 to 10 years. If you are considering purchasing a sprinkler system, but still have doubts ask your neighbor, he probably has one. If he doesn't, contact the Soil Conservation Service in Friona.

Hensons Have Whirlwind Week-End In Island City

by Linda Mast

In November, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henson were treated to a three-day vacation in Nassau. The city of Nassau is the fashionable winter resort, the capital and chief port of the Bahamas situated on New Providence Island.

The Hensons departed Farwell on Nov. 6 and drove to Dallas where they spent the night with their son and daughter-in-law, Jerry and Carolyn Henson, and daughters.

The next morning they arrived at the Dallas airport to join a tour group numbering some 154 persons aboard a chartered plane for the jet trip to Nassau. The tour was sponsored by Ellanco Chemical Company. For his chemical sales, Henson was awarded the trip. "During the flight," stated Mrs. Henson, "we enjoyed renewing old acquaintances among the company salesman and their wives."

Upon arriving at the Nassau Airport, the couple was escorted to the Nassau Beach Hotel which would become headquarters during their stay. As it was only 1 p.m., the Hensons had time to unpack and relax before their first planned activity. This first activity proved to be an enjoyable punch party where the guests could discuss their first impressions of Nassau. The party was held on the hotel patio.

Mrs. Henson commented on the abundance of tropical plants. Banana, coconut, palm, and seaberry trees were in profusion. "We were told that the fruit from the seaberry tree makes a delicious fruit jelly," observed Mrs. Henson.

After the patio party the guests were ushered into the hotel's banquet room for a leisurely dinner of the local fare. The Hensons chose their main course from a menu that listed conch (a type fish) chopped raw in a tangy salad, spiked with hot peppers and lemon juice, grouper cutlets, baked crab and red snapper fillets in anchovy sauce. Fresh fruit from the islands -- mango, sugar apple and papaya -- accompanied every course. For dessert there was rum-raisin ice cream or a guava duff.

A seaside stroll was enjoyed by the Hensons after the evening meal. Mrs. Henson reported that the sound of the waves and the salty tinge in the air were invigorating. However, their walk was cut short by cold north wind and rain. "We were told that this was an unusual cold spell," she said, adding, "our guide said that Nassau usually has a sunny, tropical climate."

The next day, Nov. 8, the Hensons joined a small group to tour the island. The tour first took the group through the exclusive residential section of the American businessmen of Nassau. All the homes looked like tropical dream mansions. Mrs. Henson reported, and the lush gardens were expertly manicured.

The Government House, the Governor's official residence, was one of the mansions viewed. More elaborate than the other mansions, Mrs. Henson stated that they were told that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor had occupied it during the 1940's.

In downtown Nassau, Mrs. Henson chose the Queen's Staircase and surrounding gardens as the most impressive. A garden had been built around a high, rocky section that has a stairway carved of limestone built into the face of a rocky hill with man-made waterfalls.

This 102-foot high stairway is known as the Queen's Staircase. Slave labor probably carved these 66 steps into the limestone, she was told by a guide. The steps led to Fort Fincastle which is a 1787 vintage fort that overlooks the city and harbor.

Mrs. Henson commented on the historical interest of the fort and the beautiful view of the island and city. "Actually, the city and island are the same," explained Mrs. Henson, "as Nassau is so large and the island is so small."

The Hensons reported that the most frightening part of the trip was the downtown Nassau traffic. "They drove extremely fast on the left side of the street, and you just knew you were going to get run over," exclaimed Mrs. Henson. The narrow streets, in an otherwise surprisingly modern city, added to the traffic problems, added Mrs. Henson.

That night the Hensons visited the harbor and saw three large ships docked there. One of the three was the luxury liner, the Queen Elizabeth. "Its huge size was so impressive with so many lights," commented Mrs. Henson.

Saturday, Nov. 9, began with a glass-bottom boat excursion around the bay. "The different colored coral was strikingly beautiful," reported Mrs. Henson.

That afternoon, the couple spent several hours shopping and just "looking." They commented on the cleanliness and modernness of Nassau. Mrs. Henson explained that most of the people were very gracious and friendly. She added that the store clerks dress very well or in their "Sunday" best.

Some of the most interesting shops visited by the Hensons, they agreed, were the straw market shops. The straw wares were set up in sidewalk displays. The straw goods were handmade from grasses gathered on the island. Mrs. Henson stated that the native craft of straw preparation of the wild grasses gave the finished articles strength and artistic beauty.

"I couldn't resist buying several straw bags and hats," commented Mrs. Henson. She also explained that they were hand decorated with embroidered flowers of many colors.

The shopping was made more enjoyable by the absence of intense sales hustling by the vendors. The sales attendants were very friendly but not pushy about selling their goods, explained Mrs. Henson. She added that the graciousness and good manners of the shopkeepers impressed the tourists.

"We found the prices for most everything comparable to U. S. prices," noted Mrs. Henson. However, she did stress that food prices were much higher. She gave the example of a lunch for four consisting of four hamburgers and three colas costing over $7. She also said that ice cream cones were 75 cents and colas (sold almost exclusively in bars) were 95 cents.

That night, the Hensons joined the other members of the tour for a farewell party and dinner at the hotel. The group was entertained by Calypso dancers doing the limbo. "We were amazed at how low the pole was set for the dancers to go under," Mrs. Henson commented.

For the occasion the Calypso band had learned the Texas song "The Eyes of Texas." Mrs. Henson stated that this performance brought the "house down" with a standing ovation. This was a fitting conclusion to the group's whirlwind tour of Nassau, she exclaimed.

Sunday, Nov. 10, the Hensons returned by jet with the tour group to Dallas. "Flying into a rainbow color of clouds into the setting sun as we left Nassau climaxed the tour. Because of the direction we were flying, we flew for over an hour before the sun actually set," concluded Mrs. Henson.

Upon arriving in Dallas, the Hensons again visited with their son and family, returning to Farwell on Nov. 11.

SHOPPING AT THE STRAW MARKET -- The straw markets of Nassau were the most interesting of the downtown shops, according to Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henson. Henson was shopping in one of the markets and paused to view a typical tourist "joy rider," a horse drawn carriage. He is holding a shopping bag which he purchased there.

Refreshments of assorted cookies and fruit-nut breads, coffee and pineapple punch were served to approximately 35 guests by Kim Snider. Jaqueta Crook presided at the guest book.

The bride was assisted in opening her gifts by her husband. Hostesses' gift was a set of cookware.

Hostesses for the occasion were Jean Patschke, chairman; Dorothy Quickel, Dot Christian, Faye Parr, Dickie Chandler, Peggy Snider, Liz Phillips, Georgia Foster, Carol Dean Huggins, Gladys Kaltwasser and Joyce Hargrove.

Chris Moss In Hawaii

Mrs. Chris Moss of Levelland, formerly of Texico-Farwell, returned recently from Kailua, Hawaii, where she spent the Christmas and New Year's holidays visiting her son, Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Moss and family.

Mrs. Moss stated, "It is hard to realize that we are having cold, cold weather here as the low temperature while I was in Hawaii was 69 degrees. Most of the time the temperature was in the high 80's, so they thought 69 was cool! I was quite comfortable, however."

While Mrs. Moss was in Kailua, announcement was made that Glendon had been made vice-president of operations and a member of the Board of Directors of Kentron International LTV. For the past year he has been serving as manager of computer services for the company and prior to that time he had held various positions with the company. Moss' offices are located in Honolulu.

Announcement of the promotion was made at the Dec. 27 meeting of the Board of Directors of the firm at a Honolulu country club and, according to Mrs. Moss, the promotion was a nice birthday gift for Glendon who celebrated his birthday Dec. 30.

Many other exciting things happened to Mrs. Moss while in Hawaii, but "the most exciting was the opportunity to get re-acquainted with my grandchildren, Malia and Chad. Chad celebrated his first birthday Jan. 4," Mrs. Moss remarked.

Mrs. Moss is a former news editor of the State Line Tribune and is now serving as a dorm mother at South Plains College in Levelland. As a concluding remark she stated, "My work is still exciting and satisfying but I miss my good friends in Texico and Farwell."

Mrs. Edith Crawford traveled to Amarillo New Year's Day to the home of her sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Thomas. During her stay there, the Thomases' daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Maurer and son Mark, arrived for a visit.

While in Amarillo, Mrs. Crawford also spent some time with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Emma Crawford, before returning home Saturday, Jan. 4.

QUEEN'S STAIRWAY -- This stairway, measuring 102 feet in height and situated in downtown Nassau, is known as the Queen's Stairway. It serves as the focal point for a garden of tropical flowers and waterfalls. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henson are standing to the left of the stairway. The couple agreed it was one of the most impressive of the downtown tourist sites of Nassau.

HEADQUARTERS -- Serving as headquarters for Mr. and Mrs. Clay Henson during their three-day stay in Nassau recently was the Nassau Beach Hotel. The Hensons attended a welcoming party on the hotel's patio their first night in Nassau. Standing near the hotel entrance are Mrs. Henson and Dean Strange, a chemical salesman on the tour from Clovis.

BRIGHT STAR
IN THE GALAXY

ENERGY EFFICIENT...

We call the heat pump a "Bright Star" because although the idea has been around for some time now... there's a lot more interest in saving energy than ever before... people want to save energy, but they don't have to give up their comfort. With the heat pump, you don't have to give up anything. The heat pump makes wise use of energy because it uses otherwise wasted heat and electricity to heat and cool your home. Electric heat, in any form, is a wise use of precious energy and the heat pump is today's star of the system... more than 100% efficient at the point of use - actually provides more energy than it uses. Call us this week for a free electric heat cost survey of your home... and ask about the heat pump!

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

"PAUL THE PATTERN"
No conversion in sacred history is given so much attention as that of St. Paul. Besides the many references to it, we find three detailed accounts of it in the book of Acts. As Saul of Tarsus, the learned Pharisee, he had led his nation and the world in rebellion against God and the Lord Jesus Christ. St. Luke says: "As for Saul, he made havock of the church" (Acts 8:3). The believers at Damascus feared Saul's presence among them, saying: "Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name at Jerusalem?" (Acts 9:21). Paul himself later testified: "Many of the saints did I shut up in prison... and when they were put to death I gave my voice [vote] against them" (Acts 26:10). "... beyond measure I persecuted the church of God and wasted it [laid it waste]" (Gal. 1:13). There must have been an important reason why God saved this rebel leader. Clearly it was that He might make Paul, not only the herald, but the living example of "the exceeding riches of His grace" to sinners. Paul himself said: "And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord... for... putting me into the ministry; who was before A BLASPHEMER, AND A PERSECUTOR, AND INJURIOUS: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly and in unbelief. AND THE GRACE OF OUR LORD WAS EXCEEDING ABUNDANT... This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that CHRIST JESUS CAME INTO THE WORLD TO SAVE SINNERS, OF WHOM I AM CHIEF. HOWBEIT FOR THIS CAUSE I OBTAINED MERCY, THAT IN ME FIRST JESUS CHRIST MIGHT SHOW FORTH ALL LONGSUFFERING, FOR A PATTERN TO THOSE WHO SHOULD HEREAFTER BELIEVE ON HIM TO LIFE EVERLASTING" (1 Tim. 1:12,16).

On The Farm In Palmer County

By R. MACK HEALD
County Agent

A team of Extension Rural Development Specialists will be talking to people throughout Palmer County next week. They will be interviewing citizens in every walk of life to determine the county's needs. This will be a special type of survey that hasn't been conducted before in Palmer County.

The information that is gathered will be used by Palmer County citizens and not by someone outside of the county as most other survey material is. This interview should produce some interesting facts and put some light on the county's greatest problems.

Heading the survey team will be Tim Shaunty, area resource development specialist, and Dave Ruesink, sociologist with the Extension Service in College Station.

Cotton farmers who are planning on saving seed from their 1974 crop should be sure it is high in germination and low in free fatty acid.

Most farmers check germination closely but may not be aware of the importance of the free fatty acid content.

Free fatty acid is a by-product of seed deterioration so its content should not be more than one per cent. Seed exposed to long periods of wet weather prior to harvesting or subjected to poor storage after harvesting will generally have a higher acid content, indicating considerable seed deterioration.

The acid content of cottonseed is especially important this year since much of the 1974 cotton crop suffered from wet weather this fall.

Cottonseed delinting plants commonly use the one per cent level of free fatty acid as the breaking point in saving or rejecting seed for planting purposes.

Seed with a high acid content often shows a high germination test, initially, but these seed will deteriorate rapidly in storage and germination will drop. Of course, a low acid content does not insure top quality seed. Immature seed may be low in free fatty acid content.

Cottonseed should not be saved for planting that has two per cent more free fatty acid. Seed delinting companies can assist producers in obtaining an acid test on their planting seed. Numerous laboratories in the state also are equipped to check the acid content of cottonseed.

Using salt to melt ice on sidewalks, streets and driveways can injure nearby trees, shrubs and lawn grass.

Salt may drain into the ground when ice melts and damage the root systems of nearby grass and shrubs.

Salt in the root systems of trees can cause partial or complete burning of leaves and may result in the loss of valuable trees and shrubs. Patches of dead grass may also result. These effects may not show up until early summer.

Use ammonium nitrate fertilizer instead of salt to melt ice. Ammonium nitrate not only melts the ice, but fertilizes shrubs and plants in the lawn.

Any commercial fertilizer that is high in nitrogen and potassium can be used.

Care must be taken to use only enough fertilizer to melt the ice, as a high concentration of fertilizer in the soil can also damage plants.

Sand can also be used to melt ice on sidewalks and driveways. It provides good traction for cars and pedestrians and is no more damaging to floors and rugs than salt.

Deadline Near For SWCD Essay Contest

High school students take a good look at your calendar. There are only two weeks left to get your Conservation Essay to the Palmer County Soil and Water Conservation District Office in Friona.

You remember an earlier announcement stated the title this year is "Conservation - Key to the Future," reminds Herb Evans of the SWCD.

The essays can be up to 300 words. The age limit is 18 years old. Each essay must be written in ink and in longhand.

Each superintendent of schools in Palmer County has been given all the details of the contest.

We know you remember that there are cash prizes for the top four essays in the county. Get busy and finish up your essay and try your skills at winning a prize, urges Evans.
