

Wheat Harvest Nearing Completion

WALLACE VOICES ANOTHER IDEA . . . Henry A. Wallace, shown here with Sen. Claude Pepper (Dem., Fla.), waves to crowds at Washington Watergate where he spoke on international relations. Recently returned from a two-month cross-country speaking tour, Wallace told his Washington, D. C., listeners that President Truman should invite Soviet Premier Josef Stalin to "peace meeting" in Berlin to settle differences.

Anderson Is Named President Local Bank

G. D. Anderson, who concluded his 20th year as active vice-president of the Security State Bank of this city, has been elected to the presidency of the local institution to succeed J. H. Head of Hereford, who died in May of this year.

Anderson in taking over the presidency, said that as yet no one had been named to succeed him as vice-president but this would be attended to in a meeting of the directors in the near future. "The directors put me in as president and told me to go ahead until the rush of the wheat harvest was over," Anderson said in explaining his elevation.

Coming here from Arkansas twenty-two years ago, Anderson was first connected with the Friona State Bank, where he held the position as cashier for two years before coming to the Security State Bank to accept the vice-presidency.

Reflecting over the growth of the local bank since his coming here, Anderson recalled that when he became associated with the local institution the deposits were "around $85,000." Today the bank boasts nearly two and a half million. However, Anderson very modestly declines to accept full credit for the bank's growth. "It's just changed conditions," he observes.

The complete list of the officers and directors is now: G. D. Anderson, president; L. S. Pool, cashier; G. W. Browley, J. A. Pitman, G. D. Anderson, Belva P. Anderson, directors.

Henderson Warehouse Begins Receiving Grain Tuesday

A golden flow of freshly-harvested grain began coursing down the chutes at the newly completed Henderson warehouse in Farwell late Tuesday afternoon, as large waiting trucks began dumping their precious cargoes into the pits.

C. M. Henderson, owner-manager, estimated that the new warehouse would hold around 200,000 bushels of wheat and gave it as his opinion that this, the only storage available on the Texas Plains, would likely be filled to overflowing within a very few days.

Due to the lack of proper facilities to "air" the grain, Henderson warned that no wheat containing more than 12 percent moisture would be acceptable. Furthermore, he added, the grain must be clean and free from sand and dust.

The Santa Fe has material on the ground for construction of a spur to the new warehouse and work on this job will begin shortly, it was assured.

Injured By Firecrackers

So far as could be learned here, only two minor accidents occurred from exploding firecrackers on the Fourth.

One little fellow, 4-year-old Wallace Howard Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Pace, was somewhat like the absent minded professor who boiled his watch three minutes while he held an egg in his hand.

The only difference was that the youngster touched off the cracker with a cigarette lighter, threw the lighter down and held the exploding firecracker.

The second injury occurred when the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Engram picked up a cracker that had failed to explode, only to discover that he was a little too anxious. The father vows that he had to chase the lad a quarter mile before he could catch him.

Both boys received only bruised and slightly burned fingers.

Tribune Adds New Feature This Week

The State Line Tribune is adding a new feature this week, which will appear regularly hereafter for the next several weeks.

Under the title of "True Stories About West Texans," N. H. Kincaid of Abilene, Texas, has prepared the series, which will be released weekly. Mr. Kincaid received his master's degree in history from the Hardin-Simmons University and has been conducting research studies of West Texas characters for a number of years.

Each story will be based on a real incident of life of a well-known Texas pioneer who settled west of the 98th median.

Small House Burned Saturday Morning

A small house and all contents, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hedricks was destroyed by fire shortly after 2 a. m. Saturday of last week.

The building was completely enveloped in flame when the fire department arrived and only the walls were left standing when the fire was extinguished. No one was at home at the time of the fire and the cause was not determined. Mrs. Hedricks and two small children are understood to have been in Roswell and Mr. Hedricks was in Clovis at the time of the fire.

A second fire shortly after noon Saturday caused a run to the J. H. Leveall station in west Texico, where a grass fire was started by children shooting off firecrackers. No damage resulted and the fire was soon put out by the fire boys.

Fire Leaves Family Of Blind Man in Destitution

While hundreds of Parmer Countians are literally rolling in wealth as the returns of a bountiful harvest are being gathered in, there is a family in Farwell that has been left destitute by a fire that completely destroyed all their earthly possessions last Saturday morning.

A. E. Hendrick, a local man who is virtually blind, although he tries to follow his trade as a mechanic by feeling his way around, has a family of a wife and two small boys—ages 2 and 4—and they are in dire need of immediate assistance. Clothing, bedding and enough household furniture to set up housekeeping again are the most urgent needs.

Mrs. J. C. Temple has offered them the use of a small house on her premises, and she has agreed to accept contributions of any nature that will help this unfortunate family. It is requested that parties having articles to donate to this cause bring them to Mrs. Temple at the earliest possible date.

If you have no cast-off items of bedding, furniture, or clothing, perhaps you would like to make a cash contribution. Such contributions may be sent to The Tribune office.

EUGENE EZELL CONFIRMED AS BOVINA POSTMASTER

Eugene Ezell, who has been acting postmaster of the Bovina postoffice for the past several weeks, has been confirmed as postmaster by the U. S. Senate.

Ezell, who was an applicant for the Bovina postmastership, took over the office as acting postmaster recently when Mrs. Alice Moore resigned to accept a position with the Parmer County Hospital at Friona.

Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Dillon and daughter, Eva Ann, of La Guna Beach, Calif., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Newton Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Dillon is a sister of Mrs. Newton.

Mrs. John Smith and children from Port Author, Texas, and Mrs. Jack Smith from Hale Center, visited Mrs. Jim Moore Tuesday.

SUPT. O. T. LOYD, the newly elected superintendent of the Farwell schools, who arrived here on July 1st to assume his new duties.

Loyd Here as School Head

O. T. Loyd, who was elected to head the Farwell School as superintendent for the coming year, arrived here July 1st, from Smyer, Texas, to assume his new duties.

Mr. Loyd was formerly head of the Smyer Schools, having been superintendent of that school for the past two years, and held the same position at McAdoo for two terms prior to going to Smyer.

Mr. Loyd began his teaching career at Amherst, Texas, where he worked two years. From there he went to Garden City, and to Olton as principal. His following job was in McAdoo, where he worked in the capacity of superintendent while there.

Supt. Loyd is single and 31 years of age. He has a Masters degree of education and a Bachelor degree in business administration; and eight years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Grace Loyd, his mother, will also teach in the local school. Mrs. Loyd has had 12 years of experience as a teacher, having acquired her B. S. degree from Texas Tech with high honors for the four years of college work.

Mrs. Loyd, a long-time resident of Lamb County, became a widow in 1937 when her husband, F. A. Loyd, then county sheriff, died from a gun shot wound received while attempting to make an arrest. Mrs. Loyd was appointed to fill the unexpired term of her husband.

Silvia Loyd, daughter of Mrs. Grace Loyd, will make this her home along with her mother and brother; although she is attending school in Lubbock for the summer. She attained two scholarships, one offered by the Dunlap Stores and one for holding the valedictorian position of her graduating class of 1947 of the Smyer high school.

Farwell School to Be Redecorated

Jack Williams, coach of the Farwell School, will begin work on the dressing rooms and showers soon after the wheat harvest is over.

Mr. Williams plans to build more and bigger rooms for the students to shower and dress during ball games and practices.

Mr. Meeks, local janitor, will begin working on the floors and the interior of the building within the next few weeks, applying finish wax to all the floors and new plaster on the walls and ceiling.

Faculty Vacancies Almost Filled

O. T. Loyd, superintendent of the Farwell Schools, announced that the vacancies of the school have almost been filled, and that all the teachers have or will have degrees.

Some of the teachers are completing the required amount of college work during the summer months.

Mrs. Walter Hardage and children left Saturday for Memphis, Tenn., where they expect to spend a few weeks visiting in the home of Mrs. Hardage's sister.

Thousands of Bushels on Ground

Aided by ideal harvesting weather the past three weeks, the wheat harvest in Parmer County began to approach the final stages early this week with the prediction that all the combining would be completed by the close of the present week.

County Agent Ollie Linder stated Tuesday that his surveys indicated that the harvest was 85 percent complete at that time, and added that with favorable weather all wheat in the county would be cut by the close of the week. H. T. Magness of Friona, was here Tuesday and gave a similar report from the Friona section, where much of the country's best wheat is produced.

Magness said that there would not be a "patch as large as your hat" by the close of the week.

County wheat farmers, apparently comfortably past the first hurdle in saving the county's largest wheat crop in history, are still faced with the problem of storage for their enormous harvest. One man who handles a large wheat acreage in the county gave it as his opinion Monday that his company had not less than 100,000 bushels of grain piled out in the open.

His position is duplicated by practically every grower in the county, although on a smaller scale. Few growers this year have been able to get all their grain in the elevators or store it at home. Huge piles of golden grain may be found near every farm house in the county, to say nothing of the piles to be found on vacant lots and near elevators throughout the county.

With movement of the grain already bottlenecked, there seems to be no immediate relief in sight and the prediction is being made that it may be the first of the year before all the grain can be moved. Ray Harrison, chief dispatcher of the Santa Fe in Clovis, in a conversation with the writer last Wednesday evening, made the prediction that "it will be well into next year before we will be able to move all the grain."

Harrison went on to say that while the railroads were taking the blame for not providing sufficient cars the fact remains that the fault is not altogether with the railroads. He gave it as his opinion that the ports at Galveston and Houston "would be blocked in three days" if sufficient cars for moving wheat were provided right now.

Some little relief is calculated to develop this weekend, when the large Henderson warehouse in Farwell, under construction the past several weeks, is scheduled to open. The capacity of this warehouse has been estimated at from 180,000 to 200,000 bushels. But the prediction is being freely made that this only available storage space in the Texas Panhandle will be filled in less than a week's time.

Faced with these problems, farmers might just as well prepare to hold their wheat for several months, in the opinion of most elevator and railroad men.

A suggestion worthy of consideration was offered this week by an observer who said that farmers who have storage on their farms should use that storage and leave their wheat in storage until the many thousands of bushels have been picked off the ground and shipped through the elevators.

As harvesting draws into its final stages, yields are becoming more and more to the forefront. Most fields are averaging above the 20-bushel mark. Some are falling below that figure, while on the other hand averages as high as 28 to 30 bushels are being reported. The speculation is being freely made that now that the county-wide average will run between 20 and 25 bushels to the acre.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

T. L. (Red) Glasscock of Muleshoe, who was run over by a tractor some three weeks ago while working on his farm, was returned to his home last Sunday afternoon from the hospital.

Very Quiet 4th of July

The 4th of July holiday passed in a very quiet manner in the Twin-Cities Friday, with only a few local places of business closing due to the busy harvest season.

Many of the residents who took the day off spent part of it working about their homes, either in the garden, yard or cleaning house.

Several reports reveal that a number of people attended some kind of celebration during the day or in the evening.

Except for the exploding of an occasional firecracker, which the small fry kept up till well into the night, the celebration of the Fourth passed very quietly in the Twin Cities.

Kiwanis Club Meets With Henderson

About 35 members and friends of the Clovis Kiwanis Club were guests of President Heinie Henderson at his new grain warehouse in east Farwell last Wednesday evening.

An abundance of chicken-in-the-rough, French fries, salads, ice cream and iced tea was served the club members and the guests. In the absence of an arranged program, H. Y. Overstreet gave a brief history of the large water reservoir, which has been recently converted into a grain storage warehouse by Henderson.

In a light vien, Overstreet said that he rather not go into all the details of the history of the old tire plan for fear that some of the stockholders might be present. Continuing, he recalled that the reservoir had been used for many things, "but this is the first time I have seen it cover over it and the lights turned on."

President Henderson then detailed his vision in converting the pit into a grain storage and said that it would provide storage for upwards of 200,000 bushels of grain. Henderson said that he saw no reason why the new plant could not find all-year useage, alternating between wheat and grain sorghum crops.

Caught In Power Saw, Hand Hurt

John Wilson of Bovina, who was employed on construction work at the Sherley Elevator at Bovina, sustained a hand injury early last week when he got caught in an electric power saw.

First reports were to the effect that he sustained the loss of two fingers on the right hand, but later information is that the fingers were not amputated when he was taken to a Clovis hospital.

Public Hearing Set For July 30th

The State Soil Conservation Board has notified County Agent Ollie Linder that they will conduct a public hearing to be held at the Friona High School Auditorium, 10:00 a. m., July 30, 1947.

As a result of the petition that was circulated and signed by farmers this public hearing is being held to see if there is sufficient interest to justify an election to create a Standard Soil Conservation District among land owners in this county.

At this public hearing, a State Soil Conservation Representative will explain the working of a Soil Conservation District in this county.

It is urged that all interested land owners keep this date in mind and attend the meeting if at all possible.

Assault Charge Filed In Stabbing Affair

Henry B. Nichols is being held in the Parmer County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Nichols was taken into custody by the Sheriff's department Monday night, following a cutting affair at Black, and brought to this city. Justice Jess Newton set his bond at $1,000.

According to the Sheriff's office, Nichols and Stanley E. Smith became involved in an argument, which resulted in the cutting affair. Smith received seven wounds, two of which were stabs in the region of the heart and was taken to a Clovis hospital for treatment.

Both men were employed on an extra gang of the Santa Fe, engaged in laying steel at Black. Neither of them were residents of this county, officers said.

RECEIVES FACE INJURIES

Don Bruns of the near-by Lariat Community, was injured Sunday afternoon while he and several other men were working a herd of cattle on the Dick Doshier place.

Don was riding a young filly and roped a cow, when his horse began to pitch. He was thrown to the ground and became entangled in the rope.

The horse kicked Don in the face, breaking his nose and cutting his upper lip badly. He was considerably bruised when the animal dragged him some distance before it could be brought under control.

Orval Frances, who was working with them, rushed Bruns to the hospital in Clovis for treatment.

Mrs. Lee Meeks and baby left last Wednesday for Albany, N. Y., for a two month's visit with relatives.

Questions and Answers For Discharged Vets

Q—What is meant by a guaranty of loan under the G. I. Bill?

A—The guaranty of a loan by Veterans Administration under the provisions of the Serviceman's Readjustment act (G. I. Bill) is an agreement between the lender of money and VA that in event a veteran fails to pay his loan, the Government will pay the guaranteed portion of the loan.

Q—If I can't meet payments on my guaranteed loan, is payment by the Government a gift to me?

A—No, payment by the Government of your guaranteed loan is not a gift. It must be repaid, and if the Government pays the guaranteed part of the loan to the lender you are obligated to the Government for that part of the loan.

Q—I have a lender who will lend me the money I need, but he wants additional security. Does the law allow to ask for security?

A—Yes. This is a matter between you and the lender. While Veterans Administration does not require that additional security be given, it does not object if the veteran is willing to give it.

Q—I am a widow of a World War II veteran and want to buy a home. Can I obtain a guaranty of loan?

A—No. The privilege is limited to veterans of World War II.

Q—Can I obtain a guaranteed loan to purchase household furnishings?

A—No.

Health Notes

By Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—Because of the economic losses they cause to industry and commerce and the annoyance they create in homes, rats have been considered a serious menace to mankind since long before their role as vectors of disease was understood. Today at least six diseases which are transmitted to man from the rat are known to medical science, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. These diseases include the dread plague, typhus, trichinosis, a form of jaundice, tapeworm and food poisoning. The whole history of the role rats play in the transmission of disease remains as yet unknown.

"It is necessary to public health," Dr. Cox said, "that a continuous rat control program be maintained in every urban and rural area throughout Texas. This is of especial importance on farms where rats may flourish by feeding on grain and other farm products."

The doctor pointed out that rats, like other living things, require food and shelter if they are to propagate and increase in number. Destroying their shelter and breeding places requires the rat-proofing of buildings and providing for periodic inspection of buildings to insure permanent safety. This program will force the rat out into the open where its destruction may be accomplished.

Of equal importance as a control measure is the elimination of all food supplies. This consists of storing all foods in ratproof buildings or in ratproof containers, the proper storage and disposal of garbage, and careful feeding of stock to prevent waste feed from being picked up by the rats.

By observing these control measures, the community will benefit not only in the eradication of a nuisance and economic menace, but in improved health conditions and the prevention of rat-borne disease.

Farmers Can Help Stop Flood Damage

Do you know that every year we are losing around 500,000 acres of our farmland through erosion? That each year the Mississippi River carries some 730 million tons of soil into the Gulf of Mexico? That the cost of our annual erosion, in measurable physical damages alone, will easily exceed a billion dollars? And that, while farm urban property damaged in the Midwestern floods during the month of June can be repaired, and destroyed crops can be replanted—next year if not this—the productive soil being washed down the Des Moines, Iowa, Grand, Missouri, and Mississippi Rivers is gone forever? Farmers can reduce soil damage and cut down flood crests through wider use of measures which stop soil erosion and slow down the runoff of water into swollen streams. For flood control begins in the fields and pastures, up on the watersheds back from the stream channels. Practices encouraged under the Agricultural Conservation program which help check runoff include contour tillage and cultivation, contour strip cropping, terracing, grassed waterways, stubble-mulch farming, cover crops, range and pasture management, construction of dams and reservoirs, tree planting in gullies for erosion control, and other farm woodland management.

Says Foot-and-Mouth Disease Serious Problem

"The foot-and-mouth disease is the most serious problem that confronts the public and government," President Miguel Aleman of Mexico said recently during an inspection of eradication activities in his country.

The Chief executive of Mexico told groups in infected areas that the only methods by which the disease can be driven from the country are the slaughter and burial of livestock. He asked that complete assistance be given to the joint Mexican-United States forces combating the disease.

The inspection included the State of Queretaro where operations are now being concentrated in line with strategy to encircle and compass the infected area. Queretaro stockmen assured President Aleman of their understanding and approval of the campaign.

Following the disposal of livestock, sanitary technicians direct a thorough cleaning and disinfecting of corrals, and other livestock equipment to prevent the disease re-entering the area or spreading to non-infected areas. Road blocks have been established by the Mexican Army where disinfecting activities are carried on to prevent spread of the disease. This cleaning operation is building up much good will, the United States forces engaged in the work report. Owners frequently comment that the neat appearance of their premises left by the crews is a pleasing climax to the "sanitary rifle," the name widely applied in Mexico to the slaughter of infected animals.

HOW MANY PIGS?

The outlook for the 1947 corn crop, made uncertain by floods and unfavorable weather conditions particularly in the Midwest, will influence importantly the size of this year's pig crop. This is the national picture:

Farmers have indicated their intentions of increasing sow farrowings this fall by about 9 percent, which is short of the goal increase of 15 percent recommended by the Department of Agriculture. If these intentions are carried out and the number of pigs saved per litter equals the 10-year average, the 1947 fall pig crop would be about 32.5 million head—6 percent over last year. The Corn Belt may do a little better—an 8 percent increase is indicated for that area.

TWO VETERANS TALK . . . Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower (left), army chief of staff, chats with Sgt. Edward Beamon, armless golfer. They played in a two-day "famous persons" golf tournament at Washington, D. C.

All afternoon the two cattlemen, crouched in the cane brakes of the Pecos, had kept the Indians at bay. But the redskins' numbers had been increased to over a hundred now, and the men knew themselves to be completely surrounded.

They had left the Goodnight-Loving-Wilson herds two days ago in order to hurry on to Fort Sumner and bid on the government's beef contracts. But they had run into a big hunting party returning from south of the river and were having to fight it out.

And then it was that Oliver, guarding their approach from the river itself, was shot. The bullet went through his left arm and into his side. He felt that it was fatal and so he made his way as quickly as possible over the forty intervening yards to his companion.

"Here, Bill," he panted, throwing him his guns and ammunition, "I am killed; you do the best you can for yourself."

For the next thirty minutes Bill was so busy doing just that until he could hardly do more than notice his friend. But with Oliver's loaded guns handy, he was able to repulse the charge, and the Indians withdrew to a more respectful distance.

Bill took advantage of this and moved the wounded Oliver down to the river, concealing him in a sandy depression where the smart weeds grew about two feet high, and lay down beside him. The Indians knew they were down there somewhere and used all sorts of ruses to find their location. They would shoot their arrows up, and some came down near striking them.

Finally the Indians decided to flush them out. One big brave with a long lance came crawling their way, parting the weeds with the lance as he came. Bill was in a dilemma. He knew that if he pressed that trigger all doubts of their whereabouts would be gone. But there seemed no alternative. His trigger finger began to slowly move, but paused suddenly.

A big rattlesnake, scared up by the Indian, came out rattling, looking back at the redskin. He coiled up near the two men but facing his back trail. The Indian, still not having seen his quarry, decided not to force the issue with this new enemy and turned back.

That night at Oliver's insistence, Bill drifted down the river and away from his foes: Oliver was able to later do likewise.

Bill (W. J.) Wilson, who was taking his first herd to market and had fallen in with Charles Goodnight and Oliver Loving on their New Mexico trail, made his way barefoot back to the approaching herds, three days away. The wounded Oliver Loving, who had been one of the first men to trail cattle from Texas, finally hailed some Mexicans and had them take him on into Ft. Sumner.

NOTE: Loving died from his infected arm while at Ft. Sumner.

Vacation Bible School Underway Here

The annual vacation Bible school of the Texico-Farwell Methodist Church opened its doors for the admission of young students Monday of this week.

In an interview early this week, Rev. Harvey E. Carrell, pastor of the church, said that the school was being fairly well attended with 47 children present the opening day. He expressed the hope that the attendance would advance in the ensuing few days.

Under the sponsorship of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, the school contains three departments; beginners, Primary, and Jr-Intermediates. The latter of these classes has been realizing the largest attendance; 25 recorded for the opening day.

Several of the members of the Youth Fellowship are assisting in the school, namely: Belva Park, Peggy and Jean Rogers, and Mary Ruth and Hazel Petree.

The school begins at 9 a. m. each morning on weekdays and is in session until 11:00. Rev. Carrell pointed out. Parents are urged to assist their children to attend as it is a worthwhile outlet for a child's energy and the pupils always enjoy the recreative facilities of such a gathering.

The Bible school will continue for two weeks.

KILL THE BUGS

LUBBOCK—Suggestions for elimination of insects that have begun plaguing gardeners are offered by George Elle, assistant professor of plant industry at Texas Technological College.

Most difficult to control are the squash bug, now appearing in droves on squash, and the harlequin cabbage bug that attacks cabbage, collards, mustard, turnips and radishes, he said. Sabadilla, a compound sold under the trade name of Sabacide, is effective on the young bugs but not always on adults. Its use will prevent in some measure of control, however, since the squash bug reproduces two generations per season the the cabbags bug three.

The squash bug is a dark brown insect with a flat back that feeds on the underside of leaves but often suns itself on the leaf top. It is advisable to inspect the underside of leaves for eggs of both insects and destroy eggs if found. Cabbage bugs resemble small black-rimmed white kegs, Elle said, and squash bug eggs look something like light brown fleas.

The flea beetle, a black jumping insect about the size of the end of a lead pencil, constitutes a threat to area potato growers, he warned. This insect chews holes in leaves about the size of a pencil lead. A half and half mixture of cryolite and sulphur is recommended as a control, he said, hile cryolite is not toxic to humans and is even more effective.

 You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Our Sincere REGRETS

We sincerely regret that it has been impossible for us to render you the service that we had hoped during this critical harvest period.

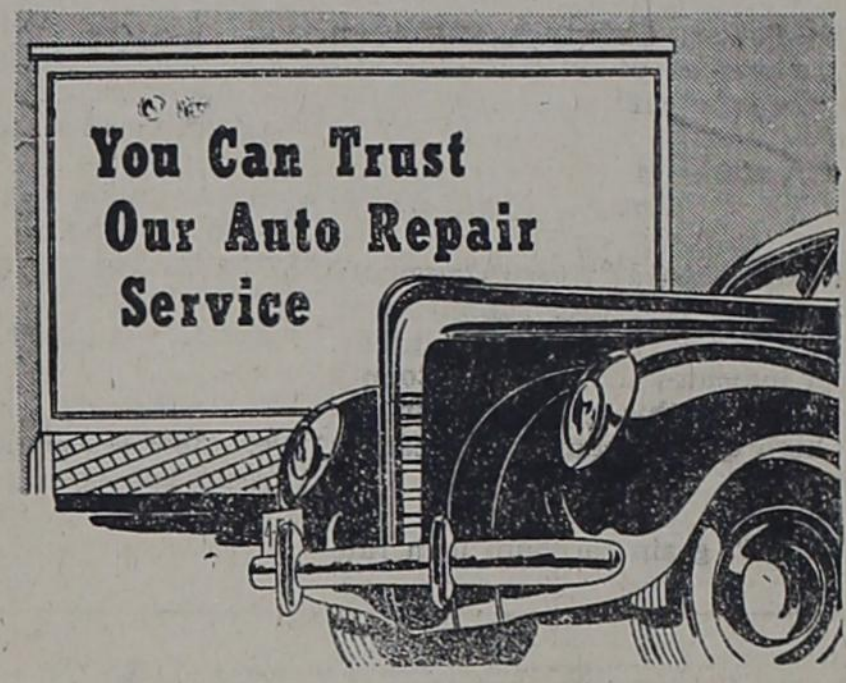

However, the fault is not ours. We had made arrangements for handling your grain in the quickest time possible at the cost of hundreds of dollars. We had done all in our power to be ready for the harvest season.

But due to the delay in transportation, we have been forced to turn down many of our best customers and friends. When our elevator was filled, we had no other alternative—and we sincerely regret this inconvenience placed on our friends. As the harvest continues, we pledge you our best efforts to continue doing the very best we can to see that your wheat is kept off the ground.

Some Don'ts To Growers
DON'T employ a stranger to haul for you until you have his name, chauffeur's license number and the truck numbers.
DON'T pile your grain out in unprotected places. Keep it near home.

The Farmer County loan rate on 1947 wheat as of July 1st is $1.80 both for farm and warehouse stored grain.

This office is currently making loans on warehouse receipts and is taking applications for loans on farm-stored wheat. Every warehouse receipt that has been submitted to us has shown number one grade, which indicates that Farmer County wheat raised this year is of unusually high quality contrary to earlier opinion.

The 1947 grain sorghum loan rate has been released by Commodity Credit Corporation as $2.12 per cwt. These loans will be available to farmers from harvest until February 28, 1948, and will mature on April 30, 1948 which is the same date on which 1947 wheat loan notes mature. These loan rates are the highest by far in the history of the support price. It's nice to know that we are guaranteed a good price for what grain we can raise. What we're worrying about now is whether it will rain in time for us to have grain to put in the loan. Most of us are wondering where all that unwanted moisture went that we got in May.

The hearing for the proposed organization of a Soil Conservation District has been set. This meeting will be held at the Friona Grade School Auditorium starting at 10:00

FUEL OF THE FUTURE

PITTSBURGH, PA.—Workings of the revolutionary process for making gasoline from coal and gas are revealed above. Originated in Germany, this fuel source of the future is being perfected by American engineering science. The diagram, as explained by Gulf research laboratories which are aiding in the development, shows the following steps:

- (1) Coal—or natural gas—is mixed with air and water and converted by combustion and chemical action into synthesis gas.
- (2) The gas is passed through a catalyst (material causing a basic chemical reaction), which transforms it into vaporized petroleum-like materials and alcohols.
- (3) The alcohols are separated in a scrubber.
- (4) City gas is drawn off, and the petroleum materials converted into gasoline, lubricating oils, diesel fuel and wax.

a. m. and the success of the whole venture will depend on how many land owners are present and how pressing needs seem to be. Now this date and hour will work a hardship on all of who intend to go, but if we intend to form a District here, we might as well make up our minds to go and participate. From all reports, it is doubtful that we will get a District even if we succeed in having a successful meeting.

HUGE SUM FOR ADVERTISING

"Aggressive advertising and sales promotion are important now in the current seller's market in the farm equipment industry just as they will be in the buyer's market ahead," Frank R. Pierce, president of Dearborn Motors Corporation, Detroit, told Dearborn's distributors and suppliers.

Pierce revealed that Dearborn Motors which will market nationally the Ford Tractor and Dearborn Farm Equipment line beginning July 1 plans to spend approximately $2 million during the next twelve months on advertising, sales promotion, merchandising, and sales training programs.

Complete advertising and sales promotion plans will be announced at distributor-dealer meetings in 32 key cities between July 15-30.

"We know, as does everyone else," Pierce said, "that the sales potential for the tractor and implement industry is extremely high.

"During the war farmers met a tremendous demand for food in the face of a serious shortage of farm labor. They found that efficient mechanization was the answer. Today as farm labor costs mount the trend to complete mechanization is continuing.

"It could be argued that advertising and good hard saleswork aren't necessary now in the face of this sales outlook.

"We believe, however, that despite these factors our advertising, sales promotion, merchandising and sales training program must be strong enough to give maximum benefit to customers now and give us a hard-hitting organization through the years ahead when the buyer's market is with us.

Naval Reserve Unit To Be Discussed

CLOVIS—Male residents of communities in Eastern New Mexico and West Texas, within a 50-mile radius of Clovis, are being invited to attend a mass meeting to be held July 15th at 7:30 p. m. in the Clovis High School auditorium for the purpose of discussing the establishment here of an active Naval Reserve Unit.

A committee of Clovisites, made up of Bud Cagle, chairman, Raymond River, Dee Spivey, Horace Hudson, and Wesley Quinn, has been formed to assist in creating a roster of men who are interested in such a unit.

The committee has been informed that if 200 enlisted men and 13 officers can be enrolled, assignment of a unit to Clovis is almost assured. If a unit is assigned to the city, the Navy will let local contracts for the building of an armory which will be equipped for the training of Re-

SAM RUNDELL OUT

Sam Rundell, who sustained chest and back injuries at the very outset of the harvest season when he fell from a combine, has recovered sufficiently to be up and about again, and was in town the first of the week attending to business matters.
