

Into each life some rain must fall. Here at the Tribune, we often get a weekly shower and sometimes a cloudburst. However, we are rather philosophical about such happenings. We suspect in our secret hearts that we would rather be read and discussed or cussed, as the case may be, than just plain ignored.

Every once in a while, a breath of spring comes in the door and we reap a compliment. This week we doff the ole ed's hat to Mrs. Leona Bailey from Texico. She came into the office with her subscription renewal and said that she had been taking the Tribune for longer than she could accurately remember, and reads it from front to back every week. Considering the fact that she has had cataracts removed from both of her eyes, this is a time-consuming accomplishment for her.

We appreciate our readers. They are ours and our advertisers' final consumers.

When it comes to hypocrisy you will have to travel long and far to find an institution that outstrips the U. S. House of Representatives. Its members can lay it on one State or section while blithely ignoring the ordure in their own back yard. Nowhere is this more apparent than in the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Several of the southern States were singled out in this piece of legislation and made to toe the Federal line. Let us state here that we are of the opinion that they needed this Federal eyeball on their voting procedures. However, the disclosures of the past several years clearly prove that quite a few of our northern and eastern neighbors certainly needed inclusion in the original enactment.

Now comes the House of Representatives seeking to amend this law and extend its punitive sections to the State of Texas. It is our opinion that the large majority of the Representatives who are wanting to include Texas comes from States that need Uncle Sam's guidance far more than Texas.

The inescapable conclusion is that for purely political purposes, and without doing any research of the true facts, they are wanting to create a hubbub about Texas. This sounds good in the liberal press and no doubt gains votes for these Faustian Representatives.

As a result of this hypocritical maneuver by the U. S. House, our Governor Dolph Briscoe dispatched a letter to each of the United States Senators. In it, Briscoe goes to bat for the State of Texas in no uncertain language. Cheers for Briscoe! It's time the States stood up for their rights and told the makers of the Federal Bureaucracy how they are infringing on the State's areas of government.

In his letter the Governor says, "I bitterly resent the efforts now underway in Congress to usurp our authority, to dictate our election procedures to us, and to picture us as racists. I have always felt that when local government has the willingness and the means to solve a local problem, it ought to be allowed to do so; that the Federal government ought to be dictating solutions as a last resort."

This philosophy may not get him kudos from Walter Concrete or Howard Doubledome but it will get him support in Texas.

A cursory drive through the countryside leads us to think that the corn crop will follow the trend set by the wheat crop and turn out to be a whopper. We don't have corn "knee high" by the Fourth of July; we have it tassed out. In fact, we have eyeballed some likely spots from which to sample a few roasting ears in the near future. We have the crop - if we can get the price, it will be a banner year for the Twin Cities' economy.

Again we say, give us water and we can continue to feed a major part of the country and the world. Force us to a dry-land economy and famine may not only stalk the streets of Calcutta, it may come to SWING IN PROGRESS - Action in the 1975 session of Little League and Pee Wee League Baseball in the Twin Cities ended when the final games were played June 30. Tide Products topped Major League action with Gifford Hill taking top honors in the Minor League. The 1975 Texico-Farwell All-Star Team was named with the 16 players to represent the Twin Cities at the New Mexico District Tournament July 21-25 in Clovis. With the season closed, the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Ball Park will be void of players and fans until the beginning of the 1976 season. The plate will be alone as batters, catchers and umpires will be absent from its domain but the greatest loss from the ball park will be the fellowship, team spirit and voices of players and spectators.

Farwell School Board Okays Quarter System

Members of the Farwell School Board convened in regular session Monday, July 7, and gave their approval of the student handbook and okayed the quarter system for studies.

Jack Williams, high school principal, presented the revised handbook for the 1975-76 school year and Board members accepted the revisions.

Major change in the handbook was a conversion from the semester system to the quarter system. Superintendent James Perkins commented that the school has previously conducted sessions on a two-semester year basis. Each semester of studies was 18 weeks in length and semester units of credit were awarded for passing grades. In explaining, Perkins stated that one-half year or one semester of study earned one-half credit for a student with a full year of studies netting the student a full credit.

Under the quarter system, the school year will be set up in three basic divisions or "quarters" with each quarter running 12 weeks in length. For each quarter of studies successfully completed, a student will be awarded one quarter unit or three quarter units for a complete year of study.

BTD Plans Progressing

During a meeting of the Border Town Days Planning Commission Tuesday evening, July 8, various reports were heard and a theme was approved for the annual parade to be held in conjunction with Border Town Days scheduled for July 24, 25 and 26.

Of the greatest concern to Commission members was the report on the sale of advance tickets. With a little over one-half of the clubs reporting thus far, approximately 290 tickets have been sold.

It was stressed that advance tickets may be purchased at a reduced rate. Advance tickets are being sold for $5 for adults and $3.50 for children when combination tickets are purchased. The combination ticket includes admission to the three scheduled rodeo performances and the annual barbecue. Single tickets for the rodeo are priced at $2 for adults and $1 for children for each of the three performances. Children seven years of age or under will be admitted free of charge.

Single barbecue tickets will be sold for $2 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under. It was emphasized that advance purchase of tickets is very important. In order for the Farwell Chamber of Commerce, which is in charge of the barbecue, to have enough food prepared they must have a "general idea" of how many persons will be attending. The advance purchase of tickets will aid the Chamber in planning for the barbecue.

A report was given on the Border Town Days Queen Contest. The event is being plank bleacher seating for the football field. Two bids were received by the Board with the lowest bid being submitted by Southern Bleacher Construction Company of Graham, Tex., in the amount of $6,633. The second bid was submitted by J. F. Clark Company in the amount of $7,370.

The bid includes the construction, delivery and setting up of the bleacher seats. Trustees attending the session included Gilbert Kaltwasser, R. J. Garner, Joe Hughes, Ted Magness, Charles Aycock, Billy Mayfield, Wilbert Kalbas and Superintendent James Perkins. Also present was Principal Jack Williams.

Report periods for students will be changed under the new system also. Last year report cards were issued for each nine-week period of studies. "Because the quarters cannot be broken down to nine-week periods, we must now issue report cards every six weeks, or six times per year," Perkins said.

In other business coming before Board members, it was decided that Security State Bank in Farwell will be the depository bank for the Farwell Independent School District for the next two years, 1975-77.

Trustees then let bids on the construction of aluminum

The local club was organized on July 2, 1974, under the sponsorship of the Clovis Noon Kiwanis and the Portales Noon Kiwanis. Following this organization, the name El Llano Grande Kiwanis Club was selected.

Official charter night for the organization was held August 13 during which the charter for the club was presented from International Kiwanis.

In listing accomplishments of the club it was noted that members have held a 75.5 percent average attendance at meetings for the first year. Secretary O. B. Coffey commented, "I think that's pretty good because we meet at six o'clock in the morning."

During their first year, the local Kiwanis marked a 30 percent increase in membership. Currently the organization boasts a total membership of 26.

The club was chartered with 21 members and eight of these men have had one year of perfect attendance. During the anniversary observance these eight were awarded perfect attendance pins. They are Joe Caywood, Arlye Crooks, John Hadley, Doyal LaRue, Raymond Hadley, O. B. Coffey, Jim Rogers and Judge Stone.

The organization of the Kiwanis marked the beginning of several projects. Kiwanians worked during the Eastern Plains Athletic Conference Tract Meet and sponsored it with membership support and presence.

The club sponsored a girl to New Mexico Girls State for the 1975 session and sponsored Aileen Pearce as a "Mother of the Year of New Mexico" nominee.

In other activities, the Kiwanians helped sponsor a student to attend an alcoholism workshop in Silver City. They made monetary donations to the Texico Volunteer Fire Department toward the purchase of an ambulance and to the Senior Citizens Center for matching federal funds to support the activities of the Center.

Kiwanis members hosted a breakfast for the wives, and joined forces with the Clovis Kiwanians in a softball game against the Clovis Lions. Coffey commented, "We loaned the Lions several of our players and still beat them."

Members of the El Llano Grande Kiwanis Club and their families participated in the Annual Kiwanis Family Church Day by attending services at the First Baptist Church in Texico as a group. In observance of the annual day, Kiwanians and their families will attend a church in the area, rotating among the churches in Texico and Farwell and churches of the club's

by Patti Hall

The baseball diamonds throughout the Twin Cities are void of regulation baseball as the 1975 Little League and Pee Wee League season ended last week with the naming of top teams and the selection of All-Stars.

Following tabulation and comparison of won-loss records, Tide Products grabbed first place honors in Little League and Gifford Hill topped Pee Wee League with a perfect no-loss record. Scores of one Minor and one Major league games were not available to complete won-loss records for the season.

Play began May 1 for this year's 100 baseballers and ended June 30 with no major injuries occurring.

Baseball play progressed as it has in the past with a new trend hitting the local program. This year, girls were members of what had previously been all boy teams. This was brought about for several reasons.

Girls in the Twin Cities were unable to unite and form softball teams for strictly girl competition. And then there were those girls who thought softball just wasn't their "thing." They were after the "hard stuff" and the Twin Cities baseball program provided exactly what they wanted.

There were mixed emotions when the season first began which ranged from "if they get hit, they better not cry" to "some of them are pretty good players and basePERSONS."

But as the season progressed, the players worked together with no thought of boys or girls, everyone was a teammate.

Following the final games of the season last week the Minor League was led by Gifford Hill followed by Shirley-Anderson-Pitman, Citizens Bank and Interstate Fertilizer. Major League champs Tide Products led over Worley Mills, Aldridge Insurance and Kelly Green, respectively.

Sixteen members of the four Little League teams were honored on the day of the final games when the 1975 All-Stars and alternates were named to represent the local baseballers in the Area Tournament. All-Stars include Allen Hall, Clint Stone and Joel Edwards of Kelly Green; Ricky Foreman, Todd Meeks and Blake Buchenau of Aldridge Insurance; Randy Herington, Brent Green and Steve Smith of Worley Grain; and Waverly Coates, John Scott, Boyd White, Mac Langford and Monty Powell of Tide Products. Serving as alternates will be David Daniel and Mike Arnold.

The All-Stars are to compete in the 1975 New Mexico District Little League Tournament to take place July 21-25. First game for the local team will be Tuesday, July 22, at 8 p.m. MDT. During their first game of tournament action, Texico-Farwell All-Stars will battle Southern Union Gas of Clovis.

The tournament is being hosted by the Clovis American Little League and games are to be played at the ball diamond located at 14th and Sycamore streets in Clovis.

Other teams competing for the title of District Champions are Tucumcari, Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis National League, Clovis American League, Friona, Bovina and Clovis Evening Lions.

The District Championship Team will progress to the State Tournament to be conducted in Clovis during the week of July 28-August 2.

Teams participating in the local Pee Wee (Minor) League were Gifford Hill, coached by Eddie West and Joe West; Shirley-Anderson-Pitman, coached by Domingo Rojas and Ernest Gallegos; Citizens Bank, coached by Butch Tharp; and Interstate Fertilizer, coached by Dwayne Williams and Richard May.

The 1975 Little (Major) League teams included Tide Products, coached by Floyd Coates and Don Weems; Worley Grain, coached by Eddie Smith; Aldridge Insurance, coached by Othena Smith and Zadene Burris; and Kelly Green, coached by Eddie Dunsworth and Bill Stone.

Boys participating in the Leagues are as follows:

Gifford Hill: Ronnie Galvan, Joe Stewart, Jesse Coburn, Joe Sanchez, Brad Stewart, Kim Long, Sammy Sanchez, Kevin West, Roger Robertson, Sergio Arce, Bob Stewart and Dennis Chavez.

Texico Planning Council Discusses New City Park

Members of the Texico Planning Council met Monday, July 7, for their monthly meeting during which the new city park was the main topic of discussion.

According to President Ann Ledbetter, all plans for the facility have been completed with federal and city funds for the park having been okayed.

It was reported that work on the park is to begin immediately and will continue over a three-year period. The park is to be constructed immediately south of the Texico school and will include such recreational facilities as tennis courts, picnic tables and a pond.

"Planning for the park has been underway for quite a while," commented Mrs. Ledbetter who explained that the city is actually constructing the park but the idea for the project was spearheaded by the Texico Woman's Club. The Planning Council served as an intermediate agency bringing the Woman's Club idea of the park before the City Council which pursued the actual funding arrangements for construction.

Among other business brought before the Council was a review of plans for the upcoming Border Town Days celebration. Members present reported on ticket sales by the Council. Mrs. Ledbetter stated that tickets are still available through the Planning Council.

A decision to recess meetings during the summer was given approval by members. Monday's meeting will be the final meeting of the organization until September. Should any business needing the attention of the Council arise, a called meeting will be scheduled, according to the president.

Texico Chamber Schedules Meet

Members of the Texico Chamber of Commerce will meet in regular session Monday, July 14.

The meeting is to be conducted at Citizens Bank in Texico and is to begin at 6:30 p.m. MDT.

KIWANIAN SALUTED - The first anniversary of El Llano Grande Kiwanis Club was observed with an ice cream social Monday, July 7. Billie Sluder Recognized For Outstanding Service

Mrs. Billie Faye Sluder, an employee of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Farwell, was honored Tuesday, July 8, when she was recognized for 20 years outstanding service to the Department of Agriculture.

In recognition of her service, Mrs. Sluder was presented a certificate of service and a service pin by Jimmie Heard, chairman of the Parmer County ASCS Committee.

Mrs. Sluder started her career with ASCS-USA in Silvertown in 1954 at the age of 17.

In 1955 she transferred to the Parmer County ASCS and has served here since that time.

"She is one of the 'mainstays' of the local ASCS office and does an outstanding job in serving the farmers in this county," commented Prentice Mills, executive director of the local ASCS.

In serving the ASCS, Mrs. Sluder is responsible for price support programs under which farmers secure loans on commodities and storage structures.

Clean Wicker Furniture With Care

Though you may be used to simply setting your wicker lawn chairs out in June and taking them back in after Labor Day with nary a thought in between, wicker actually requires some easy basic attention to keep it looking its best and comfortable to sit in.

A summer on the lawn can leave your outdoor chairs and tables with a veneer of barbecue soot, dirt, insect repellent, spilled food and other petty bits of grime. And wicker can suffer inside, too, from dust, routine spills, even scuff marks.

Restore wicker to its natural crisp appearance by a thorough scrub-down with a sponge and heavy-duty household cleaner such as Janitor In A Drum®. The cleaner should be diluted in warm water according to the amount of dirt on the furniture: for heavy dirt build-ups, use a strong strength; for light ones, a weaker solution.

Avoid rubbing wicker with any type of brush or scouring pad - bristles can scratch the furniture.

To restore sagging or squeaky wicker chairs to their original taut condition, hose them down when necessary. On unpainted or unvarnished wicker, warm water can be used for a complete soaking, while cold water is suggested for painted wicker.

It is important to protect wicker from hot sun, so don't set a wicker item in the sun to dry after washing it or hosing it down. The sun dries it out to the point of cracking and splitting, losing all of its natural buoyancy and support.

Don't hesitate about adding wicker to your indoor decor. It provides a versatile look, mixing readily with just about anything - from Victorian to ultra-modern styles, and it doesn't require time-consuming waxing or polishing.

Trustees Adopt Ordinances, Plan Sewer Plant Inspection

Following two unsuccessful attempts to convene with a quorum present, members of the Texico City Council met for a regular session Tuesday, July 8, and adopted two ordinances and set a date for inspection of the new city sewer plant.

Trustees gave their approval for the adoption of Ordinance No. 194 titled "City of Texico, New Mexico, Municipal Gross Receipts Tax Ordinance."

Under the ordinance, the City of Texico is authorized to impose a gross receipts tax of one-fourth of one per cent. Effective date of the tax has been set for January 1, 1976.

Also adopted by the Trustees was ordinance No. 195 pertaining to the increase of rates for the collection of refuse and garbage.

The rate increase ordinance provides for an increase from $1.50 per month to $3 per month for each one-family residence. For each two-family residence served by one water meter, the rate increase is from $3 to $6 per month.

For each two-family residence served by separate water meters for each residential unit, rates will be increased from $1.50 per unit per month to $3 per unit per month.

All other multi-family residential structures will be raised from $1 per unit per month to $2 per unit per month.

Rates for businesses within the city were also increased. For cafes and restaurants requiring twice weekly pickups, rates have been increased from $4.50 per month to $15 per month. For service stations requiring one weekly pickup, the rate was increased from $4.50 per month to $6 per month.

All other businesses requiring one weekly pickup will have rates increased from $3 per month to $6 per month.

Tony Plumlee of Douglas Engineering of Lubbock met with Trustees and City Attorney Harry Patton to complete paper work on the new city sewer plant. Final inspection of the facility has been set for July 17.

The idea for the $100,000 system began in 1968 with the city making application for federal funds to construct the facility.

The Aerated Lagoon-Type Waste Water System is located one and three-fourths miles north of Texico and, according to Texico Water Superintendent Billy Hammit, the system utilizes oxygen to reduce the odor. "With total retention, the only tests we will have to take will be dissolved oxygen and flow measurements," explained Hammit.

Construction of the system began in mid-February and was completed April 4.

Seventy-five percent of the funds for the construction of the new plant were federal funds with the State of New Mexico and the city of Texico each furnishing 12½ percent to complete the project. The city of Texico spent $12,500 on the project.

Present for the meeting were Mayor Manford Turnbough and Trustees Bill Thigpen, Bill Christian, Vane Doshier and Ruby Goforth. City employees attending were Billy Hammit, water superintendent; Willie Ronquillo, city marshal; Harry Patton, city attorney; and Maureen Baker, acting in the absence of city clerk Clara Wiehl. Also present for the session was Plumlee.

Co. Commissioners Set Monday Meeting

Monday, July 14, at 11 a.m. members of the Parmer County Commissioners Court will meet in the County Courtroom.

On the agenda for the meeting is an update on road and paving projects, discussion of the Revenue Sharing Actual Use Report, and a report of criminal cases filed, tried and on docket.

Commissioners will also conduct a discussion and approval of the Second Quarter Financial Report.

Farwell City Council To Hear Report

Farwell City Council will convene in regular session Monday, July 14, to hear a report on the paving project. Meeting time has been set for 5:15 p.m. in the City Hall.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the city tax rate. Council members are expected to set a date for the Board of Equalization meet.

Officials are predicting a decrease of no more than 20 percent in domestic purchase of feed grains during the current marketing year. Others are saying that an improved livestock market will cut the decrease to even less. USDA projections are for the production of about 220 million short tons of feed grains in the United States and another 42 million tons exported to foreign countries. According to the figures released by the Department of Agriculture, total carryover of feed grains by the end of the marketing year should not exceed 30 million tons. Although that's a lot of grain, records show it to be only about 60 percent as much as the carryover at the end of 1971. Officials citing these figures are predicting relatively stable prices for grain sorghum. Major factors which could produce a change in the situation include the extent of recovery of the cattle market and, as always, the most variable of all, the weather.

A familiar sight throughout the season was the umpire huddled over the plate keeping a close eye on the ball, batter and plate. A difference in the players didn't seem to exist as they joined forces in an attempt to foil a win for competitors.

FIRE CALLS

The Texico Volunteer Fire Department received no fire or emergency vehicle calls during the past week. Monday afternoon, July 7, the siren sounded after it had been set off by lightning occurring in a thunderstorm.

No calls were received by the Farwell Volunteer Unit.

Heat Savers

Almost 15 per cent of the energy used in the home is used to heat water, say the people at the U.S. Department of Agriculture. To cut down on this, they suggest using cold water for rinsing clothes (which will affect clothes less than washing with cooler water.) Also, they urge you to repair leaky faucets, to insulate hot water pipes to avoid heating more water than necessary, and to cut down on hot water for personal use by taking showers instead of baths.

Marriage Licenses Issued

Two marriage licenses were issued by the Parmer County Clerk's Office during the past week. Licenses went to Jerry Bralley Miller and Sheri Lynn Roberts; and Augustine Peraley and Erlinda Castillo Vigil.

BOVINE PUZZLER

Ever Wondered Why Cow Jumped Over The Moon?

The social status of cows is coming in for scientific scrutiny these days.

And already, agricultural scientists have learned that "Bossy the Cow" is not just an affectionate title dreamed up by writers of children's literature. It's an accurate name for cows who rank highest in the bovine social register by virtue of their bossiness.

Cows, it seems, achieve "status" by literally throwing their weight around - butting and pushing their way up the social ladder. As a matter of fancy, the cow who jumped over the moon probably got it in the rear from her socially superior sister.

While the cow's techniques to establish social superiority may not be quite as subtle as those used by her human counterparts, they pay off in corresponding measure.

Cows with social status, for example, actually walk only about one-third as far for their food as those on the lower end of the totem pole do.

They also enjoy undisputed "right of way" in certain instances, and a place of honor in others.

Cows grazing in a pasture will invariably protect their eating space from those lower in the social scale. But let a cow who's above them in the social order approach, and they vacate the space without murmuring so much as a "moo."

When it's time to enter the milking parlor, cows organize themselves into a specific order. Ladies with status go in first.

It may sound like bull, but you can lead a cow to the milking parlor and she won't go in unless she's socially superior. One scientific experiment involved a month-long training period during which cows were forced to enter in a different order. As soon as they were allowed to enter the milking parlor without interference, the cows reverted to their original order.

Bossy The Socialite

Cow-walkers also have learned that the bovine beasts are subject to a sort of mass psychology that leads them all to do the same thing at just about the same time.

When one cow leaves a grazing area and heads for the barn or the water, the rest of the herd will follow in a few minutes. In this instance, the cows usually string out in single file, heads up, and look neither to the right nor the left.

Each cow walks briskly, as if under orders, and there's no misbehavior, eating, or casual fighting in the ranks.

Cows with the most status usually have the place of honor in the middle of the pilgrimage. Leading the procession are mid-dominant cows and bringing up the cow's tail are the most submissive members of the herd.

What does all of this have to do with the price of milk? More than it appears.

By studying the behavior patterns of dairy cattle, scientists hope to come up with new management plans to enable dairymen to get more efficient milk production and growth.

While studies of animal behavioral patterns have been going on since before Aristotle's days, most of them have dealt with wild rather than domestic animals.

A new research program on group management of large animals is now under way at Utah State University in cooperation with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service. Initial studies will focus on dairy cattle, but findings also are expected to prove helpful in management of beef cattle.

The first inkling that cows had a "pecking order" similar to chickens came as early as 1853 when a boss-follower relationship was noted in Swiss cow herds.

Now, with concentration of animals per farm increasing and management practices changing, animal behavior studies are becoming more important factors in improving production efficiency.

One of the first problems scheduled for study in Utah is how to best group cows to facilitate management for maximum milk yields. Other questions will involve optimum group size, transfer of animals between groups, and the amount of space needed per cow.

Senior Citizens Meet Conducted

Approximately 34 members of the Senior Citizens Center met Thursday, July 3, for a regular session and potluck supper.

During the session a program on "Wills" was presented by Sam Aldridge. Included in the presentation were why a will is important and how to make out a will.

Following the meeting and supper, games of "42" were played.

During their stay, the Texico girls learned a variety of pompon routines, yells and chants. Classes were conducted daily with various sessions beginning at 8 a.m. with the day's work concluding at 9:30 p.m. These classes included learning yells, gymnastics, informal evaluation, workshops and formal evaluation.

In addition to the superior ribbons and spirit stick, the local cheerleaders received clean room awards. The group stayed on the third floor in Bernalillo Hall at ENMU. Three awards for clean rooms were given during the clinic "Texico really 'wiped' everyone else out by taking all three awards," commented one of the group.

Throughout the week, the girls were judged on leadership, technique, personality and projection, incorporation, and creativity.

In addition to receiving superior awards, the Texico cheerleaders were nominated for the "1975-76 Award of Excellence" which is the top honor at the Camp of Champs. They were named one of the top five squads and were selected from a total of 48 squads.

Before attending camp, the Varsity Cheerleaders raised funds by selling ads for the 1975 football programs.

Jan Phillips, Larry Jones Married In Pennsylvania

Jan Elaine Phillips and Larry Dan Jones were married in a doubling ceremony Saturday, June 7, at the Potter Brook People's Church in Potter Brook, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Phillips of Westfield, Pa. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Melborn Jones of Farwell.

The couple was led in the exchange of vows by Rev. Duane Burdick before an altar arrangement of two candelabra containing 17 white tapers each. Adorning the altar were two large bouquets of daisies, and a small bouquet of daisies and baby's breath accented the piano.

Pianist Gay Olney accompanied Wendy Gardner as she sang "Time in a Bottle" and "I Won't Last a Day Without You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of sheer white organza accented with small satin bows and featuring white bishop sleeves crossed with cluny lace. The lace also edged the square neckline of the bodice and cascaded to the hemline. Complementing the bridal ensemble was a full detachable train which was caught to the back of the gown by double satin bows. The train continued to the floor and was edged in cluny lace. The bride carried a bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath accented by long white streamers.

For something old, the bride wore a penny minted in the year of her birth in her shoe. Her bridal ensemble served as something new, with something borrowed being her veil which belonged to her sister. Something blue was the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. Joseph Strange of Mansfield, Pa., served her sister as matron of honor with Mrs. Paul Donohue, Jr. of Bryan, Tex., and Mrs. Berwin Hurler of Westfield, Pa., serving as bridesmaids. Candelighter was Karen Erickson of Du Bois, Pa., cousin of the bride.

Bride's attendants were attired in floor length gowns of pale yellow whipped creme dotted with pink flowers. The dresses featured V-necklines and short puffed sleeves. The collars and cuffs of the gowns were trimmed in lace. Complementing the bridesmaids' ensembles were yellow picture hats while the matron of honor wore a white picture hat.

Paul Donohue, Jr., of Bryan, Tex., was best man and Jeffery Phillips of Westfield, Pa., brother of the bride, and Alan Houghtaling of Harrisburg, Pa., were ushers. Groomsmen were Conda Jones and Harold Lee Jones, brothers of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Phillips selected a floor length mint green gown accented with long sheer sleeves and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white daisies and white ribbon.

Mrs. Jones wore a pink floor length three-piece gown with pink accessories. Her corsage was of white daisies and pink ribbon.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth adorned by silver wedding bells. A bouquet of daisies and baby's breath centered the serving table. The four-tiered wedding cake was dotted with pale blue and yellow flowers. Each tier was separated with Grecian columns. The fourth tier was accented by a bride and groom figurine under a miniature archway which was topped by two white doves. Pale blue and yellow streamers completed decorations in the reception room.

Crystal and silver appointments were used by hostesses Mmes. William Jacobson, Keith Erickson and Duane Burdick in serving punch and cake.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride chose an orange pant suit.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Cowanesque Valley High School. She attended Mansfield State College.

The bridegroom graduated from Farwell High School in 1971 and attended Texas A&M University. He is presently engaged in farming in the Farwell area.

The couple is now at home at Route 1, Farwell.

SPECIAL GUESTS - Contestants for the title of Border Town Days Queen, past Queens, their mothers and Renee Keilt, Miss Rodeo New Mexico 1976, were all special guests at a social held Tuesday, July 8, in honor of the contestants. During the affair, hosted by Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority which is sponsoring the contest, those present were entertained by Miss Keilt as she spoke to the contestants on her experiences in various queen pageants. She gave the girls pointers on the various phases of judging including personality, horsemanship and appearance, and offered a few personal suggestions which can be utilized by the girls. Among those present for the social were, from left, Lori Norton, current Border Town Days Queen, contestant Brenda Jones, Miss Keilt, contestant Lee Ann Williams, and Freda Leavell, former Border Town Days Queen.

Renee Keilt Speaker - - BTD Queen Contestants Honored At ESA Social

Contestants for the title of Border Town Days Queen, past Queens and their mothers were honored at a social conducted Tuesday, July 8, and hosted by Theta Rho Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, contest sponsors. Guest speaker during the affair was Renee Keilt, Miss Rodeo New Mexico 1976.

Two contestants have made their bid for the title of Border Town Days Queen. They are Lee Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams, and Brenda Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orie Jones, all of Farwell.

Lee Ann will be a senior at Farwell High School this year. She is a member of the Steer Band, the National Honor Society and the Farwell Branch of the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association.

The contestant has participated in many TSHSRA rodeos and at the close of the 1975 season, she was named Reserve Champion Pole Bender. She also garnered honors as second runner-up in the TSHSRA Rodeo Queen Contest. Lee Ann will be participating in the Border Town Days AJRA-sanctioned Rodeo in pole bending, break-away roping and ribbon roping.

She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams.

Brenda will be a freshman student at Farwell High School for the 1975-76 school year. She serves as a twirler for the Steer Band and acts as vice-president of the Farwell 4-H Club.

Miss Jones recently entered an Open Horse Show in Amarillo and captured first place in barrels and second place in poles.

Her hobbies include twirling, swimming, skiing, and horses.

The contestant is the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orie Jones.

The new Queen is to be crowned prior to the grand entry of the final performance of the AJRA rodeo Saturday, July 26. Contestants are to ride in the annual parade Thursday, July 24, and are to ride in the grand entry each evening of the rodeo.

Crowning her successor will be Lori Norton, last year's title winner. Miss Norton and Freda Leavell, former Border Town Days Queen, were also present for the occasion.

Guest speaker, Renee Keilt, began her presentation by enlightening the contestants on the various phases of judging including personality, horsemanship and appearance.

In telling the girls "what you do and what you don't do," the title holder gave a few of her experiences as examples. She stressed the importance of "being yourself and doing what you feel is right, not just what you feel the judges will want to see."

One example presented by Miss Keilt was one which occurred during the recent judging for Miss Rodeo New Mexico. She stated that she felt during the horsemanship judging portion of the pageant she had made a terrible mistake only to later discover that by doing what she considered to be the correct thing she had earned a few "brownie points" toward her cause.

"Judges want to see horsemanship which is not always the prim and proper. Horsemanship is how you handle a horse. If you can correct a bad situation by doing what you feel or know is right, then do it," she stressed.

Not only were the contestants presented a view of judging but mothers attending the affair were given a few pointers with Miss Keilt using her mother as an example. She stated that if a girl feels she is doing good in a pageant, she sometimes gets over confident and must be "brought down to earth" with mother serving as the busting block.

"And there are the times when you get terribly depressed during a contest and mother gives the support needed to complete what you have started," the speaker said.

Also during the session, Miss Keilt gave pointers on modeling an outfit, correct posture in both standing and sitting and several personal aids to be utilized during judging.

Those attending the party were served refreshments of chips and dips, cookies and punch, which had been prepared by ESA members.

TRIBUNE TRIVIA

from across the desk of Joann Getz

Sat in on a portion of the Border Town Days Committee meeting Tuesday evening and observed a bunch of dedicated people -- representing many Twin Cities organizations -- making a tremendous effort to plan a great celebration for the community's annual Border Town Days.

A celebration such as this takes an unbelievable amount of detailed planning, and these persons have given many hours of their time to make it a success. They deserve a big hand in appreciation.

Now this working group needs and is asking for help from all of the community residents -- help in the way of support for the planned activities.

Fresh Spuds Losing Out

Use of fresh Irish potatoes is on the decline as consumers opt for the variety that's already processed.

In fact, the USDA reports that more than half the nation's potato crop is now used for processing.

Frozen French fries take the biggest bite out of the crop, accounting for 26 percent of the total. Next in popularity are potato chips, dehydrated potatoes, and canned potatoes.

This change in eating patterns is having a big effect on potato growers, says Extension Specialist W. W. Reid of North Carolina State University.

It does provide a more stable market since most processing spuds are raised under contract at a specified price.

But it also means that growers have to choose plant varieties with more care since the potatoes they raise must be the type that will not discolor during processing.

venture for any of the civic or social organizations in Texico or Farwell or the committee representing them. But everything is being done to make the venture a break-even undertaking, while offering fun, food and fellowship to citizens of the Twin City area.

That is why the committee is urging the purchase of advance sale tickets. These are combination tickets for the barbecue on Thursday and all three performances of the AJRA Rodeo -- Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings -- at the special price of $5.00 for adults and $3.50 for children.

Buy your tickets now so the committee in charge of the barbecue will be able to judge how much beef to purchase and cook. They want to have plenty for everybody.

The BTD Committee is making another important request. It is urging each organization, church, business, group or individual to have an entry in the parade Thursday afternoon. And, youngsters, how about entering your decorated bicycles? You can be an impressive part of the big parade.

Even though this big celebration is in no way intended to be a money-making venture, what would be wrong with some of the youth groups or school classes making some extra spending money by helping organizations or businesses build and decorate a float or vehicle to enter into the parade?

The Tribune would be in the market for just such assistance. Anyone interested? If so, come up with an idea in keeping with this year's "We Feed The World" theme and come to see us.

STRETCH WARDROBE WITH SEPARATES

Separates add up to a lot of put-togethers that really work for late spring and summer. These bits and pieces don't have to be new. A favorite blouse or short-sleeved turtleneck can give welcomed versatility to the new full dresses that are so popular now.

Also, a favorite sheer top can be given new life when left open and tied at the waist; a skinny tube or scarf beneath. The look works well with easy-fitting skirts hitting just below the knee. Caprito has one easy-care polyester version in a bold plaid pattern that becomes a costume when a skinny mock turtleneck and a flattering oversized shawl are added.

Sue Brett takes a soft pastel suit of Acrilan acrylic that splits into multiple parts. The full skirt goes it alone with a halter or shirt while the baseball jacket works well with assorted pants and culottes. Besides stretching the wardrobe, these multi-part put-togethers stretch consumer dollars. They are Wear-Dated, which is Monsanto's famous guarantee assuring one year's normal wear, refund or replacement when returned with tag and sales slip to Monsanto.

This pale yellow easy-fitting Wear-Dated skirt is topped by a candy striped Acrilan acrylic jacket by Sue Brett.

All the parts work together. A simple pullover becomes a costume when teamed with a Monsanto polyester navy and white plaid skirt by Caprito and a fringed shawl by Rosanna.

Mrs. Joe Caywood Appointed

Director For Senior Citizens

Mrs. Joe Caywood of Texico officially began her duties as a director of the Texico Senior Citizens Center Monday, July 4. The new appointment was necessary due to the resignation of Joe Caywood as a director. Mrs. Caywood received her assignment from Rachel Jones of Clovis, Director of Older Adults. The new director is a charter member of the organization having been active in the Center since its inception over a year ago. As an administrator, Mrs. Caywood is responsible for keeping the Center open 20 hours each week. Persons wishing to visit the Center may do so between the hours of 8-12 a.m. and 1-5 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays. Art classes are conducted at the Center each Wednesday afternoon and night. The Center is also open on the first and third Tuesdays and the second and fourth Thursdays of each month for leather tooling classes. These classes are held from 6-9 p.m. MDT. Regular meetings of the Center are held each first and third Thursday of the month beginning at 6 p.m. MDT. "Anyone 30 or over who is interested in becoming a member is urged to attend our meetings or visit the Center," stressed Mrs. Caywood. "We usually have a potluck supper during our meetings and we play games such as '42' and dominoes." The director stated that members of the Center are seeking a larger membership. "Before we are able to begin anything new at the Center, such as leather tooling, we must have enough interest shown to make it worthwhile. For this interest to be shown, we must have members," she commented. Mr. and Mrs. Caywood, former Clovis residents who moved to Texico three years ago, are the parents of seven children, 22 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Sheriff's Report

Members of the Parmer County Sheriff's Department are investigating a burglary which occurred Thursday night, July 3. A fireworks stand, owned and operated by J. C. Tucker of Clovis and located east of Farwell, was burglarized with approximately $800 in merchandise being taken. According to Parmer County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace, entrance to the stand was gained when the padlocked fold-down door on the front of the stand was pulled off. It is reported that two vehicles were apparently involved in the theft. Tuesday, July 8, Clifford Steele was arrested by Highway Patrolman Jim Bishop when he was spotted inside the vacant Border Theatre in Farwell. When Steele was spotted by the patrolman, he fled the building but was pursued and captured by Bishop. Wednesday morning, Steele was tried in County Court and fined $50 plus court costs. He paid his fine and was released.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The State Line Tribune
Farwell, Texas

Dear Mr. Getz:

March 1, 1975 marked the start of an official 22 month celebration of the 200th birthday anniversary of the American republic. The amazing band of colonists changed the course of history beyond their wildest dreams.

Perhaps the Farwell and Texico Boosters could do likewise with this theme, Expand in the "Spirit of 1776." The Schubert's have owned two and one fourth sections of land five miles north of Farwell since 1906. Mr. Olan Schleuter of Texico farmed this land for many years. He moved to that farm with his parents during his early boyhood days. They moved to Farwell from Russellville. Mr. Bill Bourlon lives on the farm at the present time. He is one of the finest farmers in Parmer County. I have watched Farwell progress and trust you will expand in this campaign.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Hugo H. Schubert

SAFETY SENSE

SAFETY TIPS FOR RIDING MOWERS

If you're one of the millions of Americans who'll be mowing the lawn from the seat of a four-wheel riding mower, the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute points out that it need be no more dangerous than any other Time-Saver you use around the yard if you keep these safety suggestions in mind.

1. Read the owner's manual first. Test ride your machine and become familiar with it before engaging the mower.

2. Allow no passengers. Mowing a lawn is a solo job for the operator alone.

3. Before leaving your seat, disengage power to attachments and give blade ample time to stop.

4. Be extra careful when backing up. Make sure no one has come into the area.

5. Don't stop or start on hills. To improve stability, mow up and down slopes rather than sideways.

6. Reduce speed on slopes and avoid sharp turns to prevent tipping or losing control.

7. Don't drive too close to creeks, ditches and public highways. Stay alert for holes and other yard hazards.

By observing these simple safety procedures and using plain common sense, mowing can be part of your summer fun this year.

N.M. State 4-H Rodeo Begins Tonight

4-H'ers from across New Mexico will be gathering in Clovis Friday (today) and Saturday, July 11 and 12, for the annual State 4-H Rodeo. Clovis will be hosting this year's event with rodeo performances to be held at the Curry County Mounted Patrol Arena at the fairgrounds. Highlight of the affair will be the crowning of the Curry County 4-H Queen tonight. Performances have been set for 8 p.m. MDT both nights. In the event one of the performances is cancelled due to inclement weather, the performance will be made up Sunday afternoon.

Participants in the 1975 edition of the rodeo must be a member in good standing of a New Mexico 4-H club, according to officials of the Curry County 4-H Council, sponsor of the rodeo. 4-H'ers entered in events will compete in one of four groups: senior boys, ages 15 to 19; junior boys, ages 9-15; senior girls, ages 15-19; and junior girls, ages 9-15. Events open to senior boys are calf roping, bareback bronc riding, ribbon roping and bull riding. Junior boys may enter steer riding, barrel racing, ribbon roping and break-away roping. Girls events include barrel racing, pole bending, goat tying and break-away roping. All girls will be competing in the same events but only against those persons in their respective age group.

An added attraction for rodeo goers will be the "little boosters" segment of the program. These youngsters are all under nine years of age and are not eligible for membership in the 4-H program. Events scheduled for the boosters are barrel racing and flag racing.

All-Around Cowboy and Cowgirl recipients will be recognized following the final performance of the rodeo Saturday night. Sterling silver belt buckles will be presented to All-Around winners. First place winners in each event of the four age groups will be presented hand-made spurs lettered with the event for which it was won. Sam Jenkins of Clovis is responsible for construction of the spurs.

The 4-H Queen and Princess contest scheduled for tonight immediately following the grand entry is being held in conjunction with the rodeo.

According to Billy Dictson, county extension agent, the Princess contest is an addition to the regular pageant. He explained that only 4-H Queens over 15 years of age are eligible to compete for the State 4-H Queen crown. "We have several girls under 15 interested in vying for the title and in an effort to recognize these young ladies, we have initiated the Princess Pageant," he explained.

Competitors will be expected to ride the American Quarter Horse Association No. 1 reining pattern and will then be given one minute to show their riding ability in any way they choose. Contestants will also be judged on mounting and dismounting. Uniform for the affair will be long sleeved shirts, Levis and hats. For the personality phase of the contest, contestants will be interviewed and asked general questions, the answers to which and the ability to smile will determine the personality winner, according to a spokesman for the contest.

Entrants in the queen contest must be a 4-H member of Curry County. They are to be judged 50 percent on horsemanship, 40 percent on personality and 10 percent on appearance.

Deadline for entering the contest was Tuesday, July 1. At the close of the day, nine girls had registered as contestants for the titles. Those competing include Diane Downey, Deanna Harris, Cindy Fritch, Karen Mixon, Debbie Coiner, Terri Bradley, Ronda Dickenson, Diane Riley and Cindy Curry.

The new 4-H Queen will be crowned by the 1974 Curry County 4-H Queen Lezli Kelso.

Crowning of the Queen and Princess will take place immediately following the grand entry preceding the first performance of the rodeo.

The Curry County 4-H Queen will advance to competition on the state level. A runner-up for the title will also be named.

In the Princess portion of competition, only the Princess will be named. There is no further competition scheduled for the title winner. Tickets for the rodeo have been priced at $1.25 each with children under six being admitted free. Advance purchase of tickets automatically registers the purchaser for a chance on a western saddle. The saddle will be given away Saturday night. Tickets will also be available at the gate. Advance tickets may be purchased from any member of a Curry County 4-H club or at the County Extension Office located in the Courthouse.

Texico 4-H Club Members Have Swim Party, Cookout

Approximately 32 members and leaders of the Texico 4-H Club were present Monday evening, July 7, for a swimming party and cookout. Those attending first gathered at the Texico Municipal Swimming Pool for a session before traveling to the Texico City Park where they had a wiener roast. Also during the gathering a short business session was held. During the meeting a discussion was conducted on the upcoming Curry County Fair. Members made plans for a Texico 4-H booth display for the fair. Achievement Day has been scheduled for Saturday, Aug.

2, with members making plans for the day. It was also reported that the Texico 4-H Club is currently selling tickets for the 1975 New Mexico State 4-H Rodeo to take place in Clovis Friday (today), July 11, and Saturday, July 12. Anyone wishing to purchase tickets may do so by contacting any member of the 4-H club. Tickets have been priced at $1.25 each with children under six being admitted free. Advance purchase of tickets entitles the purchaser to a chance on a saddle to be given away during the final rodeo performance Saturday evening.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—One-fifth of our country's population moves each year, and one-fifth of those who employ a moving company may experience some damage or loss of belongings, according to Interstate Commerce Commission figures.

Summer is the "busy season" for movers, too, because many people move during the break in the school year, or on vacations. Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division already has received complaints from several consumers about movers.

Many complaints are concerned with "low-balling," the practice of giving unreasonably low estimates to get your business, then charging more for the move. Equally as frequent, though, are complaints about companies that refuse to compensate for loss or breakage to the extent desired by the consumer.

Some of these problems might be avoided if consumers planned a move carefully in advance, and if they familiarized themselves with their own rights and obligations and those of the moving company. Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys suggest that consumers pay close attention to the following points before hiring a moving company:

*Get three estimates from different movers, and check with friends or relatives who have moved recently for tips.

*Be cautious of especially low estimates, but remember that a mover isn't bound by his estimate. It's only a guide for the consumer. The actual cost is determined by the weight of your shipment, the distance it must travel, and the fixed tariff rate for the two.

*The mover will inventory your belongings before loading, but you must make sure a proper description of the articles and their condition is entered. This could be very important later in filing a claim in the case of breakage or loss.

*If, when weighed, your goods will cost more than 10% or $25 over the estimate to move, you must be notified. You can have them reweighed, but you may have to pay the cost of the reweighing if the weight difference is very slight.

*Find out how you must pay for the move. Some movers extend credit. Others require cash, a certified check, money order, traveler's check, or cashier's check.

*Your goods are insured up to a certain amount by the mover, but this often isn't enough to replace or repair items, according to many consumers. It's often advisable to take out extra insurance.

*Movers generally don't give specific delivery dates, but you should be sure someone is at the destination before the estimated delivery date. If not, your goods will be stored and redelivered, with you paying the cost.

*When your goods are delivered, check everything before signing any papers. Note any missing or damaged items on the papers before you sign. Signing without inspecting can make it more difficult to collect any damages.

*Movers can pay for or repair any damaged item, but action must be taken within 10 days of receipt of the claim.

If you have a problem with a mover, consult the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Olive Branch Petition Seeks To Prevent Further Hostilities

(Editor's Note: Dr. Donald Whisenhunt, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales and a history professor, has prepared several Bicentennial columns to mark the nation's Bicentennial. In 1973, Dr. Whisenhunt published a book on the American Revolution titled "Delegate From New Jersey" from the diary of a member of the Continental Congress of 1778-1779. He will also have a book published in September of 1975 by the New Jersey Historical Commission as part of the American Revolution Bicentennial Celebration. This work is a biographical pamphlet of Elias Boudinot, president of the Continental Congress when the Treaty of Peace was signed with England, ending the revolution. Dr. Whisenhunt has also published works on New Mexico history. His interest in American history is certainly indicated by his credentials as teacher at Elida High School in the early sixties to his present position. He has served in the history programs at Texas Tech, Murray State, Thiel College, Incarnate Word College and Allegheny College. The State Line Tribune will carry Dr. Whisenhunt's columns throughout the nation's Bicentennial celebration. The first of the column's begins today.)

On the day of the battle Congress had elected four major generals to assist George Washington and were further involved in organizing the Continental Army.

Along with the physical organization Congress also had to deal with the very vexing problems of finance. Certainly this is one of the most difficult problems of any government, and it was one that would plague the Continental Congress throughout its existence.

The original plan in early June to borrow 6,000 British pounds was abandoned when Congress decided to issue paper money. The plan proposing such a scheme was the work of Gouverneur Morris of New York. Although paper currency had been used by other governments, including the individual colonies, the value of such money was very questionable.

Since the value of paper money was based upon gold reserves and since the Continental Congress had no gold, the value of Continental currency really depended upon the trust in Congress. In truth the notes were not money; they were promissory notes drawn on the Continental Congress.

Even though the practice was questionable, members of Congress chose to issue it as the easiest and most painless way to raise revenue to support the military effort. Therefore, on June 22 Congress approved the issuance of "two million of Spanish milled dollars" that would be redeemed by "the 12 confederated colonies" in proportion to the population of each colony.

Congress had now taken the first step down a road that many of them would later regret.

On July 3, 200 years ago, George Washington, newly appointed commander-in-chief of the Continental Army, arrived in Cambridge, Mass., to take command of the forces there.

He found upon his arrival a totally untrained collection of citizens called an army with virtually no equipment, no discipline, and very little financial support. Washington found himself trying to create an army out of almost nothing to challenge the greatest power in the world. Even the world's greatest optimist would have been dismayed by the prospects.

Two days later on July 5, Congress tried one last time to settle its differences with Great Britain. The so-called "Olive Branch Petition" was written by John Dickinson, one of those who fervently hoped for reconciliation with the guarantee of all American rights. Dickinson may have been treated unkindly by history because some of the super-nationalists considered him an appeaser. Such was not the case. He was not willing to give up what he considered to be his rights as an American to attain that peace.

The document professed the attachment of the American people to George III as their sovereign, expressed their hopes for harmony, and begged the king to prevent further hostilities. Several weeks would pass before the document could cross the Atlantic and reaction could be reported back to Philadelphia. However, we know that the effort was in vain because George III rejected it out-of-hand.

Perhaps even Dickinson realized that this was a futile gesture. At any rate, while efforts for peace were made arrangements were also carried out to further arm American forces, even though another full year, almost to the day, would pass before independence was proclaimed.

Congress had made one last plea with the "Olive Branch Petition" to reconcile the differences between the American colonies and Great Britain. The author of that document was John Dickenson of Pennsylvania.

Two hundred years ago on July 6, Congress issued another document written, to a large extent by Dickenson, called the "Declaration of the Causes and Necessities of Taking Up Arms." Dickenson was assisted in the writing of this document by Thomas Jefferson, a newly-arrived delegate from Virginia who already had a reputation as a writer.

This document was addressed to citizens both in America and in England. It was a rather strong statement justifying the need for Americans to arm themselves to protect their basic rights. It was an attempt to rally American support and a statement to Britain not to trample American liberties.

Like other documents of the period it rejected independence as a goal of Americans but stressed that military defense was necessary until Britain decided to treat Americans properly. The document stated, in very emotional terms, that Americans would die before being enslaved. A significant phrase also hinted that there was a possibility of foreign aid against Britain.

On the same day that Congress approved the Declaration, the last of the American colonies joined the ranks of the resistance. Georgia, as the youngest colony, had been reluctant at first to participate in continental activity. However, by July 6, 1775, the events of the preceding months convinced her leaders that resistance was necessary. Therefore, on that day, Georgia's assembly ratified the actions of the Continental Congress. Now, there were 13 colonies, not yet unified, but moving in that direction.

In Spanish Texas war was not the serious matter that it was in British America. A major part in the Spanish system in Texas was played by the Church. Throughout the Spanish Empire the Church played a major role in extending the frontier. Texas was no exception.

The mission system was a major element in Spanish policy. If an area was to be controlled indefinitely it could not be done by military force alone. The mission had as its goal the conversion of the native population to Christianity, but it also served a political and economic role as well. If Indians were converted to Christianity, they probably could be more easily controlled and could be used for labor.

Scientists Sow Wild Oats In Worthy Aim

Plant breeders are sowing wild oats these days, and it's all in the interest of science.

The research effort—aimed at improving human nutrition—stems from recent discovery of a wild oat in the Mediterranean area that contains 13 percent more protein than standard commercial varieties. Scientists now are working to see if this high-protein characteristic can be transferred to high-yielding oat varieties.

Since small grains are the food staples of millions of people in the world, stepping up grains' protein content would improve nutrition.

One of the problems involved in plant breeding for a higher protein content in small grains is the accompanying reduction in yields that often occurs.

However, scientists already have been able to increase the protein content in rice while retaining fairly good yields.

Additional research is under way in developing wheat and dry beans with high protein content and quality.

"One good thing came out of the energy crisis:

The Natural Energy Home"

"From the energy crisis came the Natural Energy Home, a very sensible way to make the most efficient and economical use of our two main sources of household energy. Gas and electricity."

"This conservation-minded new type of home uses electricity for the jobs it does best. And natural gas is used for the big jobs it does best, like home heating, cooking, water heating and clothes drying. By using natural gas directly, 93% of its original energy is delivered to your home."

"But, to produce electricity to do these same jobs in your home, a power plant must burn oil, coal, or natural gas. And by the time electricity is generated and transmitted to your home, over two thirds of the original energy is lost."

"You can help conserve energy by choosing your next home from a builder who displays the Natural Energy Home sign. It means that natural gas is being used wisely—and that means directly—for the big household jobs it does best."

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"THE FIRST BOOK TO READ"

In years gone by, when life was simpler, men had time to ponder over the really important questions: What will become of me when I die? Is there a heaven — and a hell? Can I know God? Will He forgive my sins? If so, on what basis? What must I do to be saved?

The materialism, commercialism and the technology of our day, however, have so complicated life that secondary problems hinder many people from even considering at leisure, the truly important things.

Yet despite all the hurry and anxiety, all the noise and distraction, there are troubled souls, hungering and thirsting for true satisfaction, for a heart cleansed from sin, delivered from the awful burden of a guilty conscience.

Such people should read Paul's Epistle to the Romans and meditate on its great message of salvation. In fact, this is the first book they ought to read.

In Romans the inspired apostle declares that "all have sinned" (3:23) and that "the wages of sin is death" (6:23). But this is not all. Romans also proclaims the good news that Christ "was delivered for our offences, and raised again for our justification" and that therefore we may have "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (4:25, 5:1).

More than that, Romans offers abundant grace to all who trust in Christ. "The law entered that the offence might abound, but where sin abounded grace did much more abound" (5:20, 21). Thus believers are "justified freely by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (3:24) and "the (FREE) GIFT of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (6:23).

We urge those who are not sure of salvation to read carefully and prayerfully Paul's Epistle to the Romans. You may be thanking God for the rest of your earthly life that you did. Read St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS - 100 boys and girls from throughout the Twin Cities were involved in the 1975 session of Little League and Pee Wee League Baseball. As games were played, scores mounted up and bookkeepers were kept busy tallying runs, hits, errors and homers for team members. When scores were tallied and won-loss records figured, it was revealed that Tide Products had taken first place in the Major League and Gifford Hill had downed opponents to take the first place slot in Minor League action.

Principal Employed By

Texico School Trustees

During a meeting of the Texico School Board of Education held Tuesday, July 8, a principal to direct activities at Texico Elementary School was approved. The new staff member was needed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of

Jim Rogers. Rogers and his family are moving to Tatum. Secured as principal for the school is George Herrington of Clovis. Herrington has served for the past seven and one-half years as an instructor with the Ranchvale School System. The new principal is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales from which he received a B.A. degree and his master's of education degree. It was reported by Superintendent Jim Pierce that two additional faculty members are being sought prior to the opening of the 1975-76 school year. Beginning with the upcoming session, a bilingual program will be instituted at the elementary school necessitating an instructor to direct studies. Another addition to the faculty has been made with the creation of the position of assistant coach in the girls athletic program. As of Tuesday's meeting, these positions were still open.

INSUR-MATION

P.C. Farm Bureau Insurance
Billy Watts Ph. 481-3395

Why is the wording in insurance policies so difficult to understand? Why not use plain talk?

All policy forms must be approved by the Department of Insurance for each state in which the policy is to be sold. Therefore, to comply with various state regulations, an insurance jargon was developed, eliminating the necessity of 50 different policy forms. Insurance companies would like to see plain talk policies since most companies maintain Policy Holder Service Departments which write to policy holders re-explaining the terms of the policy in layman's language. Companies would prefer to eliminate this additional expense and pass on the savings in premium payment reductions. Progress has been made in the last five years to simplify the language and better illustrate the benefits.
