Truck Stop, Cafe Open in Texico

Texico's newest businesses are now open.

Tom J. Finley Oil Co., super Texaco truck stop, and Lebow Cafe opened their doors Monday in new buildings on Wheeler Avenue.

Both businesses will be open on a 24-hour basis, Finley reports. They are housed in a $75,000 set of buildings constructed by Finley. Grand openings are scheduled for both places sometime in January.

Johnny Chappell, who has worked for the oil company for eight years, will be manager of the station. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lebow will be lessee operators of the cafe.

Finley has been in the station business in Texico for 12 years in another location. That location will remain open, he says, but no longer on a 24-hour basis. The old business, Texaco Gas Mart, was closed for the night Monday night for the first time in 12 years. "That was the first time we had locked the doors on that business," Finley says.

The new station features complete truck stop facilities including nine gasoline pumps and a bunkhouse for truckers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lebow, Bob and Janie, operated Circle Drive Cafe in Texico in 1954. After that, they were in the cafe business in Dumas for three years. Their last business was Oasis Dining Room in Albuquerque.

Advertisements in this issue announce that the businesses are open.

The men were charged with burglary of the farm home of Bill Glenn in August of 1955. They were indicted shortly after that time by a Parmer County grand jury, but have been serving time in Oklahoma state prison since.

They were released from prison in McAlister, Okla., two weeks ago, picked up by Sheriff

Chas. Lovelace, and returned here. In addition to their sentence, they paid court costs. Property lost in the burglary, clothes and a radio-record player combination, was recovered. Its estimated worth was $150.

Matney is from Twin Falls, Idaho, and Tatum is from Ross-ville, Ga.

Important Cotton Vote Monday

Monday, December 15, Parmer County cotton growers will go to the polls to vote on whether marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 upland cotton crop. This is probably the most important referendum local farmers have ever voted on.

The secretary of agriculture is required to proclaim marketing quotas if the supply of upland cotton is more than the normal supply. Such a proclamation for the 1959 crop has been made by Secretary, Benson.

Marketing quotas cannot be continued in effect, however, without the approval of at least two-thirds of the cotton growers voting in a referendum on the question. So the next step is to hold a referendum in which farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1958 are eligible to vote.

If quotas are approved for 1959-crop upland cotton, each farm operator will have an opportunity to choose between two programs of acreage allotments and price supports, and quota penalties will apply to cotton produced in excess of the chosen farm allotment. Also, farm operators will be notified individually of the proper time for registering their choice of either (A) or (B) at the county ASC office.

Under quotas, if the farm operator elects choice (A) and complies with his "regular" upland cotton farm allotment, he will be eligible for price support at the full level available -- not less than 80 percent of parity for 1959.

The choice B farm allotment is 40 percent larger than the choice A allotment and if he elects the larger allotment and does not have cotton acreage in excess of his allotment, he will be eligible for price support at a level 15 percent less than the level available under choice A.

If quotas are not approved, there will be no quotas or penalties, but the "regular" cotton acreage allotments will remain in effect; in this case, price support to eligible growers of upland cotton will be limited to 50 percent of parity.

Polling places listed below will be open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.

in the house and the smaller boys will get much enjoyment from being allowed to help with the decorations that give them the holiday look. A very simple recipe for icing to use on any cookie, cake, or cupcake as a base for holding the decorations can be made as follows:

Stir together 3 tablespoons hot water and 1 cup powdered sugar, then boil in a covered pan until the sugar is dissolved. Place in a small mixing bowl 1 unbeaten egg white, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, and 1/8 teaspoon salt. Add the hot syrup.

Beat these ingredients at high speed until the icing is the right consistency to spread (from three to four minutes). Add 1 teaspoon vanilla white beating. Sufficient for the tops of two nine inch layers of cake. When using this recipe for cookies or cup cakes, it is better to mix just one recipe at a time even though you need a lot of icing. This icing will not harden before you finish a large number of cookies.

If you make white icing, you can use any color decorations you desire and make very attractive cookies or cup cakes.

CINNAMON SNAPS

1/2 cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons boiling water
1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in
1 tablespoon cold water
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup flour

Mix brown sugar and boiling water. Place over low flame and bring slowly to a boil stirring until sugar is dissolved. Cool to lukewarm. Cream granulated sugar and shortening, add brown sugar syrup and dissolved soda, and beat well.

Mix cinnamon, ginger and salt with 1 cup of flour and sift twice. Add to creamed mixture and blend thoroughly. Then work in 1 cup additional flour to make a stiff dough. Chill, roll thin, cut into shapes and place on a buttered cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 8 to 10 minutes. If desired, these may be frosted and decorated.

RICE 'N TURKEY BAKE

1 cup milk
3/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups diced turkey
3 cups hot cooked rice

Heat milk in top of double boiler, stir in 1/2 cup of the cheese, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Stir until cheese is melted. Add turkey and rice. Mix lightly, check for seasoning and turn into a greased 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Top with remaining cheese and bake uncovered, in a moderate oven about 30 minutes until piping hot and nicely browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The next time you sew a dress of jersey or like material and have difficulty finding marquisette for lining, just buy some panels. These come in several colors and are available at almost any department store.

Research at Purdue University, sponsored by the Poultry and Egg National Board, has shown that freshly fried chicken eaten immediately, and freshly fried chicken which has been frozen and then thawed for eating, can't be distinguished for flavor and appearance if the freezing is done properly.

If the good flavor and appearance are to be retained, the freshly fried chicken, held not more than 3 hours at room temperature, should be wrapped in foil or wax paper, placed in a freezer or freezing compartment of a refrigerator for storage, then thawed at room temperature for serving.

More Money in Meat Type Hogs

"If you raise hogs for market, meat-type hogs will make you more money," says T. D. Tanksley, extension animal husbandman. "The more muscular hogs cost less to produce, command top price on the market and provide the kind of pork the average consumer demands."

Tests show that meat-type hogs gain just as rapidly as fat-type hogs and at a feed saving of approximately $1 for each 200-pound hog. The larger percent of high value pork cuts in meat-type hogs makes them more desirable to buyers.

Over 60 percent of the total value of a hog lies in the four lean cuts: the ham, loin, Boston butt and picnic. These are the cuts which the present day consumer demands. On a live weight basis, meat-type hogs produce about 34 percent to 37 percent in the four lean cuts, while some fat-type hogs yield 30 percent and less.

Tanksley says, "This meat-type hog can be produced by selecting gilts and boars that have adequate length, a thirty-inch carcass on a 200-pound hog. They should have thick, muscular conformation, with just enough fat at market weight to insure carcass firmness and give quality and flavor to the cuts.

"They must come from sows that farrow and raise large litters of big pigs, be fast growing and able to convert feed into pounds of pork at an efficient rate."

Producers should aim for goals of 9 or more pigs per litter, 100 pounds of live hog for 325 pounds of feed and hogs ready for market at 200 pounds in 5 1/2 months.

"Jones," said Watson, "is the most conceited, self-satisfied person I've ever known."

"What did he do now?" asked a neighbor.

"Today is his birthday," Watson replied, "and Jones sent a telegram of congratulations to his mother."

Prussic Acid Poses Livestock Threat

The time is here when cattle owners should be warned that Johnsongrass or sorghum after a frost is sometimes extremely high in prussic acid content and is very dangerous to livestock.

When wilted by frost or drouth, certain chemical changes sometime occur in the plant and it develops a content of prussic acid, or hydrocyanic acid, explains Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a short time after the damaged plant is eaten.

Symptoms described by Patterson include an appearance of nervousness, difficult breathing and difficulty in standing. Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Treatment involves injecting antidotes directly into the blood stream.

Young plants will develop more prussic acid than those approaching maturity, points out the veterinarian. Their leaves will contain from 3 to 25 times more acid than leaves of plants in the boot stage.

Upper, younger leaves will contain more acid than lower leaves.

Frosted Johnsongrass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry, advises Patterson. If Johnsongrass or sorghum is ready to cut before a frost, it may be cut the first day after the frost and used for hay if care is taken to see that it is completely cured before baling.

It may also be used for silage, he adds. Generally, enough prussic acid is lost in gaseous form during the ensiling process and as the silage is removed and fed to make it safe for livestock. However, it is not advisable to let the animals self-feed from the silo filled with frosted sudan or sorghum. If the silage is questionable--it should be chemically tested by a local veterinarian or by using one or two inferior animals as "guinea pigs."

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Within the next few weeks most of us will be doing a lot of things especially for the Christmas holidays. As we go about our daily tasks and carry out plans for the holiday season for us and members of our immediate families, we should not get too busy to remember others in our midst.

There is no better way to teach our children anything than by setting them the proper example. We can do any number of things to help those less fortunate than ourselves and at the same time let the children share the work as well as the joy of doing things for others.

The kitchen is a wonderful place to start teaching our girls to give a part of themselves with gifts that are given to others. There are many many persons who would especially enjoy a gift from the kitchen.

The older man who lives alone would enjoy a glass of jelly, some cookies, a fruit cake, or other product that can easily be made by any of us. When you start your Christmas baking, make a list of the persons you would like to share with.

If you bake cookies or cupcakes, even the smallest girl

Another item on the home made list that would be very much appreciated as a gift for a new baby is a receiving blanket. These can be made quickly by using two squares of outing one yard each way.

When buying material for blankets, buy nursery prints and matching or contrasting plain colors. Stitch the squares all the way around with your sewing machine, leaving a small opening through which to turn the blanket. Turn and whip-stitch the opening together. After the blanket is completed, you can add tape, a crocheted edging, or whatever decorations you desire.

Blankets made this way will endure many washings and remain very pretty. It is better not to use ribbon even though it makes blankets very pretty when they are finished. The ribbon will be worn out long before the blankets are and will not stay pretty through repeated washings.

Those on your list who are interested in yard beautification will appreciate a cutting, plant, bulbs, or any addition to a collection of growing things. These may be purchased or taken from your own winter storage.

Most of us complain that Christmas has become too commercialized. This need not be the case if we put some thought and careful planning into our own giving. As is true of anything we undertake, we get out of a project in proportion to what we put into it.

Has anyone come up with good ideas as to what to use the plastic bags that are now being put over clothes at the tailor shop

If you want your cobbler aprons to have the chemise look, simply drop the belts, add a flounce of permanently pleated contrasting material and some tabs or bows.

The urban or "city" 4-H Club is no longer an exception in Extension work, according to statistics released by the USDA. The number of 4-Hers living in urban areas has increased more than 28 percent since 1954. Country cousins are fast becoming city folks, while the distinction between farm and city boys and girls is virtually non-existent.

Proof of these changing times and people can be found during the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago where approximately 1,300 youth assemble annually. The date this year is Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

These future citizens come from all parts of the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. All are members of local 4-H clubs, and all have achieved top state rating in a specific 4-H award program. They represent the 2,200,000 rural and urban 4-Hers who continually strive to "make the best better." Those who are selected each year by the State 4-H office to attend the National Congress, have accomplished just that.

These talented teenagers travel by train, plane, and bus to reach the Windy City where they will join their fellow 4-Hers and adult leaders in a week of new and interesting adventures.

Many business firms and private citizens cooperate with the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work and the Extension Service to make the Congress possible. Not only are the trips paid for, but other valuable awards are provided for state and county 4-H winners. College scholarships will be presented to 200 national champions. Among the 4-H award donors are: Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Chicago; Standard Brands Inc., Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical Corp., American Forest Products Industries, Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co., Pure Oil Co., Homelite, a Division of Textron, Inc., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Armour & Co., Santa Fe Railway System.

Also the Chicago Board of Trade, Burlington Railroad, Milwaukee Road, Chicago & North Western Railway, Rock Island Railroad, Cities Service Oil Co., Cudahy Packing Co., Conrad Hilton Hotel, Illinois Central Railroad, Elgin National Watch Co., Massey-Ferguson Inc., California Spray Chemical Corp., Colgate-Palmolive Co., and Humble Oil & Refining Co.

Plains Cotton Allotment Reduction 6 Percent

Texas High Plains cotton producers, faced with a 9 percent reduction in acres for 1959, actually will have to take only about a 6 percent reduction, due to the small state reserve held out this year by the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Cotton allotments for the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers in 1958 totaled 2,279,806 acres and for 1959 these allotments total 2,134,753 acres, a reduction of 6 percent.

The state reserve withheld by the state ASC committee was only 1.6 percent for 1959. This is the first time this reserve has been held to below 6 percent and the small reserve this time enabled farmers all over the state to retain more acreage than was anticipated under operation of the new 1959 farm bill.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has allocated 16,310,000 acres among the 21 cotton producing states for 1959 cotton, and the portion of that for the state of Texas is 6,846,752 acres. The 1958 allotment for the nation was 17,554,528, and for Texas it was 7,474,661.

County ASC offices throughout the state this week are mailing 1959 allotments to farmers. These allotments are needed before farmers vote December 15 in the cotton referendum to determine whether marketing quotas will be operative for the 1959 crop.

Guy Nickels, of Muleshoe and Farwell, represented the PCG at the 1959 allotment hearing held September 25 in College Station. At that time Nickels urged the state committee to

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The Parmer County Soil Conservation District supervisors held their regular monthly business meeting in Friona last Tuesday morning. Those present were A. L. Black, Bruce Parr, T. O. Lesly, Joe Jones, Bob Crozier, Steve Messenger and A. L. Logan.

Maintenance, repair and operation of the District equipment was the first business that was discussed by the board. No changes were made in the present operation.

The board then reviewed and approved the Soil Conservation District annual audit as prepared by E. T. Cummings.

The annual plan of operations and the work load analysis of the Soil Conservation Service was reviewed, discussed and approved by the supervisors. Several items promoting soil conservation in this District are included in the plan and will be given special emphasis during 1959.

Now is the time of the year to begin planning to improve the irrigation systems of the past year. This may be one of the best of New Year resolutions a farmer can make. If you need to change your row direction to slow the water down, shorten the length of run to improve water penetration or what have you, come by in the next few days and let's talk it over.

It will enable the SCS technicians to schedule their work in a way to reach more of the farmers when they need assistance. The spring of the year is just about the busiest season.

Farmers Union Report

Well, the county rat (poison) race is over. With all the county chairmen reporting, there was a total of 6225 lbs. of poison sold for a total of $1556.25. This was a concentrated county-wide effort directed toward the complete eradication of the rats in Parmer County. The poison will be delivered to the Hub Community Center around the 20th of December. When it arrives, each chairman will be notified and he in turn will notify the people who have ordered it to pick it up from him. We greatly appreciate the cooperation exhibited by everyone involved in putting this over.

Farmers Union will be heard! According to advance information from the convention in Mineral Wells, the program adopted by Farmers Union will have the support of some of the most influential agricultural leaders in Washington. This, of course, does not include Mr. Ezra Taft Benson.

MAKE THE MOST OF PECANS

Pecans are plentiful now. Use them to add distinctive flavor and extra food value to main dishes, breads, cakes, pies, cookies, desserts, salads and candies.

Salted, sugared or minted pecans are quick and easy-to-do. Keep a supply on hand for snacks, holiday refreshment trays or package them for special Christmas gifts.

Recipes using pecans are given in the extension bulletin, "Eat More Pecans." Included also are directions for storing, canning or freezing pecans. Get a copy from your county home demonstration agent's office or write the Agricultural Information Office.

DECORATED FRUIT CAKES MAKE FESTIVE GIFTS

Fruit cakes make acceptable and enjoyable gifts, either plain or decorated. For a more festive gift try your hand in decorating the fruit cakes. Extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest doing this just before serving or sending as gifts. They offer some suggestions for glazing and decorating.

The glaze, made by heating 1/3 cup corn syrup (for 2 loaves) to boiling, is brushed on the top of the cake. Whole almonds, pecans or walnuts, and candied fruit can then be arranged in geometric designs on top of the loaves.

Holly Wreath: Cut small holly leaves from thin slices of green citron. Arrange in a circle to form wreath. Use bits of candied cherry for holly berries. Make one large wreath or small over-lapping wreaths on cake. Daisy and Pineapple Flowers: Arrange whole blanched almonds to form daisies on top of cake. Make center with a bit of candied cherry. Arrange cubes of candied pineapple in circle and place halves between each cube and place one-half cherry in center.

Make greenery for flowers of green citron.

Poinsettia: Arrange quarters of candied cherries in shape of poinsettias. Center with candied cherry. Arrange thin strips of green citron for leaves.

Nuts and Walnut Circles: Arrange whole nut halves as almonds, pecans or walnuts around top edge of cake.

Nut Tree: Arrange halves of nuts in cone-shape on top of rectangular-shaped cake. Place a bit of candied cherries at top of outside nuts to resemble candles on the nut tree.

POINTERS FOR PLANNING A PARTY

Good planning is the secret of good recreation, says Lucille Moore, extension recreation specialist. For those special holiday parties, plan your recreation well ahead of time.

Variety adds spice to any party. Games should be planned to provide change of pace and activity.

Start with a pre-party game, suggests Miss Moore. This starts people participating, laughing and relaxing. It also fills the awkward period from early arrival until party time.

Exhibits, a game or conversation objects may be used for this purpose.

Next, plan for a circle or get acquainted game, so guests will learn names and start talking with each other. A seated circle is the best type of starting formation because everyone can see the leader, and all guests must join the circle in order to have a place to sit.

RIPENING AND FREEZING FRUIT CAKES

Batter type fruit cakes are at their best after 3 or 4 weeks of aging or ripening. Extension foods and nutrition specialists say this storage period develops flavor and mellowness. For this reason, fruit cakes should be allowed to ripen before they are frozen.

Proper cooling and wrapping is important. Specialists suggest cooling fruit cakes thoroughly before wrapping for storage or ripening. Use aluminum foil, plicofilm, cellophane or waxed paper. Place cake in tightly covered container in a cool place for 3 to 4 weeks.

Ripened fruit cake can be frozen and preserved for one year.

Special Tax School Wednesday at Hub

A special school for farmers—designed to bring them "up to snuff" on income and social security taxes—will be held Wednesday afternoon, December 17, in the Hub Community Center.

It is the first school of its kind ever to be held in Parmer County and has been set up by County Agent Joe Jones in cooperation with the Extension Service.

At this school those who are interested in farm management can learn of the latest changes in the Internal Revenue Code; and there have been some important ones during this year which farmers may be able to take advantage of before the year runs out.

New depreciation schedules on machinery have been set up. This could mean the difference between paying taxes or asking for a refund this year. Other changes will be discussed also.

In addition, the always changing Social Security law will be under study. This year both employers and employees will increase contributions to the fund. Farmers will need to know how the law will affect them.

A specialist in farm management, Cecil Parker from Texas A & M, will be the featured speaker at the school.

Agent Jones, in urging a big attendance, emphasized that the sessions will be held in the "warm part" of the building and that everyone will be comfortable, regardless of the weather.

"This school is not designed to fill in your income tax forms for you," stresses Jones. "It's to help farmers become better acquainted with the tax laws so that they can keep better records and make better use of tax-saving management practices."

He added that it might be a good idea for farmers to bring along their wives if possible, inasmuch as the lady of the farm usually has a hand in keeping records on the average family-size operation. The meeting will begin at 1 o'clock.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Readers of Farm and Home will probably show more than passing interest in an experiment we learned of through the Texas Department of Agriculture.

While our area is not predominantly dependent upon cotton as is the case of the farm we will tell you about in the hypothetical switch from cotton to beef, the fact that it was an all-cash-crop type setup has a familiar ring in these parts. The constant search for more farming profits has led to an experiment aimed at making a drastic switch from exclusive cotton production on a medium sized farm to a small beef production center.

Agricultural research experts began with a 132-acre South Carolina cotton farm, studied all possibilities, and launched a five-year program to convert it to a 161-acre beef and small grain project. This basic change is predicted to increase annual cash receipts from $3,400 annually to $9,002 by the fifth year. The figures were projected on the basis of assumed prices and improved production practices.

The appraised value of the farm property, including land, buildings, livestock equipment and seed, was predicted to rise from about $16,000 to nearly $35,000 by the end of the fourth year, and would then decline with normal depreciation to about $27,000 at the end of the tenth year.

To accomplish such a beneficial transformation, not only would the farmer have to engage in a new type of farming, but also would need to find new sources of credit to finance the change. The first and biggest problem is to acquire a beef herd. The study showed the value of cattle would have to rise from $330 on the original farm to $10,000 by new purchases and breeding during the first three years. The large initial investment would result from buying brood cows as soon as grazing could be assured by other changes in farm practice.

The plan calls for establishing a herd of 46 brood cows. Eight cows and three bred heifers would be bought the first year, five cows the second year and 27 the third. These, together with replacement heifers raised would prove the herd needed in four years.

The major transition in farm activity should be made the first three years, with minor adjustments for seven more years. The first year would include bringing the cropland into production, substituting grain sorghum and clover for corn, increasing the acreage of wheat and oats, double-cropping the oats with lespedeza and top-seeding the pasture with crimson clover.

During the second year, 20 acres of cropland would be added to provide the full use of the operator's labor. Forty acres of coastal bermuda grass would be planted for permanent pasture. During the third year, the changes in land use would be completed by discontinuing the cotton enterprise entirely and adding its acreage to the oat-grain-sorghum area.

As for equipment, a grain drill and combine would have to be bought. A side delivery rake and pick-up hay baler by the third year would permit a saving of 40 percent or more over the usual custom rate of baling hay.

Crop sales would provide the chief source of cash during the transition, the study shows, but by the fourth year cash receipts from the beef herd would nearly equal those from sale of grain.

interest here since the Steers had played both teams.

Saturday afternoon, White Deer meets Mason at Snyder in the Class A semi-finals.

It'll definitely be a feather in the Steers' hat if White Deer can win state... and the best we can figure out the Bucks have as good a chance as either of the other three teams. It's our careless opinion that WD will have a harder time winning the Mason game than they will the final game... if they are fortunate enough to play in the finals.

County Will Issue Warrants

Parmer County commissioners court voted to issue "not more than" $175,000 in time warrants at a regular session Monday. The warrants will be used to secure right-of-way along Highway 84 in the county.

Future plans call for the highway to be four-laned.

The time warrants will bear interest of 4 1/2 per cent and will be paid by taxes by not later than 1969, Hugh Moseley, county clerk, explains.

The warrants are scheduled to be issued in January.

In other business Monday, the court agreed to purchase a new Gallion motor grader for $14,688 plus an old grader. The new grader will be used in Farwell precinct.

The commissioners also approved opening of a three-mile-long road in McMinn Subdivision in Black Community.
