Honored at a reception Sunday following their retirements as long-time Farwell School teachers were Elizabeth Williams and Lynn Roberts.

Retiring teachers honored

Lynn Roberts and Elizabeth Phillips Williams were honored with a retirement reception Sunday.

It marked the end of 21 years of teaching for each of them, and it is but one more milestone that each of them has shared.

Back in the 1960's, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Williams decided to return to college. They had been friends for a long time when they decided to go back and finish the degrees they had started years before.

Mrs. Roberts had four school age children at the time: Sherry, Beverly, Melody and Robin. Mrs. Williams had Craig, Cindy, Penny and Thad at home.

"Here we were going back to school. What a sight we must have been," says Mrs. Roberts.

"I don't know how Eastern ever survived," she laughed. She joked that one time they almost blew up the chemistry lab together. "We really had some memorable classes. We wouldn't have made it without each other."

Mrs. Roberts majored in elementary education, and Mrs. Williams majored in secondary education at Eastern New Mexico University. They later went back to earn master's degrees - Mrs. Roberts' is in elementary education, and Mrs. Williams' is in school administration.

In 21 years of teaching, the two saw many changes in the profession and at Farwell.

"Parental involvement has decreased," said Mrs. Roberts. "So many parents work today, and it is hard to get parental help."

"More than half of the kids today are living with single parents," said Mrs. Williams. "It is a big job to raise a family and make a living today."

"But, all in all, junior high students are just exactly like their parents were when they were that age. Luckily, adolescence is not fatal," says Mrs. Williams.

Both agreed that record keeping is one area that has changed drastically in the past 21 years.

"I can't believe how it has changed," said Mrs. Roberts. "We have all this testing and tracking. There is a form for everything. It is a wonder we ever find time to teach."

Sometimes teachers have to track the same test three different ways to be sure that all of the students have learned all of the essential elements.

"There is so much pressure and paperwork from the state these days," said Mrs. Williams. "It isn't just here in Farwell."

Another thing that Mrs. Roberts would like to see changed is textbook selection. "Every time we get a new textbook it is more difficult. When I first started, the objectives were geared to first grade. Each time we get a new textbook there are more objectives," she said.

On the positive side, there have been some favorable changes in education. "There is so much new technology today - computers, VCRs, compact discs," says Mrs. Williams. She also notes that students are not content with television or videos today. "You almost have to be a Johnny Carson and put on an extravaganza to teach today."

Mrs. Roberts noted some positive changes in her own work environment that made teaching at Farwell Elementary pleasant last year.

"The new carpeting in my classroom made it warmer and quieter. The students are so proud of it, even if it did mean that we had to be extra careful during art projects."

"The new playground equipment was something that we've really needed, too. The first day or two that it was there the teachers were exhausted trying to cover that big area. But, the children really love it. They just wanted to run from one piece to another to try it out."

Mrs. Roberts also praised the new developmental first grade program. "It will stop retention later. Some children just need time to mature. The children will not have the stigma of failure if they enter a developmental first grade."

But the most positive change in education she saw was the realization among educators that children learn in different ways.

"You can't teach all children the same. We used to present material to everyone the same way, and if the child didn't learn it, he was considered a failure. Now we look for different ways to present the same material to students so that each can learn the way he learns best," said Mrs. Roberts.

Mrs. Williams noted that the Quest program at Farwell Junior High was extremely helpful this year. It gave teachers and students tools to mutually solve problems in a positive way.

Mrs. Williams taught social studies and history at Farwell Junior High. She was never content with "covering the book." A friend once told her that if you want to cover the book - sit on it, and she agreed. She was the kind of teacher who took an eighth grade class to view a murder trial for the experience.

"When we got there the bailiff said he would search each one as they went in. A minute later I had a pocket full of pocket knives. Every boy in the class handed me one," she said.

She is also the kind of person to run for City Council so that she could give the students first hand knowledge about what city government is like.

Mrs. Roberts is also a woman who believes in being involved in the community. She served as president of Delta Kappa Gamma for two years. She was chosen Teacher of the Year by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce, and she is the only elementary teacher to have the high school yearbook

I don't understand

Over the years, I have fashioned myself as something of a historical buff.

If you want to talk about the fall of Athens in the 5th Century B.C., I'll be glad to discuss it with you.

If you want to talk about the role that Bulgaria played during the Russo-Turkish Wars of the 1700s, fine. A most interesting topic.

If you want to talk about how the Swiss cantons work together, sounds good. I've always been a William Tell fan.

So when I say that the recent events in Communist Russia and Communist China confound the heck out of me, you can imagine my chagrin.

As I've written, the most important premise that the Communist Party stands upon is its maintenance of its own power. Yet that doesn't hold water involving recent events in the U.S.S.R.

I cannot believe that the Communist Party leadership in the Soviet Union has allowed Mikhail Gorbachev to carry out his glasnost and perestroika plans. It doesn't make sense to me. I am totally confounded.

I don't care if that leadership has realized that Communist economics policies are a failure and that the Soviet people are unduly suffering. That hasn't bothered them in the past. But now, apparently, it does. How come?

I sure am glad I'm not the U.S. president right now. I simply would not know how to react to what Gorbachev is doing.

It's easy to say that one of these days Gorbachev will be thrown out and a hard-nosed dictator will take his place. Although I can see that scenario occurring, I don't see how that can jell with the recent changes in the Soviet electoral processes.

There would be revolts in every Soviet city, now that the citizenry has gotten a taste of democracy - having elected their own spokesmen to the parliament. It would be mass confusion.

If we were talking of 50 years ago, I could say it might happen. But in today's world I'm not so sure.

What I guess I am saying is that I don't think the Communist Party can turn back Gorbachev's reforms. And that's great. I just don't believe what I am seeing.

The main word the TV commentators are using, concerning the U.S. administration, is caution. That's good. We must stay extra vigilant during this chaotic period in the Communist nations. But for the first time in my life, I am becoming optimistic that the Soviets and the U.S. might be able to dissolve some of their animosity.

What we're seeing today is voting in Poland and the elimination of barbed wire along sections of the Iron Curtain. Simply amazing.

Then we have China.

As I write this column, it's not clear what is going on there. A lot of students have been killed, yes. But is the government still in control? And who is the government - hardliners or moderates? And what role is the Army playing? And this is a Communist country?

Here again, I don't understand the waffling by the Communist Party. In years past, they would have crushed the students within hours. But this time, they permitted the protest to grow and gather momentum. It appears the leadership is split apart badly.

I'd love to see the Communist Party in both nations fall apart completely. That won't happen (for awhile) in Russia. But we may be seeing it occur in China. I sure hope so.

What we are seeing are

Gregory named parade marshal

The Border Town Days Committee Monday announced its choice for the Honorary Parade Marshal for this year's celebration.

Larry Gregory, coach of the Farwell Steers basketball team which was the first Farwell basketball or football squad ever to go to state, was selected for the annual honor.

Gregory will ride in the BTD parade and receive a special certificate of recognition.

Also to be honored at BTD will be Pioneers of the Year. This award was begun four years ago. Honored so far have been Mitz Walling, Vashti Fowler, Bill and Gertrude Foster, Ted Engram and Genevieve Randol.

Persons wishing to nominate Pioneers of the Year for the Texico - Farwell area are asked to fill out the blank near this article and send it to: State Line Tribune, Box 255, Farwell, Texas 79325. The deadline for nominations is July 1.

Here is a wrap-up of the various BTD activities:

- Ann Cooper reported that Ted Lopez, of Tedson Trailers, the annual sponsor for the decorated bicycle contest, is making an extra contribution this year: a special, new bicycle will be given away to the winner of "Best of Show."

The "Best of Show" winner can go to a youth in any age category.

Also, Mrs. Cooper said an anonymous donor has contributed $50 toward the regular bicycle contest awards.

- The Arts and Crafts Show will be set up on the front lawn of the courthouse as usual. Spaces are available for $10 a booth. Spaces may be reserved by calling Lynne Mahaney at 481-3601 days.

- Butch Tharp of Texico has volunteered to pay the cost for the portable toilets as his contribution to Border Town Days.

- The Merchants Giveaway committee, headed by Debra Looper, will swing into action soon. Merchants will be asked to sign up for $10 each and offer prizes to be given away at the Day in the Park.

- There will be no Ugly Pickup or Ugly Car contests this year. The number of entries declined last year and it was decided to hold off on these contests for awhile.

- Reporting on the bandstand activities, Mike Pom-per said the First Baptist Church of Farwell will not have a gospel show this year. However, Mrs. Richardson of Pleasant Hill said that her grand-daughter, Joni Autrey, who was a member of the Borden Gang at last year's BTD, will be available to perform for free.

The committee thanked Mrs. Richardson for her assistance.

- Rick Sullivan has ordered the special commemorative pins, which will be this year's fund-raiser, replacing the shave permits. The pins will feature the Texas and New Mexico state flags and the words "1989 Border Town Days - Texico-Farwell."

BTD is a non-profit event and the pin sale (donations will be asked) will help cover expenses.

- Groups wishing to reserve space for concession stands and booths for the Day in the Park activities are asked to call Cynthia Thigpen at 481-3620 days or 481-9355 nights.

- Chris Roach, in charge of seeking entries for the parade, made an outstanding report. She attended the Pioneer Days parade in Clovis last week and signed up a bunch of new participants.

In addition to several Clovis floats and parade entries, the list of Texico - Farwell groups is growing, too. They include: Farwell band, Texico band, Farwell drill team, Farwell Classes of 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1961; Texico Class of 1979; Oklahoma Lane Class of 1939; Chris' Golf Shop; Kelly Green Seeds; Farwell Convalescent Center; and Texico - Farwell Senior Citizens.

To sign up for the parade, call the Tribune at 481-3681.

- The next BTD committee meeting will be July 10 at 8 p.m. at Luce's Spur Restaurant.

Party on tap for contestants

There will be a Coca-Cola party at Luce's Spur Restaurant at 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 8, for all young ladies who are interested in participating in the annual Border Town Days Queen Contest.

All girls in grades 9-12 next fall who live in the Texico or Farwell school districts are eligible.

The Coke party is the traditional kick-off event for the Queen's contest. There will be door prizes and refreshments in addition to rules of the contest.

Tori Meeks is this year's Queen Contest chairman. The winner of this year's contest will receive $200 in scholarship funds.

Anyone unable to attend the Coke party may pick up an application form at Berry & Kirkland, CPA, office on Third Street in Farwell (across from the county courthouse).

Or girls interested may call any of the Queen committee members for information: Tori Meeks, 481-3856; Cindy Meeks, 482-9410; Ruthie Singer, 481-9205, or Terry Brigham, 482-9337. The deadline for entering is June 16.

Hospital district to be explained

A meeting to discuss the proposed Muleshoe Hospital that would be supported by tax funds has been called for 7:30 p.m. June 12 at Lazbuddie School.

Darrell Jennings of Lazbuddie, a member of the temporary hospital board, and other board members will be on hand to answer questions.

If the hospital district is established, it would include most of the northern two-thirds of Bailey County, and portions of the southern part of Parmer County close to Muleshoe.

The proposition, which will be voted on June 20, calls for the district's annual maximum property tax rate be 25 cents.

Pioneer Man and Woman of the Year
The Border Town Days Committee is sponsoring a contest to honor the Texico-Farwell area's Pioneer Man of the Year and Pioneer Woman of the Year. Persons will be honored during Border Town Days. (It's okay to nominate yourself.) The Criteria are:

1. When did he/she arrive in the Texico-Farwell area.
2. What were his/her contributions to the community.

Russia, China

two nations trying to improve their economic systems by turning away from classic Communist notions and adopting capitalistic methods. That has unleashed democratic feelings among people long controlled by dictators.

I believe that both Communist parties understood that would happen - to a point. I believe that both parties felt they could stay in control of the situations - allowing a modicum of liberty while expanding its economy.

In Russia, the party is maintaining control. In China, I don't know.

Simply fascinating.

dedicated to her. The 1984 yearbook was dedicated to her "because of the start you gave us."

Faculty members remember their colleagues Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Williams with fond regard.

"I'll never forget my first day in Farwell. I felt so lost. Liz said 'If there is anything you need or anything I can do, just let me know,' and was such an inspiration to me," said Jolynda Lusk.

Pat Owen notes that she "always appreciated Liz Williams' compassion and her ability to accept people the way they are. She always found something good in every student."

Judy Howard says Lynn Roberts was a real inspiration to her. They taught first grade together when Mrs. Howard started teaching. "Her help was invaluable," said Mrs. Howard.

"Somewhere in heaven there is a place for first grade teachers. Two hours after school's out, Lynn Roberts is down there grading papers," adds former colleague Jean Patschke.

Mrs. Williams sees this as a time to reset her goals. She plans to travel with her husband, Don, and to visit family.

Mrs. Roberts plans to expand her baking business and to spend more time with her husband, Bill, and their children and grandchildren.

Parmer edged out in per-acre yield stats

Figures released to Plain Cotton Growers Inc. fixed the official size of the 25-county High Plains cotton crop at 3,234,700 bales of 480 pounds net. PCG estimates a record farm-level crop value of $1.169 billion. The production total, tallied by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service (TASS), is the second highest in area history, and over 21 percent above the 2,668,550 bales grown in 1987. Record production for PCG's 25 counties was established in 1981 with a crop of 3,522,000 bales. TASS reported 3,277,000 acres planted to the fiber crop on the Plains in 1988, an almost unheard-of 96.7 percent of which, or 3,119,200 acres, remained for harvest. The 1987 crop came off 2,819,000 planted acres, 2,599,000 of which were harvested. The record crop of 1981 was produced on 4,473,500 harvested acres. Average yield for the 25 counties came to 497.8 pounds per acre in 1988, a scant 3.1 pounds above the previous year's yield, but 52 percent above the area's 10-year average of 329.5 pounds through 1987. The High Plains record yield of 513.2 pounds per acre was set in 1965.

Gaines County with its huge acreage produced a bale-count of 314,800 in 1988, topping all others for the third straight year. Highest per-acre yield, a distinction that went to Parmer County in 1987, switched to Hale County with a yield of 570 pounds in 1988. Parmer County's figure was 568. Parmer County's 1988 statistics were: Acres planted - 54,000; acres harvested - 38,900; yield per harvested acre - 568; 480-lb. net weight bales - 46,000.

Bailey County's totals were: Acres planted - 86,500; acres harvested - 76,300; yield per harvested acre - 499; 480-lb. net weight bales - 79,300. The farm-level value of the crop exceeded the billion-dollar mark for the second straight year. The $1.169 billion figure compares to the $1.06 billion value PCG assigned to the 1987 crop.

Car wash planned

The Farwell Band Drill Team will sponsor a car wash on June 10 at Hughes True Value parking lot starting at 10 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carpenter

50th anniversary to be celebrated

Harold and Avis Carpenter of Oklahoma Lane are celebrating their 50th anniversary. The couple was married June 15, 1939, in the First Baptist Church of Texico. In their honor, their children will host a reception June 18 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church fellowship hall. Everyone is invited. Their children are Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Carpenter of El Paso, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carpenter of Route 1, Farwell.

Potato growers favor order

In a May 11-12 referendum, potato growers in 21 western Texas and 10 eastern New Mexico counties known as the "High Plains" favored a USDA recommendation for a federal marketing order for their potatoes. J. Patrick Boyle, administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said approximately 71 percent of those voting, accounting for about 78 percent of the potatoes grown by those voting, favored the order. Forty-two producers, or about 38 percent of those eligible to vote, cast valid ballots.

the referendum. The order would authorize grade, size and maturity regulations, as well as specifications for containers and markings on containers. The order would also authorize research, promotion and marketing projects, but not paid advertising. USDA's decision to hold the referendum was based on the results of an April 1988 public hearing in Hereford, Texas.

'Texas' to open

To pass, the order had to be approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, or by those voting who had produced at least two-thirds of the potatoes grown in 1988 by all of those voting in

"Texas" opens its 24th season June 14 at the Palo Duro Canyon in Canyon, Texas. The show will be presented evenings until mid-August.

60th anniversary celebrated

Minnie and Buddy Jones of Harlingen celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at a buffet breakfast given in their honor at Golden Palms Retirement and Health Center. Family members and long-time Valley friends joined Center residents in the celebration. Buddy and Minnie Jones were married April 14, 1929 in Memphis. After residing in Clarendon and Farwell, the couple moved to the Rio Grande Valley and continued being active in farming and ranching.

VBS sponsored

The First Baptist Church of Texico will sponsor Vacation Bible School June 19 - 23 from 8:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. MDT at the church, 224 Turner St.

Folks want to raise money for a scholarship fund

Mildred Cooper, former Farwell Supt. Willie Roberts, and Dr. Larry Cooper, have expressed an interest in improving the cash prize that goes with the Loving Cup Trophy which is presented to a Farwell graduate each year.

The Cup goes to the most outstanding individual in his class. The award was started in 1928 by the Farmer's Grain Company, and it has been given by a business or individual since. It is the oldest, and most prestigious award given at graduation, but the only monetary prize attached to the award is a $50 savings bond.

Dr. Cooper, who donated the prize this year and who was the 1957 recipient of the award, said of the Loving Cup: "I've won a lot of awards since then, but none have exceeded the personal excitement of winning it."

Dr. Cooper would especially like to see other former recipients come forward and help with the project to raise the award to its former level of importance.

Persons interested in forming a committee and raising money for a scholarship fund to accompany the trophy should contact Roberts or Mrs. Cooper.

This year's Cup recipient was Dustin Hardage.

Memorandum signed

Golden Spread Electric Cooperative has signed a memorandum with Sunflower Electric Cooperative, a generation and transmission utility in Hay, Kan., and the Western Area Power Administration, a federal hydro-power marketing agency in Golden, Colo., for peaking capacity and a new high-voltage power line.

It's the first step in consummating an agreement between Golden Spread and Sunflower for the sale of excess capacity to Golden Spread. It also provides for building a transmission line from Sunflower's Holcomb Station in Kansas to Guymon, Okla.

Under the pact, Golden Spread will obtain 110,000 kilowatts of capacity from two gas-fired turbine generators at Sunflower's Garden City power plant. The power will be used to meet the peak-load needs of Golden Spread's member systems, including Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative.

Our happy thanks to Mary Mesman, her daughter JoHanna and Eunice Schilling for a very enjoyable visit to the Mesman Dairy. We were greeted with cheerful welcomes and pleasant smiles followed by a tour of the surrounding grounds. We saw new baby calves and their mommies, the milking herd, the corn field where the lovely green shoots were blowing in the breeze and where the silage was stored.

Our trip to the milking barn was quite an adventure. Many questions were asked and memories of times past were brought up as to the ease of milking today and the old hands-on method of yesteryear. We were taken to the cheese making area and shown the how-to's and what-for's of cheese processing. JoHanna was most informative and very patient with our many inquisitive questions. The details it takes to create a block of cheese are most complex.

Our afternoon came to an end with refreshments in the cool comfort of Mary's dining room where we were served ice tea or milk, cheese and butter from the dairy, and crackers. Our group discussed how milking was done as they grew up, how they made butter, how it was kept cool and stored, when ice came into the picture, all lovely memories we shared with each other. Mary then showed us her lovely home with its many beautiful momentoes of places the Mesmans have traveled to, and items from Holland. We appreciate their opening up their very beautiful home to us.

We send our sincere thanks to you lovely ladies who took the afternoon to show us a wonderful time, and appreciate, again, another memorable experience.

Texas' gross agricultural income increases

Texas' gross 1988 agricultural income advanced moderately over the previous year, with farm and ranch cash receipts totaling about $10.95 billion.

Dr. Carl G. Anderson, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said these receipts are expected to keep Texas in second place behind California among all states based on 1988 farm receipts.

He said that farming and ranching in Texas, when compared to most other states, remains favorable.

"Texas ranks first in sales of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, goats and mohair, cotton, value of farm real estate, number of farms and ranches, and farm and ranch land," Anderson said.

He said that although the drought changed the 1988 income picture somewhat, crop sales last year increased sharply with livestock receipts also posting a sizeable gain.

"Government payments also remained large, but farm expenses increased slightly to hold net income in line with the improved 1987 levels," Anderson said.

He said that other factors influencing last year's cash receipts were a marked increase in grain prices and a large cotton crop that boosted overall crop sales substantially.

"In addition, higher cattle, broiler and wool prices and strong dairy and poultry marketings increased livestock sales somewhat. Receipts from nursery plants, eggs, sheep, aquaculture and outdoor recreation slowed, while income from hunting leases and horses edged upward," Anderson said.

He said farm assets in Texas, including land, buildings, machinery, crops and livestock on hand, and farm financial assets, total about $78 billion, down from a peak of $108 billion in 1984.

Anderson said the state currently has 156,000 farms that average 846 acres.

Looking ahead, Anderson said that 1989 farm income for Texas is expected to slow somewhat.

"The brightest 1989 spot for farmers and ranchers is expected to be beef cattle operations, and since cattle make up about 45 percent of Texas agriculture, the benefits from favorable cattle sales should reach into most of the state," he said.

The economist predicted that beef will continue to face stiff competition from large pork and poultry supplies, however. Broiler firms are continuing to increase production and dairy output also is expected to show continued expansion.

On the crop side, Anderson said the 1989 wheat crop has been severely reduced by adverse weather. With increased acreage of corn, sorghum, rice and cotton, prices for these crops likely will be somewhat lower by harvest.

Anderson said that in regard to cotton, abundant stocks and weak demand are expected to cause prices to decline slightly. For rice, expansion of global production will likely soften the market for Texas growers.

"Adequate supplies of crops and total meats are expected to push 1989 agricultural cash receipts for Texas below those of the fairly strong showing of 1988," Anderson said.

Electric safety is looking up...

On the farm, on the job or at home, you should always be aware of power lines. Touching a power line with anything... an irrigation pipe, tool, a kite string... could divert the electricity through you causing serious injury or death. For safety's sake, look up for power lines.

AND, REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be carefull when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Beware of exposed wires.

A SAFETY MESSAGE FROM SPS

Golden Acres®

GOLDEN ACRES . . . recommends the following varieties for ghost acres in the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle.

- T-E 35 Red, medium early with maximum drought resistance for dryland. Short, uniform, excellent standability. Good yield potential for maturity.
- T-E EMPIRE Medium maturing Biotype E resistant, hetero yellow recommended for dryland or limited irrigation. Slightly shorter than T-E Y-101-R with comparable head exertion.
- T-E Y-60 Yellow-white cross, extremely drouthy. Medium maturing with good seedling vigor and emergence. High yields under favorable conditions. Not recommended for full irrigation and intensive farming practices due to above average height under these conditions.
- T-E Y-75 Biotype E resistant medium red. Stay green strong stalk. Big yield potential under limited or full irrigation.
- T-E Y-101-G Biotype C resistant, medium late. A popular choice because it combines a short, strong stalk with record yields under favorable conditions. Recommended for irrigation.

Tornado touches down in Oklahoma Lane

There were some wild weather stories in the news this past week including a tornado that damaged three houses in Muleshoe, and large hail and flooding in several neighboring towns.

Luckily, Farwell and Texico had only a touch of the really nasty weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Haseloff reported that they had a tornado touch down on their property in Oklahoma Lane on Saturday, but there was no serious damage to their home or farm buildings.

"Things got pretty wild around here about 4:45 Saturday afternoon," said Laurie Haseloff. "The tornado touched down on our land, but not near the house. It killed some of our cotton and corn, but it wasn't near the house or barn. We are just thankful it didn't hit the house."

Mrs. Haseloff was not sure if the tornado she saw was the same one that touched down in Muleshoe. She said that she and her husband heard it coming, and watched it head south before it fell apart.

Nobody expected a tornado Saturday. The sun was shining, and it wasn't even raining when the tornado struck.

Mrs. Haseloff said that just before the tornado struck there had been a hired hand hoeing cotton in a field south of where the tornado touched down. Luckily, he jumped into a ditch before it arrived.

The Haseloffs noticed the roaring sound before they actually saw the funnel cloud coming out of the sky.

"At first it was real big, then it went down to a little whirlwind," said Mrs. Haseloff.

A neighbor told Mrs. Haseloff that he saw the funnel cloud form near the Mesman property, and then touch down on the Haseloff property.

Yalonda McFarland reported that she and her husband, Lonnie, saw the tornado from the Sherley Anderson Grain elevator in Lariat. "We saw it, but it didn't bother us where we were at," she said.

Mrs. McFarland reported that there was .38" of rain near the elevator. There was no hail damage in her immediate area.

The Haseloffs reported that they had about half an inch of moisture over the weekend.

Mrs. Sam Billingsley also reported about 1/2" of moisture in Oklahoma Lane.

Dana Murrell reported that there was some slight hail damage in the Lazbuddie area. She said that about 1/2" of rain fell near the Sherley Grain elevator where she works.

In Farwell, Bobbie McFarland reported about .2" of moisture at the Sherley Anderson Pittman elevator.

South of town, there was some hail damage at the Orrie

Jones farm. "We lost about 20 percent of our wheat according to our insurance agent," said Mrs. Jones. "It stripped our corn pretty bad, too, but I think it will come back."

Mrs. Jones reported high winds and about 1.2" of rainfall this weekend on their property.

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County Sheriff Rex Williams:

On June 1, Joe Valero, Jr., 22, of Farwell pled guilty in 287th District Court with Judge Jack D. Young presiding to a charge of violation of probation on 2 counts of burglary. He was sentenced to 8 years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

On June 1, Lupe Izaguirre, Jr., 18, Friona, pled guilty in 287th District Court to violation of probation on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. He was sentenced by Young to 3 years in the Texas Department of Corrections Bootcamp.

On June 1, Jose Guadalupe Caro, 25, Friona, pled guilty to a charge of aggravated assault. Young fined Caro $300, restitution, and 3 years probation.

On June 1, Jesus Romero, 19, of Friona pleaded guilty to aggravated assault in 287th District Court. He was fined $300, restitution, and 4 years probation.

On June 2, Loy Dean Stanberry, 40, Bovina, was arrested by the Texas Highway Patrol on a charge of DWI. He pled guilty before County Judge Porter Roberts, and was fined $250, court costs and 3 days in jail.

On June 6, Linda Martinez, 27, Clovis, was arrested by the Sheriff's office in conjunction with Texico Marshal Brent Byrum. Martinez was charged with forgery and passing. She was arraigned by the Justice of the Peace Albert Smith. Bond was set at $2,000. Case is pending before the grand jury.

On June 6, Julie Delgado, 19, Clovis was arrested by the Sheriff's Office and Texico Marshal Brent Bryrum on a charge of forgery and passing. She was arraigned before Smith. Bond was set at $2,000. Case is pending before the grand jury.
