Farwell School building OK'd

The Farwell School Board Tuesday got the ball rolling on its building project.

It agreed to sign a contract with Monterey Construction Co., Wolforth, Texas, for $2.39 million. Work may start next week.

Planned are new classrooms at all three school campuses plus a new gym. The project will cost about $55 a square foot.

The board had held a special meeting May 20, at which time it tentatively approved hiring Monterey after various changes were made to lower the construction cost.

Supt. Richard Boothby said the main changes were:

1. Eliminate a new parking lot, at savings of $54,000. This can be built later.
2. Use PVC pipe for plumbing, rather than copper tubing called for in the original specifications.

3. Use PVC pipe for the sewer line, rather than cast iron.

4. Use a 50-ton air conditioning unit for the new gym, rather than a 7-ton unit. A 70-ton unit would have had the gym cool immediately if the temperature reached 110 degrees, for example.

5. Change the gym ceiling from gypsum to metal.

Boothby emphasized that the board wanted to maintain quality and keeping the square footage the same. For example, the terrazo floors and glazed walls in the hall-ways will be kept.

Earlier this year, the community approved a $1.5 million bond issue. With other funds on hand, the board felt it had about $1.8 million to spend.

What the board is now doing is using virtually all its available funds to get the project going.

Farwell was fortunate in receiving a lot more state aid ($3,000 per student) because its enrollment is up.

Two years ago, the Average Daily Attendance was at 448. This school year (on Dec. 9), it was 506.

Vets' memorial to be dedicated

The dedication of the Parmer County Veterans' Memorial will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at Farwell City Park.

The memorial contains the names of 34 Parmer County servicemen who died in the service to their nation.

The program was organized by Tom Shumate, Ralph Franse, Mike Ratke and Dutch Kiquel.

Master of ceremonies will be Paul Fortenberry, former Parmer County judge, of Friona. His son, James Richard Fortenberry, is one of the 34 servicemen who are listed on the memorial.

An honor guard from the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Friona will present the colors.

The national anthem will be played by Alan and Kerry Finney, a trumpet duet.

Rev. Edward Greenthaner, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church in Lariat will give the invocation.

The list of those to be honored will be read by:

- Webb Gober, World War II
- Ralph Franse, Korean War
- John Duke, Vietnam

A 21-gun salute will be offered by airmen from Cannon Air Force Base. Taps will be played.

A reception will follow, with refreshments provided by Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Free copies of a State Line Tribune 4-page special section featuring background and photos of the servicemen to be honored will be available. Three hundred extra copies of the paper are being printed.

The monument was built by Wallace Monument Co., of Clarendon, Texas.

Texico asks city marshal to resign

The Texico City Council reportedly is asking City Marshal Fry Urioste to resign.

In other business, the council:

- Heard councilmen Oran Jay Autrey and Carolyn Burrows report they have received phone calls from residents about dangerous dogs running loose. One mother said her two children were pinned by two large dogs and managed to escape by scaling a wall.

The council asked its police officers to enforce the city ordinance, which includes fines for owners of animals running loose and the fact that vicious dogs can be destroyed.

Farwell's proposal to allow Texico to use its animal pound is being studied by Duane Hamar, Texico's city attorney, and

We must remember

I thought a guest column would be proper this week - from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs:

President Lincoln signed legislation in 1862 establishing national cemeteries.

Memorial observances for honoring the war dead began in the mid-1860's in Columbus, Ga.; Columbus, Miss.; Waterloo, N.Y., and Carbondale, Ill.

Apparently inspired by President Lincoln's attendance as speaker at Carbondale, Gen. (ret.) John Logan as Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, the private organization representing Union veterans, issued a general order on May 5, 1868 establishing a nationwide Decoration Day on May 30.

Among the benefits service to their country earned them is the honor of burial in one of the 114 national cemeteries administered by the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Nationwide, more than two million Americans rest in national cemeteries, soldiers lots, Confederate cemeteries and monuments. Overseas, in 24 American Battle Monuments' cemeteries, 125,000 Americans are buried.

In Texas, VA national cemeteries at El Paso, Houston, Kerrville, and San Antonio conducted 5,558 burials last year.

Women veterans, spouses and certain dependents are buried in national cemeteries. The first woman service member buried was Florena Budwin of Michigan who, disguised as a man, had followed her soldier husband to war. He fell in battle and as a Confederate prisoner she nursed sick prisoners until her death. While Budwin was buried in special circumstances, Congress in 1948 made official the precedents and traditions in eligibility of spouses and dependent children for national cemetery burial.

Special headstones featuring gold lettering mark the gravesites of the 305 recipients of the Medal of Honor buried in VA national cemeteries.

Memorial Day reminds us that this nation deeply appreciates its defenders of freedom.

We go to a lot of local school banquets, but Lazbuddie's athletic banquet is in a class by itself.

They do such a super job that I just shake my head when I get there. How can such a small school put on such a super affair?

This year, they went to serving the steak dinner in sit-down style, like the Farwell Chamber of Commerce who are All-State candidates, in athletics or academic athletics.

Leland Brockman and Matt Cozby will be playing in the 6-Man All-Star football game in July. Scisson will coach the team, assisted by Gary Grahn and Shelly Kay.

Among the school's athletic achievements during the year:

Honored were, in back, golf MVPs Dawnda Magby and Matt Elliott; in front, tennis MVPs Tisha Orozco and Don Burch.

Honored were, in back, football - Leland Brockman, top defensive back; Brett Thomas, MVP, and Matt Cozby, top defensive lineman; in front, Mario Zamora, top offensive back, and Jon Colby Miller, Golden Helmet award.

- Jon Colby Miller won state in the pole vault with a leap of 15-0. Since Lazbuddie doesn't have a vaulting pit, Scisson took him to Springlake-Earth during the season to practice.
- The football team went 13-1, making it to the state semi-finals. Matt Cozby and Brett Thomas made All-State 1st team and Leland Brockman was All-State honorable mention.
- Both the boys' and girls' golf teams won district. And both the boys' and girls' track teams won district.
- The boys' basketball team made the playoffs. Mario Zamora was named a 6-Man Coaches All Star Basketball Alternate.

Banter

has begun doing. It went extremely well.

The decorations were personalized - just outstanding, and really added to the occasion.

But what I especially enjoyed is how the coaches talked about the different athletes, especially the seniors, which, again, personalized the affair and made it extra special.

At Lazbuddie's banquet, all the student athletes are honored for their achievements. That isn't always the case at other schools.

I want to compliment the Lazbuddie Booster Club, headed by Melvin Morris, and the school officials who put together the event. Like I said, it's in a class by itself.

Congratulations to David Wallace, the new youth minister at Texico's First Baptist no action has been taken on this yet.

- Placed on its agenda for the next meeting the used car lot that has been set up next to Town & Country convenience store. City Clerk Marie Christian said the vehicles were put there by Ronnie Chumley. She said the business registration fee of $15 per year is still needed. Hamar noted the area is zoned commercial.

- Accepted the lone bid it received for cemetery maintenance, from High Plains Ground Maintenance. They will charge $325 for 4 work days (4 mowings during the regular season, plus winter maintenance if necessary).

- Was told that Clovis building inspectors have gotten a copy of Texico's building ordinances. Discussion has started about using Clovis inspectors for Texico's ordinances. Currently, the state handles the chore.

- Opened audit proposals. Texico has to abide by strict state guidelines. Even though the majority of Texico officials preferred a local CPA, the council, due to a point system, chose Rice & Associates, Albuquerque. Texico had been using De'Aun Willoughby CPA, Melrose, but state law precluded her from bidding again since she had had the post for several years.

Some VBS plans change

Some area churches have changed their Vacation Bible School plans to adjust to the fact that some Farwell students will be attending summer school this year. The Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church will hold its Bible School during July. The Church of Christ will hold its Bible School late in July, and it will not be the same as previous years.

Farwell Feed Yards shares honor

Farwell Feed Yards and its parent company, AzTx Cattle Co., have lowered work-related injury costs by 30 percent from 1991 to 1992 through carefully managing care provided to each injured employee and by implementing a safety incentive program.

For its dramatic health care cost reductions, AzTx Cattle Co. is winner of the first annual Merck/National Managed Health Care Congress Partnership Award, given recently in Washington, D.C.

AzTx safety director Tull Bailey said the company's efforts at reducing worker injury costs began in earnest in May 1991 when there Hereford-based company became a non-subscriber to the workers' compensation system in Texas, where about 85 of the feeder's 145 employees are located. The Texas workers' compensation system has become too costly for many of the state's businesses to continue to participate so many firms, like AzTx, opted to become non-subscribers. So AzTx contracted with OccuSystem's AIM (active injury/illness management) program. In the 12 months prior to starting the OccuSystems' plan, AzTx paid $75,812 for workers compensation, compared to $53,154 for the 12 months after the plan's inception. Total claims for the year before the plan were 85 compared to 75 for the following year. Cost per injured employee was reduced to $415 from $592.

Bailey said AzTx was able to put together a plan that meets government rules and is the same or better than the Texas plan. Here's how it works: in the first 10 days following an injury, the firm pays 100 percent of wages and all medical costs. After the first 10 days, if the employee is not back to work, the firm asks him to sign a release, then the firm will pay 100 percent of wages for the next 20 days and all medical costs for the first full year after the injury. After the first year, the firm's disability policy will pay 67 percent of wages for 402 weeks.

Bailey said the company hasn't had an employee out for more than 30 days since the program started in 1991. He credits OccuSystems with helping employees get back to work faster.

Another part of the AzTx program is a safety incentive plan. The company came up with a ballpark figure for what injuries cost the company per employee each quarter. That figure is multiplied by the number of workers (excluding managers and clerical employees) at each feed yard to get the amount allocated to the safety incentive program for the quarter.

If there are no injury costs during the quarter, the entire amount is split between the participating employees based on how many days they worked that quarter. During quarters in which injury costs are incurred, the costs are deducted from the total amount and the remainder is allocated to employees.

Bailey said this gives Farwell Feed Yards' employees a strong financial incentive for keeping safety in mind while they work.

Employee of the Month

Mary Lee Mitzelfelt, who works at the ASCS office in Farwell, was chosen as Employee of the Month by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce for May. She is shown receiving the trophy from Chamber member Tom Shumate.

Memorial Day

Lest We Forget!

A day to remember, to reflect upon the price so dearly paid for freedom.

It is a day rich in history and emotion. Established three years after the Civil War, it was originally called Decoration Day ... when graves of friend and foe alike were honored. Those with no one to mourn their passing were not overlooked; they too were remembered for the enormous price paid for liberty and justice for all.

Our country is politically stalwart today because these Americans invested all they had - their lives - in America. Their investment returns security, freedom, and human dignity to the living every day.

Americans cannot abandon the justice and freedom for which these brave men and women have fought and died. Spend a moment remembering.

James R. Fortenberry

James Richard Fortenberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fortenberry, was born in Amarillo. His parents moved to Friona where he was raised. He graduated from the Oklahoma Military Academy in 1968 and joined the U.S. Army in September 1969.

He was assigned to the 15th Medical Battalion of the 1st Cavalry in Vietnam. He was "crew chief" on a "MEDEVAC" helicopter when he died Sept. 24, 1970.

He was awarded the Distinguished Flying cross, the Air Medal with 7 through 8 Award, the Army Commendation Medal, Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Campaign Medal, Aircraft Crewman Badge (Wings), and Republic of Vietnam Armed Forced Honor Medal.

The "MEDEVAC" motto is "so that others may live," will also be remembered in Spec. 4 Fortenberry.

Harold R. Crook

Harold R. Crook, son of French and Nellie Crook of Bovina, attended Bovina Schools. He was killed in action on June 15, 1952, during the Korean War. He was 24 years old.

He was drafted into the U.S. Army and entered with a group of young men from the Alpine, Texas, area. He wrote home expressing anxiety about the huge man sleeping in the bunk over him. It was later found that this man was Dan Blocker who later was a star of the TV show "Bonanza."

Crook was assigned to Company I of the 45th Infantry Division. His company was shipped out to Hokkaido, Japan, and eventually on to Korea.

He had attained the rank of Sergeant First Class and was killed when his bunker sustained a direct hit. His location was overtaken by the North Koreans and it was some time before they were forced out and the casualties were discovered.

Crook's name also appears on a memorial erected in the city of El Paso, Texas, and dedicated to the soldiers killed in the Korean War from the El Paso area.

He was buried in April 1954 in Bovina Cemetery, next to his brother, Richard, who was killed in 1948 in a truck accident between Portales and Roswell, N.M.

Ples L. New

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. New, formerly of Friona, were informed in July 1944 that their son, Ples LeGrande New, met his death in France on July 8. New was connected with the local Farmer's Elevator before entering service.

In March 1942, he entered service and was assigned to Camp Barkeley, Texas for training with the 90th Division, 358th Infantry, following which he went to California in 1943 for desert training.

Just two years after his entry into the Army, he sailed with the 90th for England, and was there one month before joining in the invasion of France on June 6. A short six weeks later, Sgt. New met his death by enemy action. He was 37.

Rex McElroy

In March 1942, Parmer County's casualty list was started when Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McElroy, formerly of Farwell, received word that their son, Rex, was believed lost along with other members of the crew on the submarine "Shark".

The War Department's communique revealed that the Shark was more than 30 days overdue, and was presumed lost in the Far East.

E M 2-C McElroy was a Navy man of some years, having served one 4-year hitch on the "Texas" and "Nevada", and then entering the submarine branch, where he had three years of training at a sub base before war was declared.

He would have been 28 years of age in July 1942.

H. Macyl Roberts

Entering service on March 15, 1942, Herman Macyl Roberts served overseas from July that same year to Feb. 19, 1944, when he was reported killed in action in the battle for Eniwetok Island, which came to a successful end three days later.

According to information received by Mrs. H.W. Roberts of Lascar, Colo., PFC Roberts was buried at Japtan, in the South Pacific.

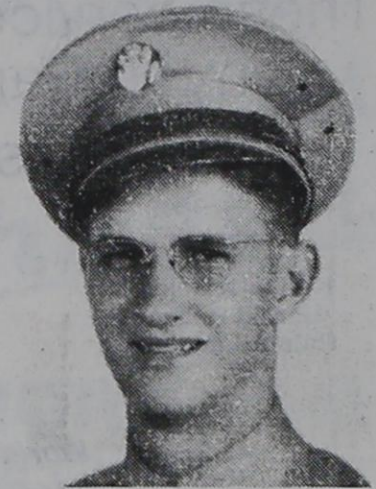

His first overseas assignment was to Wallace Island in the Samoa group, where he was stationed for 16 months. From there, Roberts went to the Hawaiian Islands, serving from October 1943, to January 1944. His last letter came from Hawaii. His movements are then unknown until Feb. 17, 1944, when he took part in the Battle for Engibi Island.

Nathaniel E. Taylor

Drowning claimed the life of young Pvt. Nathaniel E. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Taylor of Friona, when he was swimming in the San Marcos River near San Marcos, Texas. The accident occurred on April 28, 1944.

Taylor entered the Army at Fort Sill on May 28, 1943, and shortly thereafter was sent to Sheppard Field, and later to Kelley Field. On Nov. 1, he was moved to San Marcos, where he entered the Air Corps navigation school.

Loyd Reiser

An unexpected tragedy of war took the life of Sgt. Loyd Reiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Reiser, on May 14, 1944.

Flying in formation with other C-47 transport planes, over Italy, Reiser was killed when his plane collided with two others in the formation. Thirteen young Americans went to their deaths in the crash.

Reiser was engaged in farming north of Bovina for some time, and had attended the Bovina, Rhea and Friona schools. He volunteered for the Air Force on Dec. 28, 1941.

Burial was in the Mt. Sopranio Military Cemetery, not far from Rome, Italy.

William J. Palmer

Pvt. Williams J. Palmer lost his life in an accident, the nature of which is not known, on April 25, 1944, after he had been in the European Theater of Operations for one year. He went overseas on April 24, 1943.

At the age of 20, he enlisted on May 19, 1942, and received his training at Camp Barkley, Texas, where he was assigned to the 745th Tank Battalion. His burial plot is unknown.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Palmer, Route 1, Friona, Texas.

J.R. Caldwell, Jr.

A Christmas holiday which ended in a plane crash in the mountains of New Mexico on Dec. 26, 1942, was responsible for the death of 2nd Lt. J. R. (June) Caldwell, Jr., after he and his cousin, Staff Sgt. Maxwell M. Caldwell of San Antonio, had spent Christmas in the home of the J. R.'s parents near Farwell.

Apparently out of control, the plane crashed in the Mogollon range shortly after clearing Roswell, enroute to Williams Field, Ariz., where the young men were stationed. Heavy snows covered all traces of the crash and the bodies until the following fall.

Oran Brown

A resident of Lariat, he died in the Philippine Islands during World War II.

Attorneys and Counselors at Law - - Farwell, Texas

In honor of Parmer County servicemen who perished in service to their country

Claude I. Gober

Lt. Claude Isom Gober, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.I. Gober of Farwell, was born on Aug. 3, 1920, near Frederick, Okla., and died in the crash of a B-17 plane near Wargrave, England on Nov. 13, 1943.

Affectionately known as "Buzz", the young man grew up in the Oklahoma Lane community, joining the AAF in August, 1944. He trained as a bombardier on a B-17 at Ellington Field, Houston, and Big Spring, receiving his commission in April, 1943, leaving the States in September of that year.

His death was one of unaccountables of war. According to a letter from Sampson Sharff, who ordinarily served as co-pilot in the crew with Gober, the B-17 started out on an operational mission, and while over Britain went into a spin that carried most of the crew to death.

Gober, as bombardier, could have released the plane's bombs and possibly saved some lives, but the bombs would have struck a small English town, and the ship went down with its load of explosives.

Kenneth W. Bainum

Kenneth Wade Bainum, was born March 25, 1930. He died in an Air Force plane crash on Aug. 18, 1964, during the Vietnam War.

He was the son of Charles and Tina Bainum. He is buried in Friona Cemetery.

Ira B. Bengner

Capt. Ira B. Bengner, of Friona, was killed in an accident which occurred at Biggs Field, El Paso.

He graduated from Friona High in 1937 and attended Texas Tech until he joined the Air Force in 1940.

He was stationed at Santa Maria, Calif., for primary training, and at Moffett Field, Calif. for basic. He graduated from the Stockton, Calif. base in May, 1941, with honors, receiving his second lieutenant commission. He returned to Moffett Field as instructor and later transferred, with the school, to La Moore Field as flight commander.

He volunteered into the B-17 school at Siebling, Fla., qualifying as pilot for all types of planes and upon completion of his work there was stationed at Tucson, as instructor with the B-17. From Tucson, he went to Pueblo, Colo., to instruct in the new school for B-24 pilots, and became a first pilot.

Everett L. Gee

PFC Everett Louis Gee, of the U.S. Marines, gave his life in action against the Japanese on the island of Peliliu, in the Palau group, on Sept. 28, 1944. He was 20 years of age at the time of his death.

Gee, son of Mrs. F.R. Barber of Bovina, and husband of Julia Hardage Gee, entered the service at San Diego, and was sent to overseas duty on April 18, 1944.
