BTD signups under way

Well, folks, it's getting to be THAT time of year again: Border Town Days is coming.

Several points to make now:
- Our committee has only one nomination for Pioneers of the Year. We began this honor in 1986 and it has worked out well. If you know any old-timers to be nominated, please get something to me in writing before July 1. The criteria are easy: how long they have lived in the Twin Cities and how they have contributed to our community.

- Tickets are available at local businesses for the annual pickup giveaway, sponsored this year by the Texico Fire Department. Tickets cost $20. There will be three prizes given; in addition to the pickup, prizes of $200 and $300 cash will be given.
- It's time to sign up for the concessions at the Day in the Park. This is only open to local non-profit groups. I can tell you from experience that our groups make great profits at BTD - so get your group involved. Call Cynthia Thigpen at Farwell City Hall, 481-3620, for information.

I get into a lot of trouble when I turn down non-area groups, but I think our guidelines are correct. This activity is a major fund-raiser for many of our local groups.

- I'm told that our BTD parade is the best one for any community between Lubbock and Albuquerque. That's great to hear and is an honor for the Twin Cities.

Has your business signed up? Has your group signed up? Let's get on the stick. Call Leigh Ann Woods at Kirkland CPA to sign up: 481-3321. And remember - we offer cash prizes for the top winners, courtesy of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

And what about class and family reunions. You'll need a float in the parade, right? So far, we've only heard from one: Farwell Class of 1982.

- Do you have any ugly, really filthy, dirty vehicle? It should be perfect for the Ugly Vehicle Contest.

Before BTD, stop by Farwell Farm Supply and see Lori Haseloff to sign up. The winner gets $25.

The crowd loves this contest - so please participate if you "qualify."

- Are you an artisan? Do you have any homemade arts and crafts to sell? It's time to sign up by calling Lynn Mahaney, Farwell postmaster, at 481-3601.

Don't be shy - join in the fun!

- The queen's contest is a

On June 25, the contestants will meet for a pizza and sash party. The time and place for this will be announced at the Coke party.

The committee plans to see "Billy the Kid" at San Jon. They also plan to schedule individual appointments for complete beauty makeovers and Imaging at Vogue Beauty College for the contestants.

On July 16, the contestants will participate in a style show at North Plains Mall in Clovis at 7 p.m. cdt.

On July 22, the Queen contestants will meet for dinner and for the rehearsal for BTD talent. Time will be announced later.

On July 23, the contestants will meet for dinner with the contest judges and for talent judging. All of the judges will be from out of town. All of the contestants will vote for "Miss Congeniality."

Each contestant will perform her talent and each will have an interview with the judges. Final judging will be made on the basis of poise, personality, beauty, talent, and the interview. Much of the judging will take place on July 23.

On July 25 the contestants will participate in the Bordertown Days Parade and the final festivities at the park including the $300 scholarship which will be given to the winner.

The parade will begin at 11 a.m. cdt. The talent contest will take place after lunch. Contestants will be given complete instructions concerning the parade and final festivities.

Committee members will be available to answer questions, guide and support contestants. This year's BTD Queen's Committee includes: Vicki Bowery, Karen Britten, Gail Byrum, Kelly Byrum, Susan Scioli and Evelyn Warmuth. Committee chairman is Shandra McIntosh.

Most Texico staffers to get pay raises

The Texico School Board Tuesday approved the 1992-93 budget.

School Supt. R.L. Richards said the budget has no major changes when compared to last year's.

The staff, excluding those teachers at the top of the salary schedule, will get 1.2% salary hikes. Those at the top of the schedule and administrators will not receive any increase.

Sheriff: Farwell needs an officer

The Farwell City Council met with Parmer County Sheriff Rex Williams Tuesday to discuss police protection in the city.

City officials have has been split for many years on whether to hire a police officer. From comments made Tuesday, Mayor Wendol Christian and councilman John Carlson oppose it, while councilmen Martin Kube and Pat Howard favor it. Other councilmen are Royce Bethel and James Chadwick.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the council decided to ask the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to study the situation and make a recommendation.

Also discussed was the possibility of holding a citywide referendum.

Sheriff Williams said Farwell needs its own police officer. He said about 70 percent of the calls his department gets are from Farwell residents. He noted another recent rash of windows being shot out and lots of calls complaining of drag racing. "We had over 30 hours of calls in Farwell in May," he said.

Williams noted that shots were fired recently in Farwell and it took 15 minutes for a deputy to get to the scene. "My worry is that something bad will happen here and liability may be a problem for the city," he said.

The sheriff said he won't permit his deputies to work overtime as a Farwell police officer, saying they need their time off. He also said none of his current staff would want to do it. This was in response to Christian's question over whether the city could hire a sheriff's deputy to work locally on overtime.

"It would be better for Farwell to hire an officer rather than for me to have another deputy," Williams said. A Farwell officer would help cut down on the shot-out windows and drag racing, for example.

Williams said he has been paying a lot of overtime money due to the Farwell calls and his budget is running short. He said this may result in his department not being able to respond to some calls now, like about drag racing. However, he would continue to respond to calls involving burglaries.

The mayor said the city doesn't have the money available to begin a police department and extra revenue would be needed. Estimates ranged from $35,000 to $100,000.

Councilman Howard said he has taken an informal survey the past few weeks, interviewing 45 city residents.

As for their view of city services, he said 43 gave the city good marks.

On having a city police officer: citizens voted 24 yes, 5 no and 2 undecided; businessmen voted 7 yes, 2 no and 2 undecided; and 1 wanted part-time aid.

In other business, the council:

- Voted to have a cleanup drive before Border Town Days. It will culminate July 11 when the roll-off at the landfill can be used free of charge for city residents.

- Approved a carport at 303 8th St.

- Was told that Donal Engram wants to beautify the railroad-owned land across First Street from City Hall. Santa Fe approval is being sought. Engram asked the city to contribute some funds to buy small shrubs. The council will talk with Engram about this.

- Approved a Farwell Chamber of Commerce request to use the city park for a memorial honoring Parmer County war dead. It tentatively would be placed facing 3rd Street.

- Accepted the only bid it received for street repair, from Eastwood Construction, at $34,197. In favor were Christian (breaking a 2-2 tie), Kube and Howard. Opposed were Carlson and Bethel. Chadwick wasn't present.

Carlson and Bethel wanted to postpone awarding a bid because the council has been checking into a new technology called micro-surfacing, which is more expensive but lasts a lot longer. The council will continue to look into micro-surfacing before next year's street repair program.

- Waived a fee for the Border Town Days Committee to use the Farwell Community Center for its annual dinner and judging preliminaries.

- Officially agreed to sponsor the Border Town Days portion that is in Farwell. This was done to provide the BTD committee with city insurance. There is no extra cost involved.

Parmer rural roads to be numbered

The Parmer County Commissioners Monday discussed the upcoming numbering for rural roads.

In order to help firefighters and police find rural addresses through the 911 emergency system, rural roads will be numbered and each house given an address.

Pamela Nielsen, a representative of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission who has been involved in setting up the 911 system here attended the commissioners' meeting. She will help direct the addressing effort in Parmer County.

The first step the county will take is to get feedback from various groups, such as the volunteer fire departments and EMS units, on how the numbering should be.

In other business, the commissioners:

- Decided to seek bids on carpeting the second floor of the courthouse.

- Renewed its health insurance for county employees with Blue Cross / Blue Shield.

Texico discusses trailer situations

Mobile home problems were discussed at Tuesday's Texico City Council meeting.

Although a variance was denied to Ralph Autrey Sr. in April to place two mobile homes on Hutson, it was reported a trailer house had been moved there. City Attorney Duane Hamar was asked to check on it.

Hamar reported there's nothing to prevent a trailer from being put there as long as no one is living there. If folks live there, it can be removed.

City Clerk Treasurer Marie Christian reported Autrey had told her he had sold the trailer and the folks who bought it are renovating it and will move it later. Texico Marshal Fry Urioste said he had been in it and it's not liveable.

No action, therefore, was taken.

The other problem involved a trailer owned by Ralph Autrey Jr. It involves a setback problem, apparently being too close to Phil Black's property line on Turner Street.

The council voted to send a registered letter to Autrey Jr. telling him he had 30 days to either get the trailer up to the city's aesthetic standards or to remove it.

In other business, the council:

- Heard Kirk Roberts, head of the Texico Community Activities Organization, say that $900 has been raised toward the $2,500 needed to buy fireworks for the planned 4th of July celebration. A garage sale is planned to help raise funds this weekend.

When the TCAO meets Tuesday, if the $2,500 isn't raised, there's a strong chance the fireworks show will be cancelled, Roberts said.

- Heard Roberts say he is checking into available state grants for a community building.

- Heard that the 7 tables the city had loaned the Chamber of Commerce for its annual banquet were damaged, apparently when being loaded for return. This apparently happened to many of the tables the Chamber borrowed, including those from the First Baptist Church.

It was reported that the Chamber will buy new tables. The Chamber is having a fund-raiser to get the money needed.

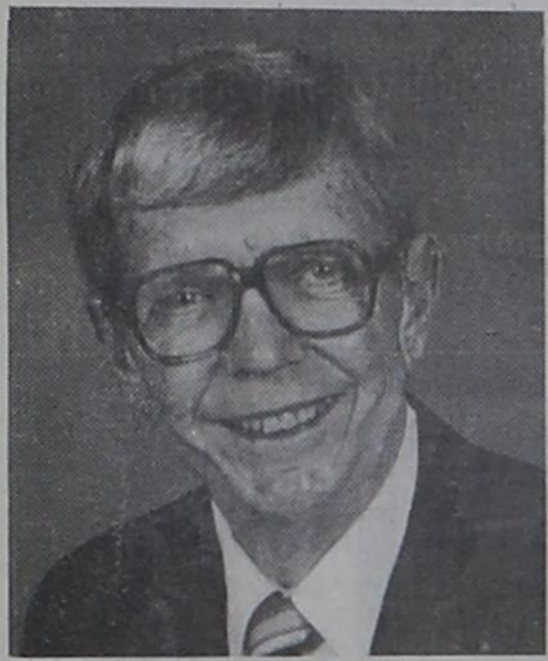

- Met with Hal Helton, of the Texico-Farwell Lions Club, to discuss plans to renovate Lions Park. Helton said after the city gets the ditches dug, club members will call for a work day to put the pine in, then get turf.

- Heard Mrs. Christian say that she won't know until July whether the city will have a budget deficit.

- Heard Mrs. Christian report that EPA officials will let the contract for monitoring the KKR well contamination about July 1. This will pin-

Texico

The city is anxious to find out the area since it is buying land from Clarence Brown at the corner of Anderson and Kindred streets for a new well for $14,000.

Since the well is being built with state CDBG funds, Hamar said full state guidelines must apply to getting the site. The 20 pages of guidelines include giving notice to the landowner of his rights, getting 3 appraisals, getting an environmental impact statement, having a public meeting, etc.

But, he said, if the Browns waive their rights in writing, it can go much quicker. He said the Browns are agreeable and he hopes to send their waivers to Santa Fe soon and get final approval in a few weeks.

- Heard councilman Oran Jay Autrey talk about trimming the large tree at KKR Park. The tree isn't dead but if several dead limbs can be removed, he said, the tree will sprout. He got one firm's estimate to do the work at $45 an hour for 5 to 7 hours. No action was taken.

- Waived the fee to use the Texico community center by a newly-formed Cub Scout pack, to be directed by a Clovis resident.

- Told city employees to prepare to start spraying for mosquitoes.

- Heard Roberts report a citizen's complaint of two large trailers parked off the street in the 800 block of Lamar, causing a visibility problem for her when she backs her car out of her driveway.

Roberts said the trailers are parked illegally, but can legally be moved into the street, taking up a big portion of Lamar and causing worse traffic problems.

Mrs. Burrows said the law must be enforced. So Roberts said the trailers will be ticketed.

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County Sheriff Rex Williams:

Three Farwell teens were charged with criminal mischief after an incident at the Farwell 8th grade dance at the Farwell Community Center in May.

Chief Deputy Don Hatley said the three boys were not allowed into the dance because they weren't 8th graders. So they went to the center's back door and got in. At least one of the boys climbed into the attic area but fell through the ceiling into the girls' restroom.

Damage to the center was estimated at $400. The case was worked by deputy Brent Byrum.

In other police news:

On June 6, Roberto Escamilla, 22, Friona, was arrested on a charge of DWI by Texas Highway Patrol. The case is pending in county court.

On June 6, Ebal Galan, 33, Canutillo, Texas, was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol on a traffic charge. He was fined $115.

On June 6, Francisco Galan III, 34, Amarillo, was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol on charges of possession of heroin and marijuana. The case is pending before the grand jury.

In 287th District Court, with Judge Jack Young presiding: Richard Garza, 18, Friona, who had been charged with sexual assault of a child, was sentenced to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

The Parmer County 4-H Horse Show will be held at 9 a.m. June 13 at the Lazbuddie Arena. Participants should contact Debra Redwine, 965-2845 for more details.

New principal looks ahead to Texico High

Texico's new high school principal, Carolyn Abell, will be taking a wait and see attitude before she makes any major changes at Texico High.

"I've heard it is a wonderful school," she notes. She was appointed to the post last week.

Mrs. Abell says she was impressed with the people she met here when she came for a job interview, and she is looking forward to meeting everyone. She plans to make several trips to Texico to become acquainted with the school and the community before she actually begins her work in July.

She has been an assistant high school principal in Artesia for six years.

Although Mrs. Abell's emphasis is on strengthening academic classes, she realizes that other things are also very important. Students need to be sufficiently well rounded that they gain experience in all subject areas as well as in extracurricular activities.

She mentioned the importance of sports and expressed the opinion that in smaller schools, sports helped to build a common bond.

One goal that Mrs. Abell expressed is that she hopes to "make the staff treat the student as a whole person."

Her experiences in drama and yearbook undoubtedly taught her that students have many demands upon their time and talents.

Mrs. Abell brings with her an impressive educational background. She earned her BA in English and Education from the College of Artesia in 1970, and she earned a Master of Education degree from Eastern New Mexico in Portales in 1979. She returned to ENMU in 1983 to add an administrators' certificate to her credentials.

She also brings 20 years of practical experience with her. Mrs. Abell taught for 14 years in Artesia before she became an assistant principal. Most of the time she worked as a high school English, drama, and speech teacher, and yearbook sponsor. She also worked as a 6th grade social studies teacher for 3 years at Zia Intermediate school in Artesia.

Assistant principals traditionally have the responsibility of working with discipline problems, and a school of 671 students can be challenging at times.

Mrs. Abell and her husband, Dan, may have to face a separation for a while.

Dan has been teaching 7th grade social studies in Artesia, and he will have to find another job before he can leave there. He will also have the task of preparing their home in Artesia for sale, while Mrs. Abell will the job of locating housing here.

The Abells have two sons, Scott, 20, a sophomore at Stephen F. Austin College, and Derek, 19, a sophomore at McMurry College.

Mrs. Abell's hobbies include reading historical fiction and romance novels, walking, bicycle riding, golf, and swimming. She said that she is not afraid to do some things that are out of the ordinary. She also collects ceramic and stuffed clowns.

Here's a look at the Lazbuddie School coaching situation:

basketball instead of all of the teams.

Isidro Galvan continues as head Cross Country coach and the girls track coach.

Girls' basketball will be coached by Shelley Kay, who has been the assistant coach at Temple. She will also coach tennis.
