Farwell City Commission - -

City Problems, Plans Hashed At Meeting

Farwell City Commission met Monday afternoon at 5 p.m. for the first time since election of a new mayor, Gil Patschke, and new city commissioner, Jim Berry. Fred Chandler returned to the Commission after being re-elected.

The new Commission has changed meeting dates from the last Friday of each month to the last Monday of each month and two weeks previous at 5 p.m. This way, the Commission will meet twice monthly, instead of once. The date change will make it much easier for news coverage to inform the citizens of Farwell of the city's business.

At Monday's meeting, Mayor Gil Patschke introduced several persons from Farwell and the surrounding area who, in turn, told the Commission what problems and plans they felt should have priority during the year.

Persons in attendance at the first meeting of the Commission were Mayor Patschke, Commissioners Chandler and Berry, Farwell City Clerk Janie Bowery, Bob Lydick of Clovis, John Guthals, Mack Heald, Lee Hutchins, V. C. Venable, John Getz and Janie Crane, all of Farwell.

Mayor Patschke opened the meeting by asking Guthals to discuss the city's rat problem with the Commission. Guthals said he felt the city's rat situation should be dealt with properly before it gets out of hand. He mentioned a situation in Bovina 12-14 years ago when the problem was almost uncontrollable.

Guthals said the main source of rats is at the city dump, but that they can be found in several other places around the Farwell area.

Although Guthals is currently working with rat problems for several individual concerns, he suggested that the Commission hire him at a cost of $30 per month to deal with the city's problem at the city dump.

After hearing Guthals' summation of the problem, the Commission approved hiring him to deal with the city's rat infestation.

Bob Lydick, licensed engineer from Clovis, spoke to the Commission on what steps to take concerning a paving project which has been carried over from the previous Commission's administration.

Lydick suggested the Commission mark a map of the city with the different types of paving which are already on the streets and where no paving exists.

He said the Commission would need to estimate how many places they are interested in improving before they can discuss costs, draining and methods of paving.

Farwell has several types of paving on city streets which includes some strip paving with no curb and gutter. Lydick said the Commission would have to be concerned with the grade on strip-paved streets in relation to paved streets in order to save money on the paving project.

Lydick also suggested that the Commission take him on a tour of the city so he could get a better idea of the situation. Mayor Patschke asked that the Commission do so as soon as possible.

After a lengthy discussion with Lydick on what steps to take concerning the paving project, Mack Heald, Parmer County Extension Agent, was asked to give further discussion on the rat problem.

Heald suggested a public awareness campaign to encourage public control of rats. He offered his services to the Commission in preparing an article on sanitary control of rats. John Getz, editor and publisher of the State Line Tribune, offered the Tribune's services in publishing the article.

V. C. Venable, Farwell city water superintendent, discussed projects planned during the earlier administration. He talked with the Commission about problems arising in the city's dumping system which will have to be met within the next two years. Venable also mentioned several requirements which need to be met on the city's wells.

Lee Hutchins, Farwell fire chief, met with the Commission concerning several suggestions the Fire Department has. First, Hutchins pointed out that the Department has 21 members who work without pay. He asked that the city give each Department member minimum water and sewer service with Department members paying everything over the first 2000 gallons.

He said stipulations for the members to receive this would be six months as an active Department member. If a member missed three unexcused meetings, the service would be cut off for six months before it started again.

Mayor Patschke said he thought the suggestion needed some thought by the Commission, so the request was tabled until further investigation is made by the Commission.

Hutchins presented a Fire Department budget to the Commission in the amount of $8,000 plus. Heretofore, the Department has asked the Commission for funds on a day-to-day basis. Hutchins asked that the Commission approve the budget.

Some discussion followed on the items included in the proposed budget, comparison of budgets from other cities and responsibility for fire department funds between the city and county.

Hutchins suggested that the Commission meet with Parmer County Commissioners to get raised the present county budget of $750 for the department. He suggested the Commission ask the county to pay at least one-fourth of the Department's proposed budget.

The current amount paid to Farwell Fire Department by Parmer County is used in fighting fires outside the city limits of Farwell, but inside the county. Hutchins said he felt the budget could be handled by the city better if a yearly contract was made with the county.

Hutchins' suggestion that the Commission accept the budget and talk it over with Parmer County Commissioners was taken under advisement. Action will be taken at a later date.

A final topic of discussion

EASTER SUNDAY is celebrated as the day Jesus Christ descended into Heaven. As Christians, we are renewed each year at this time by our belief that Christ died on the Cross to save us from sin. Gia Blain, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Blain of Texico, has heard the Easter story, but her young mind finds hunting Easter eggs and receiving Easter presents more tempting. She finds it hard to wait for this year's observance which is Sunday, April 22.

Interested In Pony League?

Little League needs all boys from Texico and Farwell between the ages of 13 and 15 interested in Pony League ball to be at Farwell High School baseball diamond Tuesday, April 24, at 6 p.m., says President Jim Walker.

Walker said team rosters and schedules are being worked on after the two-day draft Saturday and Monday, and will be released as soon as possible.

County Extension Agent Mack Heald.

Heald said some corn had already been planted, but that the bulk of the planting would be done this week. He added that the corn has got to go in before the first of May.

The estimated 45,000 acres which will be planted is a top figure. Several hundred acres are already in the ground, but the plants are no where near the two- and three-leaf stage they are usually in by now, Heald said.

The estimated corn acreage is slightly increased from last year's crop. Approximately 38,000 to 40,000 acres were planted last year.

Cabbage, onions and other vegetables have been planted in recent weeks. Cotton and milo are scheduled to be planted soon; by the last of this month or the first of May.

Farmers have been faced this year with a delayed planting season. It has taken longer this year to prepare the ground and, subsequently, to plant. Unusually wet weather has caused the delay, Heald said.

The new City Council of Farwell met Monday for its initial meeting since the recent election. In the future, the Farwell City Dads will convene on the last Monday of each month and two weeks previous at 5 p.m. in the City Hall building. For our weekly schedule, this is an improvement in time and will allow us to give our readers more information on the happenings in town.

One thing in which the new council is interested is the thoughts and views of the townsfolk. We will shortly have an advertisement in the paper asking residents to list their ideas of the most badly needed improvements.

Members are looking for suggestions that will enable them to establish a priorities system of attacking the local problems. There were a number of ideas discussed at this initial meeting but obviously a lot of information about the town must be collected and assimilated by the councilmen before they can establish new policy and goals.

The cooperation of all residents in this matter will be appreciated by the men you just elected to office.

Speaking of politics or elected representatives, we were fortunate enough to hear a talk by Wales Madden of Amarillo on the preliminaries attending the proposed new Texas Constitution. A commission has been created to draft ideas and hear from the people about their desires in rewriting the state constitution.

As might be expected, the great Panhandle area, numerically speaking, came out on the short end of membership in this 36-person commission. Madden is the only person from this area to be on this vital preliminary committee.

The State Constitutional Commission will hold 18 hearings around the state to get these regional views on this matter. The first meeting is Wednesday, April 25, at 9 a.m. in the Quality Motel in Amarillo.

This will be an excellent chance to put your thoughts on record concerning the shape of this vital work. Somehow the Texas Constitution will have to be completely rewritten or at the very least undergo a major revisioning. The present document has been in force for almost 100 years, and it may be that long before it is again changed. When you speak in terms of centuries you are speaking of very vital subjects for you and your children's children.

Folks in Parmer County are fortunate in having a man of Bill Clayton's stature as their State Representative. Bill is extremely well regarded by his legislative colleagues and he plans to run for the powerful post of Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives. We think he can make the grade. If he does, our legislative district will be signally honored in the state.

As with all things political, this Speaker's campaign will entail a lot of time and money. Bill promises to devote the time and he could use some money. Contributions will be welcome. Checks should be made out to Bill Clayton Speaker Fund and mailed to Dr. Bill Armistead, 716 E. 11th, Littlefield, Tex. 79339. Armistead is the chairman of this finance committee.

We cannot understand some people or politicians. We read where many of our more liberal eastern seaboard politicians have been very active in slashing the national defense budget and castigating the President for spending military money. BUT, we also read where these same political figures are wailing about the President's cruelty in shutting navy installations in their states.

We wish we could really pen an appropriate remark about this type of public hypocrisy but it actually leaves us wordless.

DOES YOUR FERTILIZER CONTAIN SULPHUR?

Smith Douglass Pelleform does!

You used to take sulfur for granted. You can't afford to anymore. Environmental controls have reduced the amount of sulfur in the air. You don't get carry-over you once did from sulfur dust insecticides and fungicides.

How can you economically furnish sulfur to your crop? Use Smith-Douglass Pelleform. It gives you not only nitrogen, phosphorus and potash but sulfur...plus Trel. Smith-Douglass' exclusive formula of trace elements. And it's all combined in every clean, green pellet. Pelleform's easy handling, even spreading.

Rely on Pelleform Bermuda Booster to produce high-yielding pasture. The sulfur in Bermuda Booster is important to cattle. The Texas Plant Food Institute Newsletter reports that sulfur helps control nitrate accumulation to minimize losses from grass tetany and nitrate poisoning.

Pelleform comes in a special analysis for peanuts. Extra amounts of calcium and potash help produce good yields of firm, heavy, high-quality nuts.

You'll like Pelleform. It's the kind of complete and balanced fertilizer you need to make money from farming today. Talk to your Smith-Douglass man!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I am seeking information about Art Names. During the 1930's and 1940's he operated a traveling tent show which I think played in this area. I am searching for information about him and his show with the ultimate hope of writing his biography.

I would like to hear from anyone who knew him who would be willing to correspond with me about their memories. I would also like to hear from anyone who might have pictures, letters, poems, or other memorabilia about Art Names or his troupe.

Sincerely,

"GOOD FRIDAY"

There has been much debate among theologians as to whether the Lord Jesus Christ was actually crucified on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday. Traditionally, of course, it is supposed to have taken place on Friday, but this writer has never been able to get very excited about such details. What matters is that Christ, the Creator, God in flesh, died in shame and disgrace and agony for sins He had never committed—for your sins and mine.
But have you ever considered that this in itself is not necessarily good news? Many an innocent person has died in the place of some guilty criminal who has gone free through some miscarriage of justice. We didn't see anything good about this. When St. Peter addressed his kinsmen he blamed them for the crucifixion of Christ, saying: "Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you...as ye yourselves also know...ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain" (Acts 2:22-23), and later he faced the Supreme Court of his nation and charged them with his death (Acts 4:5-11).
What then, was "good" about the death of Christ? Well, we come to this when we reach the Epistles of Paul in our Bibles. There the chief of sinners, saved by grace (1 Tim. 1:15), exclaims: "He gave Himself for me" (Gal. 2:20). He says: "God hath made Him to be sin for us...that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him" (11 Cor. 5:21). He does not blame us for Christ's death—though our sins helped to nail Him to that cross—but proclaims the glad news that: "We have redemption through His blood; the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7). And why did He do this for us? "That in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus" (Eph. 2:7).

So, for us who have trusted Christ as our Savior, the death of Christ at Calvary is indeed good news. We rejoice in it, sing about it, preach about it, and all it has accomplished for a lost humanity. Little wonder Paul declared: "God forbid that I should boast," except in one thing: "the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ" (Gal. 6:14).

CHANCEL DRAMA -- Mark Haseloff of Oklahoma Lane practices for the Good Friday Chancel Drama "At the Foot of the Cross" which will be presented tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat.

St. John's Lutheran Church in Lariat is having Holy Week services this week. Services Thursday at 8 o'clock were to use the theme "Christ, You're The Perfect Host". Maundy Thursday services were to include Holy Communion.

Tonight (Friday) the Youth League will present a Good Friday Chancel Drama "At the Foot of the Cross" beginning at 8 o'clock.

An Easter Breakfast is scheduled on Sunday from 6:30 to 8:45 a.m. The menu will include scrambled eggs, toast, bacon, pancakes, coffee and milk.

Sunday School will follow at 9:30 a.m. with Easter worship service at 10:30 a.m. The traditional Easter Egg Hunt will follow the worship service, according to Rev. Martin M. Platzer, pastor.

Former Aggies Will Muster On Saturday

Former students of Texas A&M in Parmer County will Muster April 21 to mark the passing of comrades and honor them.

They will meet at 7:30 p.m. at Clara's Spur Restaurant, reports Muster Chairman Mack Heald.

The Aggie Muster began April 21, 1903, and has been held annually ever since -- wherever A&M former students might find themselves on that day. Aggies have mustered on board ship, in foxholes on the battlefield, in the Swiss Alps, in airplanes, and on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island in World War II.

More than 350 Musters will be staged around the world this year, including many in Vietnam and doubtless in prison camps, said Heald. For some A&M former students, this will be their last Muster, he added.

The ceremony is the same in every location. Former students pay their respect to those who are absent. When the names of the honored dead are called from Muster rolls, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

Heald said the program ends with a poem:

Softly call the Muster
Let comrade answer: Here
Their spirits hover round us
As if to bring us cheer.
Mark them present in our hearts
We'll meet some other day.

Texico High Students Set 'Play Day'

Texico High School students, grades seven through 12, will participate today (Friday) in a "Play Day" from noon to 3:30 p.m.

Classes will compete against each other in egg-pitching contests, volleyball, tug-of-war, piggy-back races and sack races, according to Jim Pierce high school principal.

During the day, varsity and "B" team cheerleaders for 1973-74 will be announced and a president and vice-president for Student Council will be elected. Other Student Council officers will be chosen from Student Council representatives.

Another highlight of the day's activities will include choosing "Best Dressed" characters, Pierce said. Texico sixth graders will also participate in the "Play Day" since they will be in high school next year.

Texico High School and Texico Elementary School will dismiss at 3:30 p.m. today for the Easter vacation and return at the regular time Monday morning, April 30.

The short course will begin May 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the vocational agriculture department at Farwell High School and continue through May 10.

During the dates the short course is in progress, Hollenback will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction, according to Ivy.

School Board Talks Budget, And Contracts

Texico School Board met Tuesday in regular session to approve teacher contracts and discuss the 1973-74 school budget. Results of action taken on teacher contracts will be released later.

Mrs. Marilyn Rauschkolb was hired as a kindergarten teacher for the remainder of the semester.

The school board met Monday in special session to discuss how to keep from cutting staff because of lack of funds in the Title I program.

A school budget hearing for Texico Public School District was to be at 3 p.m. Thursday, April 19, in the community room of First Federal Savings and Loan building in Clovis. The public was invited to attend, according to A. D. McDonald, Texico school superintendent.

McDonald was in Santa Fe last week to present Texico's 1973-74 school budget to the Public School Finance office prior to Thursday's public hearing.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world. Nearly 32 million girls, men and women have been members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. since its founding in 1912.

STRETCH YOUR SPACE: Live in a cramped home, or just a small apartment? If space is a problem with your expanding family, you'll want to subscribe to the latest school of "double-duty" decorating.

Double-duty rooms stretch your living space. For instance, an average-sized bedroom for one boy that has to expand for a new baby can create decorating problems. One workable solution is a room divider that separates siblings.

An open bookcase partially divides nursery from older brother's bedroom/study. Built-in desk as well as bed make maximum use out of minimum space. The entire room could be tied together by a patterned vinyl floor covering. The bright pattern could be picked up from the floor and repeated on bookcase shelves, desk top and bed base, creating the illusion of greater space.

Another space-saver is beds with built-in storage underneath. Because beds are the single largest item and focal point of most bedrooms, rooms become larger when they are placed against walls. Floors are free to function as play areas. When covered with wipe-clean vinyl, they're practically child-proof.

To get double-duty of small rooms, think big -- and stretch your imagination as well as budget by getting the most out of practical durable vinyl floor coverings.

Part Of Education Program - -

Theft Subject Of Crime Article

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of stories on organized crime in Texas. Auto theft, a thriving underworld business, is the topic. Figures used were compiled by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council and the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Public awareness is vital to stamping out organized crime," say Atty. Gen. John Hill and Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS Director, who are co-chairmen of the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council. This series is part of a public education program developed by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council with assistance from the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Office of the Attorney General of Texas and local law enforcement agencies.

This is the story of Bill Jones, a hard-working, law-abiding young store clerk with two small children and a salary of less than $9,000 per year. He and his wife, Beth, saved for four years for enough cash for a new car because the family budget wouldn't allow quick credit or an easy loan. When Bill came home excited one night about an "almost new" auto he had discovered on the recently opened used car lot down the street, his wife went along with the purchase. They bought the car and for one week were in seventh heaven. Then, Saturday afternoon, a uniformed officer knocked on the door, asking whose auto was sitting in the driveway. "It's mine," said Bill. "I'm sorry," the officer replied, "but that car is a stolen vehicle, and we have to impound it."

Bill and Beth were stunned. They couldn't produce papers because the title, to be mailed, had not yet arrived. A dealer check with the used car dealer revealed he, too, was awaiting return of papers from the "original owner." But that "original owner," it turned out, had used bogus papers and license plates when the automobile was sold to the used car dealer. Bill and Beth were left holding the bag -- their dream exploded -- the victims of a sophisticated organized crime car theft ring. Organized auto theft and theft of personal and household property pours millions of dollars yearly into pockets of Texas mobsters. Autos and other vehicles head the list, but thieves also make off with everything from television sets to hair brushes from Texans each year. One officer recalled not long ago "the hardest thing I ever had to do in my life was go into the small home of a low-income family and take away the television set a hard-working mother had finally been able to bring home for the kids. "She bought it from a shady dealer, and it turned out to be stolen goods. It wasn't easy to walk out with all those kids crying for something they had waited for all their lives," he added. The Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council, co-chaired by Atty. Gen. John Hill and

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, reports motor vehicles are prime targets for organized thieves. Using Dallas as an example, criminals stole property valued at $15.7 million last year. More than $6 million of that total was cars -- although ultimately $4.4 million worth of autos were recovered. An end-of-the-year tally for 1971 estimated $50 million or more worth of motor vehicles were reported stolen in Texas. That figure represents an estimated 48,323 vehicles stolen in the state during 1971. Many average Texans conclude the absence of complaints means the absence of organized crime in the car theft racket. Nothing could be further from the truth. "At the present time, 80 to 85 percent of all stolen vehicles are recovered," said Col. Speir, "but many of those not recovered are taken by professional thieves and organized theft rings."

Car theft, as a matter of record, often is the "kindergarten" for a young thug. Underworld bosses, especially a "fence" (the receiver of stolen goods), often sponsor fledglings in "lower level" crimes such as home burglary, hijackings and auto theft. By bankrolling prospective employees, whom they are actually training and testing, the organized criminal element is the catalyst for street crime. As former U. S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell has said, "When you read of housebreakings, shoplifting and industrial thefts, you should realize that organized crime provides a major network for the disposal of these stolen goods."

The DPS Criminal Law Enforcement Division and local authorities have uncovered evidence on more than 40 auto theft rings. In 34 instances, positive identification of the leader was made and names of members and method of operation discovered. Many arrests have resulted. Lawmen in North Texas recently disrupted a multi-city car theft ring employing one of the more common methods used to steal a car. In the raids and resulting arrests, officers recovered 13 stolen cars which had illegally obtained salvage titles and salvage vehicle identification numbers (VIN) and license tags. Col. Speir explained the thieves get the tags, certificate of title and identification plates from a vehicle which has either been wrecked or totally destroyed. "Then," Col. Speir said, "a member of the gang goes out and steals a car similar to the wrecked one." After transferring the plates from the salvaged vehicle, the thieves re-register the stolen car and sell it -- usually to an unknowing customer like the used car dealer who sold the car to Bill and Beth Jones. Last spring, the FBI and agents from the DPS working with the National Auto Theft

Bureau (NATB) recovered 24 stolen vehicles believed to be part of a haul by a nationwide car theft ring. The late model luxury cars were stolen from Pennsylvania and sold in Houston through two motor companies and a local businessman. The cars were registered on counterfeit titles and financed through various banks, apparently by innocent buyers, the FBI said. Another frequently used method is use of a counterfeit title obtained from a non-title state. Two major investigations in Houston and Dallas in June, 1972, netted 62 recovered stolen vehicles. In one instance, the criminal subjects utilized salvage auto identification plates from Alabama on cars stolen in Tennessee. The other group specialized in counterfeit Pennsylvania titles and stolen Pennsylvania vehicles. Department of Public Safety agents and Abilene lawmen cracked down on an auto theft ring found to be operating out of that city. The investigation led to the recovery of 44 stolen vehicles and several conspirators were arrested on auto theft charges. The thefts cleared in this case involved the use of salvage vehicle identification number plates. "At the present time, there are indications of other large rings operating in Texas," said Col. Speir, reinforcing the assessment of other Texas lawmen. Suspected operators of what the investigating officer described as "quite a large theft ring" were arrested after several months of undercover work by DPS intelligence agents, officers of two coastal counties, and a representative of the NATB. The investigations showed that car theft rings on the uppercoast steal cars, especially late sport models, and strip them for transmissions, tires, or whatever parts they need. "Then they'll put some old tires on them and drag them off and leave them," said the lawman. Throughout the state, farm equipment is a popular target for theft rings. Peace officers in Texas and New Mexico recently seized $100,000 worth of farm tractors, truck tractors, and a big combine. Authorities believe the confiscated equipment was stolen from points throughout West Texas by a ring headquartered in the Texas Panhandle. Professional thieves in the Rio Grande Valley appear to specialize in new or nearly new pickup trucks. Investigators said 30 trucks were stolen in one Valley city in 1972 and apparently taken across the border into Mexico. Less easy to identify and return are valuables stolen in home burglaries. For example, in a medium-sized North Texas city, residents of 481 homes reported being burglarized in 1971. Only 63 got any property back. Merchandise such as television sets, watches, furniture and stereo sets are usually difficult to identify. They're easy to transport and simple to market but extremely difficult to trace. Such items find their way into pawn shops or to the "friendly neighborhood fence" -- for the thief, that is -- and are unloaded or resold. Many homeowners now are using electric pencil devices to mark the more valuable items within their homes. Of course, the more obvious precautions such as locking your car when you leave it or never leaving the keys in the ignition certainly should be practiced by all motorists. This may not prevent your car from being stolen, but it makes the thieves' job more difficult and greates the chances of their being seen. Car thieves and burglars who prowl cars for tape decks or other items must move swiftly. Law enforcement officials also could use some changes in the penal code and authorization for modern surveillance techniques to help catch the fence. Fences usually are difficult to run to ground, doing much of their business by telephone or in some cases selling off stolen goods a few items at a time. But progress is being made in the theft and burglary field, as far as most law enforcement officials can tell. A more aware and better educated public holds the best promise for solutions to the problems. "We may never wipe it out completely, but if the public will help giant progress can be made," Col. Speir noted. The next in this series of stories will deal with so-called "Victimless Crimes."

Is carpeting in the kitchen practical? Carpeting designed for kitchen use is proving quite practical. Before buying, compare the types available. Construction is important because of traffic and the variety of spills that are inevitable. Pile should be short looped and very close together--the higher the pile count per square inch the better. This delays soaking and keeps food spills on the surface.

Therefore the situation in Perryton could be magnified over three times to fit Parmer County. That means more grain and hay consumed, more fuel to operate trucks and equipment, more electricity, more employees, etc. It means that Parmer County is one of the top five agriculture counties in Texas every year. And that means a higher standard of living for everyone; businessman, banker, retailer and farmer. Sure food is high, but we still spend only 18-20 percent of our income on food, as compared to 38 percent in the U.S.S.R., 32 percent in West Germany, 35 percent in Japan and 37 percent in Italy. USDA choice beef is still the best buy in the world and will be consumed by other nations if we can supply them. However, it seems a shame to export all of the good beef and force ourselves to eat ground round and Vienna sausages. Here is another little item that tells it like it is: ORGANIZED CONFUSION -- Livestock are animals that are being bred and raised in the country to keep the producer broke and drive the buyer crazy. Livestock are born in the spring, mortgaged in the summer, pastured in the fall and given away in the winter. They vary in size, color and weight and the man who can guess the nearest weight and market grade is called a livestock buyer by the packer, a robber by the rancher and a poor businessman by the banker. The price of livestock is determined in Chicago and goes up after you have sold and down after you have bought. One packer sent a buyer to

Chicago to watch the livestock market in action and report back. After a few days of penetrating study, he wired back to this effect: "Some say the market will go up, and some say it will go down. I say the same. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Martin Honored At 'Awards Day'

Kirt Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Martin of Farwell, received an Academic Achievement Award from Lubbock Christian College in a special "Awards Day" chapel program on April 12 in LCC's Moody Auditorium. Martin was one of 31 students receiving the award for maintaining a grade point average higher than a 3.80. He had a 3.86 grade point average. He is a 1971 graduate of Farwell High School and is now enrolled in LCC as a junior agriculture business major. Lubbock Christian College, a fully accredited senior college offering liberal arts and pre-professional programs, has a student body of 1100. Fourteen modern, permanent buildings and a half-dozen temporary structures now form the heart of the school's 120-acre main campus in west Lubbock. Soon, this 10-million dollar plant will be significantly enlarged by the addition of a half-million dollar Mabee Christian Development Center. About two miles north of Lubbock, the Lubbock Christian College agriculture campus (two farm-ranches totaling 530 acres) provides extensive crop and animal studies, and unique research and demonstration facilities.

Four persons entered guilty pleas Monday before Parmer County District Judge Pat Boone, Jr., and received probated sentences. John DeLeon Rodriguez entered a plea of guilty and was given a three-year probated sentence for forgery and passing. Abram and Luis Sierra pleaded guilty and received three-year probated sentences. James Ewing pleaded guilty and received a five-year probated sentence for burglary.

On Tuesday, Eugene Garcia entered a plea of not guilty before Judge Boone. He had been charged with assault on murder. He was found not guilty and discharged. All of the persons on trial waived jury trials.

Tickets for Ray J. Lofton Day may be obtained from A. D. McDonald, Texico school superintendent, for $3.00 per person. Ray J. Lofton Day is April 28 at Eastern New Mexico University Campus Union ballroom. Lofton, a well-known New Mexico educator, is being honored with a reception from 5 to 7 p.m. April 28 and a banquet beginning at 7 o'clock.

At Home In Parmer County

You asked, where did all the body go? Laundry finishes put it back in the clothes.

The natural look is great, no one can deny that soft clothes, light makeup and comfortable shoes took little time to be accepted. But there comes a point where naturalness can give way to sloppiness. Just as limp hair still needs a body permanent for the natural look, limp clothes still need some body.

Gone are the days of high, stiff collars and cuffs and yard-wide crinolines. Gone, too, is the bother of cooking starch. But starch itself has not outlived its usefulness, says the Soap and Detergent Association, and fabric finishes have been added for modern fabrics.

Although built-in body is a finishing feature in many of today's fabrics, wear and washing can break down original finishes over a period of time, causing the fabric to become limp. Starch or fabric finish restores crispness and body to fabric and improves its appearance. At the same time, they enhance soil resistance by coating the fibers so that the dirt particles will not become embedded.

Starches are derived from vegetable sources and are available in dry, liquid or spray form. The dry and liquid forms must be mixed with either hot or cold water before use, thus requiring time in preparation. However, these forms are the least expensive, and they can be used directly in the washing machine for large starching jobs or in a basin for spot starching.

A newer development is the spray fabric finish. Made of synthetic resins, a fabric finish creates a light body on a garment as opposed to the firm crispness of a spray starch. Fabric finishes are especially suitable for synthetics, because they are effective when used with the recommended lower ironing temperatures.

The majority of consumers today are casting their votes for the convenient spray types. With just a "psst!" of the can, all-over or spot finishing adds instant body as you iron.

brought up by Hutchins was the city's key rate. Key rate is the amount charged in the city per $1000 property value on fire insurance, taking into consideration a host of variables.

Hutchins said Farwell's key rate, 65 cents with a three percent credit, was high in comparison with area cities. He said the state office had recommended several improvements, which if made, would bring the key rate down. Recommendations made included replacing water mains, he said. He also mentioned that the state doesn't consider several fire plugs in Farwell as existing because they feed off four-inch lines and state recognizes six-inch lines.

Hutchins discussed with the Commission sending a map of the city's water mains to the state office with all the new items on it so Farwell can get credit for them on the key rate. Then the recommendations made by the state office can be considered in lowering the key rate more.

After discussion on the key rate and state recommendations took place, the Commission gave the floor to John Getz who talked with members about the requirements of publishing bids and other legal drawn up by the city.

Getz read to the Commission what the law says about publishing a financial statement each year. He asked that the Commission adhere to this law by publishing a financial statement.

He commented that the city has an obligation to obey the law. He added that if the city plans to spend more money, the citizens need to know how the city stands financially.

After Getz pointed out what the city should publish for public information, Mayor Pat-schke suggested three more copies of a handbook for mayors and councilmen be ordered so the Commissioners could familiarize themselves with their duties.

Last item on the agenda was payment of bills. Mayor Pat-schke closed the meeting by inviting comments and suggestions from all citizens on what needs to be done in Farwell for the good of the community.

Berry urged publication of the Commission action so that the Commission and the citizens of Farwell can better understand each other.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Janie Crane

Chosen as our Area Homemaker this week is Mrs. Butch (Cynthia) Chumley of Texico. Cynthia is an avid out-of-doors type who says, "I guess I should have been a boy."

After dating since their junior high days and being engaged two years, the couple married in September of 1969. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deward Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chumley, are all from Texico. Our homemaker has consented to share some of her favorite recipes with the Tribune readers.

Cynthia lives with her husband and daughter, two-year-old Danielle, in a 14 foot by 70 foot Spanish motif trailer home. She and Butch are enthusiastic trailer dwellers and their home speaks well for mobile homes.

However, in the future they hope to purchase a few acres outside of town where they can raise a few cattle, have some horses, and provide a more carefree atmosphere for raising Danielle and the child they are expecting in April.

One of Cynthia's favorite hobbies is sewing. She enjoys making clothes for herself and for her daughter. Planning meals is another of her favorite pastimes.

Cynthia, a secretary at Texico schools, and her husband, who is a truck driver, both attended

Texico schools. Cynthia has lived in Texico 11 years and Butch has been here nine or 10 years.

principal speaker for the evening.

Chandler, administrative director for the Southwest District of Phillips Petroleum Company, entertained the banquet goers with humorous stories about his "Uncle John" and "Aunt Fanny" before he discussed the importance of adaptability, progress and change.

Christian introduced Texico Chamber officers who include himself, McDonald, Bill Thigpen, secretary; Donald Caillouet, Lewis Cooper, Olan Schlueter and Jim Pierce.

He presented a progress report on the City of Texico during the last four to five years. Christian called the audience's attention to the fact that several new homes and buildings have been constructed.

He mentioned 20 new homes, 14 new mobile homes used as permanent residences, a new apartment complex, improvement in church buildings, specifically the educational building and chapel at First Baptist Church, and the gymnasium-auditorium at Texico schools.

Christian said the city's water pumping capacity had been almost tripled, city indebtedness was reduced by half, population was up 20-25 percent and a planning committee had been set up to help plan future city developments.

TAKING IT EASY - One of the favorite times for young Danielle Chumley is when mommy Cynthia, Mrs. Butch Chumley, comes home from her job as secretary at Texico schools and has time "just for her". The Chumleys are very much sold on "trailer living", and hope some day to have their home moved to a "few acres of our own" somewhere in the country. They live in a 14 x 70 foot Spanish motif mobile home in Texico.

In Farwell - - Three-Act Comedy To Be Presented April 27

A three-act comedy, "They Run In Our Family" by Donald Payton, will be presented by Farwell High School junior class Friday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. in Farwell school auditorium.

Directed by Mrs. Lucille Franse, the play deals with the Pennywinner family, a group of athletes. The Pennywinners run, jog, do push-ups and all do their part to make the Pennywinner household a veritable gymnasium.

All, that is, except Mom and teenager Peggy who insist that life cannot revolve around athletics just because Dad coaches the Central High Frogs.

Dad (Coach Sam) coaches football in the fall, basketball in the winter, track in the spring, baseball in the summer, then, as Mom laments, "We start the vicious circle all over again."

Dad lives and breathes sports 24 hours a day; daughter Pat, 17, aspires to be a wrestling champ; son Buzz, 16, is about to start his first football game for the Frogs; and son Alvin, 15, lives for the day he'll wear the Frog Colors.

Their interests (to say nothing of the Pennywinner living room) are shared by a motley collection of sports buffs: triple-threat Spook, the Frogs' ace back (if they have one, that is), Alvin's zany pal Seymour; Dimple, sports editor of the school paper; and Mitzi and Cindy, Frog cheerleaders.

Also, Deana Stanton as Mrs. Alonzo Speel, Brenda Goldsmith as Josie, Kevin Hardage as Principal Gilley, Larry Wardlaw as Seymour, Jaquetta Crook as Dimple Dillard, Pam Nance as Mitzi Jones, Patti London as Cindy Sanders, Greg Taylor as Alexander Smith, Karen Foster as Midge and Jace ENSOR, Announcer's voice.

Admission charge will be $1.00 for adults and 75 cents for elementary school students. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the junior class. Tickets will be 25 cents more at the door.

Cast members include Leslie Norton as Peggy Pennywinner, Joyce White as Agnes Penny-winner (mother), J. D. Reeves as Coach Sam Pennywinner, Jamey Craig as Pat Pennywinner, Lynn Blankenship as Buzz Pennywinner, Carl Kirkland as Alvin Pennywinner, Winfred Long as Chester (Spook) Mullins and Debbie Meeks as Aunt Alice.

Kathryn Luckenbach and Jerry Mathis are junior class sponsors.

Bonbon Eggs, Spun Sugar Nests Delightful For Easter Eating

From the White House lawn to millions of ribbioned baskets in American homes, brightly decorated Easter eggs are colorful reminders of the season. Delivered by the bunnies, with an artful assist from mother, traditional Easter eggs are a joyful addition to the observance of the holiday.

This year let the children join in the fun of making the eggs as well as finding them. And there's an additional bonus for them as the eggs are unearthed - they're as good to eat as they are to look at.

The Bonbon Eggs are made with a no-cook fondant filled with a choice of either a no-cook peanut butter coconut or chocolate candy. Spun sugar for lining the nests is a job for mother or an adventuresome candy maker. It is all fun to make, fun to eat and a really special delight for the children.

BONBON EASTER EGGS

Before starting the recipe, decide whether you want to fill the egg with a peanut butter coconut candy or with a chocolate candy, or whether you want to fill some with peanut butter and some with chocolate. If you make both candies to use as the centers, you will have leftover candy - a condition that is never a problem when there are children to eat up the leftovers.

- 1 recipe No-Cook Fondant
- 1 recipe Peanut Butter Coconut Candy and/or
- 1 recipe Chocolate Candy
- Confectioners Sugar Frosting

Prepare fondant, divide into three parts and knead a drop or two of food coloring into each piece, using a different color for each. Chill until ready to form eggs. Prepare Peanut Butter Coconut Candy and/or Chocolate Candy; cut each batch into 36 small pieces and shape each into a ball; chill.

Cut each of the three pieces of fondant into 12 pieces. Flatten each piece to 1/4-inch thickness with hands. Wrap pieces around candy. If using both candies wrap half the pieces around Peanut Butter Coconut Centers and use the other half around Chocolate Candy. Form each into egg shape. Decorate with Confectioners Sugar Frosting piped through decorating tube. Makes 36 small decorated eggs plus 18 small can-

NO-COOK FONDANT

- 1/4 c. margarine
- 1/4 c. light corn syrup
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1 lb. confectioners sugar, sifted
- Food coloring

Blend margarine, corn syrup, vanilla and salt in large mixing bowl. Add confectioners sugar all at once. Mix together, first with spoon, then kneading. Turn onto board and continue kneading until mixture is well blended and smooth.

PEANUT BUTTER CANDY

- 1/4 c. creamy peanut butter
- 1/4 c. dark corn syrup
- 2 t. water
- 1/2 c. sifted confectioners sugar
- 3 T. nonfat dry milk (dry form)
- 1/4 t. salt
- 1 (3 1/2 oz.) can flaked coconut

Mix peanut butter and corn syrup. Stir in water. Mix together confectioners sugar, nonfat dry milk and salt. Stir into syrup mixture. Add coconut. Knead until thoroughly blended.

CHOCOLATE CANDY

- 1 T. margarine
- 1/4 c. light or dark corn syrup
- 1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 1/2 t. vanilla
- 1/2 c. sifted confectioners sugar
- 1/2 c. nonfat dry milk (dry form)

Mix margarine and corn syrup until well blended. Stir in chocolate and vanilla. Mix confectioners sugar and nonfat dry milk. Gradually add to syrup mixture. Stir, then knead until thoroughly blended.

CONFECTIONERS SUGAR FROSTING

- 1/2 c. margarine
- 1/2 lb. confectioners sugar, sifted
- Food coloring
- Water, if necessary

Mix margarine and confectioners sugar, beating until smooth. Mix in desired coloring. Press through decorating tube, to make desired shapes.

Flowers, leaves etc. may be shaped several weeks ahead, wrapped in plastic wrap and stored in refrigerator or freezer. If frosting becomes too stiff, blend in a few drops water.

SPUN SUGAR

- 1/4 c. water
- 1/4 c. light corn syrup
- 1 c. sugar

Mix together water, corn syrup and sugar in small saucepan. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil, without stirring, until temperature reaches 310 degrees F., or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle. Remove from heat. Meanwhile, grease handles of 2 wooden spoons. Tape (plastic tape) to table top 12 inches apart, with handles extending over edge of table. To protect floor, spread newspapers under spoon handles to cover an area several feet wide. As soon as the syrup mixture is ready, dip fork (preferably 6 prong) into mixture. Shake rapidly back and forth over greased handles (for finer strands shake fork more rapidly) dipping fork and shaking until desired amount of spun sugar accumulates. Remove strands from handles carefully. Repeat until all syrup mixture is used, working quickly. Shape spun sugar as desired. Use the same day, since spun sugar melts upon standing at room temperature.

ELEGANT EASTER EGGS - Bonbon eggs in a spun sugar nest make an unusual Easter confection. Select your favorite ice cream, serve it with some of the spun sugar and pass the bonbons with coffee later.
