Honors Given Outstanding Citizens During Banquet

MAN AND WOMAN OF THE YEAR -- Honored during the Second Texico Chamber of Commerce Banquet last Saturday night at Texico's "Outstanding Man" and "Outstanding Woman" for 1973 were Bill Christian, left and Mrs. Buddy (Aileen) Pearce. They were presented plaques by last year's winners, Jim Pierce and Marcia Leavell.

A native of the Oklahoma Lane Community, who has been active in all phases of civic life for a number of years in Texico, and presently the president of the Citizens Bank of Clovis, Texico Branch, was presented Texico's "Man of the Year" award at the annual Texico Chamber of Commerce banquet last Saturday night.

Jim Pierce, recipient of the award last year, presented the award to Bill Christian, as he lauded him for his accomplishments, including that he is a member of the Texico Chamber of Commerce and immediate past president of that organization, a trustee for the City of Texico, member of the Texico Community Planning Council, member of the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club, works with little league and a booster of all activities in the community where he resides.

Presented "Woman of the Year" award was Mrs. Buddy (Aileen) Pearce. In making the presentation, Marcia Leavell, who won the award last year, said that Mrs. Pearce is active in working with young people in the Texico community, is youth director for the First Baptist Church at Texico and is a member of the Texico Women's Club.

Special guest speaker, Ray Pritchett of Texico, gave a talk which garnered him accolades by the entire banquet group. In a straight-talking, hard-hitting speech, Pritchett defended the free enterprise system of the United States.

"This is a subject that definitely needs to be talked about," he emphasized. "It is a subject that is under attack at this time. The American system of free enterprise has been kind and rewarding to me, and I am thoroughly acquainted with the depression days.

"The American system of free enterprise has done more for mankind than anything else ever has, there has been nothing else in our country so rewarding," he continued.

"The challenge to develop this world was open to all people, and in the beginning of the country, the Anglo people were not the majority."

He also said that the free enterprise system is the vehicle that carries all other freedoms and cited the basic rule of free enterprise, as the right to fail or the right to make a success.

"I cannot overemphasize the importance of men who create jobs for other men," he added. "And free enterprise has also been the vehicle used to combat poverty, disease and hunger."

According to the speaker, three things have threatened the system of free enterprise. One is monopoly, another thing, he said, is bad government, found as a result of institutions of higher learning, who graduate college students who come out of school with a desire to destroy the free enterprise system.

"Legislation now is already destroying the system of free enterprise, and if you want America to stay great, fight for the freedoms that made it great," concluded Pritchett.

Incoming president of the Texico Chamber of Commerce Lewis Cooper, reported on progress made in Texico during the past year. He told the group of eight new businesses, various city improvements, the new community center, the proposed park and sewer system, improvements to the cemetery, the new senior citizens organization, additions to the First Baptist Church, the pending paving project, a new city police car, the proposed emergency vehicle for the fire department, a new track at high school, a 50 percent growth in the bank and 15 new families in the city.

Texico FFA Banquet Honors Top 'Hands'

EUGENE JENNINGS

Parents, guests and Future Farmers of America joined forces at Texico Friday night and honored top students of the FFA organization in Texico School during the annual Parent-Member banquet at the school cafeteria.

Special guests recognized during the evening included Superintendent and Mrs. A. D. McDonald; High School Principal and Mrs. Jim Pierce; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Pearce; Mr. and Mrs. David Turner; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Smith Day; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skaggs, all school board members. Also Mrs. Kendall Burch and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jenkins, from the homemaking department; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hadley, Cindy Cain, FFA Sweetheart and Cleta Williams.

Max Best of Grady, who is the state FFA president, told the group "It is wonderful to look out here and see that adults are working with our youth to assure continuing agricultural progress.

"We, as young people today must take advantage offered and prepare ourselves to be our citizens to tomorrow," he continued. "It is remarkable to see young people who are handicapped, who reach out and do much for themselves and our country. We can look back and realize a lot of people who have met great challenges, average persons who have displayed great courage, and all because they reached out and believed they could do something great."

He cited examples of F. W. Woolworth, the variety store king; Zane Grey, popular western author and Thomas A. Edison, well known inventor, as persons who did not believe they would fail, worked toward a goal and thus, succeeded in being as the FFA president put it, "Examples of men, real men, who did not ask why, when or where, but believed they could succeed in the face of certain failure as cited by their friends".

"Believe you can succeed, and you can succeed. Many persons, who are said to be successful, overcame their timidity and reached out and climbed the first step on the ladder to success," he added.

He concluded with a challenge to the members of the Texico FFA. "Reach out for future agriculture, for future America and for the future of all mankind. The call for leadership is greater today than it has ever been, and agriculture leadership may be the key to our future."

Named Star Chapter farmer was David Turnbough and Star

Greenhand was Richard Hadley. Adults receiving awards included appreciation plaques to Howard Whitener and Jim Pierce with Honorary Chapter Farmer Plaques going to Mrs. Roy Snodgrass and Raymond Hadley.

PERSONAL

Several weeks ago, we ran a piece on the perils of Snadley Clabberhorn. It came from the writings of Chas. Didway, editor of the Post Dispatch. This week, Editor Didway follows up with some advice passed on to him by one of his readers.

Sooooo.....we will again take liberties with his column and give you this sage bit of advice.

DON'TS TO LIVE (?) BY
Don't drink water. The stuff is dangerous. There may be nitrates in it or traces of radio-activity--no matter how purified. Water can also drown you. Or cause you to slip in the bathtub and break your neck. In fact, if you want to live a "safe" life, there is little you can do besides lay down and die.

Don't eat sugar; there is a correlation between blanched foods and cancer. Refined flour and rice carry the same hazard.

Don't eat eggs or apples or carrots or rice or oats or barley or plums or cherries or garlic or wheat bran, or wheat germ or safflower oil, or soybean oil, or corn oil, or honey--they all contain estrogens. Don't eat vegetables for the same reason.

Don't breathe. You inhale carbon dioxide, carbon monoxide or oxides of nitrogen and sulphur.

Obviously, don't drive or ride in an automobile; in the United States 50,000 persons a year are killed by autos.

Don't eat salt--it elevates your blood pressure.

Don't eat rutabagas, turnips, cabbage, spinach and carrots. They may be goitrogenic.

Don't farm - it has been named one of the three most dangerous occupations. If you ignore this advice, don't use any machinery--it causes thousands of accidents.

Don't go outside when it is icy . . . accidents.

Let the livestock go hungry. Stay in the house unless you have a gas stove - the fumes can kill you.

Don't switch to a microwave oven. Those rays may cause cancer. Don't turn on the TV for the same reason.

Finally, DON'T READ THIS. . . you might have a nervous breakdown.

Observe these few helpful hints on living, and 1976 is most likely in your future.

Pay 'N Save Stores Buy Farwell Piggly Wiggly

Roger Lowe, a native of Brownfield, and resident of Littlefield, has announced the purchase of the Farwell Piggly Wiggly. He said Pay 'N Save will assume operation of the store at opening hours on Monday, April 29.

Lowe, who has spent most of his life in Littlefield, and is a graduate of Littlefield High School, said some remodeling of the store is scheduled in the near future, with a possibility of adding a delicatessen to the store, modeled after a similar facility in Muleshoe.

Shurfine merchandise will continue to be featured, said Lowe, and the store also plans to continue giving S&H Green Stamps. There will also be little or no change in the store hours or operating days.

"We hope Farwell, Texico and area residents will continue to shop in our store, and we plan to continue with the same good foods and good service they have enjoyed in the past at the store," he added.

From the first Pay 'N Save store that opened at Olton several years ago, Pay 'N Save, with headquarters in Littlefield, now has stores at Hart, Amherst, Earth, Sudan,

Plains and two stores at Muleshoe and Littlefield. Managing the new Pay 'N Save store in Farwell will be "Dub" Nicewarner, who will be no stranger to many Farwell residents, as he previously resided in Farwell and was in the former Piggly Wiggly store. He and his wife plan to move to Farwell as soon as they can find available housing.

Lowe and his wife, Yvette are the parents of two children.

With Herb Evans of the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District presenting a proposed Watershed Work Plan Agreement for consideration by the Parmer County Commissioners Court, along with four other sponsoring agencies, the commissioners unanimously approved the proposal.

Basically, Evans said the only change in the work agreement will be that instead of Parmer County having a cost-sharing plan of 2.98 percent, the cost to the county will now be 0 percent.

Other participating governmental agencies in the Running Water Draw project include the Central Curry Soil and Water Conservation District; Curry County Commissioners Court; City of Clovis; and the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The ratification of the proposal was given by commissioners during the regular fourth Monday meeting on April 22.

With a light agenda, commissioners also approved a resolution endorsing possible construction proposed as an interstate highway from Amarillo to Las Cruces, tentatively scheduled to cross Parmer County near or at the present Highway 60 and 70.

According to the resolution the Parmer County Commissioners Court urged "favorable congressional action to the end that the highway be constructed as quickly as possible."

They also approved payment of $1,031 for pipe used in a well at the damsite and discussed food stamps for destitute persons or families.

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Faye Parr

Mrs. Tom (Karen) Lovelace is our Area Homemaker this week. Karen tells me that she is "just a housewife," but she is an interesting one. Among her hobbies are sewing, decoupage, making rugs and refinishing old furniture and trunks. Many of these items are displayed in her home.

Karen moved to Farwell from Hollis, Okla., with her parents when she was in the second grade. Both she and her husband graduated from Farwell schools, and Tom played football at West Texas State University until their marriage. They have lived in Paris, Tex., for the past seven years and Karen says that every minute of that time was spent wishing they could be in Farwell. Recently that wish came true, and now the family is back among all their friends and family of the Farwell area.

Lovelace is a cattleman, with roping as his main hobby. The couple has three daughters, Tammi, 10, Traci, 7 and Kristi, 3, who very much enjoy going out with their daddy and watching him rope. Karen says, "I guess I went a little overboard, ending all the children's names with an 'i'. I don't know why I didn't spell our little Tweety bird's name with an 'i' just to be consistent." The family has three pets. There is the bird named Tweety, a dog named Blossom and a cat named Rascal. The cat is living proof that this family is not superstitious—it is an extremely black cat.

The family is very active in the First Baptist Church in Farwell where Karen teaches a Sunday school class and Tom is Sunday school director. They are members of a share group and Karen is a new ESA member.

Our homemaker also enjoys cooking. She says, "I love to cook and the family loves to eat," and she has offered to share three of her tasty recipes with us.

HAMBURGER CASSEROLE

Brown 1½ lbs. ground beef and 1 small onion in skillet. Drain. Cook a small pkg. noodles and mix it with the meat. Add 1 can cream of mushroom soup, 1 can cream of chicken soup, and a small carton of sour cream, and one small can of whole kernel corn. Mix and sprinkle buttered breadcrumbs on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-30 minutes (just until heated through and through).

APPLE POUND CAKE

1½ c. cooking oil
2 c. sugar
3 eggs, beaten
1 t. soda
3 c. flour
3 c. fresh apples, finely chopped
1 c. chopped pecans
2 t. vanilla

Combine oil and sugar; beat in eggs. Add dry ingredients. Fold in apples and pecans. Add vanilla. Bake in tube pan at 325 degrees for about 1½ hours, or until toothpick comes out clean.

Icing:
½ c. margarine
1 c. light brown sugar

VERSATILE HOMEMAKER - Mrs. Tom (Karen) Lovelace sits at her sewing machine with Tweety, one of the family pets, in the background. Sewing is just one of Karen's many talents, as she also enjoys cooking and crafts of any kind, as well as being active wife and mother of three little girls.

¼ c. evaporated milk
Combine ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a full boil. Remove from heat and cool. Add vanilla. Pour icing on cake, letting it dribble down sides.

FROSTED 7-UP FRUIT SALAD

2 pkg. lemon gelatin
2 c. boiling water
2 c. 7-Up
1 #2 can crushed pineapple, drained
2 large bananas, sliced
1 c. miniature marshmallows

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add 7-Up. Chill until partially set. Add remaining ingredients and chill until firm.

A Decorative Storage Idea

Shelves can transform meaningless corners and over-sized, empty walls into useful, attractive areas, one authority says. "Besides serving as versatile storage and display units, shelving works as a decorating aid," Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, noted.

Used properly, shelves provide unity of space and shape, she said.

"For example, to unify a room, match shelf color to that of the room.

"To accent shelving, cover the wall behind it with contrast - using colorful cloth, paper or paint.

"Another possibility involves papering shelves and wall with a dynamic print."

For shelving, the specialist advised consumers to keep personal needs in mind - but remember that flexibility results in long-lasting use. Also, plan shelves in relation to the room and surrounding spaces.

"Available either unfinished or finished - in wood stains or bright enamel paints - individual shelves are sold in many different lengths and widths.

"To install them, use brackets or standards especially designed for flexible use.

"Or, stack shelves from the floor, using sturdy verticle supports - such as bricks or building blocks."

Overall interest increases through use of different shelf lengths - and varying space between shelves, Miss Gottschalk added.

The safety group warns against improvising with a makeshift stool when reaching for high places. Stay with a sturdy step ladder and keep it in good repair.

Check to be sure throw rugs are skid proof. Don't allow carpet and linoleum edges to become loose, frayed or curled. Keep floors and steps in good repair and clear of toys, clothing or anything that could cause a fall.

Stairways, hallways and outdoor walkways should be kept well lighted and free from clutter.

Since the bathroom can be an especially slippery place, always use a rubber mat in the tub or shower and provide a wall hand hold.

Pointing out that falls rank highest among the single causes of accidents in the home, The Texas Safety Association suggests that spring cleaning time is a good opportunity to "fall proof" the home.

Energy Crisis Could Renew Family Togetherness

COLLEGE STATION -- "How" the energy crisis will change family life concerns authorities more than the question, "Will it?" one expert said this week.

She's Dorothy Taylor, specialist in family life education, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Some authorities predict the crisis may help strengthen family relations, ties and understanding," she observed.

"Usually a family gets its goals from national standards - and its values and activities from relatives, the church, school or other organizations. In turn, the family adapts these for itself.

"Because the energy crisis is making families more home-bound, the time is ripe for a renewal of family togetherness.

"For example, now families can choose activities that interested them earlier but were set aside when life became so busy," the specialist said.

"This is a prime time to re-vitalize family-centered recreation."

Because of less frequent, or shorter-spanded travel, families will stay home more, and they'll look for recreation with other family members rather than outsiders, she noted.

"Table games - including chess, checkers and cards - exemplify some forms of family recreation.

"Stimulating sports like touch football, badminton and folk dancing offer additional possibilities.

"Some family members prefer to spend leisure time doing volunteer work - teaching and sharing skills and ideas with 4-H clubs or other youth groups.

"Still others' interests lie in studies. Such people study together to broaden their horizons through home study courses, craft classes or simply exploring their interests."

Sharing in reading, writing, home repairs and gardening also will experience renewed interest, the specialist predicted.

"Indeed, we can expect changes within families as a result of the energy crisis.

"But through choosing a course of action for its new leisure and family togetherness, a family can avoid making this a time of extreme boredom," she concluded.

LOREN WILSON

Texico Mail Carrier Leader At Confab

Loren Wilson, Texico, president of the eleven state Western States Conference, National Rural Letter Carriers' Association, presided at the annual conference April 19 and 20 in Reno, Nev. Robert Malm of California served as vice-president and Mrs. Loren Wilson was secretary.

C.; Albert Kline, acting director, Office of Federal Employees' Compensation, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.; Dean King, National RCLA executive board member, Kansas; John W. Emeigh, director, Rural Carrier Benefit Plan, Washington, D. "It was indeed an honor for me to have served as president of this most successful Western States Conference convention," said Loren Wilson. "It's success was due to the excellent list of distinguished speakers with the attendance and participation of our members in all eleven western states."

Wilson, past state president, is currently serving the New Mexico Rural Letter Carriers' Association as State Steward, editor, and Automobile Insurance representative. Mrs. Wilson, past national secretary, is serving her fifteenth year as secretary-treasurer to the Western States Conference and is again serving as state auxiliary secretary. ## Check House Plants For Problems

So you've got a house plant that just isn't growing like it should. A brief diagnosis could shed some light on the problem.

"House plants often suffer from foliar and root diseases, restricted root growth, improper watering, and poor light and fertility management," says Dr. Walter J. Walla, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Tornado Alert: What To Do

When spring blows into Texas, so does the threat of the tornado, one of nature's most violent storms. With the peak tornado period upon us, the Texas Safety Association advises a review of the life-saving precautions that should be taken when a tornado is sighted.

Seek inside shelter, preferably in a storm cellar. Other safe bets are caves, basements or underground structures such as parking facilities. The interior hallways of modern, steel-reinforced office buildings also often offer adequate protection. But wherever you are, stay away from windows.

In homes with no basement take cover under heavy furniture in the central part of the house. Covering yourself with a rug will provide added protection against flying glass and debris.

If there is time before the storm hits, open doors and windows on the side of the house away from the storm. This will help to equalize pressure inside and outside the house.

In schools go to an interior hallway on the lower floor. Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums or other structures with wide, free-span rooms.

At a shopping center, stay clear of large windows and parked automobiles. Take shelter in a lower floor store, beneath a counter if possible.

A car is generally an unsafe place to be during a tornado. However in some cases, it is possible to escape by driving at right angles to the tornado's path. In flat, open country staying in the car can be better than no protection at all.

Yellowing or dead lower leaves can mean nitrogen deficiency or a "pot-bound" condition in older plants. Woody plants such as rubber plants, dieffenbachia and dracena are especially susceptible. Applying nitrogen fertilizer and re-potting can solve this problem, says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Leaves yellowing all over the plant might be the result of root rot or too much soil moisture. Root rots often develop in African violets due to over-watering. Prune rotted portions of the root, dust the root system with a fungicide, such as benomyl or captan, and re-pot the plant. To prevent excess soil moisture, adequate drainage is necessary," points out Walla.

A sudden loss of leaves is caused by rapid changes in temperature, dry air, cold drafts or exposure to gas or furnace fumes. Moving a plant from a sunny to a dark place can also cause leaf drop.

"Browning of leaf tips results from hot, dry air and a buildup of salts in the soil due to frequent light waterings. This problem can be solved by flushing the plant with excess water several times in a well drained place," notes Walla.

Fungi, bacteria and direct sunlight may cause brown spots on leaves. Round, target-shaped spots are caused by fungi while bacteria causes spots with a water soaked appearance. Allow adequate air circulation and avoid wetting the plant's leaves during watering to reduce foliage diseases, advises the pathologist.

"Good maintenance practices are often the key to healthy house plants," contends Walla.

If you can't get PIONEER Brand 8311 here are some excellent alternative hybrids for High Plains farmers.

Pioneer Brand 8311, the "Golden Bronze Yield Leader," has been our most popular hybrid this year - so popular, in fact, that it may be in short supply in some areas. One reason is that the demand has been so great downstate where 8311's disease tolerance is so important. Fortunately, there are several other Pioneer Brand hybrids that are proven top performers on the High Plains. If you can't get 8311, ask your dealer about these.

PIONEER Brand 8417
This versatile yellow endosperm sorghum is a champion yielder in the medium-late maturity class, for irrigated or non-irrigated land. It has large open heads, uniform head height, strong stalks for easy threshing, good tolerance to smut and anthracnose.

PIONEER Brand 820
This top-notch full-season hybrid, is a consistently high yielder. Excellent drought resistance and standability plus good roots and stalks make it a good choice for irrigated or non-irrigated farming on the plains.

PIONEER Brand 828
One of the highest yielding sorghums you can plant, this full-season hybrid responds well to good management on good land with plenty of water. Plains growers like it because it holds its quality and threshes well even after an early freeze. It produces sturdy stalks with semi-compact heads of dark red grain.

PIONEER Brand 846
Famous for its versatility and adaptability, this medium maturity hybrid yields along with the full-season varieties. Resistant to smut, rust and MDM, its outstanding hybrid vigor and excellent drought resistance help it turn in consistently high yields even under stress.

HAPPINESS IS -- DAUGHTERS HOME

"The sweetest sound we had heard in a long time was waking up in the morning and hearing those two sweet voices in another part of the house," say Mr. and Mrs. Gil Patschke, whose two daughters were home for a week-end visit.

It was the first time Mrs. Steve (Nancy) Blair, Weatherford, Okla., and Susan Patschke, student at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, had both been home at the same time in quite some time. It was a thoroughly enjoyable time for all concerned.

Today we are all becoming energy conscious. So here are a few tips:

Appliance users determine their machines' efficiency. With basic changes in practices, consumers can cut home energy consumption.

Refrigerators and freezers will require less energy if the consumer will:

- defrost the refrigerator when ice coating is one-fourth inch thick,

- have closed door seals so tight that a strip of paper won't pull through,

- allow for free air circulation in the refrigerator, and

- turn control to a colder setting when storing large amounts of food, then return setting to normal after food has chilled.

Laundry equipment will require less energy if the consumer will:

- set water level and temperature correctly for size and type of load,

- adjust wash cycle length for clothes that are only slightly soiled,

- avoid overdrying clothes, remove them from dryer with a little moisture,

- be sure dryer venting has no obstructions, and keep lint filter clean.

Dishwashers will conserve energy if the consumer will:

- avoid over-rinsing dishes before placing them in the appliance, and

- use dishwashing cycle recommended for type of load being washed.

Ranges and cooking appliances will cut energy use if the consumer will:

- be sure the flame is blue when using gas, since a yellow flame indicates waste,

- keep oven vents clean and open to allow efficient heat circulation,

--start on high heat and reduce to the lowest possible setting for cooking.

Farwell Study Club Visits Girlstown

After an invitation from Mrs. Marshall Cooper of Girlstown U.S.A., near Whiteface, 12 members and guests of the Farwell Study Club went to the unique facility for girls on Saturday, April 20.

Mrs. L. R. Vincent said the study club members and two guests had lunch with the girls in the newly decorated dining hall and kitchen and added that the Farwell Study Club had contributed money to the project to remodel the facility through the Federated Caprock District.

After lunch, the club divided into small groups for tours of the dormitories, cottages and grounds as conducted by the girls who reside in Girlstown. "We met all of the girls and talked to most of them," said Mrs. Vincent. "We were impressed at how well-mannered they were and how well they conducted themselves."

The superintendent of Girlstown welcomed the group and told them the history of Girlstown, including how the home started and how it is operated today. He explained that Girlstown is not supplied any state or federal funds, and is supported only by clubs, organizations and individuals.

On the Saturday tour, the Farwell Study Club took clothing, bath towels and wash cloths, as well as giving a cash donation. Mrs. Vincent said any club or organization is more than welcome to make a part of the facility a project. She cited the biggest need at this time to be cotton quilted mattress covers for half-size beds. The administrators of Girlstown are attempting to redecorate an additional 12 rooms that are presently not liveable. This would increase the facility to handle an additional 24 girls as they double up in the rooms.

Mrs. Vincent said other plans are underway by the Farwell Study Club to further assist in acquiring needed items for Girlstown and has encouraged the local organizations to support the facility.

Making the Girlstown tour last Saturday were Study Club members, Gertrude Foster, Virginia Perry, Othell McDonald, Nina Glasscock, Edith Crawford, Eunice Crume, Katie Ellison, Lillian Aldridge, Wilma Towns, Jewell Scott, Hattie Coffey and Sal Vincent. Guests were Bill Foster and L. R. "Jelly" Vincent.

CRAFTY IDEAS

Macaroni Mania

Macaroni makes for good eating, but did you ever think that it makes for good creative uses too? You can make unique jewelry from macaroni along with many other little decorative items.

The fun of working with pasta lies in the fascinating shapes and the many variations you can achieve with this most basic of food products.

Begin with an assortment of pasta - macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. Dye the uncooked pasta in a variety of great colors such as yellow, green, red, brown, pink, blue and orange.

Then begin to create. Make jewelry by stringing shapes together. Make napkin rings from manicotti with glued on pasta decorations. Glue pasta, at random or in a pattern, onto felt covered cardboard for a pretty picture. Cover cans for attractive containers.

To dye pasta, pour 1 quart boiling water into a bowl containing 1/4 teaspoon powder or 1/2 tablespoon liquid Rit dye. Stir, add pasta and stir about 5 minutes. Remove with strainer and drain on paper towels. Place on waxed paper to thoroughly dry.

Fire Department Presented Check

Farwell's Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the department's work on the property of James Ensor, Route 1, Farwell.

EPX 888
The most striking hybrid we have ever produced! Outstanding in yield, vigor and performance. EXP 888 is an early version of EPX 12. Expect excellent response to high population and high fertility on either dryland or irrigation. Leaves will be erect, excellent variety for narrow row plantings. 2590 heat units to mature.

EPX 12
Extensive tests across the Western and Southern corn belt rates this new hybrid as one of the outstanding recent developments. A uniform, medium height hybrid, it has proven to be ideal for both grain production and high grain silage. Responds profitably to high fertility and moisture levels. 2700 heat units to mature.

EPX 11
Looking for a hybrid to plant when using an overhead sprinkler system? You will like EPX 11. This variety is somewhat shorter than most popular hybrids used in the late maturity areas with outstanding yield potential. 3 year data in Texas, Kansas and Colorado show this hybrid outyielding a number of the popular varieties by 8 to 12 bushels per acre. EPX 11 has an exceptional root system so that it is quite resistant to lodging when irrigating or where high winds prevail. The ears are heavy, blocky, with high diameter. 2690 heat units to mature.

EP 97
A superior hybrid for grain yield and silage, especially bred for Western Nebraska, Kansas, Eastern Colorado and Northern Texas. Similar to Weather Master EP 95 except taller. EP 97 has long blocky erect ears that resist ear droopings. This variety responds well to high fertility levels and has exceptionally strong stalks that defy lodging and wind. You will find EP 97 very popular with the farmer who is shooting for top yields. 2630 heat units to mature.

THANK YOU!

We wish to thank every individual and business concern who contributed to the County Showbarn building fund, whether through cash donations, or by donating animals purchased at the Parmer County Jr. Livestock Show.

As of April 22, a total of $80,000 had been donated to the building fund. The builders and suppliers of equipment have been paid, and this came to a total of $85,801.41.

Thus, we still have a deficit of $5,801.41, and will be happy to accept further donations.

Although there have been rumors to the contrary, there has been absolutely no county tax money used in the construction of this building. The only tax money involved at all has been from the City of Friona, which purchased tables and chairs for the building's banquet facilities.

Jerry Hinkle at Friona State Bank has a list of all of the donors to the fund, and will be happy to show anyone where the money came from.

Again, we appreciate everyone who had a part in the construction of the building, which we feel will be a source of pride for our county for years to come.

House Survey: Have You A Sod House Heritage?

Did you ever live in a sod house, a dugout, or an adobe building; or were you born in one? Did you ever teach school, attend school or church services in such a building, or help build one? Or are you a child or perhaps a grandchild of a former pioneer sod house dweller or builder?

If you can answer "yes" to any of these questions, the Sod House Society of America, with headquarters at Colby, Kan., would like to hear from you. The unique society is making a survey and census of people who have had any kind of personal experience with sod structures, including descendants of such persons. Sod houses, dugouts, part sod, and adobe buildings were once common in the United States, Canada, and Mexico.

All former sod dwellers and descendants of a family that can claim a part of the sod house heritage during the pioneer settlement era of North America, or in more recent times, will be listed by the society in a permanent historical record of sod, dugout, and adobe dwellers and their families. Sod buildings in some form were used in well over half the North American continent.

To make this survey a success, information is needed from people in all parts of North America. If you have any information concerning present or former sod dwellers, a report of this will be most welcome. Please tell where the buildings were located, and give family names, as well as your own. Reports should be sent to:

During the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Texico City Board of Trustees, it was decided to have a special meeting to discuss the proposed city budget for the coming year. The meeting was scheduled for 6:30 p.m. MDT on Thursday, April 25.

Also approved during the meeting was the fire department budget, and the trustees agreed to install outside lights at the back and at the corner of the Texico community building.

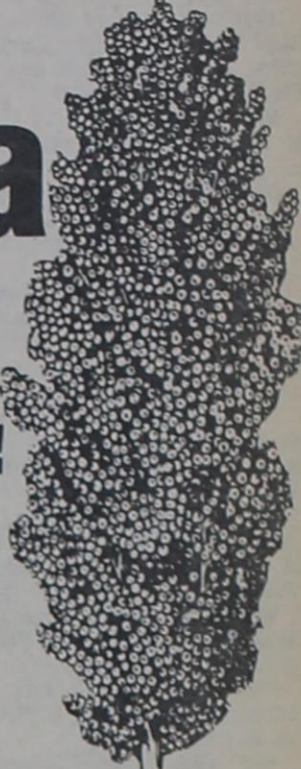

Tabled for further study was a proposal presented by Otis Huggins of Southwestern Public Service Company for a new franchise. A final decision was pending research.

Mayor M. E. Turnbough signed a proclamation which proclaimed the month of May as Senior Citizen Month in Texico and trustees decided to raise property liability insurance to $25,000.

In other action, the city officials agreed to sell the old stove formerly used in the community building. It will be sold by the city to the highest bidder on Tuesday, May 14.

WHAT IS SAVING FAITH?

"What saith the Scripture? ABRAHAM BELIEVED GOD, AND IT WAS COUNTED TO HIM FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Rom. 4:3).

The Apostle Paul uses the above quotation from Gen. 15:6 to prove that "to him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness" (Rom. 4:5).

It is wonderful that God does not require - indeed, does not permit - human works for salvation, but only faith. But the question is: What is true faith? What kind of believing saves?

There is no indication in Scripture that "the gospel of the grace of God" or "the preaching of the cross" was proclaimed to Abraham. We must go back to the passage which Paul quotes to see what Abraham believed. Gen. 15:5 says: "And He (God) took him (Abraham) forth abroad, and said, Look now toward heaven, and tell (count) the stars, if thou be able to number them; and He said unto him, So shall thy seed be." It is this simple, wonderful promise about the multiplication of Abraham's seed which is followed with the words: "And he believed in the Lord; and He counted it to him for righteousness" (Ver. 16). We do not mean to imply that this was the first expression of Abraham's faith, for in Heb. 11:8 we read: "By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went." This took place considerably before the Genesis 15 incident and we are specifically told that through his faith he "obtained a good report" (Heb. 11:2).

From all this it is clear that Abraham believed what God told him and was counted righteous - as we now know, through a redemption still to be wrought by Christ. We, now, must believe what God tells us - and this is nothing less than the account of the all-sufficient finished work of Christ wrought in our behalf on Calvary's Cross.

"Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification" (Rom. 4:25).

Her winning score of 159.67 was based both on net words a minute (62.76) and the percentage of accuracy (96.91).

In the contest, with around 23 other students from Conference A schools in the region, Terri competed, along with Kathy White, also of Farwell, who failed to place. Terri also had a higher score than the first place winners of the 4-A schools (Odessa Permian with 156.88) and the B schools (Channing with 153.32).

She will now compete in Austin for the state typewriting honors on Saturday, May 4. She is a sophomore at Farwell High School.

Contestants in the typewriting contests use manual typewriters, however, Terri learned to type on an IBM Selectric and only transferred to the manual typewriter about two months ago. Her instructor is Miss Donna Clapp.

Other students competing in regional contests and coming home with third place medals were Lynn Blankenship, prose reading; Karla Smart, prose reading and Jacquelyn Langford, ready writing.
