Fire Station Construction Is Underway

A long-awaited day arrived in Muleshoe Wednesday afternoon when city workmen began preliminary groundwork for a new fire station for the Muleshoe Fire Department.

As soon as the basement for the structure is dug, Hallmark Builders of Amarillo will be moving their equipment and supplies to the site on East American Blvd.

From the time Hallmark moves to the construction site, they will have 145 days to complete the 50x125 structure. Included in the building will be 75x50 feet of storage for the fire trucks and equipment; 50x50 feet for a meeting room, and a basement measuring 30x20 feet.

The building will face the east, and trucks will come out onto East Fifth Street, and turn the appropriate Direction whether to the highway several feet away, or to the south for other fires.

Hallmark bid $117,289 to construct the building on the 10 lots previously purchased by the City of Muleshoe for the new fire station.

For many years, the fire department has been 'too large' for existing facilities, which included trucks across the street from the current city police department and former city hall. Their meeting room is in back of the city hall and they also have trucks at the Bailey County Civic Center, which is a sub-station.

Traffic has been congested when firemen were attempting to meet for practice, or were reporting to the station to climb aboard trucks to go fight a fire somewhere.

Completion of the construction is expected in early fall.

Small Amount Of Rain, Hail Fell Thursday

Apparently most of Thursday night's rain was confined to the area right over Muleshoe, as well as most of the marble size hail that accompanied a sudden storm shortly after 7 p.m.

High wind, sand, officially .29 in moisture and marble size hail accompanied the storm as the National Weather Service told local officers and Civil Defense personnel that the main storm cell built directly over the City of Muleshoe. After a few anxious minutes, the storm dissipated as it moved on to the northeast, depositing smaller amounts of moisture.

Clauch Gin at Bula reported only a light shower Thursday night, and said their moisture was in pretty good shape following earlier rains. They received from .6-9 on Friday, April 12, with a little 'small hail.'

Birdwell Cattle Feeders in southwest Bailey County said they received only showers and wind on Thursday night.

Mrs. Craig Kirby in the Maple vicinity said they only received light showers Thursday night.

Although hail fell to the east and north of the Longview community, I. L. Kitchens said they only received showers Thursday night.

Some .2 fell at Foster Fertilizer, three miles east of Lazbuddie reported Foster Fertilizer, and light hail was reported in the Lazbuddie community.

Mrs. Harrol Redwine, to the northwest of Lazbuddie, said they only received a shower, and no hail.

Mrs. Davis Gulley, of Progress, said they received .25 with pea size hail in the Thursday night rain.

No damage was reported to crops in the area.

Thursday night was a proud and happy night for several Muleshoe High School DECA and HECE students when they were presented special awards and scholarships during the annual DECA/HECE Employer-Employee Appreciation banquet.

DECA coordinator, Lola Pylant, said it was so difficult to choose an outstanding DECA student this year, so the honors are jointly shared by Isabel Pesadas, employee of Williams

Office Supply and Robert Orozco, employee of the Muleshoe and Bailey County Journals. Outstanding Marketing and Distributive Education Student for DECA is Florida Mendoza, employee of the City of Muleshoe.

Linda Tanksley, coordinator for the HECE program, named Tina Ruthardt, employee of Latrell's as Outstanding HECE student; and Tammy Nowell, employee of Antiques and Junk, received the Outstanding HERO award.

Albert Lopez, chairman of the DECA/HECE Advisory Board, presented scholarships of $300 each to Jodi Cruickshank, employee of Combination Motors and to Tina Ruthardt. Lopez, moved to El Paso (his weekend to be employed with C.R. Anthony Co. with Steve Thrasher, was thanked for his many contributions to the DECA/HECE programs as an Advisory Board member, and as chairman.

Mrs. Pylant also presented Certificates of Appreciation to Sandra Martin, accepted by Cont. Page 8, Col. 1

George Strait Performance Is Confirmed

Just after 4:30 p.m. Friday, an excited Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, notified local news media that George Strait had confirmed an appearance in Muleshoe.

He and his band, "Ace In The Hole," will be performing in Muleshoe on Friday, June 21 at the Bailey County Civic Center.

Doors will open at 7 p.m. and show begins at 8 p.m.

There will be only 2,500 tickets sold, and they will go on sale in the near future at the CoC office at $12.50 each, so anyone who waits will run the risk of not finding tickets available for the one night show.

Strait will be accompanied to Muleshoe also by an opening band and singers prior to his 90 minute performance.

"We welcome George Strait and his band, along with the opening band, to Muleshoe," said Mrs. Eagle.

Extension Office Plans Program On Plant Disease

According to Spencer Tanksley, County Extension Agent, a Home Disease Program will be conducted at the Bailey County Civic Center on Monday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m., and is sponsored by the Bailey County Advisory Committee of the Extension office.

Dr. Robert Berry, Extension Plant Pathologist, will be at the meeting to discuss home owner problems that occur to gardens, trees, shrubs, lawns and other horticultural related plants. Tanksley says this problem should be very beneficial to helping anyone understand the major home diseases that occur to horticultural plants in Bailey County. He added that the program is free and open to the general public. A question and answer period will be included to assist anyone with individual problems.

For additional information contact the Bailey County Extension offices at 272-4583.

Cost Projections On Wasted Water

By W.A. Givens, SCS Technician

Ditch losses will pay for underground pipelines.

Have you ever thought about applying the water you lose in open ditches to more acres? asks Warren Givens, SCS technician.

The following are cost projections based on potential productivity for Amarillo fine sandy loam and Portales fine sandy loam soils. Yields and crop prices may vary, but acre feet of water lost in a quarter mile ditch doesn't.

Amarillo FSL will lose 22 acre feet of water during a 2,000 hour pumping season. This is enough water for one four-inch irrigation at peak bloom on 65 additional acres of cotton, resulting in 16,320 pounds of lint on this acreage over dry land conditions.

If you multiply 16,320 pounds of lint by 39 cents, you would have $6,364. Underground installations in the 4-5 thousand dollar range would be paid for the first year.

One Portales FSL ditch loss is 38 acre feet, this is enough water to apply the same as above to 115 additional acres. A yield increase over dry land of 25,772 pounds of lint, at 39 cents in 310,051 to apply toward your underground pipe line.

The use of open irrigation ditches in Bailey County results in unaffordable losses of underground water and revenue to producers. The Soil Conservation Service, located at 111 East Ave. D, can assist producers with pipelines and irrigation efficiency checks, call or come by.

There's no such thing as something for nothing in life.

Interest Rates Causes Change In Agriculture

High interest rates and narrowing profit margins for farmers are causing new and irreversible changes in agriculture.

"The sudden surge in interest rates a few years ago and persistent high real rates since then have triggered some dramatic changes in agriculture," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

High interest rates not only increase the cost of doing business, but they also contribute to a strong dollar, discourage farm exports, encourage imports and stimulate incentives for foreign producers to step up production, Anderson notes. It all adds up to fewer crop exports and low U.S. farm prices. This accelerates changes in the structure of American agriculture.

"Currently, farm operators with little debt have a strong advantage over those making large interest payment," notes the economist. "Rental agreements are turning away from cash rent, and traditional crop share arrangements are being renegotiated based on equitable resource contributions of both operator and landlords. Use of credit capital in agriculture is declining because of low returns to farm investments."

Anderson points out that the current farm economist situation discourages new entries into farming. Furthermore, new machinery purchases drop and there is more maintenance and repair work, more custom operations and more joint ownership of large machines. Marginal cropland shifts to forage and grazing programs which, over time, will lead to excess beef production and thereby lower cattle prices.

"Other changes with the current state of the farm economy include a squeeze on irrigated farming and a drop in land prices, especially irrigated farmland," the economist points out. "Farmers are discouraged from owning farmland, and off-farm income becomes vitally important and often necessary. Farm consolidations increase and commercial operations turn more sophisticated in business management, financing, production and marketing decisions."

As interest rates begin to climb and farm margins start narrowing, storage costs go up and marketing becomes disorderly, Anderson adds. Increased production and marketing costs are absorbed by the farmer in the short-run, but eventually farmers become serious about building better markets so that higher costs can be passed on to consumers. Thus, marketing becomes an essential ingredient in shifting price risk, and production and marketing processes become more integrated. Group marketing systems are encouraged as being more efficient.

"Producers that can make necessary adjustments to survive prolonged periods of low income will be a business-minded group that have or can hire a considerable amount of financial, production and marketing expertise," notes Anderson. "Eventually, remaining producers will recognize the benefit of developing a committed marketing program that can adjust production to markets commodity by commodity."

"And, if the runaway federal budget deficit is brought under control and the over-valued dollar adjusts downward, export markets could expand, imports retreat and prosperity could return to agriculture," Anderson says.

Three Way School Election May 6

Board of Trustee Elections were held at Three Way ISD on May 6, 1985. Voters in the Three Way Independent School District elected two incumbents and one new member to the Board of Trustees. Encumbrants, Robert R. Kindle II and Terry Pollard gained re-election to the board, and James Kindle was elected as a new member. James Kindle replaces Nelson Carlisle on the Board of Trustees. Nelson Carlisle did not seek re-election to the Board after serving for several years. John Tucker was the only other candidate seeking election to the Board of Trustees.

Robert Kindle and his wife, Kay are the parents of two girls, Robin and Stacy. Robin is a Senior at Three Way High School, while Stacy is a Freshman. Mr. Kindle is a farmer in the Maple Community.

Terry Pollard and his wife, Jonice are the parents of two sons, Russell age 5 and Scott age 3. Terry is a farmer in the Stegall Community.

James Kindle and his wife, Sharon are the parents of three children. Bryan is a Freshman at Three Way, Carrie is Sixth grade student, and Kyle a Kindergarten student James is a farmer in the Maple Community.

For farmers, spring is the time for work, not fever.

Homemakers Challenged To Take Community Leadership

Homemakers, by that very title, are community leaders, the president of the Texas Extension Homemakers Association told more than 225 women here Thursday, April 11, at the annual meeting of Extension Homemakers Clubs in the South Plains District. Bailey County Extension homemakers hosted the district meeting.

"Think of yourself as a family leader. Then think of yourself as a community leader. It isn't hard to make that transition," said Mrs. Jane Leathers of Vidor. She heads the state organization of more than 22,000 women.

Bailey County was represented by 17 persons, said Deana Finck, county Extension agent for home economics. Local participants were:

Dusty Prairie Extension Homemakers Club- Jackie Blaylock, Loraine Dearing, Erald Gross, Clara Lou Jones, Eulane Phillips, and Lou Knowles;

Moonlight Extension Homemakers Club- Betty Campbell, Linda Huckaby, Rose Sain, Myra and Lela Copley, and Donna Venon;

Progress Extension Homemakers Club- Fern Davis, Lucille Gross, Alice Moore, Ada Murrah, Helen Redwine; and Retired Extension Agent- Robin Taylor.

Three 50 year members were recognized and received certificates during the days activities.

Earth Native

Five County

Extension Agent

Paula Sue Verden, native of Earth, has been named Extension Agent-Entomology to serve Fisher, Jones, Haskell, Stonewall, and Kent Counties effective May 1, 1985, according to Ed Garnett, District Extension Director for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Rolling Plains-3 District.

Miss Verden is a graduate of Springlake-Earth High School at Earth and of Texas Tech University at Lubbock, where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Entomology in May, 1984. While attending Texas Tech, she was named Outstanding Student for Entomology in the Spring of 1984 and was recipient of the Krista Simpson Scholarship.

She has most recently been employed by the Texas Department of Agriculture, working as a pesticide inspector for the past several months.

Miss Verden is a member of the Entomological Society of America as well as the honorary agricultural fraternity, Alpha Zeta.

She is the daughter of Bill and Evelyn Verden of Earth, Texas.

They were Fern Davis, Ada Murrah, and Elzada Gully.

Mrs. Leathers urged the delegates to continue to live up to the slogan adopted by the association for 1985-86: "Look Ahead, Become Involved, Build a Legacy."

She cited the achievements of several women in history whose leadership changed their communities and the world. These ranged from Susan B. Anthony and Coretta King to the homemaker who founded Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD).

She advised the women to become involved in an issue or cause, to have a positive attitude, see tough situations through, motivate others, and spend the extra hours to see the job through.

Mrs. Leathers explained a new family community leadership training program being conducted by the national association. She said it is designed to help women learn the proper steps to take to provide leadership in community affairs.

During the district conference in the Bailey County Coliseum, the Extension Homemakers also participated in workshops to improve local club programs. Club members from Hale County conducted a workshop on developing local program ideas. Scurry County members presented a workshop explaining the history and techniques of Seminole patchwork quilting.

The group was welcomed to Muleshoe by former Mayor Charles Bratcher and Mrs. Fern Davis. The meeting coincided with the 50th anniversary of the hiring of Bailey County's first Extension home economics agent, Alma Stewart, and within a few weeks the organization of 14 Extension Homemakers Clubs in the county. Mrs. Davis was a charter member of one of those 14 clubs and is still active in it.

Extension Homemaker Clubs provide leadership and educational opportunities for homemakers, under the leadership of the county agent and the support of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, an arm of Texas A&M University.

The Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

Three topics will be presented on "The Creative Woman" show on April 23 and 27 and these include decorating ideas, flaffle making and color.

Carol Whitener, owner of Artistry by the Yard in Clovis will show how the one-color story can produce mistake-proof decorating. Even the accessories she'll display are color-coordinated.

According to Sandy Parks, Founder of Color Charisma in Atlanta, Georgia, there's a color conspiracy in the United States and part of the problem is because there's no common color language. Mrs. Parks is going to tell how to turn chaos into communication when talking about color.

If someone asks you what a "flaffle" is, would you know? Sara MacDonald-Smith is a home economist with the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. in El Paso, Texas, and she explains that a flaffle is related to the popover family. It can be a breakfast treat or a dessert, and she will demonstrate how to make one. It's quick and easy to make and kids especially will like the funny shapes.

Three additional topics will be

Chorizo Chalupas Live A Mexican Fiesta

On May 5th, Mexicans -- and American alike -- will don their party sombreros to celebrate Cinco de Mayo, commemorating Mexico's defeat of the French troops at the Battle of Puebla in 1862. This is a major national holiday in Mexico. Festivities traditionally include colorful parades, exciting festivals, highly-spirited speeches and, of course, delicious food.

Anne Lindsay Greer, award-winning author and expert of Mexican-American cuisine, recommends a Cinco de Mayo feast consisting of zesty "Chorizo Chalupas," made with Las Palmas Refried Beans accompanied by "Avocado Soup," spiced up with Las Palmas Green Chilies.

The light spice and crunch of the Chalupas forms a very nice marriage with the refreshing creaminess of the soup," explains Greer. "This is a deliciously appropriate menu for holidays and summer."

Used as a luncheon buffet or a light supper, this easy-to-prepare menu will allow the chef plenty of time and energy to enjoy the celebration.

CHORIZO CHALUPAS

12 corn tortillas, fried crisp
1 pound bulk chorizo sausage, or mildly spiced pork sausage
1 cup Las Palmas Taco Sauce, hot or mild
1 17 ounce can Las Palmas Refried Beans
4 cups finely shredded lettuce
1 cup sour cream

In a medium skillet, saute the chorizo 5 minutes, breaking it apart with a fork while cooking. Drain excess fat. Return to the heat, stir in Las Palmas Taco Sauce and simmer 2 minutes, or until heated through.

Spread each chalupa shell with 2 tablespoons Las Palmas Refried Beans and place on a cookie sheet. Top with the cooked chorizo or pork sausage, using about 2 tablespoons for each. Place in a preheated 375 degree oven for 10 minutes.

To serve, top with about 1/2 cup shredded lettuce per chalupa and a dollop of sour cream. Serves 6 (makes 12 chalupas).

AVOCADO AND GREEN CHILI SOUP

1 ripe avocado, pitted and peeled
1 4 ounce can Las Palmas Green Chilies, whole or diced
2 cups chicken stock, fat removed, chilled, or
1 14 1/2 ounce can chicken stock, well chilled
1 fresh tomatillo, quartered
1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon white pepper

Cut the avocado into 4 pieces. Blend avocado, drained Las Palmas chilies, tomatillo and chicken stock in food processor or blender on high speed until smooth. Add sour cream; season with salt and pepper. Serve soup immediately, garnished with a few tortilla strips.

To make the tortilla strips, cut two corn tortillas into 2 inch by 1/4 inch strips and fry in hot (375 degree) peanut oil until crisp. Soup serves 6 (makes about 4 cups).

With all ingredients well chilled, this soup is a 5 minute preparation, ready to serve instantly. Using a homemade chicken stock, with all fat removed, will make a remarkable difference, though a good quality canned chicken stock may be substituted.

For additional authentic, easy-to-prepare Mexican recipes, write: Jay Maintia, Las Palmas Foods, P.O. Box 698, Ventura, California 90036.

At 9:23 p.m., Muleshoe City Police Dispatcher Laura White took a call on the emergency phone that an accident had occurred on 214 two miles south of Muleshoe, involving two cars.

The dispatcher notified the DPS at Littlefield, and Muleshoe City Police Sgt. Tom Watson started out to the wreck site, along with Bailey County Deputy Sheriff Hal Bynum and DPS Officer Lyndon Huckaby. Joining the search were Deputy Sheriff Jerry Hicks and Littlefield DPS officers.

Approximately the same time as the call to the police department, West Plains Medical Center was called for an ambulance to be dispatched to a wreck two miles north of Needmore, involving two vehicles.

An ambulance started out, but despite a search by many law enforcement officers, involving three counties, no accident was ever found. The search extended beyond paved roads, as officers and ambulance crews drove out side roads, and dirt roads all directions from Needmore.

Apparently the caller, a young girl, did not realize the seriousness of such a call. Not only were all emergency vehicles and officers sent to the south on 'a wild goose chase' the caller made a dangerous, and highly illegal call.

In the event that there had been a 'real' emergency anywhere else in the Muleshoe area, all the officers, ambulance crews and emergency people were around Needmore trying to find an accident that did not exist.

After nearly two hours searching, the officers and other involved in the search for the non-existent accident returned to Muleshoe and Littlefield.

High Yield Food Corn

Conlee's 202 is a new and improved single cross hybrid yellow corn that is unique with a white cob, making it preferred as a food grain. Crop yields, however, meet and most often exceed comparable feed corn yields. This hybrid has bred-in disease resistance and presents the best of parental lines in yield and quality. The big, well shuck covered ears are well placed for easy harvest. The big root system and sturdy stalks provide good standability, reducing the hazards of lodging. Conlee's 202's leaf habit allows for closer plant spacing, thus increasing plant population. It responds very well to moisture becoming a favorite with both dryland and irrigated producers. Proven to be adaptable from deep South Texas to the North into the Plains and Mid-Western States, the popularity of this Conlee hybrid has exceeded expectations, making seed availability limited. Order your 202 corn seed early to assure availability.

Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres must have written this letter around April 15.

Dear editor: I think I've found out why 40 million or so of us have to pay income tax.

It's because we don't make enough money.

According to an article I read while I was trying to get my mind off my income tax forms, between 1981 and 1983 a total of 128 major corporations paid no income taxes, although they earned profits of 57 billion dollars.

You see, if you want to avoid paying an income tax, get up in the billion-dollars-a-year bracket. Like it is, you must not be working hard enough.

According to the article, one big corporation not only earned $6.5 billion and paid no taxes, it got a refund of $283 million. I don't care what their lawyer charged, he's worth it.

The article explained that those 128 tax-dodging corporations didn't violate any law or cheat on their income taxes. They simply took advantage of the tax loopholes.

I used to say I didn't want those loopholes closed, I wanted them pointed out.

I've changed my mind. Even if somebody pointed them out, those loopholes are so crowded with big corporations there's no room left for me or anybody else to squeeze through.

Congress is working on those loopholes. The big loopholes users are working on Congress. I look for a tye.

Your faithfully, J.A.

SPS Wins Award; 'Business Of Year'

Gov. Mark White today is to present Southwestern Public Service Company an award symbolic of "business of the year" in Texas.

At a special luncheon here, White is to present SPS Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Berl M. Springer with the Texas Association of Business (TAB) Ed C. Burris Award.

The award is presented annually to one company that exemplifies the best in Texas business and industry, said Bob Myers of Fort Worth, Chairman of the TAB committee that made the selection.

SPS's efficiency in operations, power plant construction, fuel management and other areas that directly benefit electric customers played a major role in its selection, Myers said.

Among the many SPS accomplishments noted by the selection committee were:

--This summer the company will complete its fifth coal-fired generating unit on schedule, within budget and at a cost about one-half the average for similar power plants throughout the nation. SPS is one of the few electrical utilities in the United States that design and supervise construction of their own power plants.

--SPS was a leader in the utility industry in the early 1970s when it made the decision to meet increasing demand for electricity in its service area with coal-fired power plants. That decision has paid off for SPS customers. Last year alone, fuel costs for its customers were $157 million lower than if the company had to rely solely on natural gas as a boiler fuel.

--SPS is working hard to keep down all fuel costs, including costs of coal. After extensive negotiations completed last year with the Burlington Northern and Santa Fe railroads, SPS renegotiated its coal-haul contracts. The new contracts will save consumers $27 million in fuel costs this year--and $790 million over the next 17 years.

--In a further effort to keep down costs in the future, SPS is constructing a test facility near Amarillo that will examine the feasibility of a coal slurry pipeline using liquified carbon dioxide in place of water to transport coal.

If feasible, such a pipeline would be built from north-eastern New Mexico to a proposed SPS power plant near Lubbock. It would be the first of its kind in the world. It would conserve precious water and perhaps be a source of carbon dioxide (CO2) for Texas' oil industry. CO2 is used to extend the life and increase productivity of oil wells through tertiary recovery.

--SPS also has led the development of historic interconnections between the Eastern and Western Electrical Grids of the United States, with two connections that began operation last year. These interconnections have made practical several opportunities for utilities in different halves of the nation to share power, for the benefit of the customers.

--As a participant in the energy conservation programs of the Governor's office and the Public Utility Commission, SPS is making its customers more aware of ways to use energy wisely.

--The company's air-quality control efforts, including the use of low-sulfur western coal at its coal-fired power plants, help protect the environment.

--SPS has developed many safety programs to remind the public about the dangers of carelessness around electricity, and also has an impressive record of employee safety.

--In SPS's "Partners on Patrol," meter readers and other employees who work outdoors are trained by local law enforcement agencies to watch for crime, fires and other problems in neighborhoods where they are working.

--Also recognized were the individual efforts of SPS employees in United Way and other community programs.

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electric service to a population of more than one million in a 52,000-square-mile area of the Panhandle and south plains of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.
