Draft May Call All Farm Lads Under 26

"Every able-bodied single man under 26 years of age, regardless of the extent of his farming operations, now registered with the Farmer county board might as well get his affairs in shape for army induction before the close of the year."

This was the emphatic prediction and advice issued by members of the local board last week, following a conference with Lt. Harold C. Benedict, of State Selective Service headquarters, who addressed a joint meeting of the Farmer and Bailey county boards on last Wednesday evening.

Lt. Benedict called attention to the fact that industry has already been called upon to surrender to the armed forces virtually all of its employees under the 26-year-old age limit, and added that "the only place the army and navy has to go for replacements of young men is to the farms."

Following his interpretations of new draft regulations, the local board labored until near midnight Wednesday pulling up young men who will be used to fill the July pre-induction physical examination call. Some of the boys selected to go are connected with large farming operations and had only been registered a short time.

Deferments Not Likely

With deferments to registrants under 26 practically out of the picture in the future, there was at the same time an indication that there would be an ease-up of registrants over that age, with even more consideration extended registrants who have attained their 30th birthday.

Lt. Benedict's interpretation of the new regulations might be conveyed in his own words: "bear down on the men under 26; ease up slightly on those over 26, and give special consideration to those over 30."

Local draft board officials were thrown into a tailspin with Lt. Benedict's pronouncements as they faced the problem of carrying out his interpretations of the regulations which seem to mean that eventually—possibly before the close of the present year—every man in the young age group will be uprooted from the farms, regardless of the size of his operations.

Single Boys First

The process to be followed in inducting these young men specifies that the single men will be called first; next the non-fathers, and finally, the fathers. When all men in these categories have been exhausted, then drafting of men between the ages of 27 and 39 will begin, to be carried through on the same basis—first the single men, next the non-fathers and then the fathers.

Row Crops of County Needing More Rain

While wheat farmers have been hoping for dry weather for another week or ten days, the row crop boys are beginning to wish that their crops could get some moisture.

Early row crops particularly are beginning to need rain, while the late crops are reported to be growing nicely. An unusual growth of weeds, occasioned by farmers giving attention to wheat harvest, has infested most early row crops.

Only scattering showers have fallen over the county for the past few weeks, and in many areas the crops are beginning to evidence need of moisture.

Big Pull Behind Allied Push

Not far behind the Allied Fifth and Eighth armies who are pushing the Germans out of Italy come the hundreds of refugee families who are taking the road back to their homes. This family is typical. Lacking transportation, the family uses its man (and woman) power to haul its worldly possessions on a farm cart.

Parmer Still Lagging In Sale of E Bonds

Expressing confidence that Parmer county would attain its quota of $140,000 in E bonds before the deadline on July 31st, Chairman G. D. Anderson of the War Finance Committee, today revealed that total sales in E bonds to date amounted to $117,000, which is 323,000 below the quota figure.

At the same time, he announced that sales of all other series of bonds had exceeded the county allotment of $125,000. Figures released today showed that a total of $128,437.50 in the other series—including G and F—had been credited to this county.

"I look for a decided pick-up in sales of E bonds during the remaining days of the month," Anderson said, explaining that many heavy purchases could be expected when wheat farmers of the county complete their harvesting operations.

He added that he would not be surprised to see the sales in the county mount another hundred thousand dollars before the close of the month.

Dr. Wivel To Speak At Men's Meeting

Dr. Wivel is known to be a very able lecturer and his talk on Thursday night will be on "Juvenile Delinquency."

The meeting is scheduled to get underway at 9:30, Texas time.

Farwell Faculty Is Minus One Member

Supt. J. T. Carter reported today that the Farwell faculty lacked only one member to make it complete for the coming school year, with other vacancies now being filled.

Mrs. Hazel Atchley recently tendered her resignation as primary instructor, and Mrs. Harry Whitley, who last year taught the fourth and fifth grades, has accepted the primary department.

From that shift comes the vacancy, with Supt. Carter now seeking a fourth and fifth grade teacher.

Miss Dottie Dell Quickel has accepted the position of social science teacher in high school, and the vacancy caused by the resignation of T. A. McCuiston as ag teacher has been filled by Robert Morton.

NO COURT THIS WEEK

The Parmer County district court has been at a complete standstill all this week.

District Judge James W. Witherpoon is expected to return here next week to wind up the docket, but none of the local officials knew definitely about his plans. It was very evident that no petit jury will be called for next week and the grand jury was recessed the first week of the term, subject to call by the district judge.

Sheriff Earl Booth gave it as his opinion that the grand jury would not be recalled before early in August.

Former Local Lad to Do Revival Preaching

It will be somewhat like a homecoming for Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the First Methodist church at Childress, when he comes here to begin a series of revival services at the local Methodist church, beginning Sunday, August 6th.

Rev. Carter is a son of Rev. H. W. Carter, who was pastor of the local church in 1922-23, and a brother of Supt. J. T. Carter of the Farwell school. He has been pastor of the Childress church for the past five years.

He received his B. A. and B. D. degrees from Southern Methodist University at Dallas, and at the age of 22 delivered the first sermon ever preached in Borger, standing on a nail keg in a furniture store.

Starting with the morning services on August 6, the meeting will continue until August 20, with services held twice daily—11 a. m. and 9 p. m.

LeVeque To Leave For Hereford FSA Office

W. B. LeVeque, who came here in September of 1943 to take over the management of the local Farm Security office, will be moved to Hereford as supervisor in the near future, it was learned the first of the week.

Details on the change were not complete here, but it was believed that, owing to the shortage of supervisors for such offices, LeVeque would handle the work for three counties—Parmer, Oldham and Deaf Smith—with offices in Hereford.

Permits Allowed For Used Car Dealerships

Persons who cannot qualify as used car dealers because they do not maintain a place for repairing and reconditioning of cars may receive approval in writing to become a dealer from their district office of OPA, it is announced.

In order to receive approval, the applicant dealer must provide adequate evidence that he has established and is in a financial position to maintain a working arrangement with a reputable business engaged in repairing and reconditioning used cars.

Mills continued. Inquiries from counties where none of the granaries remain on hand have already begun to come in to the local office, and it would be extremely foolhardy for local farmers to wait until the earlier harvest in other areas has drained away the best of the bins before they make their selections. Prices of the bins, although not marked down to "giveaway" levels, are below the actual cost of lumber—if lumber was available.

Interested farmers can quickly arrange to purchase a granary by calling at the AAA office in Farwell, or by telephoning.

Harvesting of Parmer county's record wheat crop—estimated at not less than two and a half million bushels—began to move toward a climax this week with weather conditions playing an important role in the progress of combine operations.

Repeated showers over the entire wheat belt of the county have thrown the completion of harvest unusually late this year. Generally harvest in this county is finished by the middle of July, but present indications are that it will require at least another week or ten days before all machines can be pulled out of the fields.

As the harvest began to approach completion this week, estimates of the county's production began to come forth. Most estimates place the county average at 20 to 25 bushels to the acre. On the basis of these figures, it was also being predicted that the county yield this year would exceed two and one half million bushels. Some estimates placed the yield as high as three million bushels.

County Agent Garlon A. Harper said today that the records of his office showed that at least 140,000 acres were sown to wheat in this county last fall. He had no account of the fields that were plowed up and the acreage destroyed by hail.

Car Situation Improves

W. W. Vinyard, local Santa Fe agent, said today that the railroad car situation, which had created a bottleneck in the movement of wheat from the entire Plains region, was "considerably improved" and expressed the opinion that shipping of the remaining grain would be speeded up.

At the same time, local grain men revealed another damper had fallen across the path of moving the grain. They reported that terminals are becoming clogged, with the result that little or no storage is available. C. M. Henderson, local grain buyer, said that local elevators were able to buy and dispose of the grain at the market price, but at the present "we are not able to accept any more wheat for government storage". He added the opinion that this condition would likely "clear up in a few days".

Home From Hearing In Houston Courts

Mrs. Roy Bobst, of the local ration office, returned the past Friday from Houston, where she had been attending hearings of men charged with illegal use of gasoline coupons allegedly stolen from the Parmer county office early in the year.

It had been understood here that the two men charged with stealing the coupons—L. A. and Dibbs Crawford—would be tried in Houston, but Mrs. Bobst stated that hearings for those who had allegedly received or bought the stamps were held.

Just in case you might overlook it

The first Democratic primary election will be held throughout the State of Texas on Saturday, July 22, at which time the voters will nominate a ticket to represent the party in the general election this fall.

Reports from over the state give every indication that there will be an exceedingly light vote polled in Saturday's primary. That is particularly true in Parmer county, with none of the county-wide offices being contested.

Only three contested races exist in this county—two candidates in the field for the commissioner's seat in precinct one, three and four.

Campaign activities locally have been extremely light this year, with opposing candidates reaching agreements early in the campaign that no house-to-house campaigns would be conducted.

While there is a dearth of county candidates, the voters will have a wide selection of aspirants—nine in number—to choose from when they go to nominate their choice for governor.

Present county officers will be presented the nomination on a silver platter, with Lee Thompson being renominated for county judge, Earl Booth for sheriff, D. K. Roberts for county clerk, Roy B. Ezell for county treasurer, and A. D. Smith for county attorney.

Floyd Schlenker will be renominated for county commissioner of precinct two with no opposition. But T. E. Levy and O. M. Jennings, present commissioners from precincts three and four, are being opposed for renomination.

Jim Miller is contesting the seat of Levy and W. S. Menefee is out to oust Jennings.

In precinct one, Bill Flippin and D. O. Roberts are out to succeed Dave Moseley, who is not a candidate this year.

Comanche Wheat Has Good Test In County

Compiling a survey from four Parmer County farms, County Agent Garlon A. Harper said today that the yield from Comanche, a new variety of wheat, turned out well in this county on test.

Although only a small acreage was planted, due to the inability to secure the seed, Harper expressed himself as well pleased with the yield, considering the various disadvantages to which the wheat was subjected.

Both Matt Jesko and Jerry Blackburn sustained bad hail damage on their fields of Comanche, yet reported that prior to that, the wheat showed a heavier stand and faster growth than other varieties planted nearby.

Jesko grazed his Comanche, and reported that he obtained a third more grazing, as compared to a field of Tenmarq planted alongside, while Blackburn, who had planted the new variety next to a field of Blackbull, stated that the growth of Comanche was far superior.

Bill Sherley, of the Lazbuddy community, reported that his field of the new variety actually turned out a two-bushel-per-acre average less than registered Tenmarq, but J. O. Ford, near Farwell, stated that his Comanche averaged 5 bushels more per acre than Tenmarq, despite a severe beating the former took from the wind early in the year.

Harper stated that he was of the opinion plenty of seed would be available this year for all farmers who wished to try the new variety, but suggested that they make their requests for such certified seed early in the planting season.

Brother Killed In South Pacific Raid

Capt. John L. Branson, who was here the first of the week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Henderson, received a message Tuesday morning announcing the death of his brother, Ensign Gilford Branson.

No details were given, but it was known that Ensign Branson was a dive bomber operating off the Lexington, and had been on duty in the South Pacific.

Capt. and Mrs. Branson left here immediately for Pampa, where the father of the Branson boys resides.

Grain Storage Room Should Be Planned Now

With prospects looming for a grain sorghum harvest exceeding the 1943 crop, it is not too early for farmers in Parmer county to take all possible precautions to have in sight storage room for their grain, is the opinion expressed today by Ellis M. Mills, of the Triple A office.

Observers report that every available acre from the north line of the Panhandle as far south as Fort Worth is planted to sorghum grains. The AAA office at Lubbock estimates a 20 percent increase in grain sorghum acreage for Lubbock county with a high yield indicated, and a similar prediction from Lamb county forecasts a 35 percent acreage increase.

It appears unlikely, Mills believes, that the strain on local and terminal elevators brought about by the bumper heat harvest can be relieved in time to cope with a big grain sorghum crop, not to mention a sizeable sudan storage problem. Untold waste and damage to grain piled on the ground last fall, as well as numerous cases of theft, should warn growers what to expect this year with bigger yields of wheat, grain sorghum and sudan in prospect, he emphasized.

A stampede to purchase the CCC grain bins erected for sale in Parmer County is not at all unlikely,

Operation Practices Have Bearing on New Equipment Requests

Operators of commercial motor vehicles have been warned by the Office of Defense Transportation that the manner in which they operate and maintain their vehicles in conformity with good maintenance practices may be a factor in determining whether or not they are entitled to new equipment.

There continues to be evidence that many motor trucks and motor truck tires are being abused and prematurely worn out by some operators, though the great majority of the operators are doing a very good job in conserving equipment, ODT said.

With the new streamlined procedure for allocating trucks by the ODT district offices, each of which has a maintenance specialist on its staff, the ODT is considering an inspection of the condition of old trucks which are to be replaced with new ones in order to determine if past maintenance work has been ample, it was explained. Operators must conserve present trucks, it was emphasized, and those who do not do so should not be granted new vehicles.

Many items can be used as criteria in judging the quality of maintenance of an old vehicle. An operator who has very poor results with tires can be assumed to be a serious offender insofar as overloads and speeds are concerned. Evidence of insufficient and irregular lubrication can be observed directly on vehicles. The operator's purchases or requests for new parts to replace parts which have been broken or obviously abused may be another indication of poor maintenance and abusive operation.

4-H'sers Take Part In Farm Safety Week

One million 4-H club boys and girls throughout the United States will do their part in the observance of National Farm Safety Week, July 23 to 29, to help save manpower for warpower.

This will be the second year that clubbers have participated in a nationwide safety program to impress farm people with the vital need of preventing accidents on farms that result in 18,000 deaths and 1 1/2 million persons injured annually. Last year more than 400,000 club members in 31 states enrolled in the National 4-H Farm Safety Activity, and made a very creditable showing. Members in 44 states are enrolled in the activity this year.

As outstanding achievement incentives in this year's 4-H Farm Safety Activity, William G. Mennen of Newark, N. J., is providing roundly $10,000 worth of honor medals, US war savings bonds, National 4-H Club Congress trips, and college scholarships as awards respectively to county, state, sectional and national winners. In addition, the county in each state reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in 1944 will receive a special plaque designating the honor.

Remnants Are Used To Make Floor Lamp

COLLEGE STATION—Given a few odds and ends, county extension agents sometimes demonstrate miracles. But the demonstration is their Pandora's box of methods to teach farm people greater efficiency and how to multiply their home comforts. Here is an outstanding example of the ingenuity of one of the home demonstration agents in fabricating a useful household article from an automobile part, old newspapers and a bit of plank with the aid of two handy 4-H club girls.

Edith and Faye Ryder, Knox county 4-H club girls, desired to make a floorlamp out of a steering wheel of an automobile. So they sought the help of the county home demonstration agent, Kathleen Lucile King, who listed the things necessary to do the job. First, they shredded enough newspaper to fill a gallon bucket, and when Miss King reached their home she added a one-inch cube of soap cut into tiny bits and a handful of salt. The mixture was covered with water and allowed to stand overnight.

Next morning, Edith took a washboard and rubbed the soaked paper into pulp. Flour was added to thicken it and form a paste and the bucket placed on the stove. While Edith prepared the papermachie, Faye cut the circular part of the steering wheel with a hacksaw and then sawed a four-by-four piece from the plank. Using a carpenter's square she found the exact center of the block where she bored a hole about half way through with bit. It was then placed on top of the steering wheel rod.

With the parts assembled, the agent proceeded with wiring. The cord was run through the block and the plug put on and tested. Next the socket was screwed to the four by four block, and rags cut in one inch strips were used to wrap the steering wheel. Lastly, the papermachie was spread on the stand, smothered down and set to dry. When properly dried it will be painted or enameled white or ivory.

PLANT SUMMER GRAIN FOR LATE FORAGE CROP

COLLEGE STATION—Planting of summer grain crops to provide late forage is very necessary this year, says E. A. Miller, agronomist. Seeding may be done at once on any available land, including areas where spring crops were retarded or damaged by excess moisture. There is a good chance, too, to plant forage crops after harvesting of others which matured. Grain sorghums, for instance, mature in about three months.

Miller advises that grain sorghums may be planted up to August 15, or even as late as Sept. 1 in the central and southern parts of Texas, with an excellent prospect of reaping a satisfactory yield. Northward, however, the deadline for planting is about August 1 but in emergency, seeding up to August 15 would have a good chance of making a crop.

Although natural conditions were favorable to record production of most grain crops this year, Miller says there will be a pressing need next winter for all of the forage and roughages which Texas farmers can produce. Animal numbers still are abnormally high and demand for feed, both roughages and concentrates, likely will keep pace with that of last year. Unfortunately, he explains all of the feed grains grown in the state cannot be channeled to the feed lots. There is a brisk commercial demand for grain sorghums and the largest production possible is the only means of relieving the bottleneck.

Citing the productivity of grain sorghums, Miller says that private reports indicate that about 10,000 bushels of the early crop will be produced in several counties in the Corpus Christi area, the largest on record.

The overall outlook for production of feed grains in Texas this year is phenomenal. Miller quotes the USDA June crop report as estimating the oats yield at 45,400,000 bushels, or more than 100 percent in excess of last year, and barley at 7,293,000 bushels also more than 100 percent larger than the 1943 crop. The 1944 yields of both grains are substantially more than the 1933-42 10-year average.

WINGED COMMANDOS LOOK FORWARD TO BIG FOOTBALL SEASON

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD Lubbock—The Winged Commandos of SPAAF are looking eagerly forward to the football season with prospects for the best team in the history of the field and a schedule being formed to rank with the best of any West Texas elevens.

Lt. Ray Cagni, athletic officer, was optimistic about chances for a hot team and will call practice in the next few weeks. Last year the Commandos gained nationwide recognition when Marion Rogers, stellar linesman, was selected on the Associated Press' first All-American eleven.

The Commandos will be looking to the games with their arch rivals, the Lubbock Army Air Field and Texas Tech. Last year Tech defeated the glider pilots 14-12 in the highlight game of the season.

Among the outstanding opponents on the pigskin program are Amarillo AAF, Lubbock AAF, TCU, Southwestern University of Georgetown, North Texas Aggies of Arlington, WT, and Tech. All games with the exception of two will be played in the Tech stadium at Lubbock.

UNIVERSITY AT TOP

The University of Texas is already out of the "local institution" category and must be judged by national and international higher educational standards, President Homer

P. Rainey declared in his statement at the June commencement.

He said the University already stands at the top of the list in the entire Southwest, and competes not so much with other institutions of the South as "with such universities as Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and California".

Never explain. Your friends do not need it—and your enemies will not believe you anyway.

Warning

NO COAL FOR CIVILIAN USE WILL BE SHIPPED DURING SEPTEMBER, OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, DECEMBER, JANUARY, AND FEBRUARY

The United States Government has notified all coal dealers and all mine operators that the Government will need the entire output of the coal mines of this country from September through February.

During these months the coal will be required to keep the war plants booming, the supply trains rolling and for the men in camps and on the battlefields.

With fewer miners and less transportation this promises to be the most critical year so far as the coal supply for civilian use is concerned.

Order Your Coal Now!

July and August are the only two months remaining in which reasonably prompt deliveries can be made... so all who use coal are urged to store it now. It is the only way you can be sure of having coal next winter!

Health Notes

by Texas Department of Health

AUSTIN—"Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three months," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months."

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscope. The first symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness; but in more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one or more groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted."

"Flies, or other insects, while under suspicion, have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people that are healthy may be carriers of the germ. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack."

"Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parents note any symptoms of illness in their children the family doctor should be consulted at once."

TIPS ON BUTTER MAKING ARE GIVEN HOMEMAKERS

COLLEGE STATION—For best quality sweet cream butter, cream should test about 30 per cent butterfat. This means it is rich enough for one gallon to yield approximately 3 pounds of butter, explains Gladys Martin, home dairy specialist for the Extension Service.

While some people prefer the more pronounced flavor of butter made from slightly sour cream, most seem to prefer sweet cream butter, she observes. At this time of year the cream should be cooled immediately after it is skimmed and kept at 50 degrees F. or below.

On many farms, homemakers churn only two or three times a week and use sour cream. When this is the practice, the cream should be placed in one container and thoroughly mixed, then warmed slowly to a temperature of from 65 to 75 degrees F. Miss Martin explains that this allows cream to ripen uniformly. The cream should stand at this ripening temperature until it thickens, assumes a glossy appearance, and is mildly sour. Then it should be cooled quickly to churning temperature for at least two hours before churning is begun.

In summer proper churning temperature varies between 50 and 60 degrees F. while in the winter between 55 and 65 degrees usually is satisfactory. At the proper temperature only about 25 to 30 minutes of churning are required for butter granules to be firm without becoming hard. A dairy thermometer, which is inexpensive, offers the only sure way of checking the cream temperature.

Miss Martin says the churn should be filled only one-third. Churning should continue until the granules are the size of a grain of corn. Then the buttermilk should be removed from churn. Butter should be washed with the same amount of water as there was buttermilk. It should be at about the same temperature as the cream was in the churning. Usually three washings are required. Buttermilk should never be "worked out".

DRIVE OPENS TO RECRUIT WACS FOR TECHNICIANS

FORT SILL, Okla.—A drive to recruit Wacs to serve as medical, surgical, dental, X-ray and laboratory technicians was launched in the Fort Sill Recruiting district this week with the visit of 1st Lt. Sylvia Nearman, who is visiting posts and stations in this area in the interest of the drive.

The Eighth Service Command needs 21 medical technicians and 10 surgical technicians before July 21, when basic training will be started at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

A high school education in addition to a liking and aptitude for the work is required of Wacs enlisting as technicians in these fields. If the Officer of Procurement Service or a representative certifies them, they definitely will be assigned to the proper school following basic training. The technicians' training is given at the General Hospital, Camp Atterbury, Ind., and lasts for from three to four months.

Some recruits with sufficient actual experience or education in their fields will be assigned as technicians immediately following basic training without the need of attending a special school, according to Lt. Nearman.

Further information on the new drive may be obtained at sub-stations in Oklahoma City, Froid and Lawton, Okla., and Amarillo, Tex.

What about travel conditions?

Travel conditions are different than they were in pre-war days.

Let's look at the facts:

Throughout the land, tens of thousands of men and women of our armed forces are now traveling across the country by rail.

The families of our fighting troops are taking trips to "see the boys" before they shove off for overseas.

Executives and war workers of essential industries are traveling between various plants on important missions.

It all adds up to this: More passengers than ever before are crowding the Santa Fe trains.

We are required to handle this unprecedented volume of passenger traffic with practically the same equipment we had in 1941.

Building new passenger equipment has not been permitted since Pearl Harbor.

Our government has issued instructions to the railroads under Interstate Commerce Commission Service Order No. 213, effective 12:01 am June 27, to displace or remove any passenger in any accommodation upon any train, in order to provide necessary space for sick or wounded service personnel, and their attendants, transported pursuant to a medical certificate. We hope there will be little of this.

We of the Santa Fe will do our best to carry all the passengers we can, as quickly and comfortably as we can, but we ask this before you plan a trip this summer:

Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to carry you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?

A SUGGESTION to our Cigarette Customers

We see no immediate prospect for a shortage of cigarettes, but we must admit that we are not able to get as many of the popular brands recently as in the past. We are not suggesting that our customers start hoarding their favorite smokes for that would most certainly create an immediate shortage. But we do ask that our local customers form the practice of getting their cigarettes on the week-ends, rather than on the first of the week. In this way, we believe we will be able to supply the local demands.

Draft May Call—

armed forces is for men below 30 years of age, the mere fact that a man has attained his 30th birthday is no assurance that he will not be inducted, and the regulations provide that local boards are authorized to proceed with the induction of men over 30 who have been classified 1-A.

Agriculture To Be Affected

Granting that agricultural production will be affected when all these young men are uprooted from the farm, Lt. Benedict observed that "we have more food in the nation today than at any time in our history". At the same time, he cited the inescapable provision of Selective Service regulations, "the needs of manpower for the armed forces must come first".

Farmers Warned

A checkup of the records at the local draft office reveal that, with two exceptions, every deferred man now under 26 who is registered in Farmer county is on the farms. This means, draft officials, pointed out, that possibly every one of them—about 40 in number—are to be pulled off the farms. But at the same time, the process will be gradual. Board members were of the opinion that calls would not be heard during the remaining months of the present year, and that it would probably be the first of next year before all of them were taken. In the meantime, young registrants were cautioned to "stay where you are and keep working at the job to which you have been deferred". To do otherwise could lead to immediate induction.

Farmers having young men, particularly single men, under 26 years of age on their farms were warned to "get their affairs in shape" to lose such farm help. They were further advised to make no plans for future operations that would involve the services of such men.

"The regulations have not changed materially," Lt. Benedict said, "but practically all the boards over the state have been too lenient in granting deferments, with the result that we now find our army in desperate need of young men... and the only place to get them is from the farms."

Young registrants were particularly warned not to get disturbed about their draft status and volunteer. It was pointed out by draft officials that the chances for getting their particular choice in the branch of service is exceedingly slim. Furthermore, draft officials said, to volunteer would mean immediate induction, whereas, if the registrant waits until he is called by his draft board, his induction might not come for several months. In the meantime, many things could happen that would further delay inductions of the young registrants.

Restrictions May Be Removed on Sudan

The removal of two restrictions on the amount of payment to the farmer for harvesting sudan grass seed became strongly probable when the state AAA committee recommended on July 6 that the 25-acre limitation be removed and that sudan harvesting as a conservation practice be placed in the group of practices not limited by a farm allowance.

As now set forth under the regulations, harvesting provided for payment of $3.50 per acre for threshing sudan of the required yield, but restricts to 25 acres the amount per farm on which payment may be made and lists the practice among those limited by the farm allowance formula of 75¢ per acre of cropland.

There is little room for doubt that the recommendation will be approved, since N. E. Dodd, Chief of the AAA at Washington has urged strong measures to increase the supply of pasture grass and legume seed. Congress, moreover, has set aside 12½ million dollars largely for the purpose of stimulating the harvest of seed to forestall an impending shortage.

In connection with the loan of 6¢ per pound, this payment for harvesting expenses should result in a big increase in the acreage of sudan to be harvested for seed in Farmer and adjoining counties. It will further complicate the problem of harvesting machinery and labor as well as increase the strain on warehouse and farm storage space. Forward-looking farmers will want to make immediate arrangements for threshing and storing their sudan to avoid possible loss.

It's a wise teacher who knows how to use something besides a ruler to make a pupil smart.

No Light Trucks to Be Produced, WPB

Richard E. Wood, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation at Lubbock announced today receipt of notice not to accept applications for light motor trucks following denial by WPB of ODT's request for resumption of light truck production beginning with the first quarter of 1945.

There is little likelihood for new light trucks being available for the nation's truck operators during the first quarter of 1945 as a result of this action, the district manager said WPB's decision was based upon the demand for trucks by the armed forces, he added.

YOU'RE TELLIN' ME!

On Christmas Eve, Jones was discovered by Brown trying to shove a horse on to his doorstep. "Give a hand, old man," he pleaded. Brown, wondering, did so. They pushed the horse into the hall. "Now just let's get him up the stairs." So they pushed and shoved. "Now into the bathroom," said Jones.

When they got the horse safely in, Jones closed the door softly. "Why, why, why?" asked Brown. "I'll tell you," said Jones.

"I've got a brother-in-law who lives with us and knows everything. But when he goes up to bathe tomorrow he'll shout down, 'Hey, there's a horse in the bathroom,' and for the first time I'll be able to shout back, you're tellin' me!"
