Flowers grow in Lazbuddie

Izaak, Wilhelmina van Zielst and their two children, Martin and Andrea, moved to the United States in 1982 from Nieuwe-Tonghe, Holland.

Nieuwe-Tonghe has about 2,200 people.

They came to East Texas first where they wanted to raise flowers. They were checking the different areas to see where the flowers grew better and for profitability.

They moved to the Lazbuddie area and found it to have better weather and be more like Holland. "The flowers will take about three or four years to start growing really well," said van Zielst.

They grow several kinds of flowers - tulips, gladiolas, zinnias, marigolds, Bell of Ireland, Larkspurs, astadices, primroses and mirabilis.

They also grow vegetables, potatoes, peppers, carrots, sugar beets and soybeans. They are getting ready to harvest navy beans. The seeds are sent back to Holland as are most of the flowers seeds.

The seed of the primrose is used for medicine and cosmetics. It takes 55 pounds of seed to make one gallon of oil.

The family enjoys living in Lazbuddie. They have two more daughters in Holland that are married and have children.

Wilhelmina said, "A lot of people phone and ask to come see all the flowers." They have people from Hereford, Lubbock, Amarillo and around the area come to see their fields of flowers.

Wilhelmina enjoys cooking, crocheting and ice skating. As far as sports, they enjoy soccer.

Their daughter, Andrea, is 12 years old. She is active in band at Lazbuddie School.

Gartin captures 1st in 3rd football contest

Don Gartin of Lariat took first place in last week's Area Merchants' football contest.

Gartin, plus five others, had 11 of the 12 games picked correctly. He was by virtue of being closest to the tiebreaker; he was 6 off. In the tiebreaker, Seagraves blanked Farwell, 18-0.

Gartin received a cash prize of $10.

In second place, also with 11 right, was Lisa Geries. She was 10 off the tiebreaker. She received a $5 cash prize.

Others with 11 correct were Linda White, Ridley Lonsdale, Eileen Dannheim and Rhonda Dale. The game most often missed was Eunice-Texico, in which the Wolverines were upset, 22-21.

Those with 10 answers correct were:

Homer Anzaldua, Howard Carlyle, Charles Dannheim, Ralph Franse, Linda Geries, Gay Goettsch, Buck Gregory, Clint Kelley, Frank Landry, Clyde McDonald, Yalonda McFarland, Carolla Smith, Rhonda Webb, Juanita White, Amanda Perales.

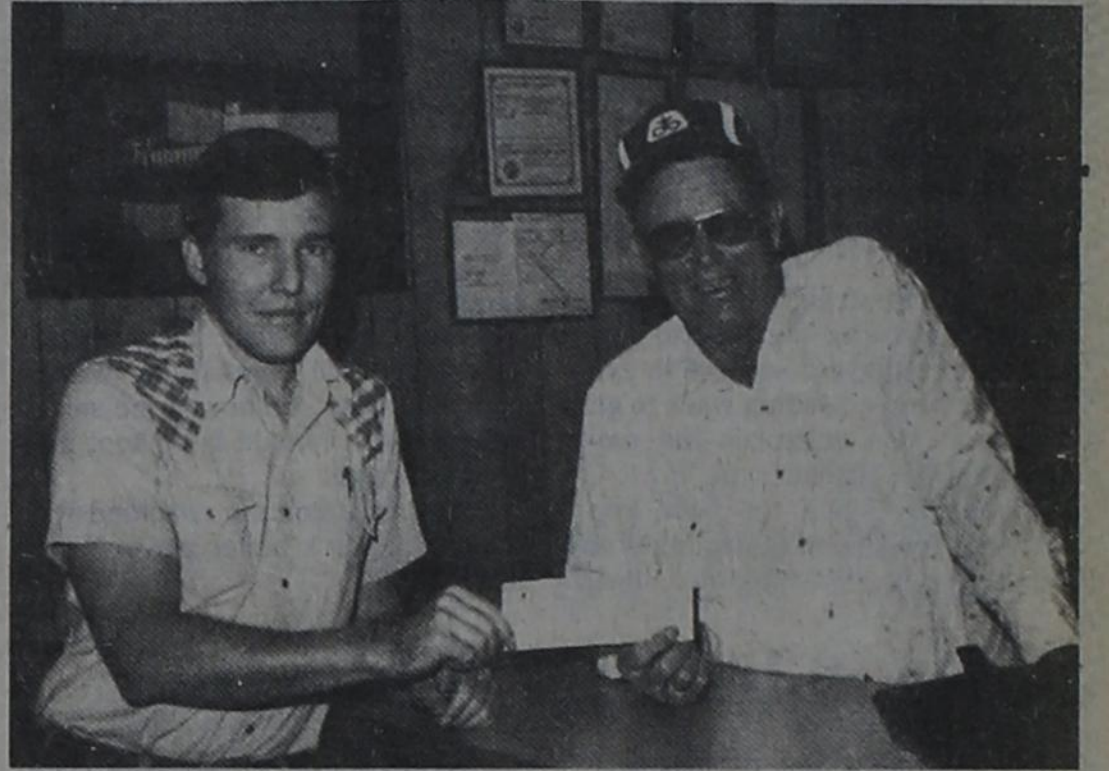

Also, Shorty Robertson, Joe Jaime, Gia Hardage, Jody Ketcherside, Joyce Ketcherside, Ann Liethen, Dick Pylant, Rusty Stover, Todd Thigpen, Sam Webb, Andrea Chadwick, Cotton Robertson, Kathy Cherry and Daniel Schacher.

Here are the top standings at the end of the first three weeks in the 12-week contest:

30 points - Juanita White, 29 points - Ysleta Kittrell, Kevin Owen, Buck Gregory and Dale Sikes.

Sherley-Anderson elevator at Lariat, where Gartin works. The Sherley-Anderson elevators in Farwell and Lariat are contest sponsors.

Green, T.J. Kittrell and Dick Pylant.

26 points - Dianne Dannheim, John Franse, Gay Goettsch, Louise Green, Robin Gregory, Gerald Hardage, Bill Howard, Mamie Howard, Carolla Smith, Carl Parker, Clint Kelley, Joyce Ketcherside, Dan Koeniz, Mark Liethen, Michael Littlejohn, Todd Thigpen, Lonnie McFarland, Fuji Ortiz, Ed Wees, Brian White, Duane White, Dolores Williams, N.B. Eunice over Texico, Nazareth over Hart, O'Donnell over Lazbuddie, Santa Rosa over Fort Sumner, Texas over Missouri, Notre Dame over Michigan State, Louisiana Tech over West Texas State, Georgia over Clemson, Dallas over Cleveland, Pittsburg over Houston, New York Giants over St. Louis and San Francisco over Los Angeles

Raiders.

The Grand prize of the 12-week contest will be two tickets to the Dallas Cowboys-New York Giants game Dec. 15 in Dallas. The prize also includes lodging at the Regent Hotel, transportation to and from the stadium, and $50 spending money - to the person with the most points at the end of the 10 remaining games.

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

This story is 'made up'

So you say you are farming and things are really rough and you're thinking of getting another job? Or you're the wife of a farmer and you're considering entering the workplace to help out with funds?

There's always the federal government. Big Daddy will help. And if the jobs aren't available now, don't worry, they can be created. Of course, you may have to move to Washington, D.C. I don't know if you would appreciate that. But once you've gotten that federal job, you're taken care of for life. And maybe beyond?

Here's an example: A friend of mine worked in the General Accounting Office in Washington. The GAO's job was to watch how other agencies spent their money. Actually, it was political and the GAO can only watch "some" agencies (they would deny that, obviously, but...)

Anyway, my friend had his secretary leave to another department so another secretary was transferred into his office. This girl lacked most of the skills we associate with secretaries and it drove him crazy.

Well, in private business when that happens, the answer is easy: you explain to the person that his/her job isn't being done well enough and it would be wise for the individual to seek employment elsewhere.

That may be true in private industry, but not in the federal bureaucracy.

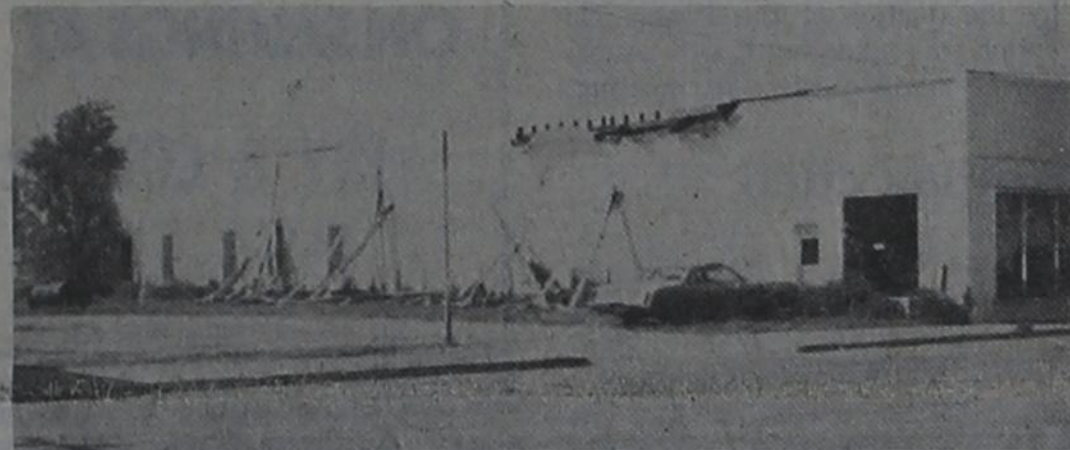

As my friend explained it to me, it would take literally years to move that person out of his office. The red tape is so thick that it's like using a machete to move through the jungles of Colombia.

So he took the only resource available to him; he began working to have the secretary moved into another department. Foist her off on some poor unsuspecting manager, is the way he put it.

I left Virginia about the time he was working on this project so I don't know how it turned out. But, eventually, I'm sure he succeeded. And why couldn't he just dismiss an ineffective employee? Civil Service.

When Civil Service was introduced into government back in the 1880s, it was needed. We had the "spoils system" before that, with all its resultant scandals. But like so

It's going down

The building in the 200 block of Ave. A in Farwell, just west of the Red's Barber Shop building, is being demolished. The building, which had a bad roof, was sold by Johnny Stewart, who owns Stewart Motors. It was sold to an individual for its materials.

No-pass, no-play rules may be changed by state board

Bailey Marshall, director of the University Interscholastic League, was quoted recently as saying the State Board of Education probably will make a small but significant change in the controversial no-pass, no-play rule.

According to Marshall, the board may decide to be a little less harsh on students participating in extracurricular activities who fail a course. Current rules call for such students to be suspended from extracurricular activities for six weeks. The new rule, Marshall said, probably will require only a three-week suspension.

We've been hearing the same rumors as Marshall, and we think the rule change would be a good one. It most assuredly would not be enough to protect the "borderline" student, but it would represent a step in the right direction.

The no-pass, no-play rule is one of the best and worst things to come from the education reform package of 1984. The rule admirable requires extracurricular participants to study harder. It says, correctly, that no one who is failing should be permitted to participate in those extracurricular activities.

Where the rule goes wrong is its suspension period. Six weeks is just too long. Three weeks is better. A week-by-week suspension would be best.

Don't get us wrong, here. We're not trying to help the goof-offs, those students who don't really care about school and are only there for football or some other activity. Those students aren't likely to pass all their courses no matter what the suspension period.

The students we're concerned about are the "borderline" students. These are the youths that are failing just a single course by one or two points. Borderline students need encouragement to improve their grades, not a punitive suspension period.

Perhaps the best example is the

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

El Paso high school student who also happened to be a very good baseball pitcher. Entering his senior year, the youth had a reasonable shot at a college scholarship. He also was a good student, concerned about his scholastic future.

The youth could have coasted through his senior year, but he didn't. He signed up for all requisite courses and trigonometry, a subject he thought would help him in college. Right before baseball season began, he received his latest grades. Four A's and a 69 in trigonometry. The student was out for six weeks and his shot at a scholarship was down the tubes. He was punished for trying to excel academically.

His case was an exception, but a shortened suspension period is designed to protect the exceptions. In a weekly system, the student would have been able to improve his grade quickly and return to the playing field. The incentive would be greater for the El Paso youth and other borderline students. The six-week suspension period ruins the student's chance to participate and probably his attitude about scholastics as well.

Three-week suspension won't offer quite the same incentive, but it certainly is better than six weeks. It's good to see the state board trying to correct one of the few deficiencies in our school reform package.

Let's hope it's a trend that will continue.

Stewart. Second row, left end is Chris Aycock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aycock. The large Con-quistador marked the entrance of Troop 790's campsite at the 1985 National Scout Jamboree.

Aycock, Stewart attend Boy Scout Jamboree

Wednesday, July 17, Boy Scout Jamboree Troop 790 of the Conquistador Council assembled at Lubbock International Airport to depart for Washington, D.C., for five days of sight-seeing before traveling to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia. Two local boys, Jeffrey Stewart and Chris Aycock, were selected to be members of Troop 790 which was composed of 36 Boy Scouts and 4 adult leaders from Carlsbad, Artesia, Hobbs, Roswell, Portales, Clovis, and Farwell.

From Lubbock the boys flew to Dallas where they joined troops from the Dallas area for the flight to Washington. After arriving at National Airport Wednesday evening, Troop 790 was bussed to a downtown Washington hotel, their campsite for four nights.

Thursday began with a tour of the U.S. Capitol Building and a visit to Senator Pete Domenici's office. The Senator's office was reached by riding the legislators' subway which links the Capitol with surrounding office buildings. From the Senator's office the Scouts walked down the Mall to the Smithsonian Institute and the Aeronautics Museum where they viewed such aircraft as the Wright Brothers' Kittyhawk, Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis, and the space craft which carried man to the moon. The Troop also visited the National Archives where they viewed the Constitution and Bill of Rights.

A visit to the White House, where anti-nuclear demonstrators were seen, began the second day of sight-seeing. Ford's Theater and the house where Lincoln died, the F.B.I. Building and Arlington National Cemetery were also included in Friday's tour. A special highlight of the day was the trip from Arlington back to the hotel aboard a subway which passed under the Potomac River. Chris and Jeffrey stressed many other reforms, over the years it has become twisted to the point where its creators probably wouldn't recognize it today.

I support Civil Service in government. But it's time to reform the reforms. When you cannot dismiss an employee who can't do his job, there's something wrong with the system. Poor and simple.

Of course, when my friend was working on his project, there was another recourse available to him: add on more employees. Then you can shunt the person who can't do his job into a corner and give him no work! It happens all the time.

And, remember, the more employees a bureaucrat has, the more money he gets paid. Think of the incentive!

This is an area where people needing jobs and the federal government employees see eye to eye. It allows people needing work to get jobs, and also enhances the paychecks of the bureaucrats.

Of course, if half the farm population in the United States takes up residence in Washington, there might be a bit of congestion. But government can solve those kinds of problems; just build a few more roads, some housing and, whammo, another crisis averted. That's the government way: throw money at a problem and it will dissolve.

My own solution is a bit more dramatic. Instead of allowing our bureaucrats their usual holidays and "business trips," make them spend a month on a family farm. Make them get to know first-hand the problems they are dealing with.

As I've written before, the folks in Washington have a very low opinion of folks who live west of the Allegheny Mountains. They don't care very much about the problems you and I might face. That's a harsh judgement, but one I believe is accurate.

Sometimes, I wish I had never lived those five years in the Washington suburbs. It showed me some things I wish I could have kept my eyes closed to.

Forget this column. Pretend it's "made up." It's better not to know these things.

Band calendars sold

The Farwell Band Booster parents are selling the annual band calendars as a fund-raiser.

You will be able to put your birthday and anniversary dates on the calendars. The price of the calendars will be $3.50. To have your name listed, it will cost 25 cents.

The deadline is Oct. 20 for getting your name on the calendars. The deadline is Oct. 10 for getting the ads.

Ads should be dropped off to Cheryl Burton.

Ladies taking calendar orders will be delivering them to businesses which advertise.

The club met Sept. 19 at the band hall and discussed having a rummage sale and bake sale Nov. 2 and 9. Money collected will go toward the band trip next spring to Dallas for the Sandy Lake Festival. The high school band would be gone for three days. This trip has been done every two years. Students will also go to Six Flags.

The Band Booster officers are: Cheryl Burton, president; Carolyn Stancell, vice-president, and Joy Fly, secretary.

There were approximately 15 people in attendance. After the meeting, they made signs to be placed in businesses announcing the calendar sales.

that they walked every where else they went in Washington.

Saturday found the Scouts going to Williamsburg, Virginia and to Busch Gardens, a large amusement park similar to Six Flags.

At 6:30 a.m. Sunday, the Troop boarded a bus for a six hour ride to Philadelphia for more sightseeing. Sites visited included Independence Hall where the Liberty Bell is displayed, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of the Revolutionary War, the Benjamin Franklin Museum and Library, and a museum where portraits of the men who signed the Declaration of Independence are displayed.

After spending the night in Philadelphia, the Scouts were on the bus again Monday morning headed for Annapolis, Maryland, and a tour of the United States Naval Academy. From Annapolis the Troop proceeded to Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia, site of the 1985 Diamond Jubilee National Scout Jamboree.

On arrival at the Jamboree site, the first order of business was to establish a campsite. Each troop set up its own tents and kitchen equipment, constructed dining tables for each patrol, erected flag poles and a decorative marker for its campsite entrance. Troop 790 had a large wooden cut-out of a Spanish Conquistador (shown in photograph) at its camp entrance. Each patrol prepared and served its own meals using supplies which were issued prior to each mealtime.

The official opening ceremony for the 1985 Jamboree celebrating 75 years of Boy Scouting in the United States, held on Wednesday evening, was attended by 80,000 people, 33,000 of which were Jamboree participants. Included on the program were concerts presented by Boy Scouts and the Navy Band and by the Beach Boys.

There were various daily activities that the boys could participate in. They could visit the Merit Badge Midway where counselors were available to assist with activities for about 50 different merit badges. Jeffrey completed requirements for the Orienteering Merit Badge. There were also educational exhibits provided by such businesses as Apple Computers, IBM, AT&T, and by NASA, the Armed Forces, the National Wildlife Federation, and the National Amateur Radio Association. There were also numerous contests on land or water for Scouts to compete in. Jeffrey and Chris were involved in the Raft Encounter in which the object was to splash the opponents' raft full of water (life jackets were provided!)

Other traditional Scout activities the boys indulged in were trading hat pins and patches and playing the National Wide Game, the object being to collect a set of ten cards portraying early Scouters by meeting and trading with Scouts from other troops.

Each patrol participated in a contest to design a patrol flag. The flag designed by the Fox Patrol, of which Jeffrey was a member, was selected as a first place winner and will be featured in a future issue of Boys Life Magazine.

Evening activities included watermelon feasts, ice cream parties, concerts, and campfires at which Scouts performed skits.

The two local Scouts agreed that probably the most memorable of the Jamboree was the Thursday afternoon tornado which was followed by the arrival of Hurricane Bob. Fortunately, the injuries were few and minor. The greatest damage was flattened tents and wet sleeping bags and clothing.

The Jamboree Closing Ceremony on Tuesday, July 30, featured Nancy Reagan and a concert by the Oakridge Boys, however, Jeffrey declared the big event to be the fireworks display — twenty tons of fireworks were ignited!

Wednesday morning the Scouts broke camp and packed for the trip home with their expected arrival in Lubbock being 5:00 p.m. However, due to an airline delay, the weary Scouts spent six hours at DFW Airport and arrived in Lubbock about 11:30 p.m.

When asked what their favorite part of the trip was, Chris responded, "D.C. and the Aerospace Museum." Jeffrey said he "liked it all," but he agreed that Washington was fun. They both are eager to return to Washington and spend more time at the Smithsonian.

Video movie store opens

The Video Center of Farwell has opened at 212 Ave. A in Farwell. The new store, an offshoot of the Clovis TV Center, is managed by Joyce Armstrong. Mrs. Armstrong, a Farwell High graduate, lives in Texico.

The store is open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Movies cost $2.49 to rent. They are available for both Beta and VHS video cassette recorders. Also, the Video Center has machines to rent for $4.95.

The store will have specials on Tuesdays and Wednesdays where you can rent two movies for the price of one.

Between the two stores, more than 900 movies are available for renting. Persons can rent movies from either store -- the Clovis store is at 10th and Main -- and drop them off at either store.

Mrs. Armstrong said new movies will be arriving at the Farwell store each week.

Texas Water Act affects farmers, homeowners

Farmers and ranchers as well as homeowners have a direct stake in the 1985 Texas Water Act and the upcoming constitutional amendments.

The two amendments on water resources will be placed before Texas voters at the Nov. 5 general election.

"The 1985 Texas Water Act focuses on water conservation in cities and in agriculture, water supply development, protection of bays and estuaries, flood control and the creation of ground water districts," points out Dr. John Sweeten with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Sweeten, an agricultural engineer in waste management and chairman of the Extension Service's major program committee on water utilization and conservation, notes that Article 1 of the Act calls for cities that apply for state water development funds to establish water conservation programs that can include education, drought contingency plans, lawn watering restrictions and plumbing codes. Municipal education and technical assistance programs would be provided by the Texas Water Development Board as well as other local and state agencies.

Article 2 outlines financial assistance programs and expands the existing water loan assistance program to allow expenditures for water conservation, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, chloride control and desalinization in addition to water development and to allow direct appropriations as well as revenue bonds. State loans administered by the Texas Water Development Board could be used to guarantee local water bonds or pay the local share of federal cost-sharing projects.

According to Sweeten, Article 3 of the Act creates a $10 million Agricultural Soil and Water Conservation Trust Fund. Half of the interest on the principal is to be appropriated among various state agencies for agricultural water conservation programs, including technical assistance, education, demonstration, equipment, grants to underground water conservation districts, research, desalinization and weather modification. A pilot farm loan program ($5 million for two years) will be used for improved irrigation systems that conserve water.

If voters approve Proposition 1 on Nov. 5, the state of Texas could issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds. Approval of Proposition 2 would mean that the state could issue $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds for low interest loans to farmers subject to legislative review of the $5 million pilot loan program and approved by two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature.

Technology for improving irrigation water use efficiency from about 60 percent on the average up to 80 to 95 percent is available to farmers, but capital costs generally present an economic obstacle to its adoption, says the agricultural engineer.

"The passage of the 1985 Texas Water Act would provide for a statewide commitment to water conservation and development programs that would have far-reaching effects on farmers and ranchers as well as homeowners," Sweeten points out. "It would open the door for more concentrated educational and research projects aimed at more effective municipal and agricultural use of the state's present limited water resources as well as the development of additional resources. Also, the current statutory limitations on interbasin transfer of water are maintained.

"Water problems have plagued many areas of the state in recent years due to drought conditions, population growth and increased per capita consumption," notes the engineer. "A year ago, towns and cities with two million Texans had to impose either voluntary or mandatory water use restrictions. Thus the need for a workable statewide water plan is paramount."

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan.

On Sept. 19, Ted's Spraying Service, Bovina, reported the theft of 4, five horsepower engines, 4 pumps and an assortment of valves and pipe.

On Sept. 21, Erasmo Moltalvo reported the burglary of his residence located south of Friona. Items taken were clothing, TV, stereo, gun and tool box and tools.

The following arrests were made:

On Sept. 19, Joseph Julien, 33, Friona, was arrested by the Texas Highway Patrol on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He appeared before County Judge Porter Roberts. On a plea of guilty, his fine was $250 and court cost. He was given three days in jail.

On Sept. 22, David Orozco, 24,

Hereford, was arrested by the Texas highway Patrol on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He appeared before Roberts and pled guilty. He was fined $250 and court cost and given three days in jail.

State fair boasts array

The State Fair of Texas is once again preparing for its annual run, complete with a Lone Star-sized array of entertainment, sports, livestock and creative events.

The 1985 State Fair opens at noon Oct. 3, and runs through Oct. 20. It has a theme of "Something New for You."

In addition to its usual assortment of favorites, such as evening parades, an outdoor ice show, a three-ring circus, fireworks displays, fashion shows, Midway rides and exhibits, this year's State Fair boasts an impressive line-up of special events and new attractions. Literally and figuratively topping the list of new items at the 1985 Fair will be the "Texas Star," currently under construction and expected to be the tallest ferris wheel in North America. At 212 feet it will be the same height as a 20-story building. More than 15,000 red, white and blue light bulbs will be attached to the framework of the ferris wheel and will be used to present a spectacular computerized light show.

The Great American High Dive Team will give several performances each day at a specially-built diving platform and pool near the Grand Avenue gate, and "Starship 3," a helicopter acrobatics act will perform daily over the Lagoon.

The national touring company of the Broadway hit musical "42nd Street" will perform Oct. 1-20 in the Music Hall at Fair Park. Dolores Gray and Barry Nelson will star in this song- and dance-filled show based on the extravagant movie musicals of the Depression era.

The annual State Fair Rodeo, set for Oct. 18-20 with two shows daily, will attract top competitors from the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association tour, and the Cotton Bowl World Class Championship Wrestling on Sunday, Oct. 6, will pit the Von Erichs against a variety of opponents.

The Rodeo, "42nd Street," the wrestling competition and the football games require separate tickets. Football tickets must be arranged through the schools involved, while tickets to the other three events are sold by Rainbow Ticketmaster. For Rainbow Ticketmaster information, call (214) 787-2000 or (Dallas-Fort Worth metro) 787-1500. When purchased in advance, tickets for these events include admission to the Fair.

Other attractions, except Midway rides, are free upon admission to the Fair. Admission is $4 for adults, $1 for children aged 5 to 11, and free for children under five each day and for senior citizens each Tuesday.

Additional activities include outdoor concerts by George Strait, the Judds, Little Joe y La Familia and an assortment of other performers. The annual Parade of Champions, an all-day competition to determine the best high school bands in Texas, will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19.

Livestock events will be featured daily, with competition categories ranging from various breeds of cattle and horses to goats, rabbits, sheep, swine, pigeons, donkeys, mules and sheep dogs.

Several of the museums located on the grounds of the Fair will have special exhibits. They include "The Robot Exhibit: History, Fantasy and Reality" and "Halley's Comet: The Long-Haired Visitor" at the Science Place; "A Centennial History of the Dallas Morning News" at the Hall of State, and "East Africa: Its Land, People and Wildlife" at the Museum of Natural History.

One new convenience for persons attending the Fair this year will be DART bus service from several Park and Ride facilities around Dallas County. Buses will follow regular schedules and charge $4 for a round trip. Information on DART bus schedules is available at 979-1111. Parking on the Fair grounds is $3 for those who prefer to drive.

Farwell defeated

By DeAnn Curtis

Farwell lost its first game of the season last Friday, being shutout in an away game to the Seagraves Eagles, 18-0.

Farwell is now 2-1 on the season, going into tonight's game at Bovina.

The game opened with Farwell getting the ball. After carries by Kevin Owen and David Woods, Farwell lost a fumble. Seagraves scored quickly, but the extra point was no good.

Farwell was stopped again. Jason Schilling, Eric Williams and Blake Kelley made tackles against Seagraves, then Kevin Owen recovered a fumble.

Farwell had to punt again. The Steer defense was led by tackles by Kevin Owen, Homer Anzaldua, Bobby Ford, Joe Jaime, Jason Schilling, Blake Kelley and Leonard Hillock. At the end of the quarter, Seagraves led 6-0.

The second quarter was mostly a defensive battle. Seagraves intercepted a pass, then tried for a TD on a fourth-down situation. Jesse Anzaldua and Leonard Hillock tackled to end that threat.

After Farwell punted, Jesse Anzaldua made a strong tackle on Seagraves' Russ Jones. Other tackles were made by Jason Schilling, Carey Stancell, Bobby Ford, David Rubio and Eric Williams. And David Woods knocked away what might have been an Eagle TD pass.

On the offensive, Eric Williams caught a pass from David Woods on the 32 yard line. But Woods was later tackled for a loss and Farwell had to punt.

In the third quarter, David Woods had a 17 yard run but Farwell fumbled soon after. The Eagles then had a 25-yard TD run to up the score to 12-0. Kevin Owen blocked the extra-point pass try.

Late in the third quarter, Seagraves scored again, moving ahead by 18-0. The conversion try failed on a tackle by Eric Williams.

Neither team scored in the fourth quarter.

Individual statistics showed: Rushing - Kevin Owen, 23 yards; David Woods, 3 yards; Blake Kelley, 25 yards, and Bobby Ford, 13 yards.

Eric Williams caught two passes for 16 yards. Roy Perales caught one pass for 24 yards.

Overall, the Steers had 54 yards rushing and 40 yards passing.

Here's what Coach Monte Barnes had to say:

"We had a lot of turnovers and the execution on offense really hurt us. Our defense played well, though; they played under pressure all night."

"I felt that without the turnovers it could have been a 0-0 tie or a 6-0 game in Seagraves' favor. When we play Bovina this weekend, we will need to execute well and play smart."

Steer of the Week

Named as Steer of the Week for play in last Friday's game was Kevin Owen. Owen, made 14 tackles in the game. "He had a good game on defense," said Coach Monte Barnes.

Springlake-Earth stops Farwell JV

The Farwell Junior Varsity lost to Springlake-Earth, 14-6, Sept. 19.

Coach George Langan said both teams were stopped until Farwell got the ball to the Springlake-Earth 30 yard line. Then, Curtis Chrisom carried in for the touchdown on a sweep. The extra-point try failed.

At the half, Farwell was behind 8-6.

The third quarter was scoreless and Springlake-Earth scored again in the final stanza on a pass interception.

Langan said:

"Both teams played equally until the end of the game. Our freshman team was playing against sophomores and juniors. Also, we played without Jeff Atkinson and Dustin Hardage."

Langan also said that Jeffrey Stewart broke his arm and leg in practice.

Freezing fruits and vegetables at home

By Janette Pierce
Frozen fruits and vegetables spice year-round menus with garden-fresh flavor. But the nutritive value and quality of these fruits and vegetables depend largely on the treatment before freezing, storage temperature and method of cooking and serving.

Most fruit can be frozen satisfactorily.

Select sound, ripe fruit which is slightly riper than for canning but not soft or mushy. Tree of vine ripened fruits contain more vitamins and a richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

In general fruit is prepared for freezing as for eating.

Keep fruit cool until it is frozen. Wash it in cold water but do not allow it to stand in the water. Some fruit loses food value and flavor and some gets water soaked, she said.

Some fruits, such as peaches, apricots, apples and pears, discolor easily. Pierce suggests ways to prevent this.

Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) is available in tablet, crystalline or powdered form. Use 1/2 teaspoon of this per quart of syrup to prevent this discoloration.

If you don't want to pack the fruit in syrup, sprinkle dissolved ascorbic acid over fruit just before adding sugar. Use 1/2 teaspoon in 1/2 cup cold water to each quart of fruit.

Some special commercial anti-darkening preparation of ascorbic acid are now on the market.

These materials can be found at drug stores or where other freezing supplies are sold.

Most fruits have better texture and flavor if packed in sugar or syrup. Some may be packed without sweetening for use in special diets.

The way you plan to use the fruit determines the method of packing it. Fruit packed in a syrup generally is better for dessert use; fruit packed in dry sugar or unsweetened is better for most cooking because there is less liquid in the products.

Quickly getting vegetables from the garden to the freezer is a must for top-quality frozen vegetables. During hot weather, harvest vegetables in the early morning before they absorb much heat.

Vegetables at optimum maturity will have best flavor and texture.

If you must store vegetables before freezing, spread them out loosely in a cool, well-ventilated place or pack loosely in the refrigerator.

Prepare vegetables for freezing similar to cooking them. Wash thoroughly in cold water, drain and sort, peel, trim and cut.

Heat vegetables in boiling water before freezing. Use one gallon of boiling water to each pound of vegetable. The length of heating time varies with the vegetable.

This kills enzyme action in the product. The enzymes help the plants grow and mature but if not deactivated the vegetables will develop off flavors and often discolor or toughen during freezing.

Place the scaled vegetables immediately into running cold or ice water. When the product is cool to the tongue when tested, it is cool enough to pack.

After the vegetables have been heated, cooled and drained, pack in airtight moisture-vapor-proof containers, leaving 1/2 inch headspace.

Cook all vegetables in the frozen state, except corn-on-the-cob which should be partially defrosted. Cook them only until tender in a small amount of water.

Mrs. Harvey Hudnall of Farwell returned home Sept. 22 from Baton Rouge, La.

She had been gone for over two weeks helping her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Hudnall and Eric, age 11.

On Aug. 15, Eric was in the Childrens Hospital in New Orleans where he had surgery on both legs. A muscle was cut and turned loose. His legs were in casts from his hips to the bottom of his feet. A bar was placed on his legs near his ankles to keep his legs spread apart.

Eric's other grandmother, Mrs. Grayson Roberts of Clovis, was there for the surgery and stayed two weeks to help, too.

On Sept. 8, Eric entered the Children's Hospital again. The casts were removed and his legs were put in traction. Mrs. Hudnall stayed with her grandson in the hospital that week. He was fitted for braces that were from his hips down covering his feet. He was taken to physical therapy twice a day. He was taught how to walk with a walker with the braces locked at the knees.

After a week he returned home where he was able to return to school but someone had to help him on and off the school bus.

Dr. Hudnall is a professor in the Agronomy Department at Louisiana State University. He does soil research over the state and assists graduate students in their projects.

Mrs. Hudnall is employed in a business firm that uses computers.

Mrs. Hudnall enjoyed being with her son and family and assisting with Eric's care.

Texico nipped by Eunice

A 58-yard pass interception run-back for a touchdown by Albert Rodriguez carried Eunice to a surprising 22-21 win over the Texico Wolverines last Friday night.

The loss dropped Texico's record to 3-1. The Wolverines play at Jal tonight (Friday).

Texico jumped into the early lead when Stanley Cross scored from the six-yard line in the first quarter. Cross also kicked the point-after for a 7-0 Wolverine lead.

Texico upped the score in the second quarter to 14-0 when quarterback John Thomas ran 38 yards for a TD, followed by a Cross run for the two extra points.

Then, the Wolverines ran the score to 21-0 when Cross bulled over from the one yard line, although the kick was not good. At that point, it looked like the game would be a rout.

But Eunice fought back, before halftime, Craig Phillips scored from the one, with Joe Charo scoring the extra points on a run. At the half, it was Texico ahead by a 21-8 score.

In the third quarter, Eunice scored again, this time on a 64-yard pass from Keith Phillips to Jimmy Jordan. Craig Phillips scored the extra points on a run, closing the gap to 21-16. Then came the interception runback for a TD to end the scoring.

Individual statistics for Texico were:

Rushing -- Charlie Bibbs, 20 carries for 75 yards; Stanley Cross, 18 for 70; John Thomas, 13 for 59; and Kyle Snipes, 1 for 6.

Receiving - Eric Harding, 3 catches for 39 yards, and Stanley Cross, 1 for 32.

Passing - John Thomas, 4 for 9 and 71 yards, and Stanley Cross, 0 for 1.

Cross has continued his touchdown march. In Texico's four games he has scored 7 touchdowns.

After the game, Texico Head Coach David Lynn noted the inexperience in his secondary. He said his team should have punted instead of having the play that led to the interception. But he noted his team's fine offensive play.

Looking ahead to Jal, Lynn expects a tough game. He said Jal is rated No. 1 among the 2-A schools in New Mexico.

Good maintenance keeps costs down

Many of us have a considerable investment in the outdoor furniture we use on the deck, patio or by the pool. Whether you have expensive wrought iron or redwood outdoor furniture or less-costly aluminum and plastic webbing chairs, you can avoid the expense of replacing it with good maintenance.

Now that the time for summer barbecues has passed, it's a wise idea to clean and renovate your outdoor furniture and then store it for the winter.

Here are some suggestions for cleaning different types of outdoor furniture:

Aluminum and Plastic: Most outdoor furniture is constructed of tubular aluminum which tends to gray with age and accumulate dirt and grime. Wash with detergent and warm water to remove most of the soil, and rub with fine 4/9 steel wool to remove discoloration. Aluminum jelly can also be used, but not on new or anodized aluminum.

Wash the plastic seat webbing and straps on tubular furniture with a long bristled brush and then wax with auto paste wax.

Hose down or wash plastic furniture with water and a mild detergent. Don't use abrasive cleaners. Protect the surface with an application of auto paste wax. If the plastic is chipped or broken, it often can be fixed with epoxy glue.

Wood: Wipe down hardwood furniture with warm water and detergent, then protect it with auto paste wax. If the finish is cracked or flaked, remove it with paint or varnish remover, sand and apply a new coat of marine or exterior-type finish. Also check any painted metal supporting framework for rust and touch up if necessary.

Wash redwood furniture with warm water and detergent. Remove soft drink stains with a solution of chlorine bleach and then rinse. Smooth all the wood surfaces with 3/0 steel wool and apply a protective coat of penetrating sealer. Redwood furniture should not be varnished and coated with shellac.

Cast Metal: Use a mild detergent to wash cast aluminum, cast iron and wrought iron. If the enamel surface is scratched or chipped, or if rust has appeared, smooth the area with steel wool, apply a metal primer and then touch up with matching enamel paint.

Rattan: Rattan, cane, reed and willow furniture should be vacuumed and then damp washed with warm water and mild soap. After it dries, protect it with a liquid furniture wax.

Fabrics: Cushions and other items made of vinyl laminate, cotton duck or canvas may be camp cleaned and dried with a cloth. Dry clean heavily soiled cotton if possible.

Wash and dry umbrellas made of vinyl laminate fabric in the open position. Check the pole for corrosion and rust and protect it with a liberal waxing of auto paste wax.

Brush hammocks to remove soil, scrub with warm water and detergent or machine wash and hang back in place to dry wrinkle-free. Wax the hammock suspension cords with paraffin to prolong their life.

Storing Outdoor Furniture: Indoor storage, in a garage, storage shed or the house, is ideal. You may want to use outdoor furniture to provide extra indoor seating and table surfaces during the winter. But if you do keep items in the house, keep them away from direct heat.

Just a reminder, if your old furnace is about to give up, you might want to consider a new, high-efficiency heat pump. If your air conditioner needs replacement but your gas furnace is still in good working order, an add-on heat pump may be the answer. The most efficient system is the geothermal heat pump. It may be used in the conversion of an existing system or a new installation. Call (806) 364-1166.
