12 girls compete for Queen

Twelve high school girls from Texico and Farwell are competing for the title of 1985 Border Town Days Queen, to represent the Twin Cities during the coming year.

"This is a large group of young ladies and we are very pleased to have this many," said Joann Getz, chairman.

The contestants were feted at a party last Monday. And a luncheon is set for today (Friday).

This year, the contestants will not be required to perform a talent, but will still be judged on their personality and poise by outside judges.

The contestants will be introduced in the gazebo at Farwell City Park during the activities July 27. Then the new LTD Queen will be revealed and crowned a short time later, and she will reign over the remainder of the afternoon activities.

In addition, a first, second and third runnerup will be named.

Girls competing for the 1985

queen are:

Dana White - Farwell High junior, 16, daughter of Robert and Dorris White, sponsored by Farwell Fire Department. Hobbies are basketball, cheerleading, snow and water skiing, track, playing piano. She plans to attend college.

Michelle Verner - Texico High sophomore, 15, daughter of Tom and Lynell Verner, sponsored by Longhorn Sign Co. Hobbies are tennis, golf, gymnastics and sewing. She plans to attend dental school.

Terri Hillock - Farwell High freshman, 14, daughter of Steven and Mary Lou Hillock, sponsored by Farwell Study Club. Her hobby is pencil drawing. She plans to study law in the future.

Rhonda Lingnau - Farwell High senior, 17, daughter of Delbert and Myrna Lingnau, sponsored by Nutri-Tech Fertilizer. Hobbies are water and snow skiing and twirling.

Kristi Cook - Texico High senior, 16, daughter of Darrell Cook, sponsored by Luce's Spur Restaurant. Hobbies are snow skiing, swimming and traveling. She plans to study interior design in college.

Melinda McMillan - Farwell High junior, 16, daughter of Otis and Modean McMillan, sponsored by Susan Franse - Mary Kay Cosmetics. Hobbies are playing piano, typing and clarinet. She plans to attend Texas Tech after graduation.

DeAnn Curtis, Farwell High senior, 17, daughter of James and Sherry Curtis, sponsored by Farwell United Drug. Hobbies are water skiing, swimming, reading, music and traveling. She plans to attend Texas Tech and study pharmacy and pre-med.

Sherry Ledbetter, Farwell High sophomore, 15, daughter of Robert and Debra Boone, sponsored by Farwell Chamber of Commerce. Hobbies are horseback riding, water skiing and twirling.

Michelle Stover, Farwell High sophomore, 15, daughter of Jerry and Colleen Stover, sponsored by Texico-Farwell Lions Club. Hobbies are swimming, water skiing and horseback riding. She plans to be a dental surgeon.

Sharon Myers - Farwell High junior, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Myers, sponsored by the Beauty Box. Hobby is twirling. She plans to be a nurse.

Leslie Akens, Texico High junior, 15, daughter of Ken Akens, of Clovis, and Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley of Texico, sponsored by JJ's Mobile Homes. Hobbies are swimming and showing lambs at fairs. She plans to be a teacher.

Dana Curry, Texico High senior, 16, daughter of Mrs. Teresa Curry and Ronnie Curry, sponsored by Texico Chamber of Commerce. Hobbies are water skiing, traveling and oil painting. She plans to attend college.

19th annual LTD celebration starts

The 19th annual Border Town Days celebration has kicked off with the fun and festivities continuing through Saturday night.

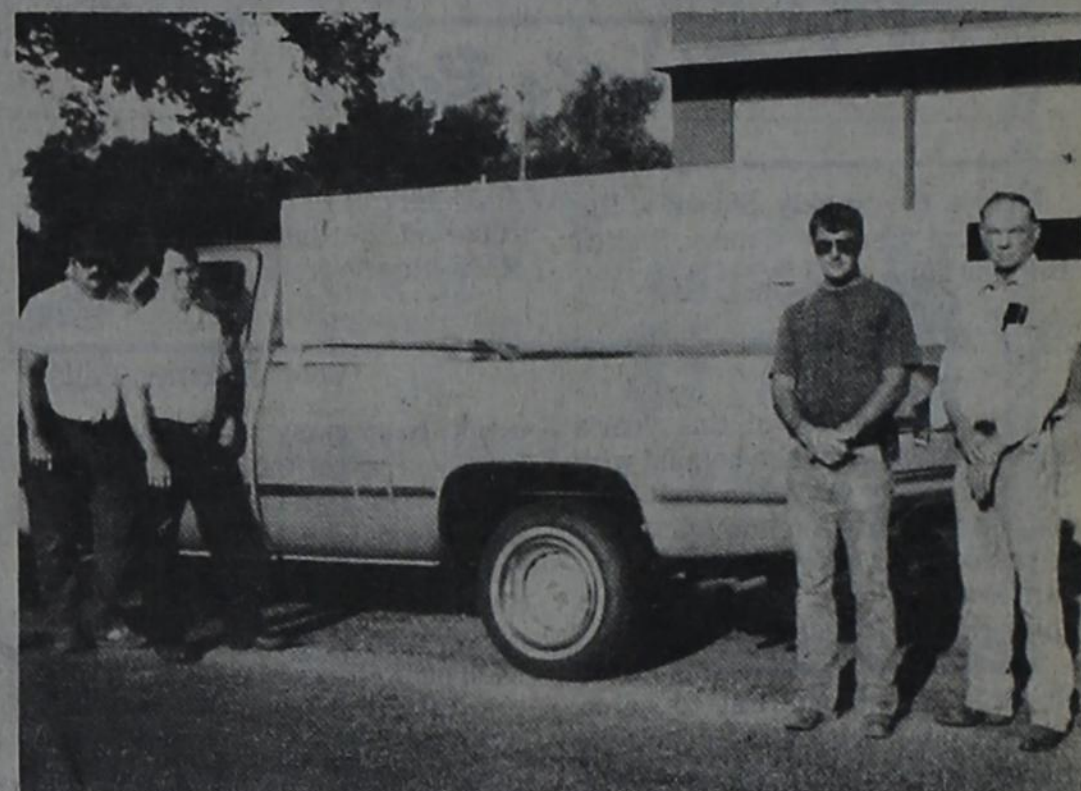

A square dance featuring area square dancers is scheduled Thursday, July 25, at 8 p.m. at the Farwell Community Center. Sponsor is the Muleshoe Squares.

During the evening, a Zenith VCR with remote control will be given away. Proceeds go to the Community Center. Area residents, as well as square dancers, are invited to attend the dance. Performing will be square dancers from Clovis, Portales, Dimmitt and Littlefield.

The first performance of the two-night High Plains Junior Rodeo Association rodeo will get under way tonight (Friday) at the Farwell Arena, at 8 p.m.

The big day is Saturday, with the parade, barbecue, and park events, including the queen contest, outdoor race, beard contest, concessions, arts and crafts show, and lots of music.

Who will win it?

This 1985 GMC Sierra Classic will belong to some lucky person during the Border Town Days celebration July 27. Tickets are still on sale and will be sold July 27. Shown are, from left, James Curtis, Curtis Smith, Bruce Billingsley and Joel White. The giveaway is sponsored by the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department.

It's rodeo time!

Some 300 or more are scheduled to come from the shoots July 26 as young cowboys and cowgirls square off for the High Plains Junior Rodeo Association's 1985 rodeo.

The two nights of rodeo action will begin July 26 at 8 p.m. at the Farwell Arena, east of town, with the grand entry set for 7:45 p.m. The final performance is set for Saturday night at the same time.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate for $2.50 for adults, and $1.50 for children 6-11, with tots five and under admitted free.

Announcer will be Bill Adams of Farwell with Roy Snodgrass serving as arena director. Serving as both judge and roping director will be Stewart Pike, and bucking assistants will be Danny Branson and Glen Branson; the stock and clowns will be provided by the Maverick Rodeo Company from Tulia.

The timekeepers will be HPJRA. Woody Woodson will be in charge of the gates; Bobby Chadwick will be driving out the stock.

The ambulance attendants will be the Texico-Farwell Fire Department.

Mack Heald, Jimmy Curtis and Jerry Herington, will help in calf sorting and the calf shoot.

The Farwell FFA students will also be involved. The roping director will be Mike Haseloff; bucking director is Sam Drager; the flagmen will be Dewey Pierce and assisting will be Sam Jenkins; the racing director for the flag races and barrels will be Joe Mark Milloy.

In charge of the goats will be R.C. Davis.

Sam Drager, one of the rodeo organizers, invites everyone to come out and see two big nights of rodeo action.

24 groups sign up for LTD booths

Twenty-four groups have signed up for booths and concessions on Border Town Days July 27 in Farwell City Park. They include: Good Samaritan Auxiliary, baked goods; the Methodist youth, french fries; Beta Sigma Phi, Sno-cones and Cokes; Baptist Women, tracts and free water; Trinity Lutheran, Pepsi; Church of Christ, tracts; Pentecostal Church of Texico, Dr. Pepper and 7-Up; Farwell High School Student Council, corn on the cob and flavored popcorn.

Also, Farwell High School Senior Class, dunking board; Texico Senior Citizens, baked goods; ESA, tea and lemonade; Farwell Study Club will have monster cookies and dill pickles. Texico High School Junior Class, ice cream; Child Welfare Board, tracts, water and free blood pressure tests; Texico Ladies Auxiliary, hot dogs and tacos, and a fishing game for kids; Pleasant Hill Volunteer Fire Department, ice cream and tickets for a lawn mower giveaway.

Also, Ladies Auxiliary of the

The Silent Auction, a table of extra-celebrity things received; and a model Airplane display from the Clovis Model Airplane Builders Association.

Farwell Junior Class, homemade ice cream; Cub Scouts, fishing pond.

Have some fun

Well, by the time you read this, the annual Border Town Days celebration should be well under way.

My family arrived in the Twin Cities last August, just missing LTD. So we are quite anxious to see how it works out. We're especially anxious to visit the rodeo, an event we've never seen in person before.

I was glad to see the kids at Farwell High agree to help David Kube and Sam Drager put on the rodeo. It's a lot of work and David and Sam needed the assistance. I hope a lot of you folks take the time and visit the rodeo here; your kids will sure enjoy it.

I've been busy running around town, signing all these registration forms for the Mercants Giveaway. I decided, though, not to fill out one at the Tribune; I thought it might look tacky for me to win the prize I'm giving away. On the other hand...

As I've written before, it's really something to see folks pitch in on a volunteer basis and help organize a community effort. The folks who really stand out in my mind this go-round are Curtis and Pam Smith.

Curtis and Pam did yeoman's work helping with the Celebrity Auction, too. When the auction was finished, I was plumb worn out. But the Smiths didn't stop for a second, but got right into LTD, with the Merchants Giveaway.

I don't know where they get the energy. I must be getting old (or should I use past tense?).

And before I forget, let's hear a cheer for the the two folks who are coordinating this year's affair - John and Joann Getz. I've written nice things about the Getzes in the past so I better keep quiet this time; I don't want to overdo it. But you all know what a fine job they do to help make the Twin Cities the type of community it's a blessing to live in.

I have to admit that I've been mostly an observer at this year's BTD planning. I will be helping with the Merchants Giveaway, but having the Celebrity Auction to oversee, I had asked the BTD committee to just let me be a learner this year.

I'm the kind of person who has to undergo something first to get a "feel" for it. I think I'll be in a much better position to understand how BTD operates after observing it this time.

I still am somewhat astonished at how a small community like Texico-Farwell can plan such a super event. In so many small towns, it's hard just to get the people to leave their TV's for an hour. But over the past several weeks I've watched a bunch of folks work many hours at diligently planning BTD. It's been fun to see it "come together" as each person does his assigned task.

But the real key to the success of BTD lies with you, the reader of this column. Get the kids together and make a day of it on Saturday. Or just mosey on by to check out the various booths and attractions.

But, please, do stop by, and bring a chair or blanket to sit on. It's a day when our neighbors get together to soak up the sunshine, have good family fun, get caught up on the gossip and in essence, show that we are one strong community.

Texico-Farwell is fortunate to have an annual event like BTD. Let's work together to keep a good thing going.

Rumor mill time: It's still early in the processes, but various folks interested in putting in a furniture refinishing store, convenience stores, a gift shop and a restaurant, have been checking into Texico-Farwell lately. Whether anything comes from these inquiries remains to be seen.

Border Town Days program

include the fourth annual Merchants Promotion at which 61 merchants will give away prizes throughout the afternoon, followed by the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department's giveaway of a 1985 GMC pickup.

PARADE

Kicking off the festivities Saturday morning will be the annual BTD parade at 11 a.m. CDT, which will begin at Griffin Street in Texico, proceed through Texico and Farwell main streets, turning right at Fifth Street in Farwell, and ending at Farwell City Park.

Parade entrants are to form at 10 a.m. CDT north on Griffin Street in Texico. Texico-Farwell Lions Club is in charge of the parade, and parade marshal is Weldon Smith. Those fellows with the yellow vests and/or caps will be on hand to assist with the parade lineup.

The lineup schedule is printed elsewhere in today's Tribune.

The Farwell final cleanup day was held July 20.

City employee Doug Landrum said, "The city dump was left open Saturday, Sunday and Monday. I thought only about three or four pickup loads of stuff were dumped."

rules. All bikes must be registered to be judged, and all riders must have their bikes at K.K. Runnels Park in Texico at 10 a.m. Texas time, and line up for judging at the southwest corner of the park. Registrations are being taken at Texico City Hall.

In the parade, riders must stay between the three-wheelers and will not be allowed to double back. They must continue to Farwell City Park, and then park their bikes. No riding will be allowed in the park area. Riders must be present at the park to receive their prizes, which will be awarded about 1:15 p.m. following the opening ceremonies.

BARBEQUE

Following the parade will be the annual barbeque meal at the city park, sponsored and served by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club. Serving will begin at noon CDT. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children, drinks included.

PARK ACTIVITIES

The opening ceremonies will take place at 1 p.m. CDT in the park gazebo. Jerilyn Irby will sing following the welcome by BTD Chairman John Getz and Mayor Walter Kaltwasser of Farwell.

At about 1:15 p.m., the prizes for the parade winners will be awarded. Float prizes, sponsored by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce and the BTD Committee, will be given for the top four.

The Texico Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the prizes for the antique cars, including Judges Choice, Oldest Car and Longest Distance.

Tedson Trailers of Texico is sponsoring the monetary prizes for the best decorated bikes.

Twelve young ladies will compete in the BTD Queen Contest beginning about 1:30 p.m. They will introduce themselves and then the judges will announce the winner.

At 2 p.m., an outhouse race is scheduled. Two teams have signed up to build six-foot tall "outhouses" with toilets inside. They will carry the facilities, with people inside, in a race.

The Beard Contest will take place at 2:45 p.m. Plaques will be awarded for the best-looking, most unique and ugliest facial fuzzes.

The traveling plaque will be awarded to the class reunion having the most percentage of members present at 3 p.m. The plaque will be engraved with the class year and will be hung in their respective school until next year's reunion. Class members should register as soon as possible at the Farwell

Study Club booth, so the winner can be determined.

A lot of music is planned for the afternoon, including well-known fiddler, Mose Martinez, from Lovington, N.M. Also, Ed and Juanita Hardage with Truman Welch will play, plus the Friends of the Bluegrass.

Other afternoon features will include a model airplane display, break dancers and a large number of booths and concessions (see stories elsewhere in today's Tribune for a complete list). Also, the Merchants Promotion will be continuing throughout the afternoon.

At 4:15 p.m. the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department will have its giveaway - a 1985 GMC pickup.

OTHER NOTES

Arrangements have been so that no Santa Fe Railroad trains will be running through Texico-Farwell during the parade.

Also, it's advisable to bring a lawn chair or blanket with you to the park Saturday.

And BTD Marshals Virgil Fiske and Steve Stephens will have plenty of shave permits for sale at $1. All clean-shaven men are urged to wear their permits or prepare to pay the fine.

300 entries expected for cutting horse contest

Over 300 entries are expected at the first annual El Cid Summer Cutting Horse show scheduled July 26, 27, and 28 at the El Cid Ranch located just north of Farwell.

Horsemen and women from around the country are expected to attend to compete for the $45,000 estimated purse.

Lonnie and Barbara Allsup, owners and operators of the newly constructed El Cid horse facility, say that entries are expected in all classes to compete.

They will compete for prize money, custom belt buckles and saddles.

The facility features an indoor and three outdoor arenas, animal hospital, feed barns and horse boarding stables; covered grandstands, and office.

The classes are: the open $1,000 Added, Non-Pro $1,000 Added, 3000 Novice $500 Added, 1500 Novice, $500 Added, Open Gelding $500 Added, 5000 Non-Pro Jackpot and Youth Jackpot.

The admission is free and the competition is set to begin at 7 a.m. and will last all day.

The show is being sponsored by Bottlers, Inc. and Pepsi-Cola, Texas Barbecue Co., Borden Milk and Ice Cream, Dubco Food Service Brokers, Fast and Hot Sandwiches and Tom Gullick Food Brokers.

To reach El Cid from Farwell, go north on Highway 60 toward Amarillo to Farm to Market Road 2396, then north for approximately 1 1/2 miles. Signs will be located on major highways showing the route.

A few of the entries participating in the events are Bruce Hoppe from Colorado; Lindy Burch from California; Serrin Hightower from California; Grant Ogilvie from Brownwood; T.H. Wood, from Bridgeport; Milton Sechrise from Arizona and Gary Ray from Sudan.

For additional information on entries or the show, call 389-1221.

Getting ready

Gathering materials for their float in the Border Town Days parade Saturday are Farwell Study Club

20 sign up for arts, crafts show

Twenty entries have signed up for the Border Town Days arts and crafts show, which will be on the front lawn of the courthouse July 27.

The following exhibitors signed up:

Gilbert Gilliam, wooden toys from Farwell; Vicki Johnson, Farwell, and Shirley Wolfe of Clovis with dolls and doll clothes; Dorothy Bell of Tucumcari, dolls and crocheted items; Ruby Davies of Bovina, concho shirts and belts and stuff toys.

John and LaRue Guthals of Clovis with macrame and crochet items; Fern Christian of Farwell and her two daughters, Belva Vowers and Billie Kittrell, picture frames, picture albums, oil paintings, etc.; Steven Hillock of Farwell, jewelry, arrowheads, wooden items; Alta Cole of Farwell, wooden kitchen items; Vonnie McIntosh of Texico, decorated straw hats and glass paintings.

Dallari Millhouse of Clovis, quilted vest and sculpture wall hangings; Wanda Brooks of Lubbock, old-time photographs and wood frames; Tom Verner, of Farwell, curved redwood signs and will make on the spot; Lutea Clark of Clovis, crocheted items and paintings; Ann Cooper of Texico, wood items and doll clothes, and Janie Bowery, quilts, sunbonnets and more; Teresa King of Clovis, face painting, and Laverne Elliott, water colors, oils and acrylics.

Jack Feagan from Missouri will be doing wood name plates in pine, and Eunice Crume of Farwell will have her paintings.

God and for the fellowship of His church.

"We want to emphasize that everyone in the community is invited. This revival is not just for members of this church."

During the revival period, work should be underway on the new addition to the First Baptist Church. The new addition will add about 7,580 sq. ft. to the complex. It will include 8 new classrooms, a kitchen, a small meeting room and a fellowship hall with a Pro Gym floor which can be used for recreational games.

It is hoped that the new building will be a concrete symbol of the growth of the spiritual community just as the revival is a symbol of individual spiritual growth, said Bro. Riley.

Revival planned

The First Baptist Church of Farwell will be holding a revival Aug. 4-11.

During the revival, Bill Sessom of Fort Sumner will be preaching daily, and Paul and Christy Newberry of Floydada will be the music evangelists. They will conduct services each evening at 7:30 (except Sunday Aug. 4 at 7 p.m. and Sunday Aug. 11 at 11 a.m.).

They will also conduct services at the daily salad luncheon which will be held Monday-Friday from noon to 1 p.m. The food will be prepared by the Sunday School classes.

"The goal of this revival is spiritual awakening," said Brother Pat Riley. "The greatest need of every church is true spiritual awakening. I know we are going to have a successful revival. People are sensing a need for closeness to

Bible revival upcoming

First Baptist Church of Texico is having a Bible Revival July 28 through 31, with Dr. Robert G. Witty of Luther Rice Seminary.

Services are planned at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday and at 7 p.m. Monday through Wednesday. A nursery will be provided.

Farwell Boosters to meet

The Farwell Booster Club will meet Aug. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at Luce's Restaurant.

The Booster club president is Randy Kelley; vice-president, waste time and energy while they heat up. The easy-to-control gas flame lets you adjust the heat exactly. Along with precise control, a natural gas flame offers instant temperature changes that reduce the risk of overcooking or undercooking food.

IT'S A FACT. Natural gas is easier and cheaper to cook with than any other energy source in your home.

There's nothing cleaner in the kitchen.

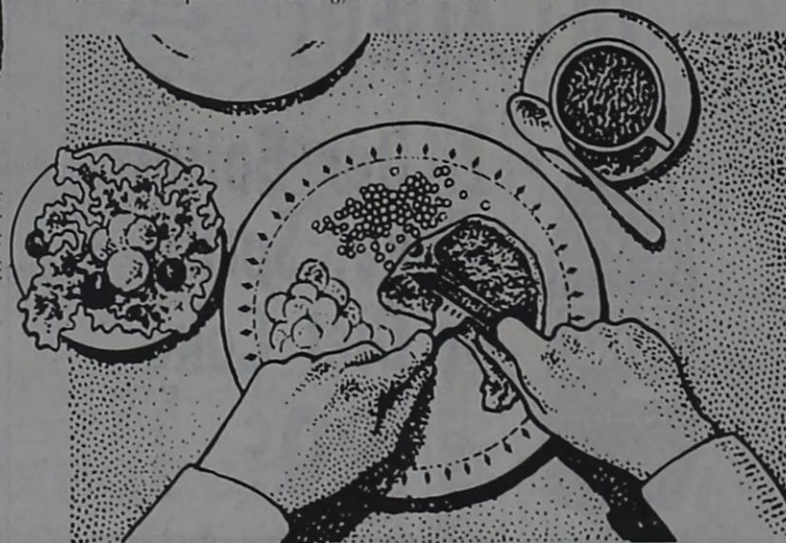

On the stovetop, you can control a gas flame instantly, to avoid boil-overs and spatters. And broiling in a gas range is less messy than open-door broiling because the closed-door gas flame consumes smoke and fat spattering. So your range performs better and lasts longer.

Cooking with gas costs less.

Ever wonder why so many restaurants use gas to cook? Because gas is easier to use, and cheaper than electric, too. In fact, calculations for August 1984 in West Texas show that cooking in your own home with a gas range costs an average of 68% less a year than electric cooking.*

FRANK LANDRY AND SHARLA STEWART

Engagement announced

Neil and Betty Stewart of Farwell, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Sharla to Frank Landry, son of Ron and Jean Pageau of Farwell and Tom Landry of Waterbury, Conn.

Wedding vows will be exchanged Aug. 24 at 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Farwell.

The bride-to-be is a 1984 graduate of Farwell and is employed at the Parmer County Clerks office in Farwell.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1983 graduate of Bovina and is employed at Worley Mills in Farwell.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and reception.

Thorntons picked

The Roy Thornton family of Texico has been picked by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club to be the first host family for the 1985-86 school year of the club's foreign exchange student, Petra Breyne of Belgium.

During the past school year, the club sponsored the stay here of Franka Bungarten, from West Germany.

The club would like to see Petra attend Texico High for the first half of the next school year, then be hosted by a Farwell family and attend Farwell High for the second half.

The Farwell Chamber of Commerce will meet at noon, at Luce's Restaurant.

Magness reunion held

Once again the decedents of Chester and Amy Magness gathered together for feast and festivity. The reunion was held at Brownwood Lake on July 19-21.

Attending were Amy Daniels Magness from Grandfalls, Tx., Earl and Verna Magness from Bergman, Ark., and their daughter Mary Ann Magness Shreffler and her son Lance from Pennsylvania. Raymond Magness from Clovis, Skip Magness, Curtis and Pam Magness Smith from Farwell, Leon Magness from Electra, Tx., Ray and Joanne Magness from Hobbs, and their granddaughter Megan Hubbard from Roswell, Pat and Wessie Magness White and their granddaughters Nicole and Diane Smith from Clovis, and Jennifer White from Friona, John and Carolyn Magness McGrew and their son and daughter Lon and Janet McGrew from Abilene, Johns parents Jack and Louise McGrew from Grand Falls, Tx.

On Saturday they enjoyed a bar-beque feast. Festivities included bingo with everyone winning prizes brought by family members. A cake contest was held with awards given such as cuptowel, spice, jiffy, paper plate and mixing spoon awards. After KP duty, the men told stories. Again, prizes were given out for stretching the truth, hard to swallow, hot air, wind bag and fishy story.

Everyone had such a good time they decided to have the next reunion in Farwell at Border Town Days July 1986. All Magness kin are encouraged to attend the occasion.

A family newsletter has been mailed out with details of the reunion held last weekend and the 1986 reunion. Any family members not receiving the newsletter please send your address to Pam Smith, Box 886, Farwell, Tx. 79325.

Annual reunion held

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Williams gathered for their annual reunion over the Fourth of July week.

The group had a happy ten days of reminiscing. The family attended worship services at the Farwell Church of Christ.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Williams, Refugio, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blaisdell, Kelsey, Kyla and Ry Lincoln, Bayside, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, Ruidoso; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Gable, Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams, Kyle and Delanie; Mr.

and Mrs. Jerry Crook, De. Keigm Crook, Kevin Crook, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Crook, Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Jones, Mrs. Nannie Simpson, all of Clovis; Mrs. Cora Lunsford, Mrs. B. Boyd, of Farwell, and Mrs. Mae Stone, of Texico.

Hospital Notes

Robin Gregory of Farwell is still in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital. She should be home later this week.

Hattie Coffey of Farwell is in the Clovis High Plains Hospital with a broken hip. She should be home Friday.

Velma Magness came home from the Clovis High Plains Hospital.

Mike Martin of Farwell is back in the hospital.

Coffee set

The Farwell Class of 1975 will have a coffee July 27 at 8:30 a.m. at the Home Economics Building.

KELSI CAIN

It's her first birthday

Kelsi Cain, daughter of Randy and Elaine Cain of Texico, turned 1 year old on June 14.

To help celebrate her birthday was her brother Kyle, 4.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Kelley of Texico and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cain of Snyder.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kelley of Texico and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Owens of Bovina.

She was honored with a birthday party in her home with friends and relatives attending.

CLASSICASSIE

Hall of Famer to parade

One of the entries in the Border Town Days Parade will be "Classicassie."

Her owner is Carol Smith of Farwell.

Classicassie is a registered Mule with the American Donkey and Mule Society and American Mule Association.

She is enrolled in the Versatility Mule Hall of Fame.

To reach this goal she had to receive 300 points, which she gets from entering in parades, Grand Entries, showing and publicity.

Classicassie comes from good stock. Her father is a Standard Spanish Jack owned by Dr. Jerry Gleason, of Muleshoe, and her mom is an Appaloosa cross bred.

"A mule is five times smarter than a horse and more comfortable to ride. Also a mule cannot reproduce," said Carol Smith.

Wood shop opens here

Clay Roberts has returned to Farwell to open up "Clay's Wood Shop," located in the building which also houses Allsup's along the highway.

Roberts, a 1978 Farwell High graduate, moved to Farmington, N.M. after graduation, working in the oil fields and operating a wood shop.

Now that he's back in Farwell, his shop will feature repair work, refinished furniture and custom-built furniture.

Also, Roberts plans to do custom fertilizer spreading work, with his fertilizer truck.

Roberts is married to the former Jana Berry, a 1980 Farwell High grad. They have a son, Ryan, 3.

Roberts can be contacted at 481-9236. He is still unsure of the hours his shop will be open.

Bicycle registration set

All area youngsters are reminded that registration for the Border Town Days Decorated Bike Contest is now open at Texico City Hall.

"Everything is ready at the city hall in Texico for registration," says Ann Cooper, who is in charge of the bike contest. She says that youths planning to enter the decorated bike contest in the parade need to register, giving their name and age, if they are to be eligible for the cash prizes to be awarded.

No motorized bikes will be allowed in the parade, says Mrs. Cooper.

All riders must have their bikes at K.K. Runnels Park at 10 a.m. Texas time, and line up for judging on the southwest corner of the park. "You must be on time or you will not be judged," Mrs. Cooper stresses.

There will be two divisions in the judging this year:

Division A: Best decorated bike, ages 7-12.

Division B: Best decorated bike, ages six and under.

Tedson Trailers in Texico is providing the cash prizes to the winners.

All-Stars lose finale

The 1985 Texico-Farwell Mustang League All-Stars lost in the finals of the District Tournament to Friona, 15-14, July 18. Texico-Farwell had gotten into the finals after defeating Muleshoe, 11-5. Earlier, Texico-Farwell had defeated Bovina, 34-5, but lost to Muleshoe, 16-10. The All-Stars are, back row from left, Matthew Williams, Clint Austin,

Texico-Farwell team loses in baseball final

The Texico-Farwell Bronco League All-Star team played in a double-elimination tournament last week in Muleshoe, losing in the finals to the Muleshoe Black Team, 18-8.

Farwell beat Friona again, 17-10. Chad Byrd hit another homer. The catcher was Greg Actkinson; pitchers were Michael Arce, Darren Haseloff and Greg Actkinson.

In the opening game, Texico-Farwell edged Friona, 10-9. Chad Byrd homered. Michael Arce was the catcher; Greg Actkinson and Darren Haseloff pitched.

Then Texico-Farwell defeated Muleshoe Black, 14-8. Monty Delgado hit two homers and Darren Haseloff one. The catcher was Darren Haseloff. Pitchers were Michael Arce, Greg Actkinson and Darren Haseloff.

Then, the Muleshoe Black Team beat Texico-Farwell, 17-2. Chad Byrd, Greg Actkinson and Michael Arce pitched; Darren Haseloff caught. Chad Byrd got the only two runs in the game for his team.

That set up the final game, won by Muleshoe Black. Benji McDaniel and Monty Delgado homered. Darren Haseloff was the catcher; Michael Arce pitched.

Frank Guentner of Muleshoe is in the process of moving his photo business to Farwell, at 206 Ave. A. Guentner will mainly be involved with wholesale business. He will be carrying 35 mm film, disc film 120 and 110 film and bulk film will be available. There will be cameras and accessories.

Guentner hopes to open the doors the last of August and plans to be open one or two days a week.

Radar units to be bought

The Parmer County Commissioners decided Monday to buy two new radar units for the state police cars headquartered in Parmer County. One unit works out of Farwell; the other out of Friona.

Snodgrass, Camp on rodeo board

The High Plains Junior Rodeo Association was started in 1976 in Clovis.

There are 11 towns in the association and there are two board members from each town. The board members from this area are Roy Snodgrass, vice-president from Texico, and Mike Camp from Farwell.

"The main reason that the association was started was to have rodeos close to home," said Camp.

When it was first started, the association had five rodeos. Now they have 10 rodeos. The finals this year will be held in Clovis.

Farwell has hosted the finals twice and it is the only other town to host the finals.

To qualify for the finals, you have to win a $1 in an event.

At the finals, six saddles for all around and 33 buckles for the events are given away.

The kids in the association are 19 years and under, have good standing in school and the community, and are single. At the present time, there are about 180 to 200 kids in the association.

It costs $35 to be in the association but you can still participate if you're not a member.

World of model aircraft

A hobby that challenges

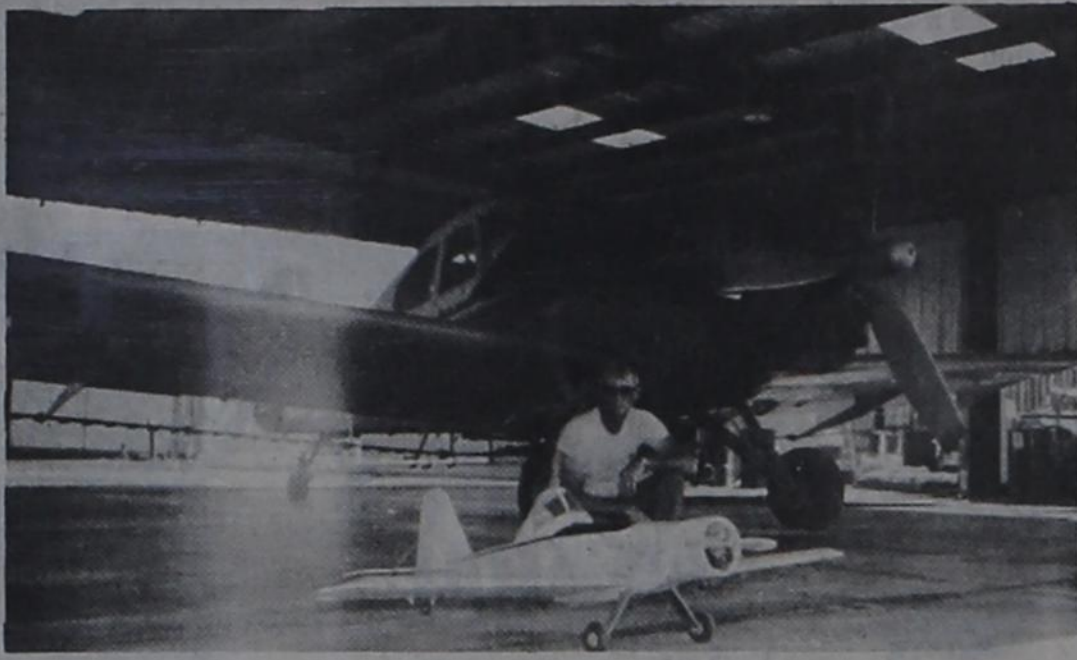

BY DEANN CURTIS

There's a little kid in all of us and Joe Stanton is no exception. He has used his mechanical technology to transform the child's model airplane into an interesting and challenging hobby.

Joe was first introduced to the world of model aircraft in 1976 when Cliff Ennen showed him some of his collection. Joe's interest in models switched from boats to airplanes because he found the planes more interesting.

Since that time, Joe has built 16 airplanes. As his collection grew, so did the need for a place to store his planes. Now he has a workshop behind his house specially designed to store his collection and house his latest projects and equipment. Joe has really utilized his workshop because he enjoys building the models more than flying them.

Before Joe begins to build a model, he studies the assembly plan for about two hours to familiarize himself with the trickier steps. After this mental preparation, Joe puts the frame of the model together. Plywood is used in the front section of the aircraft because it is Joe Stanton shows his newest project in front of its "mother: at the strong and can support the engines. Balsa is used in other parts of the plane because it is light.

After the model has been "framed," a coat of Balsarite is spread on. This is a conditioner which allows the monocoat to stick to the frame. The monocoat is then ironed on and the plane is ready for the controls to be installed and the engine and fuel tanks to be mounted. The total process amounts to about 20 hours of construction.

Farwell Spraying Service hangar.

The radio controls are based on the receiver/transmitter method. The radio transmissions can be beamed to a greater distance than the plane can be seen. This is more than adequate since visual contact is a necessity in flight.

The first plane Joe built was a Falcon-56. Being new at the game, he asked Cliff Ennen to help him mount the wings. Cliff told him that he had built two right wings. Until that time, Joe didn't know there was a difference.

His current project is a large plane with an eight foot wing span. This is the second large plane he has worked on; he didn't finish the first.

Joe is a member of MADS (Model Airplane Drivers Society) in Clovis.

This is an active club consisting of 25 members. One member pilots helicopters which is the most difficult radio controlled flying.

The Clovis MADS fly at their range in the Ned Houk Park. Joe has flown in both Texas and New Mexico and feels this is the finest field at which he has flown. Many contests require AMA (Aeronautical Modelers Association) membership but this is not required to fly on the Clovis range.

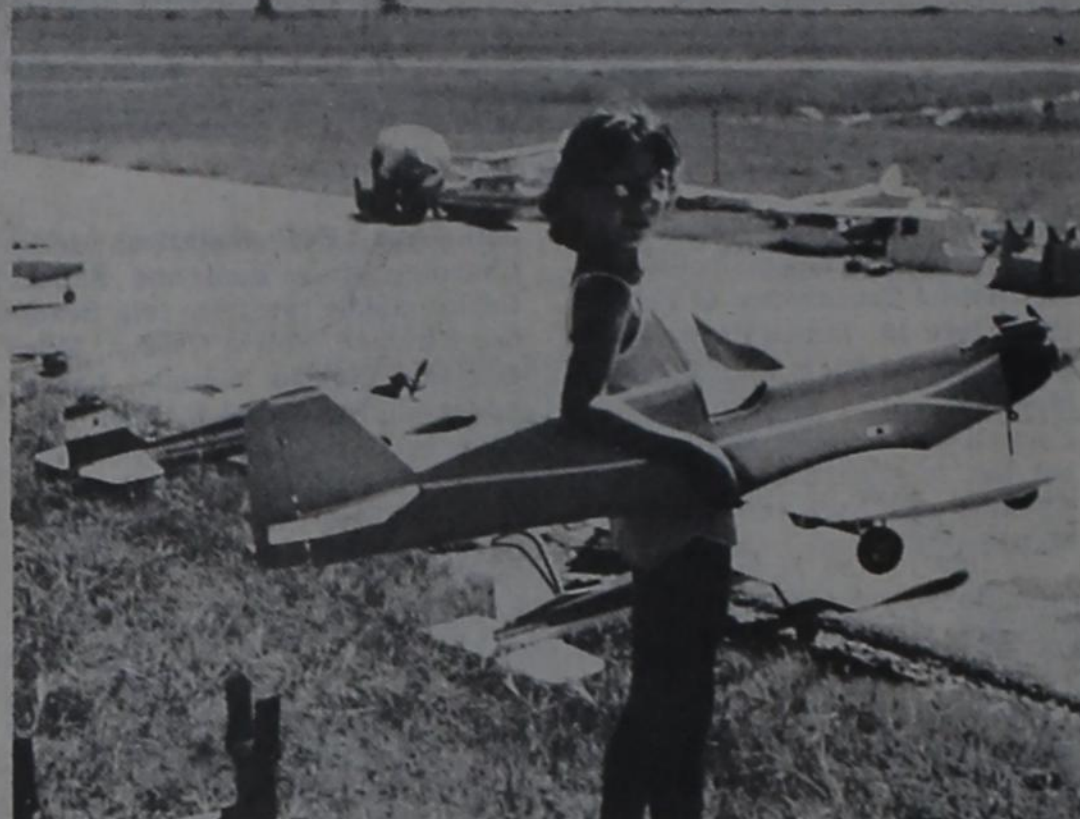

Spectators are always welcome at the range, but the best time for viewing is Sunday afternoons when there are usually 12 flyers performing. Instructor pilots are always available for new flyers. MADS will be hosting its annual Funfly in September. This is a day of exhibition contests and overall fun.

Joe attends an average of four meets a year and feels he should be a better flyer because of his experience. He flies as often as he can and sometimes uses the runway at Farwell Spraying Service to test fly some of his planes.

During one practice, Joe allowed his daughter Kristi to take the controls and they lost the airplane. After combing the area on foot, they finally went up in a plane and found his model some distance from where they had been searching.

Joe and his wife Kay have one daughter, Kristi, who will be a fifth grader at Farwell. Joe owns Stanton Motors in Farwell and enjoys fishing when he can. He and his family attend the First Baptist Church of Farwell.

Joe encourages anyone who is interested in models to call him or come by his home. Although this hobby can be expensive, Joe says the price has been reduced drastically in the last few years. He will be available for questions at the park booth during the Border Town Days.

Kristi Stanton holds one of her father's planes. In the background is the runway at the flying range in Clovis.

Boy Scouts earn Sailing Merit Badges

Troop 200 Boy Scouts left June 14 for a trip to Conchas Lake. They returned June 16.

Rex Aycock and his two sons Alan and Andy came from Lubbock with their 3 sail boats to teach the troop how to sail.

Alan and Andy are both Eagle Scouts. Rex is a brother of Charles Aycock who is the troops Scout Master.

The scouts received their Sailing Merit Badges and some received their Skiing Merit Badges.

The Jerry Fords went up on Saturday and took their ski boat so the boys could ski.

The scouts camped out in their tents at the Boy Scout Camp at Conchas.

Ramms get together

Visiting in the home of Minnie Ramm were her son Fred and Frieda Ramm from Carthage, Mo.

Tuesday evening, they enjoyed a family cookout in Mrs. Ramm's back yard. Others present were Ernest and Mary Alice Ramm from Muleshoe; Carroll and Alice Huggins and Dennis and Staci, and an aunt, Elenora Kube from Farwell.

Visiting here

Andrew Williams of Sacramento, Calif.; Martha Jane Barker of Phoenix, Ariz.; and Emma Grace Benge of Cincinnati, Ohio, were recent visitors with their sister Bettye Mouser of Clovis.

They are all former residents of Texico-Farwell and are the children of Mrs. R.E. Williams of Texico, who died in 1971.

Berry homers

The Texico-Farwell women's softball team, the Honey Do's, lost to Clovis High Plains Hospital, 9-5, July 18.

Jenine Berry of Farwell hit a home run during the game.

The Honey Do's will play Western Bank July 25 at 8:30 p.m. (MDT) on field four.

Co-op meeting scheduled

The 29th annual stockholders meeting for the Farmers Cooperative Elevator will be today (Friday) at 7 p.m. at the Muleshoe High School cafeteria.

An election of officers will be held. Also, a meal will be catered by Danny's Catering.

Jennings resigns

Joe Jennings, in his second term on the Lazbuddie School Board, has resigned, school officials announced Tuesday.

A special board meeting has been called for 8:30 p.m. July 25 to discuss the vacancy, which probably will be filled by the other board members, and the purchase of equipment.

Kara Camp is shown with her mare "Satch" and 12 trophies she has won in racing events.

Kara Camp heads for state events

Kara Camp of Farwell is on her way to participate in the State Horsemanship racing events in Abilene this weekend.

She will be competing in three events - barrel racing, pole bending and stake racing.

She has been an active member of 4-H for the last four years.

Kara has qualified for District every year.

The mare she rides was raised by Ed Hardage and trained by Cindy Billingsley of Farwell. The mare's name is "Satch."

Kara received her first mare at the age of 2 and has been riding ever since. At the age of 7, Kara rode in the Border Town Day parade. She spends about two or three hours a day during the spring and summer working with her horse.

She has won 12 trophies.

Parmer County 4-H has joined the Llano Estacado Association. The four counties are Parmer, Castro, Lamb and Deaf Smith.

Kara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Camp.

Huge Tractor Savings

with John Deere IRAs

(Inventory Reduction Advantages)

Right now you can buy anybody's tractor at a pretty good price. But John Deere offers you something better: John Deere IRAs. Inventory Reduction Advantages like:

- Our 40-85-hp utility tractors, 100-190-hp row-crop tractors and rugged 4WD tractors are value-priced like never before. John Deere factory-backed programs enable us to make very competitive deals, horsepower for horsepower, dollar for dollar.
- John Deere IRAs apply to all new tractors, not discontinued models. We're out to sell the best product we've ever built, at the best possible price.
- A variety of finance options are available* including waiver of interest charges until April 1, 1986. Or you may wish to take a discount worth up to thousands of dollars in lieu of finance waiver. The John Deere finance waiver may actually give you an effective A.P.R. lower than competition's "low-rate" financing. We can give you the details.

- Besides a great product, you'll get great support — the best in the business. Our factory-trained technicians provide prompt, competent service. John Deere's parts back-up is legendary with a communications network that can locate and ship a vital part fast!
- The best IRA of all is John Deere quality. Because our high quality is what will ultimately make the difference between a "cheap" deal and a great deal.

Welcome to Texas

Welcome to Texas
 "Welcome to Texas" signs like this one have recently been erected at the state line along all U.S. and state highways. The signs, put up by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, are to welcome visitors during the State's sesquicentennial celebration next year. The eight by 12 foot signs feature a red, white, and blue Texas Flag. This picture was taken before the signs were put up. One has been placed in Farwell.
ENMR to place service office here
 Bob Harris, general manager of ENMR Telephone, said they will renovate their building in Farwell in the next four months.
 The office is located on Ave. A. The office will allow for payments to be paid, service related difficulties, and adjusting accounts, if needed.
 The office will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
 They plan to hire one person from Farwell to start and possibly two more later.

Students attend 'Upward Bound'

Texico and Farwell Schools were represented in the six-week Upward Bound program at Eastern New Mexico University, June 2-July 12. The students were John Thomas of Texico and Shonda Foster of Farwell. The students participated in an intensive academic training program, as well as a variety of cultural and athletic activities. Shonda and John also attended Upward Bound in Portales. There were between 50-65 students participating. The courses they took were student development, speech and communication, English, science, regular biology and chemistry, math, and computer class-basic programming. "The program is to reinforce what you had learned and maybe help in some area you might need help, said Shonda. Each student is given an ID card, meal ticket and activities card. The athletic activities included softball, volleyball and weight lifting. They took trips to Los Alamos, Albuquerque, to Old Town, Santa Fe, and to Palo Duro Canyon to see "Texas."

Accident occurs

The Jose Ceniseros family of Farwell was involved in a car accident July 21 on State Highway 108 north of the airport road. The Ceniseroses were going to the Clovis Hospital with their three-month-old son Nathan. Their car was hit by a southbound vehicle that left the scene of the accident, said state police.

Other passengers in the Ceniseros car were his wife Lucia, Jose Jr. and Angela Jaime.

Cleanup held

Texico had its final cleanup day on July 20. Ann Cooper, secretary of the Texico Chamber of Commerce, said, "I appreciated all the help and volunteer work done that day."

Friona man seeks re-election

Four grain sorghum producers of the Texas High Plains area are candidates for re-election to the office of Director of Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board. Their names will appear on the same ballot as referendums to establish a uniform grain sorghum checkoff throughout Texas.

Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board was established in 29 counties of the Texas High Plains in 1969. Since that time, it has financed most of the promotion and market development for Texas sorghum. In this election, sorghum producers outside the current TGSPB area will vote on a proposal to join TGSPB and expand the program statewide.

The High Plains candidates are: Dennis W. Anthony of Friona in Parmer County, Albert Scheele of Lockney in Floyd County, Weldon Shelton of Lamesa in Dawson County and Loyall Turner of Spearman in Hansford County. If the referendum to expand the program is approved by two-thirds of the producers voting, seven directors will be elected at-large from a slate of twenty-three. The seven directors-elect will join eight who are serving unexpired terms on the existing board. Directors are elected to six-year terms with one-third of them rotating off each two years.

The directors have the full responsibility of the TGSPB programs within limits approved by the voters. They have the authority to set the rate of the assessment but may not exceed the maximum specified in the referendum. They also hire staff, decide projects and determine collection procedures. They are elected officers of the State of Texas. They are not paid for their services but provisions have been made to reimburse them for travel expenses.

While farmers in counties outside the TGSPB area vote on the check-off, those in the High Plains area will vote on a referendum to raise the maximum limit of the assessment from 1/4 cent per hundred-weight to one cent. The proposition is to allow adjustments in assessments to meet the operating costs of the Eighties. If approved, the board of directors will have the authority to set the assessment at any rate which does not exceed one cent per cwt.

The TGSPB checkoff funds are used to finance the promotion of Texas grain sorghum in markets throughout the world. In recent years, TGSPB has concentrated most of its efforts in Mexico. Due largely to those efforts, Mexico is now buying as much U.S. sorghum as half of the Texas production.

The proposed TGSPB checkoff is a uniform way to finance the sorghum promotion for the benefit of all sorghum farmers. Participation is voluntary. Any producer who does not wish to pay the assessment simply requests and promptly receives a refund.

Anyone who has produced sorghum in Texas during at least one of the past three years is eligible to vote in the election. Ballots will be mailed to more than 60,000 Texas sorghum producers on the ASCS roll. Any producers who does not receive a ballot by August 1, may obtain one at his County Extension Office or by calling toll-free 1-800-692-4169. Farmers are also advised to use the toll-free number with any questions about the referendum or checkoff program.

Insurance bid accepted

The Texico City Council Tuesday accepted the bid on the municipal insurance from Durham-Kinyon.

On July 26, there will be a special meeting at 5 p.m. (MST) on the solid waste refuge.

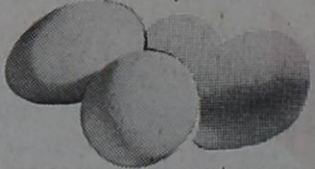

The streets in Texico have been completed on the Chip and Seal project.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 13.

Lewis and Ann Cooper

AN ACCOMPLISHED COUPLE

BY PATTY POMPER

Not many couples can boast the accomplishments that Texico's Lewis and Ann Cooper can.

Between the two of them, they sew, paint, work with wood, and take an active role in the community.

Ann Cooper began painting in 1965, when she took her first art class. During that class, she sold her first painting for $75. That original enthusiasm is still revived every time she sells a painting.

Today, her paintings are sold in a Clovis store called Contempo Quilt. There, she also sells doll clothes, quilts and some of their woodwork.

Another place where Ann sells her crafts is at art shows. On the average, she attends 20 shows a year with Janie Bowery and other friends. She has found that every show is different, but none are perfect. Although she is successful at many shows, there are times when she spends a whole day at a show and does not sell anything.

Outdoor shows sometimes present a problem because of bad weather. On the other hand, indoor shows can be hot and stuffy. One way that she has found to attract people to her booth is to give a child one of their toys to play with.

All of the toys that the Coopers make are made from scraps of wood left over from larger projects. Thus, no wood is wasted. The toys they make include wooden cars and tops.

Lewis has only taken one class in woodworking. That was a woodshop class in high school. The teacher said his work was good, but he took too long to finish a project. Today, he is working on his speed, but quality is still the most important factor of his work. Although he stopped working with wood for some time, in 1977 he began building tables again.

After they were married, the Coopers built a fireplace and bookshelves in their living room. They said that was when they began working heavily with wood again.

The item they are most proud of is the china cabinet that they built for their son. It took them six months to build it -- without a pattern.

Working on a project without a pattern is typical for the Coopers. They have made toy chests with openings so they won't hurt children's fingers, a cedar chest, and roll-top breadboxes -- all without patterns.

Lewis' latest project is a roll-top desk that is also being made from his own design. He feels that there is nothing he can't make at home, because the equipment is there, ready to be used.

One way they keep costs down is by getting their wood from the Missouri saw mills. Lewis' cousin drives it down here as they need it.

One of the Coopers most unusual endeavors is the printing of their own book. The book, "Idle Chatter," is a collection of columns from the Portales paper written by Lewis' mother. Although they had the book printed by a printer, they had to put some 200 pages together--page by page. To do this, they had to turn their garage into an assembly line. When they finished, they had put together 2,000 copies of the book.

Both Lewis and Ann have taken an active part in our community. They are both Emergency Medical Technicians with the Texico Fire Department. Also, they are both active in the Texico Chamber of Commerce.

Ann has served as secretary/treasurer of this group, and Lewis has been both president and vice-president. Ann serves on the Border Town Days committee as secretary/treasurer. Lewis is on the Texico City Council.

Ann enjoys collecting antiques, depression glass, and flour sifters in her spare time. They both enjoy going out to dinner and going to the mountains.

The Coopers were married in 1978 and have four children from previous marriages. Her son, Ricky, is a farmer in Portales, and her daughter, Debbie, is a chemical engineer in San Jose, Calif.

Lewis' two daughters, Terry and Linda, currently reside in Lake Charles, La. Linda is the mother of their only grandson, Ryan, who is five years old. Lewis' parents live in Portales, and Ann's mother resides in Texico.

Lewis works for Helton Oil Co. and drives a truck in the evenings. They are both members of the Central Christian Church in Clovis.

The Coopers also made clothes for Barbie dolls.

Ann Cooper plays with Frisky, her pet.

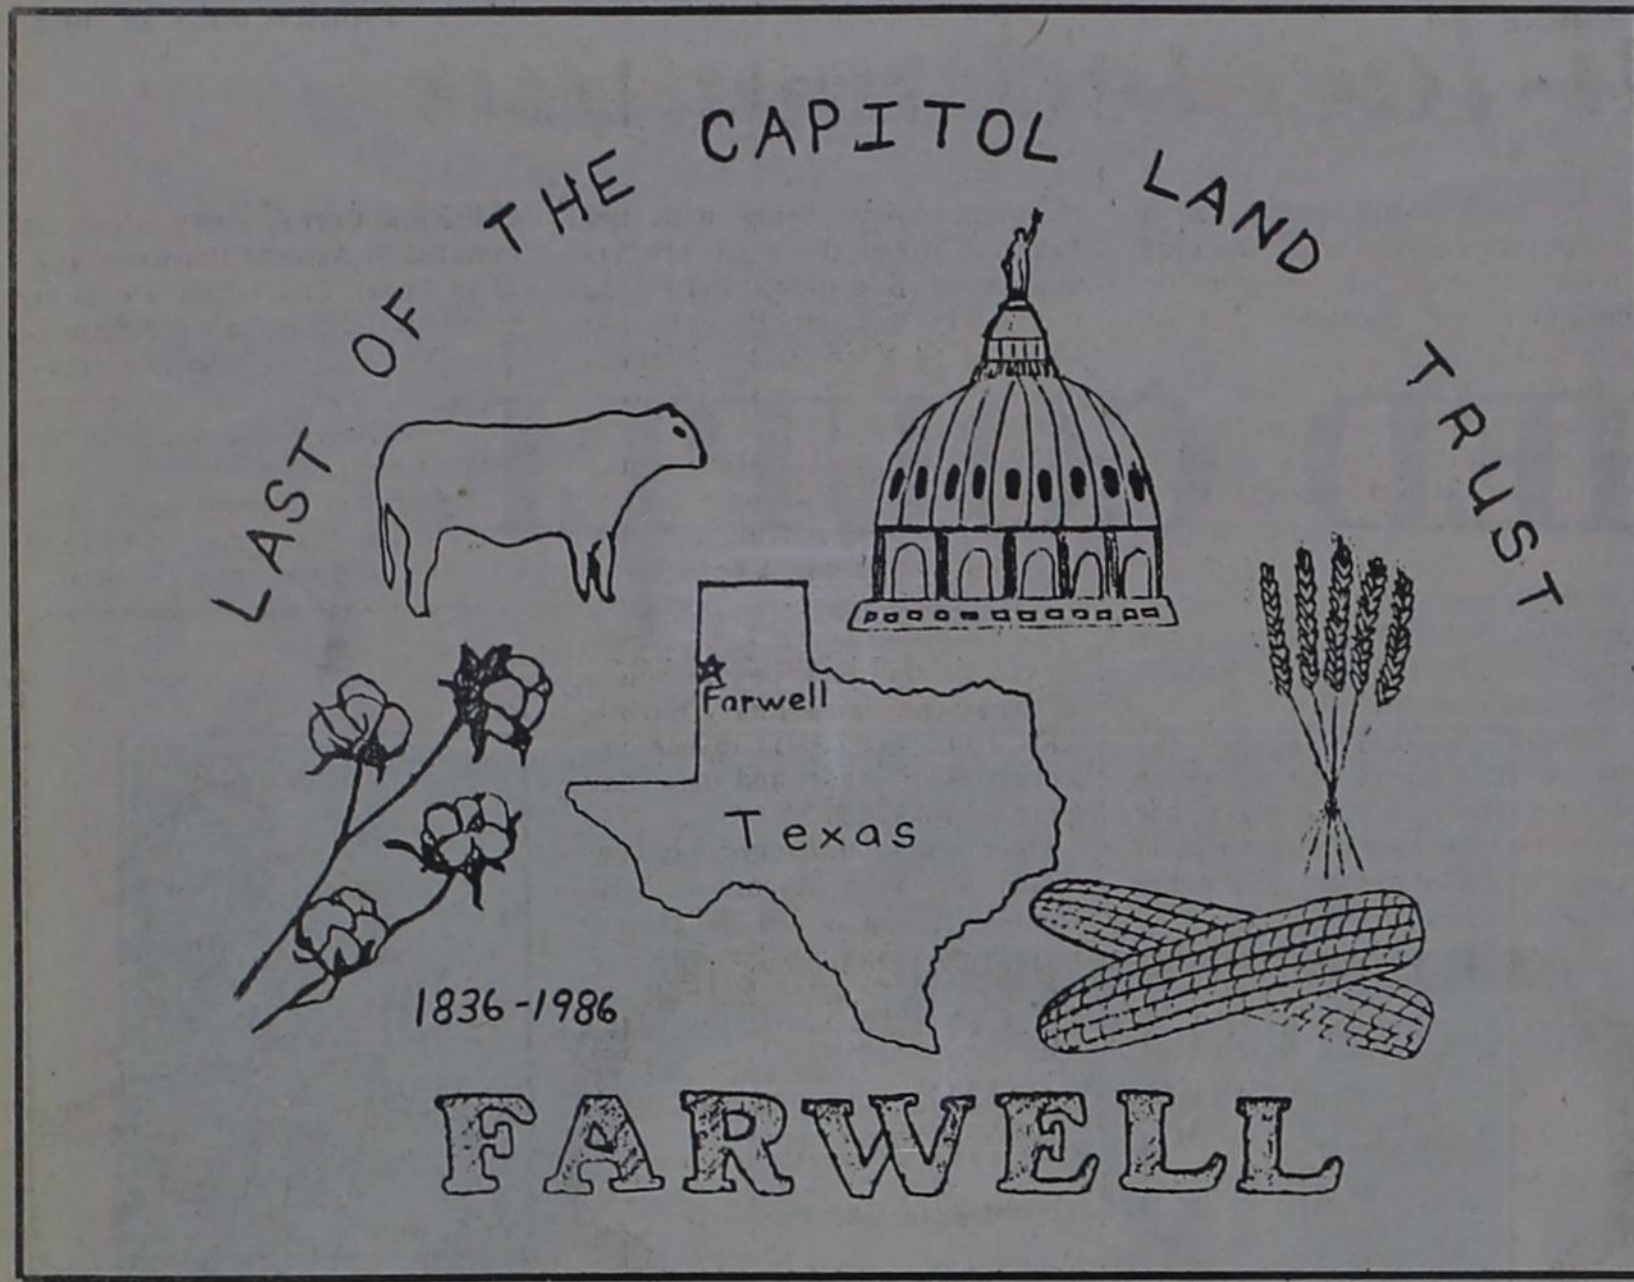

The Coopers made this china cabinet for their son.

Lewis Cooper works on a table at home.

These are recipe holders and cup holders the Coopers made.

Sesquicentennial design

This sketch by Sheree Montgomery has been approved by the Farwell Sesquicentennial Committee as Farwell's official Sesquicentennial design. The design will be modified to include the word "sesquicentennial" near the ears of corn.

Birthday celebrated

Joyce Coffman of Farwell spent her birthday, July 16, surrounded by family and friends. They prepared a lunch at home, and took Mrs. Coffman out to dinner.

Among the guests were her daughters and their families: Sharon Gallon of Alva, Okla.; Alice Autrey of Grants, N.M., with her husband Doug and daughters; Gaye Roberts of Farwell with her husband Billy and children Shane and Shiloh; and Melody Drake of Friona and her children. Son H.W. Coffman of Amarillo was also able to come. Daughter April King of Amarillo and her husband Greg were not at the birthday celebration, but they visited earlier in the week.

Other guests included Ruby and Jeanette Hughes of Oklahoma; Clay Roberts; Ronald and Leandra Byrd and their sons of Farwell; Flora Gonzales of Texico; Johnny Smith of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. David Scott and their sons; David, Robert, and Charlie of Farwell.

Class of 1955 seeks members

The Farwell High School Class of 1955 is not planning an organized 30 years reunion during Border Town Days.

However, the class is now registered with the Farwell Study Club. Any class member is urged to pick up name tags at the park on Saturday.

A "search and locate" mission has been planned to obtain current addresses of all classmates. Members of families or friends are asked to help compile a list for contacting graduates and anyone who attended class but moved away.

If anyone has address for Doris Threet, Robert Jameson, Gloria Jean Sanders, Burl Anderson or others, please call Ysleta Kittrell at 481-3415.

Marriage Licenses

There were four marriage licenses issued during the past week by the Parmer County Clerk's office.

Marriage licenses were issued to Juan Torres and Porfiria Salazar; Claude Robertson and Patty Robertson; Lowry Winkles and Marice Morgan; and Frank Dalton and Natalee McGuffin.

Sandra Rucker: a multi-faceted woman

By DeAnn Curtis

Sandra Rucker is a multi-faceted woman. She enjoys painting, sewing, gardening, decorating, and being with her family.

Her main interest, painting, began over eight years ago. At that time, she "just decided to try it." So she bought the art supplies and took art lessons from Dickie Magness of Farwell.

Since those first lessons, Sandra has enjoyed painting with both oils and watercolors. For more than a year, her painting has been interrupted due to building and decorating her home, but in the future, she plans to attend more art workshops and experiment with watercolor.

Cooking is another activity that Sandra enjoys. She loves to bake goodies - especially cinnamon rolls. She has also enjoyed learning to cook with the wok that her family gave her for Christmas.

Throughout her house, it is apparent that she also enjoys sewing. In various rooms, she has displayed antique sewing machines and her 250 piece thimble collection. The curtains and bedspreads she has made for her house show her talent as a seamstress, as do the clothes and quilts she makes for her three granddaughters.

Gardening is another hobby of Sandra's. Not only does she keep her lawn in perfect order, but she has plants in almost every room of her house. She and her husband Johnny work on their greenhouse in their spare time.

In the 1970's, the Ruckers owned and operated a Clovis shop called "Etcetera." Some of the items for sale were cowchip clocks, name mirrors, ceramics, macrame, paintings, needlepoint, knitted and crocheted items, wood items, popcorn buckets, and memory boxes.

Sandra's favorite items to make were the memory boxes. Customers chose a size and color, but she could use her imagination and creativity in designing the box. The boxes usually contained war items and keepsakes, but Sandra was once asked to display a set of false teeth.

Since Christmas is an especially busy time for a business, the Ruckers had many orders to fill. One Christmas, Sandra painted 50 popcorn buckets. For several years after their shop closed, they continued receiving orders at Christmas for their specialty items - name mirrors and cowchip clocks.

Sandra said that the experience of owning a shop made her appreciate good stores and helped her learn to cope with consumer demands.

The Ruckers are exceptionally proud of their new home since they designed it themselves. They began with a basic plan and tailored it to their own needs and taste. Their son Terry designed the second floor to accommodate Sandra's art and craft items. After a year of planning, designing, and changing, they began to build.

Special features of their home include: redwood showers with an adjoining alcove for plants and a skylight; a sewing room with built-in compartments for notions, patterns, material, etc.; solar panels on the greenhouse which provide heat for their home; and an indoor sprinkler system which automatically humidifies the house.

Sandra has really enjoyed the second floor where she works on various crafts and displays her paintings. Her daughter Tasha also works on and stores projects on the second floor.

Sandra enjoys being with her family. Through the years, she has supported and participated in school trips and activities with her children. As a family, the Ruckers enjoy snow and water skiing, traveling, and going to the lake.

Christmas is a special time for the Rucker family. For many years, Sandra has been collecting Christmas decorations. She gave each of her children a new Christmas ornament every year and then as they moved out, they took their collection of ornaments with them. Sandra adds a new decoration to her collection every year and now has quite an assortment.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Rusty and Pam, farm north of Texico and have two daughters, Callie and Carrie. Terry is getting married to Annette Blackner Aug. 17 in Cedar City, Utah. He is an architect living in Dallas. Schree is married to Byron Mayfield. They farm at Bovina and have one daughter, Dru. Tasha will be in the eighth grade at Texico.

Sandra and Johnny appreciate living in the Texico district and are enjoying their new country home.

Sandra Rucker shows some of her paintings.

Sandra Rucker holds her two-year-old granddaughter, Callie, while stitching a pattern.

No segment of the economy has ever been challenged to change so fast and so completely as has the new agriculture.

Never in American history have so many innovations been adopted in such a short time.

When these changes have required capital, your Federal Land Bank Association has been a primary source of funds. We recognize the inevitability of change — except in the importance of the man and the land. We also believe that a free agriculture — based on the family farm — will continue to flourish in any new environment.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL JONES

Taylor, Jones exchange vows

Melissa Taylor and Michael Clay Jones exchanged wedding vows April 6 in a double ring ceremony in the Southcrest Baptist Church in the J. Wayland Edwards Chapel of Lubbock, with Rev. Burlie W. Taylor, uncle of the bride, officiating.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Taylor, formerly of Farwell but now living in Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Van Witt of Roswell, N.M.

Vows were read before a white kneeling bench, unity candle and a family Bible. An arched 15 branch candelabra with a tapered seven branch candelabra on each side, was adorned with greenery and white silk bows. Baskets of spring flowers also adorned the Chapel.

Candles were lit by Michael Chandler of Lubbock, brother of the groom. The ushers were Kerry Weinheimer of Lubbock, Russell Richards of Midland and Greg Richards of Hobbs, N.M.

Selections preceding and during the service were "Longer Always and Forever, You and I, Ice Castles, The Wedding Song and Truly. Vocalist Warren McNeill was accompanied by a piano.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of white tissue taffeta. Queen Anne neckline was trimmed with Alencon lace and simulated pearls. Illusion front and back net yoke were trimmed with Schiffli embroidery and simulated pearls. Fitted bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace and studded with simulated pearls. The leg-of-muttan sleeves were shirred, with net and lace forming a petit point at the wrist.

Long flowing skirt from the waistline had a front inset of accordion pleats. Dropped back waistline was accented with Alencon Lace and simulated pearls formed the scalloped Cathedral train. Bandeau Headpiece was covered with re-embroidered Alencon lace and trimmed with small tear drop simulated pearl strands and miniature white silk wedding bells. Double scalloped waist length veil was accented with applique of lace and simulated pearls. Streamers were of white satin.

The bride's attendants were Kristy Weinheimer, matron of honor, sister of the bride, from Lubbock, and Vicki Willis, bridesmaid, sister of the groom, from Roswell. They wore lavender dresses made of promess satin with a sweetheart neckline. Puffed sleeves gathering on elastic formed a standup ruffle. Fitted bodice to natural waistline was accented with taffeta ribbon sash and bow. The attendants carried a nosegay of silk spring flowers with lavender bow and streamers.

The bridegroom wore a heather gray Winslow style tuxedo with satin peak lapels center button and center vent, with three button vest and bow tie. The white silk bouton-niere of rose buds complemented the white pleated wing tip collar shirt.

His best man was Bob Shackelford of Midland, Texas. The groomsmen were Doug Jones, brother of the groom from Roswell, N.M.

The bride's mother chose a leventer textured satin street length dress accented with a waist belt. The groom's mother chose a camel linen suit double breasted accented with a white shell and gloves.

The reception followed in the fellowship hall at Southcrest Baptist Church.

The bride's table was set up with a white lace tablecloth. To give a pond illusion, the bride's bouquet and several acrylic candlesticks were placed upon a large round mirror.

The groom's table was covered with a lavender linen tablecloth. A copper pump jack was placed on a mirror trimmed with greener for the centerpiece.

Amendment supported

Congressman Larry Combest announced that the House Agriculture Committee has agreed to an amendment which would allow the residents of Deaf Smith County to ask the Department of Agriculture to study whether a proposed nuclear waste depository would damage the underground water supply.

The provision states that USDA is authorized to provide technical assistance to property owners to protect the quality and quantity of subsurface water including water in the nation's aquifers.

Combest stated, "There is consideration of an underground nuclear waste depository in the 19th District of Texas which would penetrate a water supply that stretches into several States. It is our only underground water supply. USDA would not be prevented from assessing the potential pollution or the consideration of potential pollution of that underground water supply by the proposed nuclear waste repository, would it?"

Con. Edward Madigan, who offered the amendment, stated that, "No, in fact this amendment would allow -- in effect, would invite an individual or a small community in your district -- to ask the Secretary for technical assistance in determining what exactly the consequences to the rural water supply would be..."

Combest later said, "I wholeheartedly support the amendment and will work toward its passage in both the House and Senate. The provision allows the citizens of the Texas panhandle to obtain an independent analysis of all potential nuclear waste hazards associated with the proposed repository."

The newlyweds departed to Ixtap and Matzalan, Mexico. For traveling, the bride wore a lavender linen skirt and jacket with a white cotton sweater. Her accessories were white.

They will be at home at 7001 Utica Ave. #1801, Lubbock.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Farwell High School. She received a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from West Texas State university. She is employed by the First Federal Savings Bank in Lubbock as a loan analyst.

The groom is a 1973 graduate of Roswell High School. He received a Bachelor of Science from Eastern New Mexico University. He is now a self employed as a geologist.

Home loans available

Approximately $176 million in low interest mortgage loans will become available to home buyers in Texas beginning July 29, Gov. Mark White announced.

The money will be offered to eligible low and moderate income borrowers at a fixed rate of 9.75 percent for 30 years through the Texas Housing Agency in cooperation with numerous lending institutions throughout Texas.

"This state-wide program will help meet the tremendous consumer demand for affordable homes and strengthen the Texas economy by promoting new construction and sales existing homes," White said.

The housing agency has established maximum income limits and a ceiling on home prices to direct the program more effectively to households least able to afford conventional interest rates.

An individual applicant must have an adjusted gross income in 1984 of $33,000 or less; the combined income limit for two or more individuals (with each under $33,000) or for a family is $42,000. For homes in most areas of the state, borrowers may not have owned a home at any time during the last three years.

Lenders will begin accepting applications on July 29, for mortgage loans on homes costing $80,000 or less. Applications on homes priced higher than $80,000 will be accepted beginning Aug. 5; however, for the first 60 days of the program, lenders are required to give priority to applicants buying homes costing less than $80,000. The maximum home acquisition costs vary from area to area.

Prospective home buyers may call (512) 475-4005 to obtain a program brochure and a list of participating lenders.

Superior grain yields with a good grazing bonus.
Excellent straw strength, too!

Our researchers were impressed by the tremendous pasture production and grain yields from these new varieties during testing. And now that the varieties have stood the test of actual production on many farms under many conditions, the proof is in!

They grow off well and show strong resistance to SBMV, leaf rusts, fungal leaf blights, and the Hessian fly.

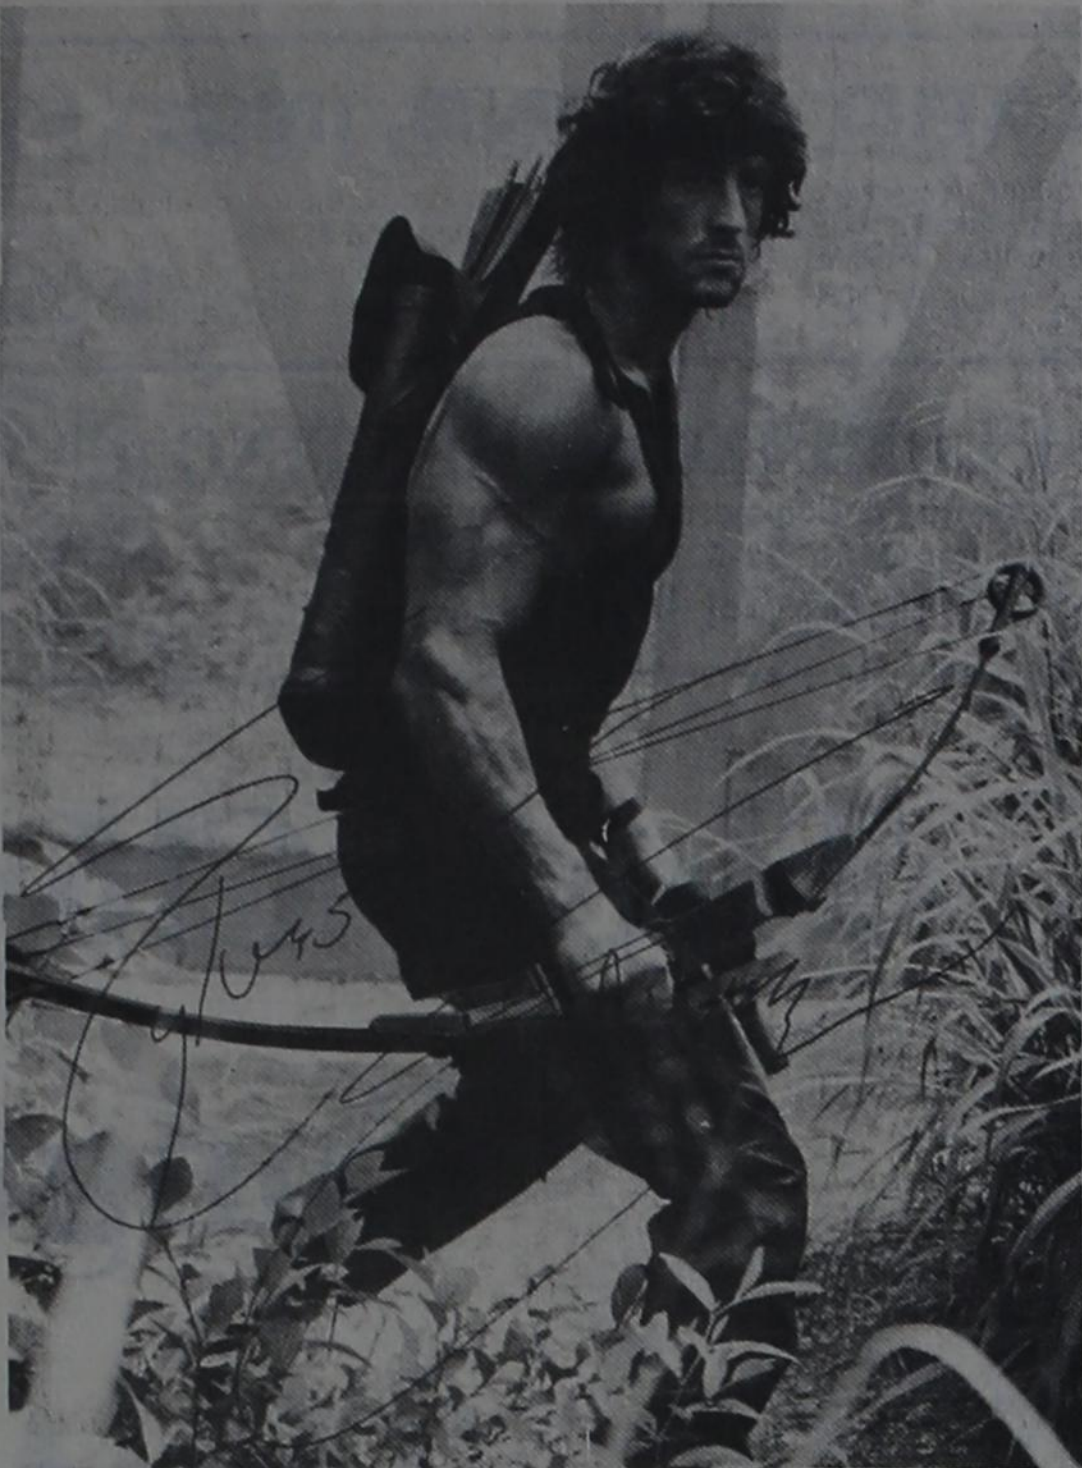

• New 2157 gives you good, early grazing, then stays with you through the winter. And the grain yields are right up there with anything you care to compare it against. Choose 2157 for dryland or limited water production.

• New 2165 works with your irrigation program to make the most of all you put into the crop. Pasture comes on strong in the fall and grain yields are among the best you'll find, bar none.

Celebrity items to be auctioned

Even though the Celebrity Auction, the fund-raiser for the Farwell Community Center, was held weeks ago, items keep arriving in Farwell from celebrities.

Letters were sent out May 1 to 620 celebrities, such as movie and TV stars, politicians and sports people, soliciting items for the auction. Twenty percent of those who received letters sent items for the auction, which raised more than $7,000.

Highlights were a $100 check from actress Marsha Mason, an autographed photo made out to the Community Center from Roger Staubach, which brought $240, and U.S. Olympic warmup suit which brought $95.

However, after the auction was held, items kept arriving. So it has been decided to have a table at Border Town Days July 27 where people can bid on the new arrivals. This will be a "Silent Auction," where a deadline is given and the highest bid at that time gets the items.

Here are the items to be auctioned off at BTD:

A tote bag from Elizabeth Taylor; TV script from "The Jeffersons", autographed by Isabel Sanford ("Weezy"); The "Sally Struthers Natural Beauty Book" personally autographed; a color portrait of the 1984 Chicago Cubs baseball team, which won the National League Eastern Division.

Also, autographed photos of Sylvester Stallone (as "Rambo"), Carol Burnett, Lynda Carter, Jackie Gleason, George Segal, Valerie Bertinelli, Shelley Long, Leonard Nimoy, Victoria Principal, Ali MacGraw and Lou Gossett.

Ford's have a boy

Kerry and Ronda Ford of Farwell are parents of a boy.

His name is Kerry Shay. He was born July 8 at West Plains Medical Center in Muleshoe.

Kerry weighed eight pounds and 5½ ounces.

He has one sister Kristin, 2½.

Tom Ellis

On the railroad

For nearly 38 years and nine months, Tom Ellis has been working on the Santa Fe Railroad as a station agent.

Ellis was raised in Kress and started working for the Slaton Division Headquarters for Santa Fe.

He was hired as an apprentice telegraph operator and did some clerical work at the station in 1946. While there, he learned international Morse code, composed of dots and dashes.

The cost of a ticket to ride on a train was determined this way: if it was first class, which included choice of Pullman, space on upper and lower berths was 3 to 3½ cents a mile; and the coach was 2½ cents a mile.

Ellis once worked in a depot that dated back to 1887.

It had arch woodwork and carvings. It still had an outhouse that was still in service and didn't have telephone or electricity.

Other depots he worked in included stucco, rock, brick and, if a station happened to burn, a boxcar was used.

Some of the stations he worked had no typewriters, or adding machines. He said, "You learned to add two columns in your head."

Signaling trains has changed over the years. Years ago, you would flag a train down with a red kerosene lantern at night and a red flag during the day. Today they use signals.

Before he came to Texico 2½ years he worked at Thomas, Okla., until the station was closed.

Texico's depot is the only station in the Plains Division that doesn't have a computer scope for communication. Other stations have changed from telegraph to computer.

At one station Ellis worked, he had a family of skunks under the depot. One day he went to the bank and the skunks had moved in front of the door and wouldn't let him back in. He covered up the hole and set a steel trap. He caught one and finally got rid of the rest.

One other event Ellis remembers was a lady who brought in a letter in a sealed envelope. He wanted to open the letter so he could send it by telegraph and the lady got real upset. No way was he going to open that, she said. He explained he would have to read it to send it but she said "no" and left.

Another night, Ellis saw car lights flashing and he jumped up to check. He found the sheriff and his deputy had broken up a poker game. There were about 15 people walking down the track to jail.

"I had helped load 66 cars in one day with cattle from one ranch with a train crew in eight hours," said Ellis.

The station agents have stopped sending by Western Union. They have few passenger trains, if at all. When you changed stations or to seek a better job, you take out a bid. This bid is based on seniority.

To work for the railroad you filled out an application, character reference, military service and took a physical. Now you need a college education. Back then, mostly men were working on the railroad. But today more women work.

Ellis met his wife Rosemary in Plainview. They have two children. A daughter lives in Norman and a son lives in Crowell.

The Ellises have five grandchildren.

Ellis said, "I never missed a paycheck and they treated me well."

Senators' visit beneficial

Those of us who live on the High Plains have understood for years that our region is special, the equal of any in Texas. It is those who live elsewhere that have had a little trouble understanding its charms.

For years now, we suspected our colleagues in the Senate didn't truly appreciate the Panhandle and South Plains. In fact, we sometimes sensed they didn't consider them quite as "Texan" as other parts of the state.

That can be quite a problem in an area where most cities are closer to four other state capitals than they are to Austin. Sometimes we'd get to feeling that people in Santa Fe, Denver, Oklahoma City and Topeka knew more about Amarillo than did the folks in Austin.

We decided about 18 months ago that the only solution was to bring the senators up to Amarillo and give them a little taste of the good life in the Panhandle. With the help of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce and Amarillo-area businessmen, we did just that.

About a half-dozen senators accepted our invitation to come to District 31 earlier this month, tour the region, and attend the season premiere of "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Many never had seen the Panhandle before, but we're positive none will soon forget it.

The trip surpassed everyone's wildest expectations. Senators were shown the Amarillo Medical Center, a first-rate medical facility most didn't know existed. They traveled to Boys Ranch and genuinely seemed surprised to discover such a progressive boys' home so near Amarillo.

They toured the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, acknowledged as a national leader in the restoration of historical artifacts. And, finally, there was "Texas," set against the backdrop of beautiful Palo Duro Canyon. The breathtaking musical served as a truly grand finale.

Our colleagues all left feeling they had been treated to a first-class trip, the equal of any offered by other Texas communities. The real winner, though, was District 31. The people of the district finally had a chance to show off for lawmakers, and they made the best of it.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

Several senators now realize what a wonderful healthcare and medical research facility exists in Amarillo.

They understand how much Boys Ranch has done for the youth of the state. They have a better knowledge of how the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum works and why it has been trusted to restore so many state artifacts.

And, they certainly know what a wise investment Palo Duro Canyon State Park has been.

But, what the senators saw was just the tip of the proverbial iceberg. There is so much more to see in District 31, and, after this trip, we think the region is ready to open its door to these lawmakers.

The Amarillo Chamber helped solicit from many generous business people the financing for this first trip, but we sense a growing enthusiasm among other chambers in other area towns to help with future trips. That enthusiasm may translate into trips covering more of the district and including more lawmakers.

With some earlier planning, the chances are good that in two years we could get both senators and representatives up to the district. And, maybe, we could bring them up while the Legislature is in session.

Other regions have been doing this for years, and it's helped them with the Legislature, especially in the area of funding. We're pleased to see our region following suit. Such action can't help but guarantee District 31 a fair hearing in Austin, something it richly deserves.

Aycock, Stewart receive Scout honors

Chris Aycock and Jeffrey Stewart of Boy Scout Troop 200 of Farwell have each received two separate honors in Boy Scouting -- being selected to attend the National Scout Jamboree and being inducted into the Order of the Arrow.

On July 17 the two boys departed from Lubbock with 34 other Scouts of the Conquistador Council. The group, Jamboree Troop 790, was to spend five days touring Washington, D.C. Philadelphia, and the United States naval Academy before arriving at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia, site of the Jamboree which will be celebrating the Boy Scouts of America Diamond Jubilee. They will be among more than 33,000 Scouts and adult leaders from every state and many foreign countries observing the 75th anniversary of Boy Scouting in America. The group will return July 31.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of campers with legends and traditions of the American Indian as its basis. To be inducted into the Order of the Arrow (OA) a Scout must first be elected by his fellow troop members. Each troop may have one OA election each year. To be eligible for election a boy must be a registered member of the Boy Scouts of America, must have the approval of his Scoutmaster, must have experienced 15 days and nights of camping within the past two years including one long-term camp (6 days and nights) and must have attained the rank of First Class or higher. After being elected, the candidate must undertake the Ordeal of the Order before he may be inducted. The purpose of the Ordeal is to have the candidate reflect on his own Scout life and character and to come to a deeper understanding of the Scout Oath and the principles of the Order. This purpose is achieved through a four-fold Ordeal which includes spending the night outside alone, keeping complete silence, spending the daylight hours at hard labor, and eating very little food.

Chris and Jeffrey recently traveled to Wehinahpay Mountain Camp near Sacramento, N.M., to take part in an OA tap-out ceremony and to undergo their Ordeal. The tap-out ceremony was held at the OA Indian Village with candidates and visitors seated on a hillside facing the village. Arrowmen dressed in Indian costumes conducted the ceremony. As a candidate's name was called out, he approached the Indian Village. He was met by an "Indian" who escorted him before the Council of Chiefs where he was tapped on the shoulder. The candidates were later led into the forest where they were to spend the night alone.

Early the next morning they began the labor portion of their Ordeal. The labor consisted of maintenance of an improvements to the Wehinahpay campsite. Chris began the day at the Indian Village where the large tepees and log huts had to be dismantled and stored and a large, deep pit had to be filled in. Jeffrey's first work was at the camp chapel where log benches had to be dug out and replaced with new logs. Other jobs they worked at during the long day included digging out new trails, placing log steps across trails, and repairing a small bridge. The work was done while maintaining complete silence and having one hard-boiled egg, 1/2 slice of bread, and 1/2 an orange for breakfast, 1/2 bologna sandwich for lunch, and cheese and cracker for dinner. The Scouts were given brief rest and water breaks at intervals throughout the day. After their meager dinner the long-faced candidates were ushered back into the dining hall for a good chicken dinner. Following dinner the candidates were led single-file and in silence to the site of the induction ceremony. At the conclusion of an impressive ceremony each candidate was presented a white sash embroidered with a red arrow - the badge of members of the Order of the Arrow.

Chris and Jeffrey agreed that the Ordeal was the hardest work they have ever done and that they were the hungriest and tiredest that they have ever been; however, they are proud to have earned membership in the Kwahadi Lodge of the Order of the Arrow.

SPS' Talk Station Units No. 1 and No. 2, near Muleshoe, both are producing electricity now. Wyoming coal is burned in steam boilers in the 20-stories-tall boilerhouses, center. Then steam flow drives each of the 561,000-kilowatt turbine-generators, which produce the electricity. The boiler flue gasses are cleaned in baghouses before exiting 400-foot stacks, right.

'Tolk 2' serves 225,000

Southwestern Public Service Company recently put into commercial service a power plant generation unit that can meet the electricity needs of 225,000 people.

The coal-fueled, 561,000-kilowatt unit, located at SPS' Tolk Station near Muleshoe, was brought into service June 30, for about $287 million, on schedule and under budget.

It is the second unit at the Muleshoe site. The first unit was put into commercial service in August 1982.

"Tolk No. 2" is Southwestern's fifth coal-fueled unit. The steam generating boilers of all five units burn low-sulfur, Western coal from Wyoming mines.

"We are particularly proud that we can build and finance plants at far less eventual cost to customers than can most electric utilities," said Bert Ballengee, president and chief operating officer of Southwestern Public Service. "We strive to keep electricity affordable, and our efficient, lower-cost plants help us achieve that goal."

Tolk No. 2 was constructed for $512 per kilowatt of installed capacity -- significantly below the $1,086 projected national average cost per kilowatt of comparable coal-fueled units coming into service this year, Ballengee said.

"The use of more coal and less natural gas as boiler fuel in the plants also saves our customers money," the utility president added. "Coal is the least-expensive boiler fuel practical for Southwestern. We estimate that using coal in our fuel mix will save our customers $215 million this year alone."

The relative fuel-cost savings will continue to increase, Ballengee said, because Tolk Unit No. 2 in fiscal 1986 will increase generation by coal to about 76% of SPS' total electricity production.

Tolk Unit No. 2 is almost a duplicate of Unit No. 1, said Jim Matthews, SPS vice president, generation plant design and construction. The units share some large equipment, including the on-site coal-handling system, water treatment facilities, and offices and control room. A major difference between the units is that Unit No. 2's "baghouse," the fabric filter system that prevents coal fly ash from entering the atmosphere, was designed by SPS engineers.

Texico students attend sessions

Three Texico students - Brette Southard, Jim Thornton and Lucia Jesko, attended Business Awareness Week in Las Cruces, N.M.

They stayed on campus at New Mexico State University.

There were about 200 students attending. They were gone from June 22 until June 29.

Brette was asked to introduce one of the speakers, Carol Robinson Lopez, secretary of the State Attorney General Paul Bardacke.

Each day was mapped out for them. They had General Assembly, meetings, listened to speakers, lunch, and free time. During free time, you could use the weight room, play tennis or basketball, or watch a movie.

On Monday it was "What is a Company?" It gave you some idea how the big companies handle their money.

The speaker was Dr. Jim Shannon of New Mexico State. He showed a film and gave a speech on free enterprise.

On Tuesday, it was "Business and its World." Speaker Pat Wolfe said there were approximately 25,000 different jobs available for one person.

Prof. Lee Zinc an economist from Albuquerque discussed "Capitalism."

Rich Allen spoke on "Small Business Impact."

On Wednesday, it was "Government Involvement in Business."

On Thursday, "Industries in New Mexico" involved a round table discussion of different jobs the staff held.

The students went on tours and Brette went to Micro-Switch. This company makes computer parts.

Friday was "Career Day."

Brette said, "It was interesting because when I went I had planned to go into Corporate Law. Now I believe I will either be an engineer or architect."
