Patrolman Investigates Numerous Accidents

Numerous accidents have been investigated during the past week by Highway Patrolman Carl Davis. However, only minor injuries have been reported. Patrolman Davis says that in at least three of the accidents serious injuries could have resulted. He cites one accident in which had the occupant of the car involved not been wearing a seat belt serious injury or possibly death would have resulted.

First of the accidents reported by Davis occurred at 9:30 p. m. on Thursday evening. When a car driven by Joe David Wimberly a Lazbuddie student, while being chased by a police car left the ground and flew through the air for several feet while traveling in excess of 100 miles per hour before coming to rest in a bar ditch. The car a 1962 Plymouth was damaged approximately $200. None of the six occupants in the car received injury.

On Friday evening a 1965 Mustang driven by Mrs. Wanda O. Youts of Dimmitt left the highway near Hub while traveling at a high rate of speed and overturned. The car was listed as a total loss while Mrs. Youts received only minor bruises. She was riding alone.

Other accidents involved cars driven by R. V. Ham, Farwell and Mrs. Velma Williams, Muleshoe. Their cars collided at the intersection of Ave F and 4th St., in Farwell. No injuries resulted and damage to the two cars was listed at approximately $175.

Another accident involved cars driven by Mrs. Lucille Wynn Mullins, Morton and Mrs. Lois Gardner Hucks, Springlake. The accident is alleged to have occurred when Mrs. Mullins traveling alone in a 1961 Chevrolet spotted a calf directly in her path and applied the brakes. The Hucks car a 1965 Mercury following close behind was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision. The cars were damaged in the amount of approximately $165.

Former Resident Buried In Jacksonville, Fla.

Survivors in addition to the local sister include her husband, Cecil Williamson, two sons, Gary Lee Sublette and David Allen Sublette, three daughters, Glenda Sue Sublette and Juana Jean Sublette, all of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Floyd Waddell, Temple, Texas, also another sister, Mrs. Ola Pesch of Bovina, and two aunts, Miss Bertie Osborne and Mrs. Henry London, both of Farwell.

Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Osborne preceded her in death.

A one car accident was also investigated at 3:30 a. m. on Thursday morning. A 1955 Buick driven by Joe Don Beavers of Hereford left the highway on the wrong side of the road and traveled some distance before coming into collision with a tractor parked in a field near the road resulting in $400. damage. Beavers was not injured.

Last of the accidents investigated this week occurred in Farwell on Wednesday morning, March 31. The accident involving cars driven by Joan Martin of Farwell and Minerva Baldwin Bovina, collided at the intersection of Ave B and 4th Street in Farwell. Only minor damage resulted and none was injured.

Cause of most accidents according to the patrolman is non-attention on part of the driver, high speed and drinking while operating a vehicle.

A second patrolman will be on duty in Parmer County on Monday morning. He will work with Davis in trying to eliminate accidents and assist in other law enforcement duties.

Two Women Murdered; Suspect In Carlsbad

The Farwell area was rocked with news of a double murder Wednesday evening. About six hours after two Latin American women were slain at a farm house four miles east of town, Bernardo Salcido, wanted for the shooting, was picked up in Carlsbad.

Much confusion surrounded the shocking crime. First reports came to the sheriff's office at Farwell about 7:40 p. m. Wednesday. They were from Raymond Torres who reported the killing to Chas. Lovelace. Time of the crime was about 7 o'clock.

As soon as the report was received an all-points bulletin was flashed from the Farwell office and a net was thrown up in an attempt to catch Salcido, husband of one of the slain women. Torres had reported Salcido fled the scene in a 1957 yellow and white Ford.

Officers had hoped to nab him closer to home but he was not spotted and picked up until he got to Carlsbad. In an apparent feint to decoy pursuit, Salcido headed out of Torres' sight on Highway 70-84 in the direction of Muleshoe. However, at some point he doubled back west and then turned south. Officers suspect he may have been headed for El Paso.

What caused a ruckus that led to the shooting had not been determined last night. For reasons officers had not learned, Salcido drove to the house on the Bob Moore farm where Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hernandez live.

In the car with him were his wife, her mother (the other slain woman) and one of the two Salcido children, a boy of about two or three years.

Mrs. Hernandez, who witnessed the shooting, told the sheriff that the adults were arguing about something as they came from the car toward the rear of the house. Before they entered the house Salcido took his gun, a 38-caliber revolver, and shot his wife and mother-in-law.

Both were shot in the head and died instantly. Mrs. Salcido crumpled on the steps at the back door of the house and her mother fell a few feet away.

Then Salcido sped away in the car, taking with him the small boy, who apparently had been left in the car. The boy was still with his father when the arrest was made in Carlsbad. Salcido resisted arrest in the New Mexico city and shot a Carlsbad policeman who attempted to bring him in. The policeman was hit in the shoulder but was not seriously wounded.

Whether Salcido would be brought back to Farwell immediately to face murder charges was not determined at once. First was the legal matter of whether he would voluntarily agree to return across the state line and if not then extradition would be necessary.

In addition, there was the problem of shooting the officer in Carlsbad and New Mexico would have an interest in detaining him on that score.

Salcido was employed by Johnson-Pool in Muleshoe and they made their residence there. Local officers understood he was on probation for some offense but they did not know the nature of it.

Hernandez and Torres are employed by Dargan Kirk but are not believed to be relatives of the Salcidos. Why the Muleshoe residents came to the Farwell farm had not been determined last night.

The Salcido child was turned over to the welfare agency in Carlsbad. Another child, only a few months old, is the custody of relatives and friends.

Ames corner:
 The following comment on a timely subject was written by an Illinois lawyer named Morris Leibman. In an age of off-the-deepend thinking, Leibman discerns the hard kernel of truth in a subject so clouded with emotion, pressure and politics as to make it beyond comprehension for most of us. His thinking casts a bright shaft of logic for which I am very thankful. The next few paragraphs are excerpts from a more lengthy tract.

I am deeply troubled by certain concepts which have sought acceptability: "Freedom Now" and "Righteous Civil Disobedience".

"Freedom Now" is an illusion. The desire for self-expression can be satisfied only in an atmosphere of freedom, and freedom is not absolute. It exists only within the confines of the necessary restraining measures of society. The cry for immediacy is the cry for impossibility. What is possible is to continue to patiently build the structures that permit the development of better justice.

Let us beware of pat phrases such as "Justice delayed is justice denied." Justice delayed is no excuse for anti-justice. The demand for equality cannot be converted into a fight for superiority.

It seems to me there is an inherent contradiction in the concept of premeditated, "righteous civil disobedience." Such a concept is wholly incompatible with the concept of the American legal system.

doubtful doctrine, we legitimize it for other causes which should be rejected. We would set a standard of conduct which then must become acceptable for all. Thus we substitute pressure for persuasion and squander the carefully nurtured value of self-restraint and jeopardize the system of law. Our grievances must be settled in the courts and not in the streets.

WAITING IN LINE -- To avoid delay in obtaining vehicle license tags this year a booth was set up in the hall at the Farmer County Courthouse during the last week of tag sales. However, despite the booth some persons were forced to wait in line as in previous years, since many county residents always wait until the last few days before the April 1 deadline to obtain their tags. These pictures show the booth in the hall, manned by Mrs. Doris Darby and Mrs. Margaret Curtis, and the interior of the assessors office where lines of late tag buyers waited late Wednesday.

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN -- Farmers, especially those living near large cities, would get a big tax break under a constitutional amendment now pending in a House committee.

Bill by Rep. W. T. (Bill) Dungan of McKinney, calls for farm land being used for agricultural purposes to be taxed on its productive capacity, instead of its market value.

Witnesses testifying before the House Constitutional Amendments Committee said that in some cases taxes exceed the dollar-yield of the land being used for farming or ranching. In those cases, pressure to sell the land for residential or commercial development virtually is impossible to resist.

Testifying in favor of the resolution, Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton said Texas soon may get to the point when only people with city jobs will be able to afford land in the countryside.

Other supporters were representatives of the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farmers Union, the South Texas Milk Producers Association and farm bureaus of Nueces and Hays counties.

Dungan said the proposal provides for land to be assessed at lower rates so long as it is in agricultural use.

At the time the land is taken out of agricultural production, it would have a lien for the difference between the agricultural tax evaluation and the market value the seven preceding years. Tax would be payable either by the farmer or the buyer.

STUDENT LOANS -- Texas students from junior college to graduate school level would be able to get state-financed loans to pay for their educations under a proposed constitutional amendment due to go to voters in November.

Senate approved the measure by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola to set up a $75,000,000 bond-supported loan fund.

State, denominational, private college and university students would be eligible to borrow sums needed for tuition and reasonable living expenses. Loans would be repayable in 10 years at four to four and a half per cent interest.

Gov. John Connally recommended the program in his message to the Legislature last January.

If voters approve the plan, Hinson estimates $28,000,000 to $32,000,000 will be borrowed by Texas students within the next two years.

LONGER TRUCKS PERMITTED -- Larger trucks, twin trailer trucks and three unit combinations soon may be traveling Texas highways.

A bill passed and sent to the governor will extend maximum length of single trucks from 35 to 40 feet and tractor-trailer maximums from 50 to 55 feet. Three-unit combinations up to 65 feet long, now not allowed, will be permitted on Texas highways.

DRINKING HOUR CHANGES -- Bars would stay open later and liquor stores close earlier under a House Liquor Regulations Committee recommendation.

Committee okayed a bill by Rep. Dick McKissack of Dallas to extend beer-drinking hours to 2 a. m. seven days a week and make beer available at noon instead of 1 p. m. on Sundays.

Also approved was a bill by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi to close package stores at 8 p. m. instead of 10 p. m. Exception would be hotel room service which would be permitted until 10 p. m.

Hale said his bill would help curb liquor store burglaries by closing during hours when most holdups occur.

Committee also heard testimony on a bill regulating liquor sales to minors. It places the burden of responsibility on the purchaser rather than on the seller. Bill calls for Texas Liquor Control Board identification cards for persons age 21 and over.

Retailer could require that cards be shown before making a sale. Misuse of identification cards or misrepresentation in acquiring them would subject purchaser to fine and jail term.

ELECTION INVALIDATED -- A justice of the peace and a constable elected by write-in votes in Mitchell County last November cannot hold their offices because at the time of the election the precincts for which they were elected did not exist, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr ruled.

An order of the commissioners court changing precinct boundaries had been entered, but it was made effective January 1.

However, Carr added that it is perfectly lawful for persons to be elected to an office which is not printed on a ballot by writing in the name of the office and the name of the persons they wish to vote for. Election in this manner is valid even if only a small number of persons participates.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED -- Four University of Texas regents have been named by Governor Connally. Three of them were confirmed by the Senate a few days later.

Connally reappointed W. W. Heath of Austin. Also named were Jack S. Josey of Houston, W. H. Bauer of Port Lavaca and former Congressman Frank N. Ikard of Wichita Falls. Josey, Bauer and Heath were speedily confirmed. Ikard, who is working in New York, has not yet been interviewed by the Senate nominations committee.

Connally also announced nine appointments to the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. Re-appointees are Patrick E. Taggart of Waco, Charles R. Woodburn of Amarillo, Edward H. Harte of Corpus Christi, and Lewis R. Timberlake of Austin. Others named are R. Don Thorne of El Paso, Thomas C. Unis of Dallas, Harold L. Kennedy of Palestine, A. M. Pate Jr. of Fort Worth and Robert L. Lowry of Houston.

RURAL PHONE SERVICE HIT -- Rural citizens are open to discrimination by some telephone companies, House State Affairs Committee was told.

Witnesses from East, Central and North Texas testified at a hearing in favor of a bill to give commissioners courts or a state commission power to regulate rural area telephone rates.

Bill by Reps. Dick Cherry of Waco and James D. Cole of Greenville was sent to subcommittee.

STATE PARK IMPROVEMENTS -- Nearly 100 piney woods residents jointly presented Governor Connally the report of the Big Thicket Park Study Commission.

Included were recommendations that an additional 2,000 acres be acquired for the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation; that a 200-acre camping area be set aside immediately south of the reservation; that a 10,000-acre Big Thicket State Forest be created south of the camp area; that 15,000 acres be acquired and designated as a Wildlife and Wilderness Area; and that 90 per cent of the Big Thicket country be retained for private uses, but kept in character with the park project.

Texas Highway Department meanwhile announced plans to construct improvements on FM 1915 to make Caddo Lake more accessible to Northeast Texas residents. Project is part of the department program of working with local areas in developing recreational resources.

CAR PROPERTY TAX BOOSTED -- Auto owners would have to show proof that they have paid their vehicle property taxes before they could get license plates under a bill approved by the House Revenue and Tax Committee.

Bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, familiar to legislators from past sessions, now is on House calendar for debate.

GAMBLING CURB OFFERED -- Proponents of legalized race horse betting have a rival in a proposed constitutional amendment sponsored by Rep. Rayford Price of Frankston, to prohibit all forms of organized gambling.

"The unfairness thing I ever saw to the little ponies," lamented Rep. V. E. (Red) Barry of San Antonio, perennial champion of horse racing.

MEDICAL AID ADVANCES -- Bill to set up assistance payments for medical and hospital attention to persons over 65 who are not on the Old Age Assistance rolls is taking a speedy trip through the House.

Bill makes it possible for the state to take advantage more extensively of federal matching funds available under the Kerr-Mills program.

In the Senate, the bill probably will be held up pending action by Congress on new legislation for medical aid to the aged. Senate may write in provisions allowing Texas to participate in the newer programs before passing the bill.

If this is done, then the final details would be worked out by a conference committee of members from both chambers.

FEBRUARY BUILDING DOWN -- Total building in Texas during February was eight per cent less than February of 1964. However, it was a five per cent increase over January.

Bureau of Business Research at University of Texas also reports that new residential construction of $52,800,000 for the month was down 18 per cent from the same period last year. Non-residential building totalled $47,600,000.

SHORT SNORTS A bill to let county commissioners enforce speeding and littering laws on public beaches passed the Senate and went to the House.

A proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo which would have kept the state and local governments from interfering with discrimination in property sales died a quiet death as a Senate committee holding a hearing on it was confronted with a large group of opposing clergymen.

A Senate committee approved a bill by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg authorizing 18 per cent bank rates for loans up to $12,000.

Senate approved four-year terms for governor and other statewide officials.

State government would go on smoothly if a third of the Texas Constitution were repealed, Rep. Carl Parker argued in support of bill to set up a Constitutional Revision Commission.

Proposal to change the name of East Texas College at Commerce to "East Texas State University" received final legislative clearance and was sent to the governor.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin approved articles of incorporation for Frío-La Salle-McMullen counties' Economic Opportunities Development Corporation to participate in the war on poverty program.

Salmonellosis may sound like a new dish to eat, but instead, it is a disease.

Fatalities from the disease occur usually in the older person or the very young, but anyone who has had Salmonellosis will vouch that he doesn't want it again.

The number of cases in the nation has greatly increased in the last 20 years--from 736 cases in 1945 to 9,680 last year.

First, some basic facts about the disease. It is caused when a Salmonella bacillus enters man, usually through eating or drinking contaminated foods.

About 12 to 48 hours later, the person becomes ill--with diarrhea, vomiting, fever.

Almost all types of warm and cold blooded animals have been found infected with Salmonella. The organisms are shed in the body discharges of the infected animals and man. Either a man or an animal may carry the bacteria without seeming to have the disease.

What is being done to combat this ever-growing problem?

Public health wise, careful efforts to record and check the incidence of Salmonellosis, both State and nationwide, are underway to aid detection and isolation of trouble spots. Food and drug leadership, physicians, veterinarians, industrialists and others are concerned about the situation.

But the quickest and surest prevention methods lie with individual efforts, either in your own home or if you work in the food service industry.

Thoroughly cook meat and other foods before tasting, eating or serving them. Also avoid the possibility of contamination of work areas in the kitchen by preparing foods on a disposable paper and washing them thoroughly with hot detergent water.

Refrigerate both cooked and uncooked foods to prevent multiplication of bacteria. And when preparing ready-mixes, cook them well before tasting and wash containers with hot detergent water before reusing.

Through hand-washing before eating and after a visit to the toilet is also important.

Salmonellosis, statistics show, is on the increase, but you can cut your chances of contracting it in your own kitchen and through your own efforts.

Ways And Means Discussed By Twin Cities Council

At a lengthy session of the Twin Cities council on Tuesday evening members discussed ways and means of enlisting the aid of local businessmen in the promotional angle of the annual box-sox social.

President Crume expressed the idea that without the backing of local businessmen the affair might have to be postponed indefinitely. However, he went on to say that the affair last year, even with little time actually spent in planning was a great success and members agreed that they wished to go ahead and try to hold the affair.

Crume appointed a committee with Herb Potts from the Farwell Chamber of Commerce as chairman to work out details for the affair and have them ready to present at the next meeting of the group on April 13. Other committee members are John Spearman, Rotary Club; Johnny Green, Lions Club, and Wesley Engram of the Texico Farm Bureau. This group will meet on April 5 to complete plans to present to the council.

The Twin Cities clean-up, paint-up campaign, with Jerry Bradshaw heading the committee, will be held April 15-May 15. Both of the Twin Cities mayors are expected to sign a proclamation within the next few days proclaiming the entire month as clean up time in the Twin Cities.

Next meeting of the council will be held at Clara's Spur on April 13, at which time representatives from each of the member organizations are expected to send their new delegates to the meeting along with the present members. Officers for the organization will be elected at the May meeting.

City Passes Two Ordinances

The fact that a highway patrolman has recently been appointed to Parmer County and a second is due to arrive by the first of next week has nothing to do with the passing of two new ordinances by the Farwell City Commission, according to Mrs. Janie Bowery, city secretary. However, the highway department had made a request that such ordinance be passed.

The ordinances numbered 56 and 57 fix legal speeds for motor vehicles in the city limits, allow for zoning and provide a penalty for non observance of the ordinances.

Ordinance number 56 authorizes the placing of stop signs and yield signs at certain intersections in the city; requiring vehicles to stop or yield right of way at such signs; setting a legal speed; repealing all conflicting ordinances, providing a penalty, declaring an emergency and authorizing publication of such ordinances.

The ordinances were signed by Mayor Sam Aldridge and commissioners Joe Blair and C. C. Christian at their last meeting.

The ordinances will be found else where in the paper.

Federal Aid Will Not Solve Salary Problem

AUSTIN -- The federal aid to education bill will not solve the teacher pay question in Texas, a Texas State Teachers Association spokesman said today.

It has been reported by some Texas news media that the massive federal education bill which has passed the U. S. House of Representatives would provide funds for a teacher pay raise in Texas and eliminate the need for state legislation now pending.

"We have checked with official Washington sources close to the legislation," said L. P. Sturgeon, TSTA public relations director, "and they confirm our belief that the federal bill does not offer any hope for teacher salary raises."

"Of the more than 40 uses authorized for the federal funds, none of them lists increasing teacher salaries," Sturgeon said. "There is no provision for salary raises for existing personnel," he added. The U. S. Senate still must act on the bill.

"We agree with responsible Texas leaders who have stated that Texas must solve its own problems, and that the federal bill offers no solution," Sturgeon pointed out.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VAN ZANDT County Agent

COTTON SEEDLING DISEASE Seedling disease continues to be a problem for many Parmer County cotton farmers.

A variety of symptoms may be produced throughout the growing season by the seedling disease organisms. Seed-rot may occur or seedlings may be killed before emerging from the soil.

Damage from seedling disease can be greatly reduced if not eliminated by using the following disease control practices: (1) Bury surface organic matter below the planting level.

CHILDREN'S SAFETY Kids and household chemicals are a deadly combination. Most parents realize this, but even so, many youngsters under five years old are accidentally poisoned every year.

How do you know whether you have high quality planting seed? Low quality seed will not germinate as rapidly at lower temperatures.

There are two principle methods of estimating seed quality. (1) Test germination of both 60 degrees F. and 70 degrees F.

The second method is to germinate seed according to the official standards and compare germination totals for the 5th and 7th day in the case of acid delinted seed.

LABOR SHORTAGES The Agricultural Extension Service has been asked to provide the Department of Labor information on present and possible future shortages in the supply of seasonal labor.

WE HAVE TWO GOOD PUBLICATIONS on cotton diseases available from the County Agents office. One of them put out by the National Cotton Disease Council is in full color.

agriculture for derogatory remarks regarding its participation in government subsidies. Here are some more facts which should help to alleviate this situation for those willing to take a fair-minded approach. The cost of price supports on agricultural products for 28 years, 1933-61, were $10.0 billion. This figure compares to all subsidy costs of $8.2 billion in only 15 years, 1946 to 1961; Ship subsidies of $4.0 billion in 20 years, 1939 to 1959; World War Two Business Conversion subsidies of $43.3 billion since 1945, and Mineral Depletion subsidies of $40.8 billion in 27 years, 1933-60. It should also be pointed out that subsidies and subsidy-like programs are the oldest economic devices in U. S. law, starting when the first Congress enacted tariffs in 1789. Such programs have helped with the development of banks, housing, colleges, airlines, railroads, waterways, merchant fleets and many other businesses and industries, all of which contributed substantially to our present high standard of living. Why agriculture? Consider that even if the farmer had the power to balance production exactly with demand each year at a certain price level, it would be very poor public policy to permit him to do so. Food and fiber is essential to the nation's well-being, and any error must be on the side of abundance. In the interest of all the people, not just farmers, this abundance must be managed. Additional figures bearing on this subject appeared recently as a Rotary Club address reprinted in the County-Wide

News, published in Littlefield. Parts of that reprint are reproduced here because it is important that readers have a more complete understanding of agricultural programs. "As to government spending for agriculture, what people are not told is that well over half the costs charged to agriculture are in fact spent for the general public -- not agriculture. Some of them are: "Sales of surplus farm products for foreign currencies in the amount of $1.45 billion, preliminary figures for 1964--with all the cost being charged to USDA and proceeds going to State, Defense and other agencies. "Emergency food relief abroad came to $215 million--all charged to USDA. Payments to Veterans Administration and the armed forces for buying dairy products amounted to $45 million -- charged to USDA. Cost of school lunch programs came to $277 million -- charged to USDA. Cost of Forest Service and other conservation programs for the benefit of the public, $512 million, again charged to USDA. "Loans made by REA and FHA are charged as an agricultural expense, but when repaid with interest, the receipts of several hundred million dollars a year are paid into the U. S. Treasury with no credit to USDA. "The cost of farm programs for stabilizing farm income for fiscal 1964 was $3.3 billion -- compared to $4.6 billion spent by USDA for benefit of consumers, businessmen and the general public. For fiscal 1965 the estimate is $2.2 billion for farmers and $4.5 billion for the public."

Screwworm Fund Drive Underway

Texas farmers and ranchers are in the midst of an intensive campaign to raise $300,000 to stave off possible shut-down of the screwworm eradication program. The drive, led by the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation and conducted by animal health committees organized in each county, will continue through April 12, at which time Foundation officials hope to have sufficient funds to pry loose the State and Federal funds needed to operate the program during April, May and June. Of the estimated $1.1 million required to operate during the critical spring months, $250,000 has already been appropriated by the Texas Legislature, while Congress is considering a request for $550,000. Producer funds are needed to complete the package, Foundation spokesman pointed out, since the government funds cannot be spent unless they are matched. The funds are needed to operate a barrier of live, sexually-sterile flies along the international boundary to keep fertile insects from Mexico from re-infesting the Southwestern United States where screwworms have been eradicated. Sterile flies that mate with fertile screwworms prevent production of offspring. An average of 100 million of the plant-reared flies will be needed each week for aerial distribution along the coasts of Mexico and along rivers and other favorable routes followed by migrating screwworms. This will cost approximately $12,000 a day.

Lack of sufficient funds to maintain an adequate level of operation could permit native screwworms to re-enter the U.S. unchallenged, jeopardizing gains achieved since the eradication program began three years ago. Congress also has under consideration a U.S. Department of Agriculture request for $5 million which, if approved, would make maintenance of the barrier a Federal responsibility beginning July 1. Texas melon and vegetable growers, if they follow USDA suggestions, will plant about the same acres of carrots, cucumbers, green peppers, sweet-potatoes, cantaloupes, and watermelons. But USDA suggests that growers plant 5% fewer acres of onions, snap beans and lettuce and 10% fewer tomatoes.

AMMO NOTES

By W. F. "Bill" Bennett
Agronomist

Efficiency of Water Use on Grain Sorghum
Water use efficiency definitely can be increased by proper fertilizer use. This is pointed out in a recent release prepared by the Texas A&M South Plains Research & Extension Center at Lubbock. Researchers from this station conducted an experiment on an Amarillo fine sandy loam on grain sorghum and calculated pounds of grain produced per acre inch of water under various fertility rates.

Grain sorghum receiving no fertilizer produced 150# grain for each acre inch of water. An application of 80# nitrogen produced 164# grain per acre inch which is an increase of 9% in water use efficiency over the check. At the 120# nitrogen rate, 181# grain were produced per acre inch of water or an increase in water use efficiency of 20% over the check.

The most significant increase in water use efficiency was produced when the fertilizer program was properly balanced with phosphorus. An application of 80-40-0, for example, produced 214# grain per acre inch of water. This is a 42% increase in water use efficiency when compared to the check. Water use efficiency figures can often be misunderstood. The application of fertilizer will not decrease the need for water. Instead, it will give you better use and more production out of the water which is applied.

Yield increase attributed to fertilizer in this test can be compared to the increases in water use efficiency since fertility combinations that increased grain yield also increased water use efficiency. The check with no fertilizer yielded 4385# grain per acre. The 80# nitrogen rate produced 4701# per acre with the 120# nitrogen rate producing 5181 pounds grain per acre. The addition of the phosphorus in the 80-40-0 rate produced 6135 pounds of grain per acre.

These yields and water use efficiency figures provides a good illustration of the importance of nutrient balance.

Literature Available On Plant Diseases

Ornamental plants have many diseases. Symptoms may appear on the foliage, stems, fruit or roots of a plant. Because the organisms responsible for the trouble are very small, diagnosis may be difficult, explains County Agent Joe VanZandt.

In fact, he added, the causal organisms can be seen only with the aid of a microscope. Since most home owners usually do not have a microscope available, symptoms must be relied upon for identification of the disease.

VanZandt added that he has available at his office, publications which could help make the

Texans Study Limited Farm Income Programs

The nation's home economists have a unique responsibility to assist in the war on poverty, participants in the national low-income workshop sponsored by the American Home Economics Association in Chicago last week, said upon their return here.

Representing Texas A&M University of Chicago's Center for Continuing Education were Dr. Alice Stubbs, acting head of the Home Economics Research Department; and Bonnie Cox, A&M Extension organization specialist who served as coordinator for a similar workshop for Extension home economists last fall.

Workshop sessions revealed how home economists already are assisting low-income families in teaching, job training, public housing, health and welfare, and other areas. Discussions also pointed out how they can develop long term approaches as well as short term "crash" programs in an effort to help break the poverty cycle.

In a special message to workshop participants, Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, said "To win the war against poverty, we must first bring unity strength, and hope to the impoverished family." Other speakers were nationally recognized authorities on the problems of low-income families who urged home economists to use their special knowledge and training in programs designed to assist families whose need for help is greatest.

The 23,500-member American Home Economics Association sponsored the workshop on the recommendation of its Committee on Resources for Low-Income Families.

Texans who participated, besides Miss Cox and Dr. Stubbs, were Dr. Mina Lamb, chairman of the Nutrition Department at Texas Tech; Ruth Huey, head of the vocational home economics program, Texas Education Agency, Austin; Mrs. Rose Adair, nutritionist, Dallas public health department; and Jerline Kennedy, home economist with the Dallas public housing authority. It was recommended that the six people form a committee to serve as consultants for planning follow-up work in the local region.

Second Sugar Beet Payments $412,432

Payments amounting to $412,432 will be made March 30 to sugar beet growers in the Texas and New Mexico districts served by the Merrill E. Shoup factory near Hereford, it was announced this week by D.W. Lillie, manager.

The payment is the second, or "spring", payment made to beet growers by Holly. Initial payments were made soon after the 1964 harvest was completed.

The March 30 payment will bring returns thus far received from the sugar beet crop to a total of $6,911,456 in the Shoup factory district.

Lillie states that this amount includes the total Holly payments as well as the Government Sugar Act payment, which is in effect, restoration to the growers of a portion of their crop's value withheld until it was determined that all government regulations applying to beet production had been complied with during the 1964 season.

Final payment for the 1964 crop beets will be made this fall after sugar production from the crop has been sold and net returns on such sales have been determined. Contracting and planting of Holly's 1965 beet acreage is progressing rapidly under the provisions of the Government's restrictive "proportionate share" program.

identification job much easier. He listed MP-512, "Identifying Plant Diseases," as one of the most valuable but added he also has other material which home owners should find very useful.

After studying the plant disease material, home owners who have trouble identifying disease symptoms are advised to give the county agent a call or visit. If he has not had experience with the disease, he may suggest sending a specimen to the Plant Disease Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University for identification.

The county agent said he would be happy to supply information on how to select, package and ship the material.

He noted that most controls for ornamental diseases are preventive in nature as opposed to curative. He listed an early diagnosis as being most helpful in a disease control program.

Selecting Shrubs For Landscape

Shrubs are more adaptable and desirable in most landscape developments on present day properties and in more garden locations than any other type plant. In general, when shrubs are properly chosen and planted, they are really best suited for the busy gardener's plantings, since they require little care and give beautiful effects throughout the year.

In Texas and the southwest, the most important consideration in the selection of shrubs for landscape use is the year-round appearance of the plants. With careful selections all of the shrubs used in a landscape development can be attractive every month of the year. This does not mean that they must all be necessarily evergreen, since many deciduous shrubs have great beauty and form or interesting silhouettes even in this area of the country than they have been given in the past.

Most gardeners have a tendency to think about the shrubs they are familiar with only with are in bloom and to identify them only by the color of their flowers.

Most shrubs, however, have a blooming season that prevails for only 2 or 3 weeks at most, but the plants must be viewed for 12 months of the year. To use shrubs well in landscape their characteristics throughout the entire year must be carefully considered.

Shrubs, along with trees, are always selected to form the basic framework of the garden. Both groups are made up of vigorous woody plants that are placed in the landscape for permanent effects with the intention that they will be performing their required functions for some years to come. The less permanent flowering plants, such as annuals, perennials and bulbs may come and go, but the woody plants provide the stability and permanence of the landscape scheme.

In the southwest, hardy as well as tender shrubs are used in landscape developments, and they are available for almost any garden use imaginable. Most will do well in sun or partial shade and some, such as the many kinds of viburnums, actually thrive and grow well in only shady situations. There is also considerable variation depending upon climate and variety.

When the permanence of these plants is carefully considered, generally speaking, it is best to select the type of shrubs that will grow quite slowly, but when they become established will maintain their character year after year with a minimum amount of pruning and other maintenance. Fast growing, rampant shrubs will usually overpower any garden area in a short period of time unless the property being developed is large and extensive and this type of growth is necessary to perform desired functions found only in such locations.

In the selection of shrubs for any landscape purpose, study the form, foliage, twig and bark characteristics as well as the flowering habit. Many flowering shrubs such as roses, camellias, azaleas, and others are highly attractive when in bloom.

Many of these have excellent foliage and growth habits, while others do not. When the blooming period itself is the only outstanding characteristic, then such types are best grown in containers, rather than given a permanent place in the garden.

Today, there is an extraordinary range of shrubs available for landscape planting, and there is very little excuse for the unimaginative shrub plantings that are often seen. Determine first the overall effect desired and the landscape picture that is to be created. Select shrubs that have good growth habits, are slow growing, have attractive twig and bark characteristics, and attractive fruits as well as flowers, excellent foliage color and texture at various seasons of the year, considering seriously both deciduous and evergreen effects. Landscape combinations can be developed that require minimum care and that will provide permanent beauty.

Earliest recorded biological or germ warfare was waged in 1347 at Caffa in the Crimea, where the besieging Tartars catapulted over the city's walls corpses of men who had died from the plague.

Hinn Soybeans Gaining In Favor On Plains

Many area farmers are watching with interest the development of soybeans as an additional crop that can be grown on the Plains of Texas. At this time, Texas stands twenty-third in the nation in acres devoted to soybean production. However, at the same time the state of Texas leads the nation in average bushels yield with 28 bushels of beans per acre in 1964. About 2/3 of the total world production of soybeans is in the U. S. A.

During the crop year of 1964, Texas had only 63,000 acres of land planted to soybeans. Most of the available land is planted with either cotton or grain sorghum, but each year soybeans gain some in popularity.

Due to the unusually dry year in 1964, the yields on all varieties of soybeans were down. In most years, there is some supplemental rainfall to help in crop production.

1965 will see an increase for the nation of over 2 million acres of soybeans that have been planted in some other crop in years past. This demand for soybeans is brought about by the large percentage of the U. S. beans being exported to other countries. 82 per cent of Japan's total soybean imports came from the U. S. A. This ever increasing market is demanding not only more soybeans, but also a product of better quality. At this time, soybeans are the leading agricultural export, bringing into the U. S. more export money than any other agricultural commodity.

The High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, has been carrying on an accelerated breeding program on soybeans. This first new variety released by the Foundation and given the name of Hinn has proven to be a good producing and high yielding soybean.

Some of the characteristics for which the Hinn was developed are: higher yielding ability than the other varieties being grown in the area; shatter resistance; fruiting higher from the ground for better harvesting and reduction of loss at harvest; will not lodge or fall down. One important characteristic of the Hinn soybean is its ability to produce heavy branches which help compensate for skips and will also help in shading for weed control.

Reports from some of the

Field Crop Program Announced

A Field Crops program for Parmer County 4-H members has been announced by Joe Van-Zandt, County Agent. The new crops program was set up last winter during a meeting of 4-H Crops Leaders from over Parmer County.

The program is designed to help teach youth the value of fertilizers, insects control and proper cultural practices. Other points of emphasis are proper water management, yield per acre, accuracy of crop record book and net profit per acre.

This 4-H program plan is a change from former crops contests. Adult Leaders thought this new type of contest would help teach the members important points in crop production.

Awards will be made on a point basis and there will be separate contests for wheat, cotton and grain sorghum. Contestants need to have approximately two or more acres in each contest.

Working with the 4-H Crops program this year are the following adult leaders: Oklahoma Lane, Melborn Jones and Walter Kaltwasser; Farwell, Bert Williams; Bovina, Travis Dyer; Friona, Franklin Bauer and Eugene Bandy; and Lazbuddie, Roy Miller, Harvey Blackstone, Max Bush, Ralph Broyles and Everett McBroome.

Meeting of members with Crops projects are being planned in each Club soon.

If you are between 9 and 19 and interested in learning more about the 4-H Crops program, drop a card to the Parmer County Agent, Farwell, Texas immediately.

growers who planted part of the 6,000 bushels of the Hinn soybean during 1964 indicated that an average yield of 33.66 bushels per acre was obtained. This is a composite of all the yields that were reported to the Foundation.

Danny Bainum of Friona says of the Hinn soybean, "It's an easy crop to grow. One of the things that I noticed more than anything else was that the pods set high off the ground for easy harvesting."

Orville Cleavinger, who farms 6 miles northwest of Springlake, said of his Hinn soybeans, "I think it's a better bean overall. They were fruited high enough off the ground that I was able to get the header of the combine under all of the pods. Soybeans make a nice mellow soil to work with, especially when following with cotton."

Kenneth Hison, three miles northwest of Springlake, had this comment to make, "Soybeans make the soil very mellow to follow other crops, particularly with cotton. Soybeans is a mistreated crop and will do well if treated as cotton is treated. I like the way the Hinn soybean fruits up off the ground for combining. I like the Hinn over the Lee because of this. I harvested 35 bushels per acre with Hinn and 25 bushels per acre with Lee."

Some of the growers reported high yields of over fifty bushels per acre and the yields ranged down to 16 bushels grown on dryland. In general the Hinn out produced all the standard varieties by from 3 to 8 bushels per acre. During harvest time, most receiving points were paying around $2.50 per bushel. At an increase of 3 bushels, this would mean $7.50 per acre extra income to the farmer.

At this time, the High Plains Research Foundation has a good supply of Foundation quality Hinn soybeans on hand for any of the farmers wishing to plant some for the coming crop year. For more information on how to obtain planting seed contact Jack Werner, High Plains Research Foundation, Drawer 2200, Plainview.
