

Football Contest Starts Today

Today kicks off the Tribune's 22nd Annual Merchant's Football Contest, with area football strategists testing their gridiron guessing power with the hopes of netting weekly cash prizes and an eventual bowl game vacation.

For the next 12 weeks, football fans will try to guess their way to the top prize of two tickets to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas on New Year's Day, plus $75 expense money, an increase from last year's $50.

Second place winner will enjoy tickets for two at El Paso's Sun Bowl, plus $37.50 in cash, an increase over last year's $25.

Armchair quarterbacks and livingroom cheerleaders can choose from 12 games each week, as well as one tie-breaker, competing for the weekly cash prizes.

The top guesser each week will win a check for $7.50, and runner-up wins $5. Third place winnings have been eliminated, with the money going toward the grand prize expense cash.

The top two winners are chosen from the total number of weekly wins, making it important to enter from the very first week through the contest end.

Rules for the pigskin contest are the same as in previous years. Contestants must be 12 years of age or older and only one entry per person will be accepted. Entry blanks are available at the Tribune office, in each issue of the Tribune, and must be returned no later than Friday at 5 p.m. to the Tribune office. Any entries mailed must bear a Friday postmark.

To enter, choose a favorite team and circle, then record a score for the tie-breaker game. The closest score entered determines the winner in the event of a tie, but this will not affect the weekly win-loss total.

Tabulation of all entries are kept on file and are always available for inspection at the Tribune office.

Area and local businesses making the contest possible this year are Security State Bank, Luce's Restaurant, Horn-Clayton Insurance, Farwell Insurance, Interstate Fertilizer, Texico Branch of Citizens Bank, Worley Mills; Also, Sherley-Anderson-Pitman and Sherley-Anderson Grain, Wooley-Hurst, Rose Drug, Gilbert Kaltwasser and

Pioneer Seeds, Capitol Foods, Franse Irrigation, Farwell Pipe and Iron and Lunsford Auto Parts;

And, Farwell Hardware, Kirkland & Vinton, Tri-County Tire, Golden West Seed, Kelly Green Seeds, Farwell Fertilizer, Lovelace Oil Co., Massey Ferguson, Carmack's, Far-Tex Feeders, Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, JJ's Mobile Homes, Cal Jordan Implementations, Twin Cities Machine Works.

Last week we took our semi-annual junket to Minnesota to visit our kith and kin. We went from summer to fall and back to summer in the space of a few days. Don't know if it was the change of climate or the change of water that got to our innards.

We did solve one persistent mystery along the way. Just south of Emporia, Kansas, we pass through a section of the Flint Hills. In fact, a big sign tells us that these are the beautiful and historic Flint Hills and that we should enjoy them. It also mentions that they are at an altitude of 1,575 feet.

Now this has bugged us for several years. Shucks, we would have to peel off over a half a mile of these high plains just to get down to their altitude and we have been hard put to see many hills to boot.

As an old boy from the High Plains we are used to spotting hills. Anybody that can go out and "see" Parmerton Hill has got to be a hill spotter of the first magnitude. In this part of the country any bulge or bump passes as a "hill" and is recognized by all natives as such.

Anyway, we found out that the Flint Hills are the largest contiguous area of the original long grass prairie that ruled the plains in the day of the Indian and buffalo herds. Considering the impact of the plow and sodbuster this is a "relic" of the old days.

What apparently bugs the bureaucrats is that this is almost entirely privately owned and not under government jurisdiction. Apparently the ranching owners also recognize the value of preserving the last bit of original Americana and seem to be doing a good job of it without big brother's heavy hand.

Hereafter we will view the scenic Flint Hills, altitude 1,575 feet, and recognize them as not only a bit of the old sod but as an island of private ownership in a sea of red tape.

Also while in Rochester we undertook to do a little research for a local family engaged in ancestor snooping. We located the old boy who was buried in 1915 without any trouble. In touring the cemetery looking for the plot we noted numerous headstones showing burials in 1880 and even some before that time. We wondered how the cemetery would look around this part of the country in another 100 years.

We noted that the liberal press lambasted Ronald Reagan for his stand on Red China and the nationalist Chinese on Taiwan. Also the government of Red China got into the act with several snide comments about Reagan and the Taiwanese Chinese.

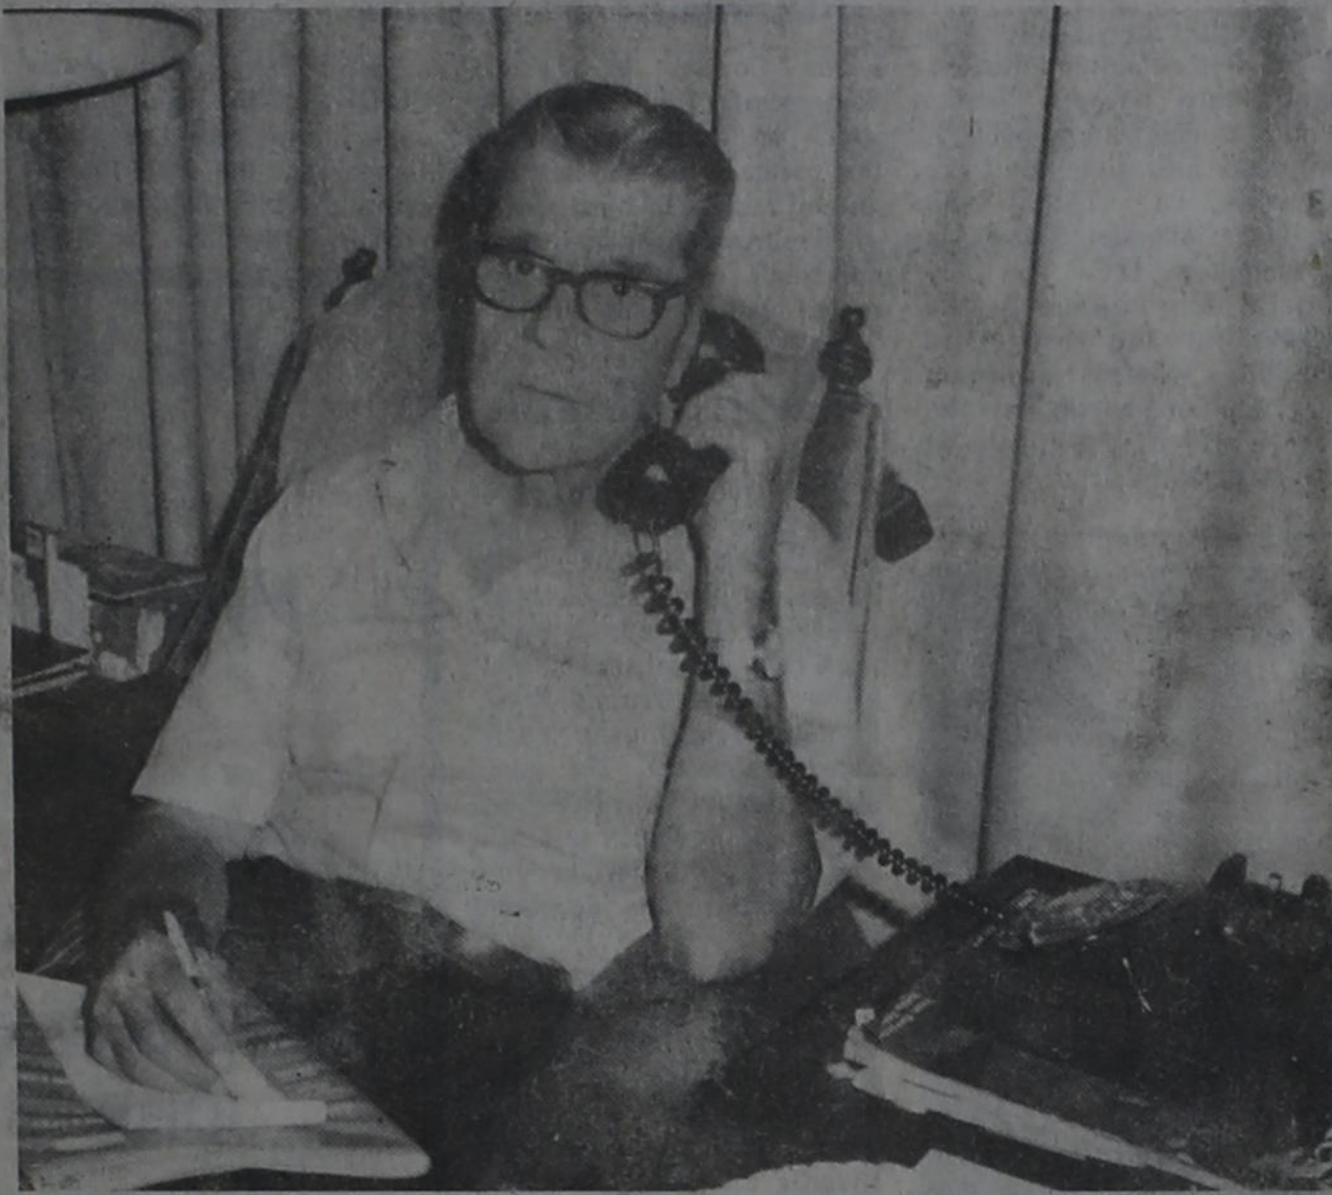

Reagan flubbed a chance to tell the television pundits that contrary to their and Carter's diplomacy he would determine United States foreign policy in Washington, D.C., rather than in a television studio or in Peking, China.

The foreign policy of this government should be based on what's good for the United States plus displaying a modest amount of honor and dignity to the world to see and recognize. The recognition of the Red Chinese to the exclusion of the Nationalist Chinese may not in fact be in the complete best interest of this country. Actually right now and in the immediate future the Nationalist Chinese far overshadow the Peking government in economic importance to this country.

Also, we have very strong moral ties to Taiwan and we should not cut these ties asunder if the pledged word of the Government is to mean anything more than the Kaiser's "scrap of paper."

Carter prates a lot about integrity - his foreign policy in regard to the Chinese belies his oratory.

An expert is someone who is called in at the last minute to share the blame.

They're Playing Who???

Champ Porter of Clovis, possibly the most faithful entrant in the Tribune's football contest, picks up the phone each Wednesday to call the Tribune office and find out "who's playing" in the week's list of games. This week was no exception; however, Champ called even earlier than usual. Since the tentative list of games was published in last week's paper, Champ was just making sure no changes had been made in the schedule. The loyal contestant admitted that he didn't think knowing the list of games a week in advance had helped his guessing all that much. Guess we'll find out Monday morning!

15 Percent Hike --

County Employees To Receive Pay Increase

Effective January 1, 1981, all employees of Parmer County will receive a salary increase of 15 percent. In addition, commissioners will have their monthly travel allowances increased by $100 each per month and the county judge is to receive a $50 increase in monthly travel allowance. These increases were approved at the August 25 meeting of the Parmer County Commissioners Court with County Judge Porter Roberts presiding.

An order reappointing and setting salary of official court reporter, Georganna Robinett, was received from Pat Boone, Judge of the 154th Judicial District of Texas, setting the part of her salary that Parmer County is responsible for at $311.37 per month. A motion was approved unanimously that this order be accepted.

Ben Hillock, plant superintendent for E.N.M.R. Telephone Cooperative met with the Court asking for right-of-way easements on the State Line road, north of Farwell. This was granted by the court.

Commissioners voted to pay the sponsorship dues in the amount of $2,150.00 to the Central Plains MH/MR Center at Plainview.

Conservation work in two counties was approved as was an amendment to the contract between the county and the Texas Department of Human Resources. Mrs. Homer Ann Tarpley and Elizabeth Tarpley met with the court to discuss the amendment.

It was brought to the attention of the court that a county child in a state school was in need of a small allowance for personal use. Commissioners agreed to pay an allowance of $20 per month for the child until January 1, 1981.

Larger Plant Planned --

Area Alcohol Production Step Nearer To Reality

The production of alcohol is a step closer for this area. At the present time, the membership in the High Plains GPI Cooperative is closed, but it is anticipated that many New Mexico residents may become members in the near future. The New Mexico memberships will be available as soon as the final clearance is obtained from the New Mexico Securities Commission.

The latest tally of memberships indicates that the final plant size will be in the 30,000,000 gallons of alcohol per year area. The larger plant will be possible because of the anticipated participation of

New Mexico residents.

Arthur D. Little Company, consultant engineers for the project, has been conducting extensive plant location surveys and, according to Guy Austin, they expect to break ground for the actual plant around the first of the year.

Bert Williams and Guy Austin, local board members of the Cooperative, explained the tax exempt situation in the production of gasohol type fuels. According to Williams and Austin, the federal government has exempted alcohol containing fuels from the 4 cents per gallon federal tax. It is thought that Texas will soon pass similar legislative exempting such fuels from the State tax. Many other states, including New Mexico, presently exempt alcohol fuels from state taxation.

This means that the ultimate tax savings on pricing alcohol fuels could be passed back to the alcohol producer, allowing the alcohol distiller a larger margin for his product. On a volume basis, this extra money received by the alcohol producer could soon amount to enough to almost pay for the plant in a period of several years.

According to Williams and Austin, the second or planning phase of the project will end about the end of October and all final plans will be known by that time with actual construction to begin soon thereafter.

The High Plains GPI Cooperative had its final meeting to accept members into the coop Thursday night, Aug. 28, in Muleshoe.

Guest speaker at this meeting was Texas Representative Dan Kubiak of Rockdale who is with the House Agriculture and Livestock Commission in Austin.

In expressing his enthusiasm for the production of alcohol in this area, Rep. Kubiak said that a plant of the size and nature planned will be a big boost for the area economy.

Emergency Loans Available From Farmers Home Administration

Emergency loans for farmers, ranchers or agriculture operators are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Billy R. Boling, FmHA county supervisor, said today.

Boling asked that those who need farm credit as a result of drought make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at 207 Ave. D, Farwell.

Farwell Schools Grow By 25

Farwell schools announces an increase of 25 students this week bringing their total enrollment to 514, only 13 short of last year's count, according to W. M. Roberts, superintendent.

The biggest gain came from the elementary level with 18 new students registering.

The junior high recorded three new additions and the high school had a gain of four.

Texico schools reported no significant change.

counties will be accepted by Farmers Home until May 21, 1981 for physical losses and production losses.

FmHA loans covering actual physical and production losses may be used to replace installations, equipment, or buildings, (including homes) lost through this disaster. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts. Other loans, beyond actual losses, can be made for annual operating expenses or to make major adjustments in a farming operation.

"Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Boling said.

Loans covering actual losses are made at an interest rate of five percent and are scheduled for repayments as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability to pay. Loans beyond actual losses have various maturities, depending upon the purpose of the loan.

The interest rate for short-term loans for farm operating purposes is 13 1/2 percent. Long-term loans are being made at an interest rate of 12 1/2 percent.

To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster and be unable to get credit from other sources.

Emergency loans can be used to help the farmer restore damaged farm operations and additional loans based upon the emergency designation can be used to reorganize the farm for greater efficiency and better production.

First 1980 Corn

Bob Dollar of Farwell brought the first load of 1980 corn to Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell on Tuesday, Sept. 2. The corn was cut from the Joe Helton farm north of U.S. Highway 60 and tested 24.30 moisture content; however, not enough had been cut to estimate a yield on the crop.

Johnie Williams, elevator manager for S-A-P, presents Dollar a $25 bonus check for bringing in the first load.

Cooper Maker Of Unusual Furniture

by Juanita Hadley

Lewis Cooper of Texico is definitely not someone who is associated in people's minds with recipes. At 6'3" and 200 pounds, he comes across as a man's man all the way. Yet the process by which he arrived at the unique tables he has made resembles something from "Better Homes and Gardens" or "Betty Crocker" cookbooks.

The recipe might go like this: "Take one inventive mind and add a glance at an unusual table. Let the mixture ferment for a period of time. The end product is a style of table that is 100% individual."

Years ago, Cooper caught a glimpse of a leather-topped table through a doorway as he was talking with the owner of a home. He was intrigued with the table he saw, but wanted something a little different. Through the years, he modified the design until he had what he thought would work for him. Then he started to build the first of the two tables he has constructed.

Working 15 or 20 minutes at a time or sometimes longer, Cooper took about six months to put together the end table, as he put it, "by trial and error - and mostly error."

The finished product was a round table, with a tooled leather top. That particular table also incorporated dowel rods, small nylon rope and suede with the wooden base.

The second piece, a coffee table, was a much more exhaustive undertaking, although it went together quicker and more easily than the first, Cooper said.

The larger table is approximately four feet long and it, too, features a leather, hand-tooled top. Cooper is quick to note that both leather pictures for the tables were done for him by a family friend, Marie Christian. As payment for the tooling, Cooper took Mrs. Christian to dinner one evening - along with his wife and her husband, he adds.

The coffee table sports round end pieces which are covered with a 1/2" stickerless rope. The width of the wooden end pieces is likewise covered with a much smaller rope. Wooden boards in a fancy lathed design connect the ends of the table on the bottom, with the large section of leather acting as the table top.

Cooper has plans to build another end table, but has not been able to locate the proper color of suede to cover one portion of the table. He says that this time he will do the leather work himself, though.

Cooper and his wife Ann have recently completed some remodeling work on their home and, as one thing led to another, wound up with an additional room and patio on the back of the house.

Any tables or other work around the house that Cooper does has to be sandwiched around his full time job for Helton Oil Company, where he has been employed for the past 18 years.

The Coopers are both active in the community and he presently serves as Texico Volunteer Fire Department Fire Chief and is on the city council and the chamber of commerce.

Together Lewis and Ann have four children: Rickey, who farms between Texico and Portales; Linda, who is married and lives in Lake Charles, La.; Terry, who attends Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., the only liberal arts college in the world for the deaf; and Debbie, who is studying chemical engineering at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Handmade Furniture

Lewis Cooper of Texico demonstrates the technique which he used to construct the coffee table shown, and an end table. On both pieces of furniture Cooper used large and small ropes, suede and a tooled leather top in addition to wood. A friend, Marie Christian, did the leather work for the two table tops. Cooper got the idea for the unusual tables years ago and modified the plans until the final results were something very individual. He plans to make at least one more of the tables as soon as he can locate the necessary color of suede.

L. M. BOYD Teenagers ran Pony Express

The renowned Pony Express that zipped the mail on horseback from St. Joseph, Mo., to San Francisco—1,840 miles—in 10 days was an enterprise of teenagers. True, the originators were grownups. But the riders, the boys on the front line, were teenagers. The moral equivalent of war, that. Put the youngsters up front.

The line in the Twenty-Third Psalm goes: "He leadeth me beside the still waters." Why should the Shepherd lead His flock beside still waters? Because the allusion is to sheep, and sheep will not drink from running water.

There are those, too, who put kitty litter in the bird bath on the theory that some birds prefer a dry wash.

All you have to do to name 11 different English kings is say Edward.

UGLY

Q. Can a man be relieved from military duty on the grounds that he's just plain ugly?

A. Just plain ugly probably wouldn't cut it. The Army regulation stipulates he can be disqualified for "any deformity which is markedly unsightly."

Q. Do turtles make any sort of vocal noise?

A. You know how a teakettle murmurs when it's boiling gently? That's how turtles sound in mating season.

Q. How long has eggplant been popular?

A. About 120 years, but I don't know why.

EARTHQUAKE

Countless souls in China's Kansu Province 60 years ago lived in caves carved into soft silt hills. A tremendous earthquake hit. At least 100,000 people died after that live burial. Nobody outside the province knew anything about it for three months. Even then it didn't make much news. Talk to Seasoned Citizens over the age of 75. Will bet you a small indefinite sum you'll find few who ever heard of it.

Jaycees Collect $700 In MD Drive

Farwell Jaycees collected over $700 in cash donations and pledges from area residents for the annual Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, according to Mike Camp, Jaycee secretary.

Held over the Labor Day weekend, MD's number one money maker netted thirty one million dollars nationally.

Locally, more than 20 Jaycees manned a rest stop for holiday travelers, and operated a telethon pledge center from Friday at 6 p.m. to Monday at 7 p.m.

The Farwell service organization has sponsored the money-raising effort for "Jerry's Kids" for the past several years in cooperation with an Amarillo TV station.

Sheriff's Report

Two Parmer County juveniles were released to their parents, and told to report to the county judge once a week, following their arrest stemming from vandalism and theft at the barn of Tommy Jones, Friona, according to Sheriff Charles Lovelace. The items stolen from the barn have been recovered, the sheriff said, and the two youths will provide restitution to the damaged barn.

The sheriff also reports that $8000 in chemicals were stolen from Longhorn Spraying Service in Lazbuddie. The chemicals were apparently sitting out on a dock, according to the sheriff, and have not been recovered from the August 29 theft.

TAES Field Day Slated Sept. 9 At Plainview

The 71st Annual Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) Field Day is scheduled from 12:30 to 5:00 p.m. September 9 at the High Plains Research Foundation 14 miles west of Plainview on Highway 70.

Members of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, should make an extra effort to attend, says PCG President Joe D. Unfred of New Home, "because putting the latest research knowledge in practice is how we profit from over $350,000 that PCG since 1956 has invested in the Station's cotton research."

Of special interest to cotton producers will be cotton variety performance tests. Trials for 81 varieties and 26 hybrids are being conducted this year under both dryland and irrigated conditions. Results will be seen from evaluation of Verticillium resistant and tolerant varieties, glandless varieties and experimental lines.

Weed control, fertilizer requirements and irrigation efficiency are other subjects important to cotton production that are included in the afternoon TAES tour.

New herbicide application equipment such as roper applicators and spot sprayers will be discussed as well as new information on control of perennials such as lakeweed, blueweed, white weed and several annual weed species.

A low energy precision application irrigation system will be shown. The system, tested along with furrow diking to increase rainfall retention, is said to effect significant savings of both water and energy.

Fertilization test plots to be seen and discussed emphasize soil test correlations for nitrogen and phosphorous and the behavior of these nutrients in the major soils of the area.

PCG research grants, Unfred notes, over the years have been used to supplement State and Federal funds and to attract research money from private sources in all of the cotton-related work. Over $100,000 of PCG money, more than 20 percent of the total, has been allocated to cotton breeding and genetics studies that led to the improved varieties now dominating High Plains production.

The Field Day tour also will cover TAES studies of mite research, sorghum and corn improvement and soybean production, plus displays of farm machinery and the opportunity to confer with research specialists on specific problems.

Texico Booth A Winner

Rhonda Tharp and Lisa Reid are two of the Texico cheerleaders who decorated and designed the school's winning entry at the Curry County Fair. "Texico School Looking Into The Future" grabbed a second place award, as did the other four entrants from the school. Also taking home second place prizes were the FFA, FHA and 4-H clubs. A reminder to everyone that the Curry County Fair is going on now through Saturday and many Texico and Farwell people are participating.

Farwell Chamber Meets

Farwell Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Tuesday of last week.

Among items of business discussed was that the chamber needed to review its participation in the Border Town Days celebration. The chamber will look into its role in the community event and decide where more and what type of participation is needed.

Kay Warmuth, school secretary at Texico High, requests that parents visiting students, for any reason, check in first at the school office.

"Teachers are not authorized to excuse students from the classroom," she explained, "the principal or myself are the only ones permitted to release students from school."

To Get Benefits - -

Social Security Says Marriage Proof Needed

Marriages may be made in Heaven, but you may have to have proof of your marriage to get social security benefits. If you are already receiving benefits, marriage could reduce or eliminate them altogether.

Knowing how marriage can affect your social security protection can save you a great deal of time and trouble, and perhaps even money. Social security retirement, survivors, and disability benefits are payable to eligible spouses of retired or disabled workers receiving social security. In future financial planning, you should know how much to expect, how to get benefits and how marriage can affect benefits you are already getting.

A spouse is entitled to a benefit amounting to from 37 1/2 to 50 percent of a retired or disabled partner's full benefit, or from 71 1/2 to 100 percent of a deceased worker's benefit, depending on the age at which he or she applies.

Widow's or widower's benefits generally are payable beginning at age 60. A disabled widow or widower may get benefits at age 50 provided the disability begins within seven years after the death of a worker, or within seven years after mother's or father's benefits stopped. You may get retirement benefits at age 62 if your spouse gets retirement benefits. A divorced woman may qualify for the same type of benefits on a retired, disabled, or deceased worker's record if the marriage lasted at least 10 years.

In applying for social security benefits as a spouse, you have to prove the marital relationship. Generally, this can be done by a marriage certificate or a certified copy of the marriage record.

If there has been no ceremonial marriage, social security follows state law in recognizing common-law marriages. If the state in which you reside recognizes your relationship as legally binding, we can accept the relationship for social security benefit purposes. Your social security office will tell you what proofs are required.

Ordinarily, the benefits of a person receiving checks as a dependent or survivor will stop or be reduced if he or she marries or remarries. These include benefits of widows and widowers, as well as children.

Under a relatively new rule, however, benefits to a widow or widower who remarries at age 60 or older can continue without any reduction in the amount.

Don't Use Oven Cleaners On 'Self-Cleaners'

Do not use a commercial oven cleaner on either a self-cleaning or a continuous-cleaning oven, advises a family resource management specialist.

There are two entirely different reasons for this, because the two types of ovens are completely different systems, Linda McCormack says.

Mrs. McCormack is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

SELF-CLEANING OVEN
In the self-cleaning oven, a special high-heat cycle actually burns off food spills.

If an oven cleaner is used here and not completely rinsed off, when the oven is put through a cleaning cycle, the high heat could promote a reaction with any residue - and that might etch the porcelain enamel.

CONTINUOUS-CLEANING OVEN

A continuous-cleaning oven, on the other hand, doesn't have a separate cleaning cycle.

Instead, the liner is made from a special porcelain enamel with a rough texture and a catalytic coating.

Oven cleaners can ruin the catalytic surface of the oven and prevent oxidation (the process which cleans the oven).

Listen to Your Nose.

Wonderful instrument, your nose. It can tell you when supper's ready, or when you're near a desert rose. And it can even spot a potential problem like a natural gas leak.

That's because we add a unique aromatic chemical to natural gas that alerts your nose to a leak in or around your home.

So if you detect the faint odor of natural gas, first look around. It could be as simple as a pilot light out or a partially open burner valve.

But, if the odor is very strong, open a window, leave your house and leave the investigating to us. We're available 24 hours a day to locate gas leaks and we'll be right out.

But don't use the telephone in your home and don't operate any electrical switches. Be sure to extinguish any open flame, and never, never strike a match.

Help us keep natural gas one of the safest energies available. If you smell gas, indoors or out, listen to your nose.

Then use your head... call the gas company and keep this number handy:

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Juanita Hadley

When asked, Jean Smith of Farwell answers, "Oh, I don't do anything," but those who know her realize the inaccuracy of that statement. She is always busy doing something for her family or for someone else. In fact, the average person would be hard pressed to keep up with her.

Both Jean and her husband Eddie are natives of the area. She is a graduate of Texico High School and Eddie graduated from Farwell before attending Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth and West Texas State University in Canyon. In addition, he is a licensed barber.

Jean enjoys cooking and sewing, has made several wax Christmas ball decorations, and examples of her skill at macrame beautify the homes of many friends and relatives. She says that one of these days she would like to latch hook a rug.

About four years ago Jean took classes in cake decorating, something she had always wanted to do, and since that time she has provided family members and friends with unique cakes on just about every occasion. This is an area where she can really express the creativity she has in such great store.

The Smiths have two children, Steven, 16, a junior in high school, who likes to read and ride horses, and Sheila, 13, an eighth grader whose main interests are reading and basketball.

The youngsters are members of the Texico 4-H Club and raise hogs as their project.

In addition, Steven helps his dad with custom hay work. Eddie is also a brakeman for Santa Fe Railroad.

Since their marriage, Jean and Eddie have lived in their present home two and one-half miles east of Farwell on the Amarillo highway almost exclusively, except for a period of nine or 10 months spent in Alabama, where Eddie worked on railroad construction.

All four of the Smiths are active in church work and attend the First Baptist Church in Texico. Jean helps each year with vacation Bible school and has taught a third and fourth grade Sunday school class for so many years that she can't remember when she began.

Each summer, Jean, the lady who "doesn't do anything," plants a large garden and cans and freezes the produce. She also makes a variety of jellies.

Below are two of Jean's recipes which she has agreed to share with readers.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING CAKE

Mix until crumbly, 1 1/2 cups flour and 1 stick softened ole. Add 1/2 to 1 cup chopped pecans. Press into the bottom of a 9" X 13" pan and bake for 15 minutes at 350 degrees.

Mix 1 cup powdered sugar and 1 large package of cream cheese until smooth. Add 1 package (prepared) Dream Whip and fold into the cream cheese mixture. Spread over warm crust.

Mix 3 small packages Jello instant chocolate pudding mix with 5 cups of milk. Spread this over cream cheese layer. Cover with Cool Whip (1 large container).

You may substitute butter-scotch, lemon, or banana for chocolate.

BAR-B-CUPS

1 lb. ground beef
1/2 to 3/4 cup barbecue sauce
salt and pepper
1 cup shredded cheese
1 can refrigerated biscuits

In a skillet, brown ground beef, add salt and pepper. When browned, drain off grease and add barbecue sauce. Simmer for 15 to 20 minutes very slowly.

While meat is browning, roll each biscuit out to 1/4" thick circle. Place one circle into each cup of muffin pan. When meat is done, place enough meat into each biscuit cup to fill 3/4 full. Top meat with shredded cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, until biscuits are done.

Lady Of Many Talents

Jean (Mrs. Eddie) Smith, area homemaker, almost literally fits the bill as "butcher, baker, and candlestick maker." She is quite a cook and bakes cakes that not only look pretty, but are also delicious. And although she does not make candlesticks, she is a hobbyist with experience in creating wax Christmas balls and macrame plant hangers. She is pictured with one of the many examples of her work. She and her husband have two children, Steven and Sheila, who attend Farwell schools, and the family is active in many areas of church and club work.

Hospital Notes

Dorothy Quickel was released from St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday after a week-long stay recovering from a broken leg. Mrs. Quickel suffered a compound fracture after a fall during an evening walk, and is now wearing a hip high cast while recuperating for the next five to six weeks at home.

Virginia Perry of Crane, formerly of Farwell, is recuperating from surgery in Valley View Hospital, Glenwood Springs, Colo. Mrs. Perry underwent emergency surgery while vacationing there last week. She is out of the intensive care unit and is in Room 112. She expects to be released from the hospital in about another week.

Carl Davis of Farwell underwent surgery at the hospital in Clovis last week and is reported to be recuperating at home.

Former Area Resident Returns For Visit

by Juanita Hadley
Mrs. Pearl Baugus of Holladay, Tenn., paid a brief visit to Texico, Clovis and Grady last week. If the name rings no bells for local people, it is because this marked Mrs. Baugus' first return to the area in almost 70 years.

It seems that the lady and her husband Thomas left Tennessee immediately after their marriage in 1910 and spent their honeymoon traveling west to start a new life homesteading.

The couple arrived in New Mexico at Texico, the location of the only train depot for miles, and made their way to Grady where government land was available, settling one and one-half miles south of town on a half section of land.

Baugus, a teacher back in Tennessee, later attended the teachers' normal in Clovis for a month in order to be allowed to teach in the state of New Mexico. He then set up a one-teacher subscription school at Grady with 24 or 25 students.

Mrs. Baugus remembered that in addition to actual money paid for tuition, she and her husband received butter, eggs, milk—in fact, nearly anything edible.

During their one and one-half years in the community, the Bauguses lived in a half dugout. On her recent visit, Mrs. Baugus, her son Noel and his wife of Holladay, and her daughter, Mrs. Malcolm Wilson of Nashville, were able to locate the old place, but, of course, the original dugout had long since disappeared.

In speaking of her time in New Mexico, Mrs. Baugus mentioned that for entertainment she and another lady or two would often climb aboard their buggies and visit friends. She also said that occasionally several families would drive their wagons to the breaks north of Grady and camp out while the men cut cedars for firewood.

And Mrs. Baugus commented that Church of Christ services were held in private homes on a rotating basis with the congregation being composed of six members.

Although the couple had good neighbors and many friends, Mrs. Baugus felt that the area was too lonesome, too dry, and too far from family. As a result, they returned to Tennessee.

Thomas Baugus died 13 years ago, but his spritely wife, who is now 95, evidently wanted to view once more the location of their first years of marriage.

When she and the other family members arrived in the Grady area last week, they had little idea where to start their search for the old place. They simply stopped at a farm home and explained their problem. The lady immediately began placing calls around the community, and soon help was forthcoming.

In fact, while in the Grady area, the group was introduced to an 81-year-old resident, Mrs. Townsend, who had been a student under Thomas Baugus. She remembered both Mr. and Mrs. Baugus and commented on the resemblance of the son Noel to his father.

Of present day Grady, Mrs. Baugus said, "Grady's changed a lot. It's a pretty little town now."

After spending several hours in the Grady community, the Baugus family drove to Clovis, where they spent the night. The following morning they headed in the direction of Tennessee, stopping off in Texico at the Playorama Fruit Market. They were again treated to a display of New Mexico hospitality when the owners, Red and Ruth Prather, learned of the circumstances of the visit.

Before once more leaving for their destination, each of the members of the party expressly thanked the people of the area for the time, help and hospitality extended to them.

Tennessee Visitor

Mrs. Pearl Baugus of Holladay, Tenn., is shown with Red Prather during a recent stop at Prather's Playorama Fruit Market in Texico. The former Grady resident and her husband homesteaded in the Grady community in 1910. Mrs. Baugus, her son and his wife, and her daughter visited the area last week, the first time she had returned in about 70 years. Though she and her husband had many friends in the area, they returned to the wooded country of Tennessee in order to be near their families.

Lynn; sitting: Dale Johnson, Willie Bibbs, Sammy Garcia, Earl Bibbs, Rodney Wilson, Billy Askew and Lynn Tubbs. The Wolverines will play tonight at home beginning at 7:30 p.m. MDT.

Little League Assn.
Names New Officers

Texico-Farwell Little League Association named new officers at a meeting of the organization last week. Mike Spearman of Texico will head the group as president. He will be assisted by Ronald Byrd, vice-president; Sydney Chadwick, secretary; Johnny Atkinson, player agent; and Cynthia Thigpen who will be in charge of the concession stands.

In other business plans were finalized for the group's sponsorship of the concession stand at the Tractor Pull at the Curry County Fair this week.

The Association also decided to re-do the dugouts at the Lions Ball Park and make covers for them as well as buying some additional equipment for the summer baseball program.

A good turnout was on hand for the organizational meeting.

Steers Travel To Plains
For Battle With Cowboys

"Plains will be a good test for us right off the bat, they have some pretty big people and they're rated third in their district" said Steer head coach Randy Adrian concerning tonight's season opener. Set for 8 p.m. CDT at Plains, the Steers look forward to some tough competition with the Cowboys.

Offensively, Adrian said his lineup will start with Juan Diaz, slot; Emilio Paez, tail-back; Alex Paez, end; Jack Deaton, fullback; Mac Langford, center.

Guards will be Ricky Armstrong and Chris Bristow; tackles Dwayne Winter and Byron Mayfield; ender Richard Carpenter and quarterback, Boyd White.

Defensive strategy will start with safety's Juan Diaz and Boyd White; Emilio and Ralph Paez as starting corners; Chris Bristow and Richard Carpenter as ends. The three starting linebackers will be Byron Mayfield, Mac Langford and Waverly Coates.

Defensive tackles will be Ricky Armstrong and Charlie Rose.

Last week's scrimmage with Anton "went real well" Adrian said. "Statistically we had a total of 268 yards compared to their 87 total yards.

"We looked a lot better and improved offensively," the coach continued.

The Steers moved the ball an average of six yards every time they got their hands on it, and had a total of 21 first downs against the Anton team.

"But with Plains, we'll get tested real early," he said.

Allsup's Marathon Seeks Entrants For October Run

The 6th annual Allsup's Marathon will be held in Clovis on Saturday, Oct. 4.

Those interested in participating are requested to register no later than September 26. Registration fees on or before that date will be $5.00. Registrations after that date will cost $7.00 and will be accepted through Friday, Oct. 3, at the race headquarters in the Holiday Inn, 2700 E. Mabry Drive. All proceeds go to the Clovis Track Club.

The marathon, sanctioned and certified by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), will give runners a choice of the full 26.2 mile course, a 13.1 mile course or a 10 kilometer course. The race will start at the Clovis High School track at 7 a.m. According to Lonnie Allsup, president of Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc., and sponsor of the race, "The marathon will feature an Olympic finish this year. At 12 noon we will present trophies to the winners and we will again award T-shirts to all contestants who complete the race."

Competition reached new heights last year with 356 runners competing, some from as far away as New York and Florida. Individual records for the state of New Mexico were set in all three races with Benito Arellano winning the 26 mile event in 2:33:16; Joe Anaya the half marathon in 1:12:46 and Cliff McCurdy the 10 kilometer in 32:14. A field of over 400 runners is anticipated this year.

Marathon activities will begin October 3 with a spaghetti dinner. Walt Stack, an amazing 74 year old runner, will be featured speaker. He will also participate in the race.

Persons who desire additional information about the Allsup's Marathon, or who wish to receive a registration form, may do so by writing: Gary Britt, 3201 Wallace Street, Clovis, New Mexico 88101, or by calling (505) 762-1458.

SWCD News

In June, a bill extending the Great Plains Conservation Program (GPCP) from December 31, 1981, to September 30, 1991, became law.

The new legislation, Public Law 96-263, will increase GPCP funding from $300 million to $600 million and will raise the yearly cost-share limitation from $25 million to $5 million.

"This is a positive step to insure that farmers and ranchers throughout the Great Plains will have added incentive to apply conservation measures on their land," John Copeland, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture at Friona said.

Under the GPCP, landowners can speed up soil and water conservation work by signing agreements for 3 to 10 years. The contracts guarantee cost-sharing by the government to apply and maintain conservation measures. Contracts have been written for about half of the land eligible in the 10 states.

The Soil Conservation Service has administered GPCP since the program began in 1956. Through the program, working together with conservation districts, SCS has given technical and financial assistance to 55,000 Great Plains farmers and ranchers in treating critically eroded farmland and making appropriate land use changes.

"A total of 107 landowners have taken advantage of the program on 49,486 acres in the local Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District," Copeland said.

Over the next 10 years, SCS and districts hope to help even more Great Plains Farmers and ranchers plan for and install the most effective conservation practices on their land.

"The hazardous climate and easily eroded soil in the 10 Great Plains States require lasting protection of soil and water resources," Copeland said. "The drought of the 1970's, and the summer of 1980, is a reminder that we must adequately protect the Plains from wind and water erosion to reduce the likelihood of another disastrous Dust Bowl."

"Despite a good record of success for work done under the GPCP, much work remains in order to combat serious droughts and persistent erosion problems," Copeland concluded.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

GOD'S JUST JUDGMENTS

"We are sure that the judgments of God are according to truth..." (Romans 2:2).

The first 15 verses of Romans 2, always make me think of our Lord's dealings with the rich young ruler of Luke 18:18,19. "Good Master," the ruler had said, "what shall I do to inherit eternal life?"

The Lord answered in effect: "Why do you call me good? There is none good but God, so if I am good I must be God. But do you want to know what to do to inherit eternal life? Simply obey the law, the ten commandments."

Our Lord, of course, was trying to show the young man that it was impossible to earn salvation by doing good. To keep the law was impossible for any child of Adam, and breaking the law could only bring condemnation.

Now this absolute justice is the basis for the believer's confidence in God.

It is wonderful to know that God does not merely pity sinners and smuggle them into heaven if they are sorry. If He did, someone in heaven could point an accusing finger at this writer and say: "What, you here!"

Thank God, He has taken us before the bar of justice, pronouncing us guilty, and then has stepped down, as it were, to pay the penalty for our sins Himself, then justly declaring us righteous!

This is why salvation, in Scripture, is based upon Christ's payment for our just debt. This is why Romans 3:24 declares that believers are "justified freely, by His grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus."

"That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so MIGHT GRACE REIGN THROUGH RIGHTEOUSNESS, unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 5:21).

Varied Items On Agenda For FLB Directors Meet

Curry County Farm Bureau discussed the proposed MX Missile site, summer conference, livestock marketing, political action, policy development, and legislative issues at the August directors meeting.

Andy Norton, NMFLB field man from Roswell, said a pamphlet of 117 questions and answers about the MX-system was available by writing to AFSINC/11A, Kelly AFB, TX 78241.

NMFLB will participate in a new livestock marketing program, said Norton. The marketing association will act as order buyer or as a commission man. This program will give the membership another alternative in marketing their livestock.

Bob Porter, Executive Secretary of NMFLB, Las Cruces, announced the annual NMFLB meeting would be held in Las Cruces the first week in December. He also discussed policy development.

Norton said there are several bills before Congress that the FLB thinks persons should contact their congressional delegation about. First and foremost, he says, is the so-called "Superfund Bill." This one deals with dangerous chemicals and although it has several appealing parts the bill would change liability laws on accidents involving hazardous materials. In fact, the bill, in many ways, says you are guilty of an accident because you used the hazardous material.

The Farm Credit Bill follows Farm Bureau policy now and deserves the support, said Norton. The 160 Acre Limitation Bill has passed the Senate and is now in the House of Representatives. It would amend the 1902 Reclamation Act. We need this bill passed this year, Norton says.

HR 3535-Marketing and Bargaining legislation bill would help us market our products better and provide a system for getting the best possible prices, said Norton. However, it is bogged down in Congress right now but could get moving this fall.

Bill S 2153 is to amend OSHA regulations by exempting 90 percent of business and allowing OSHA to concentrate on real safety and health problems.

L. E. "Pete" Davis, president of NMFLB, said he would like to remind Farm Bureau members that this is an election year and that the Farm Bureau encourages individual members to become involved in partisan politics on behalf of the party or individual candidate of their choice.

Two very important things are involved, said Davis. First, it is a presidential election so you will be electing a president who will be appointing the people that run the day-to-day operations of your federal government and he will also have great impact on the writing of the 1981 new farm program.

Second, on the state level the legislature that we elect this year will handle reappointment based on the 1980 census results. Since the U. S. Supreme Court's decision on "One Man-One Vote" we have seen the dramatic shift in power in state legislature from rural to urban interests. So get involved, Davis says.

Norton announced Farm Bureau Day at the State Fair would be September 17 and invited everyone to stop by the Farm Bureau hospitality room. On September 14 the Farm Bureau will host a breakfast for contestants in the Ladies Lead Class.

Hubert Qualls, president of Curry County Farm & Livestock Bureau, appointed a nominating committee consisting of Randy Monroe, Jack Donahey and Paul Dee Barnes. Dewey Pierce will serve as chairman of the resolutions committee.

The annual CCFLB meeting will be the 28th or 30th of October, according to Qualls. Beth Hovey and Helen Kelley will be in charge of the program.

Eddie Harrington reported the National Farm Bureau meeting would be in New Orleans in January of 1981 and that plans are underway for a chartered trip to the convention.

Curry County FLB Insurance agent Bob Taylor told the board he was in the process of realigning his organization.

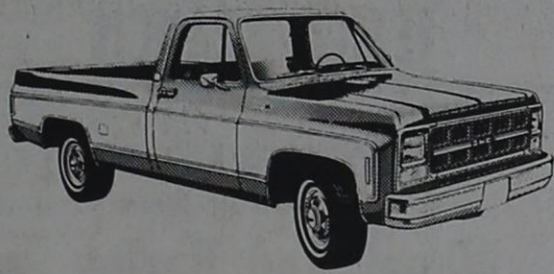

Diggin' In

Members of the youth department and others from First Baptist Church of Texico "dig in" to one of the world's largest sundaes following a worship service at the church during the Carey Miller Crusade. A foil-lined rain gutter held the 30 feet of ice cream and trimmings.
