STATE CHAMP -- Joe Robertson, Santa Fe engineer and Clovis resident, who is a former Oklahoma Lane and Farwell resident, won the state horseshoe pitching championship last week at the New Mexico State Fair. He holds the horseshoes with which he won the trophy and also the latest trophy he has added to his ever-growing collection. "I'm quite proud of the trophy," said Robertson, noting that competition is strong in New Mexico where horseshoe pitching is a popular pastime and adding, "I've been pitching horseshoes ever since I had to take them off the horses to practice with."

Horseshoe Pitching --

Joe Robertson Named State Champion

Joe Robertson, Clovis, former Oklahoma Lane and Farwell resident, recently won the New Mexico State Horseshoe Pitching championship at New Mexico State Fair. The tournament was held at the newly constructed courts built on the state fair grounds.

Robertson, who has been an engineer for the Santa Fe Railroad for more than 20 years, defeated last year's champion, Tom Town of Albuquerque, and in the closest match also defeated P. D. Riley, also of Albuquerque, three time winner of the tournament and former Texas State Champion. Robertson has also been Texas State Champion in previous years; however this is his first time to win the New Mexico title.

NURSERY NEWS

By Alvin Woodburn
Garden Center Nursery
Clovis, N.M.

This week's weather has brought a preview of things to come. The cool nights and not too hot days are maturing days for plants. It is hard for plants to grow but then we have not entirely figured the timing on plants. One thought lays it to the length of day, others to the temperature, others to a combination of these and other factors. It is easy to say that it is just the nature of the plant. The thing we need to do is to use what we have and enjoy it to the best of our ability.

The political scene is somewhat different. There are several candidates and they all have the solution. Again, the thing we need to do is to qualify ourselves so that we can express our opinion and abide by the majority, but at the same time not be so uninformed, undisturbed, and complacent that we let a small minority make the choice for us.

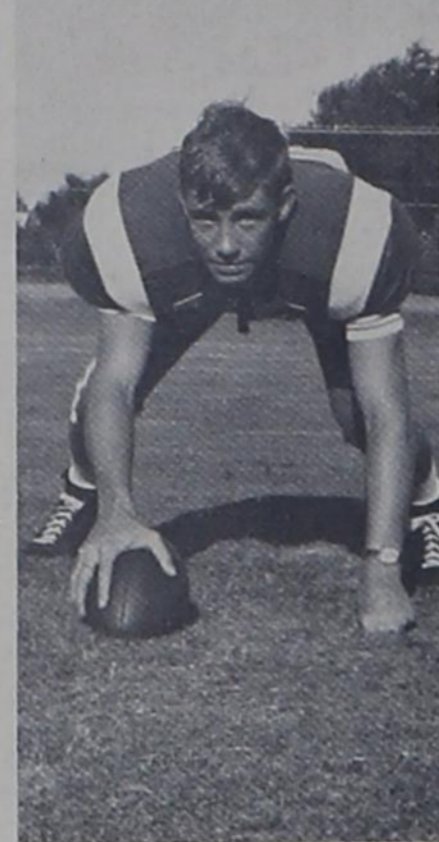

The pine shoot moth is trying his best to do as he intended. That is to destroy the pine trees. They are relatively easy to control but it does require a well-thought out and carefully executed plan. The di-syston or systemic quality of the insecticides is very easy to apply and is proving very effective when applied properly. Of course, the package that is purchased and then applied to the garage shelf is not effective for the trees. There are several trees around town that have suffered considerable damage from the pine shoot moth.

As insects go into the dormant stage is a very good time to put the control into operation. To rout them out of the places they hibernate and let nature help us control them by her own means is very effective and "costs less too."

The fall season is a good time to get plants in shape for the rigors of winter. Not in the amount but in the quality of what we do. When we fertilize, a well-balanced fertilizer containing a good amount of soil conditioner will put the plants through the winter and reward us very well next spring.

national Horseshoe Pitching Association. Entries in the event this year topped records for all previous years and also marked the first time for the women's division in the tourney.

OUTMODDED EQUIPMENT

This young man certainly won't get much real cleaning done with this broom. A modern street cleaning machine would do the job so much better. His straw broom makes us think of how we try to get along without God, without spiritual values, without church. Our life would be so much better if we would exchange this life for one that knows God and practices His precepts. Without church and God we have little or no spiritual equipment. Hearing God's word preached, being with his people, working in His church, helping others through the church all give us the spiritual equipment we need for meeting life. We invite you to attend this week and make a habit of coming to God's house.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Diane Lovelace Tells About Her European Vacation

By Chris Moss

A red-letter day in the life of Diane Lovelace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Lovelace, was July 18. She, along with a group of high school and college students accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Murray of Panhandle, formerly of Farwell, and Miss Dorothy Broadway, also of Panhandle, as sponsors, boarded a gigantic jet plane for a trip to several European countries, where they spent several weeks, which proved to be some of the most exciting of their lives.

First entry in the diary kept by Miss Lovelace during that exciting period tells how she arose at 4 a.m. on the morn of their departure, and finally departed Amarillo as per schedule at 9:25 a.m. After a brief stop in Lubbock, the plane arrived in Dallas as scheduled, and left on schedule only to arrive at Kennedy Airport in New York City to find that after circling the airport for some three hours they were still required to land at Newark, N.J., due to heavy air traffic.

A wild bus ride through New York City followed; however the group was able to see the Statue of Liberty, the largest cemetery in the United States, and the world's fair site.

From New York City the flight to Amsterdam, Holland, was delayed several hours, but finally at 2:30 a.m. they were again on their way. When they arrived in Amsterdam they were met by their tour guide, Joke (Yoka) Butter, and their bus driver.

Miss Lovelace was impressed with the cleanliness of Amsterdam which was typified by white buildings with red roofs. She also noted that most of the people rode bikes, instead of driving cars; 1,000,000 people and 600,000 bikes. The group visited the cathedrals, canals, one of the windmills, and a wooden-shoe maker.

On the second day after arriving in Holland, Miss Lovelace noted that the group crossed into Germany after having some bus trouble, with the police rushing up looking for all the world like train conductors. While the bus was being repaired, Joke kept the group entertained by telling them about some of the customs of various countries they would visit. Here Diane notes, "Joke says the Italians like blonds with blue eyes." She also notes that she is seven months older than the tour guide and "looks six years younger."

Some of the places visited in Germany were a castle and cathedral at Cologne, the place where Beethoven was born, and the world's largest wine barrel. She noted that lots of people brought their pets, especially dogs, into the restaurants.

On Monday, the group crossed into Switzerland after a ride through green rolling country, on a narrow winding road, where they narrowly missed a collision with another bus. In Bern they attended a session of the Young People's Baptist Conference and then went shopping. Diane, who is majoring in foreign languages, notes that, "It seems as if everyone speaks English so I may never get to use my French."

In Interlaken, the group rode a cable car to see a model train, and also did a little shopping. Then they were allowed to attend a dance which Diane describes as "one of the most wonderful evenings of my life." On the ride from Interlaken to Milan, the group rode through mountains and viewed many beautiful waterfalls. While stopped for a rest period, the group spent some time sliding in the snow, which was above the timberline. She describes the Goddard Pass as a lot of granite and rock, and the road as looking like a monster snake.

Arriving in Milan she found it to be an industrial city, although quite dirty. However the friendliness of the people and a nice hotel made up for the dirt. It was about this time that Diane decided that the Italian philosophy, "Don't make life difficult; it's difficult enough already," might be right.

On July 26 the group arrived in Rome where they spent the next three days sightseeing and shopping. In Rome they visited the Sistine Chapel with all the paintings by Michaelangelo, St. Peter's Cathedral, the first Italian King's palace, the Colosseum, the catacombs, and went down the Appian Way. The ancient walls of Rome are still standing and churches are built over pagan temples. "Oh yes, I also threw three coins in the fountain," said Diane. While in Rome the group celebrated the birthday of John Snider of Farwell with a patio party.

Leaving Rome, the group went to Assisi where they visited a monastery which Diane describes as old and pretty with beautiful frescoes painted on the ceilings. She describes the countryside as having grapes and olives along the way.

In Florence, they visited many interesting places including Michelangelo Square, the church where Michelangelo is buried, and also the Barber of Seville, a baptistry, the doors of paradise, and saw the original and a copy of the sculpture of David.

From Florence they went to Pisa and Nice, stopping for a visit to the Leaning Tower, and went swimming in the Mediterranean Sea. After an uneventful but scenic drive through mountain country, they arrived in Paris where they spend four days sightseeing and shopping.

On August 6 the tour group left Paris for London on the last leg of the tour. In London they visited many interesting places including Picadilly Circus, St. Paul's Church, Hyde Park, the Playboy Club, London Bridge, Tower of London, and rode the tube to Buckingham Palace where they saw the changing of the Guards. After several shopping trips in London, they finally left for home going by way of Glasgow. Yes, they covered many miles in a short time and saw many interesting sights and were back in their own homes on August 9, only a few hours after leaving London on Aug. 8.

Diane relates that many of the places she visited would be ideal places to spend a long vacation, but be it ever so humble, there is no place like home.

WOODEN SHOES are made from a block of wood like this, explains the shoe cobbler to members of the tour group. Note the interesting expressions of his listeners.

LAST WINDMILL IN AMSTERDAM was one of the sights which proved interesting to the entire European tour group who spent several minutes taking pictures to send home.

The San Antonio World's Fair will close October 6, ending its six-month run.

Questions most frequently asked about proper lubrication by farmers and ranchers.

Q. What kind of motor oil should I use in my farm equipment?

A. The equipment owner should always select and use an oil that at least meets the minimum API Engine Service Classification recommended by the engine mfg. Most gasoline engines require a motor oil of "For Service MS" performance quality. Most farm diesels require either "For Service DM" or "For Service DS" oils.

Our Phillips 66 Motor oils meet these specifications.

Let us advise you on the oil you will need on your farm.
