BY HOP JR.

So far as I have been able to tell, the Grahams have the only house in town that features paving on three sides. We add this to other notable family distinctions.

This means that we can have more kids in the street at one time than anybody else. We don't have any challengers on that claim.

For having the distinction of occupying the corner where two states and two towns are hooked together, we get in on some interesting things. We have the best vantage point for the state line drag strip that there is.

The Grahams stand between the desert and civilization when the dirt blows out of the southwest, as it sometimes does in the spring, and some day we expect to be remembered as hardy pioneer stock who withstood the elements in order that our fellow man might live in peace and comfort.

This is really a great location for the kids, as they don't miss any of the important events. Whenever an airplane lands on the state line it's sure to taxi by our house.

The cattle trucks, school buses, cotton trawlers and water wagons that thread past Graham corners provide an unending panorama for growing boys to ogle. Usually the fire trucks come our way and we have an unobstructed view of approaching tornadoes.

You'd think this sort of a deal would be hard to beat but it does have its disadvantages. I guess the drawbacks are minor, but one that has been bothering Mama Graham lately, for example, is the mystery of the well-drained beer cans.

Some Saturday night party boys with a king-size appetite for brewery refreshments have been careful to deposit a case of empties on the Graham lawn in the wee hours. This has gone on for several weeks.

Mama Graham is pretty understanding about roller skates, ropes and bicycles being left on the lawn and in the driveway, but when the yard starts to get decorated with beer cans she draws the line.

So, to protect the family's unblemished reputation, she dutifully arises early on Sunday mornings and checks out the premises. Usually, there is an armload or two of containers with suspicious labels that are parted right off to the trash barrel.

She thinks she has everything under control, even though this early-hour KP project is a worry, but I have pointed out that we may have a security leak. After all, what will the trash man think? Probably he has concluded that we either have a tremendous capacity or the biggest weekend parties in town. I wonder which.

Anyway, this column is to serve notice on all who come up with any interesting tidbits that the only thing swizzled in such quantity around the Graham household is Kool Aid.

Another big advantage we have in our location that is educational for young sprouts is our propinquity to Southwestern flower and fauna. Most notable of the former is the tumbleweed and sunflower.

The seed of these hardy plants is carried from the open fields across the state line road by the billion. If the agricultural experiment stations are interested, we have documented evidence that Bermuda grass, climbing roses and strawberry plants are no match.

Our fauna includes bullsnakes (haven't seen a rattler yet), lizards, horned toads, cotton tails and gophers. For the most part, we get along with the animals, except in the case of the gophers. They probably beat us to the lot and figure they have squatter's rights or something. There is real bad blood between the Grahams and the gophers.

Like the wayside inn, the Graham house attracts stray dogs, ditched cats, and salesmen who are either giving the town the first or the last try. In either instance they are particularly persistent.

It is as natural for a neighboring kid to stop off at Graham corner for a visit with our hatch as it is for teen-agers to congregate at a drive-in. Our corner seems to be the focal point of what's going on.

One day last week I brought home a gadget for the kids to play on. It was a plastic "slide" that laid across the lawn and IT'S FROM JACKIE ALRIGHT thinks Bill Owen, as he looks at a congratulation card he received last week. The card, from President and Mrs. Kennedy, congratulated Owen on his graduation from high school.

IT'S NO JOKE!

It all began as a joke when Bill Owen, son of the Dee Owens of Farwell, sent a graduation announcement to President and Mrs. Jack Kennedy, but the joke was reversed last week, when Bill received a letter of congratulations signed by the first lady.

The engraved card, bearing the president's official seal, read: "Congratulations on your graduation, the President joins me in extending warm good wishes to you always" Jacqueline Kennedy.

Owen, who was an all-round student in high school, plans to attend college at West Texas State in Canyon.

Scouts Have Wiener Roast

Members of Troop 201 B.S.A. went to the sand hills south of Farwell last Thursday for a wiener roast.

The boys thoroughly explored the area, tracking small animals across the sand dunes preceding the wiener roast. After enjoying a meal of roasted wieners, toasted marshmallows and soft drinks, the group was taught how to dispose of their campfire and litter before returning to Farwell and attending the merchant-sponsored free show at the Border Theatre.

The troop was accompanied by adult leaders W. A. Mace, J. T. Ford and Russell Grimes.

Members of the troop attending were Tim Crume, Lawie Bradshaw, G. A. Grimes, Warlick Dollar, Jerry Ford, Bruce Dollar, Jimmy Mace, Randy Roberson, Charles Morton, Mike Watkins, Walter Gene Branch, Vernon Bland, Lawrence Bryant and Johnny Shell.

YOUTH PROGRAM TO GET UNDERWAY FRIDAY

A summer youth program sponsored annually by the Texco-Farwell Lions Club will get underway tomorrow.

The activities will begin with the registration of boys 6 through 12 years of age that would like to play baseball. The registration is to take place at the Farwell baseball field, starting at 9 a.m. Friday.

Supervisor of the summer program will be Cecil Dykes, who plans to add swimming to the program as soon as details can be arranged. The program is to run through the first week in August.

"GATEWAY TO THE LAND OF ENCHANTMENT" is the slogan for car tags now being sold by members of the Texco Women's Club. The green and white tags which are to be used on the front of vehicles are now on sale by members of the club for $1 each. Three members of the club are pictured above with one of the tags as they look over a list of prospective customers. HUGHES RAISES COMMUNITY TV POSSIBILITY

Dudley Hughes, local TV serviceman, is making an effort to bring better television reception to the Twin Cities.

Hughes is erecting a 150-foot tower just east of his home in Farwell. Present plans are to make extensive tests on his own television to determine what is needed to bring cable TV to this area.

At the present time one channel out of Clovis is the only one local residents are able to receive on their sets. With cable from the tower, area residents will have all three major networks through the three stations in Amarillo.

In other remote reception areas residents are receiving cable TV reception from similar towers at a monthly charge. Just how much of a monthly charge depends on the expense of providing such reception.

It will be several more weeks before it can be determined how expensive it will be to provide the area with complete TV coverage.

How Hughes will handle his charge for connection to the tower will be determined after the test are completed.

Nearing completion is this 150-foot tower in east Farwell. It is being erected by Dudley Hughes, local TV repairman, in an effort to bring better TV reception to the Texco-Farwell area.

THERE'S GONNA BE A CHANGE

Don't get excited and think you've missed your Tribune when you get the mail next week. Publication date of the paper is being changed from Thursday to Friday.

The Tribune was published on Fridays many years, but about five or six years ago changed to Thursdays. It now seems more advantageous, the staff feels, to come out on Fridays again.

For one thing, it will be possible to get in more weekday news. Another reason is the changing reading habits of subscribers. Most community newspapers such as The Tribune are read during the "Weekend" period by most families.

So, if you stop by the post office Thursday evening or Friday morning and fall to get a Tribune, please remember that the paper will not be put in the mail until that afternoon.

Miss Sprowls-Owen Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

The Farwell First Baptist Church was the scene for the June 4 wedding of Miss Patsy Ann Sprowls, Farwell; and Jerry Dee Owen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Owen also of Farwell.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Jerry Henson before a cathedral window which was entwined with lilac and purple carnations.

Flanking the window at the altar were twin seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers. Background for these was provided by pots of woodwardia fern. The decor was completed by a huge bouquet of lilac and purple carnations and mums which were on a pedestal before the window.

Clyde Powell, soloist was accompanied by Darlene Hromas, organist, as he sang "The Twelfth of Never," and "The Wedding Prayer." Nell Smith was pianist.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor-length gown of white bridal satin designed with a scalloped neckline which was outlined with seed pearls and rhinestones. Long sleeves, which tapered to points over the hands, buttoned at her wrists. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion outlined in lace dropped from a pearl and rhinestone tiara.

Cascading purple ribbons ending in love-knots fell from the bride's bouquet of lilac orchids which was carried atop a white Bible.

In keeping with tradition she used her first Bible for something old, new was her wedding ensemble, borrowed was a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, and she wore a blue garter.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Belya Christian, from Santa Monica, Calif., who acted as maid of honor; and Daphna Reed, bridesmaid from Denver City.

The bridal attendants were dressed alike in orchid cotton dresses with waist-length jackets, and matching accessories. Wisps of illusion were attached to tiny hats. Each carried an arrangement of white and orchid carnations with purple streamers.

Attending his brother as best man was Bill Owen, and Dave Daniels of Lubbock was groomsman.

Candlelighters were Ida Dee Nall from Floyd and Richard Trantham of Farwell. Ushers were Johnny Sprowls, brother of the bride, Floyd Trantham, cousin of the bride, and Jerry Venable.

Mrs. Sprowls attended her daughter's wedding in a purple dress designed with a fitted waist length jacket. She wore orchid accessories. Mrs. Owen chose a beige dress fashioned with a straight skirt and short jacket. Her accessories were beige. Both women wore white carnation corsages.

At the reception which was held immediately after the ceremony in the church, guests were registered by Mrs. Dave Daniels.

The bride's bouquet was used

as a centerpiece on the reception table which was covered with a white cloth. Crystal appointments were used.

After the couple had cut the two-tiered cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom and had tiny love birds on each tier, guests were served punch, cake, nuts and mints by Mesdames Carol Dean Huggins, Bobbie Nall and Roy Calvert.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the bride changed into an orchid cotton sheath dress designed with a fitted jacket. She wore matching accessories.

Mrs. Owen is a graduate of Farwell High School with the class of 1959, and is a junior business education major at West Texas State College. She is now employed by the Farwell ASC office. Her husband, a 1957 graduate of Farwell High School, is a senior physical education major at West Texas. He is now employed at the ASC office in Muleshoe.

The couple are making their home in Farwell for the summer.

Wheat Stubble Rich In Organic Matter; Should Be Preserved

PARMER COUNTY'S POTATO CROP is looking good in the Friona area, and farmers are hopeful for high yields. This field is located on the Hardy May farm south of Friona, and is part of the 425 acres in the area. Harvest is expected to get under way soon after July 1.

As combines move into the fields to harvest the wheat and barley crop, once again farmers will be confronted with what to do with the remaining stubble.

The heavy excess straw does present a problem, especially to those farmers who need to get the land ready for another small grain crop this fall.

But even though it is a problem, that crop residue is valuable in that it is rich in organic matter and it should be worked back into the soil.

Research specialists point out that the advantages of plowing under the stubble are: (1) It maintains the organic matter content of the soil which facilitates water penetration by improving the tilth and structure of the soil, (2) it returns plant food to the soil, (3) it makes for better aeration of the soil, and (4) it aids in prevention of disease.

Joe Jones, Parmer County agent, and Bob Crozier, of the Soil Conservation Service, advise farmers who need to get the land ready for fall planting, to apply nitrogen on the stubble as soon as possible and plow it under.

The fertilizer speeds up the decaying of the crop residue, and thus aids in getting the seed bed in good shape again.

This method of handling the stubble takes some time and effort, but is well worth it, Jones and Crozier point out.

It is far better to plow it under than to burn the stubble, a practice which has been increasing in recent years, because with irrigation and fertilization, the high-yielding wheat fields leave a heavy, thick stubble which is hard to work back into the ground.

Burning off the stubble does have several temporary advantages, in that the fire kills weeds and insects, the charred remains have the immediate effect of released potash, and the burning makes it easier to get the land ready for fall planting.

However, these benefits are only temporary, and it is pointed out that the long-range effects of the burning are far more damaging to the soil than any of the immediate effects are beneficial.

The growing of any crop draws valuable organic matter out of the soil and it is necessary to return as much of it as possible back into the ground.

Research tests have shown that burning stubble for a period of five years resulted in a considerable reduction in wheat yields as well as crops used in rotation. The loss in production from continuous burning of stubble over a period of time is very high.

The county agent says there will be less reason to burn stubble this year than in years past, due to the new feed grains which is in effect this year. Lay-out acreage from the program can be summer fallowed and can be planted to small grain this fall. This will lessen the need for farmers having to rush to get the wheat ground ready for fall planting.

If he can plant his lay-out acreage to wheat, the farmer will have more time to take care of the wheat stubble. Rather than getting it ready for fall planting, he should be able to work the soil longer and get it ready for planting some other crop next spring.

Committee, Council Set Summer Activities

The 4-H Committee and 4-H Girls Council met recently in the District Courtroom in Farwell. Plans were made to schedule the 4-H summer activities.

County 4-H Dress Revue was set for July 14 with location to be announced later. Judging of the garments on the girls will be at 9:00 a.m. In order that parents, friends and guests may attend, the Dress Revue will be held at 8:30 p.m.

Committees volunteered for decorations and refreshments. All girls will bring one dozen cookies and Lazbuddie 4-H Girls will be responsible for the punch. If the revue is in Bovina the girls of the Jr. Leadership Club will decorate the stage. If held in Friona the Friona 4-H Girls will be in charge of decorations.

County 4-H Bake Show will be held the same day as the Girls' Recreation. Bake Show will begin at 1:30 p.m. for registration and display of cinnamon rolls and muffins.

While these foods are judged the girls will go swimming. Afterwards the ribbons will be presented to each girl and high scored foods observed and discussed.

The group will then have a cook-out in a local community center. Planned games will be led by each of the girls' clubs. All girls will spend the night inside the community center. Following breakfast in the morning the camp will be dismissed.

Council decided to not participate in a County or District Favorite Foods Show this year. Following all the lessons conducted by trained leaders the girls will be ready for next year.

Nine 4-H council members from each of the 6 clubs were present. These present were Reba Lesly of Farwell Girls 4-H Club, Linda Schilling and Alice Duran of Friona Sr. 4-H Club Girls, Wanda Huddleston of Rhea 4-H Girls 4-H Club, Katie Blackstone and Judy Koelzer of Lazbuddie Sr. 4-H Club Girls, Carolyn Annear of Lazbuddie Jr. 4-H Club Girls, and Sherri Tannahill of Friona Jr. 4-H Club Girls.

Adult leaders attending were Mrs. Leon Billingsley, Mrs. L. H. Schilling, Mrs. Glenn Annear, Mrs. U. L. Lesly, Mrs. C. W. Tannahill, and Mrs. Joe Jesko, and home demonstration agent, Miss Ettie Musil.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

There is a very poor farming practice that is usually carried on in Parmer county. This is the practice of burning residue from wheat and barley.

This practice burns up valuable organic matter which is scarce even on those farms where the residue is properly managed. Organic matter is necessary for bacteria to feed on and those bacteria are what makes plant nutrients available for plant growth.

Properly managed residues should be worked into the soil surface and this will serve a dual purpose. It will protect the soil from erosion and provide organic matter for plant growth and crop production.

Repay your soil part of what you borrow from it by making a deposit of crop residue.

ganization, or a member of no organization, here is a subject of vital importance to you: There is a bill, S. 1945 which will be under consideration in Washington soon. It is a bill amending the present provisions of public law 78 which has been passed by the House for a two year extension with the urgent insistence of Farm Bureau. Those who opposed extension of the Bracero law have almost unanimously blamed Farm Bureau for its passage. Now that the Senate is considering the extension, it is important that the above mentioned amendment not be allowed to attach itself to Public Law 78.

Here are some of the things it would do: 1. Limit the number of Mexican Nationals to be employed by any one employer. 2. Require employers of Mexican Nationals to provide written contracts, work guarantees, subsistence payments, free housing & transportation (or monetary allowance therefore) and workmen's compensation to the domestic workers they employ. 3. Mexican Nationals could be employed only for "temporary or seasonal occupations." 4. Mexican Nationals could not be employed in the "operation of power driven machinery." 5. Wages to Mexican workers on any farm (and therefore to domestic workers as well) would be required to be increased each year by the lesser of: a. 10 cents an hour b. by an amount to bring the wage paid to the average farm wage in the state. c. by an amount to bring the wage paid to the national farm average wage. We have, of necessity, abbreviated the points in the proposed amendment. We have for your inspection more detail on the proposed change in the office. It is urgently necessary that many farmers write their senators opposing the above amendment.

There is another bill called "Farm Stabilization Act of 1961" that needs your immediate attention and written opposition. It's actually a farm labor bill that would completely regulate your hiring and paying of farm labor. It is Senate Bill 1129 by Senator Williams of New Jersey and House Resolution 5290 by Congressman Selenke of New York. It is a very one sided proposal because the farmer would have to accept major responsibilities for the benefit of the laborer, such as guaranteeing not less than 160 hours of work for each four week period at "prevailing hourly wage rate" for similar work in the area, while there would be no enforceable responsibility on the part of the laborer. The program is referred to as voluntary, but as we see it, it is about as voluntary as your decision as to whether or not to pay your income tax. We hope to see individual farmers taking an active interest in these laws being proposed.

South African Lad Learns Parmer County Irrigation

Peter Hewlett, a young farmer from South Rhodesia, British crown colony in South Africa, passed up a chance for a college education to come to the United States to study cattle feeding operations.

For the past year he has been earning his keep, and learning some of the feeding and farming operations of his American counterparts, by working as a farm and ranch hand at various places throughout the country.

He came to Parmer County from Lubbock about two weeks ago and since that time has been learning about irrigation on the farm of Keith Brock, four miles southwest of Friona.

When he landed in the U. S. on May 26, 1960, the 20-year-old Hewlett first went to work on a farm in Vermont. He stayed there for four months, later toured much of the Midwest and went to California, then came to Texas where he worked on a ranch in South Texas and at Leuders Feed Lot in Lubbock.

Hewlett, son of a farmer and rancher in South Rhodesia, plans to leave for Missouri this week end where he will work on a ranch for two months, and then continue on to New York where he plans to sail for home in September.

When he returns to his homeland, Hewlett hopes to put to good use on his father's farm the things he has learned in the United States.

Here in Parmer County, the young farmer has been mostly concerned about applying irrigation water to farmland, but has also been driving the tractor is ranchland, and about 1,800 acres are used for growing corn.

His father's ranch is small in comparison to the average ranch in South Rhodesia, which Hewlett says, normally are from 50,000 acres up. However, his farm land, is comparatively large.

The average yield on corn, Hewlett says, is around 40 bushels per acre, "but if we had some way of watering the crop during the two hot summer months of March and April, we could probably produce 100 bushels per acre."

He points out that there is plenty of rain during January and February, the early part of the growing season, "but then it just quits."

In March and April, when the crop is reaching maturity, there is a drought and the corn suffers.

That's why Hewlett hopes the irrigation knowledge he picks up on Brock's farm here in Parmer County will help in getting an irrigation project under way when he gets home.

There is plenty of water on his father's farm, especially since 6,000 acres of it was recently included as part of a 45-mile lake. The lake was built jointly by the government and a citrus company which recently started a farming operation there.

Hewlett hopes that something can be worked out whereby he and his father can irrigate their crops with water from the lake.

There is also an ample supply of underground water in South Rhodesia, but irrigation has never been developed, Hewlett says. The reason is duely largely to the fact that there is no well-drilling equipment capable of handling an irrigation well similar to those here on the Plains.

The average depth to water in South Rhodesia is around 120 feet, Hewlett says, and most of the domestic wells are four inches in diameter. There is no equipment for drilling larger ones, and it would be quite expensive to acquire any, he says.

Besides growing corn and raising cattle, another phase of the operation at the Brucehame Estate, the name of the Hewlett farm and ranch, is dairy cattle. His father has a good-size dairy herd and some hay is grown for feed.

It is crops such as hay and alfalfa that farmers in South Rhodesia do irrigate some, "but we do it by flooding and with a sprinkler system," Hewlett explains.

There is no open ditch, tube irrigation like that done on the Plains.

"By adapting the open-ditch irrigation like you have here, we should be able to save a lot of water," Hewlett says.

Brock says that Hewlett does make "a good hand" and he catches on fast. "When I first put him on a tractor, I made the first round with him and he took it from there," Brock says.

"He can now make just as straight a row as I can," Brock adds.

How did Hewlett happen to go to work for Brock here in Parmer County?

While he was working on a farm in California, his employer's daughter was a good friend of Brock's wife, the two of them having worked as interns together at a California hospital back in 1956.

The two women had kept in touch with one another since that time, and when Hewlett left California, a letter was sent to Mrs. Brock asking if they would meet Hewlett when he came through here and would show him around.

Hewlett came through here last October, and besides showing him around Parmer County, Brock took him to Lubbock where he managed to get a job with Leuders Feed Lot.

After completing his stay in Lubbock, Hewlett asked if he could come work for Brock for a couple of weeks before going on to his next job in Missouri.

Hewlett arranged for his trip to the United States through the American Consul in his country. The consul in turn contacted the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the USDA made arrangements for some of Hewlett's first jobs.

Other jobs were those which he found on his own after he arrived.

Hewlett's father paid for his trip over and will also finance the trip home, but during his stay here Hewlett has financed his travels and his room and board with money earned at his various jobs.

He says that his stay in the U. S. has been interesting and educational, "but I am looking forward to going home."

A buddy who came along with Hewlett returned to South Rhodesia last November.

Of all the places he has visited in the U. S., Hewlett says "I like Texas best," and he hastily adds, "I'm not saying that just to be polite."

He says that the people here have all been friendly, and the climate here, "especially in South Texas, is much like that at home."

A few points that Hewlett made about his home country: In South Rhodesia the Blacks outnumber the Whites by about 18 to 1.

On the Hewlett farm, 110 Blacks are employed. They are paid $10 a month, plus food and lodging for the entire family. Their food consists chiefly of cornmeal and some meat.

There has been racial tension in the past, but the barriers are gradually being broken down. "There is not much tension now," Hewlett says.

The Blacks can vote, providing they can meet certain standards. The Blacks occupy about 10 per cent of the seats in parliament.

Farm equipment used in his country is about the same as that used in the U. S., with the exception of harvesting machines. Most of the harvesting is done by hand.

One of the biggest problems in raising cattle are the ticks. They are so numerous that the cattle all have to be dipped once a week.

The price of good land in South Rhodesia is only about $5 per acre.

Average rainfall is 26 inches per year.

South Rhodesia is still an English colony, but Hewlett says the country hopes to gain its independence in the near future.

Of Parmer County, Hewlett says, "I have been impressed with the area, and from what I can see, irrigation has been the reason for the growth of the area. I think that my country could also prosper from irrigation such as you have here."

My Baby Draws Up Her Toes When I Try To Put Her Shoes On. Any Suggestions?

I have heard of one sure cure" It works--sometimes. Holding the leg straight by grasping the knee, your fingers behind the knee cause the foot to relax in much the same way as placing your finger under your nose stops a sneeze. That doesn't always work either.

In the store we find that most shoe - fighting babies stop fighting when we put on larger shoes. It is not the shoes that babies dislike but the smallness of them.

Your baby can't explain reasons for disliking her shoes but they are her feet and she is probably a good authority on the question of whether or not her toes are cramped.

Santa Fe Launches New Bindweed Attack

Representatives of Santa Fe Railroad have returned to Farmer County for the second straight year to renew their fight against bindweed along the railway right-of-way. Ronald E. Mock, of Santa Fe's division engineers, and a two-man crew were in Farmer County Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week spreading Benzabor, a dry acid, on spots of bindweed missed last year and new ones that had been located by the county weed control committee. Santa Fe undertook the bindweed fight for the first time last year, and of the areas treated, "we got from 75 per cent to 90 per cent kill," Mock says. Mock and a representative of the Borax Company, manufacturers of Benzabor, came back several months after the first application was made last year and checked the effectiveness of the weed killer. Mock has kept a map of all the areas treated, the conditions under which the chemical was applied, and how effective the bindweed program has been. He estimates that after five years, Santa Fe can have a complete kill on all bindweed on the railroad right-of-way in the county. Last year 900 pounds of the Benzabor was applied to five acres, and this year Santa Fe is applying about 700 pounds. The dry acid is applied with a PCB spreader, strapped to a person's shoulder. It will carry a 25-pound bag of the compound and cover an area from 8 to 10 feet wide. Santa Fe, is carrying on the bindweed control program, is co-operating with the Farmer County Weed Control Committee. The weed committee, of which J. T. Jones of Bovina is chairman, locates the weed and makes a chart of the right-of-way so that the railroad engineers will have little trouble finding it. The weed control committee has been carrying on its fight against bindweed for eight years, attempting to educate farmers and other interested persons on the harmful effects of the noxious weed. Besides the railroad, other groups cooperating in the program have been the state highway department, Farmer County Commissioners Court, the ASC office, city commissions in the county, and other groups. Many farmers have undertaken weed control efforts on their individual farms, and all in all, the entire program has been effective. However, a great deal of work remains to be done, especially on many individual farms, say representatives of the committee. Bindweed, if it goes untreated, will expand one-third its original size in one year.

Cotton is a little ragged and is not as healthy as we would like. It looks a little rough to you, just stop and remember this time last year and you will feel a lot better. As a whole way ahead of last year. THRIIP control continues and with some hot nights we would be off to a good cotton year. More farmers are using early season insect control programs this year to get cotton off to the best start possible.

The early season program here is directed primarily toward THRIIP and Fleahopper control to get the young plants started and set the first fruit the plant puts on. The late season control program should be primarily to protect fruit on the plant and to insure continued fruiting until the plant can hold no more fruit.

Keep in mind the early season insect control program should be discontinued at least 30 days prior to the expected build up of the cotton bollworm. The bollworm usually begins to build up here and about the third or fourth week in July. This means we should discontinue the early season control program the last part of June unless the THRIIP and Fleahopper are still found in damaging numbers. Where early season programs have been carried out effectively the THRIIP and Fleahopper population should be low enough in late June that we could discontinue poisoning for these two cotton pest. Check your field close 3 or 4 times a week and know what is happening out there.

I was discussing the new Barn loan program with Archie Tarter, Chairman of the County A.S.C. Committee, the other day and I feel he and the committee have taken a very good attitude toward the farmers use of this loan. If you need a barn I'd suggest you discuss it with Mr. Mills and the committee. This program looks rather attractive to me if you could make use of such construction on your farm.

I have just received a good publication from the office of civil defense on the Family Fallout Shelter. If you are considering new construction you should take a look at it before you build. This type shelter will also serve as another room, storage, and storm shelter. Yes, it has many uses and may be needed one of these times. The publication is free for the asking, just call or come by.

I am leaving Saturday for Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colorado, where I'll attend the Western Regional Extension School for three weeks. I plan to take two courses, "Agricultural Marketing for Extension Workers," and "Principals in the Development of Agricultural Policy." I'll be back in my office July 10, but in the meantime my secretary and Miss Musil will be able to help you out with most things, so don't fail to call on them.

Mr. Ronald Mock with the Santa Fe Railroad was by my office Monday morning to let us know he is here poisoning Field Bindweed on Santa Fe property. I wonder just how many of you who own land or are charged with the responsibility of land here in the county are making plans to rid this land of field bindweed in 1961. This is something for us all to consider whether we own or control farm land, right-of-ways, or city property.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Help, help. We've been invaded. Now don't stop now with panic, but read on. Have you ever seen such a sight in your life? Yes, I'm talking about the black and orange harlequin cabbage bugs.

This insect is taking over turnips, mustard, radishes, and cabbage. Oh, and we can't over look them in lilac bushes, elm, and ash trees. Just to be safe, look for them in your garden, flower beds, and trees.

Since the harlequin cabbage bug is a sucking insect you will need to use 5% malathion. Follow directions on the label for chemical and water proportions. Be very careful not to spill any of the spray on your skin. If the spray settles on you, or your skin, wash it off immediately. A lady once told me that her husband broke out in blisters and was a very sick man because he did not follow the caution when handling insecticides.

When spraying mustard and turnip greens, cabbage and radishes with malathion wait 7 days before harvesting any of the greens or vegetable. Remember the cranberry scare. After 7 days be sure to wash the vegetables very carefully, rinsing a number of times.

If your garden or shrubs are bothered with insects, write, call or come by for two very good bulletins "Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops" and "Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

If you can't identify the insects, you can follow an easy rule for controlling insects. If the insect sucks on the tender leaves or stems spray with malathion, Lindane, or toxaphene. Don't use toxaphene on garden vegetables when edible portions begin to form. Sucking insects could include thrips, aphids, spider mites, whiteflies, lace bugs, and mealy bugs. For leaf eating insects such as ants, blister beetles, bagworms, webworms, grasshoppers, crickets, armyworms, and leaf beetles use other chemicals. These insecticides would include dieldrin, aldrin, and chlordane. For bark and wood boring insects use DDT sprays. More information is described in these insect control bulletins. We are proud of the hard work Judy and Bruce Billingsley, and Gary Foster put into the 4-H contests at Texas 4-H Roundup last week. Even though they did not place as the top three teams in each contest they gave the other teams much competition. Judy, Bruce, and Gary were very good losers. They were happy to have had the experience of participating in state competition.

Helton Team Takes First Place In Jaycee Softball League

Going into a first place standing in the Jaycee Softball league was Helton's Oil Company team from Farwell, as they defeated the Santa Fe Team from Clovis Tuesday evening in a close game.

Santa Fe was in first place going into the game, with a 2-0 record, and Helton's was in a second place deadlock with the Sherley-Anderson team with both having 2-1 records.

Santa Fe took an early lead in the game by scoring two runs in the first inning. Anaya received a base on balls and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Archie was safe at first on an error, and both scored when Bruce Davis hit a triple into right field. Davis failed to touch second rounding the bases, and was called out when Helton's shortstop Eddie Smith tagged the base.

Jerry Henson led off for the locals and singled to left field but Helton's remained scoreless as Kelso grounded out and the next two batters, Eddie Smith and Raymond Hadley filed out to retire the side.

It was three up and three down for both sides in the second inning, and Helton's had little trouble retiring the Santa Fe team in the top of the third.

Helton's came alive in their part of the third, with Kelso getting a double and scoring on a triple by Eddie Smith. Smith scored when Raymond Hadley knocked a four bagger to push the team ahead 3-2.

The locals kept the railroaders scoreless in their next four times at bat to sew up the game.

Hadley went all the way for the Helton team and struck out five men while allowing only one walk.

Next league game for the locals will be Tuesday, June 20, when they meet the Cannon Fliers. Saturday Helton's Oil will play Booth Pharmacy of Portales in a practice game.

In other action Monday, the commissioners set the taxable value of city residential property at 10 per cent of the actual value, and the taxable value of business property at 20 per cent of the actual value.
