It will be a fun administration

Well, it's now President Clinton. I wish him the best, as we all do.

But I'm not real optimistic. I guess what did it were those articles I've been reading the past few weeks about Clinton discovering that a lot of his campaign promises will have to be put "on hold."

Items like health care, a lower tax burden for the middle class, cutting the federal deficit. I guess they're not that important anyway, right?

What really grates me is that the reason he was elected was basically because of those pledges. And a lot of folks (not me) voted for him because they believed.

It takes an unusual kind of person to believe a politician. I don't want to appear cynical but it's not hard to get the feeling that a politician offers promises like candy is to a baby.

Anyway, Clinton is now in the thick of it. He is now responsible for the many problems facing the U.S. and its citizens. They always say that the first 100 days of a new administration is like a honeymoon period, which should be the case since the Congress is heavily Democratic.

But I don't think it will happen. I believe much of the gridlock that folks have seen in Washington will continue, even though the executive branch is now controlled by the Democrats, too.

The reason why is that for anything meaningful to be approved will not be politically smart - resulting in placing politicians' jobs on the line. No intelligent Congressman or Senator is about to risk that plush livelihood by voting for something unpopular, even though it may be important to the well-being of the nation and its future.

First things first - like your own neck. Thus, gridlock will continue because the gridlock is not between two branches of government but rather in the congressional branch itself. I doubt many folks realize that.

Of course, I could be wrong. And I hope I am. I would love to write a column in a few months praising President Clinton and the Congress for passing some important measures to solidify our nation's future. It could happen. And I hope it does.

My problem is that I've been watching government long enough - and have lived in the D.C. area.

As I wrote years ago in this space, I discovered at that time that the federal government employees didn't give a hoot nor a holler about anyone in this country other than their own kind in the immediate Washington area. If folks throughout the U.S. understood the truth in that, there would be a national revolt. But they don't - including most readers of this column.

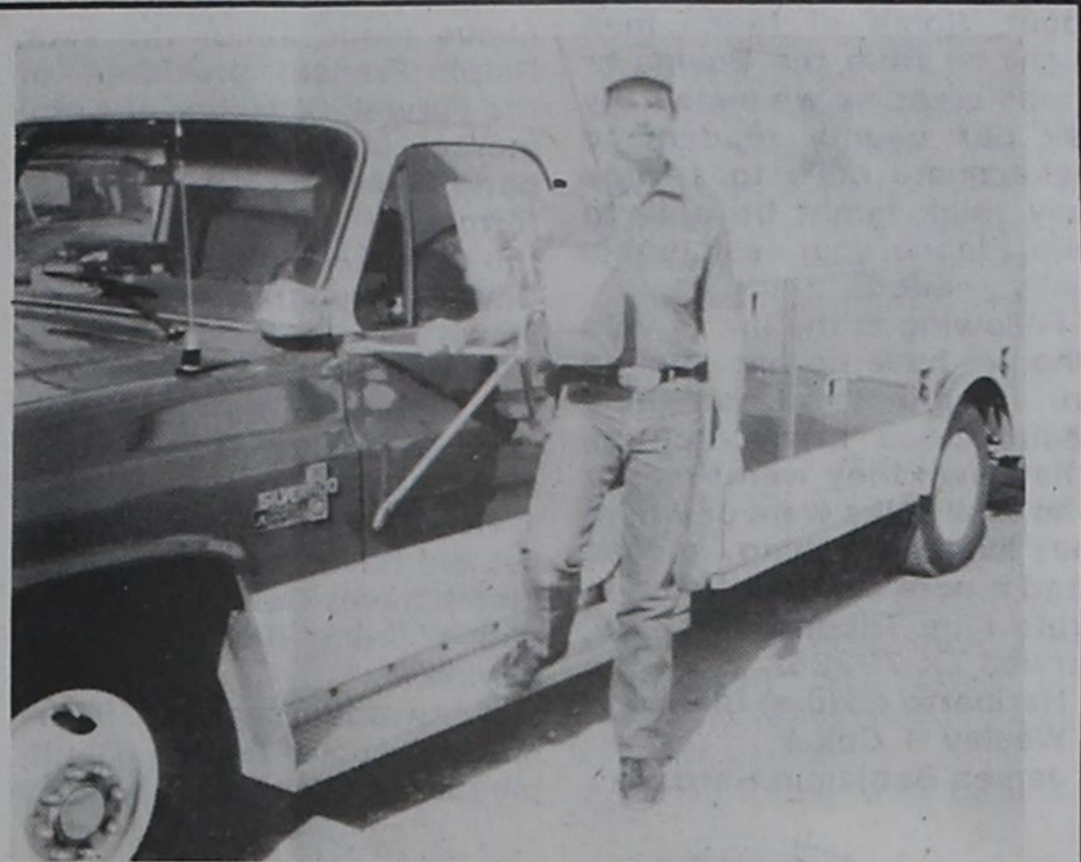

The reason I repeat that statement is to illustrate the real problem that President Clinton faces. A bureaucracy that will fight him tooth and nail, plus lawmakers who don't want to make new laws.

It will be a fun administration. ***

First, I want to thank all the folks who have called with information about the Parmer County servicemen who gave their lives during wartime.

We're seeking that information so we can present some background in the Tribune on the vets whose names will be inscribed in the Parmer

Open house

The Lazbuddie Volunteer Fire Department held an open house Saturday at its new Clay's Corner station. The department now has 6 trucks for the two stations. Above, Doyle Weir, EMT intermediate certified, is shown with the department's ambulance. It was bought through a state grant. Weir is now qualified to give IV's and he has completed Advanced Airways training. Below, Fire Chief Glenn Lusk, left, and Assistant Chief Nicky Nickels stand alongside some of the vehicles on display. The open house drew a good turnout of folks who enjoyed the chili lunch.

Three finalists for police post

The Farwell City Council Tuesday announced there were three finalists for the post of Farwell city police officer.

The council accepted the report of its police search committee - councilmen Pat Howard, Royce Bethel and John Carlson, and private citizens Mike and Donna Ratke and Colleen and Jerry Stover.

The group went through 24 resumes, all from men. Howard said he ran background checks on the three finalists and all are licensed in Texas.

The council will invite the finalists to meet with it individually Feb. 6.

Mayor Chris Gikas complimented the committee on its work.

The council also approved seeking bids on a Ford Taurus as a police vehicle. It will be white with blue lettering - Farwell School's colors.

The first year for a city police department is expected to cost about $46,000, including insurances.

Salary will be about $18,000 for the man chosen. A car will be bought for about $16,000.

The city will use funds in its Certificates of Deposit to pay for the department's start. After a year, the council will have to determine how to continue its funding.

In other business, the council:

- Approved a request from city Fire Chief Joel White to have the city fund between 2 and 4 fire department members to attend a week-long fire school at Texas A & M for them. If those who attend graduate the course, the city receives a fire credit on its insurance key rate.

- Opened insurance bids. But they were tabled so all the bidders could include worker's compensation in their bids. Bids will be discussed at a special council meeting Jan. 28.

- Also at the Jan. 28 meeting, the council will meet with Gordon Smith, manager of TCA Cable to discuss a rate increase. It was noted that there have been some interruptions recently in cable service. This is due to work being done to improve the cable transmission due to FCC regulations, the council learned. The council also wants to talk with Smith about rain problems causing cable outages.

- Received two bids to be the city's bank depository, from Security State Bank and the Farwell branch of Muleshoe State Bank. Security State was picked by a 4-1 vote.

- Approved a request from Border Town Days Committee Chairman Mike Pomper to waive its fee to use the Farwell Community Center for the queen's contest preliminary judging the Thursday before BTD.

- Heard Water Supt. Dee Hammit report that there may be a problem with the addition being built to the Farwell elementary school because there's a sewer line under that school. The council voted to inform the school that an engineer's opinion will be necessary before construction. Even though it's a city school, it's on school property so the council feels the school system should pay the engineer's cost.

- Noted that the school construction includes demolishing the tennis courts, which were built with state funds. The council voted to write to Farwell School officials noting that the school system must rebuild the courts.

- Approved buying a new copier from Hollands. It will cost $1,500 plus trade-in.

- Approved a building permit, with certain stipulations, for Cecilia Quesada, who lives on Ninth Street, to move a 35' x 50' house from Bovina to vacant lots in the 200 block of First Street.

Lazbuddie stock show scheduled

The Lazbuddie Junior Livestock Show will be held at 1 p.m. on Jan. 23 at the old Cooperative Building in Lazbuddie.

Weigh-in will be held from 9 - 11 a.m.

This year's judge will be Bill Bender of Hereford.

Prizes this year will include jackets from Joe's Boot Shop, belt buckles from Sherley Anderson Grain and other individuals, and ribbons from the North Lazbuddie Gin.

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County Sheriff Rex Williams:

The TV and VCR taken from Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church last week have been recovered in Clovis by Clovis police.

They were found in a stolen vehicle and 2 Clovis juvenile boys were apprehended in connection with the theft.

Williams said one of the boys reportedly was wearing the hat stolen from Dutch

Man found dead here

Anthony Daniel Alvarez, 49, was found dead Tuesday night when the Texico Fire Department was called to 620 Garwood St.

His death is under investigation. The body was sent to Albuquerque where an autopsy was scheduled for Jan. 20.

Alvarez had been staying at the Garwood address. According to Clovis medical examiner Bob Morgan, Alvarez had also lived in Clovis and Albuquerque recently, and was listed as having no permanent address.

Steed - Todd Funeral Home is handling the local arrangements.

All-Star

Lorissa Pate has been named to the New Mexico South All Star Volleyball Team. The team will play the North All Star team in Roswell on June 11.

County Memorial to be built this year at Farwell City Park.

But there are still a few servicemen we know nothing about. Some of these men might be from the Bovina or Friona areas so we especially ask our county readers to make some calls to anyone they think might be able to help. Please, your assistant is really needed.

Following is the list of vets who we have no background on. If you know anything about these men, such as what town they were from or who their folks were or where they lived - anything - please send a note to: Mike Pomper, State Line Tribune, Box 255, Farwell TX 79325:

Heriberto (Eddie) Blanco
Wesley H. Coker
James Benjamin Harrison

Larry J. Price
William Jennings Skulley

Folks, after I wrote the above piece about the vets, Ralph Franse, president of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce, stopped by the Tribune with some new information he received from the government about Parmer County casualties from World War II.

I checked the government's list against ours, and ours was obviously more inclusive, since it included other wars.

However, the government list did have one name that I didn't have: Gerald D. Gault, son of Irene Bromley Gault, Bovina.

If anyone has any information about Ensign Gault, please call me at 481-3681

Flemming to speak

The Texico Chamber of Commerce made plans for several upcoming events Monday.

Plans were made for a Pancake Breakfast which at the school cafeteria from 5-10:30 a.m. mst on April 3, when Texico sponsors its annual track meet. In the past, this meet has drawn athletes from about 25 schools.

The breakfast will be open to meet participants and their families, plus local folks. Tickets for the pancake and sausage breakfast will be $3.50 per person.

Elvis Flemming, a history teacher at Eastern New Mexico University will be the featured speaker at the Texico Chamber of Commerce dinner on April 27. Flemming will present a program of folk music, and cowboy poetry and comedy that showcase his knowledge of this region's history.

Plans were made for the Great Texico Golf Challenge, an unusual golf tournament to be held all around town on July 3. Anyone who is interested in this even should contact Ronnie Warmuth or other Chamber members.

The Chamber also voted to help sponsor Jessica Hadley in the Miss Teen New Mexico Contest.

Meet Farwell's Class of 2005

The youth of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church will serve a spaghetti dinner following the morning worship service on Jan. 24.

They plan to serve spaghetti, garlic bread, salad, and desserts.

Hope Shuman reports that she heard the voice of her grandson, Lt. Col. Robert Haseloff on "The Today Show" Monday morning.

Mrs. Shuman said that they gave his name and rank, and asked if he was ready to go on a run over Iraq, and he replied in the affirmative. Haseloff is an F-15 pilot.

Haseloff, attached to the 335th Fighter Squadron, also appeared on the NBC Nightly News where he spoke of the raids over Iraq.

Haseloff is the son of Henry Haseloff. He is a 1970 Farwell graduate. He attended Texas A & M where he participated in ROTC. Over the years, he has risen to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He has two children, J.R. and Camille.

Edd and Mildred Autrey flew to Raleigh, N.C. with their daughter, Sherron Hampton and family on the Sunday before Christmas.

They drove up to Washington, D.C. on Monday where they boarded a tour bus and toured the Capitol, the Smithsonian buildings, saw the changing of the guards at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers, and many more places of interest. Back at Raleigh they helped their great-grandson celebrate his first Christmas. The weather was fine out there other than cold.

The English IV students in Mrs. Hadley's class at Texico

High School went to Eastern New Mexico University Jan. 18 to work on their term papers.

Students went on a guided tour of the library, and they were shown how to use the Public Access Computer which has taken the place of the card catalogs. They also used InfoTrack which has taken the place of several indexes for periodical literature.

"It was extremely worthwhile," said Mrs. Hadley.

Aileen Teel presented a collection of short devotionals Jan. 4 at the monthly salad luncheon at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. The devotionals were drawn from "The Upper Room," and "Tell Me Again, Lord, I Forget."

Those present discussed the upcoming calendar of events.

Attending were: Jeannie Heacock, Maureen Caywood, Kayci Harmon, Aileen Teel, the Rev. Larry Heacock, Katherine White, and Judy Pomper.

Texico Student Council will host an honor roll party at 8:30 a.m. on Jan. 27 to honor those students who were named to the honor roll.

Dennis and Michele Hamans were in a car accident in Oklahoma recently, but they are back home safe and sound.

The Farwell JV girls go to the Whiteface Tournament this weekend.

State Sen. Teel Bivins (R-Amarillo) will serve as chairman of the Agriculture Subcommittee in the State Legislature this year.

He has also been named to the committees on Natural Resources, Finance, Education, and International Affairs, Trade and Technology.

On books & stamps

Lynne Mahaney presented a program, "We Grow Together With Books and Stamps," to the members of Alpha Rho Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when they met at her home on Jan. 14.

She showed the new stamps and stamp books that the Post Office has this year. She also displayed three pop-up books that she wrote and illustrated.

During a short business meeting, members discussed the upcoming Clovis Area Valentine Sweetheart Dance which will be held Feb. 6 at the Cannon Air Force Base Officers Club. Alpha Rho Lambda members will be taking tickets at the door for this event.

Following the meeting members enjoyed vegetables and dip, cheese bread, and peaches and cream cake served by Lynne Mahaney. Enjoying the refreshments were: Debbie Phillips, Colleen Stover, Cynthia Thigpen, Joyce Ketcherside, Peggy Goettsch and Judy Pomper.

2nd place

Geography Bee

Above, Lazbuddie Geography Bee winners were Edward Terry, left, an 8th grader, and Joshua McDonald. Terry won the school level competition of the National Geography Bee on Jan. 11. He is the son of Edward and JoDonna Terry. The runnerup is Joshua McDonald, son of Donnie and Jo Ann McDonald. Below, the Lazbuddie contestants included (front) Kati Mimms, Gabriel Juarez, Bobby Martha, Fabian Guzman, (rear) Dustin Weir, Edward Terry, Heath Brown, Amber Richardson, Brice Redwine and Joshua McDonald.

Recipe of Week

Dilled Yogurt Cheese

- 4 c. plain yogurt
- 1 Tbs. dried dill weed
- 1 tsp salt
- 2 cloves garlic, finely chopped

Line a large strainer with a coffee filter or a double thickness of cheesecloth. Place strainer in bowl. Mix all ingredients. Pour into strainer. Cover strainer and bowl. Refrigerate at least 12 hours. Serve with crackers. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Snow falls in the area

Between 2 and 3 inches of snow fell on the Twin Cities Monday night. Along with earlier freezing rain, conditions were slick Tuesday. But warmer temperatures

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday helped melt the white stuff.

Honor students listed

The following students were named to the Farwell High School Honor Roll for the 3rd six weeks' honor roll.
