Next week begins the Clean-Up Week campaign in Farwell. There are many bright spots of beauty in our town, but there are also areas that are badly in need of cleaning.

Beauty has a practical value and as we will need to soon start spending considerable sums of money to control our insects, we should make sure we get the best return for the money spent.

In addition to trash and brush removal, a little repair work coupled with a coat of paint will do wonders for a building. This will also have a practical cash value, both direct and indirect.

If you do not think so, ask our friends at First Federal Savings and Loan. They have a good sized financial stake in this area and will quickly tell that a community's overall appearance certainly affects the individual valuation of homes and buildings.

We know that as a result of this community effort, some will do a lot for the improvement of their property, some of us will do a little bit, and some will grumble and do nothing. Remember, as you eyeball your neighbor, his unkempt property is actually costing you money!

An aphorism of long standing says, "There are none so blind as those who won't see." A modern adaption of this might be, "There are none so mentally blind as those who won't listen to truth, history, or facts."

We are there to assure the Vietnamese people the right to freely determine for themselves their form of government. Remember, there are no United States or South Vietnamese troops in North Vietnam. We are not seeking to annex any land or peoples. We are not asking the South Vietnamese to vote our way.

We ask that they be allowed to hold a FREE election and make the decision for themselves. But, have you EVER heard of a FREE election under Communist regulation? Why do the Communists fear a FREE election? One answer might be because several million Vietnamese voted with their feet and left North Vietnam before the Communists choked off the route to freedom to the south. Find me one hideous iron fence around a free world country that is designed to keep its people IN as there is around the Communist world.

Yes, we are killing people in the course of our fighting. This is WAR, remember. But, where are our weeping hearts to bemoan the over 200 Vietnamese civilians who were mass slaughtered in Hue by the "Liberators"? Atrocities; the pages of history are replete with documented evidence of Communist terror, death, utter savagery, and complete disregard of human life or worth. Those who won't see, will never see; those who won't learn from history are destined to relive it.

Run-Off Election --

Parmer Voters Okay Preston Smith, Joy

Parmer County went along with other Texans Saturday in giving Preston Smith the gubernatorial nomination of the Democratic Party in the primary run-off.

Voters here also gave the nod to James A. Joy of Plainview for associate justice, Court of Civil Appeals, over his opponent Jack Hazlewood of Amarillo. Smith got a land-slide margin in Parmer County over Don Yarborough in the governor's race, the total vote standing at 854 for Smith, 246 for Yarborough.

A total of 1106 votes were cast in the county, over 500 less than cast in the May primary.

Joy received 599 Parmer votes while Hazlewood garnered 478.

In Bovina, the vote went 149 for Smith, 83 for Yarborough. In the associate justice race, however, Bovina favored Hazlewood with 125 votes to Joy's 97.

Lakeview, Friona and Farwell precincts gave the largest margin of votes to Smith, 12-1 at Lakeview, over 4-1 in Friona and about 6-1 in Farwell.

Included in the total were 58 absentee ballots cast in the county.

No voting box in Parmer County favored Yarborough, but three gave a majority of votes to Hazlewood, loser in the race.

In addition to Bovina, Farwell and Lazbuddie counted 110-64 and 34-26, respectively for the Amarillo attorney.

Preston Smith will now meet Republican nominee Paul Eggers in the gubernatorial race to be decided in the November general election.

A complete tabulation of precinct voting appears in this issue of The Blade.

O. C. McBRIDE:

Dear Turnrow Tunkel . . .

DON'T YOU think our young people should show more respect for their elders?

Yes, My parents taught me to address men older than myself as "Sir". I still do it, although the occasion doesn't come up too often any more.

I UNDERSTAND Federal authorities have ruled that each grade school in Berkeley must have an enrollment of 59 per cent white students, 28 per cent Negroes and 13 per cent Orientals. I thought the schools in my home town were properly integrated, but apparently they are not. If we are going to comply with the law, the Government will have to send us some Chinamen.

DID YOU know that crude oil was once considered a cure-all for many illnesses?

I think it still helps in case of sickness. Anyone who has to enter a hospital these days needs a couple of oil wells.

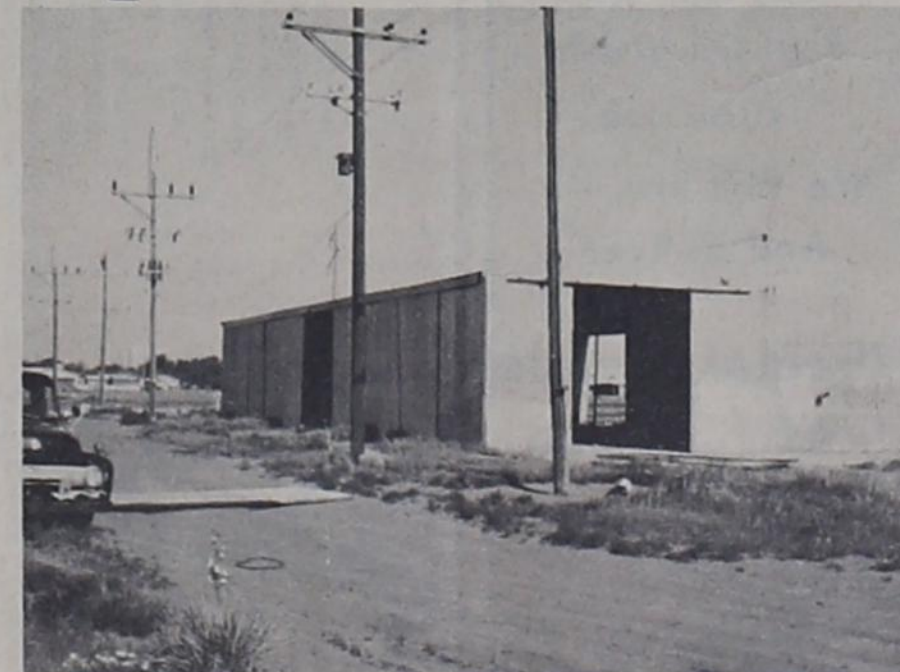

DID YOU read about the fellow in New Jersey who sued a photographer because the wedding pictures of his bride made her appear unattractive? Since cameras don't lie, I don't think he has much of a case. If her biscuits turn out bad, I wonder if he will sue the flour manufacturer.

I SEE where the Senate has voted to cut off foreign aid to nations that seize American fishing vessels on the high seas. That's an unreasonable attitude. First thing you know we'll be insisting that countries receiving our aid stop burning our embassies.

WHAT DID you think of Frank Sinatra's announcement that he will support Vice-President Humphrey for the Democratic nomination?

I don't think Hubert should let that discourage him. There's always the chance that Stokeley Carmichael will come out for Bobby Kennedy, and Adam Clayton Powell will endorse Gene McCarthy.

Clean-Up Week Set June 10-15

A good place to begin clean-up week in Farwell is in such areas as these where weeds are growing in profusion and old discarded buildings are creating an eyesore to the surrounding area. All residents are urged to get into the act and clear away weeds from their premises and even add a fresh coat of paint to some of the buildings. It's wonderful what a little work will accomplish. Mayor Elmer Hargrove has proclaimed the week of June 10-15 as Clean-Up Week in Farwell. The program is being sponsored by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

Confessions Of A 'Hawk'

It would seem that in this day and age, a tendency exists to classify people into distinct categories, depending upon their views toward the war in Vietnam. The most common designations are "hawk" and "dove."

Strictly speaking, Webster defines hawk, as "Any of a family of diurnal birds of prey" and dove as "a pigeon - applied specif. to many of the smaller species." Now nobody I know, regardless of their views on the war, falls into either of those two categories. Neither do they fall into the commonly accepted definitions of "one who is for war" and "one who is against war." Instead, it has been my observation that both "hawks" and "doves" share one common purpose - to end the war in Vietnam. Where things get a little sticky, is when the question of "how?" is brought up. For the benefit of all you so-called doves in the reading audience, I would like to clarify the position of all of us so-called hawks.

Contrary to popular opinion, we are not warlike. I myself do not even own a gun, let alone a suit of armor fully equipped with napalm sword and anti-personal lance. I have never, nor do I ever wish, to take another human being's life. In fact, I will go to the brink of an auto accident to keep from running over a jackrabbit. Most of us do not own a war games set, much less a thermonuclear tipped ICBM.

We do however share one common belief - when stepped upon, and all peaceful recourses are tried, and all fail, step back. We will turn the other cheek, but not to the point that our neck is broken from the twisted position of our head. We do not share the belief of some that all people in this world are church going, Christian, peace-loving children of God. We have seen too many Adolf Hitlers, Joe Stalins, and other two bit conquerors, to accept that. Instead, we believe that until a nation is emotionally mature enough to live in peace with its neighbors, it must be kept in check - by reasoning if possible, by force if necessary. Otherwise, we are in danger of plunging back into the dark ages, where scientific discovery and intellectual pursuit are crushed beneath the heel of political oppression.

Ironically, if certain individuals in our society had their way, the intellectualism which they profess to treasure would soon be ground into dust.

I hope that the preceding serves to clarify our views somewhat, and I would like once again to assure all you so-called doves, that all we so-called hawks do not grow horns and carry a trident. We are simply interested in preserving the freedom that allows you and we alike to speak our views without fear of hearing that ominous knock on our door in the middle of the night.

Patrolman Investigates Accidents

Highway Patrolman Robert Sheed investigated three accidents Saturday. Two of the accidents were in the area east of Farwell and the third accident at 12:45 a.m. Sunday, was in the area north of Bovina where a resident of the Rhea Community was involved in a collision with a cow. In the cow-vehicle accident, the animal was killed and the vehicle, a 1967 Chevrolet, was totaled; however, the driver of the vehicle escaped injury.

First of the accidents involved a Chevrolet pickup driven by Juan Flores. It occurred around 5 a.m. Saturday morning four miles southwest of Lazbuddie on a county road intersection. The vehicle overturned one time totaling the pickup and injuring the driver who received a severe gash in his head.

In the other accident, a Ford Bronco driven by Lee Meeks, rural mail carrier on Farwell, Rte 1, and a Chevrolet pickup driven by Clyde McDonald of Farwell Fertilizer Company collided at a county road intersection nine miles northeast of Farwell. Each of the vehicles received approximately $500 damage and Meeks was hospitalized with injuries to his back, and bruises and lacerations over his body. He was thrown clear of the vehicles and skidded on the gravelled road. McDonald received minor bruises, but was not treated.

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Mike Getz
State Line Tribune
Dear Mr. Getz:

I am a former resident of Texico and have subscribed to your paper by mail since my leaving, last year.

Last week I read an editorial which alarmed me considerably. You, in effect, as I understood it, were condemning the Paris peace talks under the grounds that the "Reds" are only using this lull in the war to reinforce their actions toward conquering South Vietnam.

I ask you then, if you were placed in such a position what would you do? You are bound by chains on hands and feet to a stone wall and a group of 20 men each have machine guns trained on you. If one of those 20 gives you a knife and says "We'll talk it over for a moment," would you not do your "damndest" to cut him up before he went ahead and shot you?

Those "things" that we are fighting against are not "Reds", they are not "soldiers," they are people.

I fully agree with Mr. Eugene McCarthy when he says that Peace will take time; but it CAN come if people would wake up to the fact that we are dealing with people in North Vietnam, not animals. We are killing people not animals. We are sending our people over there to be killed.

The United States can't seem to decide what we are fighting for. We are fighting for "freedom," but what is that? Is that the right to destroy a respectable university or bring destruction on a complete city (Detroit)? Or is "freedom" the privilege of forcing the South Vietnamese to have an election and elect a pro-American leader?

You people send a 19 year old boy to Vietnam to carry the flag high and write home to Mom every day and eat his apple pie on Sundays. That's all fine for a week or two or three, but then he suddenly realizes that the U. S. is thousands of miles from him and he must kill a man he has never met, just to stay alive. Then, all the glow of freedom, etc., is lost in gunfire.

Mr. Getz, I'm sorry for it but in a way I'm jealous of you. You have in your power the press, the tool with which to influence the population, be it in a very minute scale. You have the power of propoganda. Of course that is a thing that only "dirty commies" use but nevertheless it's there under whichever label you choose to classify it.

Yes, I'm one of those stinking dissenters (not a draft dodger yet), but maybe we dirty, filthy dissenters have a valid point, not in being Communist or Anti-American, but by being against violence and war and having a legitimate argument behind our thoughts.

I only wish I could get earth-shaking results with this small comment instead of its being doomed to file 13, but I will be content with staying under and doing my little part (however small) to try to bring about a last peace on Earth.

Very Sincerely,
Allan Breitenbach

Lt. Danny Huffaker Tells About Vietnamese War

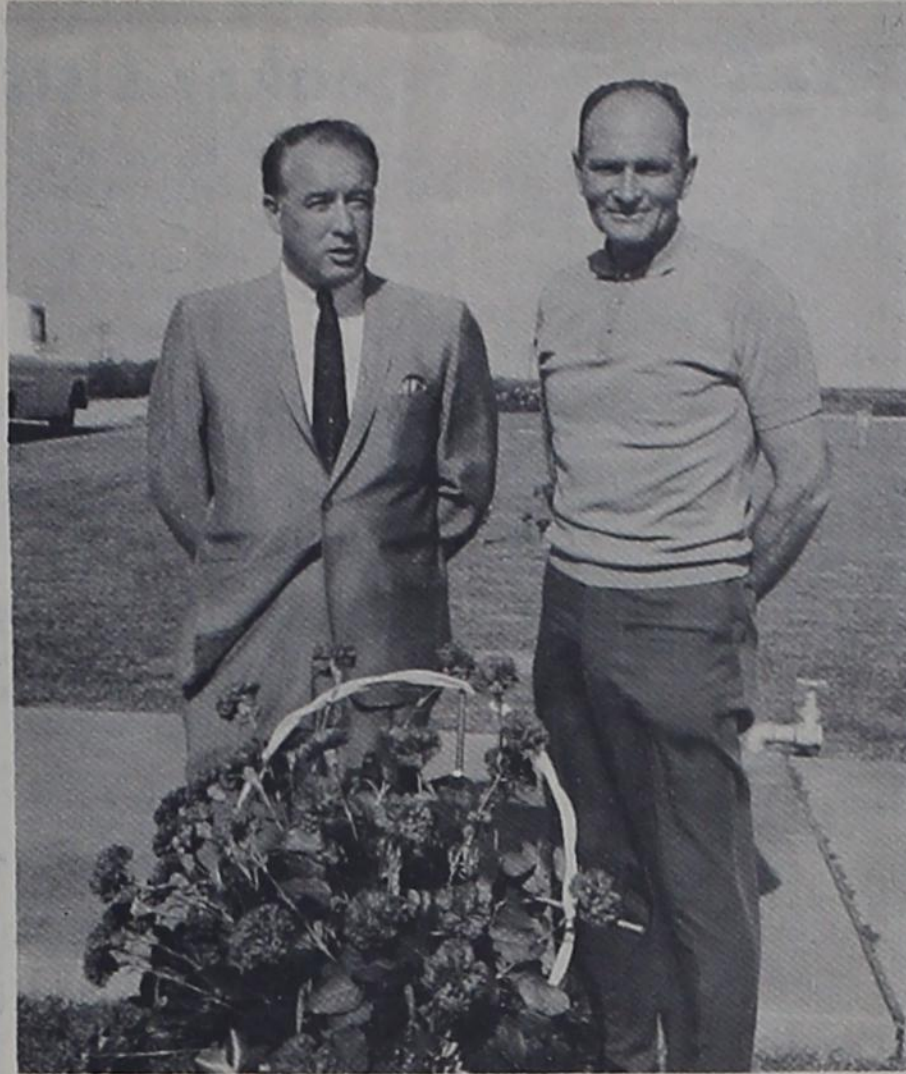

(EDITORS NOTE -- The following letter was written by First Lt. Danny W. Huffaker who has been stationed in Vietnam since December of 1967. Prior to that time he spent six months in Hawaii. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Huffaker of Farwell.)

I'm writing this to let you know some things about the Vietnam war. You hear how bad the people live, in the paper, but you have yet to see kids without legs and arms, but most important without a family, being killed by the enemy and us for they were just in the wrong place at the wrong time.

I was at Qui Nhon last week and outside the camp, next to the barb wire, were the kids waiting for candy or anything and would fight to get it. It's just like going to the Clovis zoo, but look inside the cage and see from 100 to 200 kids fighting for one peanut.

Some of you may think this country is ugly and not worth what we are paying for it. It is as beautiful as Hawaii and it is worth it.

You never think much about your freedom in America, but when you get over here and see just a few fighting for freedom you begin to think what a good thing freedom is. You really

Bob Gold Speaks At Memorial Day Service

Bob Gold, Clovis advertising representative, was speaker for the annual Memorial Day service at Sunset Terrace Memorial Park last Thursday. Gold gave an inspirational message and closed his talk with a poem, which was unfamiliar to most of those in attendance but very fitting for a Memorial Day Service.

Invocation was given by John Getz, publisher of the State Line Tribune, and closing prayer was led by Clay Henson of Farwell Hardware.

As has been the custom for several years, red carnations were presented to each person in attendance who had a loved one laid to rest at the cemetery, and these in turn were placed on the respective graves.

NURSERY NEWS

By Alvin Woodburn
Garden Center Nursery
Clovis, N.M.

We often hear the expression, "This has been a rose year". What is meant by this is that on the particular year the roses have done exceptionally well. The reason could well be attributed to life itself. There are a number of things that we do not know and next best is to try and figure what conditions were present that caused the rose to do as it did.

This January we had considerable moisture in the form of rain. It could well be that this was a contributing factor in that the moisture promoted root growth and made the plant food that was in the soil available to the plant. Another fact is that the nights have been and are still rather cool.

If man set himself up as knowing it all he would automatically do away with the need for research and experiments. Until he does, he can well continue to search and research for information to make his surroundings better.

There are more rose fanciers in the area than we realized. The proposed rose test plot has gained momentum and is still gaining. We feel that to get the number of roses that we can and all in one place will create a spot of beauty and will furnish the homeowner a place to see the new roses and make up his mind as to what to use in landscaping his own yard.

This will not rule out the fact that any club, organization, or individual can get into it. They can by simply expressing a willingness to help and then doing something about it. There will be places for additional roses to be given in any form or manner that you would like. There will also be a need for some of the necessities such as fertilizer, spray and other items.

Mr. Merchant:

Starting June 3rd,
100,000 New Mexico Shoppers will be looking for this sign in your window!!!

July 1, 1968. That's the date that almost every responsible adult in New Mexico will be able to charge practically everything he buys... with one, convenient, all-purpose credit card.

It's the New Mexico's first total credit card. It's the New Mexico BankAmericard... the ultimate in credit. And, for a start, about 100,000 New Mexico shoppers will have it in their wallets and purses.

- Here's what's in it for them
- One monthly bill. During a given month the cardholder may charge a purchase from you, and let's say, from 20 other member merchants. Yet he gets just one monthly bill and writes just one check.
 - Extended payments. If the cardholder prefers to pay just part of his monthly bill, he can stretch the payments over a period of months. Minimum monthly payment $10 or 10% of balance, whichever is greater. For extended payments there is a small service charge made on the unpaid balance. But there is no charge when the full bill is paid within 25 days of the statement date.
 - Broad eligibility. Any credit-worthy adult is eligible for a BankAmericard. Cards will soon be mailed to about 100,000 people in New Mexico. Locally, applications will be available at member stores, at our bank and other BankAmericard banks throughout the state. Cardholders need not be customers of any of these banks.
 - Honored nationally. BankAmericards are now accepted from coast to coast. There are now over 6 million cardholders across the country.

- Here's what's in it for you, Mr. Merchant
- More and better customers. BankAmericard cardholders are responsible, active buyers... your best prospects. And as they become more familiar with the total convenience and ultimate good sense of New Mexico's first, real, all-purpose card, they'll seek out and support the member dealers and stores—and their number will include thousands of visitors who'll come to New Mexico with BankAmericards... and use them while they're here.
 - No credit risks or losses. We do all the credit checks. So when we issue a card, the credit responsibilities are ours. You can concentrate on selling your product or service.
 - Better cash position. As far as you're concerned, every sale is a cash sale. As your daily record of each sale reaches us, we credit your account. Immediately! With nothing tied up in receivables, you have more working capital.
 - Reduced administrative costs. You have fewer bills to send, fewer collection problems, fewer forms to stock, less paperwork. All in all, you have less of the detail that eats into your time and profits.
 - Intensive advertising support. The buying public will not only be supplied with the new BankAmericard, but they'll be told a great deal about it in nearly every major advertising medium.

These efforts will publicize and sell the program... and identify you with it.

Hundreds of merchants have already signed up. These are some of the area's most progressive businessmen... men who are sure that the New Mexico BankAmericard program will be a boon to both their customers and their business.

To be ready to capitalize on this business-building program, take steps now to get the BankAmericard sign in your window by the July 1 kickoff date. What do you do about it? A team of BankAmericard specialists is now spreading across New Mexico to explain the program more fully and sign up merchants. When one of them reaches you, climb aboard.

Joyce Bass Bride Of Errol Johnson

Joyce Lee Bass, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Bass, became the bride of Errol Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, in a 7 p.m. ceremony at Farwell First Baptist Church Saturday evening.

The bride's father read the double ring ceremony. Focal point of altar setting was a large bouquet of white gladioli and hot pink carnations surrounded by 15 branched spiral candelabra holding pink tapers, flanked by seven branched candelabra holding pink tapers. Interspersed throughout the setting were palms of emerald greenery. Centering the altar setting was a wrought iron kneeling bench entwined with ropes of ivy. A white wrought iron candelabrum holding two lighted pink tapers and an unlighted central candle stood at the left of the altar. Following the ceremony, the bride and groom blew out the lighted tapers and together lighted the central taper, signifying their life together. Family pews were marked by nosegays of hot pink.

Mrs. Donald Watkins, organist, played appropriate nuptial music preceding the wedding and also accompanied Jerry Field, soloist, and brother-in-law of the bride, when he sang, "More", and "Walk Hand in Hand," preceding the entrance of the wedding party and "Wedding Prayer" as a benediction at close of the ceremony.

Best man was Doyle Johnson, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Randy Johnson, also a brother of the groom, and Charles Roberts, a close friend. Ushers were Jimmy Mace, a life time friend of the groom, and Don Thomas, a college friend of the groom.

Candles were lighted by Janis Billingsley and Sherri Roberts, former classmates and close friends of the bride. Dondra Gerles and Dean Tankersley served as ringbearers.

Brides matron was Mrs. Sherry Field, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Jana Bass, a sister of the bride, and Ginger Hughes, a former classmate and close friend of the bride.

Bridal attendants were attired in street length pink lace dresses over satin designed with long sleeves fitting close at the wrists, and round necklines. Their headpieces were in matching hue and they wore dyed to match shoes. Little Miss Gerles was attired similarly to the other bridal attendants, but wore a white carnation corsage. Their flowers were cascades of white carnations and baby breath tied with pink satin bows and streamers. The candlelighters were attired in hot pink dresses designed similarly to those of the bridal attendants and wore white carnation corsages.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, chose a formal wedding gown of white peau de soie satin, designed with a fitted bodice, long sleeves terminating in petal points at the wrists, and a round neckline accented with appliques of white lace roses. The appliques roses were repeated at the hemline. The detachable train was adorned by a self bow at center back of the waistline. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis atop a white lace and satin covered Bible. She wore the traditional blue garter, a gift from her bridesmaid and close friend, Ginger Hughes. For luck she carried in her shoe pennies minted in the year of her birth and that of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bass chose a two-piece pink double knit dacron suit designed with three-quarter sleeves. Her accessories were white and she wore a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Johnson wore a two-piece pink dress and white accessories complemented by a white carnation corsage.

Wedding guests were registered by Mrs. Susan Roberts.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. Serving table was covered with white net over pink and centered by an arrangement of pink flowers flanked by pink tapers in milk glass holders. The tiered wedding cake, decorated with minute pink roses and topped by a bride and groom figurine, was served with pink punch, mints and nuts. Napkins inscribed with the names "Joyce and Errol" and the date "May 25, 1968" and silver and crystal appointments completed table decor.

Presiding at the serving table were former classmates of the bride, Lana Gay Doshier, Judy Lovett, Patty Tatum and Susan Patrick.

When the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., Mrs. Johnson wore for travel, a navy blue and white suit with navy accessories. Complementing the ensemble was a corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet. They are now at home at Apt. 5, Su Roca Apt. in Canyon.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Farwell High School and has completed her freshman year at West Texas State University. Her husband is also a graduate of Farwell High School and received a bachelor's degree from WTSU last year and is presently working toward a master's degree at WTSU. He plans to begin teaching in September.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Messrs. and Mmes. C. H. Smith, Clovis; W. M. Turner, Texline; S. L. Johnson, Quinton, Okla.; Charles Roberts, Canyon; Rex

Mid-Afternoon Ceremony Unites Sydney Bell - Bobby Chadwick

A mid-afternoon ceremony at Farwell First Baptist Church on Sunday united in marriage Sydney Ann Bell, daughter of Mrs. True Bell, and Bobby Gene Chadwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Markum Chadwick.

The Rev. J. L. Bass read the double-ring service. Altar setting was a fifteen branched candelabrum holding yellow tapers flanked by seven-branched tree candelabra, holding arrangements of majestic daisies and white gladioli and yellow tapers, interspersed with palms of emerald greenery. Focal point of the altar setting was a sunburst arrangement of majestic daisies and white gladioli in front of which was a white wrought iron kneeling bench entwined with garlands of ivy and daisies. At one side of the altar was a small candelabrum holding two lighted yellow tapers and unlighted taper. Following the exchange of vows, the couple lighted the central taper and blew out the lighted candles, signifying their life together.

Mrs. Peggy Sudderth, aunt of the groom and organist, played appropriate nuptial selections preceding the ceremony and also accompanied soloist Vicki Blain, when she sang "Each For the Other" and "Whither Thou Goest" prior to the entrance of the bridal party and "The Wedding Prayer" as a benediction.

Candles were lighted by Sheila Garner, classmate of the bride, and Vicki Durham, niece of the bride. Candelighters were attired in streetlength yellow dresses designed with long sleeves and round necklines. Their corsages were white.

Best man was James Chadwick, brother of the groom. Groomsman was James Calaway, a close friend of the groom. Serving as ushers were Mike Chadwick, cousin of the groom, and L. V. Durham, Jr., nephew of the bride. Randy Durham, another nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. Kim Lovett, cousin of the groom, was flowergirl. Bridal attendants included Mrs. Betty June Durham, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; and Marsha Lovelace, close friend and classmate of the bride, as bridesmaid.

Bridal attendants were attired in fitted floorlength gowns of yellow taffeta brocade designed with round necklines and sleeveless bodices. Their headpieces of yellow illusion were held by minute pillboxes of yellow velvet. They wore shoes in matching hue and long white gloves. Each of the bridal attendants carried a colonial cascade of white marguerite daisies with yellow streamers.

The flowergirl was attired in a dress designed identically to those of the other bridal attendants and carried a white basket filled with marguerite daisies with cascades of yellow ribbon.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her brother, Joe Boultinghouse of Amarillo, chose a formal wedding gown of white lace and net designed with a fitted bodice enhanced by a sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves terminating in petal points at the wrists. The bouffant skirt of lace and net extended into a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of imported illusion was held by a crown of minute pearls and sequins.

When the young couple left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, Mrs. Chadwick wore a blue and pink floral dress designed with full length coat. Her accessories were white and she com-

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and stephanotis atop a white lace and satin covered Bible.

Following tradition, the bride wore for something old the wedding band of her mother; new was her wedding attire; blue was a garter; and borrowed were the ear screws from her sister, Mrs. Betty June Durham.

Wedding guests were registered by LeAndra Chadwick, sister of the groom.

Mrs. Bell chose a pink long sleeved dress with a full length lace coat for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were white and she wore a pink orchid corsage.

Mrs. Chadwick chose a blue dress with matching accessories and a yellow orchid corsage.

A HAT WOULD BE SO MUCH COOLER!

She must go to the native market for her physical needs. The straw hat would be so much better than the old scarf tied and knotted about her head. Sweet, cool air could come through that straw and that would feel so wonderful in this heat!

Where does she go for her spiritual needs? Is there a church on the island? Does she know that she will be told about a great God there who will help her, guide her, and refresh her?

How fortunate we are in this country that there is a church in every community. Spiritual help, refreshment of soul, fellowship and love awaits all who enter her doors. We invite you to attend Church this week.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
