3 businesses burglarized

Three Littlefield businesses were burglarized over the weekend to the tune of $2,700. Cox Furniture and Appliance, Roden's Drug and the Frontier Western Apparel Shop were hit.

At the Frontier Shop, items taken included bows, arrows, gun holsters, belt buckles, watches, billfolds, men's hats, western boots, tie tacks, pocket knives, shirts, jeans, clutch purses and lingerie. Value was estimated at $1,200.

Four colored television sets valued at a total of $1,300 were taken from Cox Furniture.

Roden Drug was entered sometime late Monday night or early Tuesday morning and $200 cash was taken. Entry was gained from an air conditioning opening on the roof.

Other thefts reported to city police over the weekend included a citizen 1 band radio taken from the pickup of Donald Ford at 301 E. 16th St.

At the sheriff's office, Richard Grace of Anton reported the theft of a battery taken off a pickup sometime Friday or Saturday. Lubbock Asphalt reported someone cut the chain gate three miles west of Littlefield and numerous items were taken including oil, tools, wrenches, jacks and a tool box.

William Alexander of Fieldton reported the theft of a pump .22 rifle valued at $110 taken sometime Sunday. Tools and several boxes of wrenches were stolen from George See THEFTS, Page 2 contract and Borden Dairy the milk contract in unanimous votes.

The school board voted to sell two pickups and three buses to the highest bidder. Claude Oliver purchased the two pickups for $77.50 and $81.50. All three buses went to South Side Church of Christ in Austin. One bus sold for $877.76 and two for $777.76.

The vote on accepting the bids was narrow 4-3. Hopping, Zahn and Doyle Winfield voted against accepting the bids. The three favored new bids in an effort to get more money from the sale of the buses.

Amherst Bicentennial draws large crowds

By JOELLA LOVVORN

Activity and entertainment for everyone in the Amherst community, as well as their guests from other nearby communities, was highlighted last weekend during the big Amherst Bicentennial Celebration.

Thousands of people flocked to the downtown area of the proud rural city both days to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday and to more closely knit friendship bonds.

Kicking off the Bicentennial Days program were receptions at the Amherst Post Office and First National Bank Friday morning, as well as a special flag-raising ceremony and presentation in front of the South Plains Hospital-Clinic, by the VFW Post 4854 of Littlefield.

Dogs of every discription accompanied their proud owners to the dog show that afternoon. "Nubbins", a 11/2-year-old Shetland Sheep dog owned by Christy Brandstatt, won the first place and best groomed ribbons. On the dog show committee were Debbie and Rodney Maxwell, Christi Pointer and Denny Pointer.

Friday night, Sherry Payne won the crown as "Miss Amherst Bicentennial" during a pageant in the school auditorium. She was one of 10 seeking the title. Named first runner-up and "Miss Congeniality" was Diana Galaviz, and second runner-up was Buffy Tooley.

Other contestants for the pageant, which was sponsored by the Amherst Study Club, were Sharon Johnson, Lisa Alamanza, Trinda Johnson, Tracy Cowan, Missy Tooley, Marcee Pacheco and Carolyn Price. Master of Ceremonies was Charles Mixon.

Saturday's schedule got underway that morning with registration, followed by games and judging at the Country Fair.

Placings at the County Fair included:

Woodwork- First, John White; second, Randy Humphreys; and third, Glenn Brandstatt.

Ceramics- First, Lessie Messamore; second, Debbie Cox; and third, Lessie Messamore.

SEEMS THIS FAD of talking to the plants is catchin' pretty fast. But let me tell you, it just doesn't seem to work with grass. Don't know if it's the language I'm usin' or not.

Someone tell me, What is the native tongue in Bermuda? and what colloquialisms do they use? And if grass has been here a number of years, shouldn't it be acquainted with our language?

ANYWAY, I STARTED the year thusly: I started pouring water on that grass and "Now, grow!" It didn't. The dandelions, some kind of weed, and goat-heads did fine.

So? I got myself some of that newfandangled 2+4, or something, that was being advertised on tv, and gave it a generous application, according to directions: "OK now," I said, "Let's get with it!" The grass turned a sickly yellow. Even though the fertilizer was supposed to have weed-killer in it, the weeds continued to do nicely. Really, the only really green spots in the law were the places I'd missed, and that mostly weeds.

I CONTINUED to water the lawn and I'd tell that grass: "Come on now, grow, grow, GROW!" The grass just kept that sickly yellow look, and sat there.

Well, about this time it started to rain a little. Ah, nothing like good ol' rain water to make grass pa enough, the lawn turned grass wild rye and crab grass! NOW MAYBE I'M a little patience, but just this the walked out and told the "Awright, arredy; Just go the We'd like to see Littlefield come up with a drawing card like Granbury has. Visitors to any town add to dollars and our town could certainly use more of both commodities.

Littlefield is near three colleges, so attracting talented theatrical students would be no problem.

AMHERST- Willie White and the Blane Simmons of Lubbock returned home late Saturday night from the visit with Blane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Simmons of Estes Park, Colo.

The flood came after two nights and a day of constant downpour of rain. People had lived many years along the Big Thompson River and had not ever been alarmed, it was reported.

The river rose 18 feet.

Two patrolmen lost their lives in spreading the late alarm

For three days after the rain stopped a heavy fog formed in the valley making it impossible for helicopters to land there. Cars, big trucks, trailers were tossed about in the deep mud and slabs of concrete from the highway were swept around. It is feared that many bodies of the victims will never be recovered.

backs of American taxpayers nearly half of our present national debt of $645 billion. Our foreign aid, therefore, is responsible for half of the inflation that burdens the American people, far more than taxes.

Yet our elected representatives in Congress, cheered on by a board of bureaucrats, continues to be lavish with your future earnings, and the national debt limit is expected to be raised next year to $711 billion. Interest on the debt alone is costing us Americans - not the government - $45 billion a year.

Remember always: the government produces no wealth. When it spends money or gives it away, you are hit twice-first by your share of the debt that you will pay in taxes; second, by the inevitable inflation that the debt will generate.

Every Congressman knows these things, but spending money - your money - works on the average politician like a drug.

So in the spending plans for the new fiscal year, on top of all the costs of worthy and not so worthy projects at home, are foreign spending programs totalling $14 billion.

That will be added to a reservoir of over $18 billion approved by Congress in previous years but not yet handed out by our bureaucrats.

It seems to us the time has come for our country to begin thinking small in foreign aid commitments.

Before the days of margarines and butter substitutes. all butter was sold in onepound packages.

Let us go back to the pioneer times when everybody who had a place to keep her, had a milk cow, and if they did not established in Littlefield. Most have a place, they had to every express train that came depend on their neighbors to town loaded cream cans and friends for milk and butter.

Town folks usually had a small shed, or so-called barn on the back of their lot where the cow and calf stayed at night, and then in the day time she was usually staked on a long chain or rope out on the edge of town. Some dairy farmers went in the business of selling milk to the town the milk for Wayne Milk people, and delivered fresh Company. The milk not milk every morning.

Before the days of refrigeration and manufactured ice. keeping milk was a problem, and butter had to be churned nearly every day. The most popular farm lady was the one who made the best butter.

Country folks nearly all kept a few cows, as feed and pasture was more plentiful. And they could milk a few cows, skim the milk, and sell Lubbock concern, and then cream and butter to subsidize their income. Milk was a dire necessity, and butter and home-made bread helped to other milk products for several raise a healthy family. Then kids in those days had something to do to help make a living. Milking night and morning and herding the milk cows along the turn row, and coming home from school in time to milk was a must. Little girls soon learned how to churn the butter while their and a lot of them helped with the milking.

Then another thing, these dairy cows raised a calf nearly for the family table. Some of rancher's bull, sure made good beef, or in later years a club calf to take to the fair. In the '30s and '40s a lot of dairy farms began to operate in the county. A milk route was soon established, and milk and butter processing plant was bound for Clovis, Raton, or Lubbock. They all brought back the empty cans that had gone before.

Trucks hauled a lot of milk to the cheese factories int Brownfield, and other adjoining towns.

Grade A dairies became popular. At one time, ten of the larger ones provided all needed for bottle customers was made into butter and ice cream.

A man named Paul Jenson came to Wayne Milk Company as a butter maker in the early days of the establishment. He was an expert at his trade and certainly made Wayne Milk Company famous on the South Plains. When Viggo Peterson sold the milk business to a retired. Paul Jenson stayed on in Littlefield at the plant and manufacured ice cream and vears.

But Paul Jenson, Pete Peterman, and the Neunschwanders, the Gohlkes, the Whites, the Nafzgers, the A. L. Berrys, and a host of others have retired, and the small dairies have closed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the text of speech given by Congressman George Mahon of Texas in the House of Representatives.

'Mr. Speaker, the Federal government increasingly has become the object of contempt in the eyes of the American people. I speak of the executive branch, the judicial branch, and the legislative.

Mistakes have been made in all three branches and there are numerous examples of wrong doing. This is not unique. We have had such examples since the founding of our government but it seems to me we have reached an acute stage of discontent over the performance of our government.

'In these remarks I am not speaking of illegal acts, as serious as they are, but of harassment by government personnel of the citizen and foolish and indefensible actions of government employees charged with the administration of the laws. I am thinking at the moment of the interpretation and administration of the law by personnel in the Executive Branch.

'Congress must legislate in a neral way in many fields and it is way must be found to call a halt to the present intolerable situation.

'In a recent visit to the District which I have the honor to represent, I was confronted with two such examples of outrageous and intolerable activities on the part of OSHA, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

SAFETY WITH BEEF CATTLE

"The first concerned a booklet entitled "Safety with Beef Cattle" which OSHA issued. The second concerned proposed OSHA regulations about field sanitary facilities on farms and ranches. Both, in my opinion, are examples of Government personnel taking a law, and by the manner in which they implement it, making fools of it and themselves, and in the process discrediting the entire government.

"The "Safety with Beef Cattle" booklet contains such startling statements as "When floors are wet and slippery with manure, you could have a bad fall". "Bare feet or sneakers aren't safe around cattle", "Be careful when you are handling animals", "You can get too tired when working not possible for Congress to enact legislation setting forth every rule and regulation. This must be done by the Executive Branch- the branch charged with the administration of our laws. And it is here that so much criticism arises.

'Too often one sees examples of oolish and ridiculous rules and regulations which are invented by impractical government personnel. When a foolish outrage is publicized, the culprit is often an obscure bureaucrat in the Executive Branch. His name is not on the ballot at election time and he can sit back and laugh, if he will, at the discomfort which is caused for the Administration or the Congress. Some

Estate tax changes lauded

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Friday, changes in the estate tax approved by the Senate. which have the effect of increasing the tax exemption to $200,000, are a boon to the widows and children of farmers, ranchers and small businessmen in Texas.

Bentsen, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, had introduced a bill to increase the inheritance tax exemption from $60,000 to $200,000. The inheritance tax changes written by the Finance Committee approved by the full Senate late Thursday night include portions of the Bentsen bill and portions of measures proposed by other Senators.

It would replace the existing estate tax exemption with a $30,000 credit against the estate tax which would gradually increase to a $50,000 credit by 1981. This would be equivalent of a $200,000 exemption Sixty thousand dollars is no longer a typical value for a small farm or ranch or business, as it was when this exemption was set in 1942. We live in a far different world and am pleased that the Senate has acted to correct this situation," Bentsen said.

with cattle", and "Be careful that you do not fall into manure pits."

"Most of the people in my area who work with beef cattle that have seen or heard of this booklet think it is utterly absurd and that someone who did not know such things as I listed above should not be around a cow in the first place. They don't like to see their tax money used in the publication of such trash.

"In fact, in my opinion, the most untutored child or farm worker who could not read or write knows far more about cows than was exhibited by the writer of this booklet.

'The time has come to cease tolerating such ineptness. We must declare war on this kind of practice if

But Don's younger brother, Webster, is back, and "little brother" (6-0, 180 pounds) himself collected 998 yards and was honorable mention as full back and linebacker.

"Webster is one of the quality backs in the district," said Gray. "With his strength. speed (4.8 in the 40) and experience in the backfield we'll definitely be strong in the run.

"And we have two fine halfbacks in Johnny Rosemond and Terry Sterling, two juniors. Rosemond is small at 5-8, 145 pounds, but he runs a 10.5 hundred and he rushed for 685 yards last year. Sterling is one of the fastest boys on the team. Our running game definitely looks like it will be our strength. We can the presence of Gary Mc-Daniel, a two-way All-district player in 1975 and "one of the top linemen I've ever coached," according to Gray. Smaller in stature (5-10, 165) than a lot of the linemen he'll be up against, McDaniel makes up for it with strength and aggressiveness. He was the leading tackler on last year's team at noseguard, averaging 12 a game.

The trend among the instructors is to give more attention than required to range exercises, live firing and other activities.

Classroom work includes wildlife conservation, game identification, basic survival and field first aid.

Instructors emphasize that knowledge, skill and the attitude of the participants are important in hunting and shooting sports.

COACH DWAYNE GRAY will be counting heavily on these two Amherst Bulldog football players. Webster Johnson [left] rushed for 998 yards a year ago, and will be carrying the brunt of the Bulldog rushing attack again. Gary McDaniel was an All-district noseguard and will anchor the Amherst line. [Staff Photo]
