Wildcats Open District Play

It's all been a warm-up so far for the 1975 version of the Littlefield Wildcats, because the first six games mean nothing as compared to the next four. It's time to start district play!

The Wildcats' first opponent is the Dimmitt Bobcats, a team that is suffering almost the reversal of last year's Dimmitt team, as they have won two of six games, compared to last year's Robert Mayberry-led team that brought a perfect 6-0 mark into Wildcat Stadium.

Of the Bobcats' losses, three of them have been shut-outs.

Littlefield is enjoying a reversal of last year's season as the 'Cats opened district play last year with a mark of two wins, three losses and one tie, compared to an excellent 5-0-1 record this year—a mark that should put the 'Cats among the top ten AA units in the state.

In last year's game, Littlefield gave the highly-favored Bobcats all they wanted before bowing 17-7.

Friday night's game in Dimmitt should be just as exciting, and according to head coach and athletic director, Jerry Blakely, it could be one of Littlefield's most exciting games of the year.

"It will also be a very fiercely fought contest also," Blakely added. "Dimmitt has a highly competitive football team as we do and they have excellent team quickness."

"And while they've won only two games, their defensive unit is only allowing an average of 9.3 points per game."

Dimmitt lines up in an eight-man front and their main strength is against the run.

Offensively, the Bobcats run out of several formations and Blakely stated that the main concern is that they do line up so many different ways.

"We'll have to play real heads up ball just in order to get lined up right," Blakely added with a grin.

"You probably won't see the Bobcats have many long, drawn-out drives this year," stated the Wildcats' head mentor, "they're much too explosive and they emphasize the pass, sweep, reverse, traps and draws. And they can go all the way on any of those plays. They have speed in the backfield and definitely have the ability to break at any time."

Sophomore halfback Thompson Mayberry leads the Bobcats offensively and he was a starter in the game last year. He weighs in at 155 and possesses good speed. Ronnie Lawson, 165-lb. senior is the Bobcats' quarterback and is described as an excellent passer. Lawson's favorite receiver, besides Mayberry, is Kyle Touchstone, a senior split end who possesses excellent pass catching ability.

Tony Washington, 185-lb. junior fullback, is the other Bobcat offensive threat, and according to Littlefield scouting reports, he is improving as a running back every game.

The Wildcats, with only the 7-7 tie against Floydada to slightly tarnish an otherwise perfect season, will enter the first district game in excellent physical shape.

The 'Cats are leading District 3-AA in non-district play with their 5-0-1 mark while Olton has a 3-1 record.

"We still feel Olton is the favorite to win district, but we're definitely a contender. However, we'll worry about them on down the line. Right now, we're concerned strictly with Dimmitt," Blakely added.

In looking back to the 'Cats' 27-25 win over Roosevelt last week, Blakely stated that Roosevelt was definitely a good football team and that the coaches were extremely pleased with the team's poise in coming from behind late in the game to win. "As a matter of fact," Blakely added, "that was the first time we've been behind all year."

"We were tickled to death with our offense early in the game as we jumped out to score touchdowns the first three times we had the ball. We got a big lead, but then perhaps we relaxed a little bit and that came back to haunt us."

"Our defense yielded 302 yards and we're certainly not pleased with that particular aspect, but we do have a lot of confidence in our defense and believe in the coming games that they will revert to their old form."

"The passing game was especially pleasing as it is one phase of the game that we've worked extremely hard on, and it continues to show improvement. Personnel-wise, we were pleased with the efforts of Ronald Farmer, Bill Turner, and the blocking of Brad Banner and Jack Speck. We had a fine defensive effort by Larry McDonald, Randy Hall, Layne McKinnon, David Jones and Rudy Ayala."

Wildcats of the week are Bill Turner, Ronald Farmer and Danny Martinez. Kickoff for the Dimmitt game is at 7:30.

Farmer White Hurt Critically Sunday

Whitharral farmer was critically injured in a harvest accident late Sunday. White remains in the intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock with a broken collar bone, broken ribs, a broken pelvis, and a fractured lung. The accident was run over by a grain truck before dark Sunday, as he bent over the field to check progress of the harvest. White was brought to the Littlefield, then transferred to Lubbock. Nurses in the hospital said Tuesday that White's vital signs were good, but that he was in pain.

in the economy, and this is even more evident today with the announcement of a 60,000 sq. ft. shopping center, to be known as Littlefield Plaza, to be built at the Northwest corner of Highway 84 and Phelps Avenue.

The major tenant of the new center will be a 30,000 sq. ft. T.G.&Y. Family Center, according to J. A. Russell, division vice president of the T.G.&Y. Stores Co.

The $1 million development is being developed by M. K. Gentry, W. David Hinton and James J. Brady, a general partnership out of Lubbock and Wichita, Kansas. At the present time, the builders are the owners of 25 similar centers which are now in operation or being built.

Other tenants of the shopping center will include an 18,750-square-foot Kountry Boy Supermarket which will feature the Kimbell brand and other major brand names and will contain seven check-out stands. At least four other shops will be in the building along with a restaurant.

The opening of the center is expected for early spring of 1976.

T.G.&Y. was founded in 1936 by R. E. Tomlinson, E. L. Gosselin and R. A. Young. The name of the company was derived from the initials of these three Oklahoma men.

100,000 Pounds Of Shelled Corn, 3 Trucks Stolen From Elevator

Lamb County sheriff's officers have recovered two of three grain trucks stolen from the Hart Camp Elevator, but Tuesday, officers were still looking for the third truck and $6,500 worth of white shelled corn.

Sheriff E. D. McNeese said Weldon Motley notified authorities Monday morning of the theft of the three trucks loaded with 100,000 pounds of harvested corn. The total value of the trucks and corn was placed at $30,000.

McNeese said the trucks were parked at the elevator along with some 40 or 50 other trucks waiting to be unloaded. Keys were left in all three vehicles so the trucks could be moved up and unloaded.

The stolen trucks were owned by Weldon Motley, an area farmer, William Deberry, an area farmer, and Millard Wynn, a custom combine operator from Manitou, Okla.

The Motley and Deberry trucks were found about two and one-half miles south of Olton Monday afternoon parked beside the road. Both trucks had been unloaded and, according to truckers hauling grain, had been parked there several hours when found.

The trucks were apparently taken late Sunday night or early Monday morning. Weldon Motley discovered his truck missing when he checked on the progress at the elevator Monday morning.

To The EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was written to the editor of the Denver Post by a former Littlefield resident, Miss Sharon A. Seay of Denver. She sent the clipping to her mother, Mrs. LaVerne Seay of Littlefield, who brought it to us.)

To The Denver Post:
AFTER WATCHING the news on Sept. 22 and the recent events as related to the most current assassination attempt on the life of President Ford, I have come out of my "easy chair" as one of too many complacent Americans! I was angry then and am still angry today.
What we are witnessing as an American people is utterly insane! Insane that there is so much irresponsibility on the part of at least a portion of the population, but equally insane that we, as a general public, are sitting back, rather complacently, and saying at 6 p.m., "That's too bad," but forgetting about the tragedy of such actions by the time our favorite television show comes on at 7 p.m.
In the frustration of the individual, I feel that perhaps many of us have heard ourselves inwardly saying "What good will it do, as just one person, to speak out with my reactions and feelings as to what is happening? Nothing! And so we remain silent! There IS The Silent Majority in America... and I, for one, am ready to no longer remain silent.
Yet even in my attempt to voice my disgust at this insanity in what has seemingly become an "American hobby" to try and kill the President, I still ask in frustration, "What really can be done?" I wish, as I am sure many others do also, that I had the answer. However, for anyone who feels as I do or for any others of you who stand where I stand, not knowing the answers but ready to stand together to somehow find the solutions, I ask you now to be heard.
Beginning affirmative steps? Support our law enforcement, support gun control, become acquainted with, and active in, any organization that you personally feel is a firm foundation for striving for what we need to once again restore in our country.

Call someone... Write a letter... Be heard! Loud and clear! So that people know you are no longer going to sadly shake your head and walk away from what we ourselves are allowing by our mere lack of action and concern. Another affirmative step? Simply pray!
It isn't really so much the matter that the person behind the trigger is aimed for Gerald Ford, the individual, but rather the figurehead for which the stands. "Kill the President!" the insanity and idiocy is incredible. Has anyone seen such a bumper sticker? It may be nearer than we dare think! Not too funny...
It seems sad to me when I try to visualize that there may be a time when either we go from one dead president (or leader) to the next or to a time when the president will no longer be able to maintain that personal element with the American public, but will have to become isolated in a bullet-proof glass house, or even totally withdrawn from the public eye, to become but a voice.
We are coming to that point! Because something has gone wrong in our society. That course simply must be altered.
Have you taken time to try and visualize our country without a president—a leader? If acts continue as they have in these past years, and certainly in the past few weeks, not only will President Ford be but a memory, but so will the entire concept of a president. Why set yourself up to die by some crackpot? Are there enough of us standing in line to be up for that? I think not.
I don't really know where I am going from here with my desire to take action, but this is a start. Please, will you stand to assist in a joint effort to somehow restore our society to sanity? This is where we live! If we join together, it will create strength. And if you feel you have any answers, please let us share them with you in making them happen.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVERN

SOME OF THE BEST educational toys for children are not to be found on the shelves of toy stores.

But look around your home. See those half-empty detergent bottles, margarine tubs, and milk cartons?
When they're empty, don't throw them away. They can help your kids develop coordination, recognize colors— and have hours of fun.

A publication called "Toys: Fun in the Making," is filled with ideas for toys you and your children can make from household items usually thrown away.

There are also instructions for making paste, play-dough clay, and bubble solutions in this booklet, published by the Office of Child Development of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Copies of "Toys: Fun in the Making" are available for 55 cents from Consumer Information, Dept. 59, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Here's one interesting toy children can make from throw-away pie tins and a pencil. In the process, the kids get to practice controlling a simple tool.

Have the children gently punch small holes in the tins with the pencil tip. Encourage them to create any pattern they want. When they're finished, hang the pie tins in a sunny window. Whenever the sun shines, the kids will have a light show.

If the children have an infant brother or sister, encourage them to hang one of the pie tins in a window the baby can see from the crib. The pie tin will help the infant learn to focus his or her eyes.

Following other illustrated instructions, your children can make treasure chests from egg cartons... boats or doll house furniture from milk cartons. A shoe box and some rubber bands can be turned into a banjo. Margarine tubs and paper can become turtles, crabs, or spiders. Entire doll families can be made from detergent bottles and crayons. And a styrofoam meat tray plus some soap slivers can be converted into a low-powered motor boat.

There are also instructions for making a terrarium using a clear, plastic bottle, small stones, and a patch of weeds or moss.

IF YOU DON'T HAVE the time to take care of an indoor garden, why not try bottle gardening, suggests a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"All you need to turn a dull dark corner of your home into a bright colorful spot is a waterproof container, tap water and cuttings of some favorite plants," says Everett Janne.

Beverage bottles, vases, canning jars, fish bowls and aquariums make good containers.

Use cuttings from any plant with a thick stem, such as a myrtle, geranium, oleander, wax begonia, coleus or hibiscus.

"First, clean out the bottle with hot water and detergent. Then add tap water. Make a clean cut on the branch or stem you want to use and remove the lower leaves so that none will be below the waterline. Put the cuttings in the water and arrange them any way you like," says the horticulturist with the Texas A&M University System.

Change the water about once a month and wash the container with hot water and detergent to kill any algae or bacteria. Also, scrub the plant stems and make a fresh cut on the stem to improve water uptake. Turn the container about once a week to make sure all angles of the plants get sunlight.

"When stems start deteriorating, replace them with fresh ones," says Janne. "Also, any of the cuttings that develop roots can be planted in pots or in flower beds."

Plants in bottle gardens add interest and color to the interior of the home and also clean up the air we breathe, adds the horticulturist.

HALLOWEEN HOLDS a special magic for children and it's hard to keep them from their trick-or-treat rounds. One way to keep them happy at home is by giving them their own party... a simple affair with a few festive touches to make it a "wizard" evening.

Pizza is a can't-miss dish and "The Lipton Kitchens suggests a quick-to-fix version using English muffins and a sauce made with instant tomato soup mix.

Use sausage slices for "eyes" and "mouth," and parsley for "hair."
For a delicious dessert, serve Good Humor "No Drip" ice-cream-on-a-stick. Styrofoam inserted into a bucket will hold the ice cream sticks very well. And give them little favors filled with candies for treats.

HALLOWEEN PARTY PIZZAS

- 2 envelopes Lipton Tomato Cup-a-Soup
- 3/4 cup boiling water
- 3 English muffins
- 1/2 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
- Oregano
- Brown and serve sausages, cooked and sliced
- Parsley sprigs

In small bowl, combine instant tomato soup and water; spoon tomato sauce on each muffin half. Top with cheese and sprinkle with oregano; broil 3 minutes or until cheese is melted.

To make pumpkin face, garnish each pizza with 2 sausage slices for eyes and 1/2 slice for mouth; arrange parsley for hair. Makes 6 pizzas.

Reality Therapy

By BYRON FORD

Principal, Littlefield Junior High
Reality therapy was introduced into the public schools in California about eight years ago by Dr. William Glasser. After reading Dr. Glasser's books, I felt that this form of discipline process would work in Littlefield Junior High School.

Reality therapy is a process whereby an adult gets involved with a student, so that the student, (1) feels at ease with the adult, (2) can make a value judgment, (3) can establish a plan of behavior, (4) can commit himself to change his behavior. This is a way of teaching the student self discipline.

We use reality therapy in Littlefield Junior High in this manner to teach the students self discipline.

All teachers are required to work with the student three times before the student is referred to the principal's office. The principal will place the student in the reality therapy room for a certain length of time ranging from two hours to three days, depending upon the student's problem.

While the students are in the R-T room, they are not allowed to talk, chew gum, or leave their seats. They are allowed to go to the restroom three times, once in the morning, noon and afternoon.

The students are required to eat their lunch in the R-T room.

While the students are in the reality therapy room or R-T room, teachers send the student's classwork and homework for the student to complete. The classwork is graded and full credit is given to the student even though the student is not in his regular class. If the student completes his lessons, he has time to think about his problem and how he is going to solve his problem.

When the principal has counseled with the student, and feels the student is ready to leave the R-T room, the student must write a written contract with the principal stating how he will correct his problem.

After the student and principal have signed the contract, copies are made for each of the student's teachers. The teachers are to encourage the student to live up to his contract and help the student in any way that they can.

If the student breaks the contract, he is referred to the principal and placed back in the R-T room.

I feel the program has been very successful so far, and I believe that this form of teaching self-discipline to the student will help the students become better-adjusted students and citizens.

If any one has any question concerning Reality Therapy, please feel free to call me at Littlefield Junior High School 385-3922, Byron Ford, principal.

Constitutional Absentee Voting Underway

Absentee balloting began yesterday on the proposed revision of the Constitution of Texas and continues through 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 31.

For students, those in the Armed Service and other registered voters in Lamb County who live outside the county and who wish to vote by mail-in absentee, applications must be made promptly. Parents or others may call the county clerk's office and give the name and address where the ballots are to be sent. Mailed in ballot requests must go through the mail four times, making time short for the Nov. 4 election.

Returned ballots must be received by the clerk's office by 1 p.m. on election day. No ballots can be mailed out after Oct. 31.

Unless physically disabled, any voter living inside the county who wishes to vote absentee must vote at the counter in the county clerk's office during regular office hours 9 a.m. through 5 p.m.

If a voter is sick and wishes to vote absentee, he should make application soon since this must be signed by a doctor unless that person has signed a permanent disability form.

My Father

My father is a man who is very brave. He is a man who makes me behave. When I have a problem he helps me out.

After the talk I have no doubt. He cares about me and he always has. He doesn't mind if I listen to jazz. When he's with kids, he's a great big clown.

But when things go wrong he's really down.

But most of all he loves me. He's a man who's nice as can be. So I love him a lot. He's the only father I've got.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Could Be Worse

By BOB...

LIFE IS NOT EASY. Of course, it may be easier for some folk than it is for others, but, generally speaking, when everything is considered, the real living experience is about the same for all of us. In many ways, we actually control the degree of difficulty we experience.
We can surely make living much more difficult than it should be, and all of us probably do some of this. Nevertheless, we can learn to keep this typically human inclination to a minimum. It is very foolish to make troubles worse than they should be.

IT IS HELPFUL to keep reminding ourselves that we have great capacity for handling our problems and difficulties. In the first place, we must never exaggerate any of them; because doing so puts us at a great disadvantage. On the other hand, we must not minimize the real problems and difficulties; but see and deal with them as they are; not more, not less.

AS WE CONSIDER TROUBLES, our own personal troubles, and those in the world around us; there is some help for us in the realization that they "could be worse".

Of course, we know that this is not a solution for existing problems and difficulties; but there is some significant help in being fully aware that they are not as bad as they could be.

"IN ALL TROUBLOUS events, we may find comfort, though it be only in the negative admission that might have been worse."

OUR VIEW MUST BE, as possible, exactly right; when we consider the undesirable and the aspects of life. We must be because nothing worthwhile is gained by pretending that life is better than it is; nor do we assume that it is worse than it is; the realism to be maintained is knowing that the situation "could be worse".

With this knowledge, we can be more effective in handling the undesirable and desirable of living.

WE KNOW that many situations are better, and in our admission "could be worse", we will find the help we need to make them better. We will, at least, be encouraged to make them better.

IF IT BECOMES necessary to live with some undesirable condition, we can do so effectively, when we admit that it "could be worse" and do so with gratitude.

We must be fully prepared for our problems and difficulties, making sure that we never ourselves with exaggerated them.

IT HELPS to remember that "could be worse".

By CORNBALL BLEN...

I'M IN KIND of a dilemmer. Havin' trouble about makin' up my mind which ball team too root for in the World Series. I rooted for both teams in the play-offs, and now that they're playin' each other, it's hard to choose sides.

In years past, I've always pulled for the American League team. I think Micky Mantle, Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford and Roger Maris got me started at that. But, now that they're gone, I have trouble deciding why I've just been partial to the American League teams. (Or was, until Charley Findley came along!)

IT'S KIND OF like a political party alignment, I think. And about as confusing. For years I staunchly claimed to be a Democrat, but found most of their candidates to be objectionable. Finally had to admit that I'm just a "Whasit".
Anyway, as of this writing, the teams are tied at one apiece. And unless some of them do something to rouse my animosity, it could end that way, for all I care.

DECISIONS JUST seem to tear me up!

DON'T THINK WE should get our anticipation up too high about Ford's proposed continued tax cut. The thing is conditional, and the condition being that Congress will go along with a cut in government spending.

At this point, the word is out that the Liberals are instructed to tell us the whole thing (proposal) is a plum, aimed at packing the ballot for Mr. Ford.

THAT BE AS it may, I'm in opinion that we could well see a sizable cut at both ends of the...

SEEMS WE WILL be shipping grain to Russia after all. For a there seemed to be some doubt.

It seems, however that the debt brought about to hold the price of down, until it got into the hands of middle men. This should make farmers quite happy. (I don't know!)

MR. KISSINGER is credited with putting the final terms on the table. Goodness only knows what he's for. It might be oil, peace in the east, or a loan for New York City.

I'm of the opinion that we should had Mr. Moynihan in charge of the Betcha' he could have told them to bow out the cabbage. He's the cassator to the UN, you know. The he let Mr. Amin of Uganda know what though of him kind of aroused my admiration. (Called him a racist derer.)

OF COURSE WE'RE apologists over there to try and indignities, but we must admit that other cheek is getting a little sore.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACH...

GUESS I'M SORT OF LATE with this, but, nevertheless, I'd like to take this opportunity to say congratulations to all you 4-H'ers on National 4-H Week that you just observed.

I'm sure many of you think that no one cares about you or your achievements. Well guess again, many of us do. You are just like most agriculture-oriented people, you go around through life working to provide a better way of life through agriculture and no one seems to give a hang about what you do, but gripe like all get out when there isn't enough to eat or the price is rather costly.

You being young business people, probably contribute more to the economy than any other organization the young, because you all have doing and in order to do this you spend a certain amount of money in order to complete your various projects. Unlike most other organizations, you have to be spending money until you complete project as other youth-oriented groups may spend an initial amount of money and most of that is spent on uniforms because of special uniforms equipment which is not provided.

I'd like to say thank you for a job done and a special thanks to the leaders and extension workers aiding these young people in becoming our peers of tomorrow.

SUNDAY IS A GOOD time for you to get together at halftime.

'Sew It With Cotton' Show Is Termed As A Success

BULA— The "Sew It With Cotton" contest and style show was termed a success.

The show was sponsored by the Bailey-Lamb County Women's Cotton Promotion group and 31 models won their way to top spots Saturday night in the style show, held in the Muleshoe High School auditorium, as viewers applauded as they saw the colorful garments made from 100 percent cotton materials.

All-cotton garments of every color, length, style and fashion were modeled by the seamstresses or their models.

First-place winners in each of the 11 categories will be competing in the district contest, to be held Saturday, Oct. 25, at the Lubbock Christian College Development Center. Judging will begin at 10 a.m., with the show at 2 p.m.

The bicentennial theme was carried out in the stage decorations, which was set up by Anthony's and Harvey Bass Appliance of Muleshoe. Red, white and blue piece materials were draped at back of the stage, on each side of the entrance.

Featured was the old-type sewing machine our grandmothers had to use, their oil burning lamp for light, and a crude model radio for entertainment while they sewed.

The more modern seamstress has the latest in automatic machines, with good electric lighting and a colored tv to listen to or watch.

Narrator for the judging was Mrs. Nolan Harlan and Mrs. Jack Hodnett. They were assisted by Mrs. John Hubbard, Mrs. Richard Black, and Tommy Black, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Pete Jesco of Lazbuddie, Mrs. Keith Price of Morton, Mrs. Dean Blackledge of Lubbock, Mrs. Glen Lust and Mrs. Ellen Gallman of Lazbuddie, and Mrs. Marge Key of Morton.

Mrs. Dean Waltrip, chairman of the style show, welcomed the guests and introduced the master of ceremonies for the evening, Harmon Elliott, member of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Robert Hunt of Muleshoe was narrator for the show and described each of the garments as they were modeled by the seamstresses for their models.

Contest winners in each of the 11 categories included:

- LOLLIPOP— 1. Dayna Hamilton, 2. Melissa Tooley, 3. Stephanie Heard.
- LITTLE ESQUIRE— 1. Dane Richardson, 2. Bryan Kindie, 3. Michael Richardson.
- PLAY TIME— 1. Steven Noble, 2. Dane Richardson, 3. Kristi and Brandi Risinger.
- GUYS AND DOLLS— 1. Buffi Tooley, 2. Shelly Sain, 3. Courtney Brown.
- SCHOOL TIME— 1. Monica Locke, 2. Kathy DeAnn Robison and 3. Brenda Flowers.
- SPORTS— 1. Jane Wiseman, 2. Shannon Sowder, 3. Shonnee Hodnett.
- SLEEPY TIME— 1. Shelly Sain, 2. Linda Wiseman, 3. Tori Hunt.
- AT HOME WEAR— 1. Wendy Wiseman, 2. and 3. none.
- FASHION TIME— 1. Molly Heard, 2. Martha Withrow, 3. Celia Pierce.
- JUNIOR MISS— 1. Cindy Hamm, 2. Laurie Moore, 3. Wendy Wiseman.
- TEEN TIME— 1. Vanessa Demel, 2. Cathy Hamm, 3. Jolinda Hawkins.

Stores having displays of cotton piece goods and ready-to-wear clothing were Ware's of Littlefield, Cobb's and St. Clair's of Muleshoe.

A tasting table was set up where all visitors could see and taste goodies made from cotton seed flour, oil and cotton seed.

A total of 55 door prizes were given during half time intermission. The prizes were donated by merchants of Muleshoe and Littlefield, with the grand prize being a $129 sewing machine, given by Harvey Bass Appliance of Muleshoe.

Mrs. Nora Burch, sales lady at Anthony's of Muleshoe held the lucky ticket.

Members of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, Harmon Elliott, Harvey Bass, Tommy Black and Johnnie St. Clair, had charge of the door prize drawing.

The Muleshoe Am-bassadors also assisted at the registration and tasting table.

KATHY ROBISON won second place in the School Time division of the annual "Sew It With Cotton" contest held in Muleshoe Saturday. She received a red ribbon and a $19 bill.

A Banker's Viewpoint....

Everybody is aware that Britain's welfare state is on the rocks, with the government broke and inflation running at a rate several times that of the United States.

But what may not be generally recognized is how poorly the socialistic system has served the people with the very "benefits" their taxes pay for.

The British system of socialized medicine — free medical care for all — is a case in point. Yet it is used as a model by some of our politicians who dream of writing the same thing into law in this country. So Americans had better pay attention to the way the system has worked out in Britain.

The British established socialized health care in 1948. For a time it seemed to go well. Doctors whose habits were developed in free enterprise continued to work as they had before, and hospitals likewise continued a good level of service.

But this didn't last. Without material incentive to do their best, younger doctors often brushed off patients without thorough examination, and patients complained of inadequate treatment. This was not altogether the fault of the doctors, since their offices were flooded by people who would have stayed at home if the visit hadn't been for free.

Now British Medical Association spokesmen say frankly they fear proper health standards no longer can be maintained.

People wait months for needed surgery, or for admission to a hospital.

As demand for health care increases, the number of hospital beds declines. A ten per cent loss was recorded last year.

The ablest doctors are being drained away from the health service by private clinics. And this is accelerating, for more Britons every day are buying insurance that will admit them to the better care available in the private clinics.

Instead of improvement in the general health of the British people, the opposite may be true. Socialized medicine in Britain has been merely a costly investment in futility. Let's not repeat it here.

IF I WERE GOD

On an all-talk radio station in San Francisco I was answering questions by telephone. The hour was late when a call came in. "If I were God, I'd show man just who is boss," my caller said. "Why?" I asked. "Because," he answered. "Because what?" I pressed. "Well, as God, I would be all-powerful and I'd make man behave."

Well, that's one view of God—all-powerful!

"Where was God when my son died," or "why doesn't God stop this war?"

These are just two of the thousands of expressions that state or imply, "If I were God, I would make man do what I want him to do."

The other view is the true answer to the question "What is God like?"

God is a father-kind of God—a personal kind of God. That's what the birth of Jesus says, "I've come to live among you."

The death of Jesus on the cross says, "I know, I care."

In every storm of life God teaches His children, "I am in the boat with you. Be not afraid."

"That's just another reason," I told my phone caller in San Francisco, "that I'm glad you are not God!"

No Cases Nearly Nil, But Immunize

from El Paso with flaccid paralysis of both lower extremities, left upper arm, and some weakness of the neck muscles was diagnosed by her private physician of having paralytic polio. She was hospitalized immediately for emergency care. Stool and serum tests reported by the Texas Department of Health Resources Laboratory confirmed the diagnosis of polio, Type I. The child had never received immunizations. This ends two years and eight months without a case of paralytic polio in Texas.

Carlsbad Parks Begin Winter Hours

Two Carlsbad area parks have begun fall and winter visitor hours, which will be in effect until next Memorial Day.

At Carlsbad Caverns National Park, the visitor center opens at 8 a.m. and trips into the main cavern are offered continuously from 8 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. daily.

The Living Desert State Park at Carlsbad also is observing the fall-winter schedule with current hours of 9 a.m. to 4:10 p.m.

The park offers visitors an opportunity to see one of the most complete cacti and desert plant exhibits in the world.

Education Survey Set

A sample of households in this area will take part in the Federal Government's annual survey on education to be taken the week of Oct. 20-25, by the Bureau of the Census.

Interviewer who will visit households here is Rosemary McNeese.

Percy R. Millard, director of the bureau's regional office in Dallas, said that the interviewer will visit homes to obtain information about the number of school years completed by household members. There will also be questions about the number of children attending nursery school or kindergarten.

Questions on education will be in addition to those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

The survey provides a continuing measure of conditions in the labor force. The August survey found the nation's employment situation little changed from July. The unemployment rate was 8.4 percent, after declining from the second quarter recession peak of 8.9 percent.
