game was not decided until seconds, and the Wildcats found out just how sweet revenge is.

Trailing 14-10 with 5:42 left in the fourth quarter, the Wildcats began their drive on their own 28. J.E.
Johnson—putting the finishing touches on an outstanding performance for the night which saw him pick up 157 yds.
rushing—carried on first to the 33. Pat Henderson ran on second down, and after getting some good blocks, took the counter-handoff to the 40.

On second and nine, Johnson took the option pitchout from Terry Bryson and swept the left side for 12 yards. A first down pass was incomplete, so Henderson again ran on the counter play. He broke two tackles, then scurried down the sidelines for nine important yards to the Eagle 36.

On third and one, Bryson rolled left,
scanning downfield for an open receiver.
He found Johnson, who was so wide open on the 23 that he could have telephoned the nearest defender long-distance.
Johnson took the pass, turned downfield and was brought down by a jarring tackle. The ball popped loose, and for a desperate moment it looked like it was all over. But the ball kept rolling and dutifully went out of bounds. Then, on first down from the 17, Bryson's pitchout to Henderson went awry, and this time

Roosevelt did recover.
Three rushing plays netted one yard,
and Kenneth Bobo dropped back to punt.
The snap was bobbled and Bobo had to scramble to get the ball. As soon as he found the handle, he was helped to the ground by Lenearl Lewis and Alan Mackey. The Cats had a new lease on life and the ball on the four.

Johnson made two, tried on second down for nothing, and on third Bryson quarterback sneaked to the one. After a lengthy timeout called by the Cats Bryson took the snap from center and handed the ball to Johnson. The tailback scored on a play that they will be talking about in Roosevelt for some time to come.

As Johnson burst over the goal line, the ball was knocked loose and a Roosevelt player gobbled it up. The officials at first judged it as a fumble, but one obstinate referee shot both hands in the air indicating a touchdown. The fact is this: Johnson's body was over the plane of the goalline before he fumbled the ball. Therefore, the fumble occurred after the play was dead, for the clock stops immediately after a score. The Eagle players objected loudly, but there was celebration in the home stands and on the Wildcat bench.

Larry Hobratchsk kicked the point after for a 17-14 lead, and the clock showed 31 seconds. Hobratchsk kicked off, and it looked like he was trying for another field goal as the ball sailed far out of the end zone. Frustrated tempers flared, and the Eagles were called for unsportsmanlike conduct and flagged back to their 10. A third and ten pass from that same point was intercepted by Lewis on the 28, and the battle was finally decided.

The game looked at first to be an easy one for the Cats. After kicking off, the defense held the Eagles and forced them to punt. Littlefield received the punt on the 36, and drove all the way in. Johnson made carries of 14 and 11 yards, and plowed up the middle from the seven for the touchdown. Hobratchsk warmed up his leg by knocking the point after out of sight and after six minutes, the Wildcats owned a 7-0 lead.

Roosevelt scored their first touchdown as James Blackwell bulled over from the two at the start of the second quarter.
And after a wild second period, they tried to move ahead with a 31 yard field goal. It was given no chance of being successful, and the Wildcat defense poured in to block the attempt.

The Cats came out of the dressing room on fire, and Johnson made runs of 16, 8, 10, 12, and 14 yards. His efforts were due in large part to the blocking of the offensive line, which, as a unit, played a great game. However, from the 14, a personal foul was called, and Larry Hobratchsk trotted out to attempt a 37-yard field goal into the breeze. The ball was partially tipped as it was kicked, but Hobratchsk had enough leg in it to power it through the uprights.

After Roosevelt punted their possession away, the Cats began a drive that saw nearly as much contact before the play as during it. Three times a Littlefield lineman came crashing into a Littlefield offensive lineman before the snap.

Twice the Eagles were called for illegal procedure and once the call was against Littlefield. Regardless of the extracurricular activity, the Cats drove to the Roosevelt 38, the big play being a Henderson run of 21 yards. After a fumbled pitchout, Bryson dropped back to pass on second and nineteen and was intercepted on the 23.

Roosevelt stalled at midfield, and Bobo punted the ball out of the end zone with 9:29 to go in the final quarter.
Littlefield fumbled on first down, and Kenny Perry claimed it for the Eagles.
The Eagles had four downs to score from the five, and they had to use every one of them. On fourth from six inches away, quarterback Chris Marshall faked into the line and ran around the right end for the score.

That made the score 14-10, and set the stage for Littlefield's dramatic comeback.

AN OFFICIAL Texas Historical Marker was unveiled and dedicated at the Springlake-Earth schools Friday afternoon, when scores of county and out-of-county residents met to recall the history of the northern Lamb County school, and the pioneers who established it. Unveiling the marker were Jerry Kelley, president of the Springlake-Earth board of trustees; W.C. White, member of the original board of trustees; and Mrs. Marshall Kelley of Earth, member of the Lamb County Historical Survey Committee. School was turned out for the event, and children observed from the sidelines. (Staff Photo)

A PANEL OF SPEAKERS for the official Texas Historical Marker dedication at the Springlake-Earth schools Friday afternoon included Mrs. J.L. Hinson who attended the school in its second year of operation, and who established the S-E Parent-Teachers Association in the 1920's. Others seated were County Judge G.T. Sides, District Judge Pat Boone Jr., Rev. David Hartman, W.C. White, and Leslie G. Watson. (Staff Photo)

Security State Established Beginning Post War Boom

The Littlefield area boomed in the 1920s after the Yellowhouse Ranch was cut up into farm tracts. Within a few years Littlefield was well populated.
But growth was stymied with the Depression and the dust bowl days, and Littlefield's population was about 3,000 when WWII broke out.

Littlefield was on the boom again after the war ended. The turbine pump had recently been perfected until it was now economically feasible to pump water from the underground reservoir beneath farm land.

Farmers with foresight were drilling irrigation wells. There was a good market and terrific demand for cotton and grain sorghum.

There was a housing shortage in Littlefield.
Seismograph tests showed a good chance for oil production in and around Littlefield.

Littlefield had a lot of things going for it, but all of these things took money.
There was only one bank in town, and the loan limit was too small for the things that were coming on.

Many residents saw the chance for money these developments would take.

A great deal of ground work preceded the meeting of Paul Hyatt, Art Chesher and Arthur Duggan in Austin in 1947 when the trio met with the state banking commissioner and board in an effort to get a charter to establish Security State Bank in Littlefield.

"We will have to give you an application," the bank commissioner told the group.

"And an application was ALL the commissioner and board promised," said Paul Hyatt, vice president of the bank which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this month.

Security State first opened its doors for business in October, 1947, in the old Yellowhouse Land Building. The first person to make a deposit was W.M.
Warren of Sudan, and the first stock certificate was presented to C.D.
Jarman, mayor at Fieldton.

A.C. Art Chesher was the first president of the bank. The fact that deposits topped $1 million the first quarter showed the need for a second bank in Littlefield. Total assets in the beginning were $1,220,405.

At the end of that first year, J.C.
Hilbun followed Chesher as president.
During the 10 years Hilbun was at the helm the bank built a new building in the 300 block of Phelps Avenue and total assets increased to just over $6 million.

Jack Wicker has been president and director of the bank since April, 1958.
During this time the bank outgrew its old quarters and built its present facilities at Phelps and Fifth and XIT Drive.

Twenty-five years later deposits total $14,500,000 and total assets are over $16 million.

Wicker expressed his appreciation to the people of the community and area for the growth the bank has enjoyed. He said he attributes the growth to the fine work of the bank directors and employees and the loyalty of its stockholders and customers.

"Recognizing these fine customers are our greatest asset, we have tried to provide the kind of service the people of this area need," Wicker added.

Three of the present bank employees have been with the institution since it started. Paul Hyatt, who was Conservation District (SWCD) at the annual SWCD directors meeting in the Willy Room of the Lamb County REA

Walter Gray won the door prize of one pheasant rooster and five pheasant hens.

Following the election of a director,
there was a short business meeting concerning a pheasant program for Lamb County. SWCD Board members ordered 500 pheasants for the Lamb County program.

Ready to be released pheasants will be sold for $2 each through the Lamb
County program.

MRS. KENNETH FISHER

Mixon-Fisher Vows Exchanged Saturday

Miss Connie Marie Mixon and Kenneth Lynn Fisher exchanged double wedding ring vows in the First Baptist Church at Amherst Saturday night before an altar centered with an arrangement of pink gladioli and burgundy carnations under an arch flanked on either side with candelabra with pink tapers entwined with emerald foliage and baby's breath.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mixon of Amherst and Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Fisher of Sudan.

Rev. T. Glenn Willson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amherst, performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of candlelight peau d'oise and imported chantilly lace. The molded empire bodice was fashioned with a high ring neckline and long bishop sleeve that were caught at the wrists by a deep cuff accented with tiny covered buttons.

A band of peau d'oise marked the high rise waistline with a dior bow for back accent. The controlled softly gathered skirt, edged at the hemline by the scalloped lace encrusted with seed pearls, swept to a chapel-length train. Her veil of chantilly lace with matching scalloped edge and seed pearls had tiny baby's breath for a headpiece and fell below the waistline.

Her gown was new, something old was her great grandmother's wedding band she received 100 years ago, she borrowed a handkerchief, wore a blue garter and had pennies in her shoe with the birth dates of her's and the groom's years of birth.

The bridal bouquet was of pink carnations, baby's breath and a removable corsage of white cattleya orchid and pink and white streamers.

Maid of honor was Sheryl Willson of Plainview, and Mrs. Len Mixon of Pampa was matron on honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Christi Batson of Amarillo and Mrs. Rodney Maxfield of Amherst. Connie Renea Mixon of Pampa was flower girl, and Barry Fisher of Littlefield was ring bearer.

Gary Gatewood of Sudan was best man. Groomsmen were D.W. Muller and Pat Brown of Amarillo and Bobby Newman of Sudan. Ushers were Len Mixon of Pampa, Ronnie Fisher of Littlefield and Edward Fisher of Sudan.

Bridal attendants wore floor length gowns of the bride's chosen colors. The long burgundy skirts were softly gathered onto a pink bodice featuring a stand-up collar, empire waistline and long sleeves gathered to buttoned cuffs. Pink chiffon lace beading encircled the waistline. They carried bouquets of pink carnations, baby's breath and pink and burgundy streamers.

Miss Kyla Harmon was accompanied by Mrs. Jomeryl Harmon, organist, and Miss Pam Yantis, pianist, as she sang "The Twelfth of Never," "Color My World" and "Walk Hand In Hand."

The bride's mother wore a floor length burgundy dress with accented pleated skirt and matching accessories.

The groom's mother wore a formal length gown of pink chiffon with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. Traditional wedding cake and punch was served from the bride's table by Miss Stephanie Carter, Miss Kay Campbell and Miss Denise Cornelius. Her table was covered with white net over satin and crystal and silver appointments.

Xi Nu Nu Sorority Holds Model Meeting

Members of the Texas Tau Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma conducted a model meeting, for their guests Monday night in the Willie Room of the REA building.

The meeting began with the opening ritual, followed by introductions. The officers of the chapter then explained the duties of their offices, followed by committee chairmen's explanations of their committee's duties.

Program chairman, Judy Vaughn, led her explanation with an example by presenting the program for the night. "Self Estimate" was the theme, and it was given as a skit. Janice Sebring played the part of Dr. Sisters, a psychiatrist, with Jeni D. Brunson, Judy Vaughn, and Bonnie Stephens as her patients. They presented individual's everyday problems, how they solved them, and thus showing an estimate of the personality they portrayed.

Continuing the meeting, the sorority's traditions, socials, and other activities were explained. Bonnie Stephens was presented as the chapter's 1973 Valentine Sweetheart. Her photograph will be entered in the sorority's international contest, which will be judged by a Hollywood star, such as last year's judge, Jack Benny. She will also reign over the chapter's Valentine dance.

Vice-President, Jeni D. Brunson, summed up the meeting and invited the guests to visit the display table. The display table featured "The Torch", the sorority's international magazine; the chapter's scrapbook for last year, which was presented to last year's president, Carol Brooks; and other items relating to the sorority.

After the closing ritual, refreshments were served. The Social Committee, Glenda Young, Judy Vaughn, Kay Roper, and Linda Merrifield, along with the Membership Committee, Jeni D. Brunson and Janice Sebring, served as hostesses. The tables were decorated with small collector's bottles filled with tiny dried flowers. Name tags, made by Janice Sebring, also served as place cards.

Guests attending were: Gayle Mills, Ruth Stueart, Ann Reagan, Joyce Morgan, Susan Head, Donna Squires, Diane Evans, Cary Davis, Suzanne Hunsinger, Rita Richardson, Jeanett Blevins, Jan Kelton, Barbara Steffy, Sherry Campbell, Ann Houk and Brenda Boomer. Members present were: Jeni D. Brunson, Kaye Kendall, Linda Merrifield, Dot Simmons, Bonnie Stephens, Judy Vaughn, Joyce Barrett, Janice Sebring, Kay Roper, Kathy Eddings, and Carol Brooks.

Ruth Little Receives Honors

BY MARGE ANZELINE

Few persons receive the honors they deserve during their lifetime. The honors, if ever bestowed, more often come after their death.

It is heartwarming to see justly deserved recognition given while the recipient is still striving for greater skills, increased knowledge of her subject and recognition for the entire field and its artisans.

Ruth Little, who with her husband, W.B. Little, for many years was owner of Little's of Littlefield, has been recognized for distinguished achievement and is the subject of commendation in a biographical volume "Two Thousand Women of Achievement" for 1972. Melrose Press, Ltd. of London, England are the publishers.

Her most recent honor was to be asked to judge the watercolor division of the National Art Association show to be held in Colorado Springs, Colorado in October, 1972.

Since 1960 she has been active in National China Painting Teachers Association and in the International Organization. She is in great demand for demonstration and lectures on china painting, and has judged many, many shows, both in United States and in Australia. She was Goodwill Ambassadors to Australia for the International China Painting Teachers Organization.

The 1970 edition of Who's Who in American Women included the name of Ruth Little. She received this singular honor both because of her many honors received in the field of china painting and the painting of lamps, and because of her literary efforts, which include three very successful books.

Her book, "Painting China for Pleasure and Profit", is being used as a textbook in many parts of the United States, as well as Australia, New Zealand and many other parts of the world. It is in distribution as far away as Guya, India and is now in its fourth printing.

"Old Lamps and New. Restoring and Decorating" fills a very real need for there is not other such book on the market. It grew out of years of experience in converting old kerosene lamps into beautiful, useful and decorative pieces.

Her newest literary effort, "Language of Flowers", is a small book of flowers and verses, a delight to the eye and an inspiration to lovers of old-fashioned beauty.

ACCORDING TO Eugene Smith (AJ writer) Lubbock county will receive about 30 million dollars this year in federal revenue. This consists mostly of grants. This does NOT include agricultural subsidies.

Man, if that ain't revenue sharing, I've never heard of it!

-dry-

A LOCAL CAT came into the mill a few days back and asked "Man, where's your Sand-Box?" -Takes me a while to catch on to those mod expressions. I'd almost sent him out into the back alley before I caught on!

HEARD A COUPLE gloom spreaders discuss the future of our economy. If the present administration stays in office another four years, looks real bad.

Course, if the administration changes, and things still go to pot, I suppose it'll be because we've passed the point of no return, already.

SHUX, I THOUGHT that's the excuse the present "Ins" are using!

-dry-

REVISED: Count that day lost when you don't get chewed for something, whether you did it or not!

-dry-

HAVEN'T HAZARDED a guess on the time of the first freeze--Keep hoping it's gonna be a lot later than I think.

-dry-

AT THIS WRITING, that revenue sharing thing is on its way through Congress. They aim to shore up all the weak places in our state and city finances.

Can't keep from wondering just how long it'll be 'til all our finances are federally controlled.

TWOULD BE wise to speak lightly when we're criticizing the Socialist forms of government. Might be the case of the pot calling the kettle, black!

New Rules Have Teeth

State Parks have always had rules governing the behavior of visitors. But for years obeying the rules was more a matter left to the individual conscience of the visitor than it was a matter of enforcement.

Enforcement personnel had no authority to do anything but ask park visitors to obey the rules.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1973, this situation will change.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission at its last meeting adopted rules and regulations under a new statute which allows the rules to have the effect of law. Violations of these rules could cost offenders up to $200 per citation.

The new rules, say park officials, are based on the rules which have been in effect in parks for many years, but there have been some clarifications and modernization.

"Mostly, the new rules are common sense," said one department official. "A person, for the most part, will be within the rules if he just makes a conscientious effort not to disturb or annoy his neighbor and to protect park property."

Visitors will be handed a condensed version of the rules as they enter a state park, and the rules printed in full will be posted in a prominent place.

It will be the responsibility of park visitors to know and obey the new rules.

DEAR EDITOR

Dear Editor,

We would like to thank Buddy Wells for the letter that was in last Thursday's paper. We are proud that the Concerned Citizens now have one man with them that believes in our democratic way of life. And that isn't trying to take our freedom away from us. We also hope that 3,000 plus people vote on the issue. Because we would like to know how the people feel.

The issue is not morals, it is whether we want Legalized Liquor or illegal liquor. We would like to know where the morals lie on this issue. We also would fight and die for Buddy's right to think the way he believes.

Thanks

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

No Bad-Mouthing

"BAD-MOUTHING" IS the cause of a big part of the discouragement and non-progressiveness and non-productiveness which plague individuals, organizations and communities.

Of course, we understand the necessity for good judgment, and for facing realities. There are times when someone must say, "It will not work"; but it is sad when influential persons bad-mouth all ideas, and plans, and proposals for improvement.

ONE DAY several men were discussing the improvements which had been made in their community. Finally, one man admitted that these improvements had actually been made; but he said, "I was opposed to everyone of them".

Yes, there are people like this man, people who oppose every proposal for community improvement. They talk against the work, and criticize the persons who are doing the work. They do this, when there is no sound basis for doing so.

THE "GLOOMY GUS" is always predicting the failure of everything, or almost everything. He will tell you how useless or how hopeless the suggestions are, and never say one word of encouragement or put forth any effort to help accomplish what needs to be done.

He will talk freely about how the town is dying, but refuse to do anything or invest any money to help save it. He even tells the people who are trying to revive the town and keep it alive how mistaken they are.

IT IS BETTER TO keep trying than it is to quit. Quitting is bad enough, even when the quitter just keeps a miserable, gloomy attitude to himself. When he launches a campaign of "bad-mouthing", he should be told that he should be permitted to do so. He must not be permitted to defeatism and discouragement to others. We do have the right to reject a

WE MAY NOT BE ABLE to do everything we think should be done. We may fail, or partially fail, in what we try to do; and the persons who disparagingly will be right with us then.

They can say, "I told you I couldn't do it." Nevertheless, good things can and will be done. We keep trying to do what needs to be done.

THE NEXT STEP for those who are inclined to "bad-mouthing" is criticism, usually unjustified, which has been done.

If they are unable to stop predicting against it, and working against all ideas and proposals, they usually spend their time picking and finding fault with what has been done. They never cease obstructiveness.

WE MUST THINK, talk, and act hopefully, constructively, progressively. If we fail, it is due to deterioration and decadence inevitable.

"BAD-MOUTHING" is no more harmful than we are willing to hear. We must refuse to hear it.

Not everyone should drink. But everyone who does should drink sensibly.

How do you know if you're drinking sensibly? There are many reasons for not drinking—religious, physical, and personal reasons. And there are many reasons why you should drink responsibly.

Responsible drinking is a matter of common sense. It's about knowing your limits and staying within them. It's about making choices that keep you healthy and happy.

That's why we encourage you to drink responsibly. Because that's the only way to truly enjoy the good life.

And that's why we're here to help you. We offer a wide variety of beverages that are both delicious and responsible.

So, next time you're out with friends, remember to drink responsibly. It's the smart choice.

If you choose to drink, drink responsibly.

Census Bureau To Make Survey

The survey on employment and unemployment, taken in Lamb County monthly by the Bureau of the Census, in October will include questions on school enrollment and college or professional degrees received in the past year, according to Percy R. Millard, director of the Bureau's data collection center in Dallas.

A sample of households in this area, part of the 50,000 national sample representing a cross section of all households, will be interviewed the week of Oct. 16-20.

The labor force information, which is collected for the U. S.

Department of Labor, provides a continuing measure of the economic health of the country.

The August survey showed that there were 86.9 million employed, up from 86.5 million in July, a substantial rise, but unemployment was basically unchanged. The unemployment rate was 5.6 per cent, compared with 5.5 per cent in both June and July and about 6 per cent a year ago.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept strictly confidential by law, and results are used only to compile statistical totals.

Farwell Blemishes Wolf Homecoming

Farwell's winless steers marred Springlake-Earth's homecoming by taking a 21-20 decision from the Wolverines Friday night.

All the scoring came in the first half, and the crucial difference came when an extra point kick sailed off to the left after a 16-yard touchdown pass from Springlake's Larry Thomas to Bob Angeley in the second period.

In a desperate attempt to catch up in the last 20 seconds of the game the Wolverines tried a 30-yard field goal that fell just a hair short of the win.

The Wolverines opened the game with a 43-yard touchdown run by Thomas and shortly afterward Springlake-Earth took a kick-off fumble from Farwell. Four plays later, Brian Sanderson plunged over from the one. Hal Wood passed to Sanderson for the two extra points.

Farwell lit the scoreboard when Winfred Long crossed over from four yards out for a TD and Kevin Hargrove passed to Long for the two points to narrow the gap in the score.

Hargrove crossed over again after Farwell set the stage for the drive by recovering a Wolverine fumble. The Steers took a one-point lead when Hargrove scored from three yards out and Doug Johnston kicked the PAT to make it 15-14.

The Thomas-Angeley pass gave the Wolverines the lead again, but Hargrove hit David Eannheim on a four-yard TD pass that brought the victory.

Farwell is 1-5 in season play and 1-1 in district. Springlake-Earth is 3-3 and 1-1.

REIGNING king and queen for Springlake-Earth High School's homecoming this weekend are Larry Thomas and Shelley Gaston, seated in the center. They received their crowns during a ceremony Friday afternoon in the Wolverines following the school marker dedication. Other candidates were, left to right, Rodriguez and Barbara Buckner; Brian Sanderson and Sheila Lewis; Nicho Triana, Daria Dear; and Luis Palacio and Kim Kelley. (Staff Photo)

DEWEY PEACOCK, split and for Anton, grabs a pass from Brent Couch for points 27 and 28 in their game against Lubbock Christian High. Anton won the grid battle, 36-12. (Staff Photo).

LAST NON-CONFERENCE GAME

Anton Blasts LCHS, 36-12

Anton closed their non-conference season Friday by downing Lubbock Christian High, 36-12, at Anton.

It was Anton all the way as they scored in every period but the Bulldogs had to stiffen a little in the final stanza when the visiting Eagles scored twice—once on a kick return and again on 21-yard pass play for their only two threats of the game.

In the opening quarter, Lonnie Clark recovered an Eagle fumble to stop their drive on the 49. The Bulldogs plowed for a first down and fumbled the ball on the Eagle 37. The very next play, Clark came up with the ball again. From this point Anton drove to the 11 and then Brent Couch passed to Mike Knebliek for the first tally with 2:10 left in the first quarter. The extra was no good.

During the second quarter, after a dozen offensive plays and four on the defensive side, the Bulldogs scored again with Brent Couch plowing through the middle for a 30-yard TD. Tommy Betts got the two extra points to give Anton a 14-0 lead with 5:18 left in the half.

The remainder of the half was ball swap with Lubbock Christian High getting nine offensive plays and Anton getting seven.

In the third quarter, Anton took the opening kick-off from their 26, and eight plays later Couch passed to Dewey Peacock for 39-yards, and the Bulldogs' third score of the contest with 9:52 left in the quarter, the extra attempt was no good.

It was 26-0 when Alvin Williams bulled over from the six with 2:25 left in the third stanza and then 28-0 after Couch bulleted to Peacock for the two point conversion.

Anton scored again in the final stanza on a 17-yard drive by Williams with 8:25 left in the third stanza and then 28-0 after Couch bulleted to Peacock for the two point conversion.

Anton scored again in the final stanza on a 17-yard drive by Williams with 8:25 remaining in the game, and Tommy Betts carried the ball over for the two-point conversion to give the Bulldogs a 36-0 lead.

Lubbock Christian came alive on the kick-off when Ted Paden caught the ball on the Eagle 16 and charged through the middle of the Bulldog defense and scampered 84 yards for a six pointer, with 8:12 left in the game.

The Eagles mustered their final score of the game when Eddie Wharton passed to Phillip Lemons for a 21-yard TD. Again, the conversion failed.

Outstanding defensive players, according to the bulldog coaches, are Bobby Kiser, Steve Burk, Peacock and Clark.

Meet The Minister

The Tim Conatser Family

Young Amherst couple is serving the Amherst Church of Christ in their second ministry, and have been in that community nearly a year.

They went to the Amherst church in January, 1972 from the Anapolis Church of Christ at Port Orchard, Wash.

Both Tim and Lema Conatser are natives of the South Plains area but their 22-month-old daughter, Lori, was born in Port Orchard. Conatser was born in Clovis, N.M. and grew up at Levelland where he graduated from high school, and his wife was born in Lubbock and reared at Tahoka where she graduated from high school.

Conatser went to South Plains College and received an Associate of Arts Degree. He met and married Lema while at SPC, and when he graduated they moved to Denver, Colo. where he attended the Bear Valley School of Preaching.

After he completed his studies there, they moved to the Port Orchard, Wash. Church.

Besides his duties with the church in Amherst, Conatser serves as den leader for Webelos Scouts. He enjoys outdoor camping, and gets to do some of it with his Scouts. Among his other hobbies are fishing when the opportunity permits, and hunting small game.

His wife took some courses at Bear Valley School of Preaching and worked as a secretary at the University Boulevard Church of Christ in Denver. Part of her time was also spent in working in the sports wear department of Penneys.

At Amherst, Lema is a member of the Amherst Study Club, and teaches the toddler's class at church.

In her spare time, she likes to sew, knit, embroidery, read, and paint in oils. She enjoys baking for the family.

THIS NEWLY REMODELED sanctuary of the Church of the Nazarene, located at Eighth and LFD Drive, will be dedicated this afternoon at 2:30. (Staff Photo).

Sanctuary Dedication Set Today

Dr. Lyle E. Eckley, superintendent of the West Texas District of the Church of the Nazarene, is conducting revival services at the Littlefield Church of the Nazarene, and will close out the revival today. The church's newly re-decorated sanctuary will be dedicated in special services this afternoon at 2:30. Pastor of the church, Curtis Steen, states, "I extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend remaining services and sanctuary dedication."

You Can't Legalize Drink For Adults Without Making It More Attractive For Your Youth

Pd.Pol.Adv.

NOTICE

The roads in precinct (3) in the Fieldton, Hart Camp and Spade Communities have become so bad in the past few years that it is nearly impossible to get down them if there is a small amount of rain or if a little irrigation water breaks out. Most of the roads are low in the middle with borders on each side. This causes the water to puddle and a big hole to exist even after it is dry. Many farmers have pleaded with the present Commissioner to do something about this to no avail. These roads not only cause undue wear on the farmers vehicles but also on the school buses, mail carrier and delivery vehicles that travel these roads. In precinct (3) we have four to five hundred dollar and two bit roads.

The Farmers of Fieldton, Hart Camp and Spade Communities plead with their neighbors and all the voters of the City of Littlefield, that are in Precinct (3) to join with us writing in the name of:

GEORGE STEWART

George Stewart is a farmer in the Hart Camp Community. He is about 35 years old and has lived in Lamb County most of his life. He is married and has two daughters. He has served in the Armed Forces of this country. He belongs to the First Baptist Church of Fieldton. He is a sound judgement and good reputation, also well thought of by all that know him. He knows how to work with and repair machinery.

A nurse by any other name is still a nurse
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse, and I am a little peeve is one that is shared by many in my profession being called "NURSE."
We all wear name pins. Why can't people take the time and trouble to look at them and call us "Miss Jones" or "Mrs. Smith"? A nurse would never call a patient "patient," or a visitor, "visitor."
Please print this. It might penetrate. Thank you.
IRKED

DEAR IRKED: I found it difficult to believe that the majority of nurses shared your feeling, so I contacted a local hospital. Here are the results:

The Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland:
"We questioned approximately 300 nurses, and

"[a] More than 90 per cent were 'not irked' by being called nurse. While they all wear name badges, patients are not wearing their glasses, others are not wearing their name badges, and some never even wear name badges.

"[b] Virtually all of our nurses would be 'irked' if called by their first name unless it was by a patient. It happened to be a friend.

"[c] The nurses would prefer not to be called 'Mrs.'"

"[d] Our conclusion is that nurses are proud of being called nurse, a title which designates a high level of achievement and respect."

Century City Hospital, Los Angeles, Cal.:
"We asked 44 nurses how they felt about being called 'nurse,' only three said they didn't like it, two preferred to be called 'Miss or Mrs. So and So' and 'Miss' or 'Mrs.' unless their last names were included. I don't object to being called 'Nurse' if it is gentle, but when someone shouts 'NURSE' at me, I feel like a drill sergeant commanding a buck private, I bristle."

Mount Sinai Hospital, Minneapolis:
"Not one nurse said she would be irked if called 'Nurse.' It is preferable to 'Bloodie,' 'Grlie,' or 'Honey.'"

"We regard nursing as a noble profession, and required a great deal of time and effort to attain it. It is inconceivable that a nurse would be irked by being called 'Nurse.'"

Saint John's Hospital, Santa Monica, Cal.:
"Only one nurse polled was 'irked' when called 'Nurse.' The consensus was that 'Miss' or 'Mrs.' was a close runner-up for irritating nurses. Almost all nurses preferred to be addressed by their names, but name pins on their uniforms, but a surprising number of patients and visitors do not seem to notice them."
"Most expressed great surprise that any nurse would be irked at being called 'Nurse.' Of course, since I have many nurses who are also nurses, one would be expected to address a nursing sister as 'Sister' than 'Nurse' and answer to both cheerfully."

Abbott Hospital, Minneapolis:
"Sixty five nurses were polled, 31 of whom said they did not like to be called 'Nurse.' They preferred to be addressed by their names, 'Miss or Mrs.' which reason their names are worn on their uniforms."
"Thirty-four of the Abbott Hospital nurses said they had no objections whatsoever to being called 'Nurse.'"

DEAR ABBY: At the beginning of summer, I made a "time schedule" for my children, since I didn't want to go thru another summer seeing them lie around doing nothing all day.

Some children are lucky enough to have summer camps or go to summer school, or summer camp, but from the favorable comment from neighbors, friends, and repairmen who have seen my schedule posted on my wall, it's a pretty good idea.

I make a "chart" listing chores that must be done daily [Monday thru Saturday—Sunday is a "free" day]. I indicate which child is to do what on each day. It's like a charm, especially when I tell one of them to go to the garbage, and he says, "It's HER turn yesterday." Then trying to be fair, I wrack my brain to remember who was right.

I'm sorry I didn't think of sharing this idea with you readers sooner, Abby, but there is always next summer.

DEAR LUCILLE: Thanks for suggesting it. My children and I seem to get closer together each year.

DEAR ABBY: Mighty kind of you to have put my name in the word for the much maligned stepmothers of the world. Your statement, "Abraham Lincoln was referring to STEPMOTHER when he said, 'all that I hope to be to my angel mother.'"

I challenge that. When Lincoln's mother died when he was nine years and 235 days old. He knew and loved his mother, Nancy Hanks Lincoln, and I believe he was referring to HER, and not to his stepmother, Sarah Bush Lincoln. Respectfully,
A STUDENT OF LINCOLN

DEAR ABBY: Some letters you had in your issue from the husbands who were patting themselves on the back because they forgave their wives for having affairs prompts me to write.

About a year ago my wife forgave me for an affair which I knew almost from the start was a mistake. She assured me that all was forgiven. She hasn't mentioned it since, but hardly a day goes by when she hasn't said something she wants me to buy her. She sends me anywhere with me, unless it's to see some of her friends. Mine have been crossed off my social list. She has sex with me for a year. (She says she doesn't "love" me.)
Do you think she has forgiven me? I am beginning to wish I hadn't crossed the other woman off my list.
TIED UP

DEAR TIRED: She obviously SAID she forgave you. Meanwhile, she's milking your mistake for all it's worth. When you think you've been punished enough, you're not. Unless you want to spend the rest of your life with an unforgiving thumb.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

HOMEMAKING TIPS

Important Planning

Are you having company next week or next month? Do you like to have something cooked ahead of time and have time to visit with your guests? Put your versatile freezer to use.

For tiptop quality and economical use of freezer space, plan your freezing and use of precooked main dishes so that they will be in the freezer no longer than two or three months. However, most of these foods if properly packaged and stored will not suffer serious quality loss if kept up to 6 months. After 6 months' storage, quality often declines rapidly, but the food is still safe to eat.

In general, prepare the food as you would if it were to be served right away. Do not overcook. Some ingredients in main dishes that must be reheated for serving are better if slightly under-done for freezing. If cooked well-done before freezing, foods such as vegetables and macaroni are likely to be too soft when reheated. They also may have a warmed-over taste.

Soups and sauces thickened with ordinary wheat flour may tend to separate or curdle on thawing. Frozen gravies, sauces, and soups may be somewhat thicker after thawing than when freshly prepared, but suitable liquid can be added to give the desired consistency.

Commercially frozen soups, sauces, and gravies are often made with waxy rice flour, which results in a smoother product. If waxy rice flour is available, it is a good idea to use it. However, soups, sauces, and gravies made with ordinary flour can be satisfactory if they are quick-frozen and stored at 0 degrees F. for only 2 to 3 months. Stirring during reheating helps to overcome separation, too.

Crumb or cheese toppings are best added when the food is reheated for serving.

Pastry crusts frozen unbaked are more tender and flaky and have a fresher flavor than those baked and then frozen. Most pies are better frozen uncooked, and baked immediately after removal from freezer.

Quick cooling of the food immediately after it is cooked stops the cooking and so helps keep the natural flavor, color, and texture of the food. It also retards or prevents the growth of bacteria that may cause spoilage.

To cool, set uncovered pan of food in iced or very cold water; change the water to keep it cold. Or set pan on ice. Or put the uncovered pan of food in a cold place.

As soon as the food is cool, put it promptly into freezer containers of moisture-vapor-proof or moisture-vapor-resistant packaging material. Pack the food tightly into the container to reduce the amount of air in the package. Some prepared foods, like meat pies and casserole dishes, may be frozen in the containers in which they were baked, ready for reheating at time of using.

Ordinary waxed papers, household aluminum foil, and unwaxed or lightly waxed cartons used for cottage cheese and ice cream are not sufficiently moisture-vapor-resistant for foods to be frozen and held more than a few days.

Heavy duty aluminum foil is one of the best wrappers for cakes or pies. Use the "drug store" wrap, to make them air tight. Some iced cakes should be quick-frozen before wrapping, then quickly wrapped and returned to the freezer.

Most precooked frozen foods can be reheated either in the oven or on top of the range. Reheating in the oven takes little of the cook's attention and usually keeps the texture of the food better. Generally it is better to reheat frozen cooked main dishes without thawing.

If you thaw food completely before reheating, it is usually best to thaw in the refrigerator. Thawing at room temperature is not recommended. Once food is thawed, use it immediately.

More and more people are wising up to the low cost of electric heat

More SPS customers switched to electric heat last year because they found out, through a free estimate, they could operate an electric heating system for little more than they were spending already. Do you think they made a wise decision? Ask any of them. They're our most convincing salesmen. And, ask us for an operating cost estimate. It's free. It's accurate. It's a real eye-opener.

USDA Issues Decision On Milk Marketing

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has approved advertising, research, and promotion plans for 15 federal milk marketing orders in the Southwest, provided the required two-thirds majority of dairy farmers affected approve in each of the markets.

For three of the orders—the North Texas, Corpus Christi and Red River Valley—producers will vote in mail referendums to be conducted by the market administrator of each order.

In the other 12 milk order markets where virtually all of the producers are represented by dairy cooperatives, USDA will poll the cooperatives to determine the required producer approval for each market.

The other 12 orders are the Neosho Valley, Wichita, Memphis, Fort Smith, Oklahoma Metropolitan, Central Arkansas, Lubbock-Plainview, San Antonio, Central West Texas, Austin-Waco, Texas Panhandle and Rio Grande Valley orders.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service said advertising, research and promotion of milk under federal milk orders was authorized by law in 1971. Since then, three federal milk orders have been amended to add such programs for milk and milk products—the Middle Atlantic, Chicago Regional and Indiana orders.

The new plans, if adopted for any or all the 15 orders, would be funded by deductions of 5 cents a hundredweight on all milk that producers deliver to each of the markets each month, before returns for the milk are paid out to producers. The money would be turned over by the market administrator concerned to an agency comprised of local producers to be used for research and development, advertising (except brand advertising), sales promotion, educational and other programs to improve markets for milk and milk products.

When requested, quarterly refunds would be made to any producer not wishing to participate.

The amendment proposals were made at a public hearing in Dallas, June 28-29. The hearing was requested by Associated Milk Producers, Inc., representing a majority of farmers supplying milk to the 15 markets.

Copies of this final decision may be obtained from the market administrators of the respective orders, or from the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The 1972 High Plains Cotton crop again is estimated at just under 2 million bales by the joint cotton estimates committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange.

The exact October estimate for 25 counties surrounding Lubbock came to 1,978,000 bales, 15,000 below the Sept. 1 projection of 1,993,000 bales. Standing acreage was unchanged from September, at 2,494,050.

The average per-acre yield indicated by the October estimate is therefore 381 pounds as compared to 383 pounds on Sept. 1.

Committee spokesmen noted that weather conditions in the month of September were excellent for crop development, and there would have been cause for higher production expectations except for a high incidence of verticillium wilt in many areas and severe weed problems in others.

Some fields on the Plains may not be harvested at all because of weeds, and Bill

Shareowners

Meeting Called

A special meeting of Southwestern Life shareowners has been called for Nov. 21 to consider a plan for restructuring the company and its subsidiaries under a holding company, according to Hubert Henry, representative from Littlefield.

Directors met to approve and recommend the plan to shareowners. Approval requires a two-thirds favorable vote of shareowners, clearances by regulatory authorities and a favorable tax ruling.

President William H. Seay said details of the proposal will be contained in a proxy statement which will be mailed to shareowners the week of Oct. 23. Owners of stock at the close of business Oct. 12 will be entitled to vote.

Under the plan, Southwestern Life, Southwestern Management & Research Corp., The Southwestern Investors Corporation of Dallas, and B.O.B. Corporation, all now wholly owned affiliates, would become subsidiaries of Southwestern Life Corporation, a Delaware corporation newly organized as the holding company. Southwestern General Life Insurance Company, a present subsidiary of Southwestern Life, would temporarily continue in that relationship but would later become a subsidiary of the holding company.

Shareowners of Southwestern Life would become shareowners of Southwestern Life Corporation in an even one-for-one tax-free exchange of shares. There are presently 10,330,667 shares of Southwestern Life stock issued and outstanding with a total of 16,000,000 authorized.

Seay said the companies would continue to operate under present management after completion of reorganization, which would become effective December 31, 1972.

There are an estimated 11 million victims of leprosy in the world. For 65 cents, UNICEF can supply enough sulfone tablets to treat one of them successfully for three years.

county reported that after a re-assessment of overall crop conditions, particularly fields with severe weed problems, "we think the lower figure is a little more realistic."

A good sized drop in estimated production was also seen in Dickens County, from a 23,000-bale guess last month to 16,000 bales now foreseen. Primary reason is given as the boll weevil infestations in that area.

Unfred said value of the crop to the area economy is still a big question mark under currently declining market prices, "but with anything like a reasonable price and if the quality of the crop is fairly, its value should approach $350 million, including government payments.

The joint PCG-LCE committee will look again at crop prospects and issue revised estimates as of Nov. 1 and Dec. 1.

Grain Set Aside Urged By GSP

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association has appealed to Secretary Butz to retain the 1972 level of set-aside.

Fear that the increased grain sales to Russia and other buyers would cause the USDA to reduce too many 1973 set-aside acres, thus again resulting in grain surplus and low market prices, is the reason for the GSPA concern.

In a letter to Secretary Butz, GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp says, "the tendency may be to reduce the set-aside program. However, we urge you to consider all the facts before making such a decision. We oppose such a cut-back because it would create another surplus and, by so doing, would cause extreme hardship American farmers."

Harp added, "recent production studies have shown that American farmers can afford a price decline, as are barely breaking even prices at the present level. We strongly appeal to you not to allow a repeat of 1967 and 1971 surpluses." Harp concluded.

Even if he works in a glue factory, even if he sandblasts buildings, we've got workclothes for your husband that are more rugged than what he does for a living.

They're Dickies. Made with the heaviest blend of 65% polyester/35% cotton in the business.

But even though they're so durable they're not tough on you. Because they're Shape/Set and never need ironing. And they've got Soil-Release. And they come at a very easy price.
