Wildcats face final non-district game

Littlefield Wildcats will gain more momentum in the upcoming district race as they travel to Abernathy tonight.

It will be the last non-district game for the 'Cats. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Abernathy brings a 3-2 record into the fracas. The Antelopes have won, lost, won, lost and won. Wildcat fans hope that their on-and-off season will be off Friday night. The Antelopes opened by knocking off Petersburg 26-10. Olton downed them 20-8 before Abernathy rebounded against Hale Center and took a 40-20 decision. Slaton blasted the Antelopes 40-0 and last week Abernathy blitzed Muleshoe 33-3.

The two schools last met in 1971 in a district contest. The 'Cats came away with a 24-15 victory. Slaton is the only common opponent. The Tigers rolled over Littlefield 47-7 and the next week blasted Abernathy 40-0.

The Wildcats will not be at top strength this week. Guard Lane McKinnon is suffering from a sprained knee and Jeff Ratliff is nursing a hyper-extended elbow. Several others are suffering from assorted bumps and bruises from the tough schedule.

The Antelopes have a fine stable of running backs. All-South-Plains

Cattle Dip Field Day set Oct. 14 at Olton

OLTON—A seminar, barbeque and tour of Olton Feedyards comprise a field day for cattle feeders and other interested persons beginning at 10 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 14, at the Olton Community Center.

Dip vat management techniques, costs and regulations will be discussed during the morning seminar.

Guests will tour Olton Feedyards, Inc. where the Hydrasieve cattle dip recycling system will be demonstrated, according to Dr. John M. Sweeten, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station.

"Feedlot managers, yard foremen, veterinarians, entomologists and suppliers will be interested in attending this unique event," says Sweeten, who is coordinating the field day. "We will discuss water pollution controls, state and federal requirements for cattle dipping vat management and cattle economics."

Sweeten says the Hydrasieve system has been successful in reducing pesticide costs and disposal requirements in an extension result demonstration supported by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association.

Speakers will be Dr. James C. Christy, scabbies epidemiologist with the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service at Amarillo; Dr. Gene C. Cope, area veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Amarillo; Dr. Richard P. Unlucky Soviet Flyer

CONSIDER THE CASE of 1st Lieutenant Victor Belenko of the Soviet Air Force.

It was Belenko who landed his super-sonic MIG-25 "Foxbat" fighter plane at a remote airport on the northern Japanese island of Hokkaido, after a hair-raising flight from a Soviet Air base near Vladivostok, USSR.

Belenko's initial cover story that he was "lost" seems unlikely, since, among other things, his gas tanks were well supplied with fuel. It is known that normally the Soviets are very cautious to provide just enough fuel to complete a limited mission as a precaution against defection. (Can we imagine the United States imposing such restrictions on American flyers?)

IN ANY EVENT, suppose that he did, in fact, get lost and make an emergency landing? It is extremely unlikely that Belenko would choose to go back, well knowing the fate that would await him for making such a fantastic blunder. It would be Siberia or worse.

After all, the MIG-25 is said to be the most advanced fighter-interceptor plane in existence, which, in itself, gives the lie to those who still try to claim that the United States is "ahead" in national defense. (The only comparable thing the United States has is our SR 71, but under the State-Department-imposed "deterrent" and "detente" rules, the aircraft has been limited to merely reconnaissance capabilities— not interception.)

HENCE, the MIG-25 is loaded with a great many highly sophisticated military secrets, and the deliverance of the plane into our hands represents one of the most important intelligence coups we have enjoyed— and an equal loss to the Reds.

In any event, Belenko has few options. He left behind a wife and a son, and he will probably never see them again. He left a very secure career in the USSR with benefits and a standard of living considerably better than the average Russian civilian.

Here in the United States he must, if he expects to live, go "underground" with a new identity, build a new job talent and capability, and start life all over, never again to be able to stand and say: "I am Victor Belenko."

How bad, how indescribably bad must it be in the USSR to cause anyone to take such a course of action? Yet, thousands risk their lives every year to flee the "Soviet paradise" to face an uncertain future in the free world.

A newspaper columnist reports this as one of the finest business letter stories ever heard. The letters, obviously written by an illiterate salesman, said:

"Dear Boss: I seen this outfit which they ain't never bot a dime's worth of nothing from us and I sole them a couple hundred thousand dollars worth of guds. I am now going to chawgo."

"Dear Boss: I cum hear and I sold them half a milyon," it said.

Both letters were posted on the bulletin board with a note appended by the company president:

"We been spendin' to much time hear tryin' to spel, insted of tryin' to sel. Let's watch these letters from Gooch who is on the rode doing a grate job for us, and you GO OUT AND DO LIKE HE DONE."

Faultfinders....

They find fault with the editor:
And say he should be shot;
That columns are as peppy
As a cemetery lot.
They say he shows poor judgment:
The jokes, they say, are stale.
On upper floor they holler,
On lower floors they wail:
But when the paper is issued
(We say it with a smile).
If someone doesn't get one
You can hear him yell a mile.

Don't I Know It!!!!

The typographical error is a slippery thing and sly;

You can hunt 'til you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by.

'Til the forms are off the presses,
it is strange how still it sleeps;

It shrinks down in a corner, and it never stirs or peeps.

That typographical error is too small for human eyes;

'Til the ink is on the paper,
when it grows to mountain size.

The boss just stares with horror, then he grabs his hair and groans:
The Copy reader drops his head upon his hands and moans.

The remainder of the issue may be clean as clean can be;

But the typographical error is the only thing they'll see.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVORN

AS HALLOWEEN NEARS, safety comes to mind— especially costume safety.

Here are some ways parents can make children's "Trick or treating" safer this year.

—Consider using make-up to decorate the face rather than wearing a mask which may block vision.

—Sew or glue reflective tape to both front and back of the costume, be creative and incorporate the tape into the costume design.

—Check labels or packaging on purchased costumes for flame retardant finishes. Children may be exposed to many direct sources of fires such as lighted pumpkins, colorful candles or open fires for roasting marshmallows.

—For home-sewn costumes, select fabrics that have a flame retardant finish. Or apply one at home—aerosol or home made. But remember that the commercial aerosol may not be effective on all fabrics, so check the aerosol label.

Here is a recipe for making flame retardant finish, but remember this solution will work only on costumes made of muslin, burlap, old sheets—in other words, items made of cottons, cotton blends or other natural fibers. It is not good on synthetics or resin-treated cottons.

Dissolve three ounces of boric acid in two quarts of hot water and stir in seven ounces of borax (boric acid and borax are available at drugstores).

Soak the costume in this solution for about five minutes, then wring out and hang. When just damp, iron until dry.

This solution will not appreciably change the fabric, although any fabric that will shrink or discolor in water will be affected by the solution. This treatment will not fire-proof a costume, but will help it to resist ignition and spreading the fire. It will be effective until the costume is laundered.

Pallbearers were step sons and sons-in-law: Charlie Thomas, Nathaniel Anderson, Clarence Edwards Jr., Sam Jones, Jimmie Shaw and Johnny Johnson.

EVA ORMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Orman of Sudan, who was dead on arrival at South Plains Hospital in Amherst Tuesday afternoon at 5:45, are pending with Hammons Funeral Home in Littlefield.

but these foreign dishes frighten me," says a homemaker in a comment typical of many.

Think of quiche as a pie, in this case a one-crust, main-dish pie.

Doesn't that put a different complexion on the matter?

It should, because that's what a quiche is. There are many variations, of course.

Originally it started out as a Swiss cheese-egg-milk custard, but then expanded to include bacon, onions, and, more recently other vegetables.

Two delicious variations of the original include a tomato with cheddar cheese and then a delectable shrimp and Parmesan cheese offering. Both are colorful and easy to make, since they are variations of custard. Should you want to turn out quiche in a hurry, make the crust ahead of time and freeze.

Quiche slices best when it's allowed to stand 10 to 15 minutes before serving. That allows the cheese-custard to set.

Select some seasonal fresh fruits such as apples, pears, melon and grapes for a fruit salad to go with the quiche.

CHEDDAR TOMATO QUICHE

- 9-inch unbaked pie shell
- 1 cup [4 oz.] shredded Cheddar cheese
- 6 slices bacon, cooked, crumbled
- 1/4 cup sliced green onion
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 1/2 cups light cream or half and half
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 2 Tbsps. grated Parmesan cheese
- Sliced tomatoes, optional

Sprinkle cheese, bacon and onion over bottom of pie shell. Beat together eggs, cream, Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard. Pour into pie shell. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in preheated 375°F. oven 30 to 35 minutes or until a knife inserted near center comes out clean. Let stand 15 minutes before serving. Garnish with sliced tomatoes, if desired. 6 servings.

SHRIMP QUICHE

- 9-inch unbaked pie shell
- 2 cans [4 1/2-oz. each] small deveined shrimp, drained, cut up
- 1/4 cup chopped pimiento
- 3 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1/4 tsp. thyme
- 1/8 tsp. hot pepper sauce
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Sprinkle shrimp, then pimiento over bottom of pie shell. Beat together eggs, milk, thyme and hot pepper sauce; pour over shrimp mixture. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in preheated 375°F. oven about 35 minutes or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. 6 servings.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

How we live

MUCH IS SAID and written about "how we live", and this is understandable; because all of us live in some manner.

For some, living is a rich and rewarding experience, but for others, the "how" of living is much less than satisfactory. For all of us, there are, problems and difficulties.

WE CAN LEARN "how to live" a very satisfactory life, if this is what we strongly desire and are willing to put forth the continuing effort. The day-to-day experience can be a "drag" and a heavy burden, or it can be a great and good experience.

Of course, all of us know that daily living will not be just exactly as we wish it to be. There will be disappointments now and then, and there will be some unexpected setbacks; but we can make the central or foundational part of our living very desirable and successful.

OUR DAYS can be filled with worthy purpose and much meaning, they can be usefully employed, and lived with gratitude and appreciation. We do have a choice about "how we live".

Certainly, it is essential that we be realistic. We know that living cannot be all sunshine and laughter, but that there will be some shadows and some tears. If, however, we make the central part of our living as it should be, we can maintain the balance which is essential to satisfactory living.

WE MUST NOT BOG DOWN in the difficulties, disappointing problems and frustrations. We deal with them in the way we can and move on to appreciation and enjoyment of pleasant and rewarding life.

This is "how we live" the only satisfactory way to live. Count our blessings, and counting, feel deeply and joyfully our gratitude. View each day of life as a gift to love and cherish, and something just to tolerate.

"TO COMPLAIN" that life is a joy while there is a single whom we can relieve of bounty, assist by our presence, enliven by our presence, lament the loss of that we possess, and is just as ready to die of thirst with the hands." Fitzosborne.

TO SOME EXTENT, we live what it is. We cannot control everything that happens, we can control how we react to what happens. In this we can completely control "how we live".

This, then, must surely mean by which we can have the best of living. It is not that we permit ourselves to be constantly off-balance by the situation between the highs and lows of living.

It is much better that we have the steady course of good which is supported by our own spones. Thus, we choose "how we live".

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

GUESS MR. BUTZ has learned the danger of crackin' jokes about a minority; just hope they don't start taking those Aggie Jokes seriously.

I REALLY DIDN'T intend to try to answer any of Mr. Vaughn's arguments about the capital punishment thing. His reasoning seems so strange, it's hard for me to grasp.

However, since it keeps bearing on my mind to the extent I'm at a loss for anything else to write about, perhaps it wouldn't be amiss to ask for further enlightenment.

ARE WE NOT to recognize the difference between the laws of the land and the laws of God? Do we not understand that the laws of the land are to deal with the man of flesh, while the laws of God deals with the spiritual man?

We readily recognize that the dedicated Christian needs little to instruct him, in his behaviour toward his fellow men, aside from the Word of God. However, with what are we to govern the man that places no importance upon God and His Word?

ACCORDING TO Mr. Vaughn's statement, Christ has died for the sins of all mankind, whether man accepts Christ, or not. Therefore, man (or government) is out of place to question a man's behaviour, regardless of what he does. Does this not sound strange? (Surely this isn't what he meant to say!)

Since governments were ordained of God to rule men upon earth, all men are commanded to be in obedience to them, to enforce those laws. The law of each law has its penalty, which we're expected to pay, if we're caught breaking the law. Only the law breaker is in fear of them.

GOD'S LAW PERTAINS to spiritual men (the man that is forever) and passes sentence on the eternal destiny of his kind, but only the obedient liever can expect his sins to be forgiven. The rebellious liever can only expect eternal damnation. A much more severe penalty than the death of the flesh. (State governments have this power.)

Certainly, we should live in fear of those who can put us to death in the flesh, but of how much reverence is due the one who judges over the eternal life?

Surely we can recognize the difference, and hold each to its proper perspective. "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's", Mt. 22:21. Let's church and state separated.

Marshall-Metz wedding solemnized at church

OLTON— Miss Mary Beatrice Marshall of Irving and Michael Anthony Metz, also of Irving, pledged nuptial vows at 2 p.m. Saturday in Olton Church of The Nazarene.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Bobbette Tinney of Irving and Leslie Allen Marshall of Olton. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Carl Youngblood of Irving are parents of the groom.

Miss Rhonda Howard, pianist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied her father, Herman Howard, as he sang "Whither Thou Goest I Will Go."

Rev. Terry Connally, pastor directed the double-arch ceremony before an archway entwined with greenery and decorated with bows of blue satin ribbon.

Presented for marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white nylon flocked with small blue and green floral design.

The dress was styled with sweetheart neckline edged with lace, long sheer bouffant sleeves terminating in deep cuffs at the wrist, and softly gathered skirt. A dark blue velvet sash outlined the waistline tied in a bow at the back. She wore a silver necklace belonging to her father's wife.

Atop a white Bible the bride carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations interspersed with baby's breath and tied with white satin ribbon streamers.

Bridesmatron was Mrs. Mary Youngblood of Irving, mother of the groom. She wore a dress of flocked nylon fashioned identically to the bridal gown.

The groom wore a light blue suit with a tie corresponding the floral design of his bride's dress.

Billy Carl Youngblood was his son's best man.

Miss Donna Youngblood of Irving, sister of the groom, was ringbearer. She selected an ankle-length dress of light blue double knit with high neckline and long sleeves.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Parish of Earth, grandparents of the bride.

Immediately following the marriage rites a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth featuring blue flowers and their accompanying green leaves. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake with its white frosting was decorated with pink rosebuds and a pink heart outlined in blue, flanked by the words "Best Wishes" in blue lettering. Atop the cake was a miniature bride and groom under a heart-shaped archway.

Miss Youngblood presided at the table serving the cake and fruit punch from silver and crystal appointments.

Present at the reception were Rev. Connally, the bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood, the brides' uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin; an aunt, Mrs. Hoover Crowder; and aunt and cousin, Mrs. Benny Moore and D'Andrea, the host couple and their son, Royce.

Later in the afternoon the newlyweds were honored with a reception by their relatives in Earth.

The bride and groom are graduates of Irving High School. They are at home in Irving where Metz is employed by the city.

Scout Troop 600 holds Eagle Court

Sunday, Oct. 3, Troop 600 held a special Eagle Court of Honor, where skill awards, merit badges and progress awards were presented to the Scouts. The troop received the 1976 National President's Unit Award and the Scouts and Scouters, who had completed the Order of the Arrow Ordeal were presented a special Troop neckerchief.

There are 12 skill awards, each built around a group of related skills. They are designed to provide early recognition to motivate a Scout, to develop skills for everyday living and full participation in Scouting, and to give Scouts a wide choice of things to do.

Those Scouts and the Skill Awards they received were: Quentin Clark-Camping and Hiking; Greg Dempsey-Citizenship and Cooking; Orville Haynes-Camping, Cooking, and Hiking; Brian Killough-Camping, Citizenship, Cooking, Family Living and Hiking; Coy Miles-Cooking and Family Living; and Terry White-Citizenship, Cooking, and First Aid.

There are more than 100 different merit badges, each related to a vocation, hobby, or Scouting skill. They are aimed at helping a boy discover his abilities and interests as he explores the merit badge subjects. They also help a boy become proficient in the areas of service to others and personal fitness. Merit Badges demand more proficiency than skill awards.

The Merit Badges were presented to: Bradley Byers-Astronomy, and Environmental Science; Quentin Clark-Agriculture, Art, Animal Science, Environmental Science, Leatherwork, Geology, Public Health, Salesmanship, Safety, and Sports; Greg Dempsey-Geology; Tony Hall-Art, Citizenship in the World, Leatherwork, Model Building and Design, Personal Management, Public Health, Traffic Safety, and Water Skiing; Orville Haynes-Cooking and Geology; Ricky Henson-Agriculture, Art, Cooking, Hiking, and Public Health; Alan Jones-Environmental Science and Sports; Brian Killough-Cooking and Geology; Coy Miles-Cooking, Geology, and Rabbit Raising; Clark Pylant-Environmental Science, Pets, and Sports; Scott Sell-Citizenship in the Nation, Communications, Soil and Water Conservation, and Sports; Terry White-Environmental Science; Greg Wilhite-Aviation, Communications, Rifle and Shotgun Shooting, and Wood Carving; and Chris Clark-Stamp Collecting.

Progress Awards were presented to: Bill Hargenscheimer-Scout Progress Award; Greg Dempsey, Brian Killough, and Terry White-Tenderfoot Progress Award; Orville Haynes and Coy Miles-Second Class Progress Award; Quentin Clark, Alan Jones, and Clark Pylant-Star Progress Award.

For the fourth year, Troop 600 received the National Presidents Unit Award. This is an Award to Troops that re-register on time, attend five District or Council events, hold at least four uniform inspections, have camped out at least 10 days and nights, and attended summer camp. The award was presented by Jim Beadles, District Scout Executive for the George White District.

Scouts Quentin Clark, Bradley Byers, Alan Jones, and Clark Pylant, Scouters George Clark, Rodney Lewis, and Will Pylant received a special Troop neckerchief for completing the Order of the Arrow Ordeal. The Order of the Arrow is an Honor Camper's organization. Membership is obtained by having 15 days and nights of camping and being voted on by the members of the Troop. These Scouts and Scouters were tapped out for this honor at Camp Tres Ritos and took the Ordeal at Camp Post in August.

Scouts Ricky Henson, Tony Hall and Scott Sell received a special Troop neckerchief for obtaining Brotherhood membership in the Order of the Arrow. They completed the Brotherhood ceremony at Camp Post.

An Eagle Scout Investiture was held for Scouts Tony Hall and Greg Wilhite. The Eagle Scout Progress Award is Scouting's highest award. A Scout has to complete 24 merit badges, serve as a Troop Leader for at least six months and carry out an approved service project.

The guest speaker at the Eagle Scout Court of Honor was Roland Bell, District Scout Executive for the George White District. He presented the Order of the Arrow Ordeal to the Scouts.

Approved service projects were given by Bill Yohner, District Scout Executive. Tony Hall has been a patrol leader and is now a member of the Leadership of Troop 600. He is also a member of Mr. and Mrs. Hall.

Greg Wilhite, a member of Troop 600, has been a Scoutmaster for five years. He is also a member of the Order of the Arrow and a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster in Troop 600. He is also a member of Mr. and Mrs. Wilhite of Littlefield. Eagle Scout Ricky Henson received a Brotherhood membership during the Eagle Investiture. A patch was earned for each merit badge over the past year and three active service.

Nine Texas Tech students for the men's and women's Red Raider teams competing with 16 other Southwest Region university and college teams in the rodeo.

More than 300 cowboys and cowgirls will be vying for cash, trophies and belt buckles... and the all-important team points that could carry them to the National Intercollegiate Rodeo finals in Bozeman, Mont., next June.

Tickets are already on sale at area western wear stores for the 7:30 p.m. daily performances in the Coliseum. General admission is $2. Reserved seats go for $3, $4 and $5 each.

Special attractions at the rodeo will include Miss Rodeo Texas for 1977, Terry Ann Edington, 21, Texas Tech home economics-education graduate in the spring and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hick Edington of Cross Plains. She was chosen Miss Rodeo Texas earlier this month.

Also on the star list is Mickey Gilley, country-western singer, who will be performing all four nights at the Coliseum and also at post-rodeo dances Friday and Saturday nights at the National Guard Armory on 4th Street. The public may attend.

Seventh graders lose contest

The Littlefield seventh grade football team traveled to Floydada Tuesday and lost the contest by a score of 2 to 0.

Floydada lit up the scoreboard in the last part of the first quarter when the Littlefield center snapped the ball over the punters head and was tackled in the end zone for a safety.

Outstanding offensive players include halfbacks George Gallegos and Mike Williams. Defensive outs consist of corner George Brockington, Scott Blakely, ends Jones and Jim Burke, Alex Burnet and Tiller, nose-guard Hodge, linebacker Simpson and Leslie Brown, and safeties Bowman and George legos.

The seventh graders travel to Abilene Tuesday for a 5:00 game.

CONGRATULATIONS!

'Cats last non-district game

performer Ken Davenport leads the running attack. Speedster Roy Sansom is Davenport's running mate. Roddy Shipman is the man-under and has the finest arm of any quarterback the 'Cats have faced this season.

On defense the Antelopes are a gambling, stunting team. Linebacker Davenport and Mike Hill are defensive leaders along with tackle Mark Moorehead and halfback McCune.

The Antelope have also been hobbled by injuries. Shipman missed the Slaton game and Davenport saw limited action last week against Muleshoe.

Concerning the Antelope defense Littlefield coach Jerry Blakeley says, "We must be patient on offense. Their type of defense will make a lot of big plays, but it should allow us to make some big plays too."

According to Blakely the Wildcats defense "must stop the run first and then the long pass."

Concerning the Wildcats win over Floydada Blakely said, "We're tickled with the win. It was a real team effort. I'm probably more proud of our teams preparation for the game than anything else. It's a real compliment to our kids to be 0-3 and still think they can win."

"The two biggest plays of the game were Blake Wood's block of the extra point attempt and Jay Lee's 62-yard kick-off return on the following play."

"Ralph Mendez had an outstanding game. He caught three passes for 103 yards, kicked two field goals and two extra points. Of course, his last extra point was the tie.

"Rudolph Smith also had a game receiving. Rudy Ayala hit the ball well again and offensive line blocked well. Running backs showed improvement. We had our best running attack of the year."

"Our single biggest improvement was in the play of secondary. Jett West had a night at cornerback. Defensive linemen Tony Cowan, Romo Ligan and Lewis Willey all played well. Linebackers Terry Foley and Blake Wood also were outstanding."

"Our only disappointment was inability to take care of the ball and the fact that we have three players whose technique must improve," the Wildcat coach concluded.

FEATURING: Larrabee's Home Improvement

There's a lot of beauty and peace of mind for homeowners when Larrabee's Home Improvement puts United States Steel siding on your home. This super steel siding isn't only beautiful, but it cuts insulation costs 20 percent on a normal home, even much more on some homes. It is guaranteed 30 years, and it never needs painting.

Ken Larrabee not only puts up the United States Steel, in addition he uses Arcadia stone in his remodeling and home improvements. Arcadia stone adorns the front of Anthony's Department Store. The stone and siding used in combination is very imposing.

Larrabee does complete home and business remodeling. Larrabee is the one who did the complete remodeling of the Federal Land Bank Building, doing everything from the front door to the back, with the coffee and conference and restrooms in between.

When Larrabee takes on a turn key job, you can be sure that the work will all be first class. Every aspect of the work is done by thoroughly professional people.

Larrabee's Home Improvement is home owned and operated locally. The business has been open here since May of 1975. Dorene Larrabee is a Littlefield native, and she is the office manager.

If you'd like to see some of the USS siding home improvement projects, give Ken and Dorene Larrabee a call at 385-4566, or go by 203 XIT Drive, for a list of some 40 homes in the immediate vicinity and more than 60 in the area.

The Larabees will be glad to help you give your home a modern, beautiful look, cut utility and insulation costs, and you'll never again need to worry about painting.

EARTH— Friendship night was recently ob- served by Earth Chapter No. 870 Order of Eastern Star. Twenty-five guests attended from Chapters at Muleshoe, Littlefield, Lock- ney and Hereford.

At the close of the meet- ing, Mrs. Gladys Parish read a poem titled "Friend- ship" and Mrs. Jean Craft presented two vocal selec- tions.

Earth chapter expresses gratitude to everyone as- sisting in the purchase of a new carpet for the dining area of the Masonic Build- ing, and to everyone who joined in the labor needed for improved appearance of the hall.
