

Trustees OK Budget, Keep Tax Rate

Old school trustees approved a new budget for the year 1971-72 at the tax meeting Monday night. The $2,417 budget for the next school year is $20,000 more than last year's. The increase is the result of higher salaries.

$30,998 was set up for teacher salaries a year ago, the new budget calls for $523,829.

Most of the new budget, therefore, will at least hold the line on expenses, categories other than instruction are expected to cost the district $3,734 less than a year ago.

Approval of the budget and tax rate took the major time during a meeting in which the board also:

1. Amended the 1970-71 budget to allow for approximately $17,000 more expense than was budgeted at the start of the year.
2. Accepted the resignation of a 5th grade teacher who was employed at a meeting last month — Karen Kay Kratky.
3. Miss Kratky, a 1971 graduate of Central (Okla.) State, declined to report following the board's approval of her employment.

4. Employed a former teacher — Mrs. John Driskill — for a newly created position, that of curriculum coordinator.
5. Reviewed and expanded the school's policies on use of buses for extra-curricular and also non-school sponsored activities.
6. Awarded contracts on milk, bread and gasoline purchases.
7. Accepted, unanimously, board member Bob Roden's motion to allow male students to wear the block-style hair cut, in addition to the tapered style. This did not change previously published rules which allow no hair to be worn over the eyes, ears or collar, straight-cut-only sideburns which may be worn no lower than the bottom of the ear, and no face hair.

THE BOARD'S approval of the budget put trustees right back where their July 26th meeting ended.

At the close of that session, board member Glenn Batson called for a parliamentary ruling on the correct way to amend a motion, after President Wayne Streety sought to enter additional wording on a motion already made and seconded.

This time, Batson offered an amendment to a motion to approve the budget, asking that the budget be approved at the same rate as last year on secretarial salaries which are paid by the local district. This meant a $1,200 cut in the proposed budget, lopping off that amount of planned salary increases.

Streety accepted the amendment, then called for a vote on the amendment only. It carried, 4-3, with Batson, Roden, Pat Downs and Dick Hopping approving, and Doug Waldeen, Werner Birkelbach and Streety voting "No."

The board president then called for a vote on the budget, as amended, and it received unanimous approval.

Streety explained to board members that the foregoing procedure was the proper way to handle an amendment, and offered to show them the ruling as explained in a parliamentary book which he brought to the session. The board accepted Streety's explanation without going over the book.

THE NEW BUDGET calls for $1,338,617 in total receipts, with $487,450 coming from Miller worked on the Halsell Ranch during the service during World War I.

Miller weighed 130 pounds and was as mean as a wild dog, he said, "and I went in there and rode that darned ship 16 days straight. And I was sick every day I was on it."

After his feet hit European soil, his horse found out that he'd ridden a few miles. The captain said he needed a remount station," he said. "I wanted someone to fight?" and he fought to fight horses. Then the first time I was riding the wild son-of-a-bitch little old Army saddle not big anything. Then a darn horse fell and broke my arm and leg at the same time. This old leg still gives me the pain if he wanted me to ride, I had a dadgummed good horse in the states. I wrote home and the saddle shipped to me."

Miller wasn't riding horses, he was riding a cannon. "We had six 6-gun cannons and I went over the whole darn thing on a cannon number one. ## Pioneer Reunion Plans Complete

Final plans for the 22nd Annual Lamb County Pioneers Reunion were jelled in a meeting Monday night when officers and 20 committee chairmen met in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

The discussions centered around changes to be made to improve the facilities for handling the large crowds which annually attend.

Some changes were made in the registration procedure. Pioneers who have guests over 12 years old will pay for their guest's registration, and no one will be served without a registration badge.

Herbert Dunn and Mrs. Simon D. Hay will be in charge of the registration.

Pioneers who are more than 70 years old will be served first, and the serving will progress through those younger, with children served last.

Another change for this year's reunion included the extending of the kitchen facilities, by having a tent at the back door, where the food will be received.

Mrs. Bonnie Haberger, chairman of hospitality, has appointed her committee members. They are Thurlow Branscum, Mrs. Simon D. Hay, Mrs. Myrtle Clayton and I.B. 'Doc' Holt.

Louis Hair, president, presided for the session and heard reports of all committee chairmen.

Buck Ross and Doc Holt, program chairmen, reported that a program of not more than 30 minutes will be presented, featuring musicians and entertainers who have been favorites in the past.

New Caution Labels Now On Detergents

Caution labels against possible eye and skin irritation and other injuries are now required on 25 brands of laundry and dishwashing detergents, reports Lady Clare Phillips, county home demonstration agent.

The labels, required by the Food and Drug Administration, warn consumers of possible eye and skin irritation, and of internal injury if the product is swallowed. Manufacturers have agreed to the labeling.

FDA authorities passed the ruling as a result of government testing on detergents. The test included a sampling of nationally marketed non-phosphate and low-phosphate brands, as well as regular phosphate-based detergents.

"So when you reach for detergent at the market," Mrs. Phillips says, "check for these warning and caution labels for your own health and safety." Follow directions for use and keep the product out of the reach of children.

"The FDA can require warning and caution labels, but only you can read that label and put it to proper use," she reminds.

Commissioner' Court Transacts Business

Each county department presented tentative budgets to the Lamb County commissioners' court for consideration for the 1972 budget at the regular meeting of the four county commissioners and the county judge Monday.

During the meeting Gerald B. Gerlt was appointed as justice of peace for precinct 2 (Earth). Gerlt's appointment will be effective Aug. 15 if he files bond and takes his oath by that time. Appointment of the J. P. is the result of the elective justice, A. L. Kelley, not filing bond nor taking oath of office after being elected last fall. After Kelley failed to qualify, the commissioners' court declared the office vacant.

In other action Monday, payment of county bills was approved and county reports were accepted.

Nine matters of business were acted upon by the court in the July 30 meeting.

1. Precinct 4 purchased a used wheel type front end loader for $16,000 from West Texas Equipment Company.

2. The court requested a refund of $45,822.08 from the board of county and district road indebtedness.

3. Lamb County's share of the district attorney's secretary's salary was set at $190.32 per month.

4. A contract with Travelers Insurance for county employees was rescinded because of wording, and the contract was re-phrased.

5. The resignation of L. Z. Anglin, a member of the veterans' land board, was accepted, and J. A. Littleton Jr. was appointed to serve on the board.

6. Two judges for each of the 15 voting precincts were appointed for the year, effective Aug. 1.

7. Precinct 3 purchased a used motor grader for $15,000 from West Texas Equipment Company.

8. Mrs. Wayne Streety was appointed as acting veterans' service officer.

9. The tax-assessor-collector's delinquent and supplemental tax records for the 1970 tax roll were approved.

Military Draft

THIS TIME they've been telling us we can't do away with the military because it is what's encouraging us to volunteer.

After weeks during which there were no military draft, volunteers are coming faster than before; some times faster!

ANY WHO persists in demanding that the nation continue drafting just to keep the machinery for the sake of the machine. And that is an unworthy goal.

years you and I have urged that the Pentagon get rid of the draft.

RY SERVICE should be made a tradition again--instead of a punishment for bad grades.

months, military SOP has been in pay and benefits have been increased and new recruiting efforts have been made.

IVE SERVICE canceled draft in July and August--the first zero draft in years--and one San Francisco report shows enlistments up 10 percent and 25 percent in the military.

the reason is the recession. When it's difficult to find a good job on the street, military service becomes very attractive.

THIS CANNOT be the entire reason for the increase because as among veterans declined from 10 percent in February to 8 percent in March.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Underestimated

note: The Sandhills on his Johnson grass farm are into economics this week, you say?

ular: According to the syndicated columnists in the newspapers I've gotten hold of, the big issue in the 1972 Presidential election will be economics, a fairly safe bet in view of the fact economics was the main issue in elections since 1964 were invented.

menting on the current economic scene, one columnist, after citing the high rate of inflation, unemployment, spending, etc., with the national debt shot by 25 billion dollars, said that it is wrong when the government chief financial officers can't come up with 10 billion dollars of estimating what the government will spend."

and know anything about such things as the rate of inflation, the cost index or the cost-of-living index, we got out here is a thermometer that shows three degrees off and a rain gauge with the markings too rusty to read, and I can tell you whether it's hot or cold and whether I need a rain or not.

WEATHER

7,000 more bales of cotton this year than the 1970 production.

County growers ginned 123,300 bales this year and this year's estimate of 130,000 bales, according to reports made by Plains Cotton Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Co.

is room for error in the estimate and that changes will be made as better acreage figures and effects become known, but the estimate is realistic.

years farmers were restricted to acreage within fixed allotments, but this year they are free to plant as many acres as they please. This change changes the estimate of acreage from an estimate to a reality.

plus side for cotton production in this year is a considerable, but not a great increase in cotton planted to

Yet, despite the improving job picture voluntary enlistments accelerate. U.S. News and World Report tally indicates enlistments in combat outfits running 500 percent ahead of the year-ago rate.

UPI SAMPLE surveyed recruiters nationwide and found all of them ahead of their quotas.

Asked what's bringing the men in, recruiters say civilian opportunities are less and life in uniform is better.

FIRST YEAR enlisted men get better pay, a guarantee of European duty if they want it, a chance to learn a skill if they want that.

These advantages, coupled with the radio-TV ads which publicized them, produced twice as many volunteers for combat jobs in four months--than the number recruited in all of the 12 months previous.

IN JUNE a year ago some 400 men volunteered. In June of this year more than 4,000 did!

With the war phasing out and the draft in doubt, the Pentagon is asking Congress to offer bonuses for enlistment in the National Guard and Reserves; $500 to enlist, $1,700 to re-enlist.

THAT RE-ENLISTMENT bonus would cost you nothing, because it is less than the present cost of turnover.

And it sure beats financing the continuing existence of 4,000 costly, cumbersome, inequitable lame-duck draft boards.

But what interested me was that columnist's not being able to understand how the government can't come within 8 or 10 billion dollars of estimating how much it will spend in the next 12 months.

It's easy. For example, at the start of the year how was I to know my hot water heater was going out two months after the warranty ran out, and how could Washington know it was going to have to pay for vaccinating 2 million horses against sleeping sickness at $4 a shot?

I didn't know the transmission on my car was going to fall apart at a cost of $139, any more than Washington knew that Lockheed was going to tap it for 250 million dollars.

And so it goes. If it's not one thing it's another. Anybody with kids and appliances, like a government with 200 million citizens, is in for 12 months of unanticipatable expense.

Maybe that columnist can sit down at the start of the year and tell you what's going to happen to him in a financial sort of way, but me and Washington have never been able to figure it out. Which one of your presses is going to break down next?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"skip-row" patterns. Current law requires producers to "set aside" an acreage equivalent to 20 percent of their base allotment, and this can be accomplished by leaving two or more blank rows between rows of cotton. Thus more producers than normal have "skip-rowed" their cotton, and other things being equal this can often increase production per planted acre by 30 percent or more.

Good indications of a strong market this fall is another factor which could influence per-acre yields this year. Farmers over the area, generally, are trying harder to make maximum yields, with better weed and insect control, additional fertilizers and irrigation water.

As usual, however, weather conditions from now through harvest will have by far the biggest influence on Plains production. The crop is from two to three weeks later than "normal" this year, which makes the size of crop dependent on warm temperatures from now until harvest, a dry September and a frost date no earlier than the first week of November and preferably later.

"Get it? The pilot invites the hi-jacker to sit down... then blooey!"

Immunizations

TEXAS SCHOOL CHILDREN will soon be among the best immunized in the country.

The recent session of the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Education Code to require immunizations against certain childhood diseases as a condition for entering school.

"THIS NEW STATE LAW will have great impact on the immunization level of the school population and, eventually, all the population of Texas," says Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner. "We are delighted with the law."

The Texas State Department of Health now has authority to set the rules and regulations for implementation of the compulsory immunizations. The Board of Health has set Jan. 1, 1972 as the date by which all children's immunization series must have begun.

School districts that have required compulsory immunizations in the past will still maintain their usual September deadlines for proving immunizations to enter school.

THE IMMUNIZATIONS previously required for all school children were set only by the individual school district, but now the state is requiring immunizations for up to six childhood diseases in some cases.

Elementary students will now be required to be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio and smallpox. If there is no history of measles, that shot will also be required. All children under 12 years of age must also be immunized against rubella.

THE NUMBER of required immunizations is fewer for junior high, high school, and college-level students. Junior high and high school requires immunizations against only diphtheria, polio, tetanus, and smallpox.

College requires full immunization against polio if the student is under 19 years of age, and immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, and smallpox within the past ten years.

NEARLY EVERY student in the state will be covered by this broad new law. Immunizations will be required of students in kindergartens that are associated with elementary schools, all the elementary or secondary public schools, private or parochial schools, academies, colleges, universities, schools for the blind, deaf, mentally ill and mentally retarded.

The only children exempted are those with religious conflicts, or medical problems--those that a physician determines would be injurious to health.

DR. PEAVY said he "urged all parents to contact their physician or public health clinic now, and begin their children's immunization program long before they enter school."

HOMINY GRATS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

FOR YEARS we've spent our time feeling sorry for those poor chaps in the Orient. They're a very backward people, having few of the luxuries of life.

Yet, somehow, they manage to keep right on living, keeping busy, and seem to have the idea that they're doing as well as anyone else.

WHY THEY'RE NOT even forward enough to use modern machinery in their agriculture! No eight-row tractors there. They do most of their farming with livestock and by the sweat of their brows.

Agriculture is big business there; it employs a very large percent of the total population. The elite are those that work in the processing plants, factories and so forth.

NOW, I DON'T KNOW about their unemployment problems, nor the size of their welfare rolls, but, somewhere in the wee corners of my so-called mind, I have the sneaking suspicion that they've out-smarted us!

When we've perfected machines to do all the work, formerly done by man, what's man going to do to make a livin'?

SURE, WE CAN build machines to take care of all the manual labor, computers to replace the bookkeepers and secretaries, and set up self-service dispensaries to replace all the clerks, but, when we've done this, who's gonna be the customer-seein' that John Q. Public is out of a job?

We remember that our little city was at the peak of it's growth when most of our work was done by manpower. We had to have people here to farm these expansive acres of ours. The farms weren't so large, farmers lived on their places and employed numerous cotton choppers, cotton pickers, feed headers and shockers, along with thrasher hands and the like. Business wuz boomin'--BUT, as I think back, there was one great disadvantage. Even the KIDS had to work! Shocking, eh, what!

THE SUCCESSFUL modern is the one that can make the most money with the least amount of work.

He's the one that works and schemes during all the prime of his life, in order to have enough money to restore his wrecked health in the evening of his existence.

DID I TELL YOU about the fellow that came up with the perfect plan for makin' money?

He hit upon the idea of selling Cat Fur. Naturally, he started raising cats. To feed the cats he started breeding rats. Since he also had to feed the rats, his nimble mind dictated that he feed the rats with the skinned carcasses of the cats! The plan seemed perfect. All that cat fur at no expense!

SEEMS ALL WENT well, until, after a time, the rats had consumed so much cat meat that they became as ferocious as the cats!

One day he turned the cats in with the rats, at feeding time, and went about his business. Upon returning with the idea of penning his cats, he found neither cats, NOR, rats!

IT TOOK HIM quite some time to figure out that they'd eaten each other up!

Moral of the story is: No matter how big the cat, sooner or later some rat's gonna get him! Or, was it the other way around???

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Be Employed

By BOB WEAR

EMPLOYMENT is the support of satisfactory, happy living. Idleness is the dissipation of all that is essential to the best of living. Therefore, we must be employed; and the more constructive the employment, the greater the personal well-being.

It is helpful and encouraging to know that the people who wish to be busy with something worthwhile can always find employment.

WE MUST REJECT idleness, because there is nothing about it that is desirable. In fact, everything connected with idleness is undesirable, and worse, it can be and usually is degrading. There is no happiness or satisfaction in it.

MISCHIEF or melancholy? "Idleness is the bane of body and mind, the nurse of naughtiness, the chief author of all mischief, one of the seven deadly sins, the cushion upon which the devil reposes, and a great cause not only of melancholy, but of many diseases; for the mind is naturally active; and if it be not occupied about some honest business, it rushes into mischief or sinks into melancholy."--Burton.

It is by employment that we open the doors to the richness and fullness of living. The monetary rewards for employment are only one of the benefits, and, although such rewards are often necessary, they are not nearly the only benefits. In fact, there are many.

THERE IS EMPLOYMENT that has nothing to do with money; employment

SCHOOL BOARD

local sources, $811,167 from the state and $40,000 from a short term loan.

The local revenue will be from a $1.80 tax rate, same as this year's.

Largest expenditures expected are from teacher salaries, $954,827; interest and sinking (debt service), $148,015; plant operation, $64,996; and administration, $58,430.

If the full $1,337,417 budgeted is spent next year, the school will be operating at approximately the same total expense that will be incurred for 1970-71 when this fiscal year ends on Aug. 31.

WITH THE BOARD'S acceptance of Miss Kratky's resignation and the employment of Mrs. Driskill as curriculum coordinator, the local school is now short one faculty member.

A fifth grade teacher is needed, and Supt. Jones will be seeking someone to begin work next Monday, when teachers will report for preliminary briefings and workshops.

Students will begin registering the following Monday, Aug. 23, and school will start Aug. 25.

THE VOTE to establish the position of curriculum coordinator came after several minutes' discussion and was split, 5-2.

Trustee Roden opposed, with a view toward holding down expenses, and he was joined by Hopping.

The rest of the board was for establishing the post, which Supt. Jones explained would be needed for updating curriculum in grades 5-12.

Jones said emphasis would be put on revising some courses of study to fit recent textbooks, and on updating drug education instruction.

The superintendent also said much work needs to be done to prepare the school for the mandatory change to the "quarter system" which will go into effect throughout the state in September, 1973.

TRUSTEES approved the use of school buses for extra-curricular activities of students in school-sponsored events, such as band trips, etc.

In addition, the board approved the use of school buses, if requested, for youth all-star athletic teams on trips to faraway play-off games. Any expense will be the users'. The motion came from Batson, who said the school's previous policy had resulted in this year's Junior Babe Ruth baseball All-Stars not being permitted to use a Littlefield school bus for regional play-offs at Dumas.

ON MILK, BREAD, and gasoline bids, the board awarded all three contracts Monday night.

Cloverlake won the milk contract at a bid of .0775 cents per half-pint of milk and 72 cents per one dozen ice cream bars.

Baldridge was awarded the bread contract on prices of 28 cents for packages of buns and 28 1/2 cents per loaf of bread.

Littlefield Butane was low bidder among six local firms for the gasoline contract. The Phillips 66 consignee's bid was 15.4 cents per gallon of gas.
