WARREN
Floydada band formed a... as one of their halftime... Friday night but if they had... to depict their schools... behavior on the football field... had to combine a tor... a Mack truck as the visitors... 47 net yards offense in hand... Littlefield Wildcats their second... the season, 27-7.

therein lies the story.
In the fatal fourth quarter with the 'Cats trailing 0-20 at the beginning of the period, Littlefield managed to run only five offensive plays as the duo of Kelvin Ratliff and Malvin Collins chewed up yardage enroute to their totals of 168 and 158 yards respectively.
Floydada's film crew racked up almost as much yardage as the football team as they travelled back and forth between stands after being denied access to the top of the West press box, the usual spot where Littlefield and the visiting teams film games. After a huddle, of sorts, between school administrators and the respective film crews, the game started with cameras clicking from both schools.

Floydada set the pace of the game early as they took the opening kickoff on their own 28 yard line and marched in nine plays to the Wildcat 25 yard line before Ratliff was brought down on a 4th and 5 attempt by David Blevins.
The 'Winds had the breaks on their initial drive as they overcame fine defensive plays by Steve Cruz and Gary Lichte to move down the field.

The 'Cats were unable to move on their first offensive attempt as they were forced to punt after three running plays.
Neither team was able to move on their next attempts but in the final seconds of the first quarter, Floydada scored their first TD of the night along with the extra point to make it 7-0 in favor of the visitors.
Turner received the ensuing kickoff but on the first offensive play, Ronald Farmer's pass was intercepted by Mike Vickers on the Floydada 33 yard line.

The 'Cat defense toughened here and Floydada was able to move only to their own 47 yard line before punting again.
Littlefield picked up it's first, first down of the game on this series as it came with 8:46 left in the first half.
Unable to pick up another 10 yards, Turner again punted to the 'Winds and they took the ball on the 'Cat's 42 yard line. Two passes to Mickey Minnett netted Floydada 32 yards and on a first and goal, Floydada scored their second TD with 6:02 left in the half to give the visitor's a 13-0 halftime advantage.

Littlefield took the second half kickoff and with Turner carrying the ball each time, moved the ball to their own 47 before being forced to punt.
Floydada took the ball on the 19 and on the first play, Rick Hopping and Blevins dropped Vickers for a six yard loss. However, Floydada managed to overcome this to move the ball to their own 40 before this drive was stalled by a patented Stanley Patterson pass interception. Patterson ran the ball back

Council Grants Permit, Authorizes Bank Note

In his report of administrative activities for the month of September, Blagg stated, "September was highlighted by two separate meetings. The first meeting was that of the Texas Municipal League (T.M.L.) Legislative Committee on Finance to which I was appointed. This committee made up of local officials across the state, met in Austin to suggest a legislative program on local financing to be adopted by the Texas Municipal League. This program will be followed by the T.M.L. in its activities with the 64th Texas Legislature.

The second meeting was a seminar held by the National League of Cities to discuss the implications of the recommendations made by the National Advisory Commission on Law Enforcement Goals and Standards.

Councilman Paul Carmickle and I attended this seminar. We both feel that many of the recommendations were good, but that many of them do not apply to the smaller communities.
Much of the month was spent in finalizing this fiscal year and making preparations for the new year. During the first Council meeting in October, the Administrative Staff will present a summary of the programs and projects which we hope to undertake during fiscal 74-75.

City Manager Granted Time For Filing Brief

Three days of testimony in Judge Pat Boone Jr.'s Court, Telephone Company was until the end of October to file a brief in support of its arguments in the court for increasing telephone rates. Littlefield, Anton, Amherst, and Whitharral.
Witnesses for General Telephone were heard Tuesday, as they presented facts and figures on their attempt to forbid the cities from increasing the new rates the cities are proposing.
Witnesses for the cities were heard Wednesday and Thursday. The cities are proposing a 20 percent increase, reflecting a 20 percent increase, went into effect Sept. 1. The Telephone Company has filed a counter proposal, seeking to get rates that were granted.
This is a continuation of the suit filed by the cities, enjoining the company from enforcing higher rates than were approved by the cities' governing bodies.

That portion of the case was taken all the way to the state Supreme Court, which ruled that the cities have the right to govern rate increases.
According to City Attorney Ted

Sansom, the cities will be given the opportunity to file a brief in response to General Telephone's brief when it is filed at the end of this month, then General Telephone could possibly file an answer to that brief.
So, a decision in the matter is still forthcoming.

BALANCING FURNITURE IN A ROOM

How do you go about achieving the "balance" of furniture in your rooms?

The first thing to do is to get rid of the heavy pieces at the end of a room. That makes room seem to tilt, and uncomfortable to look at.

Also avoid putting pieces together—be that height is arranged.

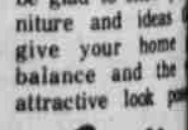

Consider both horizontal and vertical lines of all the pieces of furniture, and the doors and drawers.

Some experts advise against balancing furniture too perfectly because too-perfect balancing can make a room look stiff and monotonous—but, on the other hand you should have some balance in a room else it will look like a skelter, confused and unpleasant.

Symmetrical balancing, for example, two of the same chairs on either side of a fireplace is a balanced formal; non-symmetrical balance is more casual but actually you can have several different types of balance in the same room to achieve a most interesting room.

The main thing to make the shapes in a room agreeable to the eye. Be glad to show your furniture and ideas.

Give your home balance and the attractive look you want.

BILLY GRAHAM says about the new motion picture "Time to Run"...

There is no doubt that today we see the family unit being attacked from every side, torn apart and fragmented. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family, about listening, about the silences between people, the unspoken moments, and the moments of anger that don't really accomplish anything. TIME TO RUN openly offers the reality of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma.

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children... or your parents... to see TIME TO RUN when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!

to the Floydada 47 yard line but three offensive plays netted the 'Cats nothing. Turner had to punt again but Mother Nature decided to put the whammys on this punt as the pigskin and the wind both got up at the same time and the strong South wind allowed the ball to travel a net three yards.

On the first Whirlwind play, Collins broke for a 46 yard gainer to put the ball on the 10 yard line of Littlefield.

Three plays later, Ratliff scored Floydada's third TD to make it 19-0 and the PAT added one to that and with 2:47 left in the third quarter, the score was 20-0 in favor of the visitors.

The 'Cats were unable to move on their next series and Floydada's next possession was stalled on Littlefield's 29 yard line. This particular drive was aided, at the end of the third quarter, by a fifteen yard penalty against the Wildcats for an illegal block below the waist.

The 'Cats gained good yardage on their first play of this possession as Farmer faded back to pass, found no one open and with the aid of some good down-field blocking, scampered to the Whirlwind's 49 yard line.

Two runs by Turner accounted for five yards and on third and five, Farmer threw a perfect strike to Turner as he outran the defenders to put the 'Cats on the board for the first time with 6:47 left in the game.

PAT was good and the score was 7 for Littlefield and 20 for Floydada.

Five minutes later, Floydada scored their final touchdown to make it 27-7 in favor of the state's fifth ranked Class AA team.

For the night, Turner picked up 75 net yards rushing for Littlefield on 22 carries. Buddy Jungman gained 3 yards on one carry and Sammy Schlottmann gained three yards on three carries.

The Floydada 7th grade defeated Littlefield's Tuesday 36-12 while the 8th grade went down in defeat 28-8. The Freshmen also lost 20-6 while the Junior Varsity was the only team registering a win against Floydada. They won by a score of 12 to 8.

BILL TURNER (10) and Sammy Schlottmann (45) with the aid of a teammate put the stopper on this white-shirted Floydada Whirlwind after picking up short yardage in the second half Friday night. Littlefield's next opponent will be Lubbock Roosevelt, Friday, Oct. 11, in the Wildcat's Homecoming Game. (Staff Photo by Bill Mott)

We Can Make It Happen

By JIM KUYKENDALL
Assistant County Extension Agent

With the many problems we face as a nation, it is refreshing to see our young people ready and willing to help bring about solutions to these pressing concerns. Enthusiasm and optimism has always been an admirable quality of American youth. Their vigor inspires all of us to do a better job in coping with our problems.

Youthful exuberance, combined with the guidance and experience of adults provides an unbeatable combination. The results of that cooperation are evident in the 4-H program.

We salute the combined efforts of 4-H'ers and their leaders to "make the best better" on the occasion of 1974 National 4-H Week, Oct. 6-12.

The theme of the annual observance is "We Can Make It Happen". Those five words emphasize the commitment and cooperation of nearly 5.3 million youths and 560,000 volunteer leaders working together to solve common problems. With their enthusiasm and energy, in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and Washington, D. C., 4-H'ers from all economic, ethnic and social backgrounds are helping clean-up and protect the environment and natural resources.

The youths' work to conserve energy, assist in agricultural production, and help improve health and nutrition habits of the community. In the process, the 4-H'ers develop good Citizenship and leadership traits and acquire skills that will help them in later life.

Youthful enthusiasm and energy, combined with adult guidance and support and working together in a common purpose—that's the 4-H story in 1974. And we support the efforts of 4-H'ers, their parents, their leaders and alumni "to make the best better."

And we would encourage our young readers, who have plenty of enthusiasm and our adult readers who may wish to volunteer their time and talents to get involved in 4-H and help "make it happen."

SALVATION ARMY:

A Hand Outstretched

By PAT BENHKE

What makes a transient? They come in all shapes and sizes, personalities and stories.

The Littlefield Service Unit of the Salvation Army meets a myriad of different transients every year, each with a unique story. For those who have a stereotype in their minds; transients are not always, or even usually, hobos passing through a town looking for a couple of dollars to get drunk on—these show up at the door occasionally, but are the exception.

Perhaps the best way to describe transients (or travelers of the high ways) is to generalize a little. Most of these weary travelers are people who have never known a stable home. Many come from home situations that would make most of us cringe and begin counting our blessings.

Many have a "good luck is just around the corner" outlook—the grass is always greener in California, or up north, or out east. Maybe they're running from failure—job after job that failed to materialize even though a "friend" guaranteed that so-and-so was hiring in this town or that, or another state.

A few transients are happy-go-lucky—not knowing or really caring from one day to the next what will happen to them or where they are going—but the majority are beaten, weary, hopeless people—people who are searching for the kind of life that they'll never find—a fantasy world.

Can these people be helped, redirected?

The Salvation Army hopes so and tries to lend a helping hand and a word of encouragement.

An illustration might help in understanding this problem of aimless lives.

Take the case of a young couple, 23-year-old John and Sandy, his 19-year-old wife. Coming from California where they lived and worked with circuses, they are heading east to Sandy's home town. She is four months pregnant and cannot do the strenuous work required in breaking down a circus for the road or keeping one running.

John is strong and able-bodied, but realizes that they need more stability now that they're expecting. They've traveled all over the country in the few years of their marriage, in all kinds of weather, working at various jobs to pay their way. Sometimes they're lucky and find work for awhile—sometimes not.

Neither of these two, for the last decade of their lives and as young as they are, had a stable home in which to live—with parents who cared for them—examples to emulate. Perhaps it is remarkable that they are as "normal" as they are, after all they've seen and experienced. They're looking for a "nice little town to settle down in and have our family".

Perhaps they'll find it—maybe they've already found it.

One thing is certain—the care and concern that they experienced in Littlefield through the arm of the Salvation Army has touched them—who knows how deeply—and will add one good experience to lives filled with aimlessness.

Is it worth it? The Salvation Army thinks so, and follows up this belief by many acts of charity in Littlefield itself and to passers-through.

We all need to give of ourselves, but many times don't know when needs arise—by our support of this vital organization, we can take part in lessening human misery and hopelessness. And that's something!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

No Faultfinding

THERE ARE TIMES when constructive criticism is necessary; but this is much different from "faultfinding". "Petty, nagging, or unreasonable censure" is never helpful to anyone or about anything.

It does not help the person doing the "faultfinding", and is not helpful to the person or the situation being faulted.

This "petty, nagging, unreasonable censure" is destructive and discouraging. It is possible that this "faultfinding" is the most detrimental and undermining of all perverse interpersonal practices. It is negativistic and is often an expression of unjustified hostility.

ENVY PRODUCES a high percentage of "faultfinding". Finding fault is the verbalization of the feeling of displeasure because of the excellence in appearance or performance of someone else.

It is a way of trying to tear down or to discredit the person who may, in some way, be a threat to one's standing or performance; or to one's own self-image. From this standpoint, it is seen as one of the most displeasing manifestations of a person's personality.

"NO FAULTFINDING" should be one of our guidelines. If there is some justified and necessary criticizing to be done, and we are the appropriate individual to do it; let it be done with the greatest degree of wisdom, humility and charitableness.

Even this must not be an end in itself; but must be designed to serve some constructive purpose.

WE CAN TALK with each other, when absolutely necessary, when behavior we may find objectionable this must not be done as "faultfinding". It can be done in a pleasant way; and for the purpose of creating a better climate of understanding, there is no reason for letting such a slip down to the low level of "finding".

WE DO NOT HELP ourselves by "finding fault" with others. It hurts ourselves, and may do harm to persons with whom we find fault. We are trying to tear down others, partially succeed; but we are damaged ourselves.

The point is that nothing has been accomplished. "NOTHING IS EASIER" than finding; no talent, no self-discipline, no character are required in the grumbling business West.

WE DO NOT WANT others to think that we are naive, and that an objectionable attitude, fortunately, however, the common practice of "faultfinding" is one of the devices often used in efforts to convince others that we are "fooling" us.

In this, we are "fooling" ourselves because we are trying to correct "flaw" with another, and worse one.

IF WE ARE WISE in our people will soon realize that we are credulous; but are people of "judgment". "Faultfinding" will help us, or anyone else.

HONNY GETS

By CORNBALL BLEY

THERE'S SOME PRETTY wild talk going on up Washington way. Looks as if the fellows are about to get in a huddle, then all run off in different directions. I'm just not for sure who has the ball, but you can bet that if he's thrown for a loss, someone else will get the blame!

Pardon my negative thinking, but the uncertainty and indecision, on the part of those in high places, is beginning to be pretty alarming. If you can't cure a problem by taxing, it seems to leave the fellows in a state of perplexity.

MEANTIME, THEY'RE worrying about who will get to be the next president.—Ah, me!—Somehow, I miss Nixon!

LOOKS AS THIS thing of antifreeze may get to be a problem. Heard of one fellow threatening to dissolve his wife's

COMMENTS

By EMIL M...

NOTICED WHERE CORNBALL had a few remarks about a brainstorm I printed in an earlier column in reference to using some of the city sales tax money to help finance various drives that is done here in the city each year.

At present I won't comment on his article, but do want to direct your attention to something that is more important, and that is a financial drive that will be kicked off Tuesday morning to help our local girl scouts.

At present there are 138 Girl Scouts in Littlefield. But the door is open to more. Regardless of race, color, or creed, any girl can be a girl scout and experience a better way of growing up that is now enjoyed by the 138 local scouts.

Money is required to finance our local girl scouts as well as to help finance various district projects.

EFFICIENCY ECONOMY COMFORT

you get it all with NATURAL ENERGY Gas Heating

Fresh, warm air gently circulating from floor to ceiling... so nice to take for granted. Comfort is clean gas heat.

And that dependable comfort is such a bargain here in West Texas. Though gas energy costs a little more than it use to, gas furnaces still cost less than one-third as much to operate as similar electric furnaces.

And at the same time you're saving money with gas heating, you can also have a warm feeling knowing that you're helping conserve energy. Gas heating uses only half as much energy as an electric system doing the same job.

Comfort, efficiency, and economy... you get it all with natural energy gas heating.

Neighbor, its no myth; before 1870, the West actually began at Fort Worth, Texas.

There were a few early wagons. But, railroads, I suppose, more than anything else pushed this frontier farther and farther west until it disappeared into the California coast.

Most of these early western settlers were farmers and ranchers. They became a part of the land and depended upon it for almost all their needs - but most of all they depended upon one another.

The interdependence of these early settlers eventually became welded into a uniquely western mold - a code of life. I can't define this code of life. I can only describe it because it lives in the people and in their institutions. Such as hospitality with pleasure to give and joy to receive - help and assistance without desire or expectation of reward - a contract by word that's signed with a handshake - a belief in and a genuine love for neighbors - truth - a good word for fellowman (or no word at all) - charity for those in need - and respect for justice, home, church and the human community they created. This code of life still lives today. It lives in people and it lives in institutions. It lives at:

Hardin - Simmons University

Hardin-Simmons University was established in 1891 and grew up with the West. It was, and still is, an expression of the original philosophy of the West. And, after all these years it has preserved a priceless heritage. But it continues to have a meaningful place in private education. I'd like for you to have a brief pictorial glimpse of the early history of its times of greatness - people and events you may all remember. It's in booklet form and all I need is your name and address so that I can send you a copy. Call the toll-free number below; or mail the coupon. But most of all

Alaskan Natural Gas To Aid Energy Crisis

The proposal of a $6-billion trans-Alaska project to bring vast North Slope natural gas supplies to the lower 48 states is another major step towards alleviating the energy crisis for millions of consumers, an American Gas Association spokesman has said.

"This is a most encouraging development in our country's efforts to attain any reasonable degree of domestic energy self-sufficiency," Herbert D. Clay, A.G.A. chairman, said in reference to the El Paso Company's formal proposal of the project to the Federal Power Commission.

"As we said some six months ago when an application to build the trans-Canada natural gas pipeline was filed, A.G.A. supports any project that will begin moving Alaskan natural gas supplies to the American consumer as soon as possible."

Natural gas provides more than one-third of the energy used in this country

USDA Proposes Amendments To Food Stamp Regulations

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has proposed amendments to food stamp program regulations which provide permanent procedures for retroactively restoring a household's benefits wrongfully denied, delayed or terminated through administrative error. Since January, 1974, interim procedures have been in effect.

In the proposed regulations USDA asks comments on three methods for restoring lost benefits. All of the methods involve offsetting the household's purchase requirement with the lost benefit entitlement.

The proposed regulations differ from the interim procedures in these areas:

—Recipients can receive lost benefits without going through the fair hearing process if the client, food stamp caseworker, and supervisor agree.

—Lost benefits will be restored only for the 12 months preceding the discovery of the error.

—Recipients' lost benefits will be reduced by the amount of any outstanding claims against them.

Other proposed regulations were announced today which:

—require a standard format for the authorization to purchase card.

—make the administering state agencies liable for failure to cooperate in an decision.

The proposed regulations scheduled for publication in the Federal Register on Sept. 30.

Written comments mailed or delivered to Shipp, Acting Director, Stamp Division, Nutrition Services Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250. Comments must be received by Oct. 30, and will be available for public inspection.

206 Citations Filed In Hunt

District law enforcement chief John Caudle of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has tallied up the number of citations warden issued during the four-day white-winged dove hunt and the total is some 206 violations.

"Most of the citations were for exceeding the bag limit," said Caudle, "followed by shooting off a public road, unplugged shotguns and failure to keep a fully feathered wing on the bird."

Caudle had a force of 25 wardens in the Rio Grande Valley for the Sept. 1-2 and 7-8 season, which went on record as one of the better whitewing hunts in recent years.

The first convoy of ships that took criminals to Alaska was called the First Fleet, and in time, to be a dream of a "first fletcher," became a matter of pride.

Pioneer Officials Meet With City Representatives

Natural Gas Company officials met with representatives from several of the Company's West Texas system Thursday night Sept. 26, in the council chambers at Lubbock City Hall. Attending were city manager Jim Blagg and Mayor J.E. Chisholm. The meeting, to discuss the current natural gas situation, was arranged by the steering committee of the West Texas Municipal Utilities Committee and Pioneer officials.

Pioneer made a presentation to the group detailing the Company's position in the current energy situation and explained the need for the continuance of the current cost-of-gas adjustment.

K.B. "Tex" Watson, Company president, said in concluding his remarks, "Pioneer has to have the 100 percent monthly cost-of-gas adjustment in order to properly function as a present and future supplier to the West Texas system. To put Pioneer on a 65 percent basis as Lone Star would undoubtedly wipe out any return being realized from the residential and commercial customers on the West Texas system, which is already meager. It would definitely deter Pioneer's ability to acquire new gas under the extremely competitive conditions existing today. Even though the cost of gas has risen and will continue to rise, it is still the best energy bargain available. And it is certainly in the best interest of Pioneer's customers that they continue with the 100 percent monthly cost-of-gas adjustment."

Watson concluded his talk by saying, "In all sincerity, may I suggest that interests of the cities and Pioneer are the same. Pioneer is faced with a big and difficult job to do. That is to continue to provide our area with adequate gas. We can only accomplish this difficult task with the understanding and cooperation of you, the cities."

During his discussion with the group, Watson pointed out that the earnings of Pioneer's utility operation, before income taxes, for the first six months of 1974 are down from the same period in 1973. This is in spite of the fact that Pioneer has spent $18.5 million for utility facilities in the year ending June 1974. He pointed out that increased earnings of the Company during the first six months of 1974 came about from operations of Pioneer's subsidiary companies.

During the presentation, M.D. LaGrone, senior vice president of Pioneer, displayed a group of charts showing Pioneer's gas cost position and other factors that make up the financial involvement in competing for gas supply at the increasing field costs.

La Grone pointed out that even with the 100 percent cost-of-gas adjustment, Pioneer was not receiving the actual cost of gas because of billing lag and increased gross receipts taxes being paid by the Company in various communities. LaGrone stated that under the present adjustment Pioneer has only received about 70 percent of its increased gas cost for commercial and residential customers because of these and other operating factors.

It was pointed out during the discussion that despite the adjustments that had taken place during the first six months of this year, Pioneer's domestic rates are still below most cities in Texas and considerably below rates in other states, especially in the Midwest and on the East and West Coasts.

LaGrone displayed the following comparison of domestic rates in effect in Texas in July of this year:

Pioneer's West Texas System, an average domestic rate per mcf of $1.07;
 Entex-Laredo, $1.75;
 Houston Natural Gas-Houston, $1.50;
 Lone Star, Ft. Worth, $1.17;
 Lone Star-Childress, $1.19;
 Southern Union-Austin, $1.68; and Southern Union-El Paso, $1.34.

In his discussion of the competition for gas supply, Watson pointed out that the situation that had developed in San Antonio, Austin and that area had created real competitive problems. In addition to competing with several companies such as Lone Star, LoVaca and Houston Natural Gas Company for gas supply, a number of industries and the city of San Antonio are in the field buying gas on a highly competitive basis.

Watson said that the city of San Antonio had purchased gas in Southwest Texas for $1.50 per mcf plus transportation costs. The present price in the Delaware Basin is indicated at $1.42 or higher.

He said, "Pioneer is pleased with the gas acquisitions made in the first six months of 1974 when estimates of gas reserves acquired indicated that we had contracted an amount of gas equal to 130 percent of the gas sales in our service area for that period."

"Regrettably, this success has not extended into the third quarter as well as we would like."

Ground Water Management Current Issues Studied

Experts on various phases of the state's ground water resources said here during the Water for Texas Conference (Sept. 19-20) that "management" is the key work in planning for current and future water needs.

More than 200 Texans, along with several groups from New Mexico, California and Louisiana, registered for the two-day conference at the J. Earl Rudder Center, marking the largest attendance of any recent Water for Texas Conference.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe emphasized that ground water management can and must receive careful attention from Texans.

"By proper planning ahead, we should be able to avert a serious water shortage," Briscoe, who addressed the annual dinner meeting, told the group. He suggested that citizens might take a cue from the energy crisis and start planning now to prevent a serious ground water problem.

Earlier in the conference, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby emphasized that one of the major problems facing Texas now is water.

"Texas has today more than 160 reservoirs, with over 29 million acre-feet of conservation space, existing or under construction. But unless bold action is begun at once, Texas will be faced with a water shortage between 1990 and the year 2000," Hobby said.

Hobby and other speakers emphasized that Texas faces three major problem areas with regard to ground water resources: subsidence, pollution and depletion. He emphasized that specific dangers to the state's ground water resources are regional, and that regional solutions that can fit together into a comprehensive program with assured statewide support should be developed.

Both Hobby and State Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, chairman of the House Interim Committee on Water, called attention to a current draft revision of Chapter 52 of the Texas Water Code, dealing with underground water conservation districts. The intent of the suggested changes, they said, is to encourage local solutions to local problems.

The draft calls for the Texas Water Rights Commission to declare appropriate areas of the state to be critical areas. The Texas Water Development Board would define the limits of the state's aquifers. Within 12 months of having been declared a critical area, residents there would vote on the creation of an underground water conservation district.

Should no district be created within the 12-month period, according to the draft, the Water Rights Commission would then carry out the responsibilities of an underground water conservation district until the people act. Purpose of the district would be to conserve ground water. Comments on the draft amendments were requested by Hobby and Clayton.

Clayton urged citizens to study ground water issues and management principles.

Clayton urged citizens to study ground water issues and management principles. Every legislator needs and wants counsel from citizens concerning ground water issues, he said.

"We must plot our course on ground water management with great care, and then act," Clayton said.

Texas A&M University System President Jack K. Williams welcomed conferees. More than a dozen other speakers discussed such issues as approaches to ground water management; alternative ground water laws for Texas; legislative perspective; technological limitations; ground water management in the coastal zone, metropolitan area, and irrigated areas; government issues; ground water models; regulatory aspects of water quality management; economic impact of depletion; appropriate artificial recharge; water development; surface subsidence; and of land subsidence.

Chairman for the Institute of the Texas Water Institute and a scientist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the state's research agency.

Something Your Child's Identity's Sake

ROTH POWELL, Extension Agent, says that clothing we wear directly affects how we feel about ourselves. According to Mrs. Powell, County Extension Agent, it is important that children—elementary school children—develop a positive attitude toward themselves and their clothing. She notes that carefully chosen clothes for the pre-adolescent child help develop in the child self-respect, responsibility and respect. But criticizing a child's clothes—making them feel they are inadequate—leads him to feel self-conscious. These feelings about self often lead to a reluctance to cooperate with others or to contribute and respond to group situations. Mrs. Powell suggests one should consider these points in choosing back-to-school clothes: —the child's comfort and safety; —easy-care fabrics; —clothes suitable and functional for the child's activities; —opportunities for the child to choose what he likes from several possibilities; and —the child's individual and changing growth rate: it is often wiser to buy clothes as needed rather than for the entire year.
