Norther Brings Cold Wave Here Monday

First Killing Freeze that Night Followed by Heavy Frost Tuesday Night

Wheeler citizens felt their first touch of real winter weather for this fall Monday, when a "norther" swooped down with sudden fury, bringing the first killing freeze that night. Winds and clouds warded off frost that night, but Wednesday morning showed a white coat that helped to complete the job of nipping all susceptible vegetation.

Temperatures for both nights ranged in the upper twenties.

After the long period of mild autumn weather, during which feed-stuff, cotton and other crops made splendid growth, the cold snap has been keenly noticed. Although it affects cotton picking to a considerable extent and hampers other outdoor activities to a lesser degree, little complaint of the weather is heard. Opinions generally agree that crops had done all they could and further absence of frost or freeze would be of no appreciable advantage. Some say the cold weather will cause grain to dry out and mature quicker and that boll pulling will be better now.

Wheeler county has been extremely fortunate this year in escaping the usual frosts of autumn until this late date. Records do not show this as exceptionally late, but because of unseasonable weather delay in the spring, it has been worth a great deal to this region.

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday showed indications of fair and warmer weather. Any hopes along that line were blasted early Thursday morning, however, when a new onslaught of driving blasts under lowering skies brought freezing temperatures and sharp discomfort.

The autumn's first cold spell extended far southward, even reaching the lower Rio Grande valley in modified severity.

The minimum of 19 was at Pampa, and 24-degree weather accompanied by killing frosts was reported from Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock. The frost was expected to facilitate picking of the bumper cotton crop in the South Plains area, which now indicates 800,000 bales for a new production high. It topped out plants and caused shedding.

Gainesville, Wichita Falls, Vernon and other cities near the Red River reported Tuesday minimums of around freezing or slightly below. The mercury skidded to 46 in "sunny San Antonio." At most points the rise during the day was slight and residents burrowed in against more severe cold expected to follow.

Local Young Woman in Car Crash Friday

Chevrolet, Driven by Miss Masel Burnum, Wrecked—Occupant Hurt Slightly

Shortly after leaving the slab, 5½ miles east of town, the Chevrolet sedan owned by Don Anglin of Wheeler and driven by Miss Masel Burnum, a young woman employed in the Anglin household, got out of control and crashed into the roadside ditch, turning over and landing in the adjacent field. The accident occurred early last Friday afternoon.

The car was reduced to a complete wreck, apparently turning over endwise more than once. The occupant, alone in the car, escaped with her life, receiving only minor injuries which necessitated a stay at the Wheeler hospital until Monday, when she was taken home.

Miss Burnum is the daughter of Mrs. Jeff Price of Wheeler, and had been working for the Anglins for some time.

D. B. Cox, who happened to be in the vicinity, saw the spill and ascribed it to the uneven surface of the earthen highway after the driver had left the smooth caliche surfaced strip. Cox brought the injured girl to the hospital.

Anglin feels the loss of his car keenly. He had fire and theft insurance on the machine but no protection against damage resulting from collision or wreck.

Mrs. Williams Returns Home
Mrs. W. L. Williams came home Saturday night from Artesia, N. Mex., where she spent three weeks with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams and children, Carter and Carita Claire. Glenn Williams brought his mother home and remained here until Monday morning when he was accompanied home by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Melvin Howe and daughter, Mona Cathryn, who will spend about 10 days at the Williams-home near Artesia.

JUST AN ECHO OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

During the course of his remarks at the Lions club luncheon Tuesday, Clayton Heare, a guest from Shamrock, related an incident in connection with the Wheeler-Shamrock football game of Oct. 23. The incident concerns a Wheeler man, A. B. Crump, and as told by Heare runs something like this.

Shortly after the game, Crump met Mayor Bill Walker of the south-side city and casually observed: "Well, Bill, you have a right nice little team!"

Hunting this Season Promises Good Sport

Bountiful Rains and Late Autumn Indicates Large Supply of Ducks in State

Sportsmen of Texas, especially duck and goose hunters, anticipate one of the best seasons in many years. Bountiful rains in the Panhandle Plains region, combined with good grain crops, are expected to bring ducks to the state in large numbers—larger possibly than any time during the past five years.

Will Tucker, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission, says that deer and wild turkey hunting prospects are good and that an unprecedented number of nimrods are expected to seek this game on and immediately after the season opens Nov. 16.

Conservationists Active
Conservationists are making greater efforts to see that laws are obeyed this year than ever before. A resident hunting license for Texans who wish to go outside their home counties is $2 a year. For out-of-state hunters, the license costs $25. Duck and goose hunters must also purchase at some postoffice a stamp costing $1.

The season is closed entirely this fall on prairie chickens, pheasants, and grouse; on redhead, canvasback, buffhead and ruddy ducks; on wood ducks, snow geese and swans. Nearly all varieties of ducks mentioned are identified by red markings on their plumage.

Except in those counties where hunting is prohibited by special laws, deer, wild turkey and bear may be hunted from Nov. 16 to Dec. 31. The bag limit on deer is two bucks for the season; on bear, one; and on turkey, three.

The duck and goose season runs from Nov. 27 to Dec. 26, and hunting should be improved because the unusually warm weather this fall delayed their flight south.

Bag limit on ducks is 10 a day and on geese, five.

Quail may be hunted from Dec. 1 to Jan. 16 and the limit is 12 a day.

Other Restrictions
Besides the bag limitations, wardens this year will be instructed to watch for the following violations:

Failure to plug your shotgun down to the three-shell maximum. Have room for only two in the magazine and one in the barrel.

Using live decoys to lure ducks and geese.

Hunting from an automobile, airplane or motorboat.

Hunting for hire.

Selling or buying wild game, dead or alive.

Hunting on state preserves.

Killing doe deer, fawns or bucks without a point, or possessing a green hide with evidence of sex removed.

Keeping game in storage more than 10 days after the season is closed, or bringing in game from another state when the season is closed in Texas—unless by special permission from the commission.

Local Ginnings Near Double in Two Weeks

Total Bales at Noon Today, 1,804 as Compared with 932 on November 4th

Two weeks ago today at noon, which was Thursday, Nov. 4, the two cotton gins in Wheeler had turned out a combined total of 932 bales. Today at noon, reports from them show a total to date of 1,804 bales.

Thus, in exactly two weeks time, ginnings here have almost doubled, lacking only 60 bales of having done so.

With the advent of more or less inclement weather, it is to be expected that receipts will show a marked shrinkage during the next two weeks.

There is still lots of cotton in the fields, it is said, some declaring the crop is only 30 or 35 per cent harvested.

Cattle TB Testing Proceeds in County

Recheck Survey for Dairy Herds Principally—County Agent Urges Co-Operation

Starting Monday of this week a recheck of Wheeler county cattle for tuberculosis reaction has been in progress. Covering the northern and eastern portions of the county first, about one-third of the task was completed the first of this week.

All cattle will not be tested at this time as in 1934, states Jake Tarter, county agent. But it is his desire and that of the state department that dairy cattle be given preference in the tests. Only one reactor of this breed was found in 1934, but if there has been an increase or new developments of the disease, it should be eradicated.

If good coverage is made with dairy cattle it will not be necessary to test any range herds to obtain re-certification of the county as a TB-free area, declares Tarter. Therefore he urgently requests that persons selling whole milk call him and arrange to have their milk cows tested at this time.

"I am sure that if anyone owning a milk cow afflicted with this dread disease knew it," stated Tarter, "they would not want to put such milk on the market for human usage."

Lions Club Discusses Local Progress Plans

That the Wheeler Lions club is much more than a "knife and fork society" was again demonstrated during its business session following luncheon in the Baptist church basement on Tuesday of this week. Discussions covered subjects of vital importance to Wheeler and Wheeler county, as well as co-operation in development projects concerning this section of the Panhandle.

County Judge W. O. Puett touched briefly on the local Boy Scout situation, especially in regard to more adequate meeting quarters for the troop, and declared his whole-hearted approval of Scouting. Launching into a discussion of the east-west highway through Wheeler, Puett called particular attention to the Oilfield Highway association meeting at Pampa in the near future and urged that every person from this part of the county who could do so, should attend that meeting. Members of the commissioners' court expect to be present, he stated.

Following his remarks concerning the road meeting, Puett referred to the Panhandle water conservation program as related to Wheeler county, pointing out the need for obtaining sites for large and small lakes whose construction in this region are contemplated as a major portion of the conservation authority's program.

In connection with this, Chairman H. E. Nicholson appointed a committee composed of Nelson Porter, C. J. Meek and Raymond Holt to seek easement of title to favorable sites, in conformity with building plans. It was said that large lakes involve sums of $75,000 upwards, while small lakes come in the range of a few hundred dollars each.

Clayton Heare, Shamrock attorney and guest of the club, joined in the discussion relating to a suggested industrial survey of this region, where in substantial development is expected. Shamrock's commercial club recently designated a committee to investigate this matter and Chairman Nicholson named H. M. Wiley, A. B. Crump and Harry Wofford as Wheeler representatives to confer and co-operate with the south side group in ascertaining industrial possibilities of the county.

When the subject of pre-holiday trade-encouraging plans for Wheeler was introduced, Nicholson instructed the recently-appointed commercial relations committee to handle the arrangements for Christmas goodwill and trades days.

Brief entertainment was provided by Misses Helen Scott and Virginia Burgess in two vocal numbers with guitar accompaniment. The young ladies sang "Blue Hawaii" and "You Can't Stop Me from Dreaming."

C. C. Merritt, W. O. Puett and H. M. Wiley are entertainment committee members for the next meeting of the club, which will be held in the Methodist church basement on the first Tuesday in December.

Jack Frye Visits Here
Jack Frye, president of T. W. A., circled his home town early Monday morning in an airplane. He was enroute to Kansas City, Mo., from Boulder Dam. Mr. Frye spent the day at the Frye ranch with his uncles and aunt and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Frye, Dr. Harry Frye and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frye, and friends.

Red Cross Roll Call Progressing Nicely

Actual Figures Not Yet Available but Activity Promises Good Success

Starting only last week, it is yet too early for compilation of actual figures showing progress of the annual Red Cross roll call drive which terminates on Thanksgiving Day. However, Lee Guthrie, roll call chairman of the Wheeler chapter, stated yesterday that activity of canvassers, together with limited reports reaching him, promises great success for the campaign.

Some of the workers enlisted will not be able, because of application to their usual vocations, to make a vigorous coverage of their territory until the latter part of this week.

One instance that might be taken as an indication of the attitude toward public enrollment, pointed out Guthrie, is found at the court house. Judge W. O. Puett and Jim Risner are solicitors for the county government building. Early this week Puett reported that complete coverage had been made on the lower floor, with a response of 100 per cent.

Discussing achievements of the American Red Cross, the chairman declared that a growing, tangible consciousness of the need for more experts in administering first aid has resulted in the training of an unusual number of persons during the past fiscal year.

"It is possible to note unmistakable signs of progress in making the country first-aid conscious," Guthrie said. "This is not from statistics alone, but from the obvious interest that is being aroused among children in schools, employees of large industrial companies, owners of isolated farms, and parents as well."

"This interest last year led 254,884 persons to take specialized courses in first aid, certificates being awarded in classes varying from three to as many as fifty."

"The immediate treatment of those injured on the highways is one of the chief needs in the elimination of deaths and permanent injuries from automobile accidents," he pointed out. "We have found the greatest danger spots to be those in rural rather than in urban areas, and to combat this danger we have inaugurated, and are rapidly expanding, our system of first aid stations along the highways from Maine to California."

The chairman explained that the American Red Cross had already established approximately 1,800 of these emergency highway first aid stations, placing them in filling stations, roadside inns, police substations, and fire departments, at the same time training an adequate number of persons in the immediate vicinity or connected with the filling station or inn sponsoring the projects in order to keep them manned constantly.

"Through the past year the Red Cross has also been concentrating on the establishment of mobile units in

Unemployment Census Cards Received Here

Totally Jobless and Part-Time Workers Urged to Fill Out and Return Cards

Through the local post office, a large quantity of unemployment registration cards were delivered to citizens of the community early this week. These cards are to be filled out only by people who are unemployed and want work, or by those who have part time employment and wish more work.

Chester Lewis, postmaster, said it is imperative that all persons out of work fill in the cards and return them to the post office or mail them. If more than one card is needed in the family, additional blanks may be obtained at the post office.

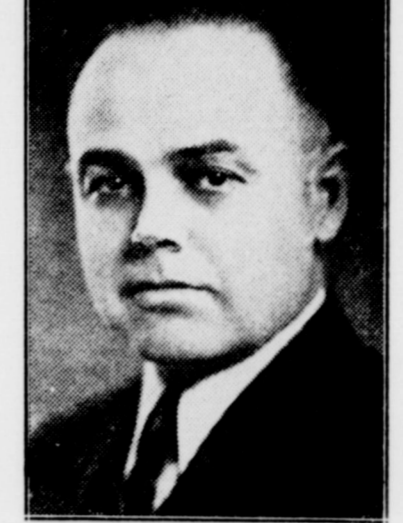

Saturday of this week, Nov. 20, is the date when all cards are to be back in the hands of the post office department, which is co-operating with other government agencies in the survey, the cards to be forwarded to Washington.

Where some unavoidable delay prevents return of cards by Saturday, they should be filled out and mailed on any rural route or at any post office at the earliest possible date.

Seeks State Office

LEWIS M. GOODRICH
In the person of Lewis M. Goodrich, promising young attorney, Wheeler county has an avowed candidate for the office of attorney general of the State of Texas whom his friends believe will stand an excellent chance of reaching the goal he seeks in next year's election. Goodrich is district attorney of the 31st judicial district, of which Wheeler is one unit.

Play Night Carnival for Allison Schools

Event is Dated for Saturday Night of this Week—Many Attractions Offered

From J. W. Peoples, superintendent of the Allison schools, word has been received that a play night carnival will be given at the school house on Saturday night of this week, Nov. 20. The school is sponsoring this event and will receive the proceeds for use in educational, athletic and other activities.

"We will have a cafe," states Peoples, "and urge that everyone come to the school to eat their supper that night. There will also be candy, popcorn and peanut stands in the house."

Nearly every kind of game will be played, each charging a small fee continues the communication. Among these will be bingo, ping-pong, penny toss, horseshoes, shuffleboard, fish pond and several others.

In the gymnasium will be presented two main shows, a boxing match and a style show. The style show will be both burlesque and real.

Well known for its hospitality and ability to entertain, when the Allison community announces an attraction of this kind it is always the signal for a good attendance by people who enjoy good clean fun and an evening of genuine pleasure.

Highway Meeting at Pampa is Postponed

Not having heard anything further concerning plans for the Oilfield Highway association meeting dated for Nov. 23 at Pampa, County Judge W. O. Puett this morning contacted Judge Noel McDade of Dumas, president of the association. McDade stated that the meeting had been postponed indefinitely because of inability of Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the Texas commission to be present next Tuesday.

Assurance was given, however, that the meeting will be held in the near future, probably the first or second week in December.

McDade declared that notices announcing the new date would be released to newspapers of this area in ample time to afford proper publicity.

MAIZE AND LARGE EGG REACH TIMES WINDOW

This week's exhibit in The Times window is somewhat limited in variety, but the deficiency is offset by quality and size.

On Saturday W. M. Brewer brought in a sample of maize heads grown by his son, M. F. Brewer, living three and a half miles southwest of Wheeler. This grain, genuine dwarf in variety, is of superior size and good shape, well filled out. Brewer estimated the prospective yield at 35 tons or better.

Mrs. Jeter Smith, living in the Pleasant Hill community east of town, brought in Saturday a novel item for exhibit. It is an exceptionally large egg, from her flock of White Leghorns. This specimen measures six inches around the short way and eight inches the long way.

Civil Docket Gives Busy Week in Court

First Week Using Jury Started on Monday Morning—Criminal Cases Next Week

Getting under way on Monday morning for its first week with jury service, the current term of district court had a busy run of hearings until late this afternoon when the jury was discharged for the week and court adjourned until next Monday.

In addition to hearings of non-jury matters, divorce cases, etc., three jury trials were conducted.

First of these was Manzer Motor Co. vs. Joe Sauermilch; suit on note. In this the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Next case was that of A. L. Tinney vs. E. E. Duke, et al.; trespass and try title action. An instructed verdict in favor of the defendant was rendered.

Last case to be heard this week, and which occupied the better part of two days, was that of O. B. Harvey vs. Ben P. Monning; trespass and try title. An instructed verdict for the defendant was brought in about mid-afternoon today.

Beginning next Monday, the first week of criminal hearings will be the order of court procedure. This will, of course, be a jury week.

Petit Jury for Fourth Week
As previously published in this paper, the petit jury panel for the fourth week of court, beginning Nov. 29, is:

John Lewis, G. O. McCrohan, L. A. Gaines, Ben Trout, W. L. Williams, Jeff Turner, C. H. Worley, F. B. Harris, J. S. Alexander, Bill Owen, Wheeler; P. G. Middleton, L. E. Oldham, Jack Clark, Dan Hefley, Raymond Zeigler, W. Y. Burden, R. A. Wood, E. M. Gossett, Geo. R. Reneau, L. E. Davis, Claude Montgomery, E. F. Chance, A. N. Williams, Shamrock; W. K. Winkley, W. E. Stone, Geo. Robinson, C. F. Melton, J. W. Mayfield, Billy Robinson, Bill Trimble, Cleburn Turner, W. C. Sivage, R. H. Green, Leonard Green, Mobeetie; R. E. Lee, J. L. Funston, Allison; L. C. Beaty, I. W. Rives, R. McLemore, Twitty; Charley Whiteley, Texola.

Masonic Certificate Examinations Given

Wheeler Lodge Sponsors Tests on Tuesday Night; Number of Visitors Present

Under direction of Lee Guthrie, ably assisted by W. E. Dart, H. E. Young, H. J. Garrison, R. H. Forrester, W. C. Teague and R. C. Florence, a Masonic certificate examiners' examination session was held here Tuesday night, sponsored by Wheeler Masonic Lodge.

Those taking the tests for one-year certificates included:

B. T. Rucker, Melvin Howe and W. O. Puett, Wheeler, H. O. Lane, Mobeetie; E. R. Johnson, Canadian, and E. M. Allen, Canadian.

Three-year certificate seekers were:

H. E. Young, Wheeler; W. E. Dart, Mobeetie; R. C. Florence, McLean; W. L. Russell, Miami, and E. T. Griffin and E. E. Mitchell, Shamrock.

Masonic visitors were present from Perryton, Canadian, Miami, Mobeetie, McLean and Shamrock.

With the work continuing until a definitely late hour, midnight lunch was served to the participants and visitors at Jaco's Cook Shack.

Wheeler Poultry & Egg Co. Announces Anniversary Event

According to the announcement appearing on another page of this paper, the Wheeler Poultry & Egg Co., Wheeler IGA store, has an attractive set-up for its first anniversary celebration on Saturday of this week. Joe Tilley is manager of the store and expects to welcome a large number of friends and patrons on that day.

Among the entertainment features will be music over a loudspeaker and free distribution of grocery assortments and other valuable merchandise. No purchase nor obligation of any kind is necessary to participate in the distributions which occur at 3 o'clock and again at 4:30 in the afternoon. Only requirement is to register one's name at the store.

Some extra special values in Humreno flour, and other staple grocery items are also advertised for both Friday and Saturday, but the anniversary celebration will be only the one day, Saturday. On that day free baking samples of Humreno flour will be given to visitors who are requested to ask for them.

STOP ANOTHER DEPRESSION

There is a grave danger, pointed out by many responsible economists, that the country may sink into another depression—unless corrective steps are quickly taken. The same experts are generally agreed that two of the outstanding causes of the recent drop in business production and the collapse in security values are the Capital Gains Tax and the Undistributed Profits Tax.

The Capital Gains Tax, by heavily penalizing persons who sell securities at a profit, damps up the normal flow of private capital into productive industry. A man who makes such an investment must take all the risks of loss—but if he makes a profit instead, the tax deprives him of a large part of it. Under this condition, who can blame capital for staying in "hiding"?

The Undistributed Profits Tax prevents corporations from using funds to build up necessary reserves against bad times, for expanding inventories, for rehabilitating plant and equipment, etc. To quote a National Industrial Conference Board Survey: "The tax penalizes thrift and introduces tendencies contrary to conservative financial practice. . . . The tax involves the application of a new and unsubstantiated theory of taxation. It is uneconomic because of its effects on corporate policies and practices and not because of the burdens imposed. The tax is deficient as a regulatory device. . . . The law assumes a degree of uniformity among corporations that does not exist, and the tax is inequitable primarily because of this assumed uniformity."

Two bills have been introduced in congress by Representative Emanuel Celler, Democrat of New York, to correct these taxes. In support of these bills is the practically united sentiment of economists, financial journalists, industrial leaders, and many men high in the government service. There is no qualified opposition worthy of the name.

Prompt passage of these two bills should be the first move toward stopping another depression and reviving the recovery movement.

COMPETING WITH CHEOPS

Fort Peck dam on the Missouri river in Montana, is generally conceded to be the largest construction project ever undertaken by man—larger even than the great pyramid of the Egyptian pharaoh, Cheops. The $200,000,000 of public funds to be spent on it will ultimately result in a vast pile of dirt, ranging as high as 242 feet over the river bed and extending across several miles of Montana prairie land. Behind this monumental upheaval will be created the "largest duck pond in the world."

Laboring taxpayers are told by "liberal" politicians that Fort Peck dam is justified in the name of humanity. They paint a glowing picture, but here is what the United States army engineer corps has to say of Fort Peck:

In regard to electric power, Major General Markham, chief of the engineers, recommended that the power plants be not installed for the practical reason that there is no market for the power. Fort Peck dam is located in a sparsely settled region, having an average population of only 2.7 persons per square mile. Stock raising and dry farming are the principal occupations. The report likewise pointed out that the dam will be of no material benefit as far as flood control is concerned. And, finally, in regard to improved navigation: "The Missouri river never can and never will be a great originator of traffic. There are no mines, no factories, no other great sources of originating traffic on the river. . . . many years, perhaps decades, must elapse before any considerable traffic will develop, if it ever does."

Stripped of verbal persiflage, Fort Peck dam becomes nothing but a monument to political vanity, a monument that will make the taxpayers sweat, and whose chief claim to fame is that it is bigger than Cheops' pyramid.

MONEY FOUND FOR THE AGED

By maneuvering about and seeing what they could do about it, the State Board of Control has found a way out to go ahead with the aged people and pay them their pensions until January or February and possibly not have to pare the payments in any months at all.

Thirty days ago it was a cinch that nothing could be done about it, that payments certainly would cease in November and on for awhile. At that time the drive was on for more tax levies.

It is just this sort of thing the "entrenched interests" want the state officials to do—to look around and get the job done without calling on the people for any more taxes for a while—and it can be done.—Exchange.

Well, The Times believed all the while that a solution would be found for the imaginary dilemma which existed concerning old-age assistance payments. Therefore, it did not join the anvil chorus which was demanding several million more dollars be placed at disposal of the politicians.

First, because with the best of men and regulations, there is a tendency to squander at least a portion of such funds. Second, because it is high time to retrench and reduce taxes before the whole nation goes on some sort of relief roll for a bare existence—and who would foot the bill?

INDIVIDUALISM BEST "ISM"

Until recently the destiny of the United States rested in the hands of the individual citizen. In his ambition, his initiative, his aggressiveness, lay the forces which molded the character and set the tempo of the great industrial power which the nation is today. American history is a startling revelation of what the individual can do when unhampered by political strife and government interference; for during this long period, government authorities remained strictly in the background, played the role of inconspicuous umpire.

Then came 1929 and the depression. Government, the sleeping monster, awoke with a roar, pounced upon real and imaginary abuses. And today, whether we like it or not, we are witnessing a definite trend toward collectivism and strongly centralized government. Unless halted, it will mark the end of progress—industrial as well as cultural.

Business and industry have the power to meet this evil. Their power lies in a friendly employer-employee relationship. Much has already been done in this direction. Industry is steadily working toward shorter hours, better pay and better working conditions. In fact, it is working for more, even, than these.

In short, if each employe in the nation occupies a responsible niche in the community, he will not easily succumb to the oily arguments of any form of collectivism that crushes individual freedom.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

Proof that growing better staple cotton pays good dividends: A gin at Wolf Flat, in the southwest part of the county, is ginning only cotton produced from high grade seed. Twenty-five bales were brought to Memphis, and 24 of those went into the loan at 9c—an extra high average that ordinary cotton cannot reach. The market price for ordinary seed that day was $19 per ton, but the seed from this cotton brought $28 per ton! The movement now on for the planting of better cottonseed has the endorsement of those Wolf Flat farmers.—Memphis Democrat.

Victor Murdock, editor-in-chief of the Wichita (Kans.) Eagle, and C. Q. Chandler, chairman of the board of the First National Bank in Wichita, will be principal speakers on the program at the annual banquet of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to be held early in December. This announcement was made by President H. S. Wilbur, Tuesday night, at the regular membership meeting of the organization.—Canadian Record.

According to County Judge, L. D. Gibson, the commissioners court which met on Monday received an order for an election on beer, which will be conducted on Friday, Nov. 19. The order was presented in the form of a petition with 253 legal voters as signers. The petition only required 134 signers in order for the election to be held.—Paducah Post.

There has never been much money made in cotton for the small farmer, yet there seems to be no voluntary way of breaking the habit of planting too much of the staple. When we learn to use cotton only as a cash crop for the farm and plant only a small acreage of good varieties, maybe there will be some inducement to plant it. There must be a place for the cow, sow and hen on every farm if the farmer is to succeed, and cotton should be considered a sideline only.—McLean News.

The Norris well No. 1 in the southeast part of the county reports that drilling operations have been resumed at the well with the work going on day and night. The well has been shut down for repairs for the past seven weeks. Two fair showings of gas have been made at the well with a good showing, Nov. 7. This is not the first well to be drilled in the county, but so far, has shown better prospects.—Ochiltree County Herald.

G. O. Hubbert, who has been football coach and algebra teacher since the resignation early in the season of "Chesty" Walker of Memphis, resigned his position with the Clarendon high school Tuesday. Hubbert is a former resident of Lubbock and is a graduate of Texas Tech. Appointment of his successor had not been announced today.—Clarendon News.

Six Gray county Boy Scout troops gathered a ton of nails last week in the move to do the city a good turn. Good news for the hundred and thirteen thousand Texas recipients of old age assistance came from the board of control Tuesday in the form of an announcement that assistance at the prevailing average of $14 a month will continue to be paid during November and December. Some adjustments probably will have to be made by Feb. 1, it was intimated, but there was no statement that, even then, anyone entitled to assistance would be dropped from the rolls or have his stipend substantially reduced.—Tulia Herald.

Canyon Music Leader Granted Recognition

Prof. Clark Becomes Member Chicago Council Because of Outstanding Work

To Prof. Wallace R. Clark, head of the department of music at West Texas State college, has come an honor granted in recognition of outstanding work in his field at the local institution, states a communication from Canyon.

Prof. Clark has been made a member of the Chicago Council of Teachers of Singing, which has a program national in scope in several particulars. Membership in the group is by invitation only, and is given only to those who contribute substantially to the advancement of the art. The president of the organization is D. A. Clippinger of Chicago, internationally famous teacher of singing, who was for more than 25 years director of the Chicago Madrigal club. He is the author of numerous books and articles.

When the Chicago master decided to retire as conductor of the Madrigal club a few years ago he made it possible for his former pupil and friend, Prof. Clark, and West Texas State to obtain the club's madrigal library—the finest in the country. This library has brought international fame to the college among musicians. It is used every year by the Madrigal club conducted by Prof. Clark.

Several seasons ago Prof. Clippinger came to Canyon and conducted a madrigal program by the group. He stated at that time that he placed the library at Canyon because the West Texas State department head not only appreciated madrigal music to an unusual extent but knew more about madrigals than any other person in the country.

To this remark Prof. Clark of course replied that Clippinger is the foremost American authority on the subject. As usually organized, the madrigal club is a group of 32 voices, singing without accompaniment. For them much outstanding music has been written.

By virtue of his membership in the Chicago Council of Teachers of Singing, Prof. Clark will receive each month a copy of the minutes of the previous meeting, as well as club brochures on vocal topics. To the latter he will be invited to contribute ideas and articles. The club also holds an annual song competition open to American composers. The next contest will start shortly.

Membership in the Madrigal club of West Texas State is regarded by students as so desirable that the group has a waiting list. Currently it is preparing a program of short madrigals which have been requested by persons who have been hearing concerts by the organization since it was formed in 1919.

The major concert of the Madrigal club will be given in the spring.

When Waiting for 'Em it Seems Much Longer

The co-ed snooper who recently discovered that girls at West Texas State college, Canyon, spend an average of two hours a day before their mirrors thinks it is incredible that the "eds" at Stafford hall, the dormitory for boys, need only two and a half hours per week before their "looking glasses."

She appointed a few observers and learned that the boys of the hall spend only five minutes in front of a mirror before dashing to an 8 o'clock class, two minutes getting ready for the meals at noon and in the evening, and about 15 minutes preparing for an evening date. The 15 minutes include one for brushing the teeth, 10 for shaving, 30 seconds for putting each hair in place, and a glance to see if the tie is on straight. Some boys dispense with the glance, having perfected a subconscious habit of straightening their ties at frequent intervals during the day.

As might be expected, there are exceptions to this average. One boy, it is reliably reported, approaches the co-ed total of 2 hours daily, but it is claimed that this time is used mainly for self-admiration rather than "priming."

The co-ed snooper reports that the average girl thinks the average boy could well spend more than two and a half hours before his mirror every week.

THE POET'S CORNER

HAUNTED

By MARIE WATERS
This is my memoried room,
A love seat just for two,
Here we spent our happiest hours;
Our friendships formed and grew.
Just memories it holds for me—
The old, old thought of you.

This room is sentiment of you,
It haunts me by the hour,
Open fire-place, full drawn shade
And every withered flower!
It once brought forth my fondest dream—
It's now my mimic tower!

The day you left you kissed me
In this silver-mapled lane,
I clung to you bereft of joy,
(You hummed an old refrain!)
Sobbing low, I sought one long, last look—
You won't come back again.

TRENCH SILOS GAIN IN POPULARITY

LEGEND: Dallam county's largest trench silo, an 800 ton affair on the Cecil C. Jones' place near Texline. Jones, who in 1933 worked with the county agricultural agent and the Extension Service division of Texas A. and M. college to put in the first trench silo in his section, a 200-tonner, this year is putting down 2,300 tons of silage. The upper picture shows part of his 1,000 acres of begari, maize, and kafir. The grain sorghums are cut high, leaving a long stubble for protection against wind erosion.

TRENCH SILOS IN NORTHWEST TEXAS

"They build 'em big in Northwest Texas," E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Extension Service division of A. and M. college, and Texas' No. 1 trench silo disciple, says about the trenches that farmers and ranchmen of that section are filling.

A good grain sorghum crop in the Panhandle and South Plains is resulting in a big increase not only in the total number of trench silos, there, but in the tonnage stored. "The number of trench silos in Dallam county has increased from 13 in 1936 to 30 this year, but the total amount of feed put down as silage has more than tripled," County Agricultural Agent Frank M. Stubbs, jr., recently reported to Eudaly.

Evidence of the increasing popularity of trench silos can be seen in many instances. In Dallam county, Cecil C. Jones, farmer-stockman of Texline, put down a 200-ton trench in 1933, the first in the county. Jones this year has 2,300 tons of silage. R. C. Johnson, of Dalhart, is filling six trenches, each of approximately 500 ton capacity.

"The 65 counties in Northwest Texas last year filled 1,560 trench silos," Eudaly recently said. "The district agents who serve this area estimate that the 1937 total will be between 3,000 and 3,500."

County Agricultural Agent J. T. Stovall has reported 129 trench silos in Castro county, of which 80 were

Co-eds Rate Male Personality Above 'Looks'

Here is news for the young man whose profile may not properly be described as classical. The co-eds at West Texas State college, Canyon, value personality in a man higher than good looks. The fact was brought out in discussions sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The young women deplored the fact that some men are meticulous

"THE REST OF THE RECORD"

By JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN—Louisiana and Texas joined hands last week to make history when the Sabine River at Pendleton, spanned by a bridge for the first time, was dedicated. For over two hundred years men either ferried or forded the stream: Sam Houston and his soldiers, homesteaders and traders, the French explorer St. Denis and many other picturesque figures have formed the colorful procession of those who gave so interesting history to that section of Texas.

Governor Leche and other dignitaries of Louisiana participated with members of the State Highway commission and myself in dedicating the new structure. It was not hard to visualize the ceremonies as a prelude to the steady stream of traffic which some day will travel over the magnificent steel structure down Highway 21 whose route cities and towns will attempt to popularize as the best link between Mexico City and Washington, D. C. With that traffic will continue the present-day toll of human lives and property damage unless our program of traffic safety can check the needless slaughter.

Traffic experts of the nation agree that there is no magic solution to America's Number One Problem. It is agreed—and proved in 13 states—that by militantly and intelligently carrying out the three "E's" of traffic safety—engineering, education, and enforcement—that a reduction in traffic accidents can be accomplished.

Last Spring in an effort to mobilize the forces that might best put into action the safety "E" of education, I appointed the Governor's Traffic Safety committee composed of outstanding safety laymen and officials over the state. Under the chairmanship of C. J. Rutland, this committee has carried on a splendid work despite the obvious handicap—often fatal to an educational campaign—of a lack of funds. More than 75 towns have organized local traffic safety councils that are functioning actively in their fight to lessen the toll of traffic accidents in their communities.

Under the leadership of Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Tech, and member of the statewide committee, a six weeks course was given on traffic safety to teachers attending the last summer session. A similar course was given at A. & M. college where it was pronounced a marked success. Doubtless next summer there will be many other colleges adding traffic safety to their curriculum, as will more grammar and high schools. The results of this educational work will be seen in the years to come as this school generation becomes drivers.

The Governor's Traffic Safety committee recently published a traffic manual, "Creating Safer Communities," designed to aid cities and towns in their efforts to combat traffic accidents. Many civic clubs and councils have requested copies which have been supplied them free. The splendid co-operation of the newspapers and radio stations have greatly aided the educational program.

The "E" of enforcement in the state program is carried out by the Public Safety department whose highway patrol correlates its duties with local agencies charged with the enforcement of the law. This intelligent body of patrolmen has been increased by an additional force of 138 men who have just completed an intensive two months training school in preparation for their duties. With the help of the amended drivers license law passed at the regular session and this increased patrol force, the citizens of this state will be better protected than ever before in the past from the careless, dangerous driver.

The highway department has a charge of the engineering phase of traffic safety and under the capable direction of its new highway engineer, Julian Montgomery, there will be no effort spared to insure safety on the highways of Texas.

In the final analysis, of course, the whole problem of traffic safety rests upon the driver. If he obeys the sane, sensible laws of the road and street, Texas will not repeat the toll of 2,000 lives sacrificed to the automobile last year.

HOLBERT ANNOUNCES SCOUT MEETING, AMATEUR CONTEST

Miss Imogene Holbert made two announcements in the study hall Tuesday regarding coming events. The first was about the amateur night of the Kappa Beta society, winners of which will be given a free trip to San Antonio.

She also announced a meeting of the high school girls interested in joining GRI Scouts to be held Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist church.

With a bushel of laughs for every one attending, Honeyboy and Sassafras, former comedians of the air, presented a program in the auditorium Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

By C. C. M. Sunday Nov. 21, 1937 CHRISTIAN FRUITFULNESS Scripture Text: John 15:1-16. Golden Text: Jno. 15:8. Devotional Reading: Galatians 5:15-25.

An Approach I most earnestly advise that these notes should not be read until after you have read the scripture references of our lesson.

Too often it is in the minds of both the saved and unsaved that when salvation from sins has been found by those who have accepted Christ as their Saviour, the full purpose of God has been achieved. But this is far from the truth.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON Introduction

The most vital union between the believer and Christ is expressed in the use of the vine and the branches. A Christian, the saved believer, is to Christ what the branch is to the vine.

Indeed Christ does so thoroughly identify Himself with the believer. And He began that identification with him when He took the sinner's place in judgment upon the Cross and died as a substitute for him.

What is the Fruit? First, let us discover what the fruit is that the one "in Christ" bears. Paul says (Rom. 8:9) "If any man hath not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

Corn Valley News

(By Times Correspondent) Doris Bailey of Abilene is visiting friends and relatives here this week. Rev. Crossland of Magic City will preach at the school house Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sides and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Farmer disciple of Christ; are you bearing this fruit?

The Quality of the Fruit Christ settled that for us in Matt. 7:16-20. As a true believer in Christ, the fruit is good. The Spirit's life-giving flow cannot give us any other kind of fruit than the good.

The Quantity of the Fruit Christ is greatly concerned about the quantity of the fruit the believer bears. He is looking forward to an abundant fruitage, the 100 per cent. But He does not expect a 10-inch branch to bear as much fruit as a 10-foot branch.

And What Joy of Satisfaction! "As the Father has loved me, even so have I loved you!" No wonder Paul could ask, "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ?"

Does Christ love us like that? Then we ought to love Him. Our love for Him will be manifested in our doing His pleasure—keeping His commandments. By following the instructions of our Lord, the believer will be enabled to bear fruit.

Three times Christ makes use of this dreadful "if" in our lesson. O, that there were no deception and false pretense in the ranks of Christians! How foolish for a Christian to think that a careless, indifferent, sinful life will go unpunished of the loving heavenly Father.

How marvelous is His goodness and loving kindness toward us!

You may also see the comedy "Florida Cowboy."

Shirley Temple

Shirley Temple will be at the Rogue for Preview, Sunday, Monday in "Wee Willie Winkle." It is a Rudyard Kipling story and one of the best ever made by Shirley, and that is saying a lot. In order to accommodate the large crowd, the management of the Rogue states that the Saturday night Preview will start promptly at 10 o'clock. The Sunday matinee will start at 2:30 p. m., and Monday night at 6:45 p. m. So make your plans to attend one of these screenings.

Woe, Whoa Kentucky!

It's what the world thinks we are: Man born in the wilds of Kentucky is of fued days and full of benzine. He fiddleth, fisheth, fusseth, and fighteth all the days of his life.

He riseth up from the cradle to seek the scalp of his grandsire's enemy and taketh home in his carcass the ammunition of his wife's uncle's brother's cousin's father-in-law, who avengeth the dead.

When he desireth to raise hell, he planteth a neighbor, and so, he repeath fourfold. Yea, verily, his life is uncertain; and he knoweth not the hour he may be jerked hence.

He goeth forth on a journey half-shot and cometh home on a shutter all-shot. He riseth in the night-time to let the cat out and it takes nine doctors three days to pick the buckshot from his person.

He goeth forth in joy and gladness and cometh back in scraps and fragments. He calleth his fellowman a liar and getteth himself filled with scrap iron—even unto the fourth generation.

A cyclone bloweth him into the house of his neighbor's wife and his neighbor's wife's husband bloweth him into the bosom of Abraham before he hath time to explain.

He emptieth a shotgun into his enemy and his enemy's son lieth in wait on election day and lo, the coroner ploweth up a 40-acre field to find the remains of that man.

Woe, woe, is Kentucky. Selah, whoa, and so much for that! —Ashland Independent.

Commercial Printing

Commercial printing, better known as "job printing" to some, is one of the highly important functions of The Wheeler Times plant that has probably been neglected from a publicity standpoint. But it has never been neglected nor slighted from the standpoint of careful and accurate worksmanship, combined with prompt service. It can be confidently said—and proven—that, with the possible exception of one or two of the largest cities of the Panhandle, this plant can and does print anything that any office in the entire area can—doing it as well in every instance, and in many cases, better.

This means, briefly, that present and prospective commercial printing customers are positively assured The Wheeler Times plant has the equipment, the knowledge and the craftsmen capable of producing high quality printing, whether the job be a simple or complex one.

An order for a few hundred or a few thousand warrants, bills of exchange, cotton gin scale tickets—with duplicate or triplicate sheets, all numbered, perforated and bound into books—is handled in the same matter-of-fact and efficient way in this office as a plain letter head or envelope order.

For Good Commercial Printing Try The Wheeler Times Every Time!

County to Benefit from Tax Decision

Decision of the United States Supreme court on two recent cases, in which the Texas intangible tax act was upheld, is expected to greatly benefit the counties of the state, according to a letter from Attorney General William McCraw to county judges.

The attorney-general said he expected to see payments made of the intangible taxes assessed in 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937.

Intangible taxes are defined as a tax on "some unknown value supposed to exist in excess of the true value."

In Wheeler county, the tax applies to railroads and oil and gas pipelines. County Judge Puetz said this morning that some of the companies due to pay these taxes had refused to let the state tax board make certification of taxes to the county, having secured an injunction to prevent this.

Other companies have paid the tax promptly each year, he said. Figures on what the collection of these taxes in cases where they were delinquent for the past three years were not immediately available in the office of John H. Templeton, county tax assessor-collector.

It is known, however, that these taxes will total several thousand dollars for this county.

Bridal Shower Given Mrs. Brooks Thursday

Mrs. Hazel Crowder gave a bridal shower for Mrs. Marion B. Brooks (nee Cozette Crofford) at the H. E. Tolliver home on South Main street Thursday afternoon.

The bride's mother, Mrs. D. H. Crofford, assisted with the gifts. Miss Lilla Mae Crofford presided at the punch bowl.

Those attending or sending gifts were Mesdames Virgil Tolliver, A. L. Bean, M. McIlhany, Roy Puckett, Clarence Robison, Dick Guynes, Jim Magruder, A. B. Crump, Holt Green, J. I. Two Wheeler County Girls Enrolled at TSCW, Denton

Two Wheeler county girls are among the 2,470 now enrolled at Texas State College for Women at Denton, which still holds its record as the largest residential woman's college in the world. This is according to a news bureau release received this week.

These county students are Miss Mary Margaret McCarroll of Briscoe, and Miss Marthaly Wiley of this city.

Wheeler is one of the 222 counties represented at the college. Over 175 girls are attending from 22 states other than Texas, and six students are from foreign countries.

LEWIS GOODRICH EXAMINES DOCKET OF DISTRICT COURT

Preparatory to his appearance before the district court as prosecuting attorney in criminal matters, Lewis M. Goodrich, district attorney, spent some time at the court house here early Monday, making a survey of the docket to familiarize himself with his duties here next week.

Goodrich also took advantage of the opportunity to greet many warm friends in Wheeler whom he had not seen for quite awhile. As an unofficially announced candidate for the office of attorney general of Texas, Goodrich has spent considerable time in travel over the state, meeting voters and sampling sentiment toward his candidacy.

In a brief interview with a representative of The Times, Goodrich expressed satisfaction with his prospects and voiced the determination to vigorously press his campaign, which will probably be officially launched about the first of the year.

County Singing Convention Corn Valley Next Sunday

Announcement has been received here from E. J. Cooper, president of the Wheeler County Singing convention, that an afternoon session will be held at Corn Valley next Sunday, Nov. 21.

All singers and those interested in Gospel singing are invited to attend this meeting, states Cooper.

Adoption of the new plan of afternoon meetings, thus relieving the host community from providing meals at the noon hour, already shows results in recognition extended to smaller communities where such service would prove a handicap. Yet sessions in these localities afford an opportunity for many people to attend who might not otherwise be in position to do so.

Methodist Sunday School Submits Report for Year

The following statistical report of the Methodist Sunday school in Wheeler has been compiled by Mrs. J. W. Barr, secretary-treasurer, and submitted for publication. The report covers the 12-months period from Nov. 1, 1936, to Nov. 1, 1937, and shows:

Mrs. Gilmore Gives Party for Sunday School Class

Chrysanthemums and marigolds furnished the decorative note for the entertaining room at the Methodist church basement Monday evening, when Mrs. J. L. Gilmore gave her Sunday school class a party.

The hostess, assisted by Mesdames C. J. Meek, Luther Parks, H. M. Wiley and Ethel Ahler, served refreshments to Celeste Wiley, Edwina Flanagan, Verda Warren, Verna Brewer, Emily Lou Ahler, Billy Wiley, Hiram Whitener, O. O. S. Hooker, S. D. Miller and L. B. Pendleton.

Negligence Cause of Stove Oven Ignition; Girl Burned

Miss Winona Red, daughter of Mrs. Belle Red, was badly burned about the face on Wednesday of last week by the explosion of a gas oven whose burner had been left on when the main control connection was turned off.

Later Miss Red heard a noise in the oven and when she opened the door the accumulated gas ignited, the flash burning her face severely. Her eyes, fortunately, were not injured.

Home Demonstration Club Will Hold Dish Luncheon

The Wheeler Home Demonstration club met in the club room Wednesday afternoon for a regular business meeting. The members voted to have an all-day meeting and a covered dish luncheon for their families at the next meeting, Dec. 1. As this is the Christmas party, members are to bring a gift for a club friend.

Those present at yesterday's meeting were Mesdames Jim Risner, Homer Moss, Jesse Crowder, O. O. Sandifer, Lilla Mae Farley, C. B. Witt, Jim Trout and John Ficke.

Kappa Beta Club Meets

Members of the Kappa Beta club enjoyed a social gathering at the home of Mrs. E. C. Raney on Wednesday evening of last week. An interesting program on a Day of Prayer, including a playlet entitled "3 O'Clock," was presented by Mary Eunice Noah, Florence Merriman and Willetta Templeton.

Lovely refreshments were served to Mesdames Winona Adams, Imogene Holbert, Florence Merriman, Evonne Hubbard, Mary Eunice Noah, Willetta Templeton and the hostess, Mrs. Raney.

Helen and Annie Mae Green will entertain the club at the J. P. Green home Wednesday night, Nov. 24.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

Attention, rural correspondents, school groups, other newsgatherers and advertisers in The Wheeler Times:

Since next Thursday, regular publication day, is also Thanksgiving Day, it is planned to print the paper somewhat earlier than usual, if possible. Therefore, your earnest co-operation is requested in getting copy to this office early. Your fine co-operation in the past is greatly appreciated and it is being counted on again. Please don't fail us.

"first aid," Guthrie explained. "Several thousand trucks belonging to utility companies, highway police patrols, shipping concerns, and state highway departments are being equipped with first aid kits, while their drivers and other workers are being trained in the administration of first aid to care for accident victims until a doctor's care is available."

It was pointed out that Red Cross first aid was not intended to replace regular medical attention, but rather to render only first aid during emergencies—when such care could be considered a safeguard, until competent medical care can be given victims of crashes or other accidents.

"Better employment conditions have brought increased demands for first aid training in the industries," he said. "Our local chapter of the Red Cross, as well as the resources and the teaching staff of the national organization is concentrating on reaching an increasingly large number of persons in order to spread the teaching of first aid as widely as possible."

"It is a deplorable fact," the chairman concluded, "that accidents on highways are increasing rather than decreasing. While we are doing all possible to cut these accidents down, we must recognize the fact that many of them seem to be inevitable, and our task is to prepare as many persons as possible to cope with them."

Rev. E. C. Raney and Mrs. J. M. Porter left Wednesday morning for Quanah to attend the Methodist annual conference. They will return late Sunday night. Tom Britt also expected to attend a part of the meetings.

Mrs. John Hood and daughter, Johnette, and mother, Mrs. J. N. Green, motored Friday to Turkey where they spent the week end with their brother and son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Green and daughter, Anita Kay.

Walker has Honor of Being Candidate for Vice-president

Warren Acts as Representative on Committee for Office at Convention

Huffman Walker had the honor of being a candidate for vice president at the Press clinic last week at Lubbock. Of the 28 schools enrolled, six were fortunate enough to be named by the nominating committee.

Aubrey Warren acted as the Corral representative on the committee. The Sweetwater candidate defeated Huffman for the office.

Miss Bernice Admison was appointed chairman of the membership committee for next year and she chose Mary Belle Johnston, Corral editor, to serve as a member on that committee.

Wheeler Sets up Exhibit

Being at the head of the exhibits, Miss Bernice Admison and the students set them up for inspection from 4 to 5 o'clock. This exhibit included 11 posters, two bulletin boards, eight scrapbooks, and two long tables of special editions and college and high school papers.

Among the chief speakers throughout the entire convention were Jimmie Gilentine, editor of the Hereford Brand; Charles A. Guy, editor of Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock; Forrest Weinhold, editor of the Sudan News; and R. C. Hankins, city editor of the Lubbock Evening Journal.

Delegates Attend Group Meetings

During the group discussions Saturday morning at the high school building, the boys attended the meeting of printed newspapers, while the girls went to the room of page-in-downtown-papers, under the direction of Miss Bernice Admison.

Pupils attended the Press clinic from 28 schools. There were approximately 200 students present, most of whom attended the banquet Friday night in Doak Hall.

Six Students Write to Foreign Friends

Half a Dozen Countries Included in Correspondence

Six W. H. S. students are corresponding with boys and girls of foreign countries except those engaged in war.

Those writing are: Madge McClain to Argentina, Jewel Young to the West Indies, Lois Fieke to Germany, Mary Genette to Germany and Mexico, Joyce Faust to India, and Earl Gilmore to Norway.

Directors at Boston, Mass., head of this agency, think it is a very good idea, as it is educational not only to the Americans but to the many foreign students who wish to learn our school system and customs. These boys and girls of other countries are very anxious to correspond with Americans.

Those studying English there want to write in English so they may learn more about it.

Boys and girls from the age of 14 to 20 are eligible for correspondence. France and Australia do not allow boys to correspond with girls or girls with boys.

To begin this correspondence, a 10 cent fee must be sent to the agency of Foreign Correspondence in Boston, Mass. They will send the name of a person with whom you are to correspond. Stamps in any foreign country cost 5 cents.

Juniors Entertain with Class Party

A party was given in honor of the junior class Monday night at the agriculture building. The entertainment was sponsored by Miss Imogene Holbert.

Crackers and soup were served after the group had finished playing games.

Those who attended the party were Miss Imogene Holbert, sponsor; Albert Gunter, Amos Page, Herbert Green, Obe Stephens, Imogene Jamison, Babe Robinson, Johnnie Faye Templeton, J. B. Crowder, Jack Pitcock, Edgar Flynt, Troy Shipman, Helena Jones, Helen Flynt, Alvorn Hampton, Norma Maxwell, Harrison Hall, Arnold Jones and Helen Scott.

PEP SQUAD PLANS TO HAVE BANQUET BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Miss Lois Kirby and Coach Stina Cain have set no date as yet for the annual "get-together" of the Pep Squad and football boys, called a football banquet. However Miss Kirby is sure that it will be before the Christmas holidays.

Trippers See Nine Ex-Journalists

The nine students now working on the Corral who went to the Lubbock Press meet saw, on the course of their journeyings, nine former W. H. S. students, all of whom had taken journalism in Wheeler high school.

Six of these people attend Tech: Travis Jones, Exie Creekmore, Anna Mae Puett, Orveta Puett, Wayland Merriman and Loua Lou Timney.

Edith Ashley goes to W. T. S. C. Canyon. Dawn Weatherly is employed as assistant manager of the Betty Maid Dress Shop in Amarillo. Loula Clark, of Wheeler, was visiting Dawn in Amarillo.

Three of these students were Corral editors and all of the others held important staff positions.

Of the 11 students making the trip, the nine who now work on the Corral are Elva Belle Crouch, Mary Belle Johnston, Clowes Jones, Aubrey Warren, Shirley Mae Swan, Betty Gene Coil and Ruth Barr. Norma Webb plans to take the course next year and Huffman Walker had it last year.

Practice Progresses on Faculty Comedy

Practice is going right along on the faculty play.

This production, to be given Dec. 14, will be presented by single members of the faculty. It is a comedy play packed full of fun and excitement.

Humorous characters include a lispng girl, two negroes, a kleptomaniac, a girl who enjoys discussing her operations, a boy who has fits, a neurotic old-maid aunt, and a "holy terror" of 11 years.

Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, director, is giving the entertainment to raise library funds.

SENIOR, JUNIOR CLASSES MAKE ORDERS FOR CLASS JEWELRY

Orders for senior rings were mailed last Tuesday. The rings selected by the class were yellow gold with the high school emblem engraved on them. They were ordered from the Star Engraving Co., of Houston. Seniors expect to receive the rings in about six weeks. They paid a deposit of $1 and will pay the remainder when the rings arrive.

The junior class ordered necklaces, belt buckles and wristlets.

Day and Half Given for Holiday

Due to Armistice being a holiday, Wheeler schools turned out last Thursday at 11 o'clock. Because so many students were staying out to pick cotton, Friday was given as a holiday, also.

Spanish Club Feast will Be in Church Basement Nov. 23

Miss Beulah Hubbard is on Program as Speaker at Annual Banquet

Members of the Spanish club will gather in the basement of the Methodist church next Tuesday night, Nov. 23, for their annual banquet.

Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, instructor, is in charge of the program, which is to carry out the Spanish theme.

Ethel Claire Haney, president, is to be toastmistress. Miss Beulah Hubbard will be the principal speaker of the evening. The club will sing as an opening song "Patricia Mia" (America).

Gayle Wilson will give a reading in Spanish. The club will then sing "Ya Se Jurio el Burro" (The Death of the Mule). Ruth Faust will read "Lasca."

Benefits of studying Spanish will be discussed by Elizabeth Bales. "Las Ojas de Tejas" will be sung by the club. The program will conclude with "Buenos Noches, Damas."

The menu will include sopa de tomates, tamales, frijoles con pimientos, huevos pasados, ensalado de balle, papas, mataquilla y panecillos, pastres y chocolate.

Members of the club are to pay a fee of 25 cents to the treasurer, Inez Hunter.

MANUAL TRAINING BOYS BEGIN CONSTRUCTION OF TABORETS

Under direction of W. T. Roach, the manual training boys have just finished a bread board, and have now started on a taboret, a small stool for the purpose of supporting flower pots or other small novelties. These two items are required to be made by all the boys in this course.

In making these two articles the boys learn how to square up pieces of wood, how to make a cross-lap joint, how to set screws and use a wood chisel, and how to bore holes with a brace and bit.

BY SKIPPING CLASSES YOU LEARN NOTHING AS TIME MARCHES ON

Many wonder why the teachers pick up their little notebooks to check absences. Students may be out of school but often they are there. Those hard-thinking teachers wonder why certain boys and girls were not in class when they were seen around some time previous.

There is no excuse to go see the time, since the clock was installed in the study hall, but maybe they want to read the papers or get a drink. It takes a great amount of time to do these things.

You may include Sally or Billy to work your problems or even fill in blanks for your English but it would be very difficult to get someone to take your speed test in typing for you. The wise thing to do would be to meet your classes as often as possible or else you will suffer on examination day.

DON'T "GRIFE" WHEN EVERYTHING DOESN'T COME YOUR WAY

In a democratic government like we have today the majority rules. Whatever the voters are deciding, whether it is in school or at the polls, the majority gets its choice.

If you do not like the color of senior ribbons, junior neckties and belt buckles chosen by the group, do not "grife" about it. The decision is already made and it can't be changed. If you want anything done, do it before election time comes.

The same is true about the football team. People are constantly saying something about our team not being as good as it was last year. Let's forget about last year and be satisfied with the present.

Maybe you don't like the way the contest for the football queen came out. If you don't please don't reveal your feelings. Be with the majority always.

Standing even taller than the state capitol, the $3,000,000 administration-library building at the University of Texas has a tower 308 feet high, and is flood-lighted at night.

Dear Old America Still Holds High Card in Education

It really isn't as easy as one may think to get an education here or in other countries. Many probably had not thought of the difficulties in foreign countries. Some of these nations do not even have free schools.

In our neighboring country, England, there are no public schools. They have high-tuition private institutions that are attended by a few young aristocrats. The majority of the boys go to state schools which prepare them for mechanical and clerical jobs. Others are apprenticed to manufacturers or craftsmen. Their compulsory school age is from 5 to 14.

Then in France every boy has to finish eight years in primary school. They go to a higher school where they remain until 16. Some of these nations do not even have free schools. They must be in military service at the age of 20. Here they remain two years. So it is not easy for the French.

A boy in Germany does very well if he chooses to follow Hitler. He has eight years of public schooling and four in high school. At the age of 19 he is in the labor service. Then he serves from two to four years in the army, navy, or air force.

A boy in Russia goes to school 10 years; then he is ready for work if he can pass the examination. When he is 19, he spends two years of military training in the Red army.

Like Americans, the Japanese have primary and high schools. They have to pass examinations in many courses before they are ready for work. Often the Japanese boys have a nervous breakdown studying for the tests.

Now, after all, we have a very fine school system.

FROM OTHER BRANDING IRONS

The new Medley stadium was dedicated at the eleventh annual homecoming program at Abilene, Texas, with grover C. Brock, Gerald C. Mann, and Dr. T. W. Branham of officiating.—McMurray War Whoop.

Following is a bit of poetry offered by a journalism student for this week.

The school paper is a great invention
 The school gets all the fame,
 The printer gets all the money
 And the staff gets all the blame.—
 Little Harvester.

The Mary Hardin-Baylor college has announced its annual high school poetry contest. A book of poems and a scholarship worth $75 are offered as first prizes for girls. Boys are not eligible for the scholarship. A special prize is offered for the best poem concerning Texas.—The Sandstorm.

During the summer $3,000 was spent on improving the science department of Pampa high school.—The Little Harvester.

Famous last words: "Pop, guess who just got kicked out of college?"—The Prairie.

More than half the 9,576 students at the University of Texas earn all or a part of their school expenses.

During the last 10 years the campus of the University of Texas has been expanded from 40 acres to more than 200 acres.

Meet the Faculty

"I was born at Ranger, Ok. No. 10, Lyle's case. Where was I born?" Oh, yes, at Dome, Texas," replied Mrs. J. L. Gilmore to an inquiring reporter Friday. She spent her childhood in Silverton, Texas, where she attended both grammar grades and high school and graduated.

She attended Plainview Junior college at Plainview, Texas, and enrolled in W. T. S. C. at Canyon. Here she was graduated in 1932 with a B. A. degree, having a major in English and a minor in Spanish. While in college she belonged to the Eloquent Society.

Wishes to Study Shakespeare

When she was a "wee little" girl, she isn't very big now! her ambition was to be an actress. She now wishes to make a special study of Shakespeare and his works. Blue is her best-liked color.

Mrs. Gilmore's preference is classical music and she likes the compositions of Chopin better than any other writer of music. She admires the excellent acting of Howard and Norma Shearer, and reads Saturday Evening Post and Readers Digest more than any other magazines. Her favorite book is "Tale of Two Cities," and her best authors are Charles Dickens and Sir Walter Scott.

Music holds much interest for Mrs. Gilmore, as she plays the piano. Her hobbies are directing plays and growing flowers. Poor sportsmanship and chewing gum in church are her pet dislikes.

Forgets Date of Marriage

On being asked when she was married she hesitated for a few minutes to "figure it out." She did, and it was on August 18, 1915, that she married J. L. Gilmore, now superintendent of the Wheeler schools. She and Mr. Gilmore have two children; Helen, who is attending W. T. S. C., and Earl, a junior here.

"If everybody would co-operate with President Roosevelt there would be less need of relief," she said in speaking of the president's policies.

Mrs. Gilmore teaches English (her favorite subject), Spanish I and II, and public speaking. She has taught six years in the Wheeler schools. Before coming here she taught at Turkey, Texas.

Mrs. Gilmore is small, with blue eyes and light brown hair. She wears a smile for everyone and her worst fault (she says) is absentmindedness.

RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE

Johnnie Faye Templeton and Ethel Claire Ray visited school in Shamrock Friday afternoon.

Earl Gilmore was in Pampa Sunday.

Arthur Red visited relatives in Magic City Sunday.

Helen Scott visited in Lipscomb Sunday.

Glen Etta Teakell was in Shamrock Sunday.

Oleta Cordell went to Twitty Sunday.

Norma Lou Maxwell and Alvern Hampton motored to Shamrock Sunday.

Oleta Carter spent the week end in Kelton.

Meta Bruton shopped in Shamrock Saturday.

Claudia Stinson was in Shamrock Saturday.

Miss Imogene Holbert spent the week end in Amarillo with her mother.

Evelyn LaFon visited in Mangum, Okla., over the week end.

SNUBBING POST

The GUESS WHO in last week's paper was MARY BELLE JOHNSTON. This week we present a teacher for the GUESS WHO COLUMN. This teacher teaches in the high school. She is very attractive, and is well liked by all the students. This teacher usually wears a bright-colored scarf around her head. She teaches one subject to every grade in the high school except the FRESHMEN.

Student: Would you like to read the GOSSIP?

Thema: No thanks, I wouldn't care for some. I just had any.

No one paid any attention to the little "duster" we had Monday. However, it was quite an event for COACH MURDAUGH. He was gazing out of the window of one of his typing classes when H. J. Puckett interrupted his thoughts by saying, "Shucks, this is just a little of Red River blowing. Just wait until that KANSAS soil starts this way."

It seems that BILL CLARK, editor of the Westerner World, Lubbock, must have made a hit with the girls from Wheeler if you could have heard them in the way home Saturday.

GERALDINE LEWIS and ALINE BUCHANAN have been seen together lately. Could it be because of ALINE'S cousin at Childress.

We wonder if a certain MUSTANG whose initials are H. V. COMPTON could be the reason that META BRUTON didn't go to Lubbock with the journalism class.

"Lubbock is a very fine town," say three of the journalism students. "But after all Wheeler is better because it really does have grocery stores." After much questioning we found that the three girls mentioned above walked at least seven blocks to find a grocery store.

AUBREY says he promised to send a girl he met at Lubbock a copy of the next Corral.

If you don't mind my saying so I think that you have some local talent that should go on an amateur hour.

Have you noticed that last Friday RAY HOLLY'S hair was straight as a board? (Let me remind you that not all boards are straight) but over night and out of clear sky (well maybe there were a few clouds in it) his hair suddenly becomes curly. Maybe this all happened in one day. Surely there is no girl in this case.

The FACULTY PLAY is going to be a "hum-dinger," with Mr. Wynne losing his mind and Miss Kirby talking like a baby. Don't let this become a habit, Miss Kirby.

Mrs. Allen Smith has 131 English Students

Sixth Grade is Taking Literature, Seventh, Grammar

Mrs. Allen I. Smith is teaching approximately 131 students in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

Grammar is being studied this six weeks by the sixth grade, and the seventh grade is reading literature. After the test this week they will change the sixth studying literature and the seventh taking grammar. Both of these classes make one book report each six weeks.

Workbooks will be ordered from the Harlow Publishing corporation at Oklahoma City for the fifth and sixth grades to use the second semester. These workbooks are especially adapted to the text in use (My Own Language) and will cost each pupil approximately 25 cents.

The seventh grade has memorized three poems this six-weeks and the sixth will do their memory work next six-weeks in connection with their reading.

In the fifth grade, (two sections) reading English, are taught at different periods, Mrs. G. O. McCrohan having one section of the reading and Mrs. Smith the other. In the sixth and seventh these two subjects are correlated, alternating grammar and reading each six weeks.

Since the seventh grade has used workbooks the past two years, they will not be required to buy any this year. All classes get their memory work from the Wheeler Literary Readers, an adoption that is old, but which contains the choicest pieces of literature found in the readers for the intermediate grades.

The pupils in these grades are frequenters of the libraries, and the 16 new books which have been purchased this year for the sixth and seventh have been greatly recommended. Boys are the more prolific readers, according to Mrs. Smith.

Corral is Entered in T. H. S. P. Contest

By Nov. 20 all issues of the Corral from the beginning of the year through Nov. 13 will be entered in the Texas High School Press association contest.

In addition, three entries of sports stories, editorials, feature stories, news stories, and columns will be sent. Announcement of various stories entered will be made in next week's Corral.

The contest is one feature of the annual press convention, which meets Dec. 10 and 11 at Texas State College for Women, Denton. At this meeting lodging is furnished all students and registrations for each person is $1, including the banquet Friday night.

Norther Hits as Students Pull on Heavy Clothes

Everyone was shaking and his teeth were making rattling noises when the norther hit Monday morning. You could see people that had never thought of donning heavy clothes, wearing them with pleasure. It was really quite funny to see students hurrying across the grounds to other classes, until you had to go out in the cold weather youth.

After such warm, sunny days of the past several weeks, the first real "cold snap" caught us all unawares.

Band is to Sponsor 10 Amateur Nights

Did you know that the band is sponsoring an amateur night? Each Wednesday for 10 weeks an amateur contest will be held at the Togue Theater.

Every Wednesday night five musicians, sponsored by five Wheeler business men, will play their horns. At each of these contests a prize of $2.50 will be given to the best player.

When the 10 weeks are over and 10 winners have been chosen, a grand finale will be held. Thus, the grand prize, a $100 baritone horn, will go to the best of these 10.

CORRAL GETS AWARD FROM QUILT AND SCROLL FOR 1937

Now the Corral has its 1937 Quill and Scroll award.

This parchment, which was received Monday, contains the name of the paper and the word "International First Place Award by the Quill and Scroll Society for distinctive achievements in scholastic journalism for 1937."

The award, won by last year's staff, was paid with funds made at the Fall Fashion Revue. It cost $1.50.

SPARKS FROM THE CAMPFIRE

It is only those who do not know how to work that do not love it. To those who do, it is better than play—it is religion.

Make yourself noble and you should be.

Opportunity never knocks at the door of a knocker.

Great results cannot be achieved at once and we must be satisfied to advance in life as we walk—step by step.

Every moment trembles with possibilities; every hour is big with destiny.

No man can ever rise above that at which he aims.

Everything to him who goes after it.

Have a good word for everybody. Even the tombstones speak well of those beneath them.

Opportunity knocks softly; it does not use a battering ram.

Learn that luxury of doing good—Oliver Goldsmith.

Be blessed is he who found his work—let him ask no other blessedness.

Eat less, chew more; ride less, walk more; worry less, work more.

Reputation is a jewel nothing can replace.

The best way to kill time is to work it to death.

Sage Blossoms

"Alice Adams" is a story by Booth Tarkington, a modern writer. It is said to be his most finished novel. He was awarded the Pulitzer prize for the book in 1912.

This story gives in detail the life of a girl who was typical of the time it was written. Its surroundings are familiar to us all. It is written in simple form and language which is very easy to understand. Those who enjoy reading Booth Tarkington's novels will find this one interesting, as it is written in his usual style.

Schophores reading this book will receive three points on their English.

More than 800 "co-eds" at the University of Texas live in dormitories.

1,000,000 Words Plus Used in the Corral Every Year

When you pick up the Corral on Friday morning do you realize the work that has to be done before it is possible for you to survey school happenings?

Newspaper work is not measured by paper or by words but by inches. Forty words make a column, inch, I. O. W. (in other words) if a word has an average of 5 letters, there are eight lines to an inch.

The Corral has each week 16 columns, eight of which are 10 1/2 inches long and eight of which are 13 1/2 inches long. (Hope all of this is clear.)

There are approximately 7,680 words in each issue of the paper. As the weeks spread into months, there is a total of 30,720 and the grand total at the end of the school term is in the millions. During the school year about 1,165,920 words are employed in filling the Corral columns. So the next time "acted or edited" pick up the Corral, think how much time and work its editors and assistants have expended to place the finished product in your hands.

WHEELER BOASTS LARGEST QUILT AND SCROLL SOCIETY

Wheeler boasts the largest Quilt and Scroll society in the Panhandle. This was discovered at the West Texas Scholastic Press Clinic held in Lubbock last week.

Lubbock and Amarillo both have three active members, while the unnamed Wheeler society has four.

At a Quilt and Scroll get together, pictures were taken of every delegate who is a member of the society. This picture will come out in the next issue of the international magazine, Quill and Scroll.

Rahs for Mobeetie Float Through Air

A journalism student was very busy reading the newspaper last week when all of a sudden a sound broke over her ear that she had never heard while attending Wheeler high school. It went something like "Rah! Rah! Rah! Mobeetie! Mobeetie! Mobeetie!" The voices were fine and young.

In wonder, the student ran out of the school building. Looking all around she was very astounded to see, instead of the high school Pep Squad, the first and second grade students giving 15 rahs for Mobeetie. Then they sang the Wheeler school song, "We're Loyal to You, Wheeler High."

Comedians Hand Laughs to School

With a bushel of laughs for everyone attending, Honeyboy and Sasasfras, former comedians of the air, presented a program in the auditorium, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Sasasfras announced that it seemed to be a good turnout and that they would like to have all of their fans write them and tell what they would like to hear on the new program beginning over W. R. R., Dallas and K. T. A. T., Fort Worth, Dec. 15.

An admission of 20 cents was charged and the $458 coming to the school will be given to the library.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Conducted by W. C. Zirkle Vocational Agriculture Instructor

Wheeler F. F. A. boys initiated the Shamrock F. F. A. chapter Wednesday night at Shamrock. The Wheeler chapter is entitled to initiate the Shamrock boys because only old chapters can initiate new members.

Forty-five boys took the greenhand degree, which is the first degree standing of F. F. A. chapters.

The Wheeler F. F. A. boys have taken on an active supervised practice program. By the end of the year 13 homes will be beautified, 405 trees planted, five home conveniences installed, 19 hotbeds built, 81 houses repaired, 198 pieces of equipment built or repaired, 7 1/2 miles of fence built, two miles of terraces built and 60 acres of land contoured.

They will have 424 trees budded, 3500 chickens culled, 6 exhibits prepared, 2 1/2 tons of seed selected, 73 cows tested for milk production, one ton of seed tested, 35 head of live stock vaccinated, 30 halters made, and 25 farm inventories made.

COLTS

"King Arthur for Boys," a new book, has been added to the sixth and seventh grade library. Mary Jo Ivy of the sixth grade visited in Shamrock Sunday. Geraldine Williams visited in Amarillo Friday and Saturday.

The Methodist intermediate department gave a party Monday night to which each member was invited and asked to bring three guests, two boys and a girl. Edwina Flanagan spent the night with Emily Lou Ahler so as to attend the party. Mrs. J. L. Gilmore is the teacher of this class.

Pupils in the fourth grade are making first aid kits in their health unit. Members of the Citizenship club met Tuesday because there was no school last Friday.

Booklets and a study on Thanksgiving are being made by the third grade. Dean Griffin is a new student in this grade. Rosie Lee Lead, formerly Pampa, has enrolled in the second grade. The second and fourth grades used the money they made at the carnival to refill their hectoraph.

Melva Ray Griffin enrolled in the first grade. One section is making Thanksgiving booklets. The other section is starting a study of Indians.

HOLBERT ANNOUNCES SCOUT MEETING, AMATEUR CONTEST

Miss Imogene Holbert made two announcements in the study hall Tuesday regarding coming events. The first was about the amateur hour sponsored Thursday night by the Kappa Beta society, winners of which will be given a free trip to San Antonio.

She also announced a meeting of the high school girls interested in joining Girl Scouts held Tuesday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist church.
