THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

Nice Lot of Cotton Subsidy Money Here

First Consignment Arrived Friday Morning; Another Saturday; Total, $175,856.10

County citizens generally, and farmers in particular, were greatly cheered last Friday morning by the welcome news that a consignment of the long hoped-for cotton subsidy payment checks had been received here at the office of County Agent Jake Tarter.

The day's receipts numbered 1,104 checks, calling for $156,110.10. Then, to maintain interest at a high level, on Saturday another lot of checks arrived. This batch consisted of 134 checks for $19,746.00.

Thus the amount received to date is $175,856.10. This represents close to 60 per cent of the grand total due. Members of the agent's office have no means of knowing when the remainder will get here, but a considerable additional portion of it is expected in every mail.

Everything was in readiness at the local office for orderly reception of the checks and speedy distribution to their owners. Word of their arrival spread quickly by word of mouth as well as notices already prepared for mailing. A steady procession of callers wound its way up the stairs to Tarter's office on the third floor of the court house, beginning Friday afternoon and continuing with increased volume on Monday and with only slightly diminished numbers daily since.

Funds represented by these checks, rapidly filtering into the county's commercial structure, have already given marked impetus to business. With some of the money used immediately in the purchase of needed commodities and other sums applied on indebtedness, thereby releasing dormant potential buying power, noticeable business improvement is already seen.

Merchants of Wheeler, anticipating this occasion, have laid in stocks of merchandise and made preparations to supply the needs of customers, many of whom have been accorded every possible courtesy, including credit to tide them over. Now, these same merchants feel they have a right to expect a return of the favors through patronage by those who they have assisted for varying periods of time.

And, judging by the past and with an eye to the future, with few exceptions, these favors will be remembered and their companion obligations fully discharged.

County School Survey Made by State Deputy

W. T. Lofland Makes Careful Check—Reports Conditions to be Very Satisfactory

Selecting Wheeler county as the first in his district of 32 counties for official visitation, W. T. Lofland began a survey Sept. 29 which continued through Oct. 6, during which time he made the rounds of all county schools. He spent a half day in the schools here, making close examination of the current program and system of management.

Lofland declared condition of the several schools was satisfactory, according to a report yesterday by Allen Kavanaugh, county superintendent, who accompanied and aided the state representative on most of his calls.

The deputy's survey was concerned principally with standardization and state aid. A portion of the schools are in one classification, some in the other, and some in both. Wheeler, Donley and Briscoe county schools head the list of applicants in this district for state aid, it is said.

Lofland was the principal speaker at a business meeting and banquet of the Donley county teachers, directors and trustees association, held at Clarendon Monday night of this week. His theme was state aid. Supt. Kavanaugh accompanied him to the gathering.

McDowell Drug Plans 4-Day Selling Event

Scheduled to start on Wednesday of next week, Oct. 19, and continuing for four days, the McDowell Drug store announces its Nyal 2-for-1 sales event that promises big values in scores of drug and toilet items. Elsewhere in this paper will be found an extensive list of merchandise on which special prices will prevail during the last four days of next week.

Mrs. H. E. Nicholson and Miss Mary Ruth Vinson were in Pampa Monday afternoon on business.

SAVE TROUBLE; DON'T PASS SCHOOL BUS WHEN STOPPED

From the office of Allen Kavanaugh, county superintendent of schools, comes the request to again warn traffic concerning the state law which carries a fine of from $10 to $500 and jail sentence of 90 days on persons passing school busses while stopped loading or unloading pupils.

Bus drivers are required to report all license numbers of cars or other vehicles which violate this law.

Although attention has been called to this matter heretofore, it is again published for a two-fold purpose: that of saving the public unnecessary fines and at the same time work for the protection of lives of the school children of Wheeler county. It is sponsored by the department of education, supported by the legal authority of the state.

Beloved Local Couple Honored at Program on 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Robison Given Pleasant Surprise Following Church Service Sunday

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Robison of Wheeler honored them last Sunday with a surprise program and dinner at the First Presbyterian church at Magic City. The occasion was the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robison.

A large crowd gathered at the church for the Rally Day program and regular preaching services. After the Rev. C. N. Wylie gave the benediction, he asked the congregation to be seated for a few minutes.

G. T. Phillips of Wheeler sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and the honorees soon suspected that the program was in their honor.

Mrs. Earle Hughes of Magic City read one of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "Sonnets from the Portuguese." Herman Hardaway placed on the table at the front the three-tiered wedding cake decorated with 50 candles and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Joe Johnson and Della Mae McCoy marched down the aisle carrying a basket of gifts and paused at the front of the church while Mrs. E. M. Wiggins sang "I Love You Truly." Then the children presented the gifts to "Brother and Mother Robison," as they are known to their many friends. Mr. Robison then gave a short talk, expressing their gratitude for the program and the gifts, and reminding all that during the 50 years of married life there have been many valleys to cross and hills to climb; there have been many dark nights, but the dark nights have always been followed by the sunshine.

Mr. Hughes led in prayer, and then benches were moved back and dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Robison's family includes two sons, two daughters, 16 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren, all of whom were present: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Robison, Ina Fay, Elsie, Modell, Melba, Evelyn and Joline of Mobeetie; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robison, Guy, Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Robison, Carlisle Cole, Jr., and Beverly Ann of Wheeler; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Starkey and Harold Ray and Vendell of Wheeler, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McBee, Elizabeth, Wallace, Cecil and Jo Ann, of Cowgill, Mo.

Mrs. G. B. Cole of San Diego, Calif., was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Patterson and children returned Friday from Raton, N. Mex., where he had been employed for several months. They moved Monday to the C. H. Clay residence first door south of the Jake Tarter home. They spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sanders, in the Pleasant Hill community.

CONNER TELLS OF HUGE MILK PRODUCTION

Jovial John Conner, whose knowledge of livestock, particularly horses and mules, is generally accepted without question, in telling the other day of milk production by a cow he once owned—or heard of—appears to have exaggerated slightly.

"This cow," boomed Conner in speaking to a group of men, "gave quite a bit of milk. In fact she gave a barrel at a milking and we used a 10-gallon keg for the strippings."

Turning to a bystander, Conner remarked: "I told 'em I'd just mention the second best and then after they were through I would tell about the best one." He was referring to records and accomplishments of livestock in general, and not the sorry cow just described.

Jury List District Court Made Public

Grand and Petit Jurors Names for November Term Announced by Court Clerk

Through courtesy of Holt Green, accommodating court clerk, the list of grand and petit jurors names drawn for duty in the November term of district court for Wheeler county was released Monday for publication. The term opens this year on Nov. 7, for a seven weeks session, ending shortly before Christmas.

It was learned, unofficially, that a decidedly light docket is in prospect. Schedule of civil and criminal weeks are not known at this time, other than the first week will be non-jury, as is customary. District Judge W. R. Ewing is expected to come to Wheeler the latter part of the month for the purpose of setting the docket.

Of the 16 grand jurors named, 12 are to be chosen for service. Petit jury duty will depend, of course, on the number and nature of cases brought to trial.

The panels are as follows:

Grand Jurors

Lee Guthrie, H. M. Wiley, E. H. Herd, Wheeler; C. Mixon, J. H. Gordon, C. C. Dyson, Mobeetie; W. B. Franks, Eugene Martin, Earl Satterfield, T. V. Wade, Shamrock; S. B. Davis, L. J. Hudson, R. William Brown, Briscoe; B. C. Bell, C. M. Smith, Twitty; Henry Pitcock, Texola, Okla.

2. The Eel River Waltz. Two parts in C.
3. Humoresque. Three parts in G, G, and B flat.
4. The Hattie Schottische. Three parts in G, E, and C.
5. The Jenny Lind Polka. Four parts in B flat, B flat, C and C.

State Club Agent Coming Saturday

Miss Onah Jacks, College Station, to Organize First Council in Wheeler County

Important news to Wheeler county 4-H club girls and all who are interested in their work is found in the announcement that Miss Onah Jacks, girls state agent from College Station, will be in Wheeler Saturday of this week, Oct. 15, for the purpose of organizing the first girls' council ever undertaken in Wheeler county.

Miss Jacks has charge of girls 4-H club work throughout the entire State of Texas. Her coming may properly be hailed as an event of much significance to 4-H club work and every girl allied with that program in Wheeler county will feel proud to have her with them on this very important occasion.

"I feel that the organization of a Girls' Council is a definite step forward in girls' 4-H club activities in Wheeler county," stated Miss Rose Erisman, assistant county home demonstration agent, in discussing the prospective visit. Miss Erisman extends a most cordial invitation to all 4-H club sponsors and members of the county to be present at this meeting, which will be held in the district court room in the court house here, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Merritt Enrolls for Chiropractic Course

Church of Christ Pastor Leaves Monday to Enter School in Oklahoma City

Removal of a good citizen and his family from the community is not a pleasant item for The Times to chronicle, and when the individual has been a personal friend of the paper over a period of time, it becomes doubly unpleasant. Such, however, is the task at hand.

During a brief call at the office Monday morning before his departure, C. C. Merritt, pastor of the Wheeler Church of Christ since late in 1935, announced that he was leaving for Oklahoma City, where he had enrolled in a chiropractic college for a three-year course which he hopes to complete in two years. Already possessing somewhat extensive knowledge of the profession, his school progress should be rapid.

Mrs. Merritt and their daughter, Naomi, will remain in Wheeler, for awhile, at least.

Merritt and his family came here from Eblevins, Ark., in the latter part of November, 1935, at which time he assumed pastorate of the local church, succeeding H. V. Hendry, who left the previous June to become pastor of a church at Pratt, Kans. From general sources, Merritt was considered a capable and consecrated minister, while daily observation of his conduct accords him the title of a good citizen—a man who will be missed more with the passage of time than at the moment.

Almost from the day of his arrival, Merritt was a close friend of The Times, a situation resulting partly from his previous experiences as editor of a denominational publication and familiarity with the printing business. Shortly after getting settled here he began a series of special religious contributions to the paper which continued to July, 1936.

Since that date he has prepared every week, with only slight interruption, a weekly Sunday school lesson exposition that has evoked much favorable commendation from time to time.

The paper regrets loss of this feature through which many people came to know the author who may not have been personally acquainted with him.

Yet, during his stay here the quiet, genial preacher made a host of acquaintances, scores of them becoming true friends who will regret to learn of his decision to leave the community, and who join with The Times in wishing C. C. Merritt and family well in all their undertakings.

So far as this paper has been able to learn, no action to obtain a successor to Merritt has been taken by the congregation as yet. The matter will be given proper consideration at a later date, it is said.

MOBEETIE HOST TO COUNTY SING CONVENTION SUNDAY

According to E. J. Cooper, president of the organization, Mobeetie extends a welcome to the Wheeler County Singing convention which meets at that place for a regular monthly session next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 16. Indications point to a large and enthusiastic assemblage, it is said.

WHEELER YOUNG MAN A TEXAS TECH CAPTAIN

William Noel Bryant of Wheeler, engineering senior at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, will serve as captain of company B, R. O. T. C. unit in that school during the fall semester, it has just been learned. Bryant was appointed to that position by Capt. Frank A. Pettit, professor of military science and tactics, and Lieut. H. J. Skidmore, assistant professor in the department.

Allison Truck Crash Victim Buried Here

J. P. Waldrip Killed Early Tuesday Morning in Collision Northwest of Pampa

J. P. Waldrip, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Waldrip of Allison, was killed in a truck collision and wreck on the Dumas road northwest of Pampa early Tuesday morning. Waldrip was driving for a Pampa fruit and vegetable concern. His companion on the trip, Walter Richardson, was injured and taken to an Amarillo hospital to receive treatment for a broken nose, severe cuts about the head and general bruises.

The two men left Pampa Saturday night for the San Luis valley area in Colorado and were returning with a load of fruit and vegetables when the accident happened about 5 o'clock.

According to eyewitnesses, the truck, driven by Waldrip, crashed into the rear of a stalled truck belonging to C. E. Armstrong of Fort Worth.

Waldrip was returning to Pampa with a truckload of cabbages from Colorado. Armstrong had pulled his truck off the road during a heavy rain, and the vehicle had mired down.

Ralph Horner, Texline, driver of a passing gasoline truck, stopped to pull the mired machine from the mud. He had placed flares on the highway 200 feet in either direction from the mired truck of Armstrong, according to witnesses, and when he saw the truck of Waldrip approaching at high speed, ran back to flag it down.

Waldrip apparently saw the flares too late, for he narrowly missed hitting Horner as he careened past, his brakes locked. He slid down the highway approximately 60 yards before turning off and crashing headlong into the rear of Armstrong's machine. The impact knocked the standing machine 20 feet from the mudhole.

Cabbages were scattered 50 yards down the highway by the force of the collision. State Highway Patrol Captain Jim Line reported that almost half the load of cabbages were hurled from the vehicle by the impact.

The body of Waldrip was taken yesterday to Allison, where the Rev. Reavis, pastor of the Methodist church there, conducted funeral services at 2:30 p. m. In charge of an Amarillo funeral home, the remains were laid to rest in the Wheeler cemetery late in the afternoon.

Besides his parents, young Waldrip is survived by seven brothers, Vernon Waldrip of Choctaw, Okla., R. T. Waldrip, Jr., of Pampa, and Leon, Earl, Doyce, David and Keith Waldrip of Allison, and two sisters, Mrs. W. T. Wright of Cooper, and Miss Ruth Waldrip of Allison.

County Young Couple Wed Saturday Evening

Miss Imogene Taylor, niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Johnson of Wheeler, and Mr. Wayne Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris, Briscoe, were married at the Methodist parsonage Saturday evening, Oct. 8, with Rev. E. C. Roney reading the beautiful yet simple wedding vows.

They were attended by Miss Hazel Huffstutler, Childress, and Sonny Self of Briscoe.

Others attending were Vinson Smith, Mobeetie, Mal Wynn, Mrs. Roney and daughter, Miss Ethel Claire.

FOOTBALL INSIGNIA AT McDOWELL DRUG

"Tell the football fans who plan to attend the Mustang-Irish game at Shamrock to get their free hat bands or costume banners at McDowell Drug store any time from Friday noon on," directed Buck Britt, ardent follower of the game, when ordering the supplies at this office Tuesday.

The insignia or badges of tough paper with the slogan, "Beat Shamrock," printed in large letters will identify Mustang supporters and indicate the loyalty of Wheeler and community to its pigskin pushers who will contest their ancient foes on Denver Field tomorrow (Friday) night.

Great County Grid Game Friday Night

Wheeler-Shamrock Football Teams Match Skill and Brawn at Shamrock Friday Night

By AUBREY WARREN

Long rated the dominant county football game of each succeeding season, tomorrow (Friday) night will witness another clash between the Wheeler Mustangs and Shamrock Irishmen on Denver Field, Shamrock.

Thus again will be witnessed by fevered partisans of one team or the other (there are no disinterested spectators at these games) another battle by two of the oldest traditional foes in the eastern Panhandle. For seven long consecutive years the Irish defeated the Mustangs by liberal margins. For two seasons past Wheeler has returned the compliment, with interest.

Therefore, tomorrow night will see an irate Irish crew, desperately seeking revenge, meet a squad of marauding Mustangs equally desperate and determined to maintain their winning record.

Of keen interest to Wheeler fans is the 27-19 Irish victory over the Lefors Pirates Friday night of last week for comparison with the 12-0 defeat administered to the same team by the Mustangs a week before.

On paper the two squads rate about even, with a slight edge in weight for Wheeler.

The Irish have a potential successor to Sammy Baugh, Sutterfield, who has displayed uncanny ability at tossing the pigskin squarely into the hands of waiting ends and backs. They are expected to rely largely on the passing skill of this lad to pave the way to a victory.

Wheeler dependence will rest on a charging Mustang line and the flashy running of its pair of clever backs, Groves and Emler.

Tomorrow night's game easily holds No. 1 place in District 3B this season and a record attendance is assured to witness it. For sheer activity backed by grim determination, from the kick-off whistle to closing gun, the Wheeler Mustangs and Shamrock Irish give the customers their money's worth.

Starting line-up for Wheeler is announced as follows: Ends, Weeks and Pitcock; tackles, Wright and Pillers; guards, Green and Noah; center, Stephens; quarterback, Groves; halfbacks, Hall and Compton; fullback, Emler.

Pampa Man Is Head of No. 41 Association

J. M. Collins Chosen President to Succeed Judge Noel McDade of Moore County

In reply to an inquiry directed to him by The Wheeler Times, Garnet Reeves of Pampa, secretary of the Oilfield Highway No. 41 association, has supplied information requested concerning officers chosen for the organization at its annual meeting in Dumas last Thursday.

J. M. Collins of Pampa was elected president to succeed Judge Noel McDade of Dumas, who headed the group two years. Vice presidents are Julius Cox, Boise City, Okla., a new man in an added position this year; J. I. Lowery, Sayre, Okla., re-elected, and M. R. Sunday, Lamar, Colo., replacing H. R. Husted of that place. Reeves, as previously mentioned, is secretary, being again re-elected to the post.

Continuing, the secretary stated that directors were all re-elected, subject to the desires of their local communities. The name of H. M. Wiley, Wheeler, was proposed as successor to Tom Britt, another resident of this community who has been a director.

Commenting on results of the election and prospects in general, Reeves declared that both he and the new president had felt these offices should be filled by men from Oklahoma, but Texas and Colorado delegates believed otherwise. "Of course we will do our best," Reeves states, "but the big job as I see it is over in Oklahoma and we are counting on full co-operation by boosters of the route in that state and we, in turn, expect to offer strong support."

Shifting to another subject and one of great importance to citizens of Wheeler county, Reeves observed: "I understand from Mr. Holt over there that you have a good lake site on Sweetwater Creek, and we of Pampa will be glad to co-operate in any possible way on that project."

The Times greatly appreciates this expression from a Pampa civic organization official (Reeves is secretary of the Board of City Development)

BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS

The average American is highly wary of Communism, Fascism or other foreign "isms" which he believes may slip through our borders surreptitiously and destroy freedom and democracy as he knows it.

Yet it is highly probable, as Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler has pointed out, that the great threat to American Democracy lies within our own borders. Abuse of taxing power, gradual centralization of government, and a growing bureaucracy are a few of the evils that are insidiously undermining our Democracy from within, observes Dr. Butler.

Political demagogues have taught millions of persons to believe that the way to better things lies in the destruction of wealth, or if you will, "redistribution of wealth," which is another way of putting it. The taxing power of government is being used to do the job. Instead of seeking to create more wealth, more production, and a higher standard of living, the country is backtracking.

The people are confused. They are allowing public money to be used to destroy taxpaying enterprises and private jobs under the delusion that they are thereby establishing "social justice," "social security," or some Utopian condition that appeals to mass sentiment.

What is the ultimate solution to this problem? There is only one solution—public education! Just as the three R's, reading, 'ritin' and 'rithmetic, are taught to every child, so must the simple fundamentals of economics—the bread and butter side of life, the obligation to produce, the obligation to save—be taught to every individual, child and adult alike. Only in this way can Democracy ultimately survive.

NATURE VERSUS MAN

Nature provides for her creatures and when man interferes with her plan of survival of the fittest the outcome may be not only disastrous to man but unhealthy to all nature. There is a scheme of things to protect these creatures man terms the "dumb animals." A forest ranger recently explained about the bounty that had to be lifted on mountain lions.

Due to the deer that had been killed in large numbers by the lion a prize was put on his head and there was a wholesale shooting along with the annoying coyote, much to the pleasure of the deer and rabbit. Previously it had been mostly the old, slow and ill deer ensnared by the mountain lion.

Now by clearing the field for him the deer became more numerous and gathered in large herds, becoming diseased and ill, leaving the old to survive and thinning the ranks of the young fawn. Needing more food the deer robbed the streams of their greenery where trout feasted and this resulted in fewer trout.

Mr. Cottontail, because of more freedom since the coyotes had been shot, riddled crops to his heart's content and caused much sorrow in the land. Nature had provided for all these emergencies with her plan of having the mountain lion kill the old deer, the coyote keeping the rabbit in his place and the trout sup-

COTTON GIFT TO FARMERS

It is encouraging that the federal government at last sees that the way to get rid of cotton surpluses is to use the cotton. Filling warehouses with cotton surpluses and withholding it from market under the mistaken assumption that in that manner it will not depress the price certainly has not solved the South's No. 1 problem.

The recently announced approach to solving the cotton surplus problem by subsidizing manufacturers to produce cotton fabrics at greatly reduced prices and to distribute these among families now on relief seems to point the way to reducing the American carry-over now estimated at around 13,500,000 bales.

Many students of the cotton problem have wondered why the federal government long ago has not launched a South-wide campaign by which every cotton mattress and pillow on cotton farms and in rural districts generally would be replaced with new bedding. Each mattress would consume 50 pounds of clean, new cotton and the total consumption, if every state got behind it, might reach 2,000,000 bales.

That would reduce the government's stock of loan cotton substantially. The capable home demonstration agents in every Southern state working through the farm women and 4-H clubs in every farm locality can be mobilized to do one of the most important jobs for cotton by assisting in its mass use on cotton farms.

Secretary Wallace in his Fort Worth address charged cotton growers with being the smallest consumers of cotton. This situation can be changed overnight if the price of cotton goods is reduced or if the government makes up its mind to put a few million bales into channels by which the household of cotton farmers will benefit.

A program of this kind will do much to bring cotton prices to higher levels. Cotton must be used.—Semi-Weekly Farm News.

PEACE BY BRIBERY

War has apparently been averted in Europe, and for that people should rejoice. The world is spared, for a while at least, the agony that another conflict would bring. The Londoners digging bomb shelters in parks may now halt their grim labors—at least temporarily.

If there is less joy than there might be, it is because of the way in which peace was purchased. Peace by bribery, with a helpless small nation paying off, is not the kind of peace the world wants. It is better, one is constrained to believe, than war. But there is a stench about such a peace that rivals the stench of war itself, and is scarcely less nauseating.

It is too soon to evaluate the bargain that has been driven. When placating an egotistic madman with bribes one does not know how successful the bribery is. Germany was ignoring treaties, wenching on its promises, even before Hitler became its dictator.

There is no assurance whatever, in the present situation, that Hitler will long abide by the agreement that has been reached. There is no reason to believe that a desire for peace prompted him, or that, when he is more certain of his country's strength than he now is, there will be further demands to be met with more bribes.

There can be no pride or joy in a peace maintained at the expense of a nation like Czechoslovakia, a democracy which is being made to pay the price for its adherence to democratic principles, and which appears to have been "sold down the river" by the big brotherly nations upon whom the inhabitants relied for protection.

It likely will soon be discovered that Europe has paid too big a price for a few months, a few years, of escape from war.

Benjamin Franklin said there never was a good war, or a bad peace. One would like to apply that rule to the present situation. It is not easy to do so.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

Reading about these folks who jump or threaten to jump from the windows of high buildings, recalls an incident that happened in Amarillo. A man jumped from a window in the second story and lit on a pile of crushed concrete. After he regained consciousness, a man asked: "Why did you jump?" The victim turned up a face writhing with pain and said, "a woman lied to me!" Then the inquisitive one asked, "Why would a woman lying to you cause you to jump like that?" The bleeding victim shelled down and said, "durn her, she said her husband was in Lubbock!"—Donley County Leader.

As citizens of a democracy we are proud of our freedom, and we think ours is the best form of government in existence—and, by golly, it is. But you saw what happened when they sided Mussolini and Hitler on Chamberlain and Daladier.—Pampa Press.

Another optimist is the man who thinks he is going to please his wife this Christmas by giving her something for the kitchen.—Paducah Post.

There was a rather hurtful mix-up in last week's paper relative to the water and sewer system. The News stated the well finished and on test was making 300 barrels per day. It should have said 100 gallons per minute and was capable of making 500 gallons per minute. The paper further stated that a sample of the water had been sent to San Antonio; it should have said to Austin to the state chemist for test.—Lefors News.

What a predicament! We're too old for the CCC, too young for the pension, and voted the wrong way for a political appointment. It begins to look as though we might have to work for a living.—Memphis Democrat.

Thousands of lambs, ewes, and cattle have been shipped into the Perryton area during the past few weeks. This livestock has been purchased by Ochiltree county farmers and cattlemen who are leading the "way out" from the disappointments and failures of the one-crop wheat program to the diversified livestock all-the-year-around business. Much credit for the "back-to-livestock" farming is due to Carl Ellis, president of the First National Bank. Ellis, who is one of the county's largest land owners has led the way by restocking his ranch and encouraging his tenants to do likewise.—Ochiltree County Herald.

By slightly more than three to one, Collingsworth county voters defeated the proposed legalization of beer and wine in this county when they went to the polls Saturday, Oct. 1. The final unofficial returns from the election showed a vote of 335 for beer and 1,284 against beer, 341 for wine, and 1,281 against wine. That little interest was taken in the election was shown by the fact that only about one-third of the qualified voters of the county went to the polls, there being approximately three thousand voters in the county.—Wellington Leader.

Fifty-one hundred acres of ranch and farm land in Hutchinson and Hansford counties have been sold by Thomas, Glyndon and Lynard Riley to J. W. Sanders of Amarillo, according to an announcement given the Record this week. Riley said the deal was closed Sept. 25. Two hundred and fifty head of cattle and all farm equipment are included in the transaction, it was said. Purchase price was given as a little more than $8.00 an acre, making the total transaction a deal of more than $40,000.—Canadian Record.

After being forgotten for months, Donley county got some unheralded mention as a possible site for a water conservation and flood control dam, under the direction of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics Tuesday of this week, when the coordinating committee listed Donley among 12 prospective sites from which five may be selected for construction in the coming year.—Clarendon News.

Miss Fannie Blanche Tolbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tolbert of Miami, and Lowell Osborne, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Osborne of Perryton, were quietly married Tuesday evening Oct. 4 at eight o'clock at the Presbyterian manse in Pampa. Rev. Robert Boshen officiating. The couple was attended by Miss Marie Landers and T. M. Kivlehen.—Miami Chief.

Deaf Smith county this year has the largest wheat acreage allotment in the Texas Panhandle, according to A. R. Bateman, who said today that the county will have 270,000 acres under the government program. Despite this fact, however, there is a general trend among farmers to take the minimum of their individual allotments, and to stress more intense cultivation of smaller tracts. Many farmers are following summer fallow practices.—Hereford Brand.

According to announcement by C. O. Greene at the chamber of commerce meeting held Monday evening, a warehouse is wanted in McLean by the state highway department if a suitable location can be had. The warehouse will be started as soon as title to property can be obtained and some 15 men will be employed here as long as the work on the Pampa road is in progress.—McLean News.

If Congressman Marvin Jones wants to do something in a big way for this nation, he should get busy at Washington and reduce the huge expenditure of federal funds in the East. The nation has expended billions of dollars for buildings in Washington during his tenure in office and this is a waste because it can be defended only with excessive costs. This fight against the concentration of wealth and liberal federal expenditures in the East, is just as important as the agricultural program. As long as the East takes more than we can raise out West, we will be flat broke. Let's begin fighting harder than ever for the "wide open spaces."—Panhandle Herald.

Monday voters of the city approved the issuance of revenue bonds for the construction and maintenance of a gas distributing system for the city of White Deer. The vote 72 to 30 in favor of the issue reflected much interest on the part of the citizens generally.—White Deer Review.

MEN OUTNUMBER WOMEN IN UNIVERSITY TWO TO ONE

There are more than two men for every woman student at the University of Texas this year, 6,918 boys having enrolled as compared with 3,057 girls, it is shown by statistics on registration up to Sept. 27, compiled by the registrar's office. A total of 9,975 students had enrolled up to that date, as compared with 9,266 on the comparable date last year. Total enrollment by Oct. 6, however, including late registrations with loss of credit, totaled 10,064. The largest percentage increase in enrollment occurred in the college of pharmacy, which showed a gain of 17.9 per cent over last year. In actual individual enrollments, however, the college of arts and sciences showed the largest gain, 220 students, or 4 per cent.

A total of 115 students enrolled in the university's newest branch, the college of fine arts, 25 men and 90 women.

Using Up the Feed Crop

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Someone has described a well-managed industry as a sort of perpetual motion, in which the processes of production are continuous throughout the year. The factory which runs only a few months and stops its machinery, closes its doors, and lays off its labor for weeks or months at a time has to make higher profits for its operating time or go out of business. The farm which loafed between crop seasons in the same boat of inefficiency.

With the exception of the sub-tropical portions of the Southwest, where marketable crops may be harvested the year around, there is only one way of providing profitable use for the available farm labor and keeping the farm factory running 12 months in the year, and that is by keeping livestock and poultry in connection with crop production.

Livestock and poultry grow while the farmer sleeps, and use much that would be lost without them, while crops await the season. The only perpetual motion farm therefore is a balanced farm, where plants and animals work together in their natural relation, each supporting the other.

With a surplus of feed on hand above normal needs, a good many Southwestern farmers this year will have to decide the best use to make of it.

There are plenty of pitfalls for anyone who undertakes a new enterprise without previous experience, and this is particularly true in "going into" the livestock or poultry business on a commercial scale right out of a cotton patch.

Notice that we said "going into," not "growing into" the business, for there is a vast difference. We Americans like to do things in a big way, and the temptation is great to start with a big herd of dairy cows, a large flock of sheep, a carload of beef cattle or hogs. Those who go in with a bang too often go out the same way, and then say the business is a failure.

With pastures and roughage, and a small amount of grain, raising dairy cattle from calf-hood to milk-cow age carries about as little risk for the beginner as any livestock enterprise.

W. R. Hancock of Erath county tells of wintering 29 head of grade Jersey heifers on pasture, about two bales of hay per day, and a light ration of oats and cottonseed cake. They cost him an average of $10.50 and sold when fresh at $35 to $50.

If pastures are available for summer, and the operator intends to finish them the second fall and winter, beef calves may be wintered on cheap feed and pastures. It has been found that weight lost during winter on pastures alone costs a good deal more to gain it back than it would have cost to hold it by supplementing maintenance ration sufficiently to keep the animals gaining slightly.

If there was a great amount of grain to be sold the preference should go to fattening for slaughter, or feeding for heavy milk production or eggs.

On the average farm, however, under average conditions, stock cattle or sheep are safer for the beginner than buying feeders and finishing them for the killing market. Bred ewes and heifers fed and cared for through one winter, begin to pay off within a few months, and requires less time and less technical knowledge of feeding than slaughter animals.

No conceivable farm legislation and no predictable set of circumstances promises to make cash-crop farming profitable again. Wise farmers are acting accordingly, to set up some combination of crop and livestock suitable to their particular circumstances, which will utilize their land and labor to a better advantage and greater profit.

"Perpetual motion" on the farm is more easily attainable than in the factory, for life goes on without artificial power. The natural cycle of plant and animal life is the answer—"God's plan," as an East Texas negro farmer calls it.

At the Churches

METHODIST CHURCH

E. C. RANEY, Pastor

The church has had some faithful workers and ministers and still has many—but we have retired, superannuated, or laid on the shelf many men and they do not have any means of support save the small stipend they get from the Church Board of Finance.

Today we have 1,208 superannuated preachers and 1,714 widows of superannuated preachers, with a good number of orphans. We did not mention the orphans Sunday.

The smallest amount received by one of these men is $78 per year, in the Arizona conference; the smallest amount received by a widow of one of these preachers is $99 per year, in the North Mississippi conference. The largest amount received from the Board of Finance as a sort of a pension is $403 per year; the largest amount received by a widow is $273 per year. The average per man over the church per year is $292 and $158 for a widow.

When the Methodist people of Wheeler church pay into the local budget they pay some to help these men and women who pioneered, laid the mudsills of our civilization and who were once the beloved pastor and wife of a many a good people, but now they are too old to be active and they are known as "The Forgotten Man." Also when one pays to the benevolence he is helping them; we have these two funds, and at that they do not get very much. The first is a special fund, the other is a conference fund.

During my brief ministry I have seen many men retired but only one has been able to care for his needs. Some people oppose a call for these men, but as the case with the Levitical tribe in Israel, the preachers never accumulate any property, as they are not wanted to do that. Corporations pension their retired workers and cannot the church be as charitable as a so-called "cold blooded organization?"

Next Sunday will be the beginning of Childhood and Youth Week for our church and the sermon and all the services will center in and around the youth and childhood of the church and its constituency. The subject of the programs will be "A Growing Understanding of God."

The League services will be not later than 6:45 and may be announced at 6:30; if so, church services will be at 7:00 but not later than 7:15 under these conditions.

Services of the week will be announced at the morning hour.

Junior Class Meets

The junior class, with its sponsor, Mr. Waggoner, met Monday at the noon hour for the purpose of deciding what kind of class emblem each wanted to order. The class plans for each member to purchase one of the following: a bracelet, wristlet, pin or belt buckle. It was decided to wait until after cotton picking to settle the question.

Charivari

A charivari was given Sunday night, Oct. 9, for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris at the home of Mr. Morris' parents. Mrs. Morris is the former Miss Inogene Taylor.

Several games were played. Those present were: Pete Luttrell, Edris Morrow, Alma Waters, Ruth Morris, Jiggs Standlee, Jimmy Luttrell, Tunis Morrow, Fred Beaty, Annie Fae Newman, Sonny Self, Hazel Huffstutler, Pay Hammer, Geraldine Wadsworth, Dow Wilson, Cy Hudson, Jess Williams, Ewing Barnett, Margaret Reavis, Fred Hillman and Wylie Newman.

PENSCRIPTS

From the Pen Staff

Earl Simpson seemed to have the girls who sit near him monopolized in American history class the other day. Anyway, Mr. Jones had a hard time getting their attention.

Mr. Waggoner said he was going to "raise cane." Eugene Matthews said he could make more money raising kafir corn.

The question of "Where Did English Come From" was asked in English IV class the other day. Kenneth Douthit said it grew, and Jiggs Standlee wished they had forgotten to water it.

Mr. Hawkins is glad the new basketball suits didn't come, because Jiggs Standlee would have mopped up the floor with his last Thursday night in the game with Quail.

Gene Oats certainly must have been comfortable in third hour study hall last Friday, but I think Miss Pate remembered the situation.

Mr. Jones says this is the first region he has lived in where the horses go without shoes.

Jiggs Standlee said that Palmer Sivage could be a standing or blocking guard on the basketball team.

We, the members of the junior class, are sorry to lose one of our classmates, Ruby Boren.

Mr. Waggoner is a pep squad all by himself, judging by the sound of things Thursday night.

Paul Simpson can make some very good sentences in English III.

Terry Walker and Lob Ramsey seem to like cats very well. It appeared that way Saturday night, at least.

Cliffertine Sivage spent Thursday night with Hannah Fae Riley.

Have You Seen—

The basketball boys new tennis shoes?

The rock that Mr. Jones brought from the other world?

The skinned knees which are results of the basketball games played last Thursday night?

The sweaters that are being worn this cool weather?

Have You Heard—

Earl and Paul Simpson's new names for each other? Earl calls Paul "Honey Bunch" and Paul calls Earl "Sugar Plum."

That Miss Dill is afraid of mice?

That the general science room was cleaned by the students last week?

About the story Mr. Jones told his American history class last week?

That the Quail state champion basketball team beat the Briscoe Broncos only 12 points?

That school is going to dismiss Friday, Oct. 14?

That the funny papers are put in the study hall for the little kids and not for boys the age of Kenneth Douthit, Jiggs Standlee and Earl Simpson?

Miss Dill and Mr. Waggoner looking for the basketball lately?

The admonition printed above is more than a mere catch phrase or slogan; it is sound advice to readers of The Wheeler Times, whose wantad column on the last page of the paper each week is an outstanding feature. It is outstanding because scores of people save money, time and effort through its use.

Why waste time when you want any one of the numerous items which appear in the wantad column from week to week?

If you want to buy or sell a cow or hog, check the Wantads First. If you want to buy or sell fruits, vegetables or farm products, check the Wantads First. If you want to buy or sell planting seeds of any kind, check the Wantads First. If you want to rent or let out a house or an apartment, check the Wantads First. If you want to buy or sell farming equipment or other articles, check the Wantads First.

More people—both buyers and sellers—turn to the Wantad column of The Wheeler Times FIRST than probably any other portion of the paper.

Make it a habit to check the Wantads First—and then note the savings.

Home-Coming Queen Candidates Wanted

Annual Canyon College Observance Seeks Nominee for Post of Distinctive Honor

Former students of West Texas State college living in Wheeler county have been asked to select from their number a candidate for queen of the Homecoming at Canyon Nov. 5.

Mrs. Tommy Montfort of Canyon, general chairman of Homecoming, is requesting that ex-student meetings be held in all counties and that the names of queen candidates be sent to her immediately. Any unmarried girl who is a former student of the college is eligible. The candidates will receive many honors during the day, and one will be crowned as queen in a public ceremony at 8 p. m., Nov. 5 in the college auditorium.

In counties of large population, an additional candidate may be selected from each town of more than 1,000 population. Selections are desired immediately.

A morning assembly program at 10:30 a. m., band concerts, football game, outdoor basket lunch at 5:30 p. m., and a carnival at Cousins hall following the coronation are parts of the day's program. At the carnival will be Coconut grove, with a floor show; Tascosa Bar, with old-time dancing; Monterey, with dancing to an 8-piece orchestra; Peacock Alley, the lounge and promenade; Japanese terrace, with cricket fights; and a Gypsy camp, in an outdoor setting.

Visitors will be invited to wear costumes, if they desire, as suggested by many of the divisions of the carnival program.

The football game, scheduled for 2:30 p. m., will be between the Buffaloes and the Sul Ross State college Lobos.

Much Work Furnished by WPA in September

Eleven Projects Completed and 17 Inaugurated in Panhandle to Assist Men and Women

Work for 3,277 men and women was provided during September by the operation of 82 Works Progress administration projects in the Panhandle territory. It was reported today by Administrative Officer A. A. Meredith, in a communication received from the Amarillo regional office.

Temporary suspension of four county road improvement projects in order to enable workers to accept seasonal agricultural employment caused a considerable decrease in the number of workers on WPA rolls, Meredith stated.

Work was completed on 11 projects and 17 new projects were inaugurated during September. Included among projects completed were improvements to 14 miles of farm-to-market roads in Wheeler, Ochiltree and Dallam counties. Painting of roof signs in 23 towns throughout the territory as an aid to air navigation was completed also. Other projects completed were sewing rooms in four localities and community sanitation work in Hall county. These projects were replaced by others offering continued employment to the workers previously employed.

Meredith reports that $74,023 has been expended by WPA on the 11 projects completed and that local governmental agencies have supplied $25,849. Approximately 210,670 man-hours of work were provided.

Inaugurated during the past month were projects providing improvements to State Highway 5 in Childress county, State Highway 86 in Swisher county, lateral roads in Wheeler county, and streets in the city of Childress. Mineral resources survey was opened in Deaf Smith and Ochiltree counties, and an underground water survey was started in Ochiltree and Carson counties.

Housekeeping aid projects were opened in Childress, Hall, Deaf Smith and Randall counties. Sewing room units replaced those completed in Ochiltree, Donley and Hall counties. Similarly county-wide sanitation work was continued in Hall county. The 17 projects placed in operation will be financed by expenditures of $108,321 by WPA and $32,756 supplied by local agencies. They will provide 325,106 man-hours of work.

Governor's Probe of Auto Tragedy Brings List of Suggestions

Investigation of Texas' most tragic automobile collision in 1938 has been completed by a special committee appointed by Governor Allred, and immediate release of the report and recommendations were made this week by Carl J. Rutland, chairman of the committee and president of the Texas Safety Association, Inc.

Governor Allred created this committee to investigate an automobile crash at Highway 80 and Belt Line Road, near Dallas, on May 5, 1938, in which six people were killed and two badly injured.

This is the first case on record of an investigation of an automobile accident by the governor of a state, and the committee, composed of C. J. Rutland, Albert Sidney Johnson, of the Public Safety commission, Harry Hines of the State Highway commission, and Judge Ben Fly of the Dallas County Commissioner's court, devoted its efforts to learning the fundamental causes of the fatal crash and drafting a number of recommendations for the prevention of such tragedies in the future.

In its report, the committee named violation of a boulevard stop sign, speed too high for safety, driving while under the influence of intoxicants, and ignoring a crossroad sign as the immediate cause of the fatal crash.

In its conclusions the committee charges the traffic system of the state with failure to educate the driver to the dangers of these violations—failure to enforce the traffic laws, and provide certainty of punishment for violators, together with need for further traffic engineering for safety on streets and highways.

The committee recommended a state-wide traffic survey, county by county, perhaps through WPA funds. It points out the need for a substantial increase in the state highway patrol personnel. It urges adoption of an anti-ticket-fixing pledge by all city councils and county officials in the state.

Complete scrapping of the state traffic laws and adoption of the Model Code as recommended by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, was urged.

A definite program of education for motorists, a revision of the driver's license law, giving the Texas Department of Public Safety authority to suspend licenses, with the right of appeal, and providing for a small fee to be charged for each license issued, were recommended.

A copy of the published report of this committee's investigation and recommendations will be mailed to every official in the state concerned with traffic matters. Ten thousand copies have been printed for distribution.

The committee calls attention to the fact that the annual number of traffic accident victims in Texas is over six times as great as the number who perished in the New London school disaster and it appeals to every public official and every citizen of the state of Texas to join the committee and the governor in demanding that these recommendations and other steps necessary to make our highways safe be put into effect without further delay and political quibbling, and consequent waste of life and property.

Pot Shots at Sport

(By AUBREY WARREN)

This is the first installment of a new column in The Times that will continue for some time.

Well, to start off, the highlights in sports for this week is the conference clash between the Wheeler Mustangs and the Shamrock Irishmen. The two elevens are rated about even.

The McLean Tigers met their first defeat of the season last Friday night at the hands of Altus, Okla. This leaves the Wheeler Mustangs the only team in the north half of the conference with an unblemished record.

In the south half, the Wellington Skyrockets upset the dope bucket by taking a thriller from the Hollis, Okla., team 7-6. The Rockets are boasting one of the fastest class B teams in Texas this year.

What college team has won four consecutive games this year, running up a total of 141 points to their opponents' 67?

It is none other than the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

The Tech eleven is taking on some of the toughest teams this season in an effort to gain some recognition. They want their competition rough. The Red Raiders are making a strong bid for entrance in the Southwest Conference this season. They have proven one of the strongest teams in the nation this year.

Mustangs beat Shamrock!

The Panhandle Panthers, twice regional champions, are drilling this week in preparation for a clash with the Phillips Blackhawks next Friday.

Here is the only solution that yours truly can reach as to the outcome of tomorrow (Friday) night's local game: Wheeler 19, Shamrock 14.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

As you head out of Fort Worth on the way to Dallas, you may observe to the left a fence above which towers a dense hedge that hides the spacious grounds from view. Behind that screen of tropic luxuriance is a beautiful home occupied by W. K. Gordon.

Though nearing the three-quarters of a century mark, Gordon is erect and active. His hair is iron-gray and he has a close-clipped mustache. His speech still bears a trace of his native Virginia and his manners are courtly.

W. K. Gordon is the man who discovered the Ranger field and ushered in the biggest boom the United States has ever seen. Disregarding the unfavorable reports of experts, he drilled the McClesky well which came roaring in, assuring America and the Allies of an adequate supply of oil with which to wage the World War to a victorious close.

He was in the New York offices of the company (which was capitalized at $3,000,000) when the president told him he had just rejected an offer of $100,000,000 above the income tax for all the holdings. He added that he was a little doubtful as to whether the individual making the offer would be able to carry it out. The proposition was made by Harry Sinclair, who today is perhaps the greatest single figure in petroleum.

Gordon now spends idyllic days in pruning the trees, digging in the flower beds and tussling with a particularly affectionate bulldog. And, occasionally, Gordon puts down a well in West Texas.

Governor Allred has decided "at long last" to serve out his term in the office to which he asked the people to elect him and then will accept the federal judgeship.

Of course, he could have made that announcement away back last July—but if he had done so—the lieutenant governor (who was running for attorney general) would have been deprived of reams of front-page publicity as he basked in the prospect of several months as chief executive with all the power and prestige that would mean. Certainly, nobody had any thoughts of aiding his candidacy in that way but it's funny how things will happen by accident and coincidence.

But, even with all that publicity and all that prospective glory, the people turned him down and elected Gerald Mann!

Sign on a store window in a large Texas city: "Blank's Political Sale! Must raise cash for taxes and penalties. Everything reduced except taxes and penalties."

By a Rogue

We've often heard that variety is the spice of life. If that is a fact, our Friday and Saturday shows for this month are perfect in arrangement. Examine your calendar: This week we have "Her Jungle Love." Note its qualifications; the story has plot enough to keep you interested; the photography is by an expert who knows just where to set his camera; it's in technicolor—nothing more beautiful than jungle scenes in color; and it has a great cast—Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland and Lynne Overman.

Just to mention the fact that we have for Preview, Sunday and Monday another Judge Hardy picture should bring everybody to the Rogue. This time "Love Finds Andy Hardy," and when you know that Andy is Mickey Rooney that is enough said. This picture is a domestic comedy the whole family will enjoy. In addition to the regular Hardy family (Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Cecelia Parker, Ann Rutherford and Fay Holden) we have added Judy Garland with her wonderful singing and acting. She does both in this picture. Those who know, say this is the greatest Judge Hardy picture.

We've mentioned the quality of our mid-week pictures before. Here is another example. Perhaps you've never seen Warner Baxter, Peter Lorre, Marjorie Weaver, Jean Hersholt and John Carradine play truly comedy roles before, but here is where you get your chance. Observe wonder why they have never seen anything precisely similar before. You will not be disappointed in "I'll Give a Million" as good entertainment.

A Wanted Newspaper

Everyone reading The Wheeler Times today has either paid 5 cents for it, subscribed for it in cash, or has implicitly promised to pay for it at the advertised rate of $1.00 a year in Wheeler county and $1.50 outside the county.

There are no FREE Wheeler Times.

We could easily increase our circulation another thousand or two by just putting names on our subscription list, by one method or another. That would please a few of our advertisers, perhaps, but not the majority of discriminating business men.

For it is a recognized fact that The Times has QUALITY circulation. It is read by people who are ABLE TO BUY the articles advertised in it. Anyone who cares enough about a weekly paper to lay down the advertised subscription price to have it sent to him, is not only going to READ it—he or she is likely to have money with which to buy the things advertised in it.

We have not increased the price of The Times—rather, we have increased its quality, and we are pleased to note a hearty response. We have kept our old friends and added scores of new ones during the past few months. We do not get 100 new subscribers a week, but we have gotten as many as 10 in one week and they all paid in advance. They will read the paper from cover to cover. Some of them will keep it all week, while others will pass it on to a neighbor.

This will interest our advertisers.

Women, records show, are by far the largest buyers of merchandise of all kinds, especially things for the home—food, clothing, furniture, and scores of other items. They always find things of interest in The Wheeler Times both in the news and advertising columns.

REVERENCE FOR GOD

Scripture Text: Es. 20:7; Matt. 5: 33-37; 12:33-37. Memory Verse: Psalm 29:1, 2. Devotional Reading: Exo. 33:17-23.

An Angle of Approach

He charged Job that he would "curse Thee to Thy face," if only God would permit him "to touch all that he hath;" "Doth Job serve God for nought?"

THE HEART OF THE LESSON Introduction

Our lesson covers the ground of "profanity," and irreverent use of God's name; "swearing falsely" (perjury), using the name of God to cover up wicked and malicious intent; and irreverence for God.

Profanity

A good old man was once in company with a man who occasionally introduced into his conversation the word "devil," but at last he took the name of God in vain. "Stop, sir," said the old man, "I said nothing while you used freely the name of your own master, but I insist that you shall take no freedom with the name of mine." But how dreadfully frightful it is when those who profess to be Christians use the name of God in vain!

We must also insist that justice, impartiality and greed on the part of those who worship the true and living God is to profane God's name. This was the kind of "profane person" Esau was (Heb. 12:16).

Dishonesty in dealing with our fellowmen is also a form of profanity. For he deals dishonestly with the name of his God when he is dishonest with man. Whatever man (the creation of God) does that is out of line with God's holiness is irreverence unto God. Any kind of deliberate sin comes under this kind of profanity.

Unguarded Conversation

A person's character is shown to a very great extent by his ordinary conversation. Instinctively we judge his stability or instability by the unguarded use of his words.

Is he reliable or unreliable? For the first part of our answer we listen to the general run of his conversation. Is he slack or thorough in his life and work? Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN Home Management Supervisor Farm Security Administration

It isn't too late for pickles. It's still pickling and relish-making time.

You needn't call it a season, just because the last jar of plum butter has been assigned to its place on the preserve shelf after a summer of sterilizing jars and jelly glasses; paring, pitting, stemming, slicing, crushing, straining and chopping fruits and vegetables.

Frost or rain will soon lay the tomato vines low, and some of the green tomatoes can be transformed into enough pickles or relishes to enliven many a prosaic winter meal. Or perhaps you have some of the meaty, late clingstone peaches or pears, which makes such delightful whole-fruit pickles.

Hurried harvests of green tomato crops in the fall are a traditional part of farm life, and a peck of green tomatoes has furnished the inspiration for many a home-make pickle recipe. Green tomatoes, as well as green cucumbers make delicious dill pickles if you follow the rules carefully.

Of first importance is the brine for the quick fermentation process, and this fermentation process is as necessary in making the dill pickle flavor as the dill itself. Weigh the salt, and measure all other ingredients of

be a profane thing for us to do. "Serious Oaths"

There is a distinction between light, thoughtless profanity and when it is serious business. But both fall under the things forbidden of Christ. It seems that it was the custom of the Jews to bind all bargains by sacred oaths. Some people still swear "by heaven" seriously. In Matt: 5: 33-37 the instruction is "swear not at all." Heaven is the throne of God; the earth is His footstool; Jerusalem is the city of the King.

All things are creations of God and they are not of a nature for our oaths. Oaths do not make a dishonest person's words true. Neither do they make a true Christian's words more truthful. The very fact that a Christian wears the name of Christ (Christ-ian), should be sufficient, and he becomes profane when he is untrue to all that the name of Christ stands for.

So, therefore, his "yes" and "no" (yes and no) should be just as binding and sacred as if they were bound by the most sacred oath. Anything short of this is absolutely untrue to Christ.

The Civil Oath To some earnest Christians Matt: 5:34 and James 5:12 seem to forbid taking the civil oath. Others claim that the examples of Paul in Rom. 1:9; II Cor. 1:23; 11:31 do not allow such interpretation.

But this much is certain and clear to me, and that is that we are not to come under such oaths as to call down the curse of God upon us if our words are not true. We are glad that our country gives the benefit of the doubt in this discussion to the earnest conscientious objector by permitting him to simply make an affirmation as to the truthfulness of his witnessing. He is not compelled to swear.

But, in closing, remember this: there can be no reverence for God where there is a disregard for truth, for purity, for life, for law.

the brine carefully. Salt and vinegar are used to prevent spoilage, while the lactic acid bacteria are growing and helping give the acid flavor and crispness. The lactic bacteria feed on the sugar extracted from the tomatoes, with a little extra sugar added to the brine. If the brine has too much salt, the pickles will not ferment rapidly; if there is too little salt, they will spoil.

Standard proportions for dill pickle brine are one and one-fourth pounds (2 cups) salt, one pint vinegar and four tablespoons sugar to two gallons water. This quantity will make enough for about 12 pounds of green tomatoes.

Only freshly picked green tomatoes should be used for dilling, and they should be without blemishes and of a uniform size. If you are making only a small quantity of the dilled tomatoes, it is best to use 2-quart glass fruit jars for convenience. Use only glass-topped jars for making or storing pickles. The acid and salt in pickles corrode zinc caps and forms a poisonous substance.

EVERYDAY RELIGION

By C. E. BRYANT, Jr.

WHAT BRINGS PEACE?

From concert stage to the hills of a theological seminary is the strange story of a young baritone who has enrolled in the Dallas Theological seminary, says the Dallas Morning News.

William Burcaw, the baritone, began his singing at the age of nine. Developing a fine voice, he took the role of Valentine in Faust with the Philadelphia Civic Opera company. For three years he felt he ought to be a preacher, and often spent the time between concerts reading his mother's old Bible.

One morning calamity hit the show; a theatre was struck by lightning and the company disbanded. Burcaw went home and attended church the first time in 15 years. Last February he renewed his Bible studies. Last month he came to Dallas, not knowing whether or not he would be accepted at the seminary.

"I knew the Lord wanted me here," he explained. "I've given my voice to the Lord and I'd rather be singing Gospel songs."

The story is very similar to that of a Chicago bank vice president who only a few weeks ago resigned his big-moneyed position and began preaching. Sure, his associates scoffed at him, at even the suggestion that he, one of the leading financiers of that great mid-western city would drop his distinguished position for work that would be hard and that offered little pay.

The banker saw another side of the story and it offered far more to him than the side viewed by his associates. He told the Associated Press. Since his youth, he had felt that he ought to preach. His success in the banking profession did not bring happiness. "Preach," the call kept coming to him; and now, this middle-aged distinguished individual is preaching the Gospel, a satisfied man.

I am made to wonder if the seeking and following of God's will would not make happy all dissatisfied lives, and if a universal turning to Christianity would not be a solution to the problems of this troubled world.

Mobeetie Young Lady Wed at Sayre Sunday

Miss NaDean Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Owens, Mobeetie, and Mr. Vernon Red, Fort Collins, Colo., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Red, Corn Valley, were united in marriage Sunday, Oct. 2, at Sayre, Okla., by the pastor of the Church of Christ.

They were attended by Miss Geraldine Vinson and G. B. McFarland. Mrs. Red is a sister of Mrs. Opal Myers of Wheeler and had recently enrolled in the local high school as a member of the junior class, coming here from Mobeetie, where she has many friends among the younger set.

Mr. Red is a member of Company B. 2nd Engineers, of the United States army stationed at Fort Collins, Colo. He returned Monday to resume his duties and Mrs. Red will meet him next month at Denver, where they expect to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Parsons, Sr. and daughter, Sallie Ann, of Wellington were Sunday dinner guests of the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell, Sr., and son, Ansel, Jr.

Wellington Host to Singers of District

Large Crowd Attends Annual Meet—County Sends Quota of Five Delegates

The Texas-Oklahoma District Singing association, composed of 34 counties of the two states, held its annual meeting and election of officers at Wellington last Sunday. An attendance estimated at 3,500 to 4,000 is reported. Wheeler county was well represented in addition to sending its full quota of five delegates.

Officers for the past year were retained in the election. They are: A. B. Wills, Memphis, president; E. J. Cooper, Texola, Okla., 1st vice president; J. I. Evans, Granite, Okla., 2nd vice president; Mrs. A. J. Byram, Carter, Okla., secretary-treasurer.

The Stamps-Baxter Music Co., Dallas and the Hartford Music Co., Hartford, Ark., were represented. Visitors were present from four states: New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Next year's meeting will be held at Clarendon on the second Sunday in October, beginning Saturday and Saturday night previous.

Times Window Blooms with Many Specimens

9-pound Sweet Potato; 6 Cotton Bolls on 9-inch Length of Branch and Curious Rock Shown.

In order to avoid slighting anyone, it is necessary to take entries in The Times window according to time of arrival—and a large variety of specimens has arrived during the past week.

Last Friday, John Henry Watts of Wheeler brought in a 19-inch parsnip. The vegetable was quite slim and liberally covered with "warts." The same day, Roe Green as messenger for Charley Candler out at the Jowett plant, delivered a 7-lb. Porto Rico yam of unusual form, a sort of double-decker.

On Saturday, L. W. Newkirk contributed some very nice standard maize heads. Another arrival the same day was a freak sweet potato grown by G. A. Bolton. About an inch and a half in diameter, it was close to 18 inches long. Early this week Bolton made up for any deficiencies in the first potato by sending in a gorgeous Porto Rico that weighed, when first dug, 9 pounds.

Wednesday, C. E. Trimble from five miles northwest of Mobeetie brought in a cotton limb bearing six fully developed bolls in a space of nine inches. It was the S. N. Reed West Texas Half-and-Half variety, which Trimble has grown for 17 years. From this sample, it appears to be a splendid strain. The same day, Henry Greenhouse submitted samples of Desert Maize and Black-hull Kafir grown by him on land two miles north of Wheeler. This feed would be hard to equal, let alone beat in any year, not to mention a rather dry one such as the present.

Today, C. L. Campbell from 4½ miles northwest entered some heads of 90-day Kafir that are fully on a par with the best grown anywhere, any time. Another entry today, also, was a curious-shaped tomato, brought in by W. O. Miller from his farm northeast of town.

Closing the list is a dark-colored, porous rock formation, apparently of volcanic lava-ash origin, brought in by C. C. Crowder, who picked it up in the vicinity of Canadian. Crowder says similar specimens are occasionally plowed up on his farm east of town.

More Lake Projects Get Final Approval

Official Confirmation of Swisher and Ochiltree Sites Total Six for Panhandle

Official announcement Tuesday of the final approval of two more water conservation projects, one in Ochiltree county and one in Swisher, brought the total number to six of such recreational projects in the Texas Panhandle. Buffalo dam near Umberger, the Boggy creek dam at Canadian, the McClellan creek dam south of Pampa and the Rita Blanca dam at Dalhart are already in various stages of construction.

Concurrent with this official approval by A. G. Black, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Washington, D. C., is an announcement by James C. Foster, regional director of the bureau in Amarillo, of the plans for construction of the Tule creek project at Tulia in Swisher county and the Wolf creek project near Perryton in Ochiltree county.

Plans for the Tule creek project, according to Foster call for a dam to be constructed at a point one mile north and three miles east of Tulia. The structure will be an earth fill, 1,400 feet long, 37 feet high and a storage capacity of 500 acre feet. A spillway 50 feet wide will be included to care for the overflow from the 70 square miles of drainage basin located in the Prairie Dog Town fork of the Red river.

Preliminary work consisting of construction of buildings, power line, temporary roads, stripping dam site, excavating core trench and building conduit has been started at the Tule creek site under the direction of Jess K. Noah, project manager with headquarters at Tulia. Recreational facilities are now being planned and construction will be initiated soon on this phase of the project.

Preliminary construction will be started at the Wolf creek site near Perryton about Oct. 15, Foster announces. A dam 39 feet high, 1,800 feet long and with a storage capacity of 260 acre feet has been designed by the bureau engineers. The drainage area, which is part of the South Canadian system contains 108 square miles, and it is necessary that a spillway 100 feet wide be constructed to care for runoff after the lake is filled.

Recreational facilities will be provided at the dam site for the use of residents of Ochiltree and surrounding counties. On both projects, which are sponsored by the Panhandle Water Conservation authority, money is being provided for materials and supplies by the Public Works administration, labor by the Works Progress administration, and land and supervision by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

All of the work is under the supervision of Ted L. Smith, engineer in charge of the B. A. E. construction division in Amarillo.
