Here & There

Laura Guthrie
I think people are confident that Spring has finally arrived. They are digging and plowing and planting, and looking forward to a harvest. I think it will be warm enough today for me to spray me weeds. And in case you are wondering about my "seedy" looking lawn—that is just what it is. I'm letting the bluegrass go to seed, in hopes that it will be thicker next year.

The iris (educated flags as a friend used to say) are in bloom. In a week or so they will be ready to transplant for another year's bloom. I'm a bit early with mine, since the neighbors across the street are still reeding the yard and moving fences. I put the irises there in the first place and was anxious to get them located in this yard.

Harold and Eloise Kenady are home for a short time. They stay mostly at Breckinridge to keep an eye on Eloise's mother who is not well. Their place (any place) needed the spring going-over, besides they bought the property next door to them and needed to set it in order. Harold, as usual was on the job at the County Clerk's office lending his aid in the election returns.

I haven't seen Odessa Mooney around lately. She is probably lending a hand in getting her new granddaughter settled in the nursery and her daughter, Judy, adjusted to the routine of being a mother.

I'm sorry that Mary Finsterwald's name was omitted last week in the list of people who went to Albuquerque to the Barney Holmes funeral.

Clarendon Offers Summer Classes
Clarendon College has announced that two summer sessions will be taught at Pampa this summer. This will be the first time that summer courses have been offered in Pampa by the college.

All of the classes will be held at Pampa High School and will meet from 6-8 p.m. The sessions will be six weeks in length and students will attend classes two nights a week in each course taken.

The first session will start on Tuesday, June 6 and end on Thursday, July 13. The second session will run from July 18 through August 24.

The summer curriculum is designed so that graduating senior high school students can take basic freshman English and social science courses that are required at any college or university that they may plan to attend in the fall.

Each year many seniors want to get an early start on their college curriculum and get their freshman English out of the way during the summer sessions," stated Loyd Waters, Dean of Students at Clarendon. "Also, we always have several college students that return home for the summer from attending other colleges and we try to offer some courses for them so that they can continue to work on their degrees while they are home."

Students may pre-register for the first summer session on Thursday, May 11 or they can register on Tuesday, May 30. Both registration will be held at the Pampa High School cafeteria from 6-8 p.m. A late registration will be held on Monday, June 5 from 6-8 p.m. at the same location. Classes will begin on Tuesday, June 6.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Loyd Waters, Dean of Students Registrar at Clarendon College.

SEWING SCISSORS

"Cut" through the scissors confusion—they come in a variety of styles to meet every sewing need. New changes in the shape and slant of the blade make them easy to handle and fit the hand contours. Improvements in the metal make them sharper and prevents dulling more quickly.

Choose the scissors to best suit the cutting need:

Scissors that are smaller than six inches and have the same size handle on each side. They are used for cutting lightweight fabrics and trimming.

Shears, commonly called Dressmaker, are longer than scissors and have one handle larger than the other to accommodate three or four fingers.

Shears are designed to cut long, even strokes for a faster, cleaner finished edge.

Old Mobeetie Ass'n. Meeting

Tuesday evening, May 2, 1978 at 7:00 the Old Mobeetie Association met, in spite of a welcome rain, at the rock jail for the regular monthly meeting. The meeting was opened and conducted by President, Sallie Harris. The minutes were read and approved. The treasurer reported a balance of 60.14 on hand the last of March. The collections and donations were a little encouraging for April. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Scribner, of Plainview gave $100.00, Wyman Prater, of Canadian $100.00 and Cree Oil Company by Mr. R. E. Reid of Pampa, gave $25.00, Grays Decorating Center of Pampa donated two gallons of paint equaling $16.50. A rented sander was donated, by one of the members, for finishing the kitchen floor which was $26.12. The visitors passing by to see the jail gave 22.73, which Grace Bright, the caretaker turned in. Jap Bailey has spent many days at the building repairing and painting, donating his time and labor. There have been over twelve hundred visitors stopped the last year to see the historic jail.

It was agreed that $20.00 would be the charge for an all day family reunion to be held at the jail and premises to be cleaned by the party before they leave. The next meeting will be the 6th of June, mark your calendars and be sure and come to help us preserve the beautiful jail, anyone interested is welcome. We need some help on the painting job too so call the Charlie Bright's and they will let you know when laborers are there to direct the work.

A big thank you to all those who have given money and contributed their labor and paint or other material needed for the renovating. The jail will be used for an educational museum when the painting is completed, we hope to have enough help donated to complete it soon.

There are right and left-hand shears and scissors available.

When buying left hand scissors, check to see that they fit the hand comfortably. Also, check to see that the blades are reversed from right-handed and not just the handles reversed.

Folding scissors, which fold in half to conceal the blades, are ideal for needlework and can easily be carried in a purse for other convenient cutting necessities.

Progressive Club Closes Year

The Progressive Study Club had its closing meeting of this club year with a salad luncheon in Novella Vanpool's home May 4. Amelia Sims gave the invocation.

Following the delicious meal the president presided in a business session.

The minutes of the last meeting was read and approved and the Treasurer made a report.

Motion was made and carried to wait until fall to pay club dues. Roll Call was answered with members suggesting topics for next year's programs.

The retiring president Novella Vanpool presented a lovely installation ceremony of the club officer for the new club year. The theme of the ceremony "Words to Live By" was beautifully expressed by these words "God grant me the serenity to accept things I cannot change, courage to accept things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference".

The newly installed president, Ruby Lee Sandifer graciously accepted her position and requested members to work for another good club year. She then read the list of members appointed to committees and Department chairmen.

Meeting closed with members reading the Club Collect in unison.

Supper Honors Wheeler Seniors

The Senior Class of Wheeler was honored with a dinner Monday evening in the fellowship room of Church of Christ.

Twenty-five seniors and dates were present, also class sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wills, Mr. and Mrs. Max Wiley and Mrs. Linda Smith and class parents Mr. and Mrs. Spud Moore.

Seated at one table were class sponsors, class parents and Art and Mary Smith.

Eight mothers, namely Ann Jolly, Mary Gibson, Patricia Forrester, Carolyn Westmoreland, Lou Crockett, Claudine Finsterwald, Betty Muse, Butch Moore, Sarah Pond and daughter Marla served.

Everyone expressed appreciation for the dinner and a good time was enjoyed by all.

small bladed scissors three to four inches long. They are used for needle work.

Trimmers are for cutting fabric. Bent trimmers have the handle bent so the blades rest on the table while cutting. This allows the fabric to remain on the table to prevent slippage.

Pinking shears have two zig-zag cutting edges on the blade and are used for finishing seam edges or other edges to prevent raveling.

Buttonhole scissors are short bladed scissors that have a notch cut from the blade for cutting buttonholes. An adjustable screw on the handle allows for cutting along a designated length hole.

Electric scissors have two blades on a motor. They may be

SUMMER COOKING

In last weeks column, the full recipe for Chicken Gumbo was left out. Here is a repeat of that complete recipe:

CHICKEN GUMBO

1 chicken, 3 or 4 pounds
2 quart sliced tomatoes
1 onion
1/2 red pepper pod, without seeds
2 pints okra, or about 50 pods
1 large ham slice
1 bay leaf
1 sprig thyme or parsley
1 tablespoon each lard and butter
salt and cayenne to taste
Clean and cut up chicken. Cut ham into small squares or dice. Chop onion and parsley or thyme. Skin tomatoes and chop fine, saving the juice. Wash and stem okra and slice into thin layers or one-half inch each.

Put lard and butter into soup kettle. When hot, add chicken and ham. Cover closely and let simmer for about 10 minutes.

Then, add chopped onions, parsley or thyme and tomatoes, stirring frequently to prevent okra from scorching.

Many Creole cooks fry the okra separately, seasoning with pepper, cayenne, and salt and then add them to the chicken to prevent scorching. Equally good results may be obtained with less trouble by simply adding the okra to the frying chicken and watching constantly to prevent scorching.

The least taste of a "scorch" spoils the flavor of the gumbo.

When well fried and browned, add about three quarts of boiling water and set back on the stove to simmer for about an hour longer.

Serve hot with boiled rice. Round steak may be substituted for the chicken.

Fast Rising Dough.

First, take one small part of your paycheck, put it into the Payroll Savings Plan, and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Then just sit back and watch your dough rise. Cause Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save you'll ever find. (Not to mention one of the safest.)

After all, they've been around a long, long time. And they've always paid off. To the penny.

And if they're ever lost, stolen, or destroyed, they'll be replaced.

So take stock in your country. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you need dough, they rise to the occasion.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (12% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Fast Rising Dough.

First, take one small part of your paycheck, put it into the Payroll Savings Plan, and buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Then just sit back and watch your dough rise. Cause Bonds are one of the easiest ways to save you'll ever find. (Not to mention one of the safest.)

After all, they've been around a long, long time. And they've always paid off. To the penny.

And if they're ever lost, stolen, or destroyed, they'll be replaced.

So take stock in your country. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you need dough, they rise to the occasion.

Series E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (12% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

WHEELER PUBLIC LIBRARY BOOK REVIEW

In "Kalki" by Gore Vidal, according to Hindu mythology, the arrival of the god Kalki on earth will mean the destruction of all mankind—except for Kalki's handful of immediate disciples from whose loins will spring a new race of man. But Vidal's Kalki is not quite what the ancient Hindu scriptures had in mind. For one thing, Kalki turns out to be an American ex-G. I. from New Orleans whose real name is Kelly. For another, he is a gifted chemist and a former expert in the Army's chemical-biological warfare operations in Vietnam. What's more, he may (or may not) be running an international drug ring, using Kalki's person as a front; on the other hand, the drug ring may be the front and Kelly/Kalki may really be aiming to destroy the world. To get to the bottom of this puzzle—which has now begun to fascinate the whole world—Teddy Ottinger, the world's foremost woman pilot and a part-time journalist, makes her way to Katmandu, where she becomes a part of Kalki's inner circle. What she thereafter discovers astonishes her as much as it will shock the reader.

PERSONAL
Mr. and Mrs. Gwyn Edwards spent the weekend visiting their son Cecil Edwards and family of Saginaw coming home Monday. Also their grandson, Sherman Edwards and family.

"Sweetheart, Sweetheart" was written by Bernard Taylor David has been living in America eight years when his twin brother, Colin, married and moved to a lovely cottage in the English countryside. Ever since that marriage David had had nagging, nervous feelings about his brother, an eerie, grasping sensation that couldn't be explained away. Until he was able to shake this obsession he would get no rest. There was only one solution. Leaving an irate and confused lover behind. David set off for his homeland. He would go to Colin, see him face to face and find peace. . . . But peace was the last thing he would find. Nothing in David's experience could ever have prepared him for the events to come. When he saw this twin brother's cottage, its beauty and serenity, there was no suggestion of the shock that awaited him within, no preparation for the unimaginable horror inside the house. Gradually David was drawn into an unholy nightmare of ghostly mystery, murder and sexual possession.

More things are sold through the Yellow Pages than any other buying guide.

If you think the Yellow Pages is just a listing, think again. It contains all sorts of information that can be extremely helpful no matter what you're shopping for. Like, does the place take credit cards?

What are their hours? Etc. Etc. Etc. Maybe that's why more people read the Yellow Pages last year than just about any book published. Curl up with it the next time you're shopping for something.

ADDISON WHITE VOWS ARE READ

Before a setting of hurricane lamps and candle arches decorated with English Ivy and daisies, Miss Susan Louise Addison became the bride of Myron Perry

White. The couple exchanged vows in the double ring ceremony at 7:00 p.m. May 6, at the Greenlawn Church of Christ in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Addison of Lubbock, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Addison of Kelton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd White of Brownwood.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white satin, designed and sewn by the bride. It was fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and an empire waist, both accented by re-embroidered Alencon lace, beaded with seed pearls. The full-length fitted sleeves featured beaded lace appliques with the satin cut out underneath. The sleeves ended in a slight flare at the wrist. The lace and pearls also formed two panels on the skirt front and was repeated in a band encircling the hem of the skirt and chapel length train. Tiny satin-covered buttons accented the back of the dress. The chapel length mantilla made of illusion was bordered with matching lace and pearls. Upon a satin-covered Bible that her mother had carried in her own wedding, the bride's silk bouquet was of white roses, and a variety of pink, blue, green and yellow flowers. Fresh baby breath completed the bouquet. To complete her attire, the bride wore an heirloom pearl necklace and a tiny inscribed gold bracelet. Also, she wore the traditional blue garter that her mother had once worn, and her father placed a lucky 1978 penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Addison wore a pink floor-length chiffon dress; the skirt was adorned with tiny pleats, and a fluted ruffle bordered the hem; a chiffon cape graced the sleeveless bodice. Mrs. White wore a blue sleeveless A-line dress; the gathered bodice featured an empire aist, and chiffon cape was sprinkled with applique flowers to complete the floor-length dress.

Miss Lisa Brown served as maid of honor; Miss Ellen Johnson and Mrs. Roxie Brown were bridesmaids. They each wore a matching floor-length dress of pastel voile—blue, green and pink, respectively. Each carried a white lace fan adorned with a silk bouquet and pastel ribbon streamers. Melissa White, the flower girl, wore a floor-length yellow veil dress, and carried a white lace basket filled with flower petals. Cody White was ringbearer. Albert Brensing served as best man, while Brent Derington and Frank Edgar were groomsmen. The ushers were Steve Addison and Mark Addison, brothers of the bride; Don White, brother of the groom; and Steve White from Odessa.

Seated at the guest book was Miss Dora Booth; the table was covered with an eyelet cloth and a silver bud vase with a long-stemmed rose. Guests were met by five young girls with wicker baskets, who gave each guest a "thank you" scroll and at the reception rice roses. The girls were Renee Boyd, Melissa Boswell, Dana Parks, Shelly Parks, and Bluzette Phillips.

Covered by white shirred voile over white taffetta, the bride's table held the four-tiered cake, decorated with pastel roses and forget-me-nots. A bride and groom topped the cake, which was served by Mrs. Regina White and Mrs. Caddy Schoppa. Mrs. Loretta Parks served the punch. The groom's table, covered with light blue linen, held a German chocolate cake decorated with Marzipan fruit; also a silver coffee service, and butter mints and candies made by the bride and her mother. Servers were Miss Carla Clemens and Miss Annette Bodling.

For the honeymoon to Colorado, the bride wore a blue ruffled blouse and matching skirt, and the groom wore a vested biege suit. They will live in Lubbock, where he is an accountant and she is a student at Lubbock Christian College.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this means of thanking our many friends, for what they have done for Coy, since his accident.

We thank each one who sent flowers, cards, phone calls, and last but not least all the prayers all over town, other wise, Coy just wouldn't be with us now.

We thank everyone for seeing after and doing our work. We know some of them but there are some that was here working we don't know about.

Thank you is a very poor word, if it doesn't come from the heart. Believe me it comes from our heart.

Social Security Beneficiaries

"Social security beneficiaries (except those receiving disability benefits) will be allowed to earn more in 1978 and still receive their full social security benefits," Howard Weatherly, Social Security Branch Manager, said today. "New legislation signed into law on December 20 included the following provisions:

1. Beneficiaries 65 or older can earn as much as $4,000 without any cutback in their social security checks. Once a person's earnings exceed $4,000 for 1978, $1 in benefits will be withheld for each $2 in earnings.

2. People under 65 can receive all benefits if their annual earnings are $3,240 or less. The $1 for $2 reduction applies to earnings above $3,240.

3. The retirement test monthly provision in the law in effect through 1977 has been eliminated except for the first year a beneficiary receives benefits. In 1977, for example, a person could receive his social security check for any month he didn't earn over $250 or work at his business, regardless of the total earnings for the year. This will no longer be true.

4. Provisions are in the new law to increase both the $4,000 and the $3,240 amounts each year, starting with 1979," Weatherly explained.

Wheeler VFD Receives Check

The Wheeler Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of M. V. Callan.

The money will be used for their loss prevention program.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Wheeler Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

PLACED FIRST: Shannon Patton and Donna Quarles based Contest April 29. They will compete at State 4-H Roundup June 6-8 at Texas A & M University.

KEEP ALERT TO HAZARDS OF ELECTRICITY

Electricity powers many of the necessities and conveniences in the modern home, but it can also cause trouble unless given a reasonable amount of attention and care, says the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA).

Failure of many householders to treat electricity properly is clearly evident in NFPA studies which show that about one of every seven dwelling fires is caused by misused or defective electrical wiring and equipment.

To see if there might be uncorrected electrical hazards in your home, try answering "Yes" or "No" to these questions:

1. Is the right size fuse (15 amps for lighting circuits) in each socket in the fuse box? Do you use a new fuse—never a substitute—after each blow?
2. Do you use extension cords within safe limits of their capacities (500 wats for the most commonly used type)? If you must use an extension cord to feed an appliance drawing more power than this, is it of the heavy duty type?
3. Are extension and appliance cords replaced immediately at the first sign of frayed or cracked insulation? Do you make sure that cords are never run under rugs or hooked over nail?
4. Are electrical appliances checked periodically to make sure they are in good operating condition, and are they repaired or replaced at the first sign of trouble?
5. Is your television antenna installed where it cannot fall across power lines, and is it equipped with a properly grounded lightning arrestor?

If there are and "No" answers on your list, take corrective measures immediately.

FIRE DEADLY COST

Fires, most of which could be avoided, exact this tragic average daily toll in the United States and Canada:

- 34 lives
 - 1,884 houses and apartments
 - 42 school and college buildings
 - 11 churches
 - buildings on 126 farms
 - 136 manufacturing plants
 - 384 other business properties, including stores, offices, restaurants, garages and service stations, warehouses, and grain elevators.
- Residential fires alone claim well over half the estimated 12,600 persons who lose their lives in fires each year, reports the National Fire Protection Association.

Fires reported for the past week was 5-4, False Alarm.

Here & There

Mrs. Oren Horn has returned to her home since her release from the hospital where she had a broken hip repaired. She is doing quite well. Her sister-in-law, Fannie Mae Bradstreet is staying with her for a while.

Mrs. Eula Bradstreet has been on a trip to visit relatives. While she was at Roswell with a daughter we had this re-occurrence of winter. It snowed there. On her return trip she visited at Hereford, and Borger. In Borger the snow had to be raked off the car before they could get in. All in all she had a nice trip although a 'shivery' one. She didn't hesitate to put the electric blanket back on the bed when she got home. (Note: I've learned not to take the electric blanket off the bed before June 1st. This year it will be much later than that.)

Wright Biography

Abilene—"With God in the Light", a biography of one of the major figures in Northwest Texas Methodism, the late Rev. Cal C. Wright, will be published June 1 by McMurry College Books.

The life of "Brother Cal" was written by Dr. Joseph D. Stamey, Chairman of the McMurry College philosophy department. The 164 page volume contains both illustrations by artist Shari Burns and photographs.

Wright served as pastor of the Wheeler United Methodist Church from 1915 to 1917.

Dr. Stamey says he sought to portray the living man behind the gentle public character of Brother Cal—the family man, the man who read widely, who remained proud of his cowboy beginnings, the man in the Welseyan circuit rider tradition.

From now until May 30, anyone contributing $8 more to the Cal Wright Scholarship Fund at McMurry will receive a free hardback copy of Dr. Stamey's book upon publication. The hardback edition of this

Foster Whaley Wins By 650 Votes

Foster Whaley thinks there are too many laws governing the lives and businesses of Texas residents. He hopes to remedy this situation in Austin.

The Gray County farmer and former Extension agent is one step closer to the state capital today following his successful bid Saturday for the Democratic nomination for state representative from the 66th District.

A latecomer who did not enter the race until January, Whaley accumulated 7,895 votes to defeat Glenn Conrad, a young Armstrong County farmer, who polled 7,241 votes.

Leads in Gray, Floyd Wheeler and Childress counties—the most populous in the district—pulled Whaley ahead on Conrad who led in the other six counties.

Officially, Whaley spent $7,020.85 on his campaign compared to Conrad's $11,174.36. Whaley raised $4,580 for campaign expenditures while Conrad raised $3,460.95.

A 19-year veteran as Gray County Extension agent, Whaley also spent six years as Armstrong County Extension agent. He now farms west of Pampa.

However, he told The News today that he currently has his farm land leased out.

As for future campaign efforts, Whaley said he plans "to meet key leaders in every county of the 66th District." He said he will continue his "personal contact" campaign approach.

Whaley, with his wife Lois, acted as campaign managers doing all the promotion work themselves. He said they will continue this campaign policy in his state representative bid against Republican Bill Hale of Floydada. They will meet in the general election this November.

He said he will campaign for the office and not against the person between now and November.

Saturday's official Democratic primary vote, with Whaley's vote listed first, was: Armstrong; 336 to 459; Briscoe, 297 to 406; Childress 824 to 795; Collingsworth, 633 to 696; Donley; 547 to 670; Floyd, 1,118 to 820; Gray; 2,403 to 1,621; Hall, 493 to 526; Motley, 306 to 329 and Wheeler, 938 to 919.
