John Nevill Files For Place On School Board

Mr. John Nevill, Eastland County manager for Southern Television Systems, Inc., has filed as a candidate for Place Five on the Eastland Independent School Board of Trustees. The election will be held Saturday, April 5.

Place Five is presently held by Donald Kinnaird who has announced that he will seek re-election.

Mr. Nevill issued the following statement in the connection with his announcement.

"Frankly, I regret that the school election is set up on the place system, because I certainly am not running 'against' anyone. As a parent and a citizen of this city, I am simply offering my services as a trustee."

"I believe that we have a fine school system and am interested only in helping make it better. I have no 'axes to grind', nor do I have any grudges. My candidacy is simply a public statement that I'm willing and ready to work in the best interest of our young people."

"I will appreciate your support and vote in the April election."

Mr. Nevill was raised in Sonora, and he attended TCU for two years. He moved to Carlsbad, New Mexico, where he was employed in the pot-ash mines. While he was in Carlsbad, he met his wife, Nelda.

After he spent seven years in the Navy in the Submarine Service Division he returned home and came to Eastland to work for the Southern Television Systems, Inc.

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

As yourself an important question - just how much do you know about the organization, policy, and scope of your local public school system? Few other facets of our society have as much influence on your life and the life of your children as our educational system. Public Schools expenditures account for the single largest portion of the state tax dollar. Even more significantly, the education our children receive in public schools will determine the quality of life for all of us in the years ahead.

Each of us, then, has a responsibility to learn all he can about public education in the community and state. March 3 '75 has been designated as Texas public schools week this year. Sixe the opportunity to learn. Visit your local schools. Observe, evaluate, ask questions. Are your tax revenues being spent as effectively as possible? Are the teachers in your schools qualified? Is your child receiving the highest level of education we can provide for him?

The buck, literally, starts with each of us. We cannot have quality education on any level without individual concern and participation on the part of each citizen, both parent and non - parent. Do your part by observing TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK this year, March 3 '75.

W.Q. Verner
Mayor
City of Eastland

A lack of enthusiasm seems evidenced by James Reid as the Rev. Loring Rigley, when Mrs. Rigley (Annette Pierson) shows a telegram explaining that a former gentleman friend is arriving for a visit. The scene is from "The Flattering Word," one of three one - act plays to be presented by Eastland Civic Theatre this week end Call 629 - 1141 for reservations.

"In matters of importance, style not sincerity is the vital thing," Gwendolen (Sherry Phillips) is about to conclude after a whispered word from Cecily Cardew (Robbye Fullen) in "The Importance of Being Earnest" one of the three plays which will open Friday. The two men awaiting their decision are Jack Worthing (Richard Wende), left, and Algernon Moncrieff (Don Werley).

Eastland Memo:

Science is opening avenues of investigation into physiological factors regarding bird migration. Ultraviolet light seems to be a force in bird reproduction, in glandular performance, in mobilizing lime for egg shells, and in establishing the areas migration leads to. It appears that the long summer daylight of the north country had a threefold favorable bearing on birds that nest in the high altitudes; 1. The longer span of daylight offers the parents a better chance to find food for the family, 2. The stimulus of daylight on the reproductive mechanism itself, 3. The ultraviolet light providing a larger brood. Offsetting these to some degree is the mortality rate of the longer migratory flight.

Birdbanding is gradually telling a few things about bird migration. Some of the results are incredible; an egret banded in Mississippi was found in Saskatchewan; a spotted Sandpiper banded at Jones Beach on Long Island was shot in the French West Indies 25 days later; the chimney swifts which have been a mystery, have truned up on the upper Amazon; a Black Throated Green Warbler banded in Philadelphia was found in Mexico, and finally a Junco banded in British Columbia was found dead on the rim of the Grand Canyon.

Summarizing, the main impulse looms that birds must find a large land area with adequate daylight, ultraviolet light, plus a food supply, to thrive on when nesting and raising a brood. Migration may be like natural coloration, a by-product of evolutionary pressure. Summers then in the north supply the needs for breeding, then the migration south promptly at the close of breeding period, may be a time to rebuild, or rejuvenate, or whatever, but is a fact we cannot explain except by supposition. Science, birdbanding, and much study have been most helpful, but there is still much to be revealed. This marvelous instinct possibly should remain a mystery.

You may wish to identify another winter visitor here in Eastland, the Field Sparrow. A 5 to 6 inch smaller, more petite Sparrow, with longer, slimmer tail, this sparrow is an attractive little visitor. A pink Bill, rusty cap, clear breast, little facial marks, but an expressive eye ring with set him apart. He does have wing bars, but otherwise is sparrow colored. The field sparrow is a songster, not a chirper. He will return to Canada in April, having been here since October. I will bet that if you watch closely you will spot one in your yard, if you have some sparrows.

City Welcomes Firms, Annexes, Calls Election

The City of Eastland heard good cable television news, took steps for an important new firm, annexed new choice building sites, and called an election a the regular Commission meeting Monday evening at City Hall.

That's the good news. Commissioners also discussed in detail the need for a new water line to Airport Acres, and expressed unanimous concern for the lack of the filing a city audit for the past three years, and passed resolutions seeking corrections to this.

Mayor W.Q. Verner presided with Commissioners Dale Bakker, Bill Hoffmann, Charles Marshall and H.V. O'Brien present.

Southern Television Systems Local Manager John Neville, accompanied by Mrs. Neville, appeared and reported that his company has taken significant steps towards meeting the requests of the commission last years. Application for the mic-wave system from Breckenridge to Eastland has been on file with the FCC since October and the period during which objections could be filed ended last week and there were none, so the company is presently waiting for FCC approval. As agreed earlier, the company has established an answering service to receive service calls 24 hours a day.

Also an important breakthrough has been made in handling sudden power surges, Mr. Neville said, and the system has been off only once since the rate increased and that, he said, was due to a power failure in the east part of town. The commission thanked Mr. Neville for his report and his company's willingness to cooperate.

Mike Ford, representing Mr. Jack Cox and Breckenridge Lumber Co., appeared asking to lease a block of city land on N. Ammerman St. alongside the T&P Railway where the company plans to build a freight handling yard in the rail movement of their materials. They are presently receiving cars in Ranger, formerly in Graham and originally in Breckenridge buy prefer the Eastland locations because of it T&P Rail convenience. Mr. Ford indicated that the yard would be secured and would employ some four people immediately, and the company might in the near future set up one their mills in Eastland.

The Commission adopted a resolution welcoming the company and agreeing to give them an option for the lease with the details of costs, time and improvements to be worked out between the company and the city attorney.

Eastlander Carl Garrett appeared asking that four 120 by 300 foot lots in his development north of town, be annexed into the city, and that serious consideration be given to providing an adequate water line to the area in the near future.

The Commission agreed to accept the lost and ask City Manager Lewis Tiner to secure

Mr. Garrett was also asked to present a written proposal to the city stating specifically what he plans to do and what he expects the city to do. He will also be furnished a copy of an ordinance recently passed by the city requiring professional services in connection with development planning.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Thursday, February 20, 1975

CELEBRATION

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON* D. C. --The reading of the Farewell Address on George Washington's birthday has become an established custom in both Houses of Congress.

The official holiday was changed to the third Monday in February in 1971, as were some of our other national holidays, on the proposition that holidays falling on the day following a weekend would be less disruptive in industry and government.

Washington's address was read in the United States Senate as early as 1888 and has been read annually since 1896. In the House of Representatives the ceremony was inaugurated in 1889. Democrats and Republicans alternate the reading each year.

Washington's address was not a speech in the strict sense. I was more of a lecture filled with admonitions on both domestic and foreign matters. It received its first attention in the Philadelphia "Daily American Advertiser" in September of 1796. Washington's main purpose in making his statement public was to eliminate his name as a candidate for a third term as President. He used the occasion, as well, to present his thoughts on the desirability of a strong union and a justification for policy of neutrality towards France and England.

General Washington warned the republic against tampering too freely with the Constitution and strongly emphasized unity, based on patriotism and liberty. He warned against excesses in Governmental action and against a concentration of power in any one department of Government. He described it as "a fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent it bursting into a flame, lest instead of warming, it should consume."

One part of Washington's address is certainly apropos to today's situation. He said, "As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible, avoiding occasions of expense by cultivating peace, but remembering, also, that timely disbursements, to prepare for danger, frequently prevent greater disbursements to repel it; avoiding likewise the accumulation of debt, not only by shunning occasions of expense but by vigorous exertions, in time of peace, to discharge the debts which unavoidable wars may have occasioned, not ungenerously throwing upon posterity the burden which we ourselves ought to bear. The execution of these maxims belongs to your representatives, but it is necessary that public opinion should cooperate. To facilitate to them the performance of their duty, it is essential that you should practically bear in mind, that towards the payment of debts there must be revenue; that to have revenue there must be taxes; that no taxes can be devised which are not more or less inconvenient and unpleasant."

This warning about public debt has fallen on deaf ears in more recent years. To spend for wars and to prepare for national defense in time of peace has, fairly constantly, been our practice but it is questionable as to whether we are keeping to the latter at this time.

Washington warned against foreign entanglements. Of course, our world has shrunk because of transportation and communications but his admonition to "constantly keep in view that it is folly in one nation to look for disinterested favors from another; that it must pay with a portion of its independence for whatever it may accept under that character," should be fresh on our minds. He went on to say that where favors are extended to foreign nations that we will likely be repurchased with ingratitude for no giving more. This too has been our experience since World War II.

George Washington had a deep insight into the future of our Nation and perceived what could happen to it under the system he helped devise. Much of what he warned against we have ignored, even recognizing that change is inevitable and that adjustments are necessary.

All-Weather 78

Goodyear's new All-Weather 78 is built with polyester cord that's first tempered in an exclusive Goodyear process to set the cord at optimum strength and resilience. The wide 78-series tread is "reversed molded," a technique borrowed from race tire production. In reverse molding, the contour of the tread surface is slightly concave as it comes from the mold—so that when the tire is inflated, the tread makes full, flat contact with the road. And the rib-tire tread design is well grooved, with plenty of traction edges to provide decisive grip. In every detail, this new All-Weather 78 gives you honest quality, at a price that's in step with the time.

History Of A Club And Street

BY JOE GREY

To the best of my recollection, this was the first, and one of the very few, player pianos that I ever saw. Theirs was one that could play an automatic roll or it could be taken off automatic and manually played like any other piano. I have often thought about that old piano and wondered how the automatic player worked and how it was powered. Apparently, it was an electric-powered piano, as that was the only source of power that it could have operated on.

In appearance, the tennis club's player piano looked much like any other upright piano. But right in the middle of the frontpiece, just above the music rack, was an oblong panel opening with a sliding cover. Slide the cover back and there was the automatic mechanism. By some means or other, impressions much like those of an IBM card were made on a long roll of what we would today call plastic. In those days when we had never heard of the word "plastic" we used to refer to the material out of which these rolls were made as "celloid."

An entire piece of music could be "recorded" on one of these rolls and when the roll was affixed in the proper manner and the player turned on, the piano "played." Not only did it sound exactly like someone was sitting at the keyboard, but as this roll unbound the keys on the keyboard actually moved up and down. That is to say that if one was agile-minded and fast enough with his fingers, he could learn to play a tune by watching the keys go up and down.

But as I say, these player pianos were then somewhat of a rarity. I don't suppose I have seen over five or six of the things in all my life and most of them have been in museums. One doesn't find them in actual use these days.

Not only was the Eastland Tennis Club a fun-gathering place for its members, but the club allowed many non members the use of its facilities. The Rev. Sam Williams and his people used to celebrate the annual June 19th celebration out at the tennis club.

I have often wondered about June 19th's being a "big" day in the lives of black people, as I am sure that Lincoln's Proclamation was neither signed nor issued on June 19th of any year.

It happened at the early part of a year, according to the way I remember my history. But here is what the Texas Almanac, published by the A. H. Belo Company, publishers of the Dallas Morning News says about it: "On landing at Galveston, June 19th, 1865, Gen. Granger (this General Granger was the United States Army officer who had command of the military district of Texas at the time of ending of the Civil War) issued a general order that 'in accordance with a proclamation by the executive of the United States all Negroes are free.' This date, June 19th has usually been celebrated by Texas Negroes as Emancipation Day. It is usually called Juneteenth."

Sam Williams was a remarkable man. He was a teller at the Exchange National Bank and dearly loved to tell his listeners: "I tel 'em to move so I can sweep," he'd say with a laugh. He was full-time minister of the gospel and was a spellbinder when it came to preaching the gospel. One could almost hear the hinges of Hell sizzle when Rev. Sam got into the part about what happens to a sinful soul at the Last Homecoming. And he was a good engineer, especially when it came to taking care of a building. He maintained the elevator and all of the heating plant in the Exchange National Building for years.

And he was a better weather forecaster than those working for the Weather Bureau. Kids around town didn't have to look in the paper or listen to the radio to find out what the weather was going to be a day or two hence, all we had to do was consult Sam Williams.

And he was a superb cook. This brings us back to Juneteenth at the Eastland Tennis Club. On June 18th of each year Sam would be given this brings us back to Juneteenth at the Eastland Tennis Club. On June 18th of each year Sam would begin his preparations for his annual barbecue which they held at the tennis club. Sam started off by digging a trench about three feet wide, about six or seven feet long and about three or four feet deep. He filled this trench with firewood and about dark, or a little later on in the evening of the 18th he set fire to the firewood in this trench. After it had burned itself well down he placed three or four pieces of about two inch pipe across the trench and laid enough chicken wire to cover the top. On top of this he laid his side of beef, perhaps a goat, or whatever it was that he planned to serve in tomorrow's barbecue. He also prepared his homemade barbecue sauce right on the scene. Of course with all of this activity going on, little kids like Happy Hightower and myself happened to occasionally go by and see what was going on. Young boys were very inquisitive, especially when someone is preparing food.

EHS Homecoming

Letters Sent From Sea To Shinning Sea

Letters about EHS HOME COMING on June 21, 22, and 23 have been sent from sea to shining sea. Committees are expecting replies from Leon R. Nabors in Iran, L.L. Vaughn in Brazil, Lola Mae Ester (Mrs. Theodore Rozsa) in Canada, J.L. Reid, in London, Elizabeth Givson Harris in Alaska, Patty Hood Daniels in Ethiopia, Harold Wellman in Australia, Jack Roper in Hawaii, Neal Pogue in France, Ed Hart in Lebanon, Edith Cox (Mrs. John McQueen) in the Canal Zone, Betty Hagar Rose in Singapore, and Keith Elliot in England. Hope they all can come.

Something interesting has been happening since the planning of the Homecoming has started. There have been people writing in wanting to get the Eastland Telegram so they can keep up with the E.H.S. Homecoming and the x's.

For instance an E.H.S. Graduate that is living in Jenesbore, Arkansas wrote the Chamber of Commerce because he didn't know the name of the newspaper but id want to start receiving it.

The Homecoming is not only getting the classes together again but it is also getting families together again. Families are planning Family Reunions!

EASTLAND HIGH SCHOOL EX:

Remember those Homecoming celebrations in 1957, 1960, 1965, and 1970? It is difficult to realize that five years have gone by and that we will be having another Homecoming in 1975, but that is what this letter is all about.

The 1975 celebration will be in Eastland on June 20, 21, 22, 1975. The Wendell T. Siebert Elementary School will be headquarters for registration and information. Registration will begin at 1 p.m., Friday, June 20.

As Ex-students receive their first HOME COMING news letter, enthusiasm is growing, but help is needed. About 175 letters have been returned because of incorrect addresses. The committees also need addresses for a number of people who have not been contacted at all. If you know of someone who wishes to receive the news letter--the second one will be mailed soon--please send a card to Box 688, Eastland, or telephone numbers 629-2031, 629-1349 or 629-1326. Class agents are asked to give time and place of class meetings. Watch for this report to be published soon in the Eastland Telegram.

There will be golf tournaments, a barbeque, dances, etc.; but best of all, there will be an opportunity to renew old friendships and visit former classmates.

Do you know who your class agent is and when and where your class meeting will be? If not, inquire at the registration desk and note the bulletin board. Most of the day Saturday, June 21, will be the time for class get-togethers, so start planning yours now. The Big Barbeque will be Saturday evening at Maverick Stadium.

You are well aware that hotel and motel space in Eastland is limited. Our next newsletter will include a list of hotels and motels in Eastland, Cisco, Ranger and Breckenridge. Each person will be responsible for his own accommodations.

Stacy Blair Entertains Music Study Club

On February 14, at 3:30 p.m. the Eastland Music Study Club met in the Annex of the First Christian Church on South Lamar for a Trumpet Concert given by Stacy Blair and his accompanist, Laurene Peterson. He was assisted by Mike Lee in showing slides of the music encampment at Interlocken, Michigan which is sponsored by the National Music Clubs of America. All so very beautiful and interesting.

Public School Week
March 3-7

The public is invited to visit area public schools during the annual observance of TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK* March 3-7. The announcement, made by officials of the observance, states that classrooms at all levels, from elementary to high school, will be open for visitation.
 The recognize the event, many schools will offer student presentation and art displays, and others will offer special programs. Parents are specifically encouraged to visit the schools attended by their children. They are invited to discuss areas of concern with teachers, visit and have lunch with their children.
 The Texas Public School System was founded 120 years ago on the premise that educated citizens are better citizens. Education is, if anything, more vital now than ever before in understanding and living in our complex society, and parents play an important role in any child's education.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
 by Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Although, the 64th Legislature has done little that is spectacular, it has managed to spend about a million dollars a day on the average during its first month of operation.
 Since reporting for duty here January 14, lawmakers have passed so-called emergency measures totalling $314.8 million. And work on the new biennial budget is just getting started good in House appropriations and Senate finance committees!
 A significant part of the total—$123.8 million for increased retirement benefits for state employees and school teachers—is contingent on adoption by voters of a Constitutional Amendment April 22.

The amendment would raise the ceiling on state matching contributions to the retirement systems. If voters won't permit that, the appropriation voted by lawmakers this month will be nullified.

One of the first of the appropriations bills speeded through both houses provides $93 million for immediate pay raises to state employees. More raises will be included in the budget for the new 1976-77 fiscal period.

Another $80 million was allocated as an emergency grant fund to aid school districts which are having a hard time making ends meet.

Another $18 million went to the junior colleges which have been experiencing unexpected growth.

A variety of other smaller appropriations, measures, totalling several million dollars more, are being acted on speedily.

HIGHWAY FUNDS FREED

President Ford announced he would free $2 billion worth of impounded federal interstate highway funds to help provide jobs and fight the recession.

State Highway Department officials estimated $150 million worth of projects can begin soon when the money is received.

Texas ordinarily contracts for $30 million to $50 million worth of projects monthly, but may take bids on $150 million worth in March and April to get the newly-released funds.

Meanwhile, a federal judge in Washington held the President does not have the power to impound money appropriated to the states for highways by Congress.

Texas and 11 other states filed the lawsuit which brought the new ruling.

HILL BACKED

Atty. Gen. John Hill's lawsuit to block a $45 million intrastate long-distance rate hike by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company won House of Representatives support. Representatives voted 87-

48 for a resolution encouraging Hill to push forward with the action.

Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville said Hill is acting in an area without "specific statutory authority" and needs all the backing he can get.

Hill has challenged the increase on grounds that the rates proposed are too high. He won a temporary restraining order to halt the hike, and the case was set for hearing on his request for injunction early this week.

ENERGY PLAN OFFERED

Gov. Dolph Briscoe offered his own energy plan to President Ford in a meeting at Houston.

Included in the Briscoe plan are deregulation of the price of "old" oil, coupled with an excess profits tax. A "plowback credit" would be given on funds used to develop new energy. Briscoe also suggested invoking the Defense Production Act of 1950 to increase the supply of tubular steel needed for drilling.

COURTS SPEAK

A federal district judge in Dallas refused to grant a temporary injunction to prevent the airline pilots union from ordering pilots to honor picket lines of Texas International Airlines strikers. The airline appealed to higher court.

The State Supreme Court held invalid an incorporation attempt of Tucker in Anderson County.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals turned down the appeal for new trial of an osteopath in Garland who was convicted of selling barbiturates.

A pollution fine assessed an oil trucking company was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed a $241,875 default judgment against an out-of-state man sued for failure to deliver diesel fuel on grounds he was not properly served with legal citations.

Probation and enforcement officers must make a diligent effort to arrest a probation violator before revoking his probation.

AG OPINIONS

Attorney General Hill held Texas Youth Council must accept juvenile aliens properly committed to its custody by courts as delinquents.

In other opinions, Hill concluded:

A county cannot contribute public funds for construction of a facility to be operated by a private livestock show corporation.

Department of Labor and Standards officials have authority to arrest for Labor Agency Law violations but are not "peace officers" with right to carry pistols.

Valueless records may be disposed of by county clerks and recorders and the state librarian, and those which are not confidential can be transferred to a private party.

Information in a university student's job placement office must be disclosed to the student concerned.

Governor Briscoe appointed Dee S. Osborne of Houston to the West Texas State University board of Schwethelm of Comfort to the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority board of directors and Donald W. Harris of San Antonio to the Advisory Council on Community Affairs.

 State Rep. Anthony Hall of Houston and Nancy Perkins of Abilene were named chairman and vice chairman of a new State Democratic Affirmative Action and Voter Participation Steering Committee. State Party Chairman Calvin Guest announced the appointments.
 John Albach is the new regional director of the Texas office of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

SHORT SNORTS

Governor Briscoe, estimating Nacogdoches County flood damages at $7 million, requested designation of the county as a major disaster area. Bowie, Deaf Smith, Motley and Ellis counties disaster area designation was also asked.

 A bill to lift the $500 million Lower Colorado River Authority bond debt ceiling has been given Senate committee approval as an emergency.
 A four-installment Senate committee hearing on a bill to raise interest rates on loans up to $5,000 finally concluded, with the measure (SB 69) referred to sub-committee.

Advertising helps you get sales.

Companies, agencies and media that advertise should be the ones you do business with, because we suspect you'd rather do business with confident people.

They take the time, trouble and money to inform you — to help you know more — about their products, their services and their markets. They care enough about you to go out of their way to tell you they want to do business with you.

We suspect that when the chips are down, this is how you can tell the real leaders.

They get our vote.

They also should get yours. If for no other reason than they are helping to build business for both of us.

Do You Remember When?

By H.L. Duncan

There were times when it became necessary to raise money for soul improvement in the community or to help some member of the group in need caused by misfortune.

One of the ways and means used by the people for this purpose was to call a meeting in the community house for a certain Saturday night. This meeting was called a "box-supper". The older girls in the group would prepare a complete meal for two and put in a box. Before closing the box and binding it with string, she placed her name on top of the cloth covering the food. The boxes were dressed up by bows made of ribbon or some other attractive means of drawing attention. The boxes were delivered to the gathering place, they were all placed in a group on a table in the front of the room.

The selected meeting director would call for attention on the designated hour. This was the time for the boxes to be auctioned off to the boys. The highest bidder for a box would have the pleasure of sharing the food with the girl who prepared it. When certain boys thought they knew certain popular girl prepared a certain box, the bidding could get rambunctious. When all boxes were sold, the couples paired off in the room and enjoyed the food together.

These many rising affairs were considered most successful if they raised as much as $40.00 or more.

"Six Immortal Days" Theme For Lent

The evening services of the First Christian Church and the United Methodist are being shared for the six Sundays of Lent. Rev. Steven Church and Rev. Ben Marney, the respective ministers, are using the theme: "Six Immortal Days."
