

CONGRATULATIONS TO members of the First United Methodist Church on the observance of your 100th Anniversary today.

MOTHER'S DAY brings this story to mind, reported from a recent Eastland County event. It seems that a rather old-fashioned fellow was watching youngsters in a horsemanship event. He said to a bystander: "It's terrible the way they dress today. Just look at that young boy with the cigarette, sloppy haircut and tight breeches."

"That is not a boy", said the other. "It's a girl and she's my daughter."

"Oh excuse me, sir," said the man. "I mean no offense. I did not know you were her father."

"I'm not", said the other, "I'm her mother". Didn't hear what happened thenm.

PERHAPS THIS from Good Neighbor Bernice Stephen is a more appropriate salute to motherhood and the praying influence of good mothers everywhere:

AMERICA ON ITS KNEES:

...not beaten there by the hammer and sickle, but freely, intelligently, responsibly, confidently, powerfully. America now knows it can destroy communism and win the battle for peace. We need fear nothing or no one...except God.

Our Father in Heaven we pray that YOU save us from ourselves. The world that YOU have made for us, to live in peace we have made into an armed camp.

We live in fear of war to come. We are afraid of "the terror that flies by night, and the arrow that flies by day, the pestilence that walks in darkness and the destruction that wastes at noon - day."

We have turned from you to go our selfish way. We have broken your commandments and denied YOUR truth.

We have left your altars to serve false gods of money and pleasure and power.

Forgive us and help us. Now, darkness gathers around us and we are confused in all our counsels.

Losing faith in YOU, we lose faith in ourselves. Inspire us with wisdom, all of us of every color, race and creed to use our wealth, our strength to help our brother, instead of destroying him. Help us to do YOUR will as it is done in heaven and to be worthy of YOUR promise of peace on earth.

Fill us with new faith, new strength and new courage, that we may win the Battle for Peace

Be swift to save us, dear God, before the darkness falls.....

From the Battle for Peace an address by Conrad Hilton

Soil Stewardship Week May 4-11

The week of May 4-11, 1975, has been proclaimed Soil Stewardship Week by the National Association of Conservation Districts. Local sponsor of this annual event is the Upper Leon Soil and Water Conservation District. This week is set aside to stimulate and to remind all people of their responsibilities in conserving the soil and water resources that America has been blessed with.

The theme for 1975 is "A Test of Strength". A few years ago, soil stewardship was that spirit that lived within those responsible people at work on the land. But today this strength is being tested and the work becoming more critical. As each year goes by, the pressure on our limited supply of resources are being compounded by the over 200 million people in this country. The demands are increasing for housing and highways, for food and fiber, and for industrial and recreational space. Thus, soil stewardship, once the responsibility of farmers and ranchers, has become the responsibility of every American. All of us are land users, directly or indirectly and because of this each of us should take pride in doing his share of seeing that this land remains productive for generations to come. To accomplish such a goal, it will be necessary to combine our strengths and dedicate ourselves to the wise and proper use of our most precious resources.

The Soil Conservation Service, assisting the more than 3000 conservation districts across the U.S., has been delegated the responsibility for developing and carrying out a national soil and water conservation program. Their technical staff is trained to diagnose resource problems and prescribe safe use and treatment. Land users wishing information or assistance on specific conservation problems should contact his local SCS office. In Eastland, the SCS office is located on the third floor of the Eastland National Bank Building.

Remember, soil stewardship is everybody's responsibility.

Production Starts June 6th At Amphitheater

Beginning June 6, 1975, a new production begins in the Kendrick Amphitheater and will be presented each Friday and Saturday night at 9:00 p.m. from that date through August 16, 1975.

The complete life of Christ, the same production that is presented on Easter Sunday, will be repeated throughout the summer as a tourist attraction, not only for this area, but for the State of Texas and the Nation.

The decision to render this production stems from the 11 years of the Easter Pageant Presentation, which is now known nationwide. Many local, area and statewide people have asked the Kendricks to present this, as the story told is too great to be presented only one time a year. The many people that have had their lives touched and even converted at the presentation, have expressed to the Kendrick family the strong emphasis the presentation embeds into their spiritual lives.

The final decision was prompted through three writers and photographers sent by the State of Texas this past Easter to take a complete

And There Was Ed Cox

BY JOE GREY

From time to time it has been my good fortune to observe and also make some sort of critical judgment of athletes, both good and bad.

But I am thinking right now, and I don't anticipate that anyone will ever change my mind on this point, that the finest all-round athlete I have had the good fortune to observe, both in his personal life and athletic performance, was none other than Ed T. Cox Jr., the finest athlete Eastland High School ever produced over its long history of athletic prowess.

I will readily confess that the first impressions of a youngster will always remain with him till his dying day, and they sometimes may be a little distorted, but I am thinking that Ed T. Cox was the finest football player I ever saw, and I think I've seen a lot of them over a long, long period of years. Some of them have been all-American, some have been all-state, and some of them couldn't make the all-backyard time. But Ed Cox was the best.

And I'll be quite frank about it. I don't know of anyone that could come close to him, that I have observed personally, as a football fullback, unless it was John Kimbrough from Haskell, who was All-American at this position at least two years at A&M. But Jaming John had the help of a line that was considerably heavier than the one in front of Ed Cox when he played for the Eastland Mavericks.

Ed Cox was such a fine athlete that he was too good to play with the grammar-school boys while he was in grammar school. The high school boys needed his services and he was brought up from grammar school and while in the 7th grade played tackle for Eastland High School. At that time high school in Eastland consisted of the 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th grades. The first seven grades were in grammar, or elementary school. We did not have a junior high school in our education scheme, at least here in Eastland, then.

As a matter of fact, the 11 starters who played on the Eastland Maverick football team of 1922 were: Dittie Downtain at right end, Bert Williams at right tackle, Victor Patterson at right guard, and right in the middle of this bunch was that great-big heavy-weight all 135 pounds of fighting humanity who hit harder than any center in the league, Earl Conner Jr., John Simmons at left guard, Ed T. Cox Jr., at left tackle, Vernon Russell at left end, in the back field James McAdams quarterbacked, Sidney Ferrel at right half, Artie Liles at left half, and a Jones, whose first name escapes me at the moment, was fullback.

This is the team composed of high school players except for the left tackle, which was filled by a seventh grader, Ed T. Cox. It was quite an honor for a grammar school athlete to be asked to work out with the "big boys", much less play with them in their scheduled games, but if one was an Ed T. Cox, he was right up there with the "big uns".

From the best sources that I am able to gather, apparently the first football Eastland High School fielded was the one of 1920. It is interesting to note that of the players who came out for the squad that year, it is said that over half of the boys to report had never had a football in their hands until they reported for their first practice. And it is also noted that one of the two games Eastland lost to that year was to DeLeon, who was regarded as contender for the state. I will have something to say about this DeLeon time further on in this piece.

Eastland's coach in 1920 was a Mr. Bagby. In 1921 H.S. Parker was head coach and Mr. Bagby was his assistant.

Some of the players who did yeomen service for these coaches were: Ends: Claud Downtain, Vernon Russell, Finis Laffoon, Edward Downtain.

Tackles: Bert Williams, Harry Sone, Hamlin McWilliams.

Guards: Sam Day, Philip Gibson, John Rimmons, Tommy Pickens, Russell Hill.

Centers: Earl Conner, Carroll Hunt, Walton Sone.

Quarterbacks: Pete Andrews, McAdams.

Fullbacks: Ed T. Cox, Maurice Stalter, Volney Jones, Artie Liles.

Halfbacks: Jack Perryman, Gordon Brelsford, Homer Mitchell.

From all sources I have at my disposal I have also reached the conclusion that Ed T. was one of the hardest-hitting ball carriers that ever put on a football shoe. When he hit 'em they stayed hit.

Eastland High School in those days had a cute little system of enforcing discipline and maintaining morale among its students by having our so-called delinquents "stay in" after school. In order to make it a little easier on the faculty, all those students who had to "stay in" reported to a central room where one member of the faculty supervised complete silence—or almost complete silence—for an additional study period. In official parlance of the school board this was called the Detention Hall. However, by some queer form of logic that only bright and spirited Eastland high schoolers, the unofficial name of this "stay in" period was the Night and Day Club.

As there were at that time Milton Day, Neil Day and Volney Day in school, and on almost any given day one or all of this goodly group was assigned to the Detention Hall to make up some large or small deficiency in scholarly attainment, and as they were almost always joined by another scholar who had some problems from time to time by the name of Clarence D. Knight Jr., the

Everybody did it on a story they chose in our reading book. Coach McPherson came to our class and showed us a lot of arrow heads. He also let us see some of his books on arrowheads. MRS. COATS SECOND GRADE
These Mothers Day stories were written by Mrs. Patsy Coats second grade class at W.T. Siebert Elementary. They are true expressions for "What is a Mother?"

What is a mother? A mother is a sweet person. And is very very nice. I love her very much. She does so many things for us. I think she's so pretty. And she loves me so much. She never stops to rest. When she's ready for bed she's tired! She's always on the job. Her food is so good. She never makes a mistake. That's my mother.

What is a Mother? A Mother is nice and pretty and my Mother she is nice to Dana and I. Our Mother plays with us sometimes. But most of the time she's busy in the kitchen fixing breakfast or dinner or supper.

A Mother is a kind person. Some times she is sweet but not all the time but some times. Mother has to get the kids and take us to school every morning. Then she has to go back home and clean the house. And then she has to go pick us up and then daddy comes home and she has to fix dinner and sit the table and has to find us some clothes to wear to school. Then she puts me to bed. She kisses me, and turns out the light.

Mother goes to bed and dreams and wishes she didn't have to clean the house, good night.

A mother is a very very good friend. I love my mother and she love me. Mother tells me to do something. I don't mind to do it because I love my mother very much. If my mother tells me to do good in school I try to do good.

Happy Mothers Day Candi Creecy

What is a grandmother? A lady who does everything for you. She washes cloths. Fixes dinner. Takes you places. Lets you do things by your self. She works while you're at school. She works trying to make the house look nice.

My mother is nice to me and she plays with me. She cooks for me and she loves me and she takes me to school. She buys me a ice cream in a cone too. And I love her the way she loves me. She likes for me to talk to her also and she asks me to clean up my room a little and I do it and I obey her.

What is a Mother? She comes and gets me at school. She cooks dinner for us. And she washes dishes. And she can make beds and she works outside. And she can take me to school. And she helps take out trash. And she can feed the dogs. And she washes clothes. And she dries the dishes.

A Mother is nice. A Mother is a lady. Mother helps me and I help her too. Mother works in the kitchen cooking food. And she makes a cake for me. Mother is very good. And I love her

A beautiful Mother is nice and smart and Pretty and very good. The best Mother lives in my house. The best of all.

A Mother is a person that does things for you like she takes you places that you want go to. And that's the way it is. So I wish you a happy Mothers Day. So I will wit you a poem on the back. Its called Mothers Day.

Mothers Day is a happy day for Mother. Although they don't get to many presents. But I wish you a happy Mothers Day.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to all the kind people for the visits, cards, flowers and food in our time of sorrow.

MEMBER 1975

Do You Remember
BY HERMAN DEMPSEY

In the early days of the oil boom when the well drilling equipment and materials had to be moved from the railroad to the well drilling site, a number of hauling contractors came into the area to perform the important function.

The hauling contractors used horses and mules hitched to wagons for the movement of the materials. The livestock had to be fed with oats and hay brought in from distant locations since the local farms could not produce enough for the contractors. The hay moved into the county generally was what was called Johnson Grass hay. This was the beginning of Johnson grass in the county. The seeds were scattered throughout the county and wherever the grass started, it spread rapidly and was to provide the farmers with additional problems in their attempts in controlling the spread of the prolific grass.

As sometimes happens in the area, the rains came and the unpaved county roads became so muddy under the heavy oil field traffic that caused the hauling contractors to bring in teams of oxen to move the materials in the mud. The oxen were able to move the loads of materials in the mud much better than the horses and mules. There were as many as ten oxen hitched to one wagon. These oxen were hitched in pairs with the five pairs hitched one in front of the other. Their actions were controlled by voice command and the crack of a bull whip by the oxen "skinner". Skinner was the name used to identify the man who controlled or drove the oxen. Those drivers using mules were called "mule skinner".

The Light Touch

By Clint Bray

Our friend turned down three months' paid vacation for two reasons. First, if he were gone that long, the company might suffer. Second, it might not.

Middle age is when your narrow waist and broad mind begin to change places.

An artist can change the expression on a face with a single stroke of the brush. But then, so could our mothers.

These days, there are pocket calculators, pocket cameras, pocket recorders. Everything for the pocket but money.

Another sign of this automated age is the digital clock. We don't even tell time by hands anymore!

You'll get an old fashioned welcome at BRAY'S in Eastland and Ranger. See us and talk over your summer play clothes.

Inflation-Fighting Food Ideas

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Instead of letting the high price of food devour your family budget, you can fight back with these timely tips:

1. Try the supermarket's own brand. These "house brands" are generally less expensive and often of comparable quality to better-known brands. Compare.
2. Use coupons to save on your usual grocery items. Keep your eyes open for upcoming specials and coupon offerings and plan your meals around them. If a market is out of an advertised special, see if there is a "rain check" or comparable product being offered. If the supermarket is willing to help you save money, take advantage.
3. Be sure to save trading stamps if your favorite store gives them. They add up very fast these days, and the average book of S&H Green Stamps, for example, is worth $3 in merchandise—equal to a 2.5 percent discount. You'll appreciate that stamp collection when you get an unexpected shower invitation.
4. Don't throw food away. Save dry bread for crumbs or stuffing. Put celery tops in a jar and use instead of parsley for garnishes.
5. Freeze small amounts of leftovers, or use them up along with other dry ingredients and add water to make up the required amount of liquid.

So—try house brands, coupons, stamps, substitutes; keep more leftovers moving, and you'll take a giant step forward as an inflation-fighter.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

BY BOB BOYD

"Mommy, fix it, please"... "Mother, help me, please"... As children we knew we could count on her, and we did. She understood us. She was our insulation against childish chills of fear and anxieties. As time goes on, many mothers hear different words; strange words of impatience, irritation, exasperation -- yes, even rebellion. They hear, "Oh, mother, you just don't understand". In later years, if we will only admit it, we know many mothers did understand things that were beyond our understanding in former years. But, there are some things a mother should not be expected to understand at any time.

How can she understand why days and weeks go by with no word from those she likes to hear from? How can she understand why she is expected to be insensitive to indifference or neglect? How can she understand why expected phone calls don't come through? How can she understand why (unwritten) letters don't arrive?

Yet, on Mother's Day she understands. Frankly, wouldn't it be more pleasant for her if demands for her understanding would be less on all the other days?

INSULATION

Blown In Attic Or Walls

Check these Features:

- Insulation is one thing you buy for your home or office.
- That can be honestly called an investment.
- Reduces or eliminates wall sweating, because it stops the cause.
- R Factor 5.25 per inch.
- FHA and G.I. approved.
- Solar Therm is fire proof.
- Contrary to public thinking, rock wool and fiber glass settles out over a 5 to 6 year period and loses most of its insulating qualities and should be done again.
- Solar Therm is guaranteed in writing not to settle or pack or to ever lose its insulating powers for the life of the structure.
- Rats, mice, squirrels, birds, will not enter an attic where Solar Therm is blown in
- 4" of Solar Therm is equal to 8" of rock wool or any other insulation now in use for the home or business.
- 1 brick wall insulated with Solar Therm is equal to 6 brick walls not insulated.
- It can be blown in through 3/8" hole, making it possible for older homes to be insulated without taking out inside wall.

Detention Hall became called the Night and Day Club. There was always a Day or a Knight in it.

However, it is interesting to note that especially during football season, all boys who came out for the football team were excused from the Detention Hall if they went to football practice.

So it was that one day out in old Connellee Park, where the boys were practicing that fine afternoon, that Galand Poe and Gerald Wingate made their way instead of reported to their just deserts of the Detention Hall. Both of these fellows were excellent athletes but at this time in their lives, they were a little young and were playing, at best, on the second team.

One of the purposes of the second team was to furnish opposition for the first team in practice. On this particular day Galand and Gerald lined up in the defensive line. Ed T. took the ball and ran right over them so hard that Gerald went rolling like a tumbleweed to the sideline and Galand wound up resting in the sandpit at the foot of the polevault practice court, completely out of the field of play. Galand recovered his breath, jumped up with enthusiasm, clapped his hands together. "Come on, Gerald, let's get him this time."

Poor old Gerald had been hit a lot harder than he liked to be. He looked at Galand with such a sad look on his face and said, "I don't know about you Doc, but as for me, I'm going back to that damned detention hall."

And he did.

The following is taken verbatim from the scrapbook of Wilma Wayne Cox Hunt, who was Ed T.'s sweetheart in their high school days: This concerns the 1924 game

"Flashy a system of attack and defense that eclipsed anything which they have yet displayed on the football field this year. The Eastland Mavericks, led by Captain Ed T. Cox, ran roughshod over the sturdy Big Spring Steers, coached by Big Joe Ward of Texas University fame at Big Spring. The boys invaded Big Spring with a will to win or die and when the smoke of the battle had cleared and the dust of the Big Spring gridiron had settled, the battered Red and Black of Eastland held the lead end of a 23 to 7 score. They had staged a spectacular come back. They had defeated a team that held Comanche 6 to 7; a team that Ranger could defeat only 6 to 0 and a team that held Abilene to 19 points.

"An idea of how the name of Ed T. Cox has gone out all over at least this section of Texas might be gained from the following comments published in a circular which advertised the game at Big Springs: "This game will be worth going miles to see. The Mavericks are led by Captain Ed T. Cox, selected all-star fullback, a man whom no team has kept from scoring. Cox is reported to be a second "Red" Grange at evading tacklers, a Stollenwerck at throwing passes and a "Booty" Johnson with his toe."

All of us know who the famous "Red" Grange this poster was referring to. He was one of the mightiest collegiate runners of that time and was all-American at Illinois. He later was in sports broadcasting with one of the major television networks. The Stollenwerck referred to was a Waxahachie boy who had enrolled in Southern Methodist University and was helping establish that school's reputation as a passing team.

The "Booty" Johnson referred to was a Waco boy. I think his nickname came from the fact that he could boot a football so far and so straight. Waco in those days was the perennial champion in high school football. "Booty" was their prized kicker.

The football at that time was a little more oval shaped than the present football and was easier to dropkick. As a matter of fact, most of the field goals and the points after a touchdown then were drop kicked as opposed to being kicked from placement, which is the case most of the time now. As a matter of fact, I don't recall seeing anyone try to drop kick the present ball. Drop kicking is now a lost art because of the present shape of the football.

But this "Booty" Johnson used to demolish the opposing teams with some of his pre-game antics. Just before the start of any game his Waco High school played in, "Booty" would take a half dozen or so balls out to the midfield on the 50 yard line. He would drop kick a ball toward one of the goals and while that ball was still in the air would turn and drop kick another ball toward the goal at the other end of the field. Both balls would go through the uprights to the applause of the crowd as ole "Booty" clamly trotted off the field.

Ed T. didn't put on a pre-game show like that, but when the chips were down he could kick that ball with the best of them. In one game he kicked a ball from his own 45 yard line. That's a pretty good piece of kicking.

I think the bitterest rivalry Eastland had in those days was with the Cisco Lobos, who were contenders for the state title in 1925. Galand Poe flatly made the prediction that if the Lobos had had Ed T. Cox that year they would have been not only state champions but in all probability, if there were such a title, national champions.

Up until about this time DeLeon had one of the finest football teams in the state. But for some reason that has not been completely explained to me, a goodly number of DeLeon boys turned up playing in Cisco that year. Among those who should have called "DeLeon Home" the mighty Honk Irving, who also made all-state at Cisco High School.

Honk Irving later worked for years for Humble with Temple Harris and Temple loves to tell about the times the two of them used to sit around and spin yarns of their days in school and of their respective athletic attainments. Temple says that Honk brags that he had been hit by runners in high school, college and in professional football but none of them could hit as hard or were as hard to stop as Eastland's Ed T. Cox.

Trying to stop Cox beyond the line of scrimmage was akin to trying to settle a cyclone with a feather fan.

Ed, while punishing the opposition unmercifully, also pushed himself and hard. He played with injuries that would have put lesser persons in the hospital. He looked at playing while hurt as just part of the game and a fellow who couldn't play while feeling pain as being a sort of sissy.

In track and field events Ed again was a one-man track team. He was a do-it-all and do-anything sort of guy. If they needed a man to run the mile, he ran the mile. If they needed a man to do the high jumping, he high jumped. And once he entered a race or an event nothing could stop him. I well remember watching out at old Connellee Park one afternoon seeing Ed perform superbly in a 440 yard race which is one of the hardest runs in track events. A runner runs as hard as he can for the entire 440 yards which is not short distance for full speed. In the race I have in mind, Ed lost a shoe about halfway down the track, but this didn't slow him up at all. If anything he ran a little faster, but at the end of the race the cinder track had cut the sole of his foot until it looked like fresh hamburger meat. Ed shrugged it off as "part of the game."

By far and away the best team Ed played on was the team of his senior year, the 1925 team. These were the days when a player went both ways. As a matter of fact, a substitute, newly inserted in a game, couldn't speak to anyone until after one play was played. The purpose of this rule was to keep the game in the hands of the players. It was impossible thus to send in a play from the bench by the use of a substitute. Let a sub speak before the ball snapped and wham, bam, a penalty.

The ball was not brought in from the sideline unless it was bonafidely carried out of bounds. Even though there might not be space for the teams to line up, they lined up on the ball even if the center was at one end of the line. In this type of situation the offensive usually ran out of bounds on the next play to get the ball brought back into good playing area.

In 1925 the huddle had not yet become universally popular. They used the huddle sometimes and sometimes they didn't. Milton Hunt tells me that it was remarkable how few plays they did use. About all they had, he tells me, were running plays and now and then a pass play but the running plays were designed to get the runner to the line of scrimmage. They weren't potentially touchdown plays. But with Ed Cox carrying the ball just about every play was a potential touchdown.

His junior year, I think it was, Abilene was the terror of this part of Texas and to score on them was to almost do the impossible. Ed ran 55 yards the first or second time he carried the ball against those big ol' boys.

Eastland's 1925 team was: In the backfield, E. Milton Hunt, John Ross Williamson, Ed T. Cox and Ozzie Edwards.

In the line there were Shazo Harrell, Finis Laffoon, Jimmy King, Milton Day, Robert Cox, Bobby Garrett, L.V. Simmons, Jimmy Matthews and Volney Day.

This group is one of the finest football teams to ever play high school football in Texas. And playing in an era when it was extremely easy to alter one's birthday, this was one of the few football teams that didn't have some over-agers playing. Ed Cox never came close to being too old. He was born July 31, 1906. That would have made him 19 during the football season of 1925, his senior year. I have no idea what the age limit was then, but it turned out that some of those fellows playing for the opposition played till well beyond their 21st birthday.

Just for fun, here's what Boyce House in 1924 wrote about Eastland's high school team:

"And now we enter the era of increasing football interest and increasing attendance on the games in the Oil Belt District. Vernon Adams, former fullback of Simmons College, was the coach of the Mavericks of 1924 and Ed T. Cox, brilliant fullback and the captain. Other regulars included Garrett, Hunt, Mathews, Robert Cox, Ed's brother; Earnest, Day, Harrell, Laffoon, and Coleman in the line; Edwards, Seastrunk and Williamson in the backfield.

The season opened with a 6-6 tie against the Simmons College freshmen. Cox made 29 yards through a nest of tacklers and a little later ran 17 yards for a touchdown. Another brilliant run of 36 yards around end was made by Ed T., who stiffarmed three Simmons men enroute.

"Albany was defeated by the largest score that an Eastland team ever made 96-0. The quarters were only 12 minutes long and most of the game was played with Eastland using reserves.

"After these two encouraging exhibitions, however, the Mavericks played their first conference game of the year—and lost. The Bucaroos were their opponents and the game was played in Breckenridge. The first half ended 7-0. The longest field goal ever made in the history of Oil Belt football was kicked from placement by Ed T. Cox in the second half. He had been badly hurt but, standing on his own 52 yard line, with the ball far over toward the sideline, he kicked it squarely between the goal posts.

"After Cox and Williamson were hurt Breckenridge was able to run the score up. Ray Laney was sent in as a guard and was a rock of Gibraltar on defense.

Brownwood Lions were defeated 30 to 13, Seastrunk being Eastland's backfield ace in this game. Volney Day and Shazo Harrell, the ends, starred.

"Then came the most thrilling game of the season. It was played at Ranger. In three plays, Ranger made a touchdown. Mills, Yonker and then Mills was the order in which the ball was carried. Later, on a bad snapback, Yonker, Ranger fullback, was downed behind his own goal line for a safety. A pass, Harvey to Walker, gained 30 yards and put the ball on Eastland's one yard line as the half ended.

"The Mavericks came back fighting furiously. Cox hurled a pass to Volney Day for 25 yards. Short gains on a run, line plays and passed placed the ball on Ranger's five yard line and then Laffoon made a great catch of Cox's pass to score. Cox then kicked the extra point from placement to put the Mavericks ahead 9 to 7. Thus it stood until the 4th quarter when the Mavericks were penalized 15 yards then on the next play another 15 yards. Ranger finally scored on a Yonker plunge. Ranger lined up such stars in this game as Harvey, Walker, Mills, Yonkers, Shell and Short."

If my memory serves me right, this fellow Shell carried the nickname of T-Bone. My, what a nickname!

Ed T. made somebody's all-state team at least three years running, but I think one can say that his senior year was his best year.

Volney Day says that the biggest thrill he ever had in a football game was in the 1925 game against Breckenridge. Eastland received the kickoff in that game with Volney taking the ball on about the 20 and Volney ran it back to about the two—that is Breckenridge's two yard line. The next play Ed T. took it over for the score. Eastland won that game 23 to 7.

Jaycee News

Eastland Jaycees gathered Thursday night for their second regular meeting for May. The meeting was held in the Eastland Jaycee Hall and was called to order by Eastland Jaycee Vice President Larry Rollins, in the absence of President Don Baird.

Minutes were read and approved followed by treasurer report by Tom Holland, who gave the current bank balance and bill received the previous week.

Other committee reports - were from Hank Cannon who gave an outline pertaining to the trip to Strawn the previous Friday night for the Strawn Jaycees Charter Night Banquet in which the Eastland organization played a large part.

"The reason for the Mavericks scoring record is not far to seek. Ed T. Cox, captain and fullback, is the answer. Weighing 195 pounds, he is as fast as most backfield men 30 pounds lighter and he is equally brilliant at line plunges and end runs. If these fail to score, he drops back for field goal from placement. Breckenridge is still talking about the total he kicked from the 53 yard line after TWO OR THREE RIBS HAD BEEN TORN LOOSE a little earlier in the game. Cox also does the passing and punting for the team.

"Coach Chapman of the Cisco Lobos and Coach Coan of Breckenridge and, in fact, all of the coaches whose teams have met Eastland, unite in declaring that Cox is a wonderful player and is unquestionably worth of all-state selection on the mythical all-state team."

And as I was saying as we came in one can say a lot about a lot of football players, but when it is all said and done Ed T. Cox was the greatest I ever saw put a foot on a football field. If he had gone to Notre Dame, who did attempt to recruit him, there is no doubt in my mind that he would have made an all-time all-American. But in speaking of footballers about all I can add is:

AND THERE WAS ED T. COX.

Following the report from Cannon, Tom Holland gave a state director's report from notes in the absence of State Director Charles Hill. In the report details were given in preparation for the State Jaycee Convention to be held in Houston on May 15, 16, and 17, as to which Jaycee would be going, when and what some probable expenses would be. Gary Moore gave the final committee report. This report gave an estimated amount of earnings for the Jaycees from the Circus which was sponsored on May 6.

No old business was brought onto the floor, thus leaving the Jaycees with new business to take care of. Motions that passed in the new business segment of the meeting were:

- (1) That the Jaycees will invite Chamber of Commerce President Emmett Lasater to the next meeting to give the organization some ideas as to what they can do to help in the Bicentennial.
- (2) a committee was appointed to look into the replacement of water pipes that have corroded due to lack of constant use in the hall, to bring an end to the leakage which effects the office of Saul Pullman below the hall.
- (3) Another committee was set up to look into local finances for the Texas State Peanut Bowl Pageant, Committee members are to meet with Grover Hallmark and discuss this matter.
- (4) Eastland Jaycees also decided to have the outstanding Young Man Award this year, which will involve the selection of a committee member for this task.
- (5) June 14 was set as installation banquet night.
- (6) on June 7, Eastland Jaycees will put out flags in recognition of Eastland County Law Enforcement Banquet to be held on that day (7) a 25c fine will go into effect next meeting night on anyone not wearing his Jaycee vest to a Jaycee function unless otherwise stated, you are exempt if you do not have a vest.

Meeting adjourned at 9:25 p.m. with next meeting night May 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Eastland Jaycee Hall.

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is the single biggest cause of energy loss in most homes—in both summer and winter. Experts recommend about six inches of insulation in your attic.

If your attic insulation doesn't measure up, you can add more of either loose, blown-in insulation or "batts" (long strips). The loose kind of insulation settles, so it may be necessary to add more after several years.

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, and, since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.
