Begin Revival

Rev. R. E. Day, Pastor-Evangelist of the Baptist church in Eastland, is coming to lead the Baptist church in a two weeks campaign which will be launched with today's services. Rev. Day was formerly in evangelistic work and was a very successful revivalist. He is a special program in connection with the Sunday night revival service at the Baptist church. A unique feature of the program will be the singing of gospel songs by the older boys and girls. An orchestra of eight instruments, composed of students of the school will play. Memory verses will be quoted and other exercises setting forth the work of the school, will complete the forty-five minute program, which will be followed by a fifteen minute sermon. At the close of the service a baptismal service will be held.

Special Program Baptist Church

One hundred boys and girls who have been attending the Baptist Vacation Bible School will render a special program in connection with the Sunday night revival service at the Baptist church. A unique feature of the program will be the singing of gospel songs by the older boys and girls. An orchestra of eight instruments, composed of students of the school will play. Memory verses will be quoted and other exercises setting forth the work of the school, will complete the forty-five minute program, which will be followed by a fifteen minute sermon. At the close of the service a baptismal service will be held.

Judge Estes Of Texarkana Dies

TEXARKANA, Tex., June 14—Federal Judge William Lee Estes of the eastern district of Texas died at his home here today after an illness of several days. He was 60 years old and was appointed to the Federal judgeship in 1926.

Judge Estes was stricken with acute indigestion while holding court in Beaumont Tuesday and hurried home to recuperate. Paralysis set in after he reached home and his condition steadily worsened until this morning when he died.

Judge Estes is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. John W. Mayo and Miss Evelyn Estes, and one sister Mrs. J. M. Carter, all of Texarkana.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at noon. A native of Texas, Judge Estes was born in Boston, Bowe county, Oct. 18, 1870 and received his early education at Wytheville, Virginia Military Academy and Hampton Sidney college of Virginia. Later he attended the law school at the University of Texas and was graduated in 1893.

After completing his education Judge Estes moved to Texarkana where he practiced law until his appointment to the federal bench. He was former president of the Board of Education of Texarkana, a member of the American Bar Association and the Texas Bar and affiliated with the American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Judge Estes attended the Presbyterian Church and held membership in the Elks Club of Texarkana, the Texarkana Country Club and in the Masonic Order.

Judge Estes' death came at a time when he was law until his appointment to the justice of the United States Court of Circuit Appeals at New Orleans. He had been recommended for the post by United States Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana.

Many West Texas Cities Menaced By Rising Water

Boy Scouts Marooned at San Angelo; Railway Washed Away Near Vernon; Haskell Partly Under Water.

By United Press
DALLAS, Texas, June 14—A total of 8.30 inches of rain had fallen at Haskell, Texas, during the past 24 hours, the weather bureau reported here today. It was the heaviest precipitation in the 24-hour period and resulted in a serious flood menace. Six inches of rain which fell at Haskell Friday left the town water-bound and many homes in the lower parts of the town were flooded with water waste-deep. Occupants made their escape to safety with the aid of row boats and hastily constructed rafts and were given shelter in the homes of citizens outside the flood area.

Bales of cotton floated about in the rising waters as the rain came down in torrents for three-hour period. Although some damage was caused by the high water, the rain was a boon to crops, farmers said.

Scout Marooned

SAN ANGELO, Tex., June 14—Row boats and skiffs were prepared today for an attempt to rescue 60 boy scouts marooned on a hill top north of here by a swift rise in the Concho river. The scouts were in no immediate danger, it was said, as they had plenty of provisions and their place of refuge was high above the river. The scouts were driven from camp site near the river when the waters started rising yesterday. They were stranded for several days. More than 100 persons living and camping along the river banks were forced to move.

One man, P. C. Lee of Luling, Texas was drowned in the floods. His automobile was swept off a highway into the raging waters. Neither car nor body had been recovered today.

Railway Washed Out. Stanford, Texas, June 14. More than three thousand feet of Wichita Valley railway tracks were washed out near here and at Weiner, 30 miles distant, by a hard rain which soaked this section during the night. Trains service over the crippled portions of the road had been discontinued until the tracks could be restored. It was believed repairs would be completed and service resumed by tonight.

Several highway bridges in the county also fell in the path of passwaters with the result that passenger bus lines were unable to operate on schedule. Crops benefited from the rains.

Cloudburst Near Vernon

VERNON, Tex., June 14—Nearly eight inches of rain fell within an hour and a half in the Oklahoma community nine miles east of here today. The cloudburst flooded business houses and homes and washed out hundreds of acres of crops. Nearly a foot of water was standing in most business houses of the little village, including the First State Bank. A dozen residences were flooded with from 10 to 12 inches of water. No estimate of the extensive property damage could be obtained.

Traffic over state highway No. 5 was blocked and the underpass at the Denver railroad crossing a mile west of the town was filled. Scores of motorists were marooned.

Boy Drowns When Car Runs In Creek

By United Press
MEXIA, Tex., June 14—Lindsay Phillips, 15, was drowned when the car in which he and Leonard Cherry, 15, were driving along Federal Highway No. 75, between Streetman and Fairfield at 10 o'clock this morning ran off the road into Tehuacana creek and was submerged.

The creek was high from recent rains. Cherry saved himself by swimming ashore but was unable to rescue his companion.

Burglary Charge Filed Against Two Youths Here

Two Who Give Arkansas Addresses Confess To Car Theft After Arrest By Night Policeman

W. V. Fields, 19, of El Dorado, Arkansas and W. T. Moore, 19, of Texarkana Arkansas are lodged in the Eastland county jail charged with burglary in connection with their alleged robbery of the Hall Tire Company.

Night policeman Ben Pryor caught the two youths at the filling station operated by the tire company after they had allegedly broken the locks and taken gasoline from two of the gasoline pumps. As he approached they started their car and attempted to get away but the officer jumped on the running board and stopped them.

The car bore Arkansas license plates but plates stolen from a local car were found on the seat of the car.

This morning the two confessed to stealing the car which was a Lincoln Phaeton, in Arkansas. Officials of Texarkana were wired this morning to determine whether the car had been stolen there.

Finger prints of the two youths were taken by Chief of Police H. E. Lawrence and were forwarded to the Bertillon Bureau at Washington, D. C., to determine whether they were wanted for other offenses.

The burglary charge was filed by the chief of police and the case was turned over to the county attorney's office late yesterday afternoon.

Widow Of Railway Employee Enters A Suit Against Road

Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, widow of Charles Vester Jones, who was killed in an accident on the Eastland, Wichita Falls & Gulf railroad here March 11, has brought suit against the railroad company for herself and six minor children, asking $5,000 for herself and $1,000 for each of the children, making a total of $11,000.

Jones and Louis Roper, both of Eastland, were killed when a boiler on which they were working as employees of the railroad company, exploded.

Mrs. Jones' children are John Vester, 17; Charles Vester, 13; James David, 10; Noama Fay, 7; Verly Ellon, 5; and Dan Harvey 2.

Horned Frogs Play Magnolia

The Eastland Horned Frogs will meet the strong Magnolia team from Breckenridge today on the locals field. The game is to be played in Eastland and will begin promptly at three o'clock.

The starting lineup for the Frogs will probably be Pope, 1b, Lafon, 2b, Har, 3b, Watson, 3b, Miller, 4b, Coleman, cf, Overby, rf, Amis, c, and Turner, p.

Woman Given a Death Sentence

TOMS RIVER, N. J., June 14—A woman was sentenced to death today when she was found guilty of a charge of murdering her husband and her husband's friend.

After a jury had deliberated through the night, it returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Hattie Evans and private Lester Underwood of the Marine corps attached to the Lakehurst station. They were charged with killing Robert Evans and Albert Duffy of Brooklyn.

The death sentence was announced when the jury failed to recommend mercy.

SLAYER AND VICTIM IN TOPEKA MURDER MYSTERY

Virgil Pointer

Roy Kramer

Virgil Pointer, said by authorities in Topeka, Kan., to have confessed that he murdered Roy Kramer, vice president of a Topeka packing company so that the company might collect $30,000 insurance on Kramer's life, is shown here with the victim. Pointer, a laborer employed by the company, is said to have told authorities he was asked by Louis H. Kimmel, president, to commit the deed. Kimmel, arrested and released on bond, indignantly denied the charge.

News From The State Capital

Back home again with former Appellate Judge John Brady, after his trial at Dallas charged with killing Miss Lehlia Highsmith, Mrs. Brady today issued a formal statement announcing that her plans now are undecided but that her health will be their first consideration. "I hope to nurse him back to strength and health again," she said.

Whether Brady can again be tried on a capital charge is a question of dispute among attorneys. Brady's counsel contend that his conviction of killing without malice prevents his ever being tried for a more serious offense if the new trial is granted unless he has asked it.

He received a sentence of three years. No case has been decided on that point since the Texas murder statute was recently amended, it is said.

District Attorney Henry Brooks was out of Austin today and could not be reached for a statement on the attitude he will take on that question. Brooks was reported to have gone to Dallas.

Governor Dan Moody was back at his desk today after a trip to Caddo Lake with Chairman Ross Sterling of the State Highway Commission and chairman Pat Neff of the State Railroad Commission. He will support in the Democratic primary election since his own withdrawal from the race for governor. State Senator Thomas B. Love, candidate for governor, will speak tonight in the state capital. All state candidates may make addresses in the capital, the State Board of Control has decided.

John Callan of Austin won the State Rifle Association Championship in the tenth annual shoot held at Camp Mabry Friday. His score was 321 out of a possible 350. U. S. Army Sergeant Liddle of San Antonio was second with 320.

Efforts to link up all the great network of motor bus lines in west and northwest Texas with convenient connecting schedules will be made by the State Railroad Commission at a conference called today to be held at Mineral Wells in the territory bounded by San Angelo, El Paso, Amarillo and Fort Worth are being requested to attend.

A hearing will be held by the railroad commission at Mineral Wells on June 21, also, to hear protests against motor freight lines.

Next week hearings will be held at Brownsville and McAllen. The Brownsville hearings will be on Monday.

To Attend Meeting Of Fort Worth C. C.

Walter B. Scott, president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce and county clerk admitted with some chagrin today they had paid $60 for lessons in ventriloquism, but the "professor" failed to appear when the class met.

Sheriff D. C. Dugan said the missing stranger "was a nice looking man" who said his lessons in "throwing voices" would profit candidates for office, when they made campaign speeches.

Eastland Well Represented At Alameda Picnic

First Picnic of the Season Largely Attended; Candidates Deliver Addresses

A crowd estimated at 750 people attended the all-day picnic at Alameda Saturday. A. E. Lawrence, Eastland attorney, presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers. Prior to the opening of the program the Eastland band rendered several numbers which were applauded by the crowd.

Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce was the first speaker introduced. In a short address he stressed the fact that the towns of Eastland are dependent largely upon the rural communities for their growth and development and stated that Eastland, keenly aware of these facts, was more than anxious to assist in the development of the rural sections. About 100 Eastland people were at the picnic. Eastland merchants also assisted in various ways in making the picnic a success.

Dr. Geo. W. Shearer, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Eastland, was the second speaker on the program. He told his hearers that he was glad to be back again after an absence of 20 years.

Following Dr. Shearer, O. F. Chastain, present member of the House of Representatives from this county, spoke.

Just at this juncture Geo. Harper of Eastland, from some distance to the rear of the speakers' platform, broke in with the announcement that "dinner is served," and the crowd immediately lost interest in any further speaking at that particular time.

A feast of barbecued chicken, goat and beefes and larkes quantities of cakes, pies, bread, pickles and coffee was spread and everyone thoroughly enjoyed it.

After the noon meal the speaking was resumed. The following were among those making addresses: T. L. Cooper, Geo. Bryant, Will Wood, Bert Bollinger, E. V. Allen, Walter Gray, R. L. Jones, Spencer, Geo. Donahue, Miss Beulah Spence, Queen Mary Gray, Mrs. Underwood, B. E. McGlanery, Gilford Gray, T. J. Cunningham, Clyde Garrett, J. D. Barton, Virge Foster, Milton Newman.

The program was featured by play of band music and music from the Merriman String Band, male quartets, etc.

One Man Dies In Big Fire In San Francisco

GALVESTON, Tex., June 14—A pretty 22-year-old girl stowed away, who hid herself in the freighter Nemaha in Belgium and came to the United States to marry her sweetheart, the steward of the ship, attempted to kill herself in county jail here last night.

The girl, Fatima Hayzina Petrewitz De Fleron, has had a hectic career since landing aboard the steamer here a month ago. When she landed she was arrested and charged with illegal entry.

In jail in Houston, when Federal Judge Hutcherson denied her plea for freedom, she attempted suicide before, but was stopped by her attorney.

Then, removed to a hospital, she secretly wed her steward-lover, Valerie De Fleron, who fled his ship to be with her.

All the time she demanded her freedom, claiming she was born in Sitka, Alaska, and so was a U. S. citizen.

Fireman Killed In Washington

WASHINGTON, June 14—A deputy fire chief gave his life and eight other firemen suffered injuries last night in extinguishing a five-alarm fire in the business district here. Not until early today were the last flames quenched.

The dead man P. R. Davis, was killed when a tall suspension ladder gave way beneath him. He and four other firemen were hurled to the pavement 20 feet below.

More Than Fifty Candidates File On Local Ticket

Assessments Against Candidates Made. Will Decide Whether Two Primaries Will Be Held This Year

The democratic executive committee for Eastland county will meet in the county courtroom in Eastland Monday morning for the purpose of arranging the ballot for the coming democratic primary, ascertaining the amount each candidate, whose name appears on the ticket, is to be assessed to defray the expense of printing the tickets, etc., and to transact such other business as comes before it. County chairman Ed T. Cox, stated Saturday.

More than fifty applications for places on the county ticket had been received by County Chairman Cox at noon Saturday. Applications, shown to have been placed in the mails prior to 12:00 o'clock midnight, Saturday, June 14, will be placed on the ballot, Mr. Cox stated. It was not thought, however, many if any further applications would be received.

Only in a few instances are there just one candidate for an office. W. P. Leslie, associate Justice of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, is unopposed for re-election. County Clerk C. L. Garrett, District Judge W. H. McDonald and County Attorney Joe Jones, neither have opponents. Each are serving their first terms.

The county superintendent's race has attracted four candidates. The elective term for this office is now four years instead of two, which makes it more attractive than in former years.

Two primaries is almost certain that Eastland county will hold the second primary this year. This is a matter left entirely with the county executive committee. Chairman Cox stated that he had had no expression from the other members of the executive committee, but he was sure that since the governor's race and possibly other state races, was virtually certain to have to be run off between the two highest candidates in the July 26 primary, making it necessary to have a county run-off, that the committee would order two elections held in this county.

Only a few members of the county executive committee were elected at the last election and vacancies will have to be filled Monday at the meeting here. Chairman Cox has notified all known members of the committee and has written letters to the various communities of the county asking that the voters select a representative and send him to the Eastland meeting Monday, promising that such a representative would be placed on the executive committee.

DANCING

By CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN

JUDITH

COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE

GIN HERE TODAY
 at Storsaway, successful painter, takes Bruce Gidley, a young man, to the Cafe Turc in Greenwich to show him the bohemian life. There he meets Judith Grant, an artist's model and dancer, and her friend, Clarissa Morley, who is Chummy's girl. Chummy's tragic history, how he got into the dance business, and how he got into the picture business, is told. Chummy lives with a girl who looks after her and her. After the two men go to the cafe, Bastien Dumont, an artist, tells Judith that she has come back to New Eastland. Steyne and Chummy fall to recognize Steyne, and Steyne, after giving some money to help the girl, takes his leave. Judith hopes to see her soon.

ON WITH THE STORY
 CHAPTER III
 Next day, about noon, Judith and Bastien met in the room. Judith had been sitting at a table with a view of the famous Max Dickbread, a formidable individual. She had a look of pain. Then he looked at the girl, his face drawn with miserable yearning. "I wish I could do any kind of work that would make me famous and rich," he said feverishly. "Then perhaps you'd listen to me, Judy. I can't expect you to now, although if you'd only marry me I'd work like a plowboy. I'd simply make them take my work and pay for it, and at least you wouldn't have to slave."
 Judy shook her head, and her bright hair glittered under her hat. "I've told you lots of times, Bastien, that I'm never going to marry until I fall in love. Falling in love must be jolly, and it may make it worth while getting married. From what I've seen of marriage, it wants something pretty strong to make it worth while!"

Why should she stay where she is? He is rich, isn't he?"
 "I don't think he's exactly rich, but he's well off. He told me about it. When he left here, he was in despair and half-dotted for lack of food. He made his way to Italy with a man he knew and thought he might make a living by copying old masters. There he fell in with an old gentleman, a rich art collector, who took a fancy to him and made him his secretary. They traveled all over the world. The old man died six months ago and left Steyne very comfortably off. I don't think he left him everything he had, but it was quite enough to keep the wolf from the door."
 Judy clasped her hands. "How absolutely gorgeous for Chummy!" she said. "And, Bastien, he is awfully nice!"
 "Easy enough to be nice when you've got money," grumbled Dumont. "Easy to keep young, too. I'm getting near 30, Judy, and in a few years I shan't be young any more; but there's Alan Steyne, looking like a boy, so fresh and fit—and he's older than I am!"
 "Oh, Lord, hark at Methusalem!" cried Judy. "Why, sometimes I feel 90. Bastien, you silly owl! And sometimes I feel 16. Actually, I'm 23. That's getting old for a girl, too, you know."
 Dumont closed his eyes for a moment with a look of pain. Then he looked at the girl, his face drawn with miserable yearning. "I wish I could do any kind of work that would make me famous and rich," he said feverishly. "Then perhaps you'd listen to me, Judy. I can't expect you to now, although if you'd only marry me I'd work like a plowboy. I'd simply make them take my work and pay for it, and at least you wouldn't have to slave."
 Judy shook her head, and her bright hair glittered under her hat. "I've told you lots of times, Bastien, that I'm never going to marry until I fall in love. Falling in love must be jolly, and it may make it worth while getting married. From what I've seen of marriage, it wants something pretty strong to make it worth while!"

"Don't you think you'd better call in some other doctor?" the girl asked.

A week passed, and Chummy's cold did not get better. She developed a troublesome cough, and her cheeks began to look transparent. Judy was worried, particularly as Alan Steyne did not come again.
 Max Dickbread was painting Judy as a Spanish dancer in a sensational work for the Paris salon, and he changed her pose every day. He was a clever artist, but his personality was devastating. Judy could not have put it into words, but he fed in other people's vitality and reduced her, as he said, to a rag.
 Judy went for the doctor. He was a queer Irishman with red hair and fiery eyes. His name was O'Shane, and he ran a dispensary for the poor.
 He was not very encouraging about Chummy. He said she wanted warmth and coddling, and plenty of nourishing food.
 Judy bought many little delicacies out of Alan Steyne's gift. Doctor O'Shane had attended Chummy before. As he was leaving, he said to Judy on the landing:
 "I think her brain's going. She's more childish than she was."
 It was that same day that Chummy started her friend by saying suddenly:
 "I feel so queer, Judy! I think something's going to happen to me. It's a horrible feeling, like a lot of brass bands playing in my head."
 Judy sought Dumont. He was her confidant, the one person on whom she could rely. She made him promise to go and see the doctor and tell him all about Chummy.
 They met again at the Cafe Turc in the evening.
 "Well?" the girl asked breathlessly.
 "O'Shane doesn't think anything could be done," he answered. "If she didn't know Steyne at once, he doesn't believe she will ever know him. He says there's no treatment that could cure her. He was rather decent—for him; tried to explain the case to me."
 Judy was in despair.
 "Has Steyne called again?" Dumont asked.
 "No."
 "Did he say he would?"
 "Yes—I mean, Chummy invited him. Oh, Bastien, that night he was so nice to her! I thought him simply perfect. What can be the matter? Why doesn't he come?"
 Dumont had no answer. In his own mind he could think of several reasons. He had not Judy's unshakable faith in humanity—which was indeed something to marvel at, considering how much she had seen of life.
 Steyne did come a couple of evenings later. He came laden with fruit and flowers, and to Judy he was like a day in spring. His absence was easily accounted for. He had to go to Maine on business connected with the property his late benefactor had left him.
 He came several times that week. Chummy was delighted with him in her placid, "take-every-thing-for-granted" way. She ordered him about just as she did Judy; but not even his repeated visits struck a single chord of her lost memory.
 Judy spoke to Steyne about the doctor one night, as he was leaving. Chummy had not been able to go out yet. The two stood on the landing. Chummy's room was only the pretense of a sitting room, because the bed was hidden behind a rickety screen.
 "Don't you think you'd better call in some other doctor?" the girl asked.

too glad to get another opinion, but I'll see this man O'Shane first."
 The result was that a famous specialist came to see Chummy, in consultation with the Irish doctor. He did not give much hope. He said just what Doctor O'Shane had said. There was no treatment to be prescribed. It could only be left to nature. It was quite possible that Miss Morley might recover her memory, but there were no means known to science which could accelerate the process.
 "So you're just where you were," said Dumont, when Judy told him at the Cafe Turc on the same night.
 "Yes, except that of course Mr. Steyne will take Chummy away now. Her cold's almost well. She wanted to come with me tonight, but I was afraid."
 The young artist said nothing. (To Be Continued)

Letters From the People

I read Mr. Earle Johnson's remedy for hard times in Thursday's evening Telegram with a great deal of interest until I came to the last paragraph, wherein he stated he had just met and made friends, and Chummy smiling unaware that her best beloved was by her side—it was a spectacle that got on Judy's nerves.
 "It's taking such a time!" she went on. "Aren't there better doctors than O'Shane? Can't something be done to make her come back and to make her know you? And she's been feeling queer lately. She's told me so. Oh, do something, Mr. Steyne! It must be dreadful for you—this waiting. It's driving me silly—what must it be doing to you?"
 Alan Steyne did not answer immediately. He was looking at Judy. As she gazed at him in her perplexity on behalf of her friend, his eyes held hers, and she found herself flushing hotly and angrily as she realized that at that moment the condition of poor Chummy was far from his mind.
 She looked away, furious and ashamed at her own embarrassment. Steyne took her hand.
 "Good night, little guardian," he said. "Of course, I'll be only agony if they will present it to the Chamber of Commerce and it is found to be reasonable, feasible and workable it will be tested and we will not forget it over night either."

 I do not believe there is any royal road to wealth and happiness other than that mentioned in the Bible where it says "In the sweat of thy face shall thy eat Bread."

Hoovercrat Voters Do Not Want Love

By RAYMOND BROOKS
 AUSTIN, Tex., June 12.—Hoovercrat voters do not want Thomas B. Love, democratic candidate, for governor. This is the report of the San Angelo Express, based on a staff correspondent's survey of six principal counties, five of which were carried by Herbert Hoover two years ago, when Love was the state Hoovercrat leader.
 Except for Dallas, his home county, Senator Love will fail to make better than fifth place in the race in these Hoovercrat counties. The Express survey concluded. Including Dallas county's vote for him, he was predicted in second place in the combined vote.
 The canvass made by the San Antonio staff correspondent reflected a definite drift of sentiment on the candidates for governor as leading away from Senator Love. The report predicted Love will not reach the second primary.
 Love was put on the democratic ballot here last Monday over the protest of a large majority of the committee, when he announced his readiness to take the pledge of supporting party nominees, and announced to the committee he would not support certain of the nominees.
 Love was a leader of the Hoovercrat movement in 1928.
 The San Antonio Express said the survey indicated the standing of governor candidates in the six counties that had given Hoover a 39,000 majority, including Dallas, where Love is expected to poll

RED WORSTED polka dots are scattered over a white bakou cloche. The band is of white and red grosgrain.
 heavier home-town strength, would be:
 Sterling, first; Love, second; Barry Miller, third; Ferguson, fourth; Mayfield, fifth; Small, sixth.
 "Except for Love's strength in his home county of Dallas, it appears, from talks with business men and experienced politicians, that Love's total strength in the Hoovercrat territory is less than that of five other candidates," the newspaper survey said.
 The counties surveyed were: Dallas, Harris, Tarrant, Bexar, Taylor and Tom Green. Houston is the county seat of Harris county; Fort Worth of Tarrant; San Antonio of Bexar, Abilene of Taylor, and San Angelo of Tom Green county.

 "The survey indicated," its report said, "that Love is not carrying the Hoovercrat vote with him on that as an issue."
 "If a group of representative Hoover counties with a heavy vote do not show Love strength then there can be scant hope for him in the smaller counties. . . . Except in Dallas he seems to have no general support. He is rated fourth or fifth as a rule."

Again Konjola Gives Proof Of Its Worth
 Ft. Worth Lady Happy To Tell What New And Different Medicine Did For Her

MRS. J. V. SLANEY
 "For almost a year my health had been gradually declining," said Mrs. J. V. Slaney, 1300 West Tenth Street, Fort Worth. "I was losing weight and felt tired and sluggish. Every morning I felt like I hadn't slept a night, and I became nervous. I suffered dreadfully from headaches; my appetite was poor; I was badly constipated, and my vitality was slowly ebbing from me."
 "This was my condition when I started taking Konjola. I am now on my fourth bottle, and the change that has taken place is remarkable. I have gained six pounds; the sluggish feeling has vanished; I have new vitality and am refreshed and rested in the morning. I intend to take Konjola right along until I am glad to endorse it."
 Konjola is designed to give thorough and lasting relief. Like any worth while treatment, Konjola should be taken from six to eight weeks giving it a chance to produce the best results. And the results will amaze you—as they have countless thousands of men and women.
 Konjola is sold in Eastland, Texas, at Tombs and Richardson Drug Store.—Adv.

"I'll guarantee you a new sensation in riding comfort over Labor Day"

Yours, G. M. Harper.
 DON'T LET ROUGH RIDING MAR YOUR Labor Day driving. Come in today and let me tell you why your car will perform better than it ever did before, with Federals.
 Federal engineers have revolutionized the pneumatic tire in a way I never thought possible. First of all they got away from excess weight that simply ate up gas. Then they increased the air cushion a full 12%, which means you ride on more air—not on excess rubber.
 The new Federal has the rim-wide full contact tread made of thicker, better rubber. Side walls are longer and more flexible, yet stronger.
 The new Federal De Luxe also gives you mileage—50,000 miles and more—excess mileage that gives you a new factor of safety as long as you drive on it.
 Let me tell you how we back up our claims for this new tire with the broadest tire guaranty ever written on any tire:
 "Money-Back" Guaranty
 "If after 30 days' use you are not fully convinced that these new-type Federals give you more luxurious, air-cushioned riding comfort, better acceleration, easier steering, firmer braking, and the assurance of maximum mileage, return them and your money will be refunded."

Texas Confederate Pensioners To Get First Pay July 1
By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, June 14.—The 11,000 Texas Confederate pensioners will get their first monthly pay check July 1, and will then begin receiving the highest amount of pension in the state's history.
The new pension law going into effect June 19 changes the requirements under which each pensioner must file every month an affidavit, and these are due in Comptroller George J. Sheppard's office by the 15th of this month and of every other month. When they are received later than the 20th, the pension checks cannot be mailed out for delivery on the first day of the month, it was announced.
There will be 1,000 pensioners who will begin getting $50 per month on July 1. The other 10,000 will receive $25 per month. The checks will be the same every month, and there will be no instances, such as last year when Confederate widows received no pension.
Those entitled to $50 a month are Confederate soldiers who have living wives to whom they were married before July 31, 1900. All other old soldiers and the widows qualifying for pensions will receive $25 per month.
Widows who qualify are those over 55 years of age whose marriages to Confederate veterans took place before 1912.
Confederates and widows in the state homes will receive one-half what they are entitled to otherwise.
The affidavit which Confederate and widow pensioners now must make every month is different from that formerly required, in that it does not have to recite what property or income the veteran or widow has. That part of the affidavit has been waived, it was announced at Compt. Sheppard's office.
Mr. Sheppard, son of a Confederate soldier, sent a letter to each of the state pensioners, telling them of the monthly payment basis of the new law, and congratulating them that the pension law has been established out to provide a steady, fixed sum each month and to obviate former uncertainties and confusion.

FIRST TWENTY CITIES SHOW BIG GROWTH

Los Angeles Shows Greatest Increase With Change In Rank From 10th to 5th
By UNITED PRESS
The nation's ten largest cities will show a gain of more than 2,000,000 in population during the last ten years, according to figures gathered by the United Press. Census returns are not complete from some of the cities.
Chicago and Los Angeles probably will have the largest increase, the figures show. Los Angeles reported a gain of 655,057 while Chicago showed 672,948 over the 1920 figures. New York's official count may reveal a greater numerical gain than either of these, although estimates give New York only 522,000 gain.
The most notable change in the ranking of the first ten cities was made by Los Angeles, which stood tenth in 1920 but passed Cleveland, Baltimore, St. Louis, Boston and Pittsburgh to take fifth place this year. The cities are expected to rank as follows, although revised figures later may affect the standings:
New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Baltimore, Boston and Pittsburgh.
Baltimore is expected to pass Detroit on the basis of preliminary figures, but the official Boston count has not been made.
In the next twenty cities, numerous changes probably will be noted when the final count is in. Minneapolis may be found in 15th place, against 18th in 1920. Newark, N. J., dropped to 18th from 15th. Atlanta advanced to 22nd from 33rd and Houston to 26th from 45th.

WHEN CHICAGO'S GANGS STRUCK BACK
Bullets Silence Reporter Who "Knew Too Much" About the Underworld

The murdered body of Albert "Jake" Lingie, reporter for the Chicago Tribune, is shown above as it lay in the Michigan avenue subway leading to the Illinois Central railway station, where he was shot down by Chicago gangsters — presumably because he "knew too much." The men in the picture are detectives and reporters. Below, at the right, is a close-up of Lingie; at the left is Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Tribune, who has offered a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Lingie's murderers. Other rewards are also outstanding.

Only a few barns on the outskirts of the town were damaged. Fifteen persons were brought into the city hospital at Menomonee today.

East Claire was badly damaged, but no loss of life was reported. Damages estimated at $400,000. Streets were piled high with debris and five fires which broke out immediately after the storm struck added to the confusion. Twelve persons were injured there.

La Crosse, Sparta and Whitehall also reported minor damage.

People Will Vote Against Candidates In Governor's Race

AUSTIN, Tex., June 13—More votes are going to be cast against people this year, and fewer have been pledged for definite candidates than ever before at this stage of a state campaign. This was the political analysis of Will E. Edwards, former Denton newspaper publisher, and former Hearst editor, made here. Mr. Edwards was here with a Texas Press association delegation on the way to the Corpus Christi press convention.

"Sentiment is less crystallized than at this date in any political year within my memory," Mr. Edwards declared.

Nobody can tell how the governor's race is coming out, he declared.

Mr. Edwards, who failed to be elected lieutenant governor by only 9,000 votes, indicated he has sworn off politics, so far as seeking office is concerned. "This year, he believes, the dominating factor in shaping outcome of the race, will be opposition of blocs of voters to certain candidates.

"They're against candidates," he said, "but many of the voters have not yet decided whom they will for. It's a strangely confused and uncertain situation."

Schmeling May Not Be Named World Champion

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, June 14.—American sportsmanship today assured Max Schmeling of recognition as world heavyweight champion.

The Tunney-Muldoon trophy committee may refuse to add Schmeling's name to the list of champions engraved on its unofficial trophy and boxing commission may renege on their promise to recognize the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling bout as champion. But the German boxer already holds the title in the opinion of the press and the fans, whose contributions make the title a financial asset.

Schmeling's victory over Sharkey on a foul provided an unsatisfactory ending for what was ballooned as the final elimination for the title, but a sense of fair play makes it impossible to deprive him of the laurels, even

... INTRODUCING ...

Sansheen
Smart, Dull Hosiery
BY KAYSER

Kayser Sansheen—what a stocking—it's so much duller, sheerer, clearer, stronger than ordinary hosiery.

And also because Sansheen has a tightly twisted thread scientifically knitted, with the fashionable dullness made permanent. No wonder Sansheen wears longer! No wonder it's of clearer texture! No wonder it shows no rings!

And yet—Sansheen is very inexpensively priced. Ask for genuine Sansheen by Kayser, with the graceful Slende® Heel. Trade Mark. Trade Mark Reg. Licensee under Pat. No. 1,111,658.

FIRST TWENTY CITIES SHOW BIG GROWTH

Los Angeles Shows Greatest Increase With Change In Rank From 10th to 5th

The nation's ten largest cities will show a gain of more than 3,000,000 in population during the last ten years, according to figures gathered by the United Proct. Census returns are not complete from some of the cities.
 Chicago and Los Angeles probably will have the largest increase, the figures show. Los Angeles reported a gain of 655,057 while Chicago showed 672,048 over the 1920 figures. New York's official count may reveal a greater numerical gain than either of these, although estimates give New York only 622,000 gain.
 The most notable change in the ranking of the first ten cities was made by Los Angeles, which stood tenth in 1920 but passed Cleveland, Baltimore, St. Louis, Boston and Pittsburgh to take fifth place this year. The cities are expected to rank as follows, although revised figures later may affect the standings:
 New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Baltimore, Boston and Pittsburgh.
 Baltimore is expected to pass Boston on the basis of preliminary figures, but the official Boston count has not been made.
 In the next twenty cities, numerous changes probably will be noted when the final count is in. Minneapolis may be found in 15th place, against 18th in 1920. Newark, N. J., dropped to 18th from 15th. Atlanta advanced to 22nd from 33rd and Houston to 26th from 45th.
 The following table shows the probable standings.
 * Indicates estimate. Figure after city's name indicates 1920 rank.

1 New York (1)	6,142,180
2 Chicago (2)	3,373,753

Texas Confederate Pensioners To Get First Pay July 1

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, June 14—The 11,000 Texas Confederate pensioners will get their first monthly pay check July 1, and will then begin receiving the highest amount of pension in the state's history.
 The new pension law going into effect June 19 changes the requirements under which each pensioner will be paid his or her check. Each pensioner must file every month an affidavit, and these are filed in Comptroller George J. Sheppard's office by the 15th of this month and of every other month. When they are received later than the 20th, the pension checks cannot be mailed out for delivery on the first day of the month, it was announced.
 There will be 1,000 pensioners who will begin getting $50 per month on July 1. The other 10,000 will receive $25 per month. The checks will be the same every month, and there will be no more instances, such as last year when Confederate widows received no pension.
 Those entitled to $50 a month are Confederate soldiers who have living wives to whom they were married before July 31, 1900. All other old soldiers and the widows qualify for pension will receive $25 per month.
 Widows who qualify are those over 55 years of age whose marriages to Confederate veterans took place before 1912.
 Confederate and widows in the state homes will receive one-half what they are entitled to otherwise.
 The affidavit which Confederate and widow pensioners now must make every month is different from that formerly required, in that it does not have to recite what property or income the veteran or widow has. That part of the affidavit has been waived, it was announced at Compt. Sheppard's office.
 Mr. Sheppard, son of a Confederate soldier, sent a letter to each of the state pensioners, telling them of the monthly payment basis of the new law, and congratulating them that the pension law has been straightened out to provide a steady, fixed sum each month and to obviate former uncertainties and confusion.

WHEN CHICAGO'S GANGS STRUCK BACK

Bullets Silence Reporter Who "Knew Too Much" About the Underworld

The murdered body of Albert "Jake" Lingle, reporter for the Chicago Tribune, is shown above as it lay in the Michigan avenue subway leading to the Illinois Central railway station, where he was shot down by Chicago gangsters — presumably because he "knew too much." The men in the picture are detectives and reporters. Below, at the right, is a close-up of Lingle; at the left is Col. Robert E. McCormick, publisher of the Tribune, who has offered a reward of $25,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Lingle's murderers. Other rewards are also outstanding.

Only a few barns on the outskirts of the town were damaged. Fifteen persons were brought into the city hospital at Menomonic today.

People Will Vote Against Candidates In Governor's Race

AUSTIN, Tex., June 13.—More votes are going to be cast against people this year, and fewer have been pledged for definite candidates than ever before at this stage of a state campaign. This is the political analysis of Will E. Edwards, former Denton newspaper publisher, and former Hearst editor, made here. Mr. Edwards was here with a Texas Press association delegation on the way to the Corpus Christi press convention.

"Sentiment is less crystallized than at this date in any political year within my memory," Mr. Edwards declared.

Nobody can tell how the governor's race is coming out, he declared.

Mr. Edwards, who failed to be elected lieutenant governor by only 9,000 votes, indicated he has sworn off politics, so far as seeking office is concerned. This year, he believes, the dominating factor in shaping outcome of the race, will be opposition of blocs of voters to certain candidates.

"They're against candidates," he said, "but many of the voters have not yet decided whom they will be for. It's a strangely confused and uncertain situation."

Schmeling May Not Be Named World Champion

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, June 14.—American sportsmanship today assured Max Schmeling of recognition as world heavyweight champion.

The Tunney-Muldoon trophy committee may refuse to add Schmeling's name to the list of champions engraved on its unofficial trophy and boxing commission may renounce on their promise to recognize the winner of the Sharkey-Schmeling bout as champion. But the German boxer already holds the title in the opinion of the press and the fans, whose contributions make the title a financial asset.

Schmeling's victory over Sharky on a foul provided an unsatisfactory ending for what was ballooned as the final elimination for the title, but a sense of fair play makes it impossible to deprive him of the laurels, even

Scouts Still On Trail, But They Are Oil Men Now

TULSA, Okla.,—Advancing civilization may have curtailed but it has not rendered obsolete the pioneering work of the scout. He is still employed in numbers by the petroleum industry.

When an oil company starts operating in a field previously undeveloped, it is necessary to have accurate information of the progress of all the wells in that area. It is the oil scout's job to obtain these data, and he gathers information concerning drilling depths, locations, formations, production and other vital factors. He works outdoors, covers a vast amount of territory, usually by motor car, and makes his particular business to see all, hear all, and tell all for his company.

Naturally in an industry so far flung in its operations, it is almost impossible for a single scout to cover hundreds of square miles. To overcome this difficulty the scout meets frequently with scouts from other oil companies in a session known to them as a "check meet" to exchange information and check their data so that every report may be complete and correct.

KAYSER SILK HOSIERY

... INTRODUCING ...

Sansheen
Smart, Dull Hosiery
BY KAYSER

Kayser Sansheen — what a stocking—it's so much duller, sheerer, clearer, stronger than ordinary hosiery.

And all because Sansheen has a tightly twisted thread scientifically knitted, with the fashionable dullness made permanent. No wonder Sansheen wears longer! No wonder it's of clearer texture! No wonder it shows no rings!

And yet—Sansheen is very inexpensively priced. Ask for genuine Sansheen by Kayser, with the graceful Slendo Heel. Trade Mark... Trade. Mark Reg. Licensee under Pat. No. 1,111,658.

CRACKS IN THE DOME

By the POLITICAL ANALYST

AUSTIN, June 12.—It's against the law to drink liquor in Mexico.

At least with employees of the Texas railroad commission. Pat M. Neff, former governor, is chairman of the railroad commission. Other members are C. V. Terrell and Lon A. Smith.

Recently an order was issued to employees of the commission that drinking liquor during office hours, or any other hours in Texas, or out; or having liquor in one's home, or making homebrew or being around liquor is drunk will result in dismissal of the employee from the state service.

Reports have it that Adrian Pool, who is not an applicant for the job, may be given the five-and-a-half-year job on the state board of control. Mr. Pool is a candidate for re-election as representative from his home district. He has been a close friend and adviser of Gov. Dan Moody. If appointed, it is being predicted he will accept the state job, though he has not discussed it with Gov. Moody and has not sought it.

The six-year term began last Jan. 1, when that of R. B. Walthall, Neff appointee, expired. The board is now made up of Walthall, as a holdover; Roy I. Tennant, Ferguson appointee, and Claude D. Teer, Moody appointee.

The new appointment was not to have been made until after election day. Gov. Dan Moody got out of the campaign, so the appointment may be made any day now.

Memory of the illustrious educator, Dr. William Seneca Sutton of the school of education, former president of the University of Texas lives on.

Most appropriately, regents of the university at their last meeting set aside the rule requiring them to wait five years after the passing of a distinguished man to dedicate a building in his honor. They then named the new education building the William S. Sutton hall of education for the former president. This deserved compliment will find a warm echo in the hearts of all the thousands who came to know him, and who knew him as they came under his teachings and kindly leadership and guidance in the university.

Mothers will be given a long-sought, long-deferred opportunity to study their job an dis responsibility by the new Foundation for Child Welfare and Parent Education in the University of Texas. This is the message of Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, who is busily engaged in helping build the foundation to the capa-

NEA San Francisco Bureau

The California supreme court has announced that it plans to make a recommendation soon on the pardon plea of Warren K. Billings, above, convicted with Tom Mooney for the 1916 Preparedness Day bomb explosion in San Francisco. Billings began a life term in Folsom prison 13 years ago.

The telescope is mounted exactly north and south, for stars are always "shot" at the meridian. Looking into this particular telescope one notes many little horizontal and vertical lines. These lines are not pencil markings, as might be supposed; neither are they steel strands. They are spider webbs.

When time observers are officially using the telescope fixed stars, like so many points of light, seems to roll across the vertical lines. As they cross the horizontal lines a button is pressed, recording the time of their passage in a chronograph or time measurer.

Here is where the micrometer, for the elimination of the personal equation, comes into the time-taking picture. Experience has shown that where one individual may be a fraction ahead of the actual passage another may be a fraction behind it. Each man who takes the observation is tested in advance and his reaction recorded with the necessary allowance being made in the micrometer.

The spider webbs are used because they are not connected with two Riefler clocks, which astronomers acknowledge to be the finest type of precision time keepers made by man. In addition against vibration, one of the deadliest enemies of correct time computation, the clocks are mounted in an electrically heated room where the temperature does not vary more than 2 of a degree a year. Thus inaccuracy eliminated.

So correct are these clocks that the insertion within their sealed jars of about 5-1,000 of an ounce of air will change their rate of timekeeping 18-1,000 of a second in twenty-four hours. (And it is the injection or withdrawal of this air that actually regulates the clocks.)

Mounted directly on these clocks is the Elgin broadcast equipment, which sends by second an electrical impulse that is correct to 1-200 of a second. This impulse is sent by special wire lines to N. B. C. Chicago studio, there to be reduced to tone signals by an audio-frequency machine. It is these tone signals that are broadcast every Friday night as part of the Elgin program.

Wanted: a woman for marriage? The Londoner queried. "Are you married?"

Gilmore admitted that he was and immediately the Englishman said: "Well, say now, I want all the facts about the case."

Gilmore stuttered and countered: "What's it to you?"

"Well, now, aren't you Douglas Gilmore who married Ruth Jane Mix, daughter of Cowboy Tom Mix?"

"No, you've got the wrong man," Gilmore replied.

Long Distance Wrong Number Record Claimed

YUMA, Ariz., June 13.—The world's long distance record for wrong numbers was claimed here today by Frank J. Gilmore, who told the man at the other end of a 6,000 mile telephone line that he had the "wrong number."

Gilmore, prominent Yuma citizen, was called from London concerning the marriage of Ruth Jane Mix, daughter of Tom Mix, movie cowboy.

"What is this about your marriage?" The Londoner queried. "Are you married?"

Gilmore admitted that he was and immediately the Englishman said: "Well, say now, I want all the facts about the case."

Gilmore stuttered and countered: "What's it to you?"
