Approximately 165 persons attended the graduation ceremonies honoring 21 lawmen and a law-woman who have completed a special Law Enforcement School in Eastland County.

Chief Joe Milner of the Texas Department of Public Safety, principal speaker at the White Elephant event, challenged the law enforcement people to be dedicated, believe in something and to have a sense of fair play.

The banquet was sponsored by the West Central Texas Council of Government and the Eastland County Law Enforcement Association. John Morren was coordinator and welcomed guests. County-District Attorney Emory Walton was master of ceremonies.

EASTLAND FOLKS can take pride in the accomplishments of their neighbors at Kokomo, and in fact, can do a lot to help them get picked No. One in the state, a title they richly deserve. By joining the tour Wednesday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., we'll all be letting the judges know that this entire area believes that Kokomo is No. 1.

JIMMY KENDRICKS, former resident here now of Graham, has been back this week in his capacity as adjuster for Farm Bureau Insurance. He tells that recently a daughter, Teresa, and a school friend took a round-about route to school one day and managed to get lost in a wooded area. Once the search for the youngsters began, it quickly became an all-out effort, and helicopter, a fixed-wing plane and any number of searchers were looking for the children. Roy Swift of Texas Electric Service Co., former neighbor of the Kendricks here, turned out to be the one who found the girls.

IT'S A busy sample-packing time up at Victor Cornelius Menus where a delegation from that firm are getting ready to attend the National Restaurant Association Convention in Chicago this coming week. Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius, Mr. and Mrs. John Beal, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Senter and Mr. Woodrow Allen will make the trip.

SCOUTS REPORT that we made two big goofs in the story about funds being accepted for Maria's new wheelchair. We gave the Lions Club credit for the drive, while in fact, the very active Jaycees are in charge and deserve the credit. The story further stated that a story gave her a television set a few years ago, but in fact, a well-known private citizen actually made the presentation of the beautiful remote-controlled color set Maria is still using up at Eastland Manor Nursing Home. Contributions toward a new wheelchair (to replace a 12-year-old model) may be sent to P. O. Box 194, Eastland, 76448.

Voters to Decide Fate of 4 Amendments Tuesday

Polls will open at 8 a. m. Tuesday at eight polling places in Eastland County for the Special Constitutional Amendment Election. Polls will remain open until 7 p. m.

Most attention is drawn to No. Four (the Clean-Water Amendment) passage of which is being endorsed by most city and chambers of commerce throughout this area.

City and Chamber officials are urging qualified voters to turn out Tuesday and vote especially FOR No. Four because of pending circumstances which would be favorably affected by the adoption of the clean-water bill. Passage would ease financing of anticipated sewer plants and other public facilities, it is reported.

Voting sites, election judges and alternates are as follows: Eastland, Courthouse, Mrs. Jeannette Harris and Mrs. Myrtle Richardson.

Olden, Dick Hodges and Mrs. S. G. Evetts.

Ranger, Don Adams and V. V. Cooper.

Desdemona, L. E. Clark and Mrs. Docie Williams.

Gorman, Odie Brightwell and Glenn Jordan.

Carbon, A. E. Guy and Hwy Lovell.

Rising Star, G. A. Dunn Jr., and Fred Price.

Cisco, J. V. Heyser Jr., and W. R. Huestis.

No absentee votes were cast here in the election indicating less than enthusiastic concern.

Rev., Mrs. Goff Are Appointed Missionaries

The Rev. and Mrs. William E. Goff of Eastland, Tex., were among 15 persons appointed missionaries during a meeting of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board on May 11. The service took place in the chapel at board headquarters, Richmond, Va.

Goff, who has been pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, Eastland, for nearly five years, expects to do evangelistic work in Venezuela. During his current ministry he has been studying at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, where he expects to receive the doctor of theology degree this year.

He holds the bachelor of divinity degree from Southwestern and the bachelor of arts from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Tex. He is a native of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Goff, the former Emily Griffith, is also a Texsun. Born in Abilene, she grew up in the community of Paint Creek near Haskell. She, too, is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University. Before their marriage she taught school one year in Jefferson County, Colo., and she has since taught in Abilene, Anson, Burleson and Eastland, Tex.

Goff's first pastorate, Bethel Baptist in Anson, coincided with his senior year in college. Before his call to the Eastland church, he was pastor of Dobbs Valley Baptist Church, Mineral Wells, Tex., for two years.

In 1963 the Goffs were summer missionaries in New York and Pennsylvania for the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board.

Both mentioned to the board the influence of Baptist youth organizations upon their early bent toward missions. He told of a "strange moving toward missions" experienced at a Royal Ambassador camp when he was 12.

Mrs. Goff added, "Girls' Auxiliary whetted my appetite for missions. Today I can honestly say that GA materials and activities have influenced me more toward missions than any other organization."

The Goffs' son, Gary Edward, will be 5 on May 30.

Your Problems are our Business—
... or at least some of them are. For example, we Americans can't get along without the automobile. As a consequence, we have problems some of which may be very grave and expensive. So we look to insurance—which is strictly American—for what relief it will afford. It can't solve all of our troubles, but over the years, it has saved our customers an untold amount of money by simply having the kind of insurance that paid off when needed. THE BIG DAY

YOUTH IN ACT TOO!

Kokomo is mighty proud of its youth and the role they take in school, church, and community activities. The community youngsters have had litter cleanup drives recently in Kokomo. Pickup loads of trash have been cleared from the roadways.

Honors the teenagers have received have been many this year which include the following:

New Baptist Church Built

Dedication services for the new Kokomo Baptist Church were held on Sunday, January 17, 1971. The pastor, Rev. J. W. O'Neal, and the members extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

A former pastor, Rev. Jack Heath, who is now pastor of the Plattsmouth Baptist Church in Plattsmouth, Nebraska, delivered the dedication address. Another former pastor, Rev. Leslie Tonn of Rotan, also was on the dedication program.

The new beige brick vaner building is T-shaped and includes a foyer, auditorium, baptistry, six Sunday School rooms, kitchen, secretary office, two rest rooms and several storage closets. It is total electric and features indirect lighting and three center drop lights in the auditorium. Folding doors between two of the large Sunday

Tarleton State College. Teddy was awarded the Lone Star Farmer Degree during high school. He was active in 4-H and F.F.A. projects. He teaches the intermediate Sunday School class at church. At times has filled in for pastor and preached.

Younger children active in the community include: Mark and Deliah Eaves, Janie and Stacy Webb, Ricky Fuller, Chris Brown, David Eaves, Gary Jackson, and Betty Garrett.

School rooms open to make the fellowship hall. The walls are paneled throughout the building. Floor covering in the auditorium is gold tweed carpet, and the educational building has beige colored tile floor covering. The pew cushions are gold.

James and Bob Kinser of Gorman were the builders of this beautiful church.

Those serving on the building committee were J. O. Jackson, Jr., Glenn Jordan, Charles Little, Larry Morrow, Odie Rodgers, and Gene Snider. Those on the finance committee were Wayne Eaves, Jimmy Little and Oren Webb. These men gave many hours of their time in planning sessions, and searching for materials that could not be purchased in Gorman.

Serving on the grounds committee were Lee Bishop, I. C. Clearman, Vern Garrett, and J. L. Morrow.

The church officers are: Sunday School Supt., Dwayne Snider; Training Union Director, Lee Bishop; Church Clerk, Mrs. J. N. Jordan; Church treasurer, Glenn Jordan; Music Director, Albert Hendricks; and Pianist, Mrs. Claude Fuller.

Deacons of the church are Jim Jordan, Wayne Eaves, Odie Rodgers, Buddy Eaves, A. H. Crosby, Lee Bishop and Woodrow Browning.

This building replaces the one that was completely destroyed by fire on December 23, 1969. Construction was begun the first of April, and completed in November. The first service in the new building was held on Thanksgiving Eve.

The church received $15,000 insurance money and the remainder of the cost of $36,000 was shared by the donations of the members and many friends who wanted to see the church rebuilt. The oldham Little Church Foundation of Houston sent $1000. Mrs. John W. Henderson gave a new piano in memory of Mr. Henderson, and Mrs. J. C. Timmons, her children and grandchildren gave new song books in memory of Mr. Timmons.

The first Missionary Baptist Church of Kokomo was first organized on the church covenant on June 9, 1906 with 13 charter members: John Lasater, S. F. Hendricks, A. S. Shugart, S. S. Hopper, Mrs. I. C. Hopper, Mrs. R. W. Hopper, Mrs. R. L. Lasater, Mrs. A. W. Jones, Lillie McBeth, Mrs. Hammett and Mrs. Hendricks. Rev. T.H.B. McAlaster was the first pastor.

The church was given the name of Mount Oliver in 1908, and changed to Mount Olive in 1911, then changed to Kokomo Baptist Church in 1959.

There have been nine pastors in the history of the church. Rev. McAlaster served from 1906 to 1908; Rev. J. L. Mayes, 1908-1909; Rev. Mason, 1909-1912; Rev. B. J. Clements, 1912-1916; Rev. Willie Skaggs, 1916-1956; Rev. Jackie Heath, 1956-1961; Rev. Buel Bryan, 1961-1964; and the present pastor, Rev. J. W. O'Neal, has been pastor since 1964.

In the past, the church has met in brush arbors, the school building, under the tabernacle, and in the community building before a building was purchased in 1959 and moved to land donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hendricks. This was the building that was destroyed by fire in December of 1969.

Community Center Re-Modeled

The residents of the Kokomo Community have recently completed another phase of the community improvement program in remodeling and refurbishing the Community Center building. It had been severely damaged during the tornado that hit in the community in June, 1969 having been moved from the foundation.

The three small rooms that had been used as Sunday School rooms in times past were removed and the building was set upon a new foundation. A new roof and new windows were added and new siding was put on the exterior. The interior was remodeled with white paneling, the ceiling was painted, and new drapes were purchased.

The money for the materials and the labor was all donated by residents of the community and others who were interested in seeing the building restored. The project took about a year from the time it was first discussed until it was finished, with work being done as time and money for the material permitted.

Those serving on the building committee were D. E. Eaves, as chairman, Alvin Lasater, J. C. Clearman, J. C. Caraway, Bill Eaves, Albert Hendricks, Floyd Wood of Carbon, and O. J. Treadway

KOKOMO, TEX., ONE OF THE BIG 4

Come Help Make Us No. 1 — WEDNESDAY

The eyes of Texas will be on Kokomo Wednesday, May 19. That is the day state judges will decide how Kokomo ranks among the most progressive rural communities in Texas. The Eastland County community has already been selected number one in a 20 county district. That put them among the top 12 in the State. Then word came that they had been selected one of the top four in the state and will be visited in the State judges. Kokomo is one of 263 communities who entered the Texas Community Improvement Contest, a popular program sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the electric utilities serving in Texas. For more than 20 years the Extension Service has believed that rural communities could be improved by their own efforts. The objective has been to make communities in rural areas places where people could "live more abundantly." The electric utility companies have given their full support including the contribution of $6,000 in awards.

Other communities competing with Kokomo are Tira in Hopkins County, Era in Cooke County and Fashing in Atascosa County.

The Kokomo Tour will begin at the community center at 10:00 a.m. Visitors are asked to arrive at 9:45 a.m. since the tour begins promptly at 10:00 a.m. Three to four hundred people are expected to be present for the tour and a "Kokomo style dinner." All visitors will be guest of the community.

The tour will proceed west from the community center, on farm market-road 2526 for five miles then north to farm market road 2551. The tour then will go east making stops at several homes and farms. Next the tour will go south east of community center on a farm market 2689 to the Claude Fuller farm, then will follow county roads on a short circle by several beautiful farms, then back to farm road 2589 and back to the community center. A tour of the new Kokomo church will precede the dinner on the ground. After lunch a one hour program will be held in the community center where community leaders will summarize activities for the year. Youth of the area will also provide entertainment during the program.

Kokomo residents invite all their friends and neighbors from surrounding towns and community to share in this special day.

KOKOMO COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE—The Committee for the Kokomo Community Improvement Project are Mrs. Glenn Jordan, d.n., reporter, Mrs. Oren Webb, secretary, Mrs. Albert Hendricks, asst. secretary; J. C. Clearman, vice-president; Avin Hendricks, entertainment chairman; and president, Billy Walker.

4-H Club House At Kokomo Is Key Landmark

An old historical landmark which all of Kokomo is proud of is the little rock 4-H Club house. The Clubhouse was erected in 1939 by the 4-H boys and N.Y.A. who kept Mrs. L. R. Higginbotham were the sponsors. At that time Mr. Higginbotham was a teacher in the Kokomo school.

4-H Club boys that assisted with the building of their club house were: Neil Eaves who was president of the club; Clinton Rivels, Bob Rivels, Lewis Treadway, Marvin Durey, Otto Lunrey, Alvin Scitern, John Scitern, Glenn Jordan, and Gerrel Johnson. Two others which are now deceased were Dwight Bryant and Winfred Treadway.

The Extension Agents were Hugh Parnhart and Mabel Callwell. Rick for the building was used from the O'Neal farm. The 4-H boys cut timber from the Scitern's pasture, and brought a little saw mill to the Scitern place. Here the logs were made into lumber for the building. Rafters and joints were made by hand.

Every day that the 4-Hs worked, their mothers took lunches to them. One of the cornerstones used in the building was from the first courthouse in Eastland which was located at Merriman. Curtains for the 4-H club house were donated by the people of Itasca.

When the building was finished, a dedication service was held. Many people gathered for the program which included officials from Texas A&M University. People invited to the dedication included the President of the United States; and although not able to attend, sent a personal letter of congratulations. Through the years that followed, the Kokomo 4-H Club house received nationwide publicity through magazines and newspaper stories.

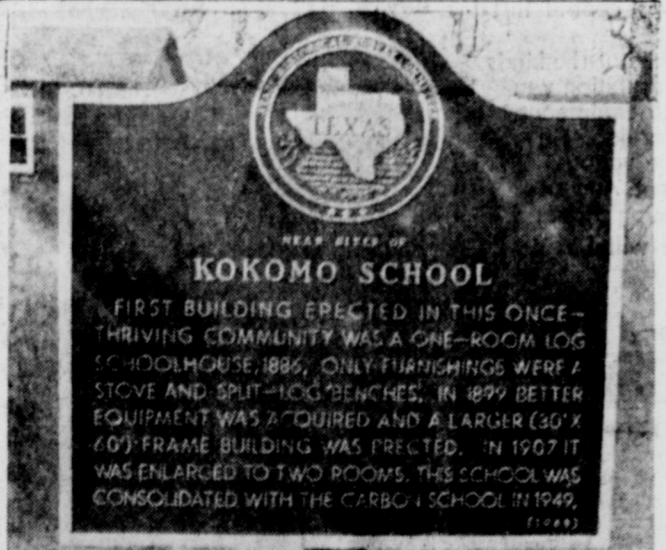

Today, the building is used and kept repaired.

4-H CLUBHOUSE

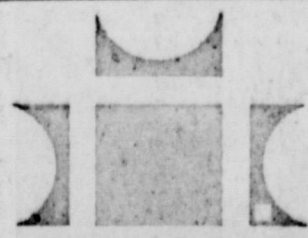

KOKOMO CEMETERY ASSOCIATION — Kokomo has two cemeteries which are the Simpson Cemetery and a smaller cemetery called the Kokomo Cemetery. Both cemeteries are worked and kept clean. This year, the community cemetery association put up a new chainlink fence, gate, and entrance sign at the Simpson Cemetery. The Kokomo Cemetery Association this year had as its officers—President, D. F. Eaves; Treasurer, Mrs. Jesse Parker; and Secretary, Mrs. Floyd Crawley. The four directors were Avery Crawley, Rufus Crawley, Buddy Gibbs, and Alvin Lasater.

HISTORICAL MARKER near the location of the Kokomo Community Center is of historical pride to local residents. The Community Center was once the Kokomo School which was built in 1886. Another historical marker was erected nearby which tells of the winning boy's and girl's basketball team. The basketball team in 1921-22 won 24 of their 25 game season.

Do you want clean water?

The Eastland City Commission Believes We All Do! For That Reason, We Urge That Every Qualified Voter Turn Out Tuesday, May 18, and Vote "FOR" Amendment Four.

If you do, vote for the Clean Water Amendment Tuesday, May 18.

4 reasons FOR #4:

- Financial: to reduce the tax burden of providing adequate public sewage treatment facilities.
- Environmental: to prevent improperly treated sewage from ruining our rivers and streams and their fish and wildlife.
- Conservation: to help preserve one of our most precious natural resources—water.
- Public Health: to avoid serious health problems downstream because of inadequate sewage treatment facilities upstream.

Vote for the Clean Water Amendment #4 on the ballot Tuesday, May 18.

THE EASTLAND CITY COMMISSION

MAYOR JAMES REID

Daniel Reid
W. Q. Verner

Dale Bakker
H. V. O'Brien

LETTERS

Editor:
All of us are aware of the need for better methods of financing sewage treatment facilities by our cities and towns in Texas. Our population is growing, adding new burdens to sewage treatment plants which are not able to properly eliminate wastes in many areas, further polluting land areas.

At present, each local community or city must bear 67% of the high cost of improved sewage treatment facilities. Amendment 4, to be voted May 18, would make $100 million in state bonds available to help cities with sewage treatment. By making low interest rate loans, which would reduce the city's primary outlay to only 20% we could gain $200 million in federal funds to help the cities reduce their initial expense for additional or completely new sewage treatment facilities.

It's strange to me that our opponents say Amendment 4 is in some way connected with the "Texas Water Plan," which is not true. They object to the raising of the limit of bond interest to a ceiling of 6%. But this is absolutely necessary or Texas will not be able to sell its bonds at competitive rates, regardless of how many bonds we vote.

The fact is that passage of amendment 4 will reduce the local tax burden for sewage treatment. It will help bring back $200 million in federal tax money to help us solve sewage treatment problems. It will benefit our health and environment by cleaning up streams, rivers, lakes, and land areas now becoming dangerous. It will save water. There are many other reasons our state cannot afford to answer any questions you may have, and I am personally asking your help and your influence to get this very important amendment passed.

Remember, if your city does not now need this sewage treatment improvement, population growth and continued depreciation of present facilities will make this amendment 4 very attractive in the future, when you do need it.

Thank you for all the help you can give us. We think this issue is very important and we are concerned that several organizations have grossly misled the public in regard to Amendment No. 4.

Sincerely,

Preston Smith
Governor of Texas
(ED. NOTE: Eastland residents, facing the possibility of financing a much-needed sewer system here in the next few years, have especially good reasons for supporting and voting "for" amendment Four on May 18 in the Special Election).

Editor:

This is a letter of thanks to two of your young citizens. Last Wednesday afternoon my husband and I were on our way home—about a mile out of Eastland—when we had a flat tire and two young boys drove up in a pick-up, made my husband get in out of the rain (as it was pouring down rain) and they changed the tire for us. We offered to pay them but they would not take a penny.

Kind and thoughtful deeds such as this make us know the majority of our youth are "tops". I think one of the boys' name was McCormick; the other one I am not sure of. Any way thanks a million boys and if you are ever in C-City come to see us.

Maverick Band 'Great' At Six Flags Contest

The Maverick Band attended the Six Flags Concert Band Festival and presented an excellent performance. Judges for the contest were: Dr. Paul Yoder internationally known composer, arranger, and conductor of Band Music from Miami, Florida; Dr. Wayman Walker Professor of Music and Director of Bands at Colorado State College, Greeley, Colorado; and Dr. George Wilson, President (Interim) of the National Music Camp and The Interlochen Arts Academy, Interlochen, Michigan. The Maverick Band performed in the Golden Palace of the Six Flags Inn to a large crowd of students and directors from all over the Southwest.

"Concert March" by Dr. M. L. Daniels and "Festivo" by Dr. Vaclav Nelhybel were the two selections performed and the Maverick Band received a IIrd division from Paul Yoder and a IIIrd division from both Wayman Walker and George Wilson.

Competition was extremely difficult as well as all the bands present had made a 1st division in their state Concert Playing contest.

A band may be awarded either 1st, IIrd, IIIrd, IVth, or a Vth division rating with 1st being the best and Vth the lowest. There were bands from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas and Missouri present.

The Band met at the Band Hall at 4 a.m. Friday morning and received final instructions, then loaded on the new school bus (rated 68 passengers—they must be midgets who rate this capacity not High School size people) and departed Eastland at 4:30 a.m. Herman Alsop and his wife drove the pick up which pulled a trailer loaded with uniforms and instruments, while Mr. and Mrs. Briscoe helped to chaperone and went in their car. At first it was somewhat noisy on the bus but by 5 a.m. most had gone back to sleep and those who were awake were not talking very much. The band stopped at the Howard Johnson's restaurant terminal on the turnpike to change into uniform and then proceeded to the Six Flags Inn.

When the Band arrived at the Inn they were met by a guide who took them to the Los Conquistadores room for the warm-up and then to the Golden Palace for the concert. After the concert, a group color photograph was made near the swimming pool and then the Mavericks listened to some other bands perform. At 12:30 it was lunch time and the band went to the Six Flags Mall where students were able to eat at a variety of places or go shopping until 1:45 p.m. when all were back on the bus ready to go to the park.

The park opened at 2 p.m. and closed at 11 p.m. The Maverick band entered the park at 2 and left at 11, riding as many rides as possible several times. The students attended the musical performances at the Southern Palace, the Puppet show, the Crazy Horse Saloon, and watched the shoot out. "I have never seen a group of students so tired as the Maverick Band after we arrived home" stated Paul Wallace director of the band. "I don't believe that they knew they were so tired until they sat down on the bus for a moment and then proceeded to settle down."

On the way home the band stopped at Kips Restaurant in Fort Worth on Camp Bowie and were furnished a meal by the Band Booster Club. Not all of the band ate the meal because some were so tired that they didn't want to get off the bus.

The band arrived back in Eastland at 3:30 a.m. and the song "You never get enough of Six Flags" had been changed somewhat by these happy, successful, but tired students. Upon arrival back in Eastland director Paul Wallace played the tape recording of the bands performing as some of the students waited for their parents and it was concluded that the performance of the Maverick Band was truly something to be proud of as the performance was excellent.

Before the band can repeat this trip, they must earn a 1st division in the U.L.L. Concert Playing contest, and this will then qualify them to apply for admission to the contest. The goal has been set and the students will be looking forward to the next U.L.L. contest for "you-get tired—but never get enough of Six Flags."

Brazos Directors Urge Vote For "Clean Water" Amendment

The 21-man board of directors of the Brazos River Authority recently passed unanimously a resolution "wholeheartedly" endorsing the Clean Water Amendment and urging Texas voters to adopt the amendment in the May 18 balloting.

The amendment is No. 4 on the ballot. It has been dubbed the Clean Water Amendment because if it is adopted its provisions will do as much as or more than any other single piece of recent legislation to improve and maintain the good quality of water in Texas streams and lakes.

The Authority board president A. L. Brooks Jr. of Bellville said the entire board feels passage of the amendment will provide means of major aid to every city, area and district of the state in protecting its municipal, agricultural and industrial water supplies.

The provisions of the amendment are simple and direct. Col. Walter Wells, general manager of the Brazos River Authority, said the amendment will accomplish two major needs, Col. Wells said.

"First, it will permit the issuance by the State of $100 million in bonds to help cities and towns in the financing of urgently-needed water pollution control facilities.

"And secondly it will raise the constitutional ceiling on such bonds from 4 percent to 6 percent so the bonds can be sold," Col. Wells said.

of the amendment will have much more far reaching results than simply meeting these two needs.

By the state loaning the city, region or public agency up to 25 percent of the total cost of the sewerage project, the project becomes eligible for a federal grant of up to 55 percent of the total cost.

Under the present system, in which the state has no way of making the 55 percent loan, the federal grant can amount to no more than 33 percent of the projects cost, Col. Wells said.

"You will notice I have stressed the word loan in pointing to the process by which the city, region or local public agency may get the state aid," Col. Wells said. "Under implementing legislation already passed by the House of Representatives, the money is to be loaned from the $100 million special fund and must be repaid with appropriate interest. No tax money is involved and the fund will be a revolving fund, loaned for proper sewerage system construction and then repaid and loaned again."

Col. Wells said if the amendment is not adopted, the money which the Federal government has already appropriated for aid to states in solving their pollution problems through construction of sewerage systems will go to other states which already have laws similar to the Texas Clean Water Amendment.

The amendment would also raise the constitutional ceiling on interest rates of such bonds and on other bonds issued by the Texas Water Development Board for water resource development from the present 4 percent ceiling to a more realistic ceiling of 6 percent.

"Anyone remotely familiar with today's bond market knows that the present 4 percent ceiling on interest rates is completely out of step," Wells said, "and if the bonds are to be sold, they must have a reasonable and realistic interest rate."

The Authority board's resolution said "the control and prevention of water pollution is of utmost importance to all Texans in order to assure the availability of needed water supplies and assist in maintaining desirable environmental conditions" and for these reasons the board urged passage of the amendment.

The board consists of 21 members from cities and towns throughout the 44,000 square miles of the Brazos River watershed, stretching from the high plains of the Lubbock area to the Gulf of Mexico at Freeport south of Houston. The Authority's headquarters are located in Waco.

Soil Stewardship Week May 16-23, 1971

Soil Stewardship Week To Be Church Accented

The directors of Soil and Water Conservation Districts of the nation encourage churches to observe Soil Stewardship Week. It is a reality that Souls and Soils are closely related. The water we drink, the food we eat, the clothes we wear and the home we live in come from the soil. The role of our farmers and ranchers is of great concern to each of us. Today the farmers and ranchers makes up only 5 to 6% of our entire population. As stewards of our agricultural lands, they need and deserve full cooperation and encouragement in their endeavor so vital to each of us.

The task of cleaning up our environment calls for total involvement by all our citizens. It involves government at any level. It requires the help of every citizen. It presents us with a unique opportunity for every individual to make a special contribution to his community and country. Scriptures declare: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein;"

More than two thousand years later we can repeat, appropriate to our time and place that the human race and all living things are the Lord's, as well as the environment which surrounds and sustains us. And in accordance with His will, we wear the stewards of His creation.

As caretakers of the realm, it is everywhere evident that we have not functioned well. The roll call of our shortcomings and failures to date has been much repeated in recent times. There is the pollution of the rivers and lakes and the fouling of the air. There is erosion, waste, and in too many places excessive noise. There is hunger in the midst of plenty and overcrowding in the midst of ample space.

We owe it to ourselves to improve the quality of living and to our children to assure the basis for a civilized future. We also owe it to our nation to maintain its strength and most of all, we owe it to God to fulfill our obligations as His stewards on earth.

Fort Griffin Fandangle To Be Presented at Albany June 17-26

The 1971 Fort Griffin Fandangle will be staged at the Prairie Theatre in Albany, Texas, on June 17, 18, 19, 24, 25, 26. The Fandangle Parade, scheduled for one day only, will be staged Thursday, June 24, at 5:00 p.m. Barbecue will be served on the Courthouse square each night of the performance, beginning at 5:00 p.m. Price of the barbecue will be $2.00 per plate.

The Fandangle is presented in its own especially designed outdoor theatre. Carved from one of the hills which surround Albany, the theatre is a natural setting for the telling of ranch country heritage. Ticket prices, all seats reserved, are: $5.00 for Box Seats; $3.50 for chair seats, center section and first rows of side sections; $2.00 for chair seats, side section; and $1.50 for bleacher seats. Fandangle opening night, June 17, has been designated "Kissin' Kin" night. For this one night only, a reduced scale of ticket prices is available. Mail orders for tickets to the Fandangle are being accepted now. Box office will open Tuesday, June 1, at the Fandangle Office in Albany.

Each year the Fandangle is different, presenting new songs, new action and new dramatic surprises. This year Director James Hall has written "The Rainmaker," and very timely, indeed, about an Old West rainmaker.

Since 1933 the Fort Griffin Fandangle has been recreating Prairie History through pageantry and comedy and showing-off Western style. During its six night summer fun the Fandangle Prairie Theatre's 1600 seats are filled with people from all over the United States—people who find the show enchanting and return again to bring others with them.

For brochures and information about the Fandangle, write the Fandangle Office, Box 185, Albany, Texas 76430.

May 17 to 22 Is Designated as Mail Box Improvement Week

The Postal Service designates a week during May each year when customers on rural routes and star routes are encouraged to examine, and improve where necessary, the appearance of their mailboxes, said Post Master Cliffogene Witt. The week of May 17-22 has been selected this year.

"The purpose of 'Mailbox Improvement Week,' she said, "is to call attention to the need for providing mail receptacles which are designed to protect the mail from the weather, and which are neat in appearance, conveniently located and safe to use. Neat, attractive mailboxes will make a significant contribution to the appearance of the countryside and streets. Mailboxes that meet these requirements contribute to a more efficient delivery operation, and the result is an improved service to the entire route.

"Mailboxes of the approved traditional or contemporary design are required. Where box numbers are assigned, the name of the owner and the box number must be shown on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door where boxes are grouped. Boxes should be grouped wherever practicable especially at or near crossroads, or at other places where a considerable number of boxes are located.

"Mailboxes on both rural and star routes must be located on the right hand side of the road in the direction of travel by the carrier. Boxes and supports should be kept painted and free from rust. Approaches to mail boxes must be kept passable, free of obstacles, and parked cars. Carriers are not required to get out of their vehicles to serve rural and star route boxes."

The Readers Write

Dear Editor:

On May 18, we will go to the polls to vote on four Texas Constitutional Amendments. All are important, but the proposed Amendment No. 3 is especially important because it concerns MONEY for Texas' Welfare Program.

No one could deny the need for financial assistance to the Aged, the Disabled, and the Blind, and there is the optimistic possibility that Social Security will eventually assume the financial responsibility for these persons and lessen the welfare assistance requirements. The category of Families with Dependent Children is the group that is spiraling in number of recipients and the one that arouses most of the criticism and appears rampant with problems in fair and proper administration.

It is undeniable that the maximum assistance grants and only a small portion of recipients receive the maximum, are inadequate for a better than poverty-level existence; however, it is equally undeniable that there must be a bottom to the financial barrel and the only possible solution is a better administration of the available funds.

The Committee's report has been completed and in the form of an 85 page illustrated booklet entitled "Breaking the Poverty Cycle in Texas" was ready for presentation to the 62nd Legislature when it convened in January of 1971. The report is excellent. It indicates extreme thoroughness of investigation, in-depth consideration from all angles of the over-all problems and conditions. What is more important, the report offered constructive criticisms and recommendations for changes and improvements in administering the program with specific proposals covering reorganization of the Department.

It is dismaying to read via the newspapers that it is debatable whether a majority of the Legislature would approve the recommendations of the Senate Interim Committee.

In my opinion, insufficient funds is NOT the sole reason for the apparent inadequacies and deep troubles of the welfare program. Other states are faced with as great or even greater dilemmas and actual financial crises.

One of the shockers revealed by the report is this; the Texas State Board of Public Welfare consists of three members appointed by the Governor for 6 year staggered terms, their appointment requiring Senate confirmation. The Board has the responsibility of developing policy pertaining to public welfare BUT the Board is an autonomous body without direct supervision from any branch of State government - in effect, it is an appointive, part-time, unpaid State Board administering a multi-million dollar program annually without direct supervision from either the Executive or Legislative branches of State government! Surely this is a No. 1 condition that requires immediate correction.

In one aspect, I feel that the Committee's proposals fail to give due consideration to the problems and needs of the rural and small town areas, and that many of the remedial changes are specifically city-oriented. Cities have many facilities such as volunteer service organizations, vocational schools, probation department, free medical and psychiatric centers, and the like that are not available in rural areas although the needs exist just the same. Last fall, seventeen positions were abolished in the region which includes Cisco, and among these was the caseworker position that specifically served the Cisco area. According to the Welfare Department Commissioner, this was due to a "realignment of positions with a resultant shift of jobs to the metropolitan areas." I strongly doubt the wisdom of such a policy. I feel, also, that there is a definite lack of emphasis and a near omission of social casework to supplement financial assistance, which I believe is an absolute necessity for any type of welfare program.

Whatever the fate of A- hope that citizens of this district will write to our Representative, Mr. Joe Hanna, and our Senator, Mr. Tom Creighton, and urge that they devote their efforts toward initiating a welfare program with better methods of administration before we find ourselves regularly contributing more and more money for colossal waste while taxes skyrocket and social ills multiply. Whatever our private opinions may be of the welfare system, it is in all likelihood, here to stay. Table-talk of what's wrong with the system cannot be heard in Austin or have any effect on what the Legislature does unless we make known our views by direct writing, wiring or calling.

Peanut Transfer Deadline Extended

An extension of the deadline to transfer peanut allotments has been granted through June 1. It was announced Tommy J. Lawson, county executive director, Eastland County ASCS office. It was felt, Lawson says, due to the dry weather many producers were holding off on taking on more allotment to see what the weather was going to do and the April 1 deadline caught them. "If you are interested in transferring allotment, the procedure to follow is the same as before and needs to be completed by June 1st," states Lawson.

Hog Sales In Cholera Zone Need Permit

Hog producers in Eastland county and other counties now under federal high cholera quarantine regulations, who desire to sell their stock must have them inspected and released by proper authorities, County Agent DeMarquis Gordon said today.

Under the quarantine regulations announced by the Hog Cholera Field Office of the United States Department of Agriculture at Breckenridge, Mr. Gordon pointed out, all sick hogs in the area must be reported to that office so that they may be inspected by a diagnostician;

All swine herds in the county must be inspected at least once by the quarantine authorities.

All swine to be moved must be inspected, identified and permits issued prior to moving.

The following rules for inspection before movement have been announced by the USDA field office through the county agent's office in Eastland:

"If you desire to sell slaughter hogs on Tuesday contact the Hog Cholera Field Office directly before Saturday noon prior to sale.

"If you desire to sell slaughter hogs on Thursday contact the Hog Cholera Field Office directly before 5:00 p.m.

Spelunking Trip Described For Lions Club

Nineteen Eastland Scouts and their leaders recently made a adventure camp for cave exploration in South Texas, and Scoutmaster Dick Johnson described it for members of the Eastland Lions Club at their regular luncheon meeting Tuesday.

Located near Gorman Falls on the Colorado River near Lake Buchanan, the cave proved an exciting event for the scouts as they made a long-weekend of it, starting with a Camp-o-Rec at Proctor Lake and then moving on down for the cave exploration, Johnson of Troop 103 reported.

Accompanying the scouts were Jeff Glazner and Norman Owen, Johnson helped chart the cave several years ago as a student at the University of Texas and was able to take five Scouts in at a time. The cave is classed "wild" and can only be entered by permission of the land owner, he said.
