Cisco Is Host to Lions' Zone Meet On Thursday Night

Cisco was host to the zone meeting of Lions clubs, including Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge and Graham, in addition to the host club, with Graham having the lowest percentage of attendance and winning the booty prize of a nanny goat, which was presented to the club at the meeting by the Cisco club. Cisco had custody of the goat during the three-month period since the last zone meeting.

Cisco had the highest percentage of attendance, with 74 per cent of the club members present, with Ranger having the highest percentage of any of the visiting clubs with 71 per cent present. Other clubs were represented by 50 per cent, or less, of their members.

A good program was presented at the meeting.

It was voted that instead of the club with the lowest attendance winning both the goat and the honor of being host to the meeting that the meetings would alternate in rotation and the goat would be won on attendance records, as in the past.

In addition to members of the clubs represented at the meeting, Tom Gillis, governor of district 2-E, Dr. J. W. Danforth, Russell Fox and Don Cowan, all of Fort Worth were present at the meeting.

Back From 'Grave'

Mrs. Elizabeth Fitzgerald Cossey, above, walked into a White Plains, N. Y., courtroom just as her husband, Stephen D., was expressing sorrow over her "death." The judge who was hearing Cossey's plea for an Enoch Arden dissolution of her marriage became suspicious of the man's assertions that he had not heard from his wife for ten years. An investigator, assigned by the court, found Mrs. Cossey in New Jersey. Cossey was held for the grand jury on a perjury charge.

Farmers In Debt Discuss Problem With F.D.A. Chief

Three debt distressed farmers met with the farm debt adjustment committee and Guy H. Tomlinson, district farm debt adjustment supervisor, Thursday at Eastland to work out plans to give them relief from urgent financial problems.

Several creditors also attended the meeting, and Tomlinson says he expects the committee to be able to help all these farmers find a way out of their problem without asking the creditors for unjust concessions.

Many of these farmers need nothing more than sound financial advice and the farm debt adjustment committee serve as financial advisors only, as they have no money to lend. The farmers coming to them for help desire to pay the full amount they owe creditors, and merely want help in working out a plan whereby they can pay these debts without losing their farms. "This usually can be done where both the creditors and the farmer are anxious to work together, unless the debts are excessive, in which case a scale-down can be arranged," says Tomlinson, "and many times these agreements could have been worked out without our help if both sides would have been as frank with each other as they are with us."

Farmers making any financial move, including new or renewal of loans, are at liberty to ask the committee for their advice. The committee members in this county are W. R. Ussery, Carbon; Dick Weekes, Ranger, and Felix Boland of Scranton.

4-H Livestock Show Planned At Ranger Mar. 11

Hugh Barnhart, assistant county agent of Eastland county, met with the 4-H club livestock committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Thursday and the group outlined plans for the second annual 4-H club livestock show, to be staged in Ranger on Friday, Mar. 11.

Plans were announced, after the meeting, for a total of $50 in cash awards, along with a large number of merchandise prizes, to be donated by the merchants of Ranger.

Farmers Making Any Financial Move, Including New or Renewal of Loans, are at Liberty to Ask the Committee for Their Advice.

All kinds of farm livestock, including herefords, milk cows, goats, sheep, horses, mules and poultry will be displayed. A program for the show is now being worked out by Barnhart.

Anyone having fine farm livestock or poultry can exhibit at the show, it was decided at the meeting, and a large number of exhibits from those who are not members of a 4-H club are expected. Cash prizes are to be awarded on the best horses, bulls, jacks and other entries, regardless of whether or not they are entered by club members, as well as prizes being offered for 4-H club competition.

Much interest was shown in the first 4-H livestock show at Ranger or last year, with a large number of entries being placed in the show. A still larger number is expected this year as it was estimated at the meeting that between 12 and 15 4-H club animals would be shown from the county at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, and that most of these would be entered in the Ranger show.

Gen. Pershing Is Slightly Better Physician Says

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 25.—Gen. John J. Pershing, wartime commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, rallied today from a coma and although his physicians gave him little chance to recover, he joked with his aide.

The 77-year-old commander rallied after an injection of a stimulant.

Gen. Pershing is suffering from a heart ailment, induced, his doctors said, by strenuous activities in recent years in connection with his work with the battle monuments commission.

"General Pershing's rally continues," Dr. Roland Davison said. "He is now better than since early yesterday afternoon. However no prediction can be made at this time for his condition must be regarded as critical."

Poultry and Egg Shipments in '37 Showed Increase

AUSTIN.—Rail shipments of poultry and eggs from Texas to interstate points totaled 2,491 cars in 1937, compared with 2,206 cars in 1936 and the depression low of 1,814 cars in 1935, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has reported.

In 1937 a total of 637 cars of chickens were shipped out of the state by rail compared with 454 cars the year before, an increase of 51 per cent, while the corresponding figures for turkeys were 1,368 cars and 1,158 cars respectively, an increase of 18 per cent in 1937 over 1936.

Interstate rail shipments of eggs from Texas amounted to only 436 cars compared with 598 cars in 1936, a decline of 27 per cent.

Receipts of eggs from other states by rail during 1937 totaled 160 cars, almost identical to the 162 cars brought in during 1936.

Texas poultry and eggs were widely distributed over the country, reaching 35 states and the District of Columbia.

AIRPLANES AND BATTLESHIPS ARE COMPARED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Appropriations, airplanes and battleships occupied the attention today of congress and President Roosevelt.

The house appropriations committee reported a $124,990,730 interior department supply bill, $2,490,535 less than the administration requested.

While the house naval affairs committee heard Rear Admiral Arthur Cook, chief of naval aeronautics, say it would require 6,750 airplanes to produce the volume of fire of 15 battleships, President Roosevelt indicated that super-dreadnaughts still are the supreme weapon of naval defense. He said he reached this conclusion from tests over the past 25 years of the relative strength of battleships and airplanes.

The house military affairs committee favorably committed the bill to outlaw wartime profiteering, place a ceiling on war prices and authorize conscription of all men between the ages of 21 and 31 upon this nation's entry into war.

NEW FOREIGN SECRETARY OF BRITAIN NAMED

Viscount Halifax was appointed foreign secretary of Great Britain by Premier Neville Chamberlain today to succeed Anthony Eden.

Appointment also was announced of A. R. Butler as undersecretary of foreign affairs to succeed Lord Cranbourne, who resigned with Eden.

Halifax was appointed despite angry protest of labor party leaders, who announced they would force a debate in the House of Commons if a member of the House of Lords was selected.

The French government, disturbed by the trend of events, especially the danger of a strain on the British-French alliance because of Britain's overtures to Italy, went to parliament to find out where it stood.

Premier Chamberlain risked overthrow of his cabinet in a bid for a vote of confidence, giving the cabinet power to shape France's foreign policy.

Anxiety in middle-Europe was eased somewhat by Chancellor Schuschnigg's defiant speech last night, proclaiming Austria's lasting independence.

The reaction from Italy, and Czechoslovakia, was so favorable the French felt less uneasy.

Austrian Nazis, however, demonstrated in reaction to Schuschnigg's warning against the spread of Nazism. The ministry of education ordered the University of Graz closed because students joined in Nazi demonstrations.

Rambling With The Rambler

BY WAYNE WALLACE

Just think how much better a person feels after reading or viewing the successful achievements accomplished by members of the human race in contrast to tales or deeds of grim tragedy. How we thrill as the trim, graceful figure of a Sonja Henie performs wonderful deeds on ice skates. We marvel at her dexterity, as the smoothness of her performance and before we know it the light footed young lady has slipped into our hearts with all the ease that her skates skim over the ice. How different is this from the stories of young children frozen to death in the ice, of dreadful snow storms hemming people in mountain vastness, of men lost in blizzards, of eyes blinded by the glaring whiteness of the snow or of limbs amputated because they were frozen. Our hearts swell with pride as a Sam Baugh rises, an unknown youth, to the top in his profession. How much more do we prefer to see such a one throwing footballs through the air into the arms of a companion with precision accuracy, then to read about another young man, behind a machine gun, slaughtering human beings with the same deadly accuracy.

No matter in what field of endeavor men become proficient in, as long as they do it through hoesty, courage and their own ability the majority of people will respect and admire them. After everything is said and done it is men like the late Will Rogers and O. O. McIntyre who are missed after they are gone rather than the Napoleons and Cromwells. Why? Because they were men that represented the best that is in us. Throughout their lives they clung to that high idealism that is man's birth right. Because they lived the world was made better and happier place for others. They represented to the rest of us, America at her best.

Despite the opinion of many that the world of today is going to the dogs, there are still millions of good people in it. While it is true that the majority of them do not make the headlines of our daily newspapers; yet now and then something occurs to let us know that they are still with us. The most recent example of their presence was given by the many who protested at the Adam-and-Eve-of-Eden skit enacted over the air waves by Mae West. Another was the stanch stand of a good many people against indecent motion pictures. People who like such ribald forms of entertainment will not be interfered with as long as they keep to themselves but when they invade the sacred realm of the home or offer suggestive and offensive programs in public places frequented by children, then it is that the good people come to the front and show that they refuse to be offended in any such manner.

There are many people under the impression that if President Roosevelt runs for a third term that he will be elected. While it is still quite some time until the next presidential election, during the course of which, events might change the minds of the people; still it is a matter worth some serious thought. If Mr. Roosevelt runs again he will be the first to seek a third term. The two term rule established by George Washington, when he refused to accept a third term, has become a tradition with us and the discarding of it will shatter one of our oldest customs. Yet, if the doing

World Is Buying More Diamonds

By United Press
LONDON.—World turnover in diamonds in 1931 is estimated here at $47,500,000, compared with $41,250,000,000 in 1930. The figure for 1932 was only $7,500,000.

Thus 1931 was a good year, although the Diamond Trading Co., Ltd., which handles sales (known in the trade as "sights") for the South African producers, tactfully suspended "sights" in the closing months of the year to prevent the price from falling.

But diamond shareholders have no reason to complain of the year. DeBeers not only paid off the heavy arrears on its preferred stock, but also resumed dividends on the deferred. DeBeers' shares again are the most active on international counters, being air-mailed almost daily back and forth among London, Paris, Brussels and Amsterdam.

However, demands for stones from the United States remains the main support of the diamond market. The demand is slow at present, according to reports.

Trade circles are studying economic conditions in America. Inflation always means heavier buying of diamonds. Buying for investment also is an important factor. In the diamond cycle, buying for women comes last.

European war, at least for the present... Poland, according to General Stanislas Skarzynski, from now on will have two objectives: the acquisition of more territory and the decreasing of their Jewish population. Despite Hitler's expressed desire for peace he has foreign diplomats fearful of the prospects for the future safety of European international affairs. Still they have nothing to fear as long as they give in to ever whim of the German dictator, that is nothing from Germany. There are a few other dictators, however, who might have some objectives of their own. On the side: Youth lives in the future, middle age in the present and old age in the past.

"I cannot tell a lie," Said the Advertisement

A precept every good advertisement knows is: "I cannot tell a lie—and get away with it." Even if it wanted to stretch the truth, just a teeny bit, that wouldn't be smart business. For, in that way, more people would discover the exaggeration, more people would be off that product or that store for life.

Advertisements, then, are essentially truthful. If not from moral scruples, then on a hard-boiled basis of good business practice.

Yes, you can trust the advertisements in this paper. Make it a daily habit to read them, along with the other news. They will save your time. Save your steps. Save the pressure on the family budget that might see you through until next pay-day.

In the columns of this newspaper, the show-windows of the town's stores march before your eyes in review. You relax in your chair, enjoy a preview of all the nice things on sale downtown. You enter the stores with your mind more than half made up.

Hoover Finds More Honor in Belgium

It is an odd sight, that of a former President of the United States sailing away to a foreign country where he will be received with a greater popularity than he can command in his own nation.

Not only odd, it is a little unfair to Herbert Hoover, who inherited a nation in an unhealthy condition and then found that he could command—but could not persuade those who would not accept his commands.

There must be many persons in the United States who are too young or who have forgotten the Hoover who was a life-saving, solid, safe figure before he went to the White House. In Belgium during the war he was virtual dictator of the economy of ten million persons. He built and commanded a complicated system of machinery of living for that country's people. And his conditions were not ideal, for war was ever in proximity.

There he will always be a national hero and it is the Belgium government which now invites him back for a series of ceremonies in his honor, a touching sentimentalism which must be pleasant to an ex-President who has been handed few laurels in his own country during the last few years.

It is difficult to recall that Hoover is the same man who was made food administrator in this country during the pinching days of U. S. participation in the World War. That, like President Wilson, he sprang from total obscurity into world fame in a few short months and that his name came pleasantly to the lips of millions of persons in those hysterical days.

Hoover has regained considerable prestige in this country during the past few months through a combination of happy circumstances and happier publicity. He may regain even more, a lot more. Whatever his stature becomes in the Republican party, however, his position must always be overshadowed by positions he has held before.

It does seem unjust that a man who had a recognized genius for organization and used it for international good should be known now as the man who allowed the United States to slip into its greatest depression, when a little reflection will bring the realization that that depression must have been inevitable.

And a little more reflection based on events of the past few months will bring further realization that a depression once started is not the easiest thing in the world to stop.

NEW YORK—Here is an intelligent story on the handling of the baton in relay races, something seldom discussed. Baton handling is a vital factor in relay racing, since seconds are spared by clean pickups.

Emil Von Elling, who has sent many a top flight foursome to the mark during his stewardship at New York University, teaches his No. 2 man to receive the baton in his left hand from the passer's right hand, indoors, because the touchoff in those cases is made on a curve. The receiver is thus facing toward the left and looking toward the inside. This helps him take the turn. On the second exchange, the No. 3 receiver takes the baton in his right hand because the transfer zone is located on the straightaway.

"Our leadoff man carries the baton in his right hand and passes it with that hand to the receiver's left hand," says N. Y. U.'s coach. "Our No. 2 man carries the stick in his left hand and transfers it to the right hand of No. 3. The No. 3 man carries it in his right hand and deposits it in the anchor man's left hand."

OUTDOORS, where pickups are made on straight stretches, Von Elling favors a right hand reception, because that hand normally is the strongest and the surest. Right-handers are less likely to fumble if they grasp an object with their more formidable duke.

Usually, they shift the baton to the left hand once they've gotten up headway, because there is less risk of dropping the stick when elbowed or bumped in a jam if it is carried in the inside hand. For this reason many coaches prefer a left to a right transfer outdoors.

Standard relay practice is to run your fastest man last and lead off with your next to best man. Occasionally, however, a cagy coach will try to cross the opposition by placing his two fastest men in the middle spots. He hopes to take advantage of the lag in the last 40 yards of a relay leg when the rival runner is spent.

Von Elling names his current quartet as potentially the fastest mile relay team that he has developed. "I always rated my 1932 mile combination of Healey, Sandler, Lamb, and Hoffman as tops," asserts the N. Y. U. mentor. "But that foursome didn't have an anchor man who could match Jim Herbert in a quarter-mile dash. When you get a scratch man who can clean up the 600-yard invitation events like Herbert does, you add the final punch to a mile relay team."

N. Y. U.'s present team is composed of Martin Witte, Curtis Giddings, Edgar Stripling, and Herbert. It is a young group and should improve. Stripling is the only senior. Though Herbert is a seasoned campaigner on boards, he is only a sophomore. Witte, also a sophomore, still is very green. He fell twice on banked turns in early winter races, but held his feet in the Millrose mile relay. Those Boston Garden corners are too steep for safety. The track should be remodeled, experts say.

The current N. Y. U. team hasn't yet duplicated the 1933 four-some's indoor record of 3:17.8, but Von Elling believes that his present four can do it.

"The others only have to watch Herbert become some part of the heady runner that he is," beams the Violet instructor.

Furniture Dealers Believe Fasting Dean Just Went too Far

By United Press

AMARILLO—John H. Runyon, Amarillo furniture dealer who practices fasting, believes Rev. Israel H. Noe carried a Biblical theory too far.

Rev. Noe, the Memphis, Tenn., pastor, sought a spiritual existence whereby man could live without physical nourishment. Runyon, who has gone as long as seven days without food, said that the Bible mentioned 40-day fasts. "When I reach the point where I can go 40 days without eating, I will have found life," said Runyon, whose regulated diet consists largely of popcorn.

"I can now go seven days without eating. I do not become weak, and I go about my business in a normal manner. I feel that it will be three or four months before I shall reach the point where I can go 40 days without eating."

Rev. Noe, Runyon said, simply carried his fasting too far—almost to death.

Cookies Are New Use For Apple Butter

When apple butter loses its appeal as a tasty spread try adding it to oatmeal cookie batter. The effect is a new kind of cookie, tempting to see and delicious to taste.

Inventor Tells of New Machine Gun

IOWA CITY, Iowa. — A new type of machine gun said to be capable of firing 3,400 rounds of .45 calibre ammunition a minute, faster than any weapon used by the U. S. Army, has been invented by Aura C. McNameer of Iowa City.

Experiments with the gun are now being conducted by a manufacturing company.

One of the revolutionary features of the gun is its 7-ounce recoil, achieved through a new counterbalanced breech block, according to McNameer.

them off and won their freedom, then turned cruel themselves, beheading the aristocrats right and left. Now it's Napoleon that's—that's—"

"Exploiting—" said Cabell, supplying the word. "Exploiting the French people. We may have to fight Napoleon next, unless England settles him."

"And that'll make England drunk with power," Jerry offered. "Drinker than she already is, I mean."

"So maybe war's no use after all!" Polly exclaimed. "Maybe it never settles anything! Maybe it just destroys!" This idea held her in its awful grip for hours, so that she hardly noticed the scenery or answered when they spoke to her. It was as if she had reached maturity and yet was more uncertain and shaken than she had been in her thoughtless girlhood. . . .

She was thinking: "Must my body form the bodies of strong boys for war?" It was the old cry of woman in a man-made world, not yet articulated. It was a terrible question, without an answer.

The diligence set them down near the Cherbourg docks, and three young Americans had their first breath-taking view of this magnificent harbor.

Cabell Banks said to Jerry: "Let's take Polly to a hotel and leave her there while we look for Tim Chelsey's Palm Tree. It's apt to take some time."

Polly agreed to this plan, first describing Cousin Tim's brig as clearly as she could: ". . . two masts, square sails, rather wide in the beams and clumsy; a gaudily carved palm tree for a figure-head."

It was midnight before Jerry returned to Polly at the hotel, and he bore dismaying news. The Palm Tree had not put in at Cherbourg at all. Jerry and Cabell had run into an American sailor, an honest-talki' g fellow, who said Capt. Tim Chelsey had gotten wind of the war just before putting in to Cherbourg and had run for Mearlx instead—that being nearer the Atlantic and less bottled. He had unloaded his cargo there in record time and put out again, bound for home.

Jerry added, "I hope you don't feel angry about his not waiting for you, Polly."

Her answer came direct and simple. "I've come to understand how men feel about war, Jerry. What do I count when my country's in trouble? Cousin Tim and his sailors had to get home and offer themselves and the ship to America."

"That's how it was," Jerry said. "That's something reasonable and

SPLASH your winter desserts with the fresh brilliance of summer. Blueberries and raspberries will color your menu, and gooseberries give it even greater novelty. Long ago, when birdies sang "In the Sweet Summer Time," those unsuspecting berries were caught in their dewy loveliness and, presto!—quick freezing kept them that way. So there they stand in your grocer's frosted food refrigerator, without a cell broken, without a blemish, fresher almost than fresh, waiting to gambol into pies and puddings and even play the jolly little fool for you.

Gooseberry Fool
(Serves 4 to 6)

One quart quick-frozen fresh gooseberries, 1 3/4 cups sugar, 1 cup soft custard, 1 cup whipped cream.

Thaw gooseberries in package. They will defrost at room temperature in from 3 to 6 hours. Moisten the sugar with very little water. Place in saucepan with the gooseberries. Simmer over very low fire for about 15 minutes. Keep mashing the berries as they simmer. Then press juice and pulp through fine sieve and chill. To the chilled gooseberry mixture, add the unflavored soft custard. Mix well but gently. Chill, then pour into glass bowl. Whip cream slightly and serve on top.

CENTRAL EUROPE—THE GREAT QUESTION MARK

Questions which the entire world seeks to answer are represented in the map above, depicting the European uncertainties which have followed in the wake of Nazi Chancellor Hitler's domination of Austria.

Just as before the World War, when the Kaiser planned his "Drang nach Osten" or drive to the eastward, Germany and Italy now envisage a chain of alliances which would cut a Fascist-sympathetic swath from the Baltic to the Black Sea, embracing Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia.

As shown in shaded portions of the map above, success of the Italo-German plan would result in a bloc more powerful even than the Central Powers of the World War era.

Austria, already under German domination, is only a pitiful remnant of the pre-1914 Austro-Hungarian Empire, shown in shaded portions of the map at right, which included all of what is now Czechoslovakia and parts of Rumania, Poland, Jugoslavia, and Italy.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—New Deal optimists, to mention a species which is almost but not quite extinct, still think Congress will pass a wage-hour bill at this session.

Professional gamblers who care to wager odds on that point can be assured of an exciting run for their money because the odds change daily, first this way and then that way.

Chairman Mary Norton of the House Labor Committee, the only girl whom Boss Frank Hague ever allowed to come to Congress from New Jersey, has managed to convince nearly everyone that it's all the same by her if the issue becomes a dead duck.

Mrs. Norton remarked complacently the other day that she thought her committee would report a wage-hour bill late in March or early in April. At that time Speaker Bankhead was on record as predicting that Congress would adjourn by April 15, so that if you put two and two together you had to figure that Chairman Norton was giving the proposal a feminine equivalent of the merry haw-haw.

Subsequently, however, Mr. Roosevelt gave private assurances that he would go to work on the House Rules Committee, which is the real self-appointed log jam on wages and hours.

At the special session late last year, after the Senate had passed one wage-hour bill and the House Labor Committee had just reported out another bill, a small group of southern Democrats and northern Republicans on the Rules Committee decided to bottle up the latter bill and prevent the House from voting on it. By dint of prodigious pressure the administration and the wage-hour bill forces obtained the requisite number of 218 signatures to get the bill on to the House floor.

Then, with the help of the A. F. of L. the measure's foes were able to get the bill recommitted to the Labor Committee by a very small majority.

Chances of another discharge petition for another wage-hour bill have seemed so poor that the idea has been abandoned. The administration spent nearly all of its remaining purchasing power on wavering members the last time. Also, the threat of the wage-hour bloc to defeat the farm bill, which persuaded several farm state senators to sign, is no longer possible because the farm bill has passed the House.

Even if enough signatures could be obtained again, the job itself and the House rules would require too much time. And, finally, the House Labor Committee hasn't yet turned out a new bill for the Rules Committee to smother.

So the game has been to persuade a majority of the Rules Committee to let a bill go through when and if reported by the Labor Committee. And Labor Committee members have been trying to find out what kind of a bill certain key Rules Committee members would accept.

Thus far the balky Rules Committee members haven't been offered anything sufficiently innocuous to cause them to relent. There has been no question, however, that Chairman Norton and her boys could get together on a new bill if the Rules Committee fellows would cave in.

New Corporations Show a Decrease

AUSTIN—A total of 139 corporations was chartered in Texas during January, an increase of 41.8 per cent over the month before and 4.5 per cent over January last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total liabilities, $2,266,000, were down 19.2 per cent from the preceding month but were 12.7 per cent above the January, 1937, figure.

Increases in the number of charters over both the preceding month and January last year were confined to the merchandising and oil groups, although banking finance and real estate-building made sharp gains over December.

There were 47 corporations capitalized at $5,000 or less, as compared with 30 the preceding month and 40 during January last year; while corporations capitalized at $100,000 or more numbered six in January, six the month before, and three the like month in 1937.

Coffin In Tree Is Bared As a Myth

By United Press

JEANERETTE, La.— Loss of the legend of the tree-top burial ground" brought little change in the placid life of the Teche country, Evangeline lore was available but there was reason for embarrassment to professional guides.

The "coffin" resting in the crotch of a moss-draped oak, turned out to be nothing more than a tank that was part of a forgotten water-pumping system, its purpose forgotten as the years rolled by in the sleepy land of South Louisiana.

The tank, in its role of casket, had gained astonishing fame. It presented a mysterious appearance ensconced in the branches of a Bayou Teche bank oak, and was easily seen from the tourist-traveled Jeanerette - Lafayette highway. It had been pointed out numerous times as a casket and such was publicized.

The most widely-known story about the "casket" was that it was the last resting place of a Negro, lynched for some deed as fictitious as the "casket," and that it was left there as solemn and macabre warning to others of his race. Other stories concerned an Indian custom of "burial" in tree-tops, and the deathbed wish of an eccentric planter who desired above all else to sleep a long sleep high in the air above the Teche.

Close inspection recently revealed the "coffin" was a five-foot square tank, resting on a massive platform supported by two limbs had grown about their burden indicated the tank had been there many years. Pipe outlets in the tank and a line running to the tree from the bayou clearly showed that an inspired native years ago had harnessed the force of gravitation to his water system.

Explanatory Poster Adds to Confusion

MANITOWOC, Wis.—A farmer near here who rents boats to fishermen has been having difficulty with his clients and as a result posted this notice:

"Do not let doors open nor boats unlatched nor row in Dead Menits in any of te Hextra Jarches will be mat."

Whether the farmer had a cold when he printed the sign has not been determined, but translated, it reads:

"Do not leave the doors open nor boats unlatched nor throw any dead minnows in any of the boats. If these rules are not followed extra charge will be made."

With one-sixth of New York City on relief, it will not be long before the other five-sixths are calling for relief from relief.

I AM AN ADVERTISING MAN

For over thirty years I have been writing advertisements for national advertisers — shoes, soap, cereals, automobiles, radios, tobacco, blankets, tooth powder.

To me it is the most fascinating work in the world — learning about the merits of merchandise and then telling people about them— bringing greater comfort, and enjoyment, into people's lives — introducing people to new pleasures, helping them to get the most for their money.

Besides being fascinating, it is satisfying! My intimate experience with advertisers has shown me that, except for rare exceptions, the manufacturers and merchants of this nation lean over backwards to be sincere and honest.

The law of advertising is simple once one understands its working — the more people know about the merit of a product, the more people buy it. The greater the volume of sales, the less the cost to manufacture. Savings in making mean either lower prices to the consumer or greater value put back into the merchandise.

As an advertising man I can sincerely affirm that it pays to read the advertisements in the newspapers — for news of new things, for bargains and savings.

There are thousands of other men — and women — devoting their lives to advertising writing, who will tell you the same thing. THEY KNOW!
